Politics is being played in Washington, Austin, and where not?

It's the nature of things. Ike goes for a bill, Sam says he don't like it — the labor bills — and of course, they're too complicated and will be amended too much for anyone to recognize them by the time they go thru the mill of a House full of representatives and a Senate full of senators. No use any one getting hopped up about the labor bill, until it's nearly thru. Then, we'll all wonder whether it'll work after all the 'engineering' on it anyway. They, lots of times, engineer a bill until it doesn't near do what it's calculated to do, and sometimes, comes out just about opposite from what was originally thought. Main thing, it'll probably cost you. What don't.

Bo. Baskin (Robert E.) if you must, the Washington Bureau of The Dallas Morning News has a story saying "The Defense Department has gone into the grocery business in direct competition with private enterprise, Senator Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) charged Tuesday".

Included in the places mentioned is Ft. Hood, where commissaries are operated. The Senator goes on: "Laws governing commissaries require certification by the secretary of military service that adequate commercial facilities are not convenient to a post or base." Douglas said investigation showed that 'a farce has been made of the law and the intent of the law'. Any citizen around Ft. Hood could tell you that.

"He estimated some 5,000 military men are being used as 'grocery clerks' at a time when the President is calling for reductions in armed services personnel."

"I am not one who believes that the government should abandon all its many activities, but I see no reason why the Defense Department should be in the grocery business when in many cases that is unnecessary."

Politics being what it is, probably nothing will be done about it, and this is just a wheeze when you consider all the fancy housing being built on army posts thruout the USA and maybe the world, not to mention Ft. Hood. Seems the Army and Services want it fixed so the boys (and girls) won't even have to get off the post. They've just about got everything now, and Senator, it's awfully late to start raising heck about it.

Don't try this: "My heart leaps up when I behold The guy who passed me at a stop Parked meekly curb-side, being told

The facts of traffic by a cop!" "Don't worry about finding your station in life, someone will be sure to tell you where to get off."

Why do they call our language the 'mother-tongue'?

"Because a father so seldom gets a chance to use it."

TO BE REMODELED FOR MOTION PICTURES — Careigan Douglas, Miss Texas, may be pretty as a picture, but she's not pretty enough for motion pictures. A runner-up in the Miss United States event, she returned to Dallas telling of a 7-year contract with the Columbia Pictures Corp., and the renovations that must accompany it. She said "The studio people don't like my hair and eyebrows, and they said my Texas drawl has to go. But they're paying me $200 a week, so I guess I'll let 'em fix me up." (AP Wire-photo)

This is a picture of Governor J. Howard Edmondson, Governor of Oklahoma, who as you'll see, 'keeps nice company'. He's shown here with Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, Chairman of Texas Railroad Commission and Miss Linda Daugherty of Abilene, Miss Texas of the Miss Universe Contest as they attended the opening of the 14th International Petroleum Exposition at Tulsa.
Governor Edmondson will be in Gatesville and North Ft. Hood Saturday to review Oklahoma's 45th Infantry Division, and will be accompanied by a number of celebrities, both military and civilians from Oklahoma and Texas.

Maj. Gen. Hal L. Muldrow, Commanding Officer of the 45th will run his men by the reviewing stand, and Maj. Gen. Kenny, Adjutant General, Oklahoma National Guard, Col. McKee, purchasing and contracting Officer, Oklahoma National Guard, H. K. Jackson Sr. Wm. Culbert, Judge Norman Storm, and C-C President George B. Painter will be in the reviewing stand with other military and civilian notables.
Welcome to Gatesville Governor.

Commissioner's Court Orders 'Cove' Beer Election For Sept. 4

Coryell County Commissioner's Court, after receiving a petition by Copperas Cove citizens, ordered a local option election for legal sale of beer for September 4.

Ninety-nine names were said to be on the petition and the voting box is in the city of Copperas Cove only, and in the 1956 presidential election voted 356, 25 percent of the voters in that election being necessary to be on the petition to force the election.
Voting will be at Copperas Cove city hall, 8 a.m., to 7 p.m.
The election is ordered under a recent interpretation of Texas law permitting smaller governing units in dry counties to hold local option elections.

Coryell County has been dry since 1904, but Oglesby had a similar election around 1933, but the voters failed to vote for beer.

