"FUSTEST WITH

THE MOSTEST"

Little 'g' gatesville. Texas

This being Red Cross Month, most places, but so far, no 'poop' on a Red Cross Fund Campaign here, we quote a little story from The Weekly Livestock Reporter of Ft. Worth, as follows:

"A dear little old lady donated a pair of men's pajamas to the Red Cross. 'I made them myself,' she reported proudly.

"Upon examination, later, it was found the pajama pants lackplace in front. The Director teleed an opening in the prescribed phoned the old lady, and trying hard to avoid hurting her feelings, told her of the error.

"There was silence at the other end of the phone for a moment, then an inspired suggestion: 'Couldn't you, she asked, 'give them to a bachelor?'"

We've continually shown we're 'anti-More Taxes'—a losing proposition in this 'free' country of ours. Here's a partial quote from the Temple Daily Telegram, who's editorial evidently don't like taxes either.

"You Work a Fourth of The Time For The Government" is the title of the editorial and it read:

"Who do you work for — and why do you work?"

"The obvious answer, of course is that you work for your employer or for yourself, and the reason you work is to provide the wherewithal of living.

"However, that answer is an oversimplification nowadays. If you are an average citizen, more than a quarter of your 8-hour working day is done on behalf of government. In essence, government is your employer during that period, and takes all of your earnings.

"Here are the figures, as issued by the Tax Foundation. Taxes two hours and 16 minutes of your working time each day. By way of contrast, food and tobacco together demand only one hour and 28 minutes, household and household operations one hour and 24 minutes and so on down the list.

"Taxation and government spending are of top importance to you and your family."

"Government can never guarantee our standard of living, but it has the power to destroy it.— The Dublin Progress

BRACK CURRY NAMED CHIEF SCANDINAVIAN SERVICES OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

Brack Curry, son of X R. B. Curry of Gatesville, who, has for the last several years, been Frankfurt (Germany) news editor for The Associated Press, has just been named Chief of Scandinavian services for this internationally known and respected news gathering organization.

Mr. Curry, a graduate of GHS, at which time he was a columnist on THE NEWS, and later a graduate of SMU, where he was editor of The SMU Skiff semi-weekly newspaper, has been with the Associated Press in Dallas, Austin, Houston, New York and Germany.

In the current edition of THE AP World, he wrote the featured story entitled "Change Noted In Foreign News Needs Noted On Starzel World Tour" which rated a double-page spread head in the official publication. Frank J. Starzell, AP General Manager, was making a world-wide tour of AP facilities, and Curry is shown conferring with high officials of the organization in Frankfurt.

FARMERS MAY REDEEM PRICE-SUPPORT GRAINS

With maturity dates approaching for a number of grains which are under price support in this area, Robert L. Melburn of the Coryell County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reminds farmers that they should be alert to market prices that will enable them to redeem their grain at a profit.

Mr. Melburn points out that under new legislation, effective first with last year's crops, so-called "equity" payments are no longer made in connection with the takeover of commodities pledged as collateral for price-support loans. For commodity under Price-support loan was above the loan plus charges.

While equity payments will not be made, producers may continue to obtain any equity they may have in loan collateral by repaying the loan before maturity, thus regaining full ownership of the commodity for whatever disposition they may choose to make.

"Farmers who follow increases in local grain prices in this way are using the price-support program as it was intended", Mr. Melburn says. "The price-support rate puts a floor under prices and offers price protection at harvest-time if prices rise to a point where farmers can sell on the open market and still repay their loan plus interest with a profit, it is better for them to do this rather than deliver their grain to the government, which already holds large stocks."

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN OF C-C ARE NAMED: MEMBERS NOT WORKED OUT YET

Here are chairmen of the various Chamber of Commerce Committees but the complete committee membership has not been released, as of now.

MRS. Wm. CULBERT HEADS WOMAN'S COMMITTEE FOR LBJ

Mrs. Wm. Culbert, head of the local women's committee supporting the presidential candidacy of Lyndon B. Johnson, attended a LBJ committee chairman meeting of the 11th Texas District in Waco Tuesday.

