Oad Painter Honored At Retirement Dinner

Mayor Lowrey presents Oad Painter with a gold watch in appreciation for his twenty years services to the Gatesville Volunteer Fire Department and the Gatesville area. President of the Volunteer Fire Department, Jack Lipsey, presided at the Retirement Dinner honoring Oad for his service over the years.

Oad Painter, long time volunteer fireman with the Gatesville Fire Department was honored at a special banquet, Tuesday night.

An estimated 70 firemen and wives were present to honor Oad at the dinner. Mayor J.W. Lowrey presented Oad with a watch as a token of the department and city's appreciation of Oad's untiring work as a fireman.

Mayor Lowrey mentioned the possibility of having some funds budgeted for use by the Fire Department in the foreseeable future.

Master of Ceremonies, Jack Lipsey, President of the Volunteer Firemen, pointed out to the dinner guests that Oad had accumulated something over 2,000 hours of weekly practice meetings in his 20 years of service.

Oad has attended business meetings with enviable regularity over the years. His time donated for the construction and maintenance of the Firemen's Rodeo Arena cannot be counted in hours, but must be counted in days.

Lipsey pointed out that Oad has attended numerous small emergency night calls without calling on other members of the department.

In short, Oad's 20 years dedication to the department sets him in an exclusive category attained by very few volunteer firemen.

Killeen, were "Blondie" Rucker, Fire Chief at Killeen and Ben Norman of the Killeen Fire Department.

Present programs, for recreation facilities (new swimming pool and Faunt Le Roy Park) will be initiated.

Further work on the new Library facility came before the council in the new council year.

Water lines will be installed along Golf Course Road during the next year. City-County Airport will be improved in an effort to make the facility self-supporting.

The council will deliberate on a proposal for Historical and Travel attractions of local interest.

Water, Water, Everywhere

Proof we have a well. Pictured here are Lane Texas Company employees, Mr. Q.K. Noble, J.E. Whitley, B.F. Collins and C. Brewer. The test pump is operating at 1154 gallons per minute when this picture was taken Wednesday.

Well Nears Completion

City Manager, Eiland Lovejoy, reported this week that the casing has been lowered into the new well, concreted into place and the test pumping stage was starting.

The casing extends 770 feet into the well with 90' of screen below the casing in the "water producing sand". The screen is casing with 1/8" square holes which allows water to pass into the casing and pressure pushes a column of water up the casing.

Wednesday, workmen had begun pumping water from the well through an 8" pipe. Test instruments had arrived at the well site Thursday morning to begin the accurate testing stage.

The big 206 horsepower diesel can pump a variable quantity of water from the well. Testing will be done at varying rates to determine pump requirements for the well.

Wednesday, workmen estimated through a simple gauge that the pump was working at 1154 gallons per minute. This rate is not an accurate figure because it has not been determined that the well will support a sustained pumping at 1154 gallons per minute.

Pageant Officials Set April 20 Contest Date

The newly organized Miss Gatesville Pageant Corporation will present The Miss Gatesville Pageant on Saturday, April 20, 1968, at 8:00 p.m. in the Gatesville High School Auditorium.

Mistress of Ceremonies will be Miss Betty Lynn Buckley, Miss Fort Worth, 1966, who is presently attending Texas Christian University. Miss Buckley was special guest entertainer at last year's Miss America Pageant. She is also cheerleader for T.C.U. Miss Buckley will have with her The James A. Davis Trio, who will provide the musical score for the Pageant.

The Miss Gatesville Pageant is a preliminary to the one and only Miss America Pageant, which grants a franchise to a highly recommended organization in each State, giving that organization the exclusive right to organize local competitions throughout the State. Franchised State Pageant organizations such as The Miss Texas Pageant Corporation, issue sub-franchises to organizations in cities and counties throughout the State, giving them the exclusive rights to conduct local Miss America Preliminaries. The winners of these local competitions compete at the State competition in Fort Worth for the right to represent the State at the National Finals in Atlantic City each September.

There are only 60 local franchises issued in the entire State of Texas. Gatesville is the proud owner of one of these franchises. Cities such as Austin, Temple and Waco do not possess franchises. There is a long waiting list for application for such a franchise but none are to be had unless a present holder should desire to forfeit a franchise. So, Gatesville is indeed fortunate to have the right to produce the local Pageant.

Our Miss Gatesville Pageant provides the Corporation with a project which can offer its members an opportunity to:

1. Contribute to the social and cultural development of the community through the staging of a beautiful and colorful Pageant.
2. Bring to the public's attention the personality, beauty, intelligence, talent and ambition of high school and college girls who will shortly become the civic and social leaders of the nation.
3. Provide educational opportunities for the young people through the annual scholarship program offered by the Miss America Pageant and its associate state and local Pageant.
4. Train and develop civic leadership among their own members by providing them with an opportunity to work on a civic project of national significance.
5. Bring state wide and national recognition to their community through the attending publicity and good will the Pageant creates.
6. Develop a spirit of understanding and cooperation between the youth, civic leaders and commercial interests.

WHO IS MISS AMERICA? Miss America is the ideal American girl. She symbolizes the youth of our nation--their dreams, ambitions and ideals. She is the girl who will represent her country for a year as she travels the length and breadth of her own nation and to many foreign lands.

WHAT TYPE OF GIRL DOES THE MISS AMERICAN PAGEANT COMPETITION ATTRACT?

1. The ambitious girl who is interested in furthering her chosen career through higher education and special training.
2. The girl who wishes to be a leader in her community.
3. The girl who recognizes the Pageant as an educational program which can benefit future generations and wishes to encourage its continuance.
4. The girl who recognizes the merit of representing her community as an ideal American girl -- who would be proud to represent her state or her nation in the same capacity.
5. The girl who appreciates the value of a scholarship to help the family budget, even through college has not been denied her.
6. The girl who is willing to share her talents with her community, thus gaining recognition of her ambition for a specialized career.

