

State ASCS Committee Holds Meeting Here

... Committees

The State and County ASCS Committees meet this Tuesday and Wednesday as part of the regular meetings held by the State Committee.

R.B. Price Receives Water Citation

An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to R.B. Price, Manager of the Evant Water Company. The citation is reflective of the high esteem in which Price is held by state water officials. Signed by the State Health Commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water Utilities Association, the certificate of competency is awarded to only those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed an examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers. State law requires that at least one operator per shift be certified for competency by health department engineers, but many operators seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to increase their efficiency as key public servants to their community and state. The engineers said the attainment is evidence of Price's efforts to better prepare himself for the duties of his profession.

Sheep Industry

Symposium Held

The National Sheep Industry Symposium was held for two days at the Holiday Inn in Waco, April 18-19. The program was sponsored by the Sheep Industry Development Program in Cooperation with the Federal Extension Service, Land Grant Universities and American Sheep Producers Council. Genetics and Sheep Specialist representing the United States and Canada participated on the program. Some of those participating on the program were Dr. G.E. Bradford, Associate Professor, Animal Genetics, University of California, Davis, California; Dr. George A. Allen, Jr., Extension Livestock Specialist, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Virginia and James A. Gray, Extension Animal Husbandman, Texas A & M University, San Angelo, Texas. The purpose of the two day symposium was to decide on objectives and goals to work on a National Basis in research to improve the Sheep Industry. Those attending the meeting from Coryell County were Bob Melbern, a member of the Board of Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association and Don Callahan, County Agriculture Agent.

C of C President Appoints 1968-69 Committees

Sterling Campbell, Chamber of Commerce President, has appointed the Committee Chairmen for the year 1968-69.

The 11 committee arrangements are as follows: Agriculture, James Dixon, B.E. Chambers; Civic Development, Vance Sellers, Bob Miller; Membership, G.E. Clarke, Johnny Jones; Retail-Wholesale, Bob Edwards, Howard Franks, Gene Arnold, Dale White; Public Relations, Ollie Little, Dr. E.E. Lowrey; Tourism, Floyd Murray, Sam J. Powell; Military Affairs, Erle Powell, Norman Storm; Industrial, W.D. Cooper, Bob Sater; Budget and Finance, Floyd Zeitler, Sidney Pruitt; Transportation, Louis Bone, and Legislative, H.A. Biffle, Dr. Wm. Floyd.

The committees will begin organizational meetings within the next week or two and begin work in special areas.

Mr. Campbell asked the committees to propose a budget for the coming year. In other Chamber discussion, Chamber of Commerce President Campbell raised a discussion on promoting a "face lifting" of business fronts of the city. Suggestions were made to award businessmen for their improvement projects.

An improvement of a business enhances the value of that business and adds to the Community as a whole.

The directors gave approval during discussion for the construction of signs to advertise Gatesville. The signs can be made of permanent materials at cost by Anchor Plastic with other materials donated and contributed at cost. James Dixon offered the project brick to beautify the support structure of the signs. Locations for the signs will be finalized at a later meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber will begin work on a new brochure to present to people interested in Gatesville.

Wheat Farmers Notice

Clois Stone reported Thursday that farmers signed up for the 1968 Wheat program must revert acreage planted to the County office before May 1st.

City Completes Projects and Starts Waterline

The City of Gatesville completed work on sewer lines to service the new Masonic Lodge building to be built across from the Elementary School on Main Street.

City Manager, Eiland Lovejoy reported Thursday that pipe for the water line to service the area along Golf Course Road is being received at the job site with work to begin soon after materials are available. The new well is being fitted with an 800 gallon per minute pump by the Smith Pump Company. Actual installation of the electrical system to be installed in the next ten days to two weeks.

The City is working to renovate the old swimming pool for another season of hot weather. The bath house will be remodeled. City Manager, Eiland Lovejoy reported that no opening date had been set as yet.

Evant FHA Attends Austin Conference

Attending the State FHA Conference in Austin, April 18-20, were Patsy Rogers and Judy Vise. There were accompanied by Mrs. Julia Hostetter, Evant Homemaking teacher.

While in Austin, they stayed at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel. They visited the State Capitol and other places of interest.

The Conference was held in the spacious municipal auditorium. Evant FHA's, along with 6,500 other FHA's were able to observe and help promote the FHA Program of work on state level. We felt the most interesting part of the program was hearing the address "FHA, An Image of You" by Pierce Marris Allman, Executive Director of the Southern Methodist University Alumni Association. He challenged the FHA's to live that kind of life which is useful and worthwhile, presenting an image of which each of us would be proud.

District Court In Session Wednesday April 24

The 52nd District Court convened April 24th to try several cases.

