

At least one fellow said he liked this. And a letter from an outfit raised Cain about it. You simply get it if you do, and get it if you don't, so, there's no worry.

And, here's some things restolen from the nation's No. 1 columnist or, maybe, No. 2, if you like to have your "rathers".

"Wanna Be a Successful Columnist? Then follow newspaper man ED HOWE'S counsel: 'No man may write interestingly and keep within the bounds of your beliefs. He must occasionally go so far as to pleasantly shock you and cause you the uncomfortable feeling that a good man cannot follow him all the way.'"

"The writer who aims to write nothing offensive to anyone presently writes only hymns and leaflets explaining the Sunday school lesson; and then only children read him; and they read him because they fear they'll be scolded if they do not. Only interesting writers are actually read."

"KIN HUBBARD put it like this: 'LEM JONES is now in the poorhouse after trying to run a news paper that'd please every body.'"

"From our pet Cumberland, (Wisc.) columnist: 'Everybody in a small town knows the news, but reads the paper to see if the editor gets is printed right.'"

We take Gallup Polls, and here are some interesting facts we didn't know about the polls. Affiliates are located in England, Finland, Canada, Australia, Italy, France, Holland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, and Brazil.

There are 1198 reporters on the current Gallup Poll, and one of them is in Gatesville; 59.6 are women, 40.5 men. 51.9 are over 40; 3 out of 4 have had some college training. N. Y. State has 9.7 percent of the interviewing staff; 2.3 percent were born outside of the U. S. A.; 32.3 percent are in towns of 250 to 10,000 population; 1/2 of the staff, 23.6 are housewives.—The Poll Reporters. Well, Coryell county is again represented nationally.

Town's dary these nights, waiting on some wire. Hope not many tourists pass here these nights; looks like a morgue.

Jonesboro High School Senior Play Thursday Night, May 6th.

Jonesboro High School Seniors will present their Senior Play, on Thursday evening, May 6, at the High School Auditorium in that town.
The play, entitled "The All-American Family", includes a cast of Conrad Bollier, Dorothy Neel Jackie Lewalling, William Neel, Billy Payne, Dorothy Walsleben, Beth Choat, Ernest Householder, Marvin Bramblett, Ruella Pruitt and Peggy Ballard.

ALL EIGHT CLUBS PLAY ON RAINLESS SUNDAY: NO UPSETS, SO FAR!

Games of Sunday went off just about as expected, with some rather large scores being turned in. Here at home, the VFW (Gatesville) stopped Oglesby 10 to 1; Seattle overpowered Jonesboro, 13 to 4; Coryell City took Pearl 12 to 3; Turnersville racked up another 15 to 4 over Pidcoke and that's it.

In the Jonesboro-Seattle game, Williams caught for Jonesboro, and they used four hurlers trying to stem the tide, Drake, Liljedahl, Paul Young and Hayden Young. Seattle used two Ray Lee and Evetts, and Laupy caught. The box:

Team	R	H	E
Seattle	16	12	3
Jonesboro	4	9	5

In the Coryell City-Pearl fracas, Krempin and Richter were Coryell City's batteries, and for Pearl, Whatley pitched, Ballard caught, and here's the box:

Team	R	H	E
Pearl	3	9	6
Coryell City	12	13	4

On the home park, the VFW began getting to the Oglesby hurler in the fourth, the game being tied 0 to 0 until that, and then the vets loaded the sacks, and the game was really one. One accident marred the game when an Oglesby player was hit by a pitched ball. Jiggs Martin had a big day at the stick, socking out a triple and a 4-place circuit. Manager Otha Johnson gave us this box:

Team	R	H	E
VFW	10	14	2
Oglesby	1	3	4

Batteries, unknown for Oglesby but Lloyd Ivy hurled to four receivers for the VFW, Bob Hedgwick, Archie necessary, and Steve Kopec.

And lastly, in the Turnersville Pidcoke go here's the way it went With Johnson hurling and Crawford receiving for the winners, and Perryman going 7, and Joseph relieving for 3, the star of the day was Jones for Turnersville, who with 5 trips to the plate, got a triple, 2 doubles and a single, and Jack Nichols, also for the winners, clouted a homer. Pidcoke staged a rally in the 7th for their four runs but could not match the visitors.

