MRS. ZORA GRAY, 67, DIED FROM INJURIES IN WRECK: ACCIDENTS IN NUMBERS

Tuesday evening was a bad day for Coryell County.

Mrs. Zora Gray, 67, died in Coryell Memorial Hospital early Wednesday morning following an accident 8 miles north of Gatesville on St. Hwy. 36 at 9:15.

John Robert Cole, 20, of Gatesville, driving a '56 Chevy, and Henry Frank Hudspeth, 18, of Levita, driving a '49 Ford figured in the accident. Cole's car, State Highway Patrolmen said, hit the Hudspeth car in the rear, forcing it off the highway and it overturned. Mrs. Gray received a deep gash on her head and another one in her stomach. Cole suffered possible chest injuries, and Hudspeth was apparently not injured. Mrs. Lillie Hudspeth, 45, was also badly injured in the accident and remained in the hospital. Jeanette Diserens, Rt. 3, received a right arm injury and was bruised and cut. John Thomas Diserens was uninjured.

The '49 Ford was a total loss and the '56 Chevy was extensively damaged, officers said.

Officers Tuesday evening had not filed any charges.

Wednesday, 18th, Geo. Cope-Chevy pickup attempted to pass Ralph Spruill, Comanche, as hand turn north on Lutterloh at Main. The pickup was damaged $40, the truck undamaged. Cope-Spruill was attempting a right land attempted to pass on the right hand side.

John Wadill, 17, driving a '49 Dodge, Wednesday ran into the back end of Millard Gilmore's car at the Dairy Delight. Wadill's was damaged $150 and the Gilmore car $200. o injuries, no charges. Gilmore is 48.