EARLY BENNETT'S '59, ADOLPH LADESMA'S '50, GONE VIA SSB ROUTE
Monday, sometime, three SSBs got Early Bennett's '59 Ford and made a flying trip to Ft. Worth.

Sheep Owners Vote In Sept. On 1c Per Lb. For Advertising

Sheep owners vote during September whether or not they will continue a deduction from their shorn wool incentive payment of 1c a pound to be used for advertising and sales promotion from lambs and wool.

ACA ballots and information will be mailed to eligible voters in late August, and ballots must be returned between Sept. 1 and 30.
The referendum does not affect the continuance of the incentive payment on shorn wool and unshorn wool, but is to find out if the producers want the advertising and sales promotion continued.

Corn Information
Minimum basic 1959 corn support rate for No. 3, or No. 4 corn on the factor of test weight only, and containing from 13.6 to 14.1 percent moisture for all counties in Texas has been announced at $1.19 a bu. Corn with as much as 17.5 moisture is eligible for price support at 2c a bushel discount.
Farm storage loans are available from time of harvest through May 31, 1960.

Officers picked up one of the SSBs and 2 haven't been seen since.
Saturday night before, Adolph Ladesma of Oglesby lost his '50 Chevy to another SSB who got as far as Georgetown before officers took him in.

THE AMERICAN WAY

WHAT NEXT?

Here's one that really is for the book. The Supreme Court of Michigan has ruled that a man qualifies for unemployment compensation when he is separated from his job by reason of his being sent to jail.

But don't bame Michigan's Supreme Court for what appears to be a ridiculous ruling. No censure must be foisted on it, because it really made a ruling on a ridiculous law which left it no other recourse.

So, a Michigan ex-worker in addition to being housed, fed and clothed at the expense of the State according to the present Michigan law, is entitled to receive unemployment compensation while he is in the "pokie". Almost unbelievable, isn't it? It certainly is the height of asininity.

One is forced to wonder what the Michigan legislators could have been thinking of when they enacted such legislation. Surely, now the current Michigan Legislature will act swiftly to correct this rewarding of any of its worker citizens who get afoul of the criminal law.

Coming at this particular time when Michigan is in the financial doldrums, certainly the Wolverine State can not afford thusly to pamper its felons.

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY
THE CASE OF THE WORLD TRAVELER
Thirteenth of a series

by Donald J. Sobol

"Moscow Memories," by Nina Virve, had been a runaway best seller for three months when Dr. Haledjian received a telephone call from the book's publisher, Alf Shuller.

"When Mrs. Virve died last month, we held up the royalty payment," said Shuller. "She left no kin, or so we thought. But a husband, who according to the book died in Odessa in 1910, has turned up, claiming the royalties. He'll be in my office at 10. Can you come over?"

Haledjian agreed, and in the publisher's office met Gregori Virve, a distinguished looking gentleman of 70-odd, suitably equipped with a Russian passport, as well as with birth and marriage certificates.

After an exchange of pleasantries, Haledjian said, "Your wife wrote that you died of pneumonia. Curious you didn't inform her that you survived."

"Curious by American standards only," replied Virve. "You see, the marriage was arranged by our parents. It was short, unhappy. Six months after the wedding I contracted small pox, not pneumonia. Through a mix-up at the hospital, my death was falsely recorded. I decided against correcting the error."

"My compliments on your English," said Haledjian. "I suppose you prospered and traveled a good bit since your alleged death."

"As Boris Novak I was quite successful in the textile line. Two years after my reported demise, I sold my business to a large Leningrad firm, retaining a share in the profits. Since then I've traveled extensively. When I collect the money from Nina's book, I intend to settle in London permanently. I have no love for my native land under the Communists."

After Virve departed, Alf Shuller said, "Everything appears in order. What do you think, doctor?"

... I decided against correcting the hospital's error.

"I'd let Inspector Winters examine his papers. I've a strong feeling they are forgeries."

WHY DID HALEDJIAN BELIEVE THE HUSBAND AN IMPOSTER?

The report of Virve's death was issued in 1910, and yet he was claiming to be Virve two years later to a large Leningrad firm. It was a slip of a real Russian, much less an outspoken anti-Communist, never would have made it in 1912 Leningrad was still called St. Petersburg.