Damages Total $1650 in Four Accidents Reported Wednesday

Police Chief, Gene Goins, reported four accidents occurring Wednesday, amounting to $1650 in damages with no injuries.

At 8:10 Wednesday morning, George W. Tatum, driving a 1955 Chevrolet pickup, and Betty McElthorn, driving a 1963 Plymouth, collided, causing $100 damage to the pickup and $350 damage to the car.

At 7:20 a.m., Mr. Henry L. Anderson, driving a 1962 Chevrolet and Mrs. Mary L. Martin of Oglesby, driving a 1965 Chevrolet, collided on Main St. near Modern Food Market. The Anderson car received $400 damage.

Wednesday afternoon at 4:36, at the intersection of Main and Lovers Lane, Earl D. Odum, driving a 1959 Chevrolet pickup and Mary Kay Brumblow, driving a 1965 Chevrolet collided, causing $100 damage to the Odum car and $200 to the Brumblow car.

At 6:05 p.m., at the intersection of Main and Highway 36 at the "Y", Sidney Sayetta, driving a 1963 Ford and Lou E. Davidson, driving a 1954 Mercury, collided, causing $300 damage to the Sayetta auto and $200 to the Davidson auto.

Chief Goins pointed out that many accidents occur along Main Street when persons attempt to turn left across the yellow double line, which is a violation of traffic regulations. To turn into a private drive, or other establishments, across the yellow lines does cause accidents. The proper procedure is to make a block and make the turn from a right hand lane.

IN SERVICE

To the people of Precinct 2:

This is to earnestly solicit your vote and influence for my candidacy for county commissioner in Precinct 2. I am now serving you in this office and I consider it a high privilege.

During the past weeks I have learned much about precinct affairs, about road maintenance and about the operation of county business. I feel that this, coupled with my past business experience, will enable me to do the kind of job you expect from a commissioner.

I am familiar with the precinct, its need and problems, as I have lived in Precinct 2 most of my life. I am 48 years old, born in Coryell County and have lived in this county all my life, except for a four-year period in the military service during World War II.

During many years in the grocery business in Gatesville, I engaged in civic work on both city and county levels, learning much about this county and its prospects for progress.

I want to be your commissioner, and, if elected, will continue to work hard to serve every section and all the people of the precinct impartially and fairly. I pledge to you economical and competent maintenance of the roads and full consideration of the interests of all residents of this precinct in reaching decisions on county matters.

I realize the value of the tax dollar, and will do my utmost to administer the expenditures of all such dollars wisely and well.

Many of you I know and I hope to meet all of you in the weeks before the Democratic Primary election. I plan to campaign as extensively as possible without neglecting my work as commissioner.

Please accept this as a sincere request for your vote and support in the commissioner's race. Any consideration shown me will be deeply appreciated.

Respectfully,
 PAT HOLLINGSWORTH
 Candidate for County Commissioner Precinct 2

MUSEUMS GROW MORE POPULAR TSHSC HOLDS MEETING

"Because of the growing interest across Texas in the establishment and maintenance of museums, both large and small, the Texas State Historical Survey Committee will hold their second official Texas Small Museum Institute in Fort Worth on March 15 and 16."

The announcement was made by Charles R. Woodburn, of Amarillo president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. The Committee is the state agency that has spearheaded the development of historical museums at the local level.

The Smithsonian Institute of Washington, D.C. will again be participating in the Institute to be held at the Fort Worth Childrens Museum.

In September 1966 (at the time of the first Small Museum Institute), Texas could count 243 museums open while another 74 were in various stages of planning. Today, this figure has increased to 275 with another 166 museums reported developing. Many of these are small museums seeking to preserve local and regional heritage.

Small museums are hampered in establishment and operation because they have no organized source of professional guidance and few publications to refer to for information.

This is the reason the Survey Committee is sponsoring this second institute which will deal with small museums needs.

All phases of museum operation will be discussed and workshops sessions using the Childrens Museum facilities (nationally recognized for its trend-setting programs and exhibits) will be held. Topics for the workshop sessions include educational programs, exhibits, natural science, astronomy, accession, budgeting-financing and gift shops.

An announcement has been sent to county historical survey committees, all museums, chambers of commerce and various state agencies.

The Institute is open to all interested in museums and their workings. The registration fee is $12.50. Those interested in attending should contact the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, P.O. Box 12276, Austin, 78711, for further details.

Visiting in the Moye Necessary home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Hightower and Ronald of Arlington. Mr. and Mrs. Erbie Necessary and sons of Waco visited with them Sunday.

Did you make a note of what the groundhog had to say about when we can expect Spring this year? Or, if there is one in your neighborhood, have you checked a mesquite tree to see if it has started budding yet? Failing these, scan the windy sky. If it is dotted with swooping, diving kites, you can be sure that Spring is not far behind.

Kite flying is a traditional sport that never seems to lose its charm to young and old alike, and, whether young or old, smart kite-fliers will observe the basic rules of safety, according to Buddy Biffle of the Community Public Service Company.

EDITORIALS

AUSTIN - In the dim light at the end of the long corridor, about 50 armed, uniformed men stood in tense silence, scattered along a broad stairway and its landing halfway between the first and second floors.

One man in plain clothes, standing in the middle of the group spoke urgently but softly into a walkie-talkie radio. Beside him, another man held a sheaf of diagrams showing the floor plan, entrances and exits for the huge building.

The man with the radio glanced at his watch, said a few words into the radio and then told his companions: "OK, that's it. Let's go."

They moved out quickly into the night. A scene from an old Humphrey Bogart movie perhaps? Or one of the countless dramatic dangerous missions in Europe during World War II?

Nope, This was February 27, 1968, in Gregory Gymnasium on the University of Texas campus in Austin. The men were state and local police and Secret Service agents and their mission was simply to get President Johnson inside the building and away again safely.

They did a good job. They carried out an elaborate security plan, decoying sign-carrying pickets to the south side of the building while the presidential party slipped unnoticed into a door on the north side. The strategy proved highly successful.