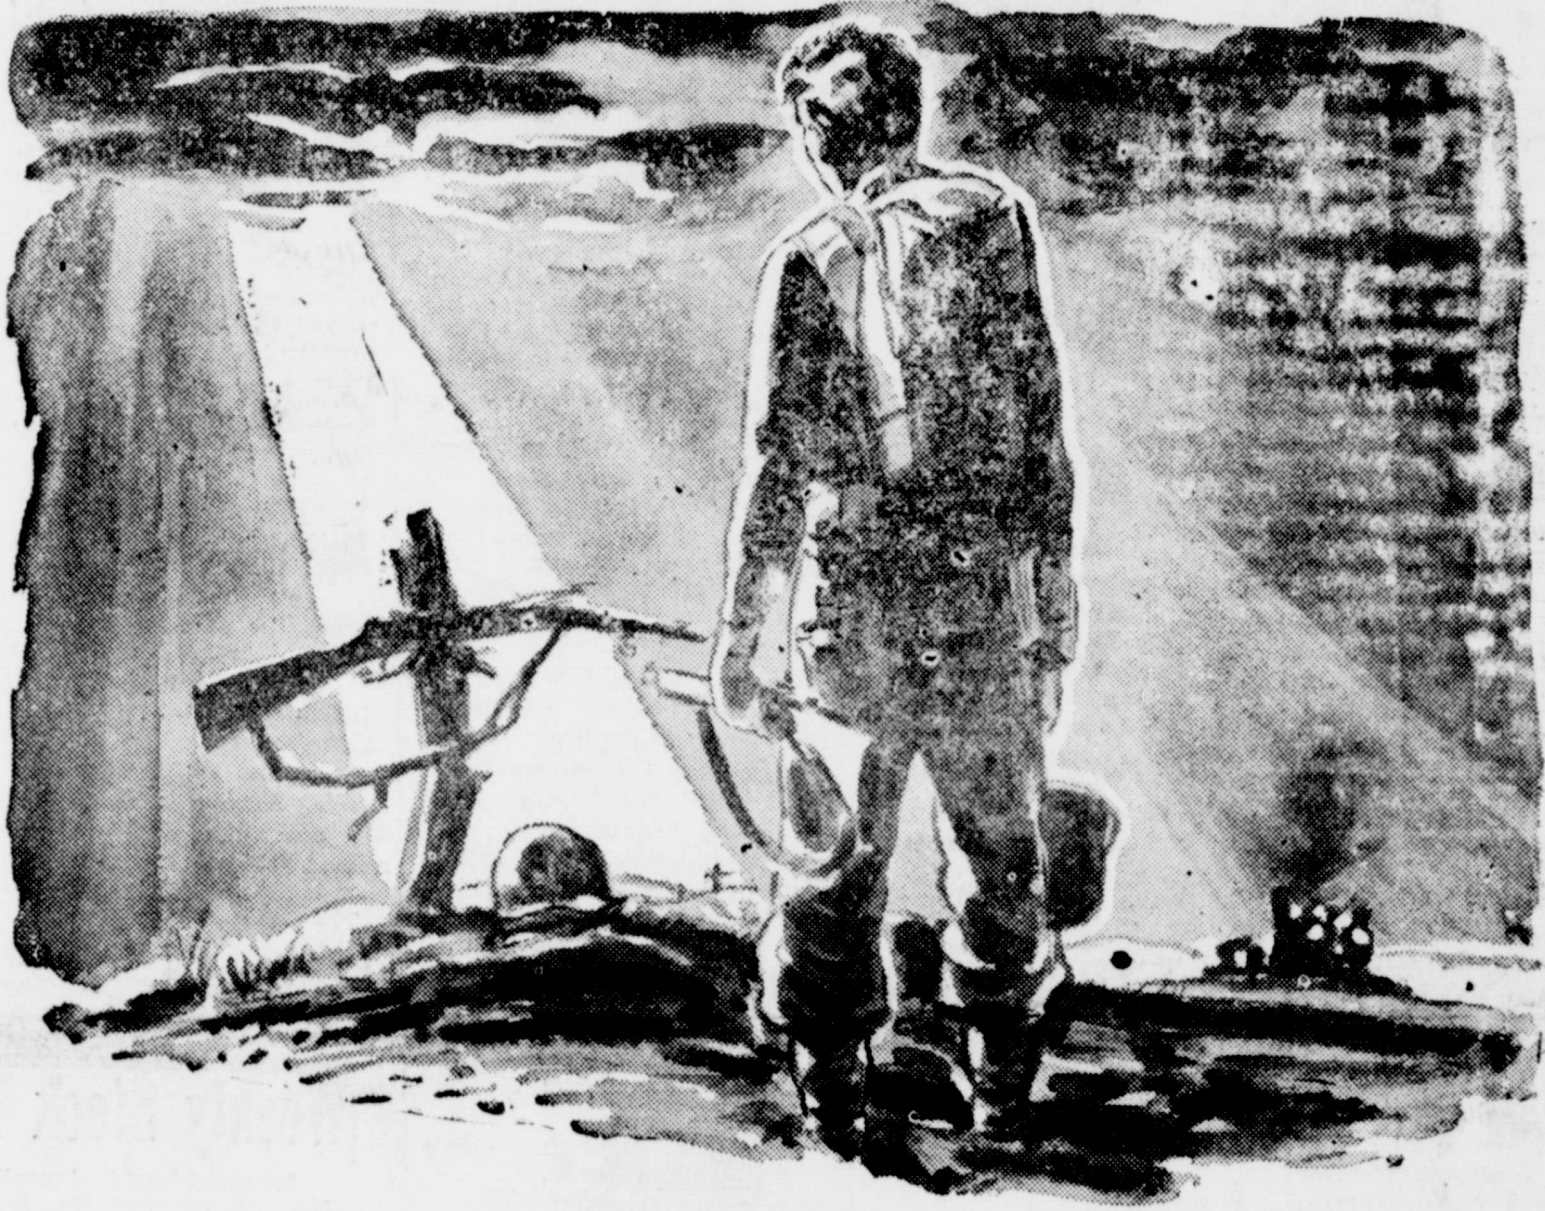

Jimmy Schaub, 18, driving a '52 Chevy hit a tree in Raby Park about 7:30 Tuesday evening, damaging his car $350. Eugene Shirley was his passenger, but neither was hurt and no charges filed.

