gatesville, Texas*

Here's the answer to "Brain Budget" asked in a recent edition carrying 'little g': "Carrulous means talkative; Jongleur is another word for a juggler; A Pannier is a wicker basket".

A unique version of the Joneses on vacation by Stewart Rivers:
"This is August — the month of vacations and smiles. This is the month when the 'indispensable' man finds that he 'isn't'. The really important man is the man who has trained his associates to care for the details if he goes bass fishing or is locked up in the heart ward of the hospital for a month. (We made it 2 months, and the danged thing still ran).

"Probably the best preventative of the heart troubles are smiles. Everyone knows that laughter is good medicine; it is recognized therapy, a real scientific remedy for disorders of the body and soul.

"A clean heart is a happy heart; that is why everyone should shuffle off the cares of everyday life and go out and watch somebody else get along, and see something different and shake off the barnacles, so to speak, and try to come back with a few fresh ideas.

"And when we and the Missus make that safari, we've included 4 boys and a girl, and Rivers says if you don't have any of your own, borrow some. He also says this is guaranteed to be very effective."

That's almost parallel with us, Mr. Rivers, and we always take the kids—they, too, like to "get away from it all". But, we might add they too, are doubly anxious to get back 'in the groove', in just a little while and believe you us. Old little g looks awfully good when you've seen some of the other inferior or ordinary ones, like the radio and TV boys say.

"Thanks. An American once wrote to Kipling, saying: 'I hear you are retiling literature at one dollar a word. I enclose one dollar for which please send me a sample.' "Kipling kept the dollar and wrote 'Thanks'.

Two weeks later the American wrote, 'Sold the anecdote about your keeping the dollar and writing me your thanks. They paid me $2. Enclosed please find 45 cents in stamps, that being half the profits from the transaction—minus postage.'

At a dollar a word, guess we are a 'wealthy feller' altho they won't pay mor'n $2.00 for 100 papers of 5 12-em 16 1/4" column 8-page papers for our stuff. That Kipling feller must have been pretty good at $1 a throw, but, then times and taxes were not as good as they are now.

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF
THE BUSHWHACKER

Seventeenth of a series

by Donald J. Sobol

As the little burro tossed and jolted, Haledjian wondered what address had prompted him to sign up for this mountain ride. He would have remained at the resort astride a beach chaise and let deal color alone.

"That there's the Johnny Kid's corner," suddenly announced the tour's grizzly little guide. He pointed to a projection of rock which formed a perfect corner. "Seventy years ago on that spot, Ringo Charlie got bushwhacked by Johnny Kid."

"Johnny Kid objected to Ringo Charlie's weakness for palmin' aces. As Ringo Charlie was the fastest gun in three counties and related to half the town, Johnny Kid never pushed his objections. But one fine day he crouched behind that there rock and waited."

The guide dismounted and briefly made like Johnny Kid.

"Long about 4 in the afternoon," he resumed, "Ringo Charlie and his brother Sy come along. They'd suspicion'd something'. So they'd left the horses back a piece and come up quiet, on foot."

The guide rose from his knee, rounded the corner, and walked a dozen paces. He turned about, enacting the part of Ringo Charlie, and sneaked toward the corner. He squinted dramatically into the afternoon sun and held one hand cupped above the butt of an imaginary pistol.

"Johnny Kid seen Ringo Charlie's shadow comin' while Ringo was still six feet away. Outjumps the Kid, two guns blazin'. Ringo Charlie goes flat as a slab, and Sy high tails it back to town for a posse."

"A fair fight was one thing, but bushwhackin' was another breed of cow. When folks heard how Johnny Kid had the advantage on Ringo Charlie, they up and lynched him, even though the Kid don't yet have any chin fuzz."

"They hanged an innocent boy," spoke up Haledjian.

The guide stared. "W-what's that?"

"Sy lied to the townsfolk. I suppose he hated to admit a mere

U.S. OIL

*Indispensable in our way of life...
 vital to our national defense*

The United States has found, produced, refined, and used more oil than any other nation. This has made petroleum products a feature of the abundant American life. Americans use more petroleum products than any other people on the globe. The past is prologue to the future. During its second century, oil can serve you and your grandchildren, and the nation, as well or better than ever before.

In the 100 years since the drilling of the first oil well in the United States, the usefulness of petroleum has been often demonstrated in many ways. . . . It is an economical and efficient source of energy, and a raw resource convertible through petrochemistry into innumerable useful materials. . . . It is indispensable in our way of life, and vital to the national defense. It is comforting to know that today's reserves are ample for today's needs. And if incentives to undergo the heavy risks involved are continued, there is no doubt that more oil will be discovered and produced to replace the oil we use . . .