But the realization that it was necessary, in this land of the free and home of the brave, made me sick at my stomach. The objective was not to keep Mr. Johnson from seeing the anti-war signs which the pickets had just barely had time to check out of the University YMCA. The objective was to protect the life of the President of the United States.

Some may feel there was no real danger. How can anyone be certain, when you are dealing with people who do not have enough intelligence or judgment to take a bath?

As Mr. Johnson left Gregory Gym by a rear door, someone threw a pop bottle at his car. It could have been a Molotov Cocktail, as a matter of fact, one policeman said later that this terrifying thought flashed through his mind the instant he saw the bottle sailing through the air.

This academic freedom? Of course, it is grossly unfair for 70 or 80 rebellious social outcasts to receive enough attention to blacken the eye of nearly 30,000 other students. But it is impossible to ignore the fact that such people, supposedly merely exercising their "right to dissent," can force the President to be sneaked into back doors for an appearance on the University of Texas campus.

Frank Erwin, chairman of the university's Board of Regents, drew on of the greatest omissions of the evening at the celebration honoring Gov. John Connally when he said: "When we have reached the point where it takes 300 armed policemen to keep the President of the United States from being embarrassed on the University of Texas campus, then we should re-examine the goals of higher education."

Perhaps even the university's entrance standards should be reexamined in order to protect the welfare and reputations of the nearly 30,000 students who appear to be loyal Americans.

Perhaps, after all, there is more to education than book knowledge. Perhaps a youngster who finds it impossible to express himself in public without using four-letter words is less qualified to enter a crowded, tax-supported university than one who merely fails to make a high enough grade in algebra.

Should clean, reasonable American youngsters who want a college education be forced to attend classes with what Erwin called "a bunch of dirty nothings?"

Erwin noted that the bearded pickets "do not reflect the maturity, stability or desirability of the other 29,000."

Long after the television cameras and most of the reporters were gone, about 30 or 40 UT students underscored that point. They were still waiting outside the front door of Gregory Gym a few minutes after midnight when Connally left the party.

They had waited more than five hours to crowd around him, to sing "Happy Birthday" and get his autograph, apparently determined to let it be known that the bearded beatniks do not speak for them.

EVANT NEWS by CORNELIA KREID

Shall I just jump right into the news or write something nice first? I can say (and truthfully) that the small baby-pink plump fists are opening to catch the Monday sunshine at my east window...

I sound like I suffer with all my friends who make the news (and nearly do), but let us stop this and get back to reading this Faith Baldwin's "Living by Faith"...

Weekend guests of Mr. Vernon Wilhite included his daughter, Mrs. LaVern Greer and son of Carlstad, New Mexico. Word has been received by local kin that Claxton Parks, 2134 McClendon Street, Houston, Texas, suffered a stroke while at work February 26, in that city...

J.Y. Hamilton's ambulance went for the body of Arthur Lee Jennings, age 43, who was a victim of the Bell Helicopter accident Friday morning at Fort Hood. Services were held at Burleson, his hometown, at 10:00 a.m. Monday with grave site services at the Straley Cemetery at Adamsville at 4:00 p.m. He has relatives in the Adamsville and Lometa area and closer members of the family, including his wife and mother as survivors, but no names were available at the time of this writing...

Mr. and Mrs. C.L. White and family of Abilene, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sheldon. Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mason were their daughter, Cleta and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Irl Holt and daughter, Vernon. They were in service at Evant Methodist church, Sunday.

Wayne Parish's grandfather, Roy G. Wood, Hamilton, was buried in that city Sunday afternoon. Death has come to this family twice since last summer. Wayne lost his father, the late Wallace Parrish last summer.

Mr. J.M. Winters has entered the new Rotunda Home at Gatesville. His wife, Ethel, will be with him as much as she can.

Bill Smith and his sister, Mrs. Herman Kreid, spent Monday visiting their mother, Mrs. Willie Smith in Fort Worth. They also saw their sister, Mrs. Jim Sheffield.

Word has been received by his grandparents, the A.C. Bertrands, in the Interscholastic League prose reading. Young Miles, the son of Mr. and Mrs.

Hays Miles, formerly of Mills County, is a student in Big Lake High School. He won bi-district in the event and is due to compete in the contest to be held in Lubbock, for that section of the state. His dramatizing of one of Edgar Allen Poe's stories was the feature chosen for the contest. One might say he inherited his voice from his mother's family, but no one who knows them would ever believe it, for they can all still talk... I guess it is alright to comment on my kinfolks...

Mrs. Bessie Langford's daughters, Gladys and Clara, both spent some time in her home, and visiting with her and other relatives, last week. Mrs. Langford is still quite unchanged in general and remains in January Care Home.

Mr. Evant Brooks returned to his home, near the end of last week, from Gatesville hospital.

Johnnie Drennan, son of the Troy Drennans suffered an accident while working with livestock and had to have some stitches as well as remain out of school and in Hamilton County General Hospital.

Of interest to all of the Evant community should be the project for youth that is being set up with the Methodist youth as leaders. The sandwich supper, set to begin at 5:00 in the evening of March 14 and run until 7:00 at which time the revival service for that night begins, is the initial step to finance the project. To purchase some recreation material which may include volley ball and table tennis is the present outlook. To attract youth for good "home spun" entertainment is the object of it all. Anyone interested in aiding in any way, may call Mrs. J.L. Green, MYF leader in the Evant Methodist Church.

Mrs. Earl Price left by plane, from Dallas, last Monday to be with the family of Norris Price. She reports that her daughter-in-law, Claire, is doing as well as possibly can be expected following her accident in which both legs were broken. Rev. and Mrs. Bob Stokes took Mrs. Price to the plane.

Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. Earl Price, who is at home to care for house and chores in his wife's absence, were his son Ned and family of Mexia. Enjoying the weekend in the Glend D. Shave home at Wichita Falls were Glen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shave and his nephew, Terry Horton.