Troy Sheffield's '57 Ford at 8 p. m. Tuesday was damaged $167.91 when Shirley Stovall, 25, Gatesville, driving a '59 Olds backed out of a driveway and hit Sheffield's car. Damage to her car was $65, and no charges and no injuries.

Commissioners' Court Is Equalization Board And In Session

Commissioners' Court, with the Tax Assessor-Collector Creston Brazzil, Mrs. Patsy Harness and Mrs. Bill Jean Thomas assisting are looking over your renditions.

They didn't say so, but there'll probably be some 'heists,' and, could be, some renditions lowered. The later sounds doubtful, however.

We carved not a line . . . we raised not a stone, but we left him alone with his glory!

There's been a lot said about Memorial Day. Maybe it's all been said, all there is to say, and there's nothing more. Nothing more.

Ah, but there IS something more. Not in words, perhaps, not even in deeds; but something vital that we feel and know in our hearts; something that our fathers and sons and husbands and brothers died for, so that we might have something to live for.

Indeed, their very memory is something we cherish. May God Almighty grant that to their ranks no more may be added, but that we may enjoy in solemn gratitude the blessings for which they fought.

Bad Women

'Tis clear how great a curse a woman is. The very father that begot and nurtured her, to rid him of the mischief, gives her a dowry and packs her off, while the husband who takes the noxious weed into his home fondly decks his sorry idol in fine raiment and tricks her out in robes, squandering by degrees his house's wealth.

The elegance of dress, of motion, and of manners gives a lustre to beauty, and inflames the senses through the imagination. Luxurious entertainments, midnight dances, and licentious spectacles present at once temptations and opportunity to female frailty.

COMMON STOCKS FOR VARIOUS INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES

Periodically a list of common stocks is prepared recommending issues for various investment objectives including: Good Growth; Growth Stocks; Stable Income; High Yield; and Greater Risk.

This list of recommendations is reviewed periodically and new stocks are added while others are removed. Since our last list was prepared early in June the market averages have been virtually unchanged and therefore it is interesting to note the performance of different stocks on the list indicating the importance of selectivity of issues. In this relatively unchanged market out of a total recommended list of 64 issues, there were five outstanding performers: Parker Rust Proof, Gillette, International Harvester, Firstamerica and ALCOA and seven relatively poor performers: Combustion Engineering; Minerals & Chemicals; Boeing; Carrier; Pure Oil; White Sewing and National Gypsum.

As these stocks are basically for the long term, the relatively short-term performance is not so vital but it serves as a key as to which stocks are better market performers at the present time and therefore may continue to be so into the intermediate future. The poor performers were affected by such unforeseen events as the steel strike, an over-supply of oil and a reduction in housing starts due to tight money, to state a few examples.

On a long-term basis we feel that this group of poor performers is likely to do better with the exception of Pure Oil which we have removed from our recommended list. Other stocks removed from the recommended list were:

Foremost Dairies; Bath Iron Works. At the same time, we added four stocks: Ampex; Litton Industries and Polaroid as issues which we believe have outstanding growth possibilities and Armour as a speculation in the improving meat packing field.

In view of the wide fluctuations the stock market has experienced recently for a few months some comments might be in order. Obviously developments in the steel strike have been the principal controlling factor as witnessed by the sharp upturn and downturn swings experienced as the news of the possible settlement changes from favorable to unfavorable. If the strike is settled satisfactorily, it should spark a rather sustained period of good business activity providing it has lasted long enough not to have any damaging effects on the economy that might not be easily recoverable. As far as the stock market is concerned there does not appear to be a likelihood of any substantial movement in either direction unless the strike were to drag out for several more weeks and the economy were to be seriously affected.

