little 'g' gatesville, Texas

Foggy yesterday morning. Looks like it'll be 'foggy' until after the 8th.

There's been so much pro and con recently in every way, newspapers, radios, television, pamphlets, bill boards, etc., and etc., no wonder the voters don't know how to vote. We're in one too-fog, that is.

The fact remains, you 'jest orta vote' some way.

Since we're somewhat befogged we ain't going to suggest to you how to vote, but, we DO want you to think long, but not loud about it. Do your OWN thinking, make up your own mind all by yourself, without listening to the majority of the poppycock that's everywhere.

Right now, looks like the difference is going to be thinner'n a gnat's eyebrow. Naturally, both are claiming victory, some by a long sweep, but, really no body knows.

Maybe the 'spooks' come Halloween will somewhat removed the fog and we'll know what to do. Its pretty darned important HOW you vote, and more important that you DO vote!

Since a lot of the campaign goes by initials, ther's KNLJ which sounds like a radio station. Kennedy, Nixon, Lodge and Johnson. One due is conservative, the oth r is super-liberal. Depends on how you are., liberal or conservative. And as far as ligeralism, it's a question of being liberal with whos' money.

You ought to know by now—if you don't, itd be no use to suggest it—that all this liberalism is not with the liberal's money, goods or property, its with yours.

"Big spending" STARTS with YOU because, in the long run, YOU are the one that's going to put up the "Big Spending". Just think it over! Can you afford it?

This might fit. "A man's good judgment comes from experience—his experience comes from poor judgment."

"Economy note: The bigger the summer — the harder the fall!"

Maybe you didnt like the above—we didn't either—there was so much yapping, anyway, no one would understand it. Well, laugh at this:

"A chaperone has been termed a person too old to get into the

STATE BOYS GIVEN ONE-TWO BY GRAND JURY: FELONIES ARE PASSED OUT

Donald Stephen Wood is charged with conspiracy to rob and assault to rob, and assault tomurder; Jerry West, Dean Gray, Mike Stephen are charged with robbery and theft of car; Charles Ray Doyle, Charles Spain, both with robbery, Ralph Weldon Roberts, assault to murder, assault to rob, and conspiracy to rob, and Wm. David Hight Jr., with assault to murder and rob, in District Court on felony indictments.

Buying cattle with a $2,800 hot check got Kenneth Richardson of Bellville in trouble and he's out on a $2,000 bond, charged with theft of cattle by grand jury.

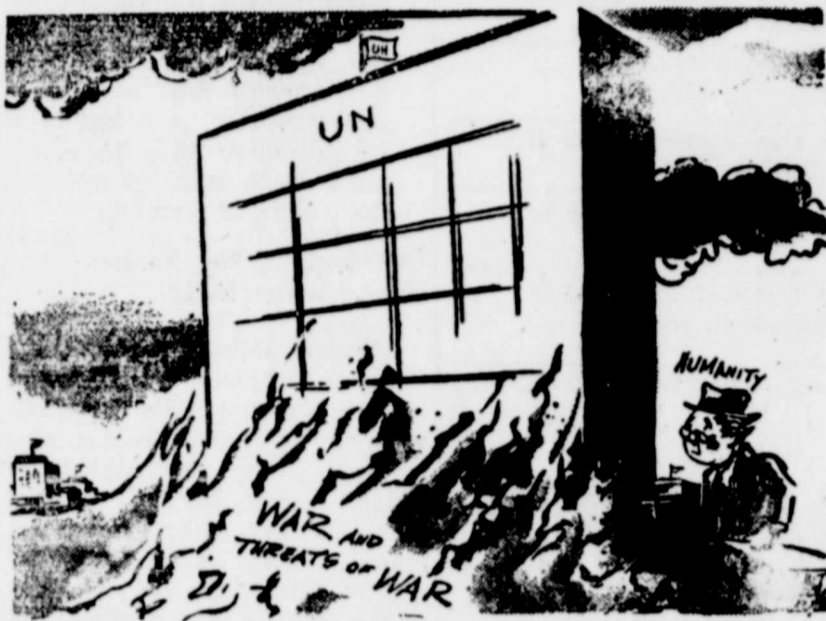

In a civil case, in District Court styled Nancy Harris et al vs. Roy O. Harris et al, suit for partition the court ruled: "plaintiffs are

"Remember, there's nothing in the world that's impossible to accomplish."

"VOLUNTEERS FOR NIXON" OPENS AT 810 MAIN; PACK NAMED COUNTY CHAIRMAN

"Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge" opened a headquarters this week at 810 Main and Dr. L. C. Pack has been appointed as chairman for Coryell County by former Governor Allen Shivers.

