Labor Day, 1960!

This is really Labor's Day, and honest to goodness GOOD Labor, whether organized or unorganized is and should be highly honored on this day. The other never.

Labor in 1960 is getting far more for their so-called sweat and blood than ever.

There's high pay, fringe benefits of all sorts, too long coffee breaks, the boss furnishing modern lights, air conditioning, modern heat, modern equipment and machinery. Today labor has the privilege in most businesses, manufacturing, wholesale or retail of requiring from $15,000 to $30,000 investment of SOMEBODY'S money before there is even a job.

On this labor day, even though we do pay tribute to labor, let's remember today all bosses (the mean old grouch up front) pays half of the social security, and keeps the book on it and the employees social security, deducts the withholding tax and opens up a special bank account for its deposit, then spends his time, money, postage and temper sending it in for LABOR. Law says he's got, and her's no banks for ha.

The owner, sockholder or who ever has the investment in the business has a right to expect the labor (employees) to give a full, good day's work because he investor is an important part of the team of labor management and ownership. It's a team of which there can be no weak link. If the investor is short, management and labor suffer. If management is inefficient both others suffer and labor is non-productive the other components suffer. As you've heard you can't have one without the other.

Labor, with all its progress in the last few years is swinging the pendulum far to the left. Previously, admittedly it was too far to the right, but with all the rights gained, it is to be expected of Labor that it will, and must live up to its obligations. For every benefit, an equal amount of obligations are to be expected and must be demanded by the benefactor. Remember, Labor!

"Labor, listen, Cooperative. I've got a cow I want to sell you, Charlie!

Yes? Would she fit into my herd? No, I dunno as she would. Does she give lots of milk? No, I can't say as she gives lots of milk, but I can tell you this: a kind, gentle, good natured

Editor G. C. Christman, Pennsburg, Pa., Town and Country—Private individuals are having a difficult time trying to save money because it is being sapped away by axes. "The strength and the wonder of this nation still rest in the fact that it can offer unique opportunities to rich and poor alike—that a man can rise as far as his ability and his initiative will carry him. When you kill this incentive, you have also slain the America that our forefathers hoped for, and that millions of men have fought for in the intervening years."

Miss Joyce Elaine Rogers! Is Bride Of Mr. Stanley Lewis Sissom Friday Eve

Miss Joyce Elaine Rogers, daughter of X Curtis R. Rogers of Gatesville became the bride of Stanley Lewis Sissom, son of X S. D. Sissom of Italy, in a double ring ceremony Friday evening, August 26 in the First Baptist Church, Gatesville.

Rev. J. T. Ayers officiated, and the nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Merle Carroll, organist, and Mrs. A. W. Ellis, soloist, who sang Greig's "I Love Thee", and "The Wedding Prayer."

The couple repeated their vows before a candlelit altar of white gladioli and greenery, centered with a white satin prayer bench. Reserved pews were marked by single white tapers and tiny sprays of Carnations and satin streamers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown of white silk organza and hand-clipped French lace over taffeta. The lace bodice featured short sleeves and a slightly lowered waistline that tapered to a point in front and deeply squared in back, was outlined with appliques of the same lace and traceries of seed pearls. The bouffant skirt of organza featured appliques of lace outlined in seed pearls, while at the lower back waistline, three roses of organza held appliques of lace and a shaped lace panel. She wore mitts of silk organza with hand-cut appliques of lace.

The bride's fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a wreath of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She wore a single strand of matched cultured pearls, gift of the bridegroom. She carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue. Her bouquet was of white roses and stephanotis tied with satin streamers and centered with gold Talisman roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Norva Lou Andrews of Temple, classmate of the bride at NTS, and matron of honor was Mrs. Judy Rogers, College Station, sister-in-law of the bride. They wore dresses of white silk organza over sunny yellow taffeta, featuring bateau necklines that dipped to a V in back. Sashes of taffeta were tied in back to form a bow and streamers, and their half hats of taffeta were shaped in a tailored bow. They carried nosegays of white yellow-centered daisies, blue cornflowers and white carnations touched with tulle and satin streamers.