They'll circulate petitions, lapel pins, ear bobs with the LBJ brand and brochures about LBJ.

It might be blue, Lou!

Mr. Melburn, urges farmers to check with their local ASC office if they have loans that might be redeemed profitably.

FISHING DEADLINE, MOST CASES LEAVE NO OPPOSITN TO INCUMBENTS

Folks, generally, are perfectly satisfied with the "status quo," which means, we think, 'as is, where is.'

Locally, in the GISD there's no opposition, same in the city races. Since no one from the school or city has 'announced' in the News or anywhere else that we know of, we've actually forgotten who's 're-askin' which, after all, don't seem to make much difference. Why vote?

In Copperas Cove they have 2 candidates for mayor and 7 for city council—a healthy situation. E. H. Rhode and J. R. Dewald for Mayor Marin Mickan's unexpired 1 year. E. F. Lightfoot filed for re-election in a councilman place, and E. R. Jackson filed for the same. H. J. Dewald and James W. Hall filed for re-election to their places, and for 3 councilmen-at-large, Mrs. Marvel B. Bodrey, H. H. Maynard, John Browder and Geo. H. Fritz filed. Rhoe and C. G. Lyon are members of the 5-man council whose terms do not expire.

Evant schools have 3 candidates, W. C. Perry, Pearl, Ford Phillips, Evant, and Louis Koether, Evant.

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS MORE KIDS IN CORYELL CO. SCHOOLS—372

Proof that the county is growing is the fact that there are 372 more students in the county's public schools. Last year's was 3,387 and today it's 3,759.

Here they are by schools for '60: Gatesville, 1,634; New Olive, 33, Mound 55, Purnela 38, Levita 66, Ireland 49, Turnersville 120, Jonesboro 97, Evant 239, Oglesby 202, Copperas Cove 1,057, Flat 169.

Copperas Cove increased 337, Gatesville 60, Jonesboro 12, Turnersville, Evant and Oglesby lost students. SSB is up 1,167 to 1,201.

STATES DON'T NEED AID

What's all the shooting about? We mean this business of Federal Aid to the States for school construction. AA look at the facts reveals that the States do not need this aid.

During the past eight years, 501,800 classrooms have been built throughout the nation.

In the past five years, including this current school year, 336,000 classrooms have been built. During these five years 212,000 classrooms (figuring one classroom for every 28 new pupils) were needed to provide for enrollment increases. That means that during that 5-year period we reduced by 124,000 classrooms what a severe shortage existed because of overcrowding, obsolescence, etc.

There remains a present shortage of 132,000 classrooms. It is estimated that we will need to build 610,000 classrooms during the next decade, or an average of 61,000 a year.

Well, we've been building an average of 66,700 a year for the past five years.

As we said at the outset, there is no need of Federal Aid to the States for school construction. Those States seem to have the matter well in hand and under control.

KNOXVILLE, IOWA, PRESS: "The railroad workers we fear are fighting a losing battle. Excitedly they are fighting a losing battle against every effort of the railroads to eliminate unnecessary jobs in operation, but with rail lines being abandoned in many places it looks like the railroads are faced by necessity to do this. Modern equipment has done away with firemen on the old coal-burning and no one expects him to keep a job for sentimental reasons."

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

THERE IS NO DISTANCE IN PRAYER

God is here where I am; He is there where you are. God is everywhere. Because He is, there is no distance in prayer.

When you pray to God, or someone prays to God in your behalf, no matter where you are or that person is, God hears.

Since God is everywhere, faith—wherever it goes into operation or wherever it is released—works! It moves God here where I am and there where you are. I believe here, and He works there, performing the miracle of deliverance where it is needed.

Recently I made a recording of a radio program in Tulsa, preaching the sermon on deliverance and praying the healing prayer. When this program was later put on the air over more than 300 stations in America and several powerful foreign stations, the power of the gospel preached in Tulsa carried through to the listeners.