Home from Hamilton County General Hospital is Dolan Kincheloe and is reported to be doing as well as he can possibly be. He is another one who

EVANT YOUTH TO LEAD PRE-EASTER REVIVAL

The high school and college youth of the Evant Methodist Parish are leading a pre-Easter revival from March 10th through March 15th. The services will start at 7:00 p.m. at the Evant Methodist church. On Thursday night of the revival, there will be a sandwich supper from 5:00 to 7:00. Proceeds from this supper will be used for recreational material for the church.

The people of the Evant community are asked to support this youth-led revival.

deserves a real salute every time his neighbors pass by his home on farm road, between Highway 84 and Hamilton. But don't drop the salute until his wife and son, Faron have had one too; there is a family who work together like a clock, in sickness or health.

Miss Carrie Beavers Honored

Miss Carrie Beavers, retired school teacher, and familiar figure around Evant for the fourteen years she has made her home here, was honored on her eighty-fifth birthday, February 24, with a covered dish luncheon. Her neices, Mrs. Cleburne Doyle, Pearl, Mrs. Robert Newland, Mesquite and Miss Fayette Jones, Waco, were co-hostesses for the affair. Other relatives attending, included: Mr. and Mrs. Don Adams, McGregor; Mr. and Mrs. John Doyle, Pearl; Miss Mary Doyle, Pearl; Robert Newland, Mesquite; Hershel Jones, Valley Mills; and Luruel Jones, Waco. Friends who were present included Miss Gertrude Hill, Mrs. A.O. Arnold, and Mrs. Jack McGuire, Evant. Some twenty-five local friends dropped in during the afternoon with good wishes and gifts.

Miss Beavers is moving March 2, to make her home with her niece and nephew at Waco. The Laurel and Fayette Jones address is 4308 Shady Glen and they extend an invitation to their aunt's friends to call when it is convenient.

Miss Beavers has lived a colorful life, having moved with her parents, the late Guy Beavers from her birthplace, in Cherokee, to the old Missouri Cove area at age four, she has lived the remainder of her life in Coryell County. Thirty three years of school teaching was in Coryell County; some twenty-five being at the State Training School, near Gatesville. She has a record of only two years of her dedicated career being spent outside her home county. She spent two years in a one-room school above Indian Gap, Hamilton County. Several of her former students give her credit of helping them gain teaching certificates, in the days when the State Board had to issue same.

Two local ladies were former pupils of Mrs. Beavers. Mrs. Celia Culp Faubion and Mrs. Nannie Grace Edmondson McGuire both either started to school to her or attended in their grammar years. Her list of schools, now closed, included Sweet Home and Pearl. Not retiring, completely, when her school room doors were closed behind her, may account for the happy life still enjoyed by Miss Beavers. She drove her own car until a short time ago, taking her many friends with her fishing and visiting, as well as every Sunday to church. Who knows, she may be the first of the coming group who will be living to be 130, as of the late prediction.

County Agent Report

Now is the time to collect buds and graft wood for grafting and budding of pecans while still dormant, said Don Callahan, County Agriculture Agent. Select desired parent trees of known variety and those that are free of damage from obscure scale, rosette or disease. Young vigorous tree produce abundant smooth and large - size current season wood. Moderate sized pecan trees making normal growth usually have good propagation wood in their upper most limbs. Optimum budwood diameter is 3/8 to 3/4 inch and 1 inch diameter should be considered maximum. Select 1 year wood (current season) that is round and that is a mature gray or grayish-green in bark color. Avoid wood that has green tender look and flat sides. Select straight and smooth graft wood from 1 year wood that is 1/4 to 1/2 inch in diameter. Cut wood for grafts 12 to 18 inch length to give two or three graft sticks. Each graft stick should contain three buds (nodes). Tie wood into bundles. Secure each end of bundle with twine. Dip each end of the bundle into warm melted wax or paraffin to prevent excessive drying. Pack pecan bud or graft wood in moist (not wet) sphagnum moss, sawdust or shavings. Wooden boxes, crates or metal cans with tight fitting lids can be used as storage containers. Polyethylene bags made excellent containers for storing propagation wood. Store wood under cold storage conditions with a temperature range of 30 to 38 degrees F. Take graftwood directly from cold storage when the bark starts to slip on trees to be grafted and use it immediately while the bark is tight and the wood still dormant. Budwood must be seasoned so that the bark will slip. Remove the wood from the cold storage, leave in the moist media in the container, place in room temperature or above (up to 80 or 85 degrees F. 4 to 5 days or until bark will slip readily. Used this seasoned wood immediately or place back in cold storage for a short time. Douglas Atchley and Terry King of the Gatesville 4-H showed steers and breeding cattle at the Houston Livestock Show February 26 - March 2. Terry King placed a Shorthorn Heifer First in the Junior and Summer Heifer calves. Terry raised this heifer for his scabbed cow that he showed in Houston in 1965, which was Champion of the Shorthorn Scramble division. Terry also placed two shorthorn steers in the heavy weight division, 4th and 6th. Douglas Atchley scrambled at the Matinee Saturday, January 24th and caught a calf. He will purchase a registered heifer of his choice and will show her at the Houston show in 1969. The Citizen's Bank of Sealy, Texas is his sponsor. Souglas placed a heavy-weight Shorthorn steer 10th in the fat steer division. The Swine Sub-Committee will hold a Swine Field Day March 15, beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the Classroom of the National Bank Building. Pearl Musical Draws Local Talent

Pearl News

By Mrs. Lyda Cooper

The musical last Saturday was well attended. There were visitors from Hamilton, Aleman, Gatesville, King, Bee House, Evant and Adamsville. There were a number of musicians, but some fiddlers forgot their violins.

HOME DEMONSTRATION REPORT

By Grace Chandler
The woman with that fashion look also has slips that fit her figure and style of dress. You no longer can choose a basic style slip for general wear with a large number of dresses.

Mature and full figures cannot wear the same style slips as the slight or slender person wears. The full figure calls for a slip whose skirt has a gored seam in the center back for extra room, is gored in front and back, or is cut princess style. These styles have extra bodice allowance, but check this point.

