Blue Monday! Maybe no bluer than any more. But, the Jaycees remind you: PAY YOUR POLL TAX!

You've got a lot to vote on, and more you ought to vote agin than fer.

Somebody better start voting agin or there won't be anything left to vote fer for.

Maybe you think we've got a single-track mind, or, possibly no mind at all, but you're going to pay for your folly if you keep on votin fer.

And to you Social Security-Pension receivers. Read a story about how the 'con men' are getting to pensioners and social security check receivers. Don't do nothin, pay'em nothin until you've investigated. Can't go to all the details, but they're taking the little some So. Sec. and pension check receivers are getting, so DO be careful.

Just hope that's the only way you've got a chance to lose your So. Sec. or pension check. The other way, if the money gave out, which might look probable.

Cameron and others with real estate developments are spreading Gatesville out. We don't blame them for this development. We'd do it too, if we knew how.

But for those of us who don't know how' what's in it for us? New additions, yes, bring in new taxes, but, they also necessitate more paving, lights, gas, water, sewerage, which, at least a part, costs the city in the long run on maintenance, sewerage and water. The lights and gas take care of themselves.

There are a lot of lots, maybe widely separated (not grouped) like new additions, that look to us like would be good for development and 'urban renewal'. This, if it could be done, would concentrate living more in the town proper, and help maintain the so-called (if any) down-town district. Other small houses, becoming so old they're ractically out of the rent class, could be removed, making room for more new homes closer in. Looks to us like a good deal!

"Shyness is usually mistaken for unfriendliness."

"If you like to talk, it is delightful to be in the company of someone who likes to listen."

KNOXVILLE, IOWA, EXPRESS: "Who is preaching saving today? Who is using the old proverb of laying up a few dollars for a rainy day? The general idea is to spend everything you have and then go on relief of some kind."

Lots of people play dumb. Unfortunately too many aren't playing.

Not having seen the much disputed film, "ON the Beach" I can neither commend nor condemn it. Based on the novel by Nevil Shute it shows civilization in the last writhing throes of nuclear extinction.

It is meant to serve a serious purpose. After everyone is dead it flashes the ironic message or a salvation army banner: "There is still time brother" But except for this the serious purpose is apparently not linked to religious faith.

Instead it shows men referring to die to the tunes of sex and alcohol. Dan Poling's Christian Herald remarks: "The fact that reliprominent part at such a crisis time in human existence is overlooked or disregarded except for an inadequate presentation. Religion has no place in the conversation of the sophisticates who dominate the film. This is incredible under the circumstances."

Incredible, indeed, that a story of immense catastrophe fails to admit even so much as "foxhole religion!" More incredible still, the failure to see a moving faith with moral imperatives as necessary to prevent catastrophe in the first place. Instead it fights fear with fear.

If all we have to offer against holocaust is fear of it then we'll get the thing we fear! ear's bitter harvest is resisted only by its meaningful alternative a dedicated, thoughtful fath!!

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY THE CASE OF THE TWO MRS. BRAUNS

By Donald J. Sobel

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY
"You -- you police! How many times did my husband have to complain about those hoodlums? Now they've killed him!"

Mrs. Grace Loving flung herself upon Inspector Winters and pounded her fists against his chest. She was wailing hysterically as two policemen gently led her inside the apartment house.

Alone with Dr. Haledjian on the balcony of the Loving apartment, the inspector said, "She's right. Loving complained several times about a gang of young punks, the Ninth Street Dragons. They hold meetings on the roof of that empty loft across the street. Of course, their leader denies that any Dragon was on the roof last night."

"Just what happened last night?" asked Haledjian.

"According to Mrs. Loving -- she's the only witness -- her husband had gone out on the porch for a breath of air about 9 o'clock. Suddenly he called, 'Grace -- they're at it again. I'm going to call the police!"

"Then he uttered a moan. Mrs. Loving, frightened, ran out. Loving was standing with his eyes closed. Suddenly he toppled backward over the low rail to the street, four stories below. But the medical examiner says what killed him was a lead pellet fired into his back by a high-powered air gun."

"Did any of the neighbors see or hear anything to confirm Mrs. Loving's story?" inquired Haledjian.

"Ken Martin, an interior decorator who lives below, said he noticed someone on the roof shortly before nine," replied the inspector.