I heard later that a woman who had been seriously ill in Norway had heard my voice over Radio Luxembourg. My program was in English, and, although she could not understand me, she reported that she felt compelled to listen closely. As my voice uttered a prayer, the woman said she felt the surging of God's power enter her body. In the flash of a second, God had healed her!

This woman related her experience through an interpreter, and I was given the message sometime after her healing.

There is no distance in prayer! The Bible was written thousands of years ago in different places on earth by different men. All were moved by the Holy Spirit. The words of these writers are put together on today's printing presses, bound in one volume and sold to us in book stores. We open that book and read the words of God—words God had men write down for us.

Widely separated from the time and place it was written, the Bible has the same effect upon us today that it did the day it was first revealed.

Believe the Bible today, believe that God answers prayer and God will deliver you completely—in soul, mind and body.

God loves people. He wants to be near us. He gave us Jesus to speak with us face to face, to touch us with His hands and heal us, to bless us and give us His power—abundant life!

That is why God sent Jesus, who got as close to people as He could with His hands, His voice, His robe. Then He died for people, rose again, ascended back to Heaven, interceded for men, gave gifts to them, promised to come back for them.

One thing Jesus made clear—there is no distance in prayer. Jesus' hands laid upon the sick were powerful to heal. But His spoken word was just as powerful as the touch of His hands. He could heal in person, and He could heal at a distance.

Jesus can heal you now and give you abundant life if you will only believe and trust Him. There is no distance in prayer. You and Christ—there is no distance in prayer.

DONALD E. EDWARDS NAMED TO NTC ACCOUNTING PREXY

DENTON, Mar. 3 (SPL)—Donald E. Edwards of Osage has been elected president of the Accounting Club at North Texas State College for the spring semester.

Edwards, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Edwards, Osage, is a graduate accounting major.

LADD AIR FORCE BASE, ALASKA (AHTNC)—Army Sergeant First Class William T. Lack, 43, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Lack, 2412 Bridge st., Gatesville, participated with other personnel from the 4th Armor in Exercise Little Bear, a winter field training maneuver conducted in the frozen Alaskan terrain about 200 miles north of Anchorage Feb. 10-21.

The exercise, which involved nearly 4,000 troops was designed to determine unit effectiveness in conducting cold-weather tactical movements under realistic conditions.

Sergeant Lack, who arrived in Alaska last October, is regularly stationed at Ladd Air Force Base as a tank commander in the armor's Company A. He entered the Army in September 1940.

His wife, Juanita, is with him in Alaska.

"Labor party's No. 2 man in Britain, Aneurin Bevan, notoriously anti-American blamed the defeat of his party's candidates on America. Said the labor party leader, The overwhelming majority of them (British voters) are in debt either buying their homes on heavy mortgages or buying domestic equipment and gadgets of all sorts on installments. This section of the population has become thoroughly Americanized its chief ingredients consist of a brash materialism, shot through with fear

Mr. Bevan failed to note that installment buying is prompted by a firm belief in the future rather than fear, and we cannot see that being Americanized in the sense that one seeks the better and more comfortable things in life can ever be an evil."

Find the Moment

Religion ... ITS LESSONS
FOR MODERN LIVING

"Verily I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with me in paradise."
St. Luke 23:43

Looking into the tortured, penitent eyes of one of the thieves being crucified with Him, Jesus uttered these words. There is a promise in these words for our modern world and each individual, the same promise that has existed since Jesus spoke them. "Lord, remember me when Thou comest into Thy kingdom," the thief asked. And Jesus made his promise, "Today shalt thou be with me in paradise." At that awesome moment, with the sun veiled and a chilling silence and gloom hanging over the countryside, someone asked and Jesus gave. Such moments will continue to be throughout eternity and each individual must find his moment. It is the great search for the modern man.