Dr. Pack emphasizes the "voting rights" of citizens in the following reminder:

1. That any legally qualified Texan may vote as he chooses in the General Election, no matter how he voted in the primary, or whether he voted at all.
2. That voters may legally split their ballots: that is, vote for Nixon and Lodge for President and vice president, then vote for the state and local Democratic nominees.
3. That the stamp "Democrat" or "Republican" on the poll tax receipt or exemption has no meaning in the General Election. This

U. S. VOTERS CHOOSE A CLIMATE

At one time the most remarkable thing about our federal government was its respect for the freedom of the individual and its noninterference with people's business affairs. Times change. In recent years the federal government has been playing an increasing role in our private lives and in our economic lives.

Some governmental interference has been justifiable. Anti-trust laws, for example, and labor-management legislation. Other actions are hard to defend. Such as the decrease in the value of the dollar, by government's inflationary policies. And the mounting taxes on individuals and business - taxes which curb growth and the making of new jobs.

Despite the rapid growth of big government, the basic mechanics of our representative system is unchanged. We who vote can, if we choose, elect the executives and legislators who want to run the government economically, reduce taxes, and provide the climate for saving and investment in which jobs are created and sound economic growth can take place.

On the other hand the voters can - under the spell of easy promises - put into office the so-called 'liberals' who claim that all problems can be solved by making big government bigger, by spending more tax-payer money, and putting more strain on our business system. They can - but let's hope they don't.

THE EDITOR SAYS . . .

"The Fustest with the Mostest"

There came to us last week a copy of the Gatesville (Texas) Coryell County News, Volume 28, No. 74, a semi-weekly which claims to be the "Fustest with the Mostest." It contained an item clipped from the Industrial Press Service bearing our name in which we were quoted as saying "We are not so sure the Sunday afternoon quiet of years ago wasn't the best way to spend the Sabbath, after all."

The paper reminds us of some of the old-time editors about which we used to read - "he" men who said what they thought and didn't hesitate to be forceful at times. There's not many of them left. The nearest we have in Delaware is Nick McIntire, of the New Castle Gazette, and until recently, Tom Hughes, who edited the Milton "Town Cryer" before it was absorbed by the

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

In a governmental system such as that of the United States where the will of the people is supposed to prevail, it is perhaps an enigma that many things are done which are at cross purposes with the current feelings.

On several occasions, in a nationwide poll of the nation's independent business and professional people, the National Federation of Independent Business has found opinions varying widely with present national policies.

In addition, many Congressmen have also been polling their constituents on their opinions on a wide variety of questions. The results of many of these have been previously reported in this column.

The latest one is the results of a poll taken off his constituents by Congressman Tom Johnson of Maryland. He reports that the returns in volume he received were in his opinion an adequate cross section of his district.

When he asked the question "Do you favor legislation to protect American job opportunities by increased tariff or quota restrictions?" the majority of those possessing an opinion on this question voted in the affirmative.

On several occasions the nation's businessmen, polled by the National Federation of Independent Business, have taken same stand on grounds that scuttling of U. S. protective tariffs in past few years have wreaked havoc with American business and labor.

On the question as to whether the foreign give away programs should be reduced, 60% voted in favor of such a move, only 25% voted in the negative, with 12% expressing no opinion.

Here again is a question on which on several occasions the National Federation of Independent Business has found nation's independent business and professional people heavily favor reduction or elimination.