"And it wasn't a Dragon, unless Mrs. Loving is a member," said Haledjian. "I'm sure she could have fired the shot from the loft roof, got back here within a minute or two, and heaved Loving's body over the rail."

WHY DID HALEDJIAN SUSPECT MRS. LOVING?

Her story that her husband toppled backward over the low rail was an obvious lie. A person who blacks out while standing almost always falls forward.

VALUES in FIRE and CASUALTY INSURANCE STOCKS

For the insurance industry, 1959 was the year that most companies returned to profitable underwriting operations after three years of overall unsatisfactory experience. While many problems have yet to be solved, prospects for 1960 are certainly bright enough to consider the fire and casualty stocks, one of the more reasonably priced equity groups available today. We recommend that most portfolios consider investment in this industry whether the investment objectives are quality, income or capital appreciation. There are attractive equities available in this industry to suit each of these requirements. For investment grade quality we recommend Insurance Company of North America, for income Fidelity and Deposit, for capital appreciation Providence Washington. A final selection that we would like to include for quality and growth is Travelers Insurance. This is a multiple line company writing life as well as fire and casualty insurance lines.

The year nineteen-fifty-nine ended one of the poorest underwriting periods in the history of insurance. Not only had the industry suffered mounting claims, but the overall rise in these losses occurred at a time when many were reluctant to raise rates to compensate for the losses.

Mobile accidents and liberal awards against the insured compounded their plight. In the field, under-insured and a startling rise in and extended coverage losses caused a substantial rise in the loss ratio. These and other problems, which will be discussed later in this Letter, reached their peak in 1957 when the industry generally reported an overall loss expense ratio of 102.9%, i.e. an operating loss of 2.9%. This was the low point and from there a gradual improvement has been evidenced.

In 1958 the industry, on an overall basis, broke about even in its underwriting operations while last year a reasonable profit is expected to be reported and the combined loss expense ratio should have dropped to 97%. This will have allowed all but the marginal companies to experience underwriting profits, a heartening experience for many that have endured losses for the past three or more years.

Had not the first quarter of last year been plagued with the coldest winter nationwide in over fifty years, which caused havoc both in fire and casualty losses, results would have been even better. This year, barring catastrophic losses improvement in over-all underwriting results is looked for. This, plus additional control of operating expenses and a further improvement in investment income, indicates at this early date that the fire-casualty companies should finally enjoy a good year. TWO GATESVILLE STUDENTS TOUR WITH TEX. LUTHERAN BAND FROM SEGUIN

Glenn Moehring, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Moehring, and James Pennington, son of Rev. and Mrs. T. E. Pennington, are to be on tour with the Texas Lutheran College concert band when they make their annual tour in January and February.

Moehring is a junior pre-theological student, plays trombone, and Pennington, a sophomore pre-theological student also is a trombonist in the 60-piece concert band.

They'll tour 5 states, the tour including Rosenberg, Hampshire, Beaumont, Lake Charles, La., New Orleans, Panama City, Fla., Orange, Ganado, Pt. Lavaca, Edna, Refugio, Woodsboro, El Campo, Yoakum and Cuery. M. A. Nyquist is director, and they tour in chartered busses.

Life is very much like Christmas—you're more likely to get what you expect than what you want.

WOMEN'S DIVISION OF COUNTY SHOW TO BE FEBRUARY 12-13

There will be 4 divisions in which women and girls of Coryell County can compete in the County Show on Feb. 12 & 13. They are clothing, crafts, food preparation and canning. Rules and regulations goverig these divisions can be secured in the office of the County Home Demonstration Agent.

The divisions by age are as follows

Youth—Junior—9-13

Senior—14-18

Adult—All girls and women out of high school or over 18 years of age.

KILLEEN REGIONAL GLOVES TOURNAMENT FEB. 4-5-6-8

Killeen Regional Golden Gloves Tournament will be Feb. 4, 5, 6 and 8, according to Sammie Littlebridge.

The meet is sponsored by the Exchange Club, and will be at the Youth Coliseum in Condor Park.

Along about 1937, Gatesville had the first Golden Gloves in all Central Texas, even before Waco, Bryan, Temple or Killeen, sponsored by the Coryell County News. Lasted 2 years and lost money both years.

COPPERAS COVE KEEPS DISTRICT LEAD 75-42

Coppeas Cove Bulldogs remained undefeated as they won their 4th straight district basketball game, beating the Academy Bumble Bees 75-42.