Stock markets such as these serve to illustrate vividly the importance of selecting good issues for investment purposes. One must not be lulled by the

MIXED-QUALITY COTTON BALE LOSSES

Well in advance of the beginning of another ginning season, GATESVILLE

it might be well for Texas cotton growers to consider and remember the results of a recent study on money losses resulting from mixed-quality cotton bales.

The study was made by the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and showed that in a single season cotton farmers lost an estimated $2,400,000 because of mixed quality bales.

The AMS found the situation basically to be this: When cotton is sampled for grading, a small amount of lint is taken from each side of the bale, and both parts are classed. If the quality is different on the two sides, the farmer is paid on the basis of the lower quality — even though most of the bale may be higher.

Cotton shippers also lost money in payments to warehousemen for special handling of the mixed bales. Some warehouses reopened the Bales, resampled, and rebaled them with the low-quality lint removed. Usually, the benefits were not enough to defray the costs.

The AMS reported that most frequently it is the ginners who get the blame for mixed bales because they often combine cotton from two different growers but the study showed actually that it is the farmer who is most often responsible. It was found that 61 per cent of the mixed-quality bales was brought to the gins as mixed seed cotton, with only 39 per cent being mixed by the gins.

The problem of mixed-quality cotton, of course, can never be entirely eliminated because it is impossible for farmers always to bring in loads with the same quality of cotton throughout. Weather causes certain differences, and cotton from two different fields may have to be combined to make up a load.

However, the AMS made two principal suggestions. First, farmers can be more careful to reduce mixing cotton of different qualities, and, second, ginners in starting a new bale should see to it that their presses are not turned before all of the cotton from one farmer's load has been baled.

During one recent season, it was estimated that nearly half a million bales of cotton were of mixed quality. About 70 per cent of these came from Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, where only 37 per cent of the year's production was ginned. All other states showed considerably less than the national average of mixed quality bales, which amounted to only 3.4 per cent of total ginings.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS
CHRISTIANITY IS A HEALING RELIGION

Christianity is different from all other religions in two important aspects: (1) It was founded by the Son of God, Jesus Christ; (2) it is a healing religion.

No other religion or system of thought can make these claims. Jesus made Christianity a healing religion because He loved mankind and wanted them to experience abundant life.

The Founder of Christianity is the Son of God and the Son of man. He was born with a human body with all human capacities but he was without sin, fear, disease or mental illness. Jesus Christ was born the world's perfect man. He gave a new dimension to the whole being of man.

Jesus knew that man was not a physical, nor a mental, nor a spiritual being alone. Man is soul, mind and body—each with a particular significance. God created man's body, gave him a soul and connected the two with a human mind, so that the three are of equal importance.

So when Jesus founded Christianity, it was not a shallow doctrine that appealed to only one part of man's nature, but a dynamic force with striking power and healing virtue that dealt with man's physical flesh, his mind and his spiritual being. Christianity was formulated to meet man's needs

Nothing about man is unimportant. Everything is of value. Jesus was not only interested in man's soul, but in his mind and body. Not only did He forgive his sins, but also He delivered him from his fears and healed him of his sicknesses. The Bible says that the people who came to Jesus were made every whit whole.

When the man who was sick of the palsy was let down through the roof to Jesus, Christ saw that this man needed help in two parts of his nature.

He said to the sufferer: "Thy sins be forgiven thee." Then he said, ". . . Arise, take up thy bed and go to thine house." Thus he healed a man physically and spiritually.

At another time, Jesus met a mental need of a man. This lunatic dwelt among the tombs and would wear no clothes. But after Jesus healed him, some people passing by were amazed to see him ". . . sitting, and clothed and in his right mind."

These miracles show that Jesus ministered to all three parts of man's nature.