WESTERN INFLUENCE GOES INTO EFFECT

Allen Jones, of near Gatesville, and his son was watching a 'horse opera' on their TV.

It got real interesting, but the hero wasn't getting his man quite as fast as Mr. Jones thought he ought to. His boy had an air gun with him, and Mr. Jones said:

"Let me have that gun; I'll show you how to shoot him". And he did!

And, the front glass on the TV broke, and the evidence was at Scotts Furniture Store. A broken front glass on a TV.

And, you say it couldn't happen here! What can't?

Keeping Christianity Christian
Reports from France, where 94 per cent of the people are church members, indicate deep concern that only 20 per cent practice their faith. It doesn't have to be France, or any one church. Church members have always outnumbered good Christians.

The problem arises when, as in France, the churches see they are not reaching the working people. And so, "to regain the confidence of the working classes, "religious leaders often show their concern with "liberal" views resembling socialism!

Certainly the concern for the poor and all who labor is commendably Christian, but the too frequent expression of it raises questions:

Are not churches deserting their purpose when they invoke politics and coercion to solve social problems? To substitute law for love, force for faith, government for God, is to say, in effect, that religion is bankrupt.

Or if religious leaders want to make economics Christian, what makes them think such economics would be socialistic? Socialism is not of Christian origin; its foremost champion was the atheist, Marx!

How prove the church's concern for workers? Give them a faith to live by, and proclaim the freedom to improve their circumstances through worth and work! Calling socialism Christian is like making love with a shotgun.

JOHNNY JONES BOWS OUT OF HEARST STATE JUNIOR TOURNAMENT IN SANTONE

Johnny Jones, Gatesville's lone entry in the Hearst Texas State Junior Golf Tournament, August 10-14 at Breckenridge Park bowed out Wednesday to Douglas Smith of Shreveport 5-4.

He had previously beaten Bill Willis of Beaumont 1 up on 18 and handled Randy Wolf of Beaumont 1 up on 19 Tuesday.

There were more than 300 aspiring golfers from Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas in the tournament.

Folly of War

THE USE of gunpowder was communicated by the Venetians without reproach to the sultans of Egypt and Persia, their allies against the Ottoman power. The secret was soon propagated to the extremities of Asia; and the advantages of the European were confined to his easy victories over the savages of the new world.

If we contrast the rapid progress of this mischievous discovery with the slow and laborious advances of reason, science, and the arts of peace—a philosopher, according to his temper, will laugh or weep at the folly of mankind. —Edward Gibbon, English historian.

The science of undoing and killing one another, and of ruining and destroying our own kind, has nothing in it so tempting as to make it coveted by beasts who have it not: "What stronger lion ever took the life from a weaker? Or in what forest was it ever known that a small boar fell by the teeth of a larger boar?" (Juvenal)

Savage man, when he has dined, is at peace with all nature, and the friend of all his fellow creatures. The case is quite different with man in the state of society, for whom first necessities have to be provided, and then superfluities; delicacies follow next, then immense wealth, then subjects, then slaves. He enjoys not a moment's relaxation; and what is yet stranger, the less natural and pressing his wants, the more headstrong are his passions, and, still worse, the more he has it in his power to gratify them.

So that after a long course of prosperity; after having swallowed up treasures, and ruined multitudes, the hero ends up cutting every throat till he finds himself, at last, sole master of the world. Such is in miniature the moral picture, if not of human life, at least of the secret pretensions of civilized man. —M. French

ANNOUNCING

A display of currency this coming week, showing money in use from the early days of our County to the present.

In this interesting presentation is paper money from early Colonial days that in our imagination we might see as having passed through the hands of George Washington or Alexander Hamilton or Thomas Jefferson.

There is money that was in use during the Revolution - when the White House was burned in the War of 1812 - money that could have been used to buy or release slaves - Texas' own Treasury Notes when this State was a Republic - Practically all phases of history are represented by the money currently in use in each period.

On display will be the gold collection owned by our own W. T. Brumbalow - one of the best known collections in this area.

Also many other historical items on display.

You and your family are invited to view this display which, we feel, will prove both interesting and educational.