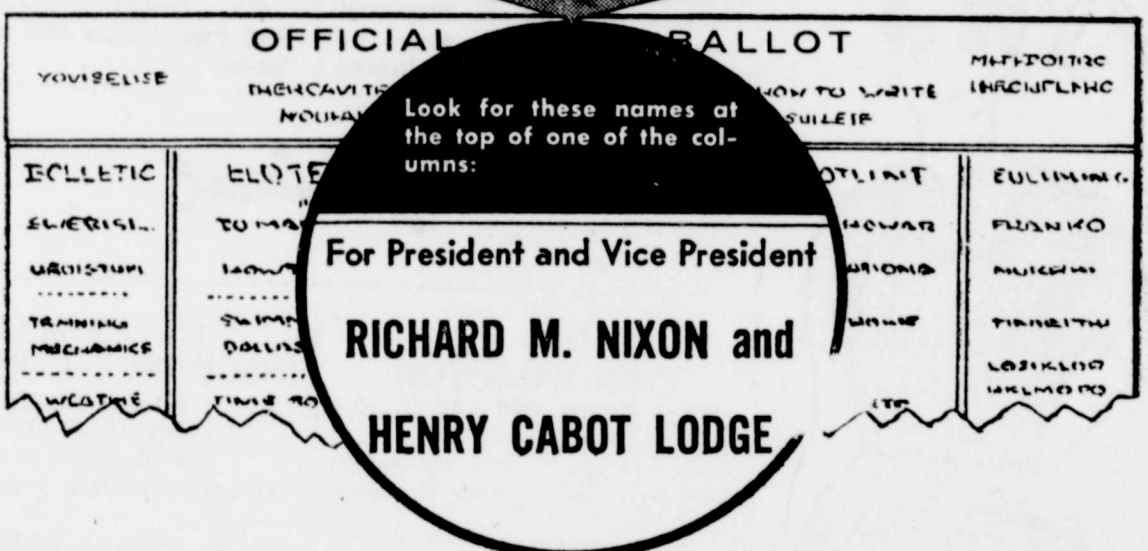

On the question of whether legislation should be enacted to definitely set up a system to reduce the national debt, 68% of Rep. Johnson's constituents voted in favor of such a move.

This same sentiment has also been expressed by the nation's independent business and professional people voting through the National Federation of Independent Business.

The poll by Rep. Johnson is just one of many taken by Congressmen all over the nation in the past few months.

While the polls of the National Federation of Independent Business are confined to independent business and professional people, while the Congressmen's polls cover a much wider scope, it is interesting to note in all these results how closely the sentiments of the people as a whole coincide with the independent business people. There seems little doubt a direct referendum on issues would change many things.

Vote as a Free American!
Vote the Ticket that is BEST FOR TEXAS
HERE'S HOW TO DO IT

1. Find the names of RICHARD M. NIXON and HENRY CABOT LODGE at the top of your ballot.
2. Leave the names NIXON and LODGE unmarked on the ballot; scratch all other names for President and Vice President.
3. To complete your ballot, leave the name of the candidate for whom you wish to vote for each office and scratch the rest.

WARNING!
You may be told that you cannot vote for Nixon and Lodge if (1) you voted in the Democratic Primary or (2) your poll tax receipt or exemption certificate is stamped "Democrat." THIS IS NOT TRUE. You CAN vote for any candidate you wish, no matter how you have voted, or not voted, in any previous primary or election. THIS IS YOUR RIGHT AS A FREE AMERICAN.

Governor Daniel Says Voters Not Obligated To Vote For Democratic Nominees

AUSTIN, Oct. 27— Voting in the Democratic Primary does not obligate anyone "legally or morally" to vote for the Democratic presidential nominee in the general election, Governor Price Daniel said today.

The pledge on the primary reflected in that primary for state, lot applies only to nominees, sedistrict, and local offices, Daniel stated in an interview with a Dallas Morning News correspondent.

Daniel was asked for his views on the matter after a statement quoting him was issued by the State Democratic Executive Committee as follows:

"More than 1,500,000 Texans affiliated themselves with the Democratic Party this poll tax year, under provisions of state law. It is the responsibility of all affiliated Democrats to carry their great strength into the general election in support of the party nominees."

Daniel told the News he did NOT mean to imply that participation in the Democratic Primary obligated a voter to vote for the party's presidential nominees in the general election.

FARM BUREAU—POAGE TO CONTINUE DISCUSSIONS AT ELEMENTARY SCHOOL 31ST

 Oct. 25, 1960

Congressman Bob Poage announced this morning that he had just today been advised by the Farm Bureau Directors that they were now willing to proceed with the unfinished Farm Program discussion which had gotten underway but which was not completed at Marlin two weeks ago. The Farm Bureau directors have specified that they would be unwilling to hold the further discussion at either McLennan or Bell Counties because these Counties had at their recent County Farm Bureau Conventions passed Resolutions somewhat along the line of Poage's proposals. The Directors insisted that the meeting, which was interrupted by a storm, be completed next Monday night at either Marlin or Gatesville. The Congressman felt that since there there would be considerable repetition that the new meeting should be at a new location. It was agreed that the further discussion be held in Gatesville at 7:30 p. m., Monday, October 31.

These meetings grow out of stand in behalf of firm, high support prices for farm commodities which he has contended were possible if farmers would, in turn, accept effective and definite production controls somewhat comparable to the program under which the oil industry has long operated. National Farm Bureau officials have, on the other hand, contended that we should eliminate production controls, reduce support prices to very low levels, or eliminate them entirely, and allow unlimited production of all crops.

Poage contends that this would shift production of most of our major crops to areas of lower production costs and would be tragic to Central Texas. Some Farm Bureau officials admit this but say that they would rather live in poverty than to be subject to controls aimed at balancing supply and demand.

There is not, however, any uniformity of opinion among Farm Bureau members, as is evidenced by the fact that both the McLennan and Bell County Farm Bureau Conventions have come on record as favoring at least some of Poage's basic ideas in direct conflict with the views of their State and National offices.