The Humble Company, incorporated in 1917, has participated in the development of new and better ways to find and produce oil, and in the research that has improved petroleum products and discovered countless new uses for oil and natural gas. Humble is a major producer of U. S. oil, with production extending all across the southern tier of states from Florida to California. Marketing operations are carried on in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Humble's Baytown refinery, near Houston, is one of the great refineries of the world. (Humble Pipe Line Company, a major transporter of crude oil and finished products, operates more than 9000 miles of pipe lines in Texas.)

People today expect too much for too little. Too many people today want security for the rest of their lives through a minimum of effort and a maximum of pay.
 —Charles H. Kellstadt,
 Sears Roebuck & Co. Pres.

hard work and leave more time doing the things she wants to do. A new labor saving device which costs nothing and which may save you many hours of labor each week is the new Extension Service publication, "Manage Your Time and Energy". Written by extension specialists in home management, the booklet show how easy it is to streamline your working methods in order to conserve your time and energy.

The hints given in the publication are practical and effective. For instance, it points out that if you are in the habit of dusting furniture with one hand you are taking twice as much time to do the job as you would if you used both hands. It's more work, too. Try it yourself and see how much time you save on this one job.

While you are at it, try using both hands when you put dishes into or remove them from cabinets or when setting the table. And you can save time and effort too when you wash cabinets with one hand and wipe them with the other, both at the same time. These and many other labor saving ideas, including record keeping and time analyzing forms, are all in the bulletin, "Manage Your Time and Energy." It is your for the asking at my office.

Our chief want in life is somebody who shall make us do what we can. —Ralph Waldo Emerson

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
 By C. WILSON HARDER

Inasmuch as Firestone is one of the Big Four that enjoys a practical monopoly in rubber and automotive tires, it could perhaps be said that their problems have no place in a small business column.

But recently Firestone was accorded treatment by one of the big TV networks which causes wonder whether or not the investigations launched some time ago by Rep. Emanuel Celler into the TV industry should not be pushed further, with perhaps the Federal Communications Commission, which controls broadcasting, directed to abolish the networks.

For 30 years Firestone, first in radio and then in TV, presented a weekly program of fine music known as the Voice of Firestone. After many years it was unceremoniously booted off the facilities of the National Broadcasting Company, refused by the Columbia system, accepted by the American Broadcasting System, now booted off this network.

Now in the broadcasting business, they live by a rather silly shibboleth called ratings. In a medium size city, if 20 people were found to be listening to a program, that program gets a rating point.

As the late Fred Allen once said "Broadcast rating systems are like counting grains of sand in the bottom of a birdcage to find out how many grains of sand there are in the Sahara."

One program attained on endent Business this basis the highest ratings, even accepting the rating system at face value, it did have an audience.

There seems to be quite a few people who want something more than horse operas and warmed over jokes on their TV set.

But according to the networks, the rating systems show that the majority of people prefer horse operas and warmed over jokes, thus those liking something else are out of luck.

Here is perhaps monopoly in its most strenuous form. Not only are advertisers told what they must present on the networks, but the public is also told what they must look at.

Actually there is little need for network TV. Most shows are filmed, but if independent stations want these films they are clubbed into joining the network, or affiliating, as the term goes, and forced during the prime evening hours to run these network programs at just a fraction of their normal rates.

Thus, they have to scramble around to get local and regional advertisers to pay extremely high rates, for the 20 second spot announcements between these programs, to make up for the loss.

So, any local advertiser who pays the price for spots between programs by giants who are sponsoring the shows, are in actuality subsidizing these giants. Thus, obviously, without the networks monopolizing the TV industry, both the interests of the public and of independent advertisers would be better served. It would seem high time for a long look-see into this monopoly operating under auspices of a government bureau which is supposed to keep the air free.

This Inspirational Message Appears Each Week To Help Make This Increasingly A Church Minded Area. It Is Offered For Your Consideration By The Generosity Of Public-Spirited Individuals And Business Firms.

Christian Healing

"... There met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit ... And the unclean spirits went out." — Mark 5:2, 13

IT is recorded in the quotations above (read all of St. Mark 5) how Jesus reached into the distracted mind and heart of a demented person and gave him peace.

In recent years much has been done about the problem of polio, cancer and other physical diseases. But until recently, very little about mental illness.

In our modern world mental illness is increasing steadily — due, in great part, to the greater tensions of modern living.

Christian healing is a controversial subject among the denominations. There can be no doubt, however, that the strength, peace and calm inspiration that can be found in Christianity, can aid those who are mentally distressed.

Part of the healing is beyond the power of man.