Horst Paul led the Bulldogs with 20 points, and tonight Cove meets Troy with the district lead in balance.

Academy girls stopped Copperas Cove girls 73-33 in the opener, Margie Kamas hitting 25 for Academy and Ronda Mitchell got 13 for the losers.

COUNTY H-D AGENT TRICKS FOR SICK YOUNGSTERS

Keeping a convalescent child in bed, quiet, and happily entertained is a real problem at times.

Provide plenty of "just looking" activities. A gay ballet dancer or airplane hanging on a string from a light fixture or a window shade will catch and hold his interest. Or arrange a bulletin board near the foot of the bed. Each day add a new surprise, a new member of an imaginary family, a new animal or bird, or anything else which amuses him.

Many a child has been amused by the simple device of catching sunlight with a pocket mirror. When it begins to get dark, a miniature flashlight will bring him minutes of pleasure when he explores dark corners.

"Surprise" is a magic word to a child. Plan a simple, gayly wrapped, surprise box. The gifts need not be purchased. A cookie brightly wrapped, a post card, a picture book, a pipe cleaner doll, funny drawings, or even a paper party hat will entertain a child.

A picture puzzle can be made for a young child from a picture post card. Cut the card into four or five irregular shapes. If the child can read, write a message on the back of it before it is cut into a puzzle.

Paper work can be fun for the child. Wrapping paper, paper bags, colored paper, paper doilies, paper plates, greeting cards, and old magazines can be used. With a pair of sharp, but blunt, scissors and paper, the child can be kept occupied for a long time.

Remember, don't give the child too much at one time. It's tiring and confusing to the child, and extra work for you.

X Frank Courtney were honored by 112 of their friends and relatives at a house warming Sunday afternoon. The honorees received many beautiful gifts and well wishers came from far and near. Their beautiful brick home is located in the Pleasant Valley community. Hostesses for the occasion were Mssrs. Hayden Watson, Charley Blaum, Moodey Courtney, Eber Vise, Lester Timmerman, and J. O. Head. The table was cosered in eeru lace over a mist green cloth centered with a five candle silver candelabra with punch served from a crystal punch bowl and the silver coffee and tea service on the oposite end of the table. Mrs. Neree Kinsey and Mrs. Hayden Watson resided at the table, Mrs Eber Vise registered the guests, Misses Barbara Kinsey and Kay Courtney received and displayed the gifts.

X Rayford Martin and family have returned from Troup where they were called for the illness of Mr. Martin's father J. P. Martin who passed away January 12. Friends extend to Rayford Martin their deepest sympathy. Mrs. J. B. Martin, Rayford's mother, and a brother, Hulen Martin of Troup

"PEACE in our Time"