This series of meetings is intended to let farmers hear the two viewpoints and to question the proponents of both schools of thought. It will emphasize questions and answers and should be quite interesting. Everyone is invited.

SHOE STOCKS

A group that should not be overlooked in today's search for good values are the shoe stocks. Many of these issues are depressed due to neglect by investors who followed the vogue of buying the popular glamour stocks. These companies, in some cases, have suffered from narrowing profit margins and as a result dividends were actually reduced, but apparently the third quarter of this year witnessed a turnaround in this industry. Sales have picked up and there are hopes of improved earnings for the remainder of the year. Shoe equities outperformed the stock market as a whole in the third quarter and this trend is likely to continue as long as present uncertainties exist in the market.

For the conservative investor who is primarily interested in income it might be interesting to point out the stocks which have paid cash dividends every year for at least the past 35 years. These companies are listed along with the year from which their unbroken dividend record has existed: International Shoe (1913); Melville Shoe (1916); Endicott Johnson (1919); Brown Shoe (1928).

For those investors interested in stock dividend payments Spencer Shoe has consistently paid stock instead of cash dividends while Butler Shoe and Edison Bros. Stores have also paid stock dividends from time to time.

invest in shoe stocks depending on the individual's objectives. For example, we would recommend to the investor who would settle for a modest return on his commitment and is primarily interested in capital appreciation — Edison Bros. Stores and Brown Shoe.

For the stockholder not particularly concerned with capital appreciation but interested in a higher return Allied Kid, International Shoe and Shoe Corp. of America all appear interesting.

Combining both the features of capital appreciation and yield we would select U. S. Shoe as our favorite candidate.

Finally, for the individual willing to assume a greater degree of speculation and who seeks dynamic capital appreciation we would recommend Spencer Shoe.

SHELBY, MONT., PROMOTER: Strictly speaking, the nation's schools are not in a quantitative quandary. During this year's Senate investigations, it was brought out that of the 42,000 school districts in America, only 230 district had reached their bonded limit. In other words only one half of one per cent of the school districts in the country have used their available resources to the fullest.

Let's take a long look at this situation as by our political leaders from our own taxes before we turn over control of our schools to some "unscrupulous" element of federal bureaucrats. With the federal government support, the federal government controls.

Love Arisen Part Of Vanishing Race

COPPERAS COVE— C. A. Mickan belongs to a vanishing race of Americans—the skilled artisan whose hand tools and talent represent his stock in trade. He set up his blacksmith shop here 45 years ago when he moved from Wallburg, near Georgetown, to Copperas Cove, near Georgetown, Texas, operating there for 12 years. When Mickan arrived in Copperas Cove, he said it was a small community of some 300 people — “but a busy place. As busy as it is now, almost.”

He pointed across the street to the railroad tracks. “Over there they used to load 20 to 30 cars of cattle a day. In season, it was nothing to see four or five train loads of feed (maize, wheat, corn, etc.) a day shipped out of here. There wasn't any Army here then,” he added, “just farmers.” Mickan was born at Wallburg in 1884. His father came from Germany to Galveston about 1850 and journeyed in a wagon to the Cen-Tex community, where he was a mail carrier until after the Civil War. After the war, his father bought the farm where Mickan was born.

When he was 19 years old, Mickan apprenticed himself to a blacksmith in Wallburg and worked in that capacity for two years before striking out for himself.

“During the first six weeks I worked for him,” Mickan chuckled, “I got paid about $75. By golly, I bet you wouldn't find any kids that age who'd work 16 hours a day, six or seven days a week, for that now.”

Until recently, Mickan took on all kinds of heavy equipment work and repair and was for a while in the post ordnance Civil Service at Fort Hood during the war.

Mickan is semi-retired, and claims he's too old to work as hard as he did in the days when he shod “20 or 30 horses a day.” —But you'd hardly believe it. Many a younger man could envy his zest for life, his interest in current affairs, and his convivial relationship with his associates and neighbors.

Most of his present work consists of mending tricycles, bicycles, ironing boards and the like; but he remembers the time when he'd take a sheet of untempered steel and build a plowshare from scratch or take a rod of metal and pound and shape it into a set of horse shoes.

“I could still see plenty of horses around here,” Mickan said, but added that he hasn't “got the back for it” anymore.

“I tell people to wait for the guy who comes with a truck from Lampasas about once a month,” he said.

KITTEN FINISH

By RESISTOL

There aren't enough superlatives to describe the wonderful feeling texture of a "Kitten Finish" hat. So soft and sensuous to the touch — you'll know at once why a Resistol is so outstanding. Add to this, unequalled Resistol styling — unmatched "Self-Conforming" comfort. You'll agree "There's no other hat like it!"