Best man was Ray Sissom of Italy, brother of the groom, and Ernst Davis, Victoria, was groomsman. Ushers were Charles Rogers, College Station, brother of the bride; Robert Blanchard, Billy Don Shirley, both of Gatesville, and Rodney Sissom, Italy, cousin of the groom. The men of the wedding party were attired in white dinner jackets and dark trousers.

The bride's mother wore a dress of periwinkle blue lace with matching accessories. Her corsage was of golden Talisman roses. The groom's mother wore a dress of mauve rose lace with matching accessories, and a corsage of dawn pink roses.

Reception At Church

A reception was held on the church lawn, where the table was laid with an imported white linen outwork, silver and crystal three-tiered wedding cake and punch were served.

In the reception houseparty were Misses Dianne Drake, Betty Nolte, Renee Dyess, Jo Lee and Mesdames Walter Clawson, A. T. Rogers, Walter Scott and Carl Drake.

As the couple left for a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a silk jacket dress of pale golden beige, with brown lizard accessories, a jade feather hat and white kid gloves. She wore the corsage of Talisman roses from her bridal bouquet.

The bride, a '37 graduate of GHS, received her BS degree in Home Economics from NTSC Aug. 23, where she was active in the Baptist Student Union, Ellen H. Richards Club and in Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics organizations.

Mr. Sissom, a graduate of Avalon High School, received his BS and MS from TSC and is presently instructor in biology there.

He sponsors Beta Beta Beta, campus biology club and Kappa Sigma social fraternity.

The couple will make their home at 1118 Avenue B in Denton where Mr. Sissom will continue teaching.

Out of town guests were X E. G. Broadway and Linda, Waco; X Wm. G. Wright, Dallas; X Woodrow W. Wilson, Ken, Kevin and Mark, Centerville; Mrs. J. Boder, X P. W. Duple, Galveston; Ernst Davis, Victoria; Nowell Andrews and Norma, X A. R. Sissom, X Joe B. Sissom, all of Temple; X Charles Rogers, College Station; X E. Venable, Mrs. Ethel Hammonds, X Jack McNeely and X C. H. Sissom, all of Italy; X S. D. Sissom and Ray, Italy; X Leo Lewis and Jimmy, Mrs. Fay Noble, X J. M. Lewis, Jan and Jeff, Mrs. Nelson Schafrick, all of Ft. Worth; X Herbert Kirby and Larry, Mrs. Mary G. Gillespie, Miss Sue Sissom, all of Avalon; X Bill Rogers, Mrs. C. D. Branham and David, McGregor.

TWO MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF
THE RAILROAD DEATH

By DONALD J. SOBOL

"What time will we arrive in San Francisco?" asked Dr. Haledjian, as the conductor passed his seat in the Pullman.

"In exactly one hour—at twenty minutes after three," was the reply. "First trip to California?"

"No, but my first time to the northern part of the state."

"Well, you'll like 'Frisco," said the conductor genially. "Great town. Been living there myself for 32—"

Just then a blond young man charged down the aisle, shouting, "In compartment 6! A dead man!"

With the blond leading, the conductor and Haledjian rushed to the car immediately behind them. A white-haired man was slumped in the seat of Compartment 6. A barber's scissors had been driven into his heart.

"It's Harry Winslow, the New York jeweler," said Haledjian. "He was a bit of a showman—sometimes carried a million dollars in jewels on his person and made no secret of it."

"Looks like you've hit the motive," said the conductor, stooping. He picked up an empty jewel case.

Then he turned sharply on the young man. "Who are you and what were you doing in this compartment?"

"My name is Clarence Swezy. My compartment is right next door, Number 5," the young man said. "I met Mr. Winslow in the dining car and he invited me in for a drink before we arrived in San Francisco. This is what I found when I entered."

"Winslow obviously had no fear of his murderer," mused Haledjian.