Team	R	H	E
Turnersville	13	16	?
Pidcoke	4	12	?

Purmela dropped its first one in that league, believe "walzy" said 11-2 to Aleman.

John B. Allen Drowns In Leon River: Starts To Run From GSSB

John B. Allen, colored an inmate of Gatesville State School for Boys was drowned Sunday morning about 8:20 in the Leon River just opposite GSSB.

He and three others, Sylvester Rucker, Essie B. Clark and Isaac Smith had started to run from the institution, and Allen, according to Sheriff Joe White, pulled off his shoes and swam half way across the river before he went down. The other boys then returned to the institution and reported the accident. The body was found about noon Sunday, and the autopsy report was death by drowning.

They had been only gone for a short time and the authorities did not know they were gone, and no dogs were put on their trail.

County Democratic Convention Today: Precincts Met

Last Saturday at 2 o'clock in Gatesville and at other times in the county, also, County Demas met in Precinct Conventions. And so far, we've heard of none but the local precincts. The Coryell County Democratic Convention will be held today at 2 o'clock in the courthouse.

At Precinct 25 better known as "Ward 2", P. L. Hale was Precinct Chairman, and J. D. Brown, County Chairman, with County Chairman-elect, C. E. Gandy present also, Eleven was the all over number present, and the precinct gets 8 votes in the county convention.

It was voted that they'd vote as a unit uninstructed, except to stay with the party nominee, and a majority of those present would vote the 8 votes.

Present besides those named Mrs. Jim Turk Brown, John F. Post, Pat Holt, B. B. Garrett, Floyd Zeigler, Eric Sharp, Byron Leaird McClellan, Mat Jones, E. H. Nesbitt and J. Hurl McClellan, the not there were named as delegates

In Precinct 1, known as "Ward 1", four were present, with Henry Sadler, chairman, Mrs. H. Wade Sadler, secretary, and the delegates, including the above, were Tom Mears, H. K. Jackson, Sr., R. B. Cross, R. L. Saunders, Harry Flentge, Mrs. Harry Flentge, W. E. Hayes Monroe Murray, H. Wade Sadler, R. E. Blair, R. M. Arnold, R. D. Foster and Roger Miller

The delegation with 7 votes in County Convention, are instructed to support all nominees of the Democratic party, and vote as a unit, with the majority ruling.

One man said his precinct voted "pro-Human" and there might be fun today at the County Convention.

REPUBLICANS MET TOO

Camp Hood Commander Speaks to Lions On "A Strong America"

Wednesday noon, Gatesville Lions Club had the privilege of hearing Major General James G. Christiansen, Commanding General of Camp Hood, who chose as his subject: "A Strong America".

Following a few opening remarks, aside from the subject, General Christiansen said: "Camp Hood is one of the best, if not the best, Army training area we have in the United States. I, personally, believe it is the best such area. We have about 160,000 acres in the Camp, with varied terrain and ample ranges. Our weather permits year-round training. In short, Camp Hood is a superior training area for ground troops.

Starting his main theme, Gen. Christiansen asked the question: "Is America strong" in a military sense today? We must know the answer to that question in order that we may know what road to take in the future.

"One of the best answers to that question is given in the report of the President's Advisory Commission on Universal Military Training—the "so-called" Compton Commission Report. This was an entirely civilian commission. "Quoting from their report:

"The Army that fought with such power against Germany and Japan has been dismantled. Virtually all of what is left is assigned to occupation duty in the defeated countries. At a time when war can strike without warning and with devastating force our Ground Forces have only 2 1/3 full combat divisions available for duty. Our air and sea strength is somewhat formidable, but it is dwindling so rapidly that it cannot long be considered a shield against possible attack!

"That report was released in May 1947. On March 25 this year General Bradley said before the Senate Armed Services Committee: 'In the United States itself there are about 248,000 troops, the bulk of which are engaged in support of the occupation and servicing support of the Air Force. This U. S. Contingent could muster no more than a handful of combat troops for defense of the United States or for emergency employment overseas.' Later, in the same report, General Bradley said: 'This means we are left few combat elements—combat elements that can be organized into a mobile Army Striking Force to take the field in emergency operations with the Navy and Air Force.'