Christianity does not heal because of its ideologies or catechisms. Neither does it heal through ritual. It brings healing through the person of its Founder, Jesus of Nazareth. You can be healed through a man—Jesus Christ, the resur-

MAKING HEROES OUT
OF HEELS

One measure of a nation's greatness, or lack of it, is its "pattern of prestige." What kind of persons does it make into its heroes? Who are its idols, who the martyrs it glorifies?

For some time it has been apparent that the heroes Americans worship have little of the stuff of stature. Unconscious wisdom recognizes it by using "cool," "terrific," or "crazy, man" for the idols who swing bats or hips, wield guns or guitars. There is no pretense to rank them with greatness or nobility. We can live with them.

But when Americans start making heroes out of heels, it's time to get worried. The rash of morbid sentimentality, excitement and hero-worship roused by the execution of Caryl Chessman is sickening evidence of a sick society. The issue of capital punishment, so far from being clarified, was only confounded.

It used to be that men were glorified as martyrs when their virtue exceeded that of their executioners. A cross became a crown because it was founded on character.

Now, it appears, our values are reversed. Now you can be crowned if you "suffer" for a crime. Now, if you are clever, you can be idolized for moral idiocy. Now you can be hailed for having been a hellion!

Weep not for Chessman. Weep for America!

MANYS THE FEATURES IN GATESVILLE JAYCEES' 1960 RODEO HERE JUNE 9-10-11

Features are the thing in a rodeo and Gatesville Jaycees 22nd annual rodeo will prove it.

About the first thing will be the giant parade with Maj. Gen. Edward G. Farrand, commanding general of Ft Hood and Brig. Gen. W. J. Sutton, Assistant Div. Com. 90th Inf. Div. leading.

Also at the Thurs. night show will be the 90th Infantry band and Okie Davis and his band for Fri. night show.

During the parade it may be the 90th GHS and Jr. Hi bands and floats, floats and more floats Mayor Dan McNeil has proclaimed Western Week and urges citizens to dress accordingly with an award to the best Western Sore and also parade prizes for the best floats $30, $50 and $20 and all riding and civic club and business organizations are urged to compete.

Rodeo flags and bunting for the downtown area have been sold and will be put up early next week. Judging of the stores, etc. will be by a special committee of Jaycees headed by Judge Norman Storm.

Eight events are in store at each performance of the rodeo including bronc riding, girls barrel race, Junior Bull Riding, Wild cow milking, Calf roping Head &

Hell Steer roping, bulldogging and bull riding.

The rodeo arena and grounds are in good shape and contestants should contact Clovis King, head of the Rodeo Committee in Gatesville for information and entry.

Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes will sponsor a dance at the community center after the Friday night rodeo.

Ohio - Liberty . . .

By Bess Brown

The Liberty people mourn the passing of Wilbur W. Trammel.
He lived many years in the Liberty community, where he will always be remembered as a civic and religious leader. Both his family and his wife's people, the Calhouns, have rendered invaluable service to the Liberty people.

Our farmers appreciate the one half inch shower; it was just not half enough. Perhaps it is all we need until after harvest. The combines are in the process of being overhauled and grain looks ripe.

C. C. Onstott has been doing bulldozing work for James Billingsley, E. O. Elam, and Gayle Calhoun this week.

Some very interesting visitors with the Billingsleys were the newlyweds, X Larry Ranney from Austin.

Mrs. S. R. Fuller from Brownwood, Mrs. Vernon Wilhite from Evant, and Mrs. Milton Brown went to the Energy Cemetery to work last Saturday. They have a sister buried there. Expecting to meet many of their old friends, they were shocked at how very few people they knew. They were reminded that: "There came a new generation of Pharaohs that knew not Joseph"

Week end guests of the Clovis
Belvins were X Clyde Huff from Dallas and X Don Burleson from Gatesville.