RICHLAND, LA., BEACON-NEWS: Whether one realizes it or not advertising is perhaps the most wonderful development of the modern commercial age. It is the maker or breaker of business big or little. It is the one factor of successful sales that is most apt to be overlooked by the merchants and businessmen of small towns and big cities.
Advertising is the power that will make little concerns grow into larger success. It is a science that requires study and be it said, character. It cannot succeed if based upon untruth.

American Companies Benefiting From European Markets

In recent months, the Western European economy has taken an almost unprecedented upturn. Reversing a pattern which has existed almost continually since World War I and for the first time since World War II Western Europe is selling more to the United States than it is buying. The Common Market comprises Belgium, France, Holland, Italy, Luxemburg and West Germany and offers a very promising pattern for strengthening the economies of the six countries involved.

The recent overwhelming political victory of the Conservatives in the United Kingdom should lend further strength to the British economy as industrialists become more confident of the future political atmosphere of their country and expand their operations accordingly.

Surprisingly enough this rapidly growing prosperity of our friendly neighbors across the Atlantic Ocean finds a different situation here in the United States. At the moment, the steel industry is battling to hold costs in line by limiting labor payments to a level that can be offset by greater productivity and thus prevent an increase in the price of steel that would make our economy vulnerable to foreign competition. It appears now that the battle may be a losing one. The present lengthy steel strike has reached a point where it is causing shortages that might seriously impair the current upturn of the economy over the near to intermediate term. Any major concessions by the steel industry to the labor union could easily result in a continuing upward spiral of the inflation cycle with a resultant damaging effect on the price of American goods. Further increases in such prices precludes any possibility of increasing our overseas markets.

Many American corporations have long recognized the dynamic growth of the Western European economy and have entered this area years ago and are currently still doing so either through the acquisition of European companies or through establishing subsidiaries of their own companies abroad. The most successful operations have been accomplished by those companies that have depended primarily on local personnel to manage and operate their plants. Although there are some currency restrictions and, in the past, losses have been incurred through unfavorable monetary exchange the situation has been improving with the strength of all the European currencies. In most cases, however, companies have found it easy to withdraw a sizable portion of earnings although in many cases they have found it more profitable to reinvest such funds in further expansion in the same countries where they are located.

Unfortunately there is no uniformity of reporting overseas profits. In many cases foreign operations are reported in different ways with no breakdowns by countries. For example, some companies report only the amount of assets they have invested overseas; others report total sales overseas whether consolidated or non-consolidated in domestic operations; a few report earnings either consolidated or non-consolidated; while a number report dividends received from overseas operations. Because of this great variety of reporting it is virtually impossible to draw any statistical comparison between companies relative to their overseas operations and therefore we found it necessary to evaluate each company on the basis of its individual reports. However, we do feel there are stocks of many companies attractive for investment purposes not only on the basis of their domestic operations but because of the growth afforded them based on their present investment in the West European area. It is these companies with which we are dealing in this study.

Stocks that we recommend for purchase are: American Standard, Colgate Palmolive, Ferro, Gillette, H. J. Heinz, Monsanto Chemical, National Cash Register, Otis Elevator, Timken Roller Bearing and F. W. Woolworth. FNS

HOW IS THIS FOR A SWITCH

"The Revolt of Enoch Peters" is the rib tickling satire published by the National Review. Imagine if you can a steel co. getting weary of the time hallowed pattern and pulling this dramatic switch.

"Bankfire Steel announced today a demand by management that the union be prepared to accept a 10 cent cut in wages by July 16 the revocation of pension for workers who do not fulfill production standards, a guaranteed annual profit for the co. to be paid out of union funds a contribution by the union to the co.'s new Educational fund for Intelligent government.

Enoch Peters, Pres. of Banfire Steel further announced that if these conditions are not met by the deadline the co. will close at Pittsburgh, ACron and Detroit.

Mr. Peters while refusing comment did mention a faltering American market in relation to European steel.

Of course it's just satire. It couldn't happen here! But an interesting pause for reflection don't you think?