For the average and slender figures, the conventional slip fits rather loosely. These slips are also made for today's close-fitting dresses by alterations of the bodices and skirts to make them fit quite snugly. Elasticized inserts in the bodice and shoulder straps are used for both fit and comfort.

Chemise slips, a new style created for shift dresses, is almost straight with a narrow skirt, shaped by darting at the bust line.

Half-slips come in many different styles, all short and scanty for the current dress fashions.

Prints, novelty fabrics and bright colors are a specialty for the younger set and often are sold in ensembles.

The most popular fabric in lingerie is nylon tricot, although polyester tricot, treated to prevent clinging, is also a considerable demand. The nylon tricot comes with many surfaces, one of the most popular being a satin finish.

Don't buy on the name alone, because there are many grades of nylon tricot. Look for a quality and weight that give you a substantial fabric which is long lasting, needs no ironing, holds its shape and drapes well in the good qualities.

Try to get nylon lace in the bodice that is reinforced with sheer nylon. In fabrics many women prefer cotton blend fabrics in slips, particularly in the warmer season. Durable press fabrics are being used now. Some cotton blend fabrics give a better hand or drape to knitted dresses than do slips of man-made fibers.

Library News

The Gatesville Public Library will have a special showing of woodcarvings by Mr. Sibyl Price, beginning today. Mr. Price, a local postman, has shown his artwork at several places, including a Dallas Art Gallery. Mr. Price states that he began his hobby in connection with his work with the Boy Scouts. He has agreed to place 15 or 20 pieces in the display at the library.

The February circulation shows an increase of 332 books checked out in comparison to February 1967. The library staff is pleased to note this indication of steady growth in the reading habits of Coryell County citizens.

New books received at the library this week are: Some Part of Myself - J. Frank Dobie; published posthumously by his wife, John O. Meusebach; German Colonizer in Texas - Irene Marshall King, Chaucer's World - Maurice Hussey, The Secret of Happiness - Billy Graham, which deals with Jesus' Teachings on Happiness as expressed in the Beatitudes, Theatre Experiment, An Anthology of Modern American Plays - Michael Benedikt, The Wagon and the Star, A Study of American Community Initiative - Margaret Mead, American Life in the 1840's - Carl Bode, The Home Book of Western Humor - edited by Phillip H. Over The GARDEN FENCE

By R B
Now, before there is so much to do in the garden, is a good time to plan the outdoor living area; patio, garden or back porch. When carefully planned any of these areas may be as useful as an extra room. Keeping your own family's likes and dislikes in mind, you can decide if it is to be a place of quiet rest, play space or used as both, at different times of the day. Furnishings may be as elaborate or simple as you wish.

An attractive terrace or patio table can be made with three large clay flower pots and a circular piece of wood. Invert the three pots and space them evenly in a tripod arrangement. Then simply place a circular piece of wood over the pots to serve as a table surface. Use redwood or a precast concrete slab.

Assemble a handy cigarette receptacle from two clay pots. Invert the first pot, then stack the second right side up. Place a three-inch bolt, backed by rubber washers, through the drainage holes to anchor the pots, then fill the top pot with sand. Add a bright coat of paint, or some of the new decals.

Careful planning for shade in the day - time (it's still not too late to plant a tree) and lighting facilities at night will be necessary to use your outdoor room to its fullest extent. The plants you add may be in beds or in pots that can be moved about for different effects. Try adding a few of the high fragrance plants, such as nicotiana, stocks or summer roses. They will be delightful as the cool air of a summer night spreads their fragrance through your garden room.

Green Thumb Tips

Prime occupation of gardeners during the winter months is the perusal of garden catalogs. There are so many possibilities among seeds and plants that a clipboard with paper attached should be alongside the catalogs to help the gardener plan before he buys.

If you didn't plant seeds of spinach last fall, and if your family likes this vegetable, plan to plant as soon as the soil is workable.

There is no need for extensive preparation. Just loosen the top few inches of soil, mark a row and drop in the seeds. When seedlings have several leaves, thin them so those left are 6 inches apart.

The reason for planting spinach early is that when days lengthen to over 13 hours of light the plants form seed stalks as soon as they come up, so there are few leaves to harvest.

Depending on the ambition (and the experience) of the gardener, the color scheme in the flower garden can be simple, with perhaps one color predominating and two others used in varying but smaller amounts, or it can be elaborate, using many colors.

The hardest color scheme to plan and carry out is one using all pastel shades. This takes an expert to execute.

Sprucing Up Bath

Add Accessories, New Fixtures

Bedecked, bejeweled, exotic and colorful, the functional and formerly neglected bathroom is fast becoming, in many homes, the most-decorated, most-displayed room of all.

Yet, despite today's renaissance of the bath, it still suffers from neglect. Census Bureau figures show that more than 100 million Americans live in homes with obsolete plumbing.

A recent survey, the Cornell report, finds that lavatories are too small, too low and too little different from the Victorian wash basin. Bathrooms are unsafe and uncomfortable, showers are cramped and accidents through slipping are easy.

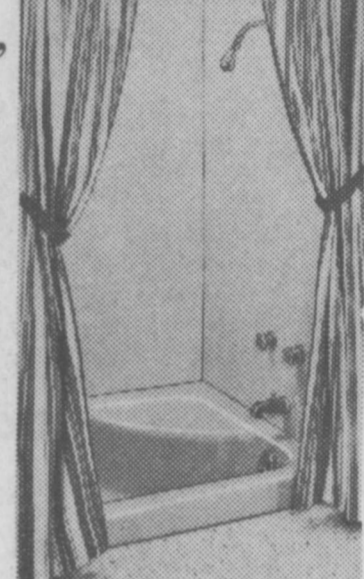

What can be done about it? Today, there are enough bathroom designs, enough accessories, enough equipment and enough materials with wide choices of colors and styles to satisfy the most demanding homemaker, says Sherie Wagner, custom designer of bathrooms.

All it needs is to lavish the same care in the selection of accessories, materials and equipment as is given to other areas of the home.