Religion... ITS LESSONS FOR MODERN LIVING

Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God. Matthew 5:9

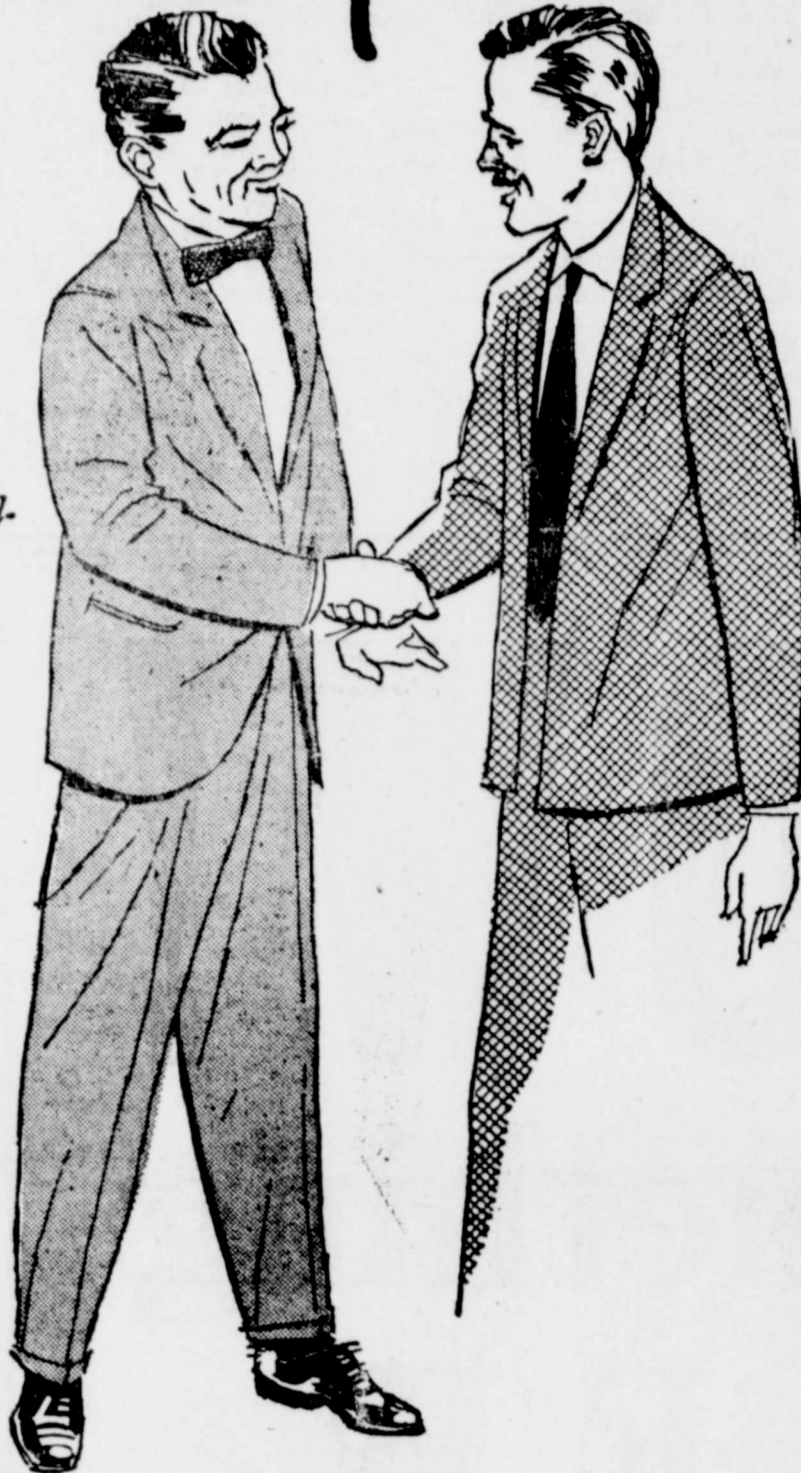

The ancient world in which Jesus lived was constantly involved in war which meant death and misery and suffering for all people. Jesus taught His disciples that the peacemakers are blessed because He knew they worked against one of mankind's greatest afflictions—war.

In the period of our country's short history many men have repeated Jesus' teaching.

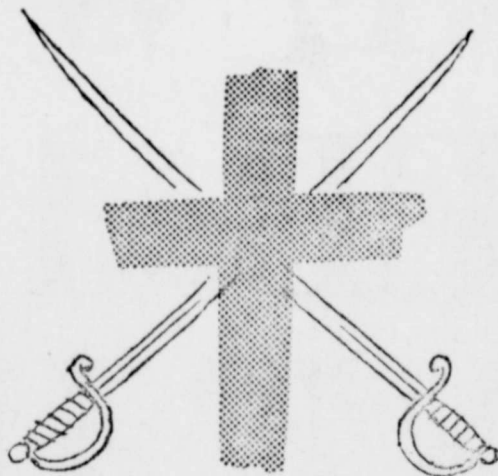

Benjamin Franklin once said there "never was a good war or a bad peace". And Lincoln advised fellow lawyers to promote compromise between litigants in a suit since the winner is often the loser.

Never was the peacemaker more blessed than in our troubled modern world which stands on the brink of disaster.

You, too, can be a peacemaker and contribute to world peace by just being a peaceable, good neighbor to all men.

WASHINGTON AND

'SMALL BUSINESS'

By C. WILSON HARDER

Whether or not next session of Congress makes decision it will cost 4 cents to mail a 3-cent letter, with other postal rates increased accordingly, is still a moot question.

While the House has passed a bill authorizing such an increase, it still has to be acted upon in the Senate. And there is a substantial question as to whether it will go through next session, or for that matter, any session in the near future.

If the raise does not go through, credit for blocking it should perhaps be given to Rep. Rhodes of Pennsylvania, who really put over a very sound and solid roadblock.

Rep. Rhodes is author of an amendment which would prohibit the Post Office from subsidizing any big magazine publisher more than $100,000 in any one year.