The showing is in the bank's lobby during regular banking hours from Wednesday August 19 through Saturday 22.

Refreshments will be served and souvenirs for all.

Blaze New Trails

"The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight." — Luke 3:4

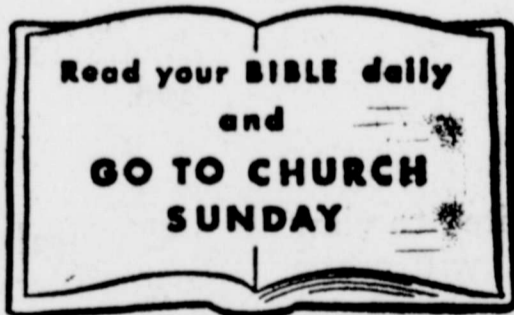

THE above passage describes John the Baptist who prepared the way for Jesus, who baptized Him, and who came to a violent end during Jesus' ministry.

Most people know this story, but so often they fail to realize that John the Baptist was a leader; he knew what he had to do and he made the path straight and followed it.

Not everyone, of course, can be a leader. But each of us has stumbled upon fundamental truths, or ideals, if you prefer, and that is when we should become a leader—even if in a very small way.

In our troubled society—our modern world—it is important that anyone who finds the right ideals to work for them, to be the first to blaze the trail, no matter what other people are saying or doing.

the Great Books speak to Today...

BECAUSE of an insatiable love of gold and silver, every man will stoop to any art or contrivance, seemly or unseemly, in the hope of becoming rich; and will make no objection to performing any action, holy, or unholy and utterly base, if only like a beast he has the power of eating and drinking all kinds of things, and procuring for himself in every sort of way the gratification of his lusts.

Let this, then, be deemed one of the causes which prevent states from pursuing in an efficient manner any noble aim, but makes the orderly and temperate part of mankind into merchants, and captains of ships and servants, and converts the valiant sort into thieves and burglars, and robbers of temples, and violent, tyrannical persons.—Plato (420-348 B.C.)

And you, sir, must drive covetousness out of your heart. For the Apostle says that "The love of money is the root of all evil." And, trust me, a covetous man cannot judge correctly, nor can he think well, save only to the furtherance of his covetousness; and that, in truth, can never really be accomplished, because the richer he becomes, the greater desire he has for yet a larger abundance.—Chaucer (1340-1400).

The desire for food is limited in every man by the narrow capacity of his stomach; but the desire of conveniences and ornaments of building, dress, equipage, and household furniture seems to have no limit or certain boundary. Those, therefore, who have the command of more food than they themselves can consume, are always willing to exchange the surplus, or, what is the same thing, the price of it, for gratification of this other kind. What is over and above satisfying the limited desire is given for the amusement of those desires which cannot be satisfied but seem to be altogether endless.—Adam Smith (from Wealth of Nations, 1776).

New Bowling Alleys For Fort Hood

FORT HOOD, Tex., August 4 — Bowlers at Fort Hood will have a new, modern bowling alley by mid-November according to Fort Hood Special Services Officer, Maj. Carl Gatzke.

Theatre No. 2 at the corner of Hood Road and Headquarters Avenue is now being converted to a new air conditioned, 12-lane bowling alley which will have everything for the kegler except built-in strikes, Major Gatzke said.

Fort Hood now has two eight lane bowling alleys. These alleys handle 500 bowlers on Saturdays and Sundays and usually about 200 on weekdays, with the number growing all the time.

According to Master Sergeant (Retired) Jim D. Kinser, manager of the Special Services bowling alleys, there is a waiting list all day on weekends.

The new alley, capable of accommodating 800-1000 bowlers per day, will take care of the overflow from the alleys now on post.

It will be equipped with automatic pinsetters and the "magic triangle", an electronic device which shows the bowler which pins are still standing after he throws the first ball.

Underground ball returns at the new alley will give more space for lanes. It also will have "lazy susan" type ball racks which will make it easier for the bowler to choose his ball and which will take up less space than the usual racks.

The new alley will provide cushioned, raised seats for about 150 spectators. A snack bar will be included in the facilities of the new alley.

Work on the new alley has started and the seats and projection equipment from the old theater are now being removed. Work on the new lanes will start August 10 and is scheduled to be finished in the middle of November.