Colorful, washable vinyl paper can hide drab plaster, and attractive shower curtains and bright new towels in coordinated colors can achieve a gay atmosphere without too much economic pain.

Bathrooms can be planned to meet such common demands as: better ventilation, hair-washing facilities, more storage space, better hand-laundry facilities, a drinking fountain, more grab bars and seating space - and above all, better color and design.

Such practical improvements as controls just inside the shower to avoid getting scalded by reaching through the hot water, showers with built-in seats, hand sprays, recessed shelves and overhead lighting are some of the innovations recommended by Mr. Wagner.

There are custom cabinets to provide space for the growing number of items now used in the bathroom - cosmetics and medicines, electrical equipment such as shavers, toothbrushes, hair dryers, massage machines.

Better lighting and lavish use of mirrors can make shaving and make-up a joy instead of a chore.

Walls, floors, counters and accessories are made in materials easy to maintain, and for those who cannot afford such luxuries as marble or onyx, there are many sensible and attractive substitutes.

The choice of bathroom adornments is wide - less than 10 dollars to glamorize an electric bulb by covering it with beaded "crystal overcoat," up to hundreds of dollars for an imported crystal chandelier.

Tips Tell How To Modernize

Is a bathroom remodeling project on the agenda? Here are some tips.

1. In addition to the conventional three fixtures of tub, lavatory and water closet, more and more bathrooms are including bidets. This personal hygiene device, pronounced "bee-day," is installed next to the water closet.

For more information, write Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers Association, 1145 19th Street, N. W., Washington, D.C. 20036 and ask for free bidet flyer.

2. Top-quality bathroom fixtures are stain- and acid-resistant, easier to keep clean, maintain luster longer. For information on how to recognize quality, the Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers Association (address above) has a free flyer entitled, "What You Should Know about Plumbing Fixtures for Your Home."

3. Don't have space for a bathroom? Investigate the possibilities of a compact powder room. Most older homes have such space in a closet, under a stairwell or at the end of a hall.

A powder room can be installed in a space as little as four-by-five feet, says the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau.

Vanity Answers

Rush-Hour Need

In most families, one of the chief causes of morning bickering and getting the day off to a wrong start is competition for the bathroom.

For those who aren't in a position to add one or more bathrooms in the immediate future, answer to morning and evening rush-hour problems can be a source of water in the bedroom, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau.

Instead of the china bowl and pitcher of yesteryear, today's convenience is a handsome vanity lavatory with hot and cold running water. The complete unit consists of one, or preferably two, lavatory bowls sunk into a generous counter-top, with the whole mounted on a cabinet that provides storage space.

The vanities come in all decorator styles, so they can harmonize with the rest of the bedroom furniture—early American, French provincial, modern Swedish or whatever.

Colored lavatory bowls can add a bold splash of color where desired.

Looking for Kitchen, He Sets Remodeling Record

Since better living through remodeling is essentially an American trend, Robert E. Todd of the Netherlands flew to Dallas, Tex., to plan "the best kitchen money could buy" for his wife's 25th wedding anniversary present—perhaps a long-distance remodeling record.

All wall and floor tile was replaced, a doorway was closed, and new cabinetry and wallpaper were ordered in this project. New appliances in the luxury kitchen included a gas broiler, refrigerator/freezer combination, two gas ovens, ice maker, two sinks, gas water heater and automatic dishwasher.

Since Todd rents his home, modernity and convenience were motivating factors in specifying this remodeling job. The American Gas Association, Inc. (A.G.A.) points out two other advantages of remodeling—higher property values and increased ease of sale.

Federal Housing Administration offices now give full appraisal value to a built-in range on mortgages, for instance, and most districts include drop-in or slide-in ranges, too. Built-in ovens, range hoods and dishwashers receive a universal acceptance by FHA, and central air conditioning is taken into account in 75 of 76 offices.

According to FHA and Department of Commerce statistics, the percentage of single-family homes sold with appliance "packages" included in the sale price increases every year. Soon, homes without such necessities will be regarded as outmoded.

In addition to kitchen remodeling, other popular home improvement ideas include patios, extra bedrooms and bathrooms, and furnished basements or play-rooms.

For a deluxe remodeling project, A.G.A. suggests that an architect's creative ability and supervision of the job may be a good investment in the long run. Home improvement ideas also may be obtained from home magazines and utility home service departments.

TO BRIGHTEN kitchen counters is new vinyl countertopping. The vinyl is easy to cut and fit, provides color, texture. "Evergreen" Countertopping by Goodyear.

Why Is America Misunderstood?

By Jeanette Davidson

The United States has always been under close examination that magnifies both its weaknesses and its strengths. The world has seldom known a people so friendly and compassionate, so warmhearted and eager to be understood as the American people. American magazines and movies, goods and industries, technicians and educators, students and tourists cover the earth. One cannot find a daily newspaper in any language without some news of the United States.

Yet our nation is so misunderstood, its true aims so misinterpreted. Why?

One is our own self-criticism. We really contradict ourselves because the ordinary American is prouder of his country than of any other nation. Yet U.S. newspapers, magazines and other news media publicize the worst and play down the good in our culture. The catastrophes such as wars, racial riots, the use of drugs and juvenile delinquency are discussed in depth. These become universal topics and universally accepted pictures of American life and attitudes.

Much of the world knows the United States only through what goes on in its back alleys, bars and divorce courts. While the true inner glow of its life remains untransmitted, the tender care given its children, the millions of volunteers giving freely of their spare time to community welfare, the lights that glow at night in high schools where adult citizens apply themselves to cultural betterment, the crowded churches and Sunday schools, the community supported concerts, museums and town libraries - these remain largely unknown.

Another cause of misunderstanding is that we are not sensitive to other people's pride of country and culture. So frank in displaying our own faults, we don't realize how touchy other nations are about theirs. Any U.S. press reports about a foreign country so unflattering, foreigners react with emotional resentment. It is not so much political criticism that has this effect (that is expected and, indeed, often welcomed) as the reports of a nation's culture, religion, differences in dress, food, speech, behavior.