Many stories have been told about why rattlesnakes and oher reptiles wil not come near a place where where plenty of longhaired Persian cates are kept. The theme of many such stories is that the into paralytic inaction; but no one cat has the power to sharm snakes has ever told what happens next.
has solver the mystery. This week Mrs. L. G. Brown thinks that she when they killed a rattler near their home, scarcely had its head been mashed when the children's pet cat pounced upon it and began devouring the reptile. Starting with the venomous head, he ate the entire snake. He growled an fought for it as though he had a prized meal. Mrs Brown could not resist having a feeling of disgust and revusion toward her cat
even though she knew he was rendering an invaluable service.

Mrs. L. C. Perryman and Mrs.
H. M. Brown visited Mrs. Rob
Lee near Evant last Friday. Mrs.

Mrs Brown alsì brought home a

Miss Gladys Baize spent last week end with homefolks. She is teaching in the Lohn School system.

Miss LeCelia Buster is still re-

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There has perhaps come a time, it is felt by many in Washington, when a shocking summation should be taken of the American situation.

The erosive forces that were launched in 1933 with the New Deal continue to eat like termites at the foundation of the American economic health. In 1933 the Brain Trust
dictum was that the American
economy had
"matured,"
thus government make work projects were a must. Today, the same tired argument of a "mature" economy is used as excuse for all kinds of foreign give aways to expand the American market.

Leaving aside fact that tax and labor policies have all but driven American free business out of world trade, there is another bitter facet to face.

Today, in spite of the vaunted
high level of prosperity, there are still 32 million people in these United States who are living on less than $50 per week for a family of four.

It is perhaps logical to take out 8 million elderly persons in this group, many trying to live on incomes severely eroded by inflationary forces caused by excessive government taxation.

But even after deducting these aging victims of the market place, there are still 24 million people who are off-without any means to build America.

This 15% is equal to about half population of British Isles.

Yet right at home there exists an untapped market, that could increase American business by 15%. Just an extra pair of shoes per year per person in this market could mean almost 30 million more pairs, an extra pound of meat per month could mean an extra 2 million hogs
per year being marketed.

This alarming picture can be traced back to the fact that ulcers feed upon themselves.

The ulcer of huge monopoly
business that feeds on driving out small firms destroys opportunity for livelihood for millions and thus destroys domestic markets. The ulcer of Big Labor, raising costs to higher and higher levels, prices consumers out of the market, while the ulcer of big government, siphoning off more and more personal income through taxes destroys new starts of new small business firms, and on the other hand, constantly destroys American protective infant structures, closing down plants and jobs.

There is perhaps no limit to the goods and services that the American market can absorb if free competition is brought back.

If only 85% of the potential American market can maintain present levels, it is not hard to imagine what would be the result of the development of the entire 100% of the American market. But monopoly practices, in America, as anywhere else, do not develop a market, they merely throttle it. The time has come when we must take the initiative and build America.

FISHING TIPS

EVINRUDE BOATING FOUNDATION

By RUDY EVINS

A good boatman is, in many ways, a good automobile driver. He obeys the traffic laws, in this case the laws of the Road, and obeys them. He just uses common sense, a good road manners and is always courteous and thoughtful in the handling of his boat.

The Evinrude Boating Foundation has a few suggestions which, if followed, will make better and safer boating in any water.

When two boats approach each other head on, each should turn starboard—to the right. When overtaking another boat the one doing the overtaking should stay clear of the boat being overtaken. When two boats meet each other at a crossing, as at an intersection, the boat on the right has the right of way. Boats coming out of slips, channels or leaving piers or docks have no rights until they are entirely clear.

Sailboats always have the right of way over powerboats except in the unlikely possibility that a sailboat would overtake a powerboat. Fishing boats, either anchored or underway with lines or trawls out, have the right of way. Although under certain circumstances when powerboats have the right of way over tugs with barges in tow, it is not only good manners but good seamanship to yield the right of way because of the maneuverability of the tugboat.

Good manners should be carried over to the driver's seat of your automobile to the driver's seat of your boat. Knowing the laws and abiding by them is a must for every skipper. Happy boating... and fishing, too.