The new alley will cost nearly $168,000. None of the money is from funds appropriated by Congress, but will come from the Department of the Army, Army Central Welfare Fund, the Fourth U. S. Army Command Welfare Fund, and the Fort Hood Central Post Fund.

The money from these funds is, in effect, soldier

HERE'S HOW . . .
 Make A Cabinet-Type Radiator Enclosure

A cabinet-type enclosure fitted over a radiator can be a useful and attractive project. The length of the enclosure should be at least twice the radiator length. The framing is made of 1 by 4-inch lumber; the sides, dividers and shelves are of 1 by 12-inch lumber. The hinged top is made of two pieces of 1 by 8-inch lumber for each section.

The boards are edge-glued and trimmed to fit. Screening is placed across the front of the radiator section to conceal the radiator. Doors for the dryer section are trimmed to allow a 1/4 inch clearance between panels. Hang the doors adding friction catches and door pulls. Round all sharp edges.

Traffic Accidents Up 9 Per Cent Over Last Year

AUSTIN, Aug. 13 — "Honestly now, what's your hurry?"

This question was put to Texas motorists today by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, as he sought public support for TSA's current Slow Down and Live campaign.

Musick reminded drivers that 229 persons were killed in Texas traffic accidents during August of last year.

"Each Texan can give the Slow Down and Live campaign a boost by simply becoming safety conscious. Most of us are familiar with the laws, rules and courtesies of the road, but all too often there is a tendency to forget them. At this point we are most vulnerable to an accident," Musick said.

He reminded motorists that traffic officials are doing all they can to protect drivers and pedestrians by maintaining a firm enforcement policy, but that the final responsibility rests with the individual.

"Surely it is a matter of deep concern to all of us that the traffic accident toll is on the increase in Texas (the Texas Department of Public Safety reports an increase of approximately nine percent for the first six and a half months of this year), thus we owe it to ourselves, to our family, friends and neighbors to accept the moral responsibility of practicing safe driving habits."

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

For quite some time post mortems have been going on as to just what last session of Congress meant, or did not mean.

All the huffing and puffing to the contrary, pro and con, observers close to the Washington scene feel that 1957 will go down as the year of the Great Congressional Revolt against dictation by the administrative branch of the government.

For one thing, the seizure of well-nigh dictators' power by State Secretary John Foster Dulles has not set well. The edict muzzling traditional U. S. free press has deeper affect.

When Dulles refused to let reputable American newspapermen go to China, a lot of eyebrows were raised. Traditionally, the American public holds in high respect the nation's working press for objectivity in reporting the facts as they appear at any given time. Only communists and fascists, who cannot stand up under scrutiny attack American newspaperdom with such epithets as "the lying press."

That is due to the fact they fear a free press. In their own nations, the press is controlled by government. Yet the Dulles action marks the first time, in modern times, at least, that an American official by edict has suppressed the free ranging, worldwide search for facts by the American free press.

This has led to the question "What is State Dept. hiding?"

Most people have no truck with any theory that the reds might subvert the entire U. S. press.

Not only is the average working newspaperman quite cynical of propaganda, but also among newspapermen is found perhaps a greater understanding of the principles of democracy than in any other group.

So people are curious as just what Dulles wants hidden from American readers in China. To be sure, he eventually rescinded his ruling, then the Red Chinese government helped him out by barring U. S. newsmen unless they could send their own over to this country.

Yet, Sen. William Knowland goes on record that he has no objections to some Chinese newspapermen coming into this country on permits.

If national security is a plausible excuse, then the United Nations headquarters should be removed to Timbucto or some far place because as it is now, UN members have liberty to bring into teeming, sprawling New York their delegations and retinues. And New York is an easy place to hide.

Thus, this hush-hush ban imposed by government officials is a hard one to sell to Congress.

The putting into a secret category the report of the Government Accounting Office alleging graft and corruption in the use of foreign aid funds is another example of this trend.

In addition, probably never before in the history of the Republic has task forces of cabinet members been formed to storm Capitol Hill to browbeat Congress.

Thus, there is an uneasy feeling. And in view of the situations that have developed whereby government officials seek to lay down an unwarranted blanket of secrecy, there is small wonder that such feelings exist.