"Actually, the Army has an authorized strength of 669,000 but its actual strength is more than 120,000 short of that figure.

"General Bradley during the same appearance gave details about the "handful" of combat troops. He showed a possible mobile striking force in the United States of 54,000—divided, 44,000 as combat troops, 10,000 as service troops. That, as he said, is the handful of combat troops which could be used for defense of the United States or for emergency employment overseas.

"General Eisenhower in his final report said: 'By no stretch of facts can the United States Army, as it is now manned, deployed and engaged be considered an offensive force. It is not ready to respond to an emergency call because its global distribution not only leaves it weak in every sector but prevents the concentration of anything beyond the merest handful for possible tactical use. This virtually complete dispersion of our ground strength cannot be permitted to continue over any considerable period, because there are elements in both the world situation and our own strategic position that demand the constant availability of respectable land forces'.

"I think we can agree that the United States is not "strong" in a military sense today.

"The Compton Committee gave the following as the essentials of an integrated National Security Program. 1. A strong, healthy, educated population. 2. A coordinated Intelligence Service. 3. Scientific research and development. 4. Industrial preparedness. 5. Balanced Armed Forces: Army, Navy and Air, together with their civilian components. 6. Universal Military Training, including Civilian Defense.

"An analysis of these essentials will convince you that such a program would make America "strong". Note that there are six essentials, all important, all interdependent, and all necessary.

"Do we need an Army in order to be strong? Many voice the opinion that land forces have been made obsolete by the advance of aviation, the development of rockets and the Atomic bomb. Here is General Eisenhower's thought concerning the foot-soldier as given in his final report. 'The introduction of the plane and the atomic bomb has no more eliminated the need for him than did the first use of cavalry or the discovery of gunpowder.'

"I'd like now to discuss briefly Universal Military Training. I ask you to remember that it is only one of six "essentials", without the other elements of the program, UMT alone would leave us with as hollow a shell as the rest of the program would be without UMT.

"As far as we can reasonably see or predict, warfare will always require trained, intelligent, resourceful manpower. Universal Military Training is required now to rebuild the National Guard and organized Reserves. The training received under the UMT system would raise the efficiency of these civilian components and shorten the time required to bring them to the point of military effectiveness in another emergency.

"It can readily be seen that any force like the National Guard which receives annually only 100 hours of "refresher type" training at home stations, and slightly more than 100 hours additional hours at annual encampments, cannot be expected to deliver a finished fighting force on M-day without some form of preliminary intensive training such as UMT would provide.

"UMT, as envisaged by the Department of the Army is not UMT—it is not conscription. The entire Army of the United States, including the Regular Army, National Guard and Organized Reserve, normally will be made up wholly of volunteers in time of peace.

"We produced an army of great force in World War II. Our National Guard and Reserve divisions did remarkable work. But it was two year and more after mobilization before we were prepared to undertake any major missions. Our allies gained this time for us. We can never again expect this windfall of time. We need UMT now. It is a program designed to make the country's civilian manpower available more quickly for wolding into a fighting force, if one should ever be needed.

"Many people are saying 'Let's wait a while.' I'd like to examine the question of postponement with you.

"SHALL WE POSTPONE? Delay is a time-honored device of those who are doubtful of the validity of their own arguments on the merits of the case. Delay would deprive our country of the most urgent benefit to be derived from UMT—the restoration of our mobilization strength.

"One approach to the argument of delay is to say, that we must know all there is to know about the effects of atomic warfare before making the decision to commence UMT. When will that be? The answer is: Never!! There will always be new developments just over the horizon. We must act now on the best information available.

"To conclude, I quote the following from General Marshall's report at the end of the war: 'We must, if we are to realize the hope we now dare have for lasting peace, enforce our will for peace with strength. We must make it clear to the potential gangsters of the world that if they dare break our peace, they will do so at their great peril. We have tried since the birth of our nation to promote our love of peace by a display of weakness. This course has failed us utterly.'

Rev. J. E. Boatman, pastor of the Oglesby Baptist church, resigned from the church this past Sunday. His resignation takes effect the last Sunday of May.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Draper and son of San Antonio were weekend guests in the Joe Draper home.

