

First up is December 7.

It happened a few years ago at Pearl Harbor—Remember,

A couple or three wars on as many fronts have been fought since then, and, the question is now, did they actually gain anything? You figure that one out!

Then, there's another war going on now! TB. And, in merely passing, the PRO for the TB chest survey just came by and said it'd be here at Miller Motor Co. starting today and believe goin' thru Saturday. Don't have to undress, but everybody ought to get "looked at" and "photoed" by whatever they've got in the Mobile unit X-ray. It don't cost nobody nothin' but taxes, and you gotta pay them, anyway.

Then, there's that Sub-Junior Chamber of Commerce with its Presidential-Promoter, Ricky Scott HE'S having a pet show at his house Friday at 3:30 and all the kids are invited to enter their "pooches". It's to cost a nickel to enter, and he's been trying to worm the prize money out of father, Crawford Scott, with no success so far.

Told his pappy we'd give him a "free plug" so the advertising wouldn't cut into the Scott fortune.

As to the judging, Ricky has said that they'll (the pooches) will be judged on "how well they mind", but Ricky didn't say who.

Anyway, everything is goin' on Big dog Scott-way, but they may need Sheriff Joe White, Deputy Eric Sharp and Chief of Police Herman Sims down there to separate the boy fights that have developed from unruly pooches who start dog fights.

This is one show, we'll advise you to make. Don't know what the admission will be, but more'n likely a couple of buttons, a few rusty nails, or a piece of good stout string would get you in.

Letters to -- SANTA CLAUS

Dear Santa:

I have tried to be a good little girl. I am 6 years old and live on East Bridge Street in Gatesville. I would like for you to bring me some doll clothes, a doll buggy, fruit, nuts, and candy; also bring my sister Dorothy Fern a compact and a housecoat, and don't forget my little cousins, and little friends Morris Ford and Joe Barton.

Love, your little friend,
Belva Jean Cooper.

Dear Santa:

I am 10 years old, am going to Oglesby school. Santa, I think I am a good boy, will you bring me a pair of boots and an air gun? And try to remember all the other little boys and girls. And I have an uncle in China, remember him his name is George Holman.

Your friend,
Kermit Bates.

Mesdames Winn W. Nichols and Hallie Mae Holman were luncheon hostesses at Hamilton House, in Waco, November 24, 1948, honoring Miss Hallie Jo Jackson, bride-elect of John W. Reesing. Due to illness, Mrs. Nichols was unable to attend and her niece, Mrs. Michael J. Duke acted as co-hostess in her place.

Place cards marked places for the honoree, her mother, Mrs. H. K. Jackson, Mrs. Horace K. Jackson, Jr., and Miss Pauline Martin, all of Gatesville; Misses Jo Brown, Nancy P'Pool, Alice Taylor, Barbara Dan Gerber, all of Baylor, and Mesdames Duke and Holman.

Wesleyan Service Guild Met With Mrs. Curtis Watson, November 30

The Wesleyan Service Guild met with Mrs. Curtis Watson, whose home is located about seven miles northwest of Gatesville, on Tuesday night, November 30. In a setting of beautiful decorations including bright autumn leaves, we continued our study work of the book, "On Our Own Door Steps". The devotional for the evening was given by Mrs. J. B. Selers. The second chapter of our book, which was on Alaska, was interestingly given by Miss Bess Chapman. The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Floyd Johnson, Guild president, for the business session.

Roll call and minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Christmas plans were discussed and the group voted to have a Christmas party at the church, Monday night, December 20. Every member to bring a guest. Following the business session a lovely refreshment plate was served to the 15 members and one guest.

The Texas Poll The Statewide Survey of Public Opinion

By JOE BELDEN,
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 4.—Most Texas voters are in the mood for a spending spree by the state government.

A recent statewide survey by The Texas Poll finds that approximately one-half of a representative cross section of voters believe it is necessary now to raise more money for schools, road building, and other purposes. A two-thirds majority believes it is going to be necessary in the near future, if the money is not raised now.