Just then a blond young man charged down the aisle, shouting, "In compartment 6! A dead man!"

"Probably they sat together chatting before the scissors were used."

Then, with a deft judo hold, he rendered powerless the man he suspected of the crime.

WHICH MAN?

The conductor, whom Haledjian suspected of being an impostor for two reasons.
 First no railroad man would have said twenty minutes after three, but three-twenty in giving the time.
 Second, a resident of San Francisco wouldn't refer to it as 'Frisco.'

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

"I HAD SIX MONTHS TO LIVE"

Fred O'Dell of Oakland, California, came to the Oral Roberts Crusade in Jacksonville, Florida, on April 5, 1955. He came to be prayed for in the name of Jesus of Nazareth. "I have only six months to live," Fred said, explaining that he had incurable lung cancer.

Today—five years later—Fred O'Dell is very much alive. He was healed instantly, following the prayer of faith.

"The night before I left Oakland for Jacksonville," Fred told me, "the doctors told me I had six months to live. When I was first stricken with cancer, I weighed 167 pounds. Within thirty days I lost 29 pounds. X rays showed my lung condition and medical science looked upon my condition as hopeless.

"The night I was prayed for the power of God surged through my body in a glorious way. I felt I was healed of the cancer. As a matter of fact, I was so sure of it that the next day I went before the crusade audience and testified that God had healed my body."

Fred is a living testimony of what God can do for those who have expectant faith. He went to the Jacksonville Crusade expecting God to heal him. He turned his faith loose and God healed him.

Today Mr. O'Dell weighs 172

pounds. He works untiringly every day without undue fatigue.

"Many people have asked me how to receive healing," Fred said. "I can tell them to do only one thing—just turn your faith loose and trust God. When I turned my faith loose, God healed my body.

"It wasn't anything that I did; it wasn't magic in Oral Roberts' hands. There was nothing that anyone could do. Medical science could do nothing with my case. God was my last resort; so I just turned loose and let go—God healed me."

If you have an incurable disease, remember that Fred O'Dell was as desperate as anyone could be. His back was against the wall; the doctors had given him up to die. But he had faith that God could do what no one else could. Fred O'Dell built strong faith and used it. Fred expected to be healed.

I believe that expectancy is an important step in receiving healing, because to expect is to believe and to believe is to release your faith. When you release your faith to God and trust in His infinite goodness, then the miracle of complete health and strength is worked within you. You will experience abundant life.

We are happy to learn that Mrs. J. B. Parrish is making such a splendid recovery from recent surgery. She is a patient in the Gatesville Hospital.

The L. C. Brown family visited the Garland Leonards at Hamilton Friday.

Wood will soon become a basic raw material for man since it can be renewed by intelligent use and management.

To date, paper, along with rayon and cellophane constitutes the principal chemical uses for wood. Such individual uses result in considerable waste of the wood raw materials, since only selected portions of the wood are utilized. Consequently, millions of dollars are being invested by the wood-using industries for by-product research to develop salable products from all of the wood material in a tree.

Some of the chemical products now being derived from wood are sugars and yeast for human consumption and for livestock. FISHING LINES

By DICK WOLFF

If you can cast a plug into a tea cup at ten paces or snake out a fly line 160 feet — head for Detroit.

The national casting contest opens in Warren, near Detroit, August 16. The country's top anglers will be showing their form and competing for tackle handling honors in the annual competition held by the National Association of Angling and Casting Clubs. Records are waiting to be broken by the right combination of man and equipment.

The U.S. team to compete in the International casting tournament will be picked from among the winners. Last year's seven man squad set three world's records, and won twelve international championships in Scarborough, England, competing against the best casters from sixteen nations. The 1960 International Competition will be held in Zurich, Switzerland Sept. 5 through 10.

Tournament events include skish distance and accuracy requiring the use of standard fishing tackle, and unrestricted events which also are a proving ground for tackle improvements.

Earlier local competitions leading to the national, and the national itself, have stimulated such innovations as shooting tapered fly line and fast taper spinning and bait rods proven in practice, and adopted as standard gear.