The farmers in the Oglesby district say if they had planned for a rain, they couldn't have planned it any better. Many of the farmers we've seen in town with a broad grin on their faces, and that gave the assurance that they were pleased with the down pour Sunday morning.

This past Sunday, if you were on McKelvain Hill, you would have seen baseballs being slung in every direction. The Oglesby team and the Jonesboro team met to determine who was the best. (See write-up on Sports page of this issue.)

Marvin Rucker accidentally ran over his 14-year-old bulldog with his car last Friday morning. The dog died in the dog hospital in Waco. Many people knew of this big dog and only a few ever attempted to go near him. His name was "Dizie" and Marvin said he would get another as soon as he could.

On the sick list around Oglesby is Mrs. R. S. Lewis who is in a Temple hospital where she underwent a major operation; and we understand Mrs. Jess Biggs is suffering from a broken collar bone due to a garage door falling on her.

Dear Friends:

The past week has been one of many visits, but relatively little legislation. Washington and the surrounding country are always beautiful at this time of year. It has been especially beautiful this spring and we have enjoyed a large number of visitors from Texas—outstanding among them, from my standpoint, was my mother, who was with us 3 weeks. From now on there will be a continued stream of visitors in the capitol. Many of the schools all over the East send groups by bus or rail to visit. I wish it were possible for every school child in America to visit Washington. Since this is generally impracticable in our country, I hope that as many of our schools as possible will arrange for the children to visit our State Capitol at Austin. I am frankly shocked at the number of experienced business men who come here and say that they never saw either Congress or the State Legislature in session.

This week the House Judiciary Committee finally reported favorably on the Tidelands Bill which is so necessary to protect the right of our State to the valuable lands which were clearly vested in the State of Texas by the Annexation Resolution under which the Republic of Texas became a part of the United States. I cannot conceive how any civilized nation could be so unmindful of its obligations as some officials have suggested that the United States should be in regard to the tidelands.

Of course, I feel that our State has been remiss in not taxing the minerals that are taken from our soil more heavily. I feel that this mineral wealth should support the finest school system and road system in the Nation. This failure on the part of the State does not, however, excuse the contemplated breach of contract on the part of the Federal Government.

Bobbie and Nedra Mooreland visited in Burnett over the week

This week I called the attention of the House to the report that our representative to the United Nations had stated that the United States was ready to send troops to Palestine. I asked by whose authority such a commitment is made. I said in part:

"I know of no more direct road to war than to send our troops into foreign lands to impose or to deny a form of government on the people without their consent. I for one will have no part in such an undertaking. . . . I believe in the defense of America, and in resistance to aggression. I will fight to defend freedom, but I will never kick down the back door of my neighbor's house simply to force my way into a shooting scrap."

I feel very strongly that it is most unwise for the United States to become involved in this trouble in Palestine. I think that if we do, it will lead us directly into war. Surely there is no excuse for hunting trouble. Neither side in Palestine wants the solution we propose, and apparently our State Department doesn't know what it wants. I think that until American interests are much clearer than they are now we surely have no right to commit our boys to die in foreign lands.

The Department of Agriculture has just published a new cook book. This is a pamphlet a little bigger than a farmer's bulletin. I am allowed 2,000 copies. I shall be happy to mail one to anyone in our district who would like to have a copy.

Many of you will be glad to know that Miss Iva Earl Heath, of Milam County, who has been with us for more than seven years but who decided to stay in Texas the first of the year, is back in our office. I believe that we have an outstandingly accommodating and efficient staff. In addition to Miss Heath, there is Miss Pauline E. Graves, of Bosque County, and Mr. Lacey C. Sharp of McLennan County. They all join me in inviting you to call on us for any service we can render.

With best wishes, I am,
Your friend,
W. R. POAGE.

This Week in History

May 2 to May 8

Millions of American nature lovers owe a debt of gratitude to the remarkable naturalist, John James Audubon, born 163 years ago this week. A native of Haiti, Audubon devoted his life to painting the birds of a new continent and its infant republic. His Birds of America, a magnificent collection of color plates, was published in 1826. The book, still a classic, sold at that time for $1,000 a set and was the crowning point of a life of hardship and self-denial. In tribute to his work, the National Audubon Society, an organization which works tirelessly for the preservation and appreciation of bird life, dears his name.