One of the biggest single losses incurred by the postal service is handling the big magazines as second class mail, operating virtually as unpaid carrier boys for these publishers.

Or as Rep. Rhodes figures it, it costs the Post Office $9.4 million per year to handle Life, $6 million for the Saturday Evening Post, $5.4 million for Look.

Under his amendment, if a general postal rate increase goes through, these publishers, and others, will pay the difference what it costs the service to handle their magazines over $100,000 per year. He estimates this would raise another $38 to $40 million per year which is now being borne out of taxes.

So, all of a sudden, this postal raise matter becomes a very hot potato.

It is almost a certainty the big magazine publishers will resist losing the big subsidy they now receive. And some of them are not without considerable influence in Washington, even to the extent of getting ambassadorships for their wives.

But on the other hand, Congress cannot well afford to tell the country that it intends to continue subsidizing with taxpayer's money some of these huge magazines who get as much as $37,000 for a single page in a single issue from the big corporations who can afford to advertise in these publications.

In fact, the nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have already gone on record as opposing the idea of indiscriminate raises in postal rates inasmuch as small business generally is quite dependent upon low cost postal service.

Thus, an increase of 33 1/2% on regular first class postage, while the big magazines continue dragging what is tantamount to a subsidy, is not calculated to bring out the brass bands on Main Street to celebrate such a move.

It's quite possible that rather than let such a brannigan get onto the floor, the bill will be allowed to quietly die in a Senate committee next session, too.

But if it does get to the floor, it could be one of the most interesting Congressional battles in some time. As they say in current jargon, Rep. Rhodes has really thrown quite a curve.

F. A. THOMSON SR.
 F. A. Thomson Sr., 92, died January 23 in a Temple hospital after an illness of a year and a half. He was born in Calvert and entered the grocery business in Levita, moving to Gatesville 2 years later and founded Thomson Grocery Co. in Temple in 1913, retiring and selling in 1952. He was president of Texas Retail Merchants Assn. in 1912.

He was a leader in the Methodist Church here and at Temple and was made a Mason in Gatesville in 1890, Knight Templar, Scottish Rite and Shrine and the Knight York Cross of Honor, and received his 50-year button at the Grand Lodge in 1943 and 50-year cap by Scottish Rite in 1959. He was Past Master of Gatesville Lodge A. F. & A. M. 197, and High Priest of Gatesville Royal Arch Chapter, Past Eminent Commander of Temple Commandery and member of Scottish Rite bodies in Dallas and Karem Shrine in Waco. He was charter member of Temple Lions and was awarded lifetime membership and was one of the oldest living Lions.

He was a steward of the Methodist Church 62 years, resigning in 1949, and was named honorary steward by the First Methodist Church Oct. 19, 1959. He attended schools at Calvert, Marvin College, Waxahachie, and the University of Texas.

He was married to Minnie Atkins Feb. 16, 1888, and she died in 1943.

Services were held Jan. 24, at 2 p. m. at Pace Funeral Home.

NOGALES, ARIZ., HERALD:

FACTS FOR THE HOMEOWNER NO. 4

Deductions For Car And Home

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

YOUR home and car may be the source of deductions that will lower your federal income tax. It is important to check all possible deductions because of the savings involved. If you are in the lowest tax bracket — 20 per cent — each $5 you can find in deductions will mean a dollar in your pocket. For persons of higher income the possible savings are even greater.

The interest on a mortgage is deductible on your federal tax return. In most cases, payments to a bank include both interest and principal; as the mortgage is reduced the interest is less, and a larger portion is applied to the principal. Only the amount you pay as interest is deductible in the case of your residence.

Real Estate Taxes
 Sometimes the monthly payment also includes an additional amount which the bank holds for the payment of taxes, insurance, and so on. In this case the bank is acting as your agent in paying tax on your property. Real estate taxes paid for you by the bank are deductible as if you had paid them directly. The important point here is that you can only deduct the amount paid by the bank. For example, you may give the bank $360 over the year toward the payment of taxes, but the tax bill may only come to $341. In this situation you can only deduct $341.

Deductible Auto Expenses
 From the time you buy an automobile, you begin to have other expenses which are deductible on your federal income tax return. Any state or local sales tax you paid on the car purchase is deductible. So are the cost of your license plates and interest on an auto loan.