In 1946, a new bait casting reel called the Ambassadeur, was developed by the Swedish for long distance and accuracy casting. All but a few accuracy competitions have since been taken by it. It has also taken record fish.

Casting competition is not divorced from angling. On the contrary, good casters are better than average fishermen. International casting champion Johnny Dieckman also holds the National Fresh Water Fishing Championship. Casting is an art with an object—more successful, more enjoyable fishing. When long casts are needed to reach into inaccessible pools—the top caster will have the fish. Good tackle and sure casting skill means more time to concentrate on fishing fun.

Hornets Open 'Really Game' With Badgers In Lampasas Tonight: Big Deal If Win!

SAYS HERE, "LAMPASAS EXPECTING GOOD YEAS" WILL IT START TONIGHT?

The Hornets haven't played a full game, yet. They've piddled around with Comanche Belton and Taylor in that order and haven't looked in order to be too far out in front on the wining side.

They're going to have to have a lot fore polish, pass defense, and 1001 other improvements to live up to pre-season dope, from the 'dopey-dopesters' — that's us.

No foolin' the road may be smoothed out, but it looks like now it's going to be rocky, and football teams don't usually live on reputations.

Take now, Friday, they go to Lampasas for a tussle with a rugged Badger, boasting 10 lettermen, and in their district, is the dark horse behind Brady and Fredeicksburg.

Here's a sample: Bill Perry, 140 and Tommy Patterson, halfbacks, John Bush, 162, quarter; Marshall McMillan, 160, fullback.

HI-TONES PLAY SATURDAY NIGHT AT VFW HALL LATER, FOR RODEO CROWD

The Hi-Tones Teen-time party will be Saturday evening 8:30 to 1 a. m., the longer hours due to the fact that the Jaycees have their rodeo. The new location is the VFW Hall.

Jim Morgan will emcee the affair and it will be properly chaperoned. Soft drinks and candy will be sold.

The management guarantees a good time for all and admission is $5.00

Raymon Ray in the golf tournament at Gatesville Country Club which continues and Dick Forrest was given a decision over Johnny Duche — it was a close decision, whether a ball was out of bounds or not. Committee ruled it out, and that's that. Continues Sunday Championship flight, and others.

This ain't 'sporting' but you can get the '61 sticker for your car after 9-1. Deadline is April 15, '61 and we know you won't hurry. Cost you a buck.

Here's the starting lineup for the GHS Hornets for tonight's game with the Lampasas Badgers:

Suppose numbers, names weights and positions will be on the programs. We don't have 'em yet! Wednesday eve, is thought they'll be playing in '59 uniforms, and the numbers may change for the first home game. Who knows?

Gatesville Jaycee Rodeo Is Saturday Night: Lotsa Riders, Ropers, Excitement

For the rodeo minded, and also as a benefit for Coryell County Community Center, Gatesville Jaycee Rodeo goes 'on location' at the Fireman's Rodeo Arena for a 1-nite stand here Saturday night. Lloyd Woodley's stock will be featured, and there will be plenty of riders just as rugged as the stock, all going for the folding money, and a try at fame.

Jaycees haven't said where on sale, but 'the pajama kid' handed us some tickets and said: 'get loose from them', but, we've got a few left. 'Course, you get them at the main gate, but avoid the crowd and see us.

Main thing, you want to be at the rodeo, but the mainest thing and they're a rugged bunch.

Last year's results were Hornets 28, Badgers 13, and we assure you it was no pushover, and the Big Bad Badgers have 10 lettermen who've had a year's experience and know-how, and a lot of DESIRE to even up the score, and upset the purportedly mighty Hornets.

We'll see what we see!

Ends are Tofmy Casbeer 165, and Harry Fowler, 172.

In the line, otherwise are Ernest Husley 197, center; Marshall Garner, 183 and Winters For 172 guards, Jerry Henderson 187 and Charles Simons 195.

In addition, they've got reserves!