But perhaps the basic cause of America's being misunderstood comes from the very concepts and success of the American Dream. Ever since its foundation, the United States has occupied a special position in the minds of the world. As a result America has always been subjected to close examination.

All people expect something from fabulous America: Political support, economic aid, or just sympathetic appreciation of their newly won international personality. So varied are these great expectations that America is sure to be blamed regardless of how she acts. That is the cross that must be borne by a nation which is looked to as the giver of international morality, prosperity and peace. Understanding that, Americans might take the world's criticism with less puzzlement.

Art Students Display Work

On display in the front hall are several art students' contribution to the world of culture. Abstract and still life paintings are shown here in great detail by such outstanding artists as Larry Russell, Anita Williams, Corliss Worthy and Steve Palmer. Other significant paintings are on display in Mrs. S.L. Adams' classroom.

Numerous other diligent painters are Harold Brown, Anita Baize, Cindy Blackman, Donita Webb and Carolyn Hill. Their contributions and those of others complete the display.

GHS Newettes

GHS acquired a new freshman, Jerry Bailey, from Talihna, Oklahoma.

The GHS Stage Band attended the Annual Brownwood Stage Band Jazz festival last Friday and Saturday. The GHS band did not place, but they received many words of praise. Mr. Lamkin, GHS band director, said that the band made a particularly good showing considering they only began work on their jazz program after the recent conclusion of the Band Follies.

Thirty members of the GHS Band will attend the Solo and Ensemble Contest to be held at Cisco Junior College this Saturday, March 9.

Report cards for the fourth six weeks were passed out on Wednesday, March 6.

uncle charlie.

Dear Uncle Charlie:

Have I been disillusioned? I was told that you are making up your own letters. Are you?

A Very Worried Chemistry Student

Dear Uncle Charlie: It is good to know that you have an inquisitive mind. This type of thinking will go far in your science study. I receive approximately 7 letters each week in the Uncle Charlie Box. One of the 7 is usually illegible. One of the 7 usually makes no sense at all. One of the 7 is so sarcastic, I can't print it. The remaining four are answered each week in my column. Occasionally, when the letter supply is low or unfavorable, I must as you say, "make up a letter". However, most of the letters which you read are the products of your fellow GHS students.

Dear Uncle Charlie:

Everytime I date my boyfriend, he talks constantly about another girl. He tells me how much fun she is to be with. Is he trying to tell me that he doesn't like me any more?

Unloved and Mistreated

Dear Uncle Charlie: It sounds that way to me. When boys start telling you about other girls, you might as well start looking for greener pastures.

Dear Uncle Charlie:

When we are alone, my boyfriend is a living doll. However, when we meet at school or in a crowd, he acts as if he doesn't even know me. My friends don't think that he likes me because of the way he acts around me when they are around. I know that he really likes me, but I want my friends to know it too.

Dear Sensitive:

If you know that he likes you, what difference does it make if your so called friends doubt it? It sounds as though he is just a little shy. Be glad that he dates you at all.

By Congressman Bob Poage

The tempo of the session has been picking up. The House as well as the committees have been holding quite full sessions. Thursday, the 29th, the House passed an extension of several excise taxes. I have never believed that these excise taxes were the best way to raise money, but I do recognize that we cannot at this time eliminate any of the sources of revenue on which we have been relying. As I see it, we simply must balance our budget.

The President's message on Agriculture is encouraging in that he shows that he has an awareness of the problems and indicates a determination to make several of our programs like the Farmers Home, more effective.

The Agriculture Committee has been holding daily hearings on the extension of Public Law 480. This is the program under which we sell Agriculture commodities to foreign countries for local currency. I have thought this was basically a good program, but I had hoped that it might be strengthened. For instance, it seems to me that at least some of these countries could agree to let us use all or part of the currency we get to buy goods in their markets. I think that we can get a good bill but I think that it must involve something more than a simple extension. We need to improve the existing law.

There is a surprising interest developing in Washington in regard to the ability of the world to feed itself in the years to come. I think this interest is all to the good. I do not agree with many of the speakers and writers who seem to feel that the world is certain to starve to death within the next generation or so. As I have pointed out many times, I think that we can produce enough food if we can use modern techniques - and we can and will use these techniques if farmers can get enough for what they grow to pay the cost. Americans do not refuse to pay industrial workers enough to assure them a good living. We do not deny business an opportunity to make a reasonable profit and I don't believe that our people would, if they understood the situation, deny the farmers a fair or "parity" price, but we have got to have this understanding on the part of city people before we can make any program work. That is why I am going to Memphis tonight to speak to the Southern Farm Forum to the Southern Farm Forum on March 1. I am going to keep trying to get city people to understand.

This week marks the 50th anniversary of the first interscholastic basketball games, under the auspices of the Interscholastic League. The Interscholastic League was organized by the University of Texas in the year 1911. Previous to that time track was the only interscholastic sport featured. Basketball was only played at a district level.

In the year 1918, GHS had a very strong basketball team. Because of this, an official of the Interscholastic League at the University of Texas called the school and asked if the basketball team would like to play some inter-sectional games. The GHS team then met the winners of the Austin district in Killeen. The arrangements for this and all of the games were made by the University of Texas. The University officials chose the playing sights and furnished the officials for the games. The Gatesville boys defeated the winners of the Austin tournament also. The Austin district had previously defeated the winners in the San Antonio and Houston districts. This win was important to the Gatesville team as their first step to the state basketball tournaments.

At first state tournament, in 1921, Gatesville was a contestant. Gatesville was ranked third in state after they were defeated by Central High School of Houston in the state semi-finals.