The state has a cash surplus of about $80,000,000 in its general revenue fund. The Texas Legislature may spend this entire amount, or more, to improve the school system, build more farm-to-market roads, modernize the prison system, raise salaries of state employees, and meet other demands.

Already serious discussion is being given to the question whether or not the Legislature will be able to hold its spending in balance with incoming revenue. Anticipating the possible need for more money, the State Democratic Convention went on record favoring an increase in the tax on natural gas and opposing a sales tax. It said other types of taxes should be considered.

In its recent survey, The Texas Poll asked a statewide cross section of qualified voters which of seven possible tax levies would be best. A raise in corporation franchise taxes placed first. Retail sales tax and crude oil tax tied for second, and the natural gas tax tied for third place with the gasoline tax. The sulphur tax was fourth, and state income tax last.

Popularity of the various tax levies was tested with this question:

"As you know, the Texas Legislature may be asked to raise more money for public schools, road building, and other purposes. If it becomes necessary to levy new taxes, which of these do you think would be best?" (Each person interviewed was handed a card listing the seven tax suggestions shown below.)

- "State income tax (a tax on what people earn each year)"..... 5%
- "Retail sales tax (a tax on most everything people buy in retail stores).....16"
- "Raising the present tax on gasoline".....11
- "Raising the present tax on natural gas produced in Texas".....11
- "Raising the present tax on crude oil produced in Texas".....16
- "Raising the present tax on sulphur produced in Texas".....10

"Raising the present tax on the right of corporations to do business in Texas".....21

The figures above add to more than 100 per cent because some voters favored levying more than one type of tax.

Public demands for increased state spending was measured with these questions:

"Do you think it is going to be necessary in the near future to raise more money for public schools, road building, and other state purposes?"

Yes.....65%
No.....15

Texas 4-H'ers Win Special Recognition

SUPERIOR records in 1948 National 4-H Soil Conservation, Recreation and Rural Arts, and Dairy Production programs won three Texas club members special recognition. The winners and brief outlines of their records follow:

Edwin Hanz, Jr.

Gene Massey, Jr.

Doyle Davis

Edwin Hanz, Jr., 21, of New Braunfels received the State winner's award for outstanding achievement in the 1948 National 4-H Soil Conservation awards program. Edwin put into practice such soil saving and building operations as constructing terraces, contouring, using phosphate and fertilizer, making draining ditches, building dams and rotating crops. During three years of club work he has completed 18 projects and has served as assistant leader and president of his local club. In recognition of his achievements, Edwin has been given a $50.00 U. S. Savings Bond, provided by Firestone.

Promoting recreational and handicraft work has brought State recognition to Gene Massey, Jr., 16, of Moore. His record will be judged to determine the eight national winners in the 1948 National 4-H Recreation and Rural Arts program.

Objectives of the program are to assist 4-H members in developing cultural and recreational opportunities in their homes and communities; help 4-H members develop a higher appreciation of rural arts; make 4-H programs more attractive and self-satisfying and teach members to lead recreational activities. Each of the counties having an outstanding recreational program received a $25.00 cash award, provided by United States Rubber Company.

Doyle Davis, 18, of Hart, was the top State winner whose record was considered for sectional and national honors in the National 4-H Dairy Production awards program. During seven years in club work, Doyle completed 6 dairy projects and developed a herd of Jersey dairy cattle. He served his club as junior leader, president, vice-president and secretary. As a recognition of his achievements in dairy production, Doyle was awarded a $25.00 U. S. Savings Bond, provided by Kraft Foods Company.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

Preston-Duncan Vows Solemnized November 25 At Presbyterian Church

Miss Geraldine Preston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Preston of Gatesville, became the bride of Cloyce Duncan, Thursday, November 25, 1948, at the First Presbyterian Church, Gatesville.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. W. B. Holmes, Jr.