EDINBURG, Tex., (AP) — Hunters who want a real challenge soon may have one in the Grande Valley. The challenge is to hit a bird that flies straight up from a landing start and is extremely difficult to spot even on bare ground. The birds are Corturnix, or Japanese quail. They come from Japan, Siberia and Okinawa. The project of growing the quail that of Jimmy Steele, who lives southeast of Edinburg. He released 60 of the birds as a part of a 4-H club project and part of an experiment the Game and Fish Commission is undertaking. The fowls are about two-thirds as large as Bob White, and are believed good eating. They do not make the famous Bob White call, but chirp like a cricket. Jimmy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Steele, had plenty of work to do before he received the birds. County agent Dutch Karcher helped him line up the project by setting him tasks to perform which would help the birds have a chance to survive. Jimmy had to map out the area where he thought the birds might range. He had to draw on a map the kind of vegetation, including the crops. He also showed the canals, drainage ditches, houses and other farm buildings. Then he had to determine he had the right kind of cover for the birds, and where it wasn't present, he had to supply it.

leased. The birds weren't particularly anxious to get out of their three cages.

But once out, most of them wanted to take a dust bath. They weren't worried about all the humans standing around.

Some of the larger ones took off into the brush along a canal. Some flew straight up, then headed south. Others stayed and wallowed in the dust of a cotton field. All were tame, but that disappeared in about three days.

Game Warden Bill Frasier has put out several hundred of these birds in a year, mostly in the ranch country north of Edinburg. All are banded and so far as Frasier knows, only three have been killed.

But some ranchers have spotted the quail many times.

Frasier also says Bob White hunting this fall is going to be excellent if present prospects continue.

X Winfred Cummings and family spent the week end in Dallas with X Buddy Copeland and Mrs. Tiny Kinsey.

Ercel W. Brooks, former Superintendent of GISD and now of San Angelo, was a visitor in Gatesville this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Curry Observe
60th Wedding Anniversary Recently

Mr. Sam H. Curry celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday, July 26, at their home in the Lund Valley Community. The hostesses were Mmes. Wallace Parrish, Hubert Curry, Keith Curry and Thilma Hill.

Sam Curry was born near Killen in Coryell County August 12, 1878, and Mrs. Curry was born in Williamson County July 23, 1884. Mr. Curry's father preempted land near Evant in 1884.

The Curry's were married at Hurst Ranch near Star in 1800 by Rev. B. L. Carr, a Methodist minister, while a camp meeting was in progress. Many of the old settlers will recall Rev. Carr while he was pastor at Evant Church for many years.

Two of the wedding party, Mrs. Hill Parrish and Mrs. Mamie Louder, attended the 60th anniversary celebration.

X Curry have lived at their present location, the Lon McKinney place since 1942. They have lived in Hamilton and in Coryell Counties all of their lives.

The table was laid with a cloth that had been made by Mrs. Wayne Lee. The design was of intricate pineapple. Accompaniments were of silver and crystal.

Floral decorations consisted of a single white rose in a tall crystal vase, flanked by white tapers in crystal candelabra.

The four-tiered cake baked by Mrs. Keith Curry was white featuring white rosebuds with silver trimmings. Cake, nuts, mints and punch were served by Mrs. Patsy Jenkins, Miss Betty Lou Gootman and Mrs. Keith Curry.

Miss Kathy Parrish registered these guests: X E. R. Gootman and children, X Alton Williams, Brent

G.I. Loan Program Highly Successful For Homes, Farms etc.

World War II veterans today enter the final year in which application may be made for a GI home, farm or business loan. Congress has set July 25, 1960, as the cut-off date in the postwar program that has already seen nearly 5 million World War II veterans take advantage of the GI Bill loan provisions since June 22, 1944. The law allows an additional year, or until July 25, 1961, for the processing and actual closing of loans. These dates do not pertain to Korean veterans who have until January 31, 1965, to make loan applications. World War II veterans who also served in Korea are considered Korean veterans for loan purposes. Under the GI loan program, qualified World War II veterans are offered the opportunity to obtain VA guaranteed or insured loans to (a) purchase, build or improve a home; (b) buy a farm or farm supplies; and (c) buy or expand a business venture. Since the program was launched and up through May 31, 1959, a total of 4,955,300 World War II veterans have made GI loans for a total face value of $39,220,608,200. Of this total 4,657,100 loans were made for dwellings; 228,400 for business ventures and 69,800 for farms and equipment. In all, 35 percent of the eligible World War II veterans have taken advantage of the loan program. An exceptionally low record of defaults has won the approval of the nation's financial leaders and an extremely high percentage of the loans have already been repaid in advance of the final due dates.