The 1921 team was composed of seven members. They were Earl Walker and Leander Guggolz, forwards; Holland Holmes and Lewellyn Walker, guards; Linsey Oldham center; and Lewis Nueman and R.L. Bates, substitutes. Gatesville's Mrs. Minnie Mears, now almost eighty, was the boy's basketball coach at this time. Mrs. Mears coached the boy's basketball team for five years and only lost two games during this time. One of the games lost was in the state semi-finals. Mrs. Mears became the boys' basketball coach after the team presented her with a petition asking her to do so. Previous to that time, she had been the girls' basketball coach, but the boys' didn't have anyone who knew much about basketball to coach them. It seems that the petition was a pretty good idea.

Mrs. Mears graduated from GHS as valedictorian of her class. After her graduation, she attended the University of Texas, where she kept up her good grades and played basketball. She taught in the Gatesville school system from 1910 until 1925.

Dolores Snider Scores Two for Eaglettes

In a Tuesday night nerve-racking bi-district clash in the Meridian High School gymnasium, the Toler girls managed to keep their early game lead through a barrage of attacks from a "tuff" Jonesboro Eaglette Squad.

Several times in the final minutes of the exciting contest, the Eaglettes came within three points of the fast Toler squad.

mental lead of 15 points over the Eaglettes.

But the Jonesboro squad did not give up fighting. During the 2nd quarter of play, the Eaglettes closed the 15 point gap and the first half ended with the score 19-26 in favor of Toler.

The second half was more nerve-racking than the first. The Jonesboro girls kept narrowing the gap in the score until they trailed by only 2 points. The 3rd quarter score left 32-34 with the Toler squad holding a narrow 2 point lead.

High point scorer for the game was Sandra Neeley, #20, of the Toler squad. Neeley scored an amazing 32 total points.

High scorer for the Jonesboro Eaglettes was Judy King, with a total of 18 points. The team standings were:

The Jonesboro Chapter of the Future Farmers of America Club recently traveled to the Houston Fat Stock Show, held February 26th through March 3, in Houston.

Hornettes Meet Carthage Tonite In Athens

The Hornettes have a regional opponent. Yes, after three weeks of waiting since the end of the district championship, the Hornettes have a goal, opponent and an opportunity.

The Hornettes, coached by Gerald Poe, will travel to Athens, Texas, tonight to do battle with the Carthage girls. The contest will take place in the Henderson Junior College gymnasium, starting at 7:30. The Carthage girls have a 27-6 record for the season.

Scouting reports on the Carthage team are not available because of the distant from Gatesville. The only information available is that they can score 57 points in a bi-district game.

The Hornettes have had an ideal set up this season with a two team district. Coach Poe is mildly surprised with his young team and the performance this season.

The season record for the Hornettes is 19 wins and 15 losses. Coach Poe points out that the Hornettes have a 15-6 record since January 1. The girls have improved steadily this year despite some up and down times.

Poe explains that the sophomores and inexperienced Hornettes are good players, but inexperience and youth causes the erratic play.

The Hornettes have gone through a long three week waiting period for this game and have played several disappointing practice games.

Monday night, the Hornettes met the Copperas Cove, bi-district champion, Bulldogs. Both squads played below standard ball, but the Cove girls were able to call it a victory, point wise, with 36 to 33 final score.

The Hornette-Cove game was close through the first half with both teams only scoring 15 points each.

The game was won in the third period when the Cove girls outscored the Hornettes, 11 to 6. The 5 point margin was more than enough to clinch a victory in the low scoring contest.

For Copperas Cove, the offense consisted of one girl, Carole Dewald, who score all but three of the 36 points.

The Hornettes scoring was distributed more evenly with:

LAW PLAYS BASKETBALL

... Athletes

During Tuesday's practice session, Norman Storm shoots with Bubba Henson, Wallace Plenti, Bob Salter, Albert Dickie, Rip Cummings and Fabian Klecka awaiting their chance.

In a secret practice session, Tuesday night, the law officers of the area began and finished preparation for next Tuesday's night's basketball game with Explorer Post 174.

The athletes worked on free throws much of the time. Everyone made at least one shot during the session, I think. Star performer for the officers will be that of ex-Oglesby High School star, J. K. Hamilton. The officers will probably score a point during the game Tuesday night and J.K. is a likely candidate for the honor. The officers scrimaged Tuesday night with one rule prevailing, if you could talk the men you were guarding into taking 10 minutes out, it was okay.

Strategy for Tuesday night's game will be simple, "Walk, don't Run". The explorers will try to run and shoot and they will find running and shooting will get old in a hurry.

It is time for a prediction and all indications are that the officers have the edge, 8 points. (That should put some fire into Ye Ole Scouts).

WORLDS TO EXPLORE"
MARCH 10 TO 16 IS

GIRL SCOUT WEEK

The first Girl Scouts pledged themselves to a way of life based on honor, integrity, courtesy and service.

Today's Girl Scouts make the same promise. Their basic values and skills are as solid as they have always been.

What's new are the broader horizons and the new worlds of adventure that Scouting offers. This is described in the theme: "Girl Scouting: Values to Hold — Worlds to Explore."

New Rangematic Distance Finder

Would you like to sight your rifle on game up to 500 yards away and know instantly how high to hold to bring it down? Or perhaps you'd like to locate the exact spot in your favorite lake where you caught all those fish last summer.

You can do these things and much more with a new, portable ranging instrument, called the Rangematic Distance Finder, which accurately measures and automatically translates distances up to 500 yards into almost any kind of useful information.

The Rangematic gives direct reference to bullet trajectories, telling hunters how high to aim at targets or game. The hunter in this photo was instructed by his Rangematic to hold high by 6 inches and he brought down the ram from 315 yards. His cartridge was a 307 Weatherby Magnum. Ranging, Inc. of Rochester, New York has translated trajectories for every type of commercially available bullet into direct reading. DisTran scales showing inches of drop within killing distances up to 500 yards.

In boating and yachting, the Rangematic is excellent for chart checking, course plotting, race start position plotting and accurately determining miles per hour.

The instrument consists of an exceptionally accurate coincidence-type rangefinder and a 6x18 power scope, plus highly unusual distance translation. The power scope is detachable for separate pocket use for game seeking, target examination, bird watching and all spectator sports.