Well, with a holiday, and for lots of 'em a 4-day holiday coming up, the newspaperically thing to do would be to write an editorial or column on 'be careful!

There's been far too much newsprint wasted on that already, and EVERYBODY knows to be careful, but there's a certain percent that won't.

Since the average for Texas is hovering around the 35 mark for each week end, and since we haven't heard the prediction by the Texas and National Safety Council, we'll guess they'll average about 30 a day in Texas, and that would be about 120, and for the nation, it ought to be up to would make the 4-day total come about 120 a day, at least, which out about 480—no, that's too conservative. Death ought to do better than that—maybe 650.

One little old tidal wave at Hawaii got 26, with 25 missing and 57 injured and they don't know yet. That was just one little wave. Down in Chile they did even better than that with earthquake & tidal waves. Last count was 407 dead and 1000 injured. Japan lost 10, 47 missing. They haven't

TOP TAKES TOP TOPSTIER TITLE

Unofficial title of Top Topstier in the neighborhood has been conceded by a score of older top spinners to little David Biven, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs.

run up all the figures yet in this disaster, but it only comes once in a long, long while, while ours comes nearly every holiday.

Nature did the damage in Hawaii, Chile parts of the USA and SA but it won't be nature who KO's 'em here on Memorial Day. It'll be frantic, pleasure-mad, home-visiting motorists, picnickers, and just highway travelers that will get most of 'em.

But, the warning and urging, and cautioning will be to no avail. They just gotta, you know, just gotta!

Actually, statistically, since the motor car first began running, (we think we read these statistics) they've snuffed out more lives in that short time than in all the wars we're celebrating this Memorial Day. Maybe, we're celebrating the wrong thing.

So, since the jokes on us, son, let's have a little fun, and cheer you up a bit before you 'take the plunge.'

'NOTHERN'S COMIN' OUT BETWEEN NOW AND MON.: WE'RE TAKIN' IT!

There's a holiday comin' Monday— Memorial Day— and we're takin' it along with the governmental offices like P. O. and so forth, and maybe other Courthouse, City, ACA, SCS, businesses.

So, if you want something in Tuesday's edition of THE NEWS you're already too late, since the 'die' has been cast' and things have been done, so we can take Memorial Day!

Of course, we'll have another Friday, and anyway, well, anyway.

Might remind we'll be crowded Friday, so if you got something you want in THE NEWS Friday, June 3 it'd be advisable to get it in early, ar, we might not have room for it.

There are some people who think themselves superior because they place scant reliance in the book which is still the world's best

EVINRUDE BOATING FOUNDATION

By RUDY EVINS

Are you the kind of fisherman who passes the buck when it comes time to clean your catch? Well, Mr. Fisherman listen closely and take heed. Cleaning fish doesn't have to be a problem any longer, says the Evinrude Boating Foundation. It's a lot of fun catching fish and it can be almost as much fun to clean them... if it's done properly.

Using a sharp, narrow-blade knife, cut through the back bone of the fish just behind the head and gills. Take up the fish in one hand and cut the skin around the dorsal fin and all of the way back to the tail along the spine. Take hold of the dorsal fin and pull it out. Don't cut off or cut out the dorsal fin because there would be a good chance that many needle-sharp bones would remain in the flesh of the fish.

Now grab hold of the skin just behind the head and pull it from the flesh of the fish. A pair of pliers can be used to make the job easier on larger fish. Stick your finger in the "incision" behind the head and pull the flesh from the skin.

Follow these directions and you will stay clear of cleaning up a mess of scales. I've been cleaning all of my lunkers this way for a long time and have found this method to be sound... sound if you follow directions!

Fishing is a lot of fun and a good, clean sport. Cleaning the mess afterward was a chore usually pawned off on other members of the family. Now it's easy and simple.

Happy boating... and fishing, too.

Rudy