A common deduction in many taxpayers' returns is for state gasoline tax. It is best to keep a record of your gasoline purchases during the year, but if you don't have such a record you can still make a reasonable estimate. For example, you may divide the average number of miles your car runs on a gallon of gasoline into the total miles you have put on the car over the year. This will give you an estimate of the number of gallons used. Multiply this by the price of gasoline, and you have an estimate of the tax. In addition, you must deduct the amount of the tax not covered by insurance. Although your driving may have been faulty, you are entitled to the deduction if the accident was not due to your willful negligence.

Such a loss is determined by subtracting the value of the car after the accident from the value before the accident.

A Roof Over Dependents
 To determine whether or not you contribute more than half of the support for a dependent (one of the tests for claiming an exemption for a dependent), you must consider the value of the roof over the dependent's head. For example, if you provide a room in your house for your mother-in-law, you can consider the rental value of the room as part of your support contribution. This is the amount you could get for the room if you were renting it rather than allowing your mother-in-law to use it free.

If your mother-in-law lives in her own home, the situation may be quite the reverse. To determine the percentage of her support provided by you, you must consider the rental value of the one in which she lives. The amount she could have rented the home for is considered a contribution toward her own support. For example, suppose your mother-in-law has an income of $500 a year. The rental value of her home, even though she has no intention of renting it, is estimated at $1,500 per year. For tax purposes then, your mother-in-law is said to be contributing $2,000 to her own support for the year. To list your mother-in-law as a dependent, you must have contributed more than $2,000 to her support.

Additional Information
 The instruction booklet you receive with your tax form gives further information on federal income tax filing. Help is also available by telephoning or by visiting the offices of the Internal Revenue Service. This is the last article of the series.

GOLD PLATED ROCKET

A worker at the Chance Vought aircraft plant in Dallas uses a spray-gun to spray sulfo-resinate of gold, mixed in pine oil, onto interior shell of Scout missile nose cone. This red-colored coating soon turns to pure gold as it is baked in ovens up to 700 degrees Fahrenheit. Gold coating costs about 60-cents a square foot for the solution. The gold lining helps prevent heat from the missile's flight from damaging instrumentation inside the nose. (AP Photo)

HOW THEY'RE SPENDING MONEY FOR GOLD-PLATED ROCKETS! WHAT NEXT,

AP Texas Supplemental Service DALLAS, Tex. Jan. 21, (AP)—The national budget may make rockets appear constructed of pure gold—and, sure enough, at least one boasts a gold-plated fourth stage Chance Vought Aircraft of Dallas which assembles the Scout rocket for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, used more than 100 square feet of gold plating in the rocket's skin.

The company says gold is gaining favor in space vehicles for many reasons, including its high heat reflectivity, relatively high melting point and resistance to corrosion.

The fourth stage of the Scout has its inner skin gold plated to protect the scientific instruments from extreme heat caused by friction with the atmosphere.

The plating is only .00001th of an inch thick and costs 60 cents a square foot to apply.

Because the parts of the stage are so large, the modern methods of plating by electrolysis and vapor deposits are not practical.

So the technicians and scientists reverted to a method centuries old. A form of gold dissolved in pine oil is sprayed on the part to be coated. This then is baked twice in ovens and the coating turns to pure gold.

Gold also has another possible value for military aircraft, which radiate considerable infrared rays. Some anti-aircraft missiles are based on the missile's ability to zero in on anything emitting infrared rays.

Company scientists say that by preventing structural heating through use of gold coatings on the internal hull of the plane, heat radiated from the engine through the plane's fuselage can be reduced substantially.

The firm also has used gold coatings on certain copper electrical wiring assemblies to lengthen their storage life.

It might be black, Zack!

HORNETS, HORNETTES BOTH SAN SABA CLUBS IN GAMES FRIDAY NIGHT

GHS went into the 'win column' Friday evening here with the Hornets stopping the San Saba Armadillos 62-57 and John Riley got 16 and his teammate Charles Graham got 1 more, 17, for high. Barber of San Saba got 25.

In the Hornettes' game they stopped the Armadillettes 50-13, and the quarter scores were 9-1, 34-5, 45-11, and Miss Dora Jean Patterson was high with 39.

There was a B game, but the results are lacking.

This is a lousy depression. Everybody's working and everybody's broke. At least we didn't have to work in the last one.

It might be green, Queen!