The bride who entered with her father, wore a gown of heavy ivory bridal satin fashioned with a light basque sweetheart neckline and long tapering sleeves. The full skirt with cathedral train had a large bustle bow with ends forming a panel effect. Her finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of braided satin with side trim of satin cording and orange blossoms, carrying an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. Byron Leaird, Jr., pianist, and Mrs. E. E. Lowrey, soloist, provided the wedding music.

Miss Yvonne Preston, the bride's sister, was maid of honor, she wore a frock of iridescent taffeta in violet shades styled similar to the bride's. With a bouquet of yellow roses.

Misses Emily and Laverne Ament, who wore dresses of taffeta in orchid and lime fashioned with tight bodices buttoned up the front to the baby collar, cap-sleeved, and with bouffant skirts with wide tucked painers, served as brides-maids, carrying bouquets of pink carnations.

The head-dresses worn by the three attendants were coronets of toning flowers veiled in pailleted gold veiling.

Miss Linda Kay Elam was the flower girl, and Prentice Preston and Larry Hodo were train bearers. H. S. Perryman of Morton was best man, and Glenn Perryman, Jr., of Morton, Jack Elam of Evant served the groom as ushers.

The bride chose for her going away costume a wool jersey dress of rust color with brown accessories and a corsage of baby orchids.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. June B. Cox of Belton; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harrell of Kempnet; Miss Ollie Preston, Tom Preston, Miss Johnnie Singleton, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Hodo, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Elam, all of Evant, and Mrs. Wassie Austin of Fort Worth; Mrs. Doyle Preston and son Prentice of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Reese of McGregor; Mr. and Mrs. O. Z.

A distinguished but unhappy man died 52 yrs ago this week on Dec. 10, 1896. His name—Alfred Nobel. Nobel, a Swedish scientist, developed dynamite, blasting gelatin and several types of smokeless powder. His inventions brought him great wealth but also ill-health, for the use of his works for purposes of death and destruction, sickened him. In his will, he left about $10 million to provide 5 annual prizes for the most outstanding scientists and persons contributing most to world peace.

Cars for Everybody

Most people thought Henry Ford's ideas about putting wheels under every American were just a lot of bunko. They just couldn't see how anything like that could be done. Some of Ford's early partners failed to grasp the idea, for they thought of automobiles as belonging to the rich. Ford's idea was too "hare-brained" for them. They couldn't understand how anybody could possibly make a living selling cars to "poor" people.

But Henry Ford had the grain of an idea and the courage to see it through. America was a nation that encouraged such things. With an original investment of $28,000, he put the nation literally on wheels. Mass production was brought into its own, and costs came down. Ford wanted to make only a small profit on each car, and this sold millions of them. Competitors had to offer good values, too.

Jobs and Payrolls

Tin Lizzie and her imitators called for roads. Dozens of new industries came into being, in the building of roads. Our highways would circle the globe 41 times. Lizzie and the others had a thirst for gasoline. America's petroleum industry grew enormously. Filling stations had to quench that thirst. All these things made jobs. America became an industrial power, with this Ford-inspired motive power all the while adding to her efficiency and activity.

This new mass production created great industrial empires: mines for coal and iron, rubber plantations, timberlands and saw mills, hydro-electric works, chemicals, glass, textiles. The result was more and more jobs, bigger and bigger payrolls, more and more goods and products that people wanted. Then, with our cars we became a touring nation. All our states became neighbors. We came to know the face of America, the beautiful.

Plowed-Back Earnings

Out of that $28,000 and his idea, Ford developed a great industrial empire, with factories and assembly plants and branch offices. Yet, aside from the factories and the equipment that he owned, Henry Ford probably never owned more than 2 per cent of the wealth that he created. He was called a billionaire, but he counted his resources in buildings and machinery, not in money.

Ford was free to plow back his earnings into an industrial empire that created jobs and produced wealth, mostly for other people. There were no personal income taxes to penalize individual effort. In fact, corporation taxes did not begin until Ford's industry was five years old, and then the tax was only 1 per cent. It did not exceed 13 per cent any year until 1932. Today, taxes are a multi-million dollar item on many a company's books.

Any More Henry Fords?

Demands from the tax collector have made impossible a contribution like Ford's from any individual American in this generation. Present tax laws, and mushrooming growth of a revenue-taking government, make it almost certain that there will not be another Henry Ford, or anyone like him. Are we thus penalizing the future of America? Who knows what need may arise for the genius of a Ford, in years to come?

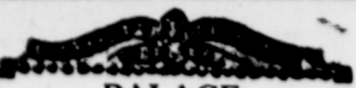

Our nation must never lose its inventive genius. This genius can best thrive in a climate of complete economic freedom. The spirit of industrial venture that Ford typified must be kept alive, for the good of America. Ford's contribution brought untold blessings to all of us. We should not make it impossible, through heavy taxation burdens, for any future Henry Fords to develop in America.

Wool felt in vivid colors makes a smart and serviceable skirt, mittens and caps for children. Felt need not be hemmed, as edges are pinked.

Various mosses gathered from the woods and arranged in a shallow bowl make a decorative and long lasting centerpiece.

Here are the SWC scores for last week: SMU 7, TCU 7; Baylor 7, Rice 7; W&M 9 (?) Ark. 0. And others Navy 21- Army 21; Tech 28, Hardin-Simmons 20.

Bowl Business: rather brisk at present; some already settled. Baylor vs Wake Forrest at Birmingham, Ala., and of course, in the Cotton Bowl, Dallas, SMU vs Oregon.

Hear La Vega beat Huntsville, think 13-7, but haven't seen an account of the game. Valley Mills meets Rising Star at Hamilton in a B-Game.

Basket Ball, girls and boys, is under way at GHS but so far, we have no schedules announced or anything. The boys just say they are getting in motion.

Have't heard yet whether Coperas Cove has any games or no. Have won everything they've played so far in 6-man this season.

Bowl games as far as we know: Salad, Phoenix, Drake and U. of Arizona; Orange, Miami, U. of T. vs Ga.; Sugar, New Orleans, N. C. vs Okla.; Dixie, Birmingham, Ala. Baylor vs Wake Forrest; Tangerine, Orlando, Sul Ross vs Murray; Harbor, San Diego, U. of Nev. vs Villanove; Rose, Mich. vs U. of Cal.; and exhoma, Denison, Southeastern Sta. vs Ouchita College. Spindletop, Lamar College, Hinds Junior College, Raymond, Miss.; Prairie View, Wilberforce State College of Xenia, Ohio, at Houston's Buffalo Stadium.

Here are some late High School

results: Van 26, La Vega 25; Waco 41, Palestine 6; New Braunfels 19, Cameron 13; Navarro County Jr. College 21 Ranger Jr. College 12; Valley Mills 10, Rising Star 12.

has joined the garrison of this historic old army fort on the island of Oahu in Hawaii.

Pvt Williams enlisted in January 1948, and arrived in Hawaii November 2 after receiving his basic training with the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Benning, Ga. He was also stationed at Fort Ord, California with the 4th Infantry Division.

Pvt. Williams is attached to the fort fire station as hose and nozzle man. Before joining the army, he worked as a gun and key smith. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Williams of Gatesville.

Ret. Ernest Householder, 18, son of Mrs. Homer Tones, Rt. 2, Jonesboro, completed 8 weeks of basic training with Co. C, 8th Infantry of the 4th Infantry Division at Fort Ord, California, Nov. 12, and is now awaiting regular army assignment in the USA. He last attended Jonesboro High School and enlisted in the Army at Gatesville, September 7, 1948 for a two year period. We have a picture for his parents.

Ret. Harvey Sims, 17, son of Mrs. May Sims, Gatesville completed 8 weeks of basic training with Co. C, 8th Infantry, of the 4th Infantry Division, Fort Ord, California, November 12, and is now awaiting assignment. He last attended GHS and enlisted in Waco September 9 for two years. Got a picture of him too.