In the Dennis Lakins case, Lakins pleaded guilty and was assessed a ten-year probated sentence.

A jury trial developed in the State vs Tommy Kenneth Shirey. Jury selection was completed before dinner, Wednesday, with evidence heard beginning at 1:00 p.m., Wednesday. Thursday morning at 9:33 the jury retired and reached a verdict only six minutes later.

Shirey was found guilty of DWI, second offense, by the jury and the court assessed punishment at one year in Coryell County Jail, but reduced to two years probation, fined $300 and court cost.

Thursday afternoon, the 1:00 o'clock jury panel was in session for other court action.

League Opener Set for May 17 at Lion Park

The Lions baseball program will officially begin Friday, May 17th with a small ceremony and Mayor Bob Miller tossing in the first ball.

The program will consist of 18 teams including a senior team, coached by Billy Vaden. Baseball commissioner, Jim Miller reported Thursday that this year's admission at the gate would be 25¢ for students and 50¢ for adults.

Miller pointed out that season tickets were available at Jim Miller Army Store and from Carroll Wiegand, ticket manager. Cost of the season tickets are $5.00 and it is good for all members of a family.

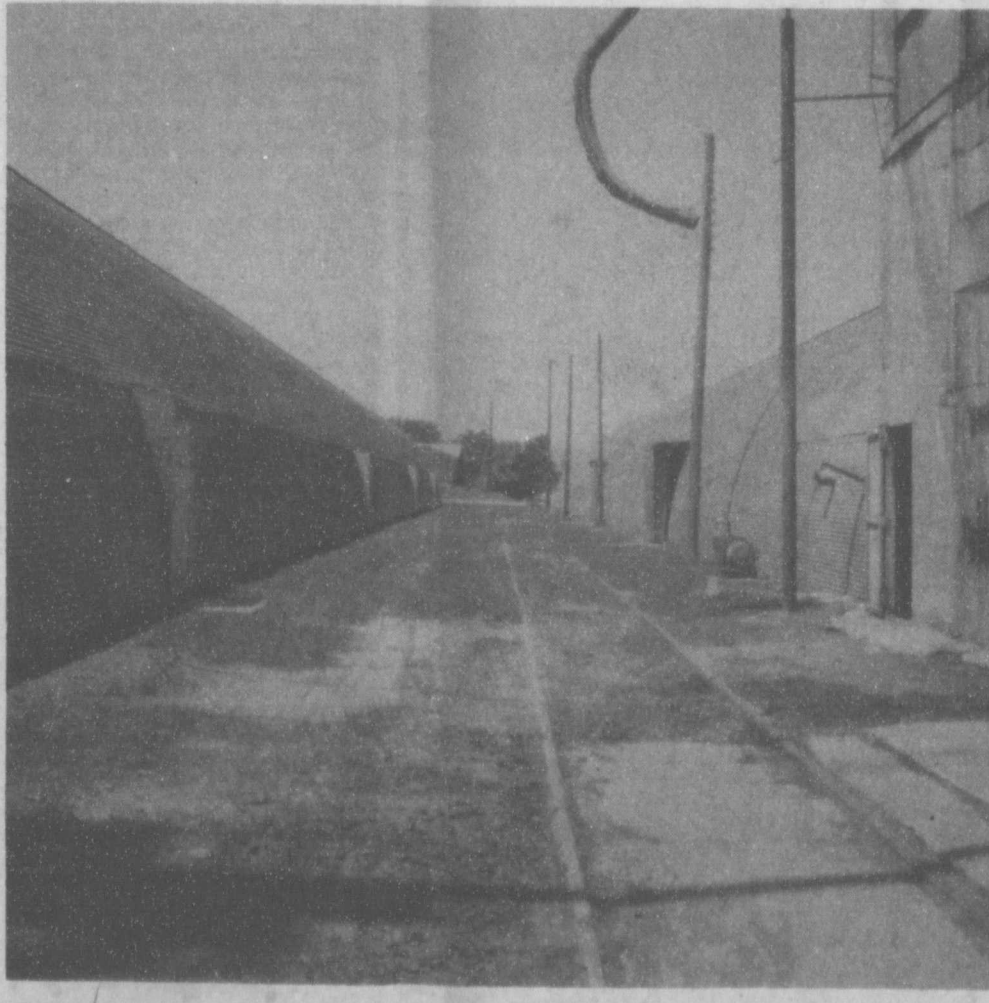

Railroad Hearing Rescheduled May 2

The Texas Railroad Commission notified the local Chamber of Commerce this week that the hearing scheduled for Austin, the second week in May will be rescheduled in Gatesville, May 2nd at the Coryell County Courtroom at 10:00 a.m. The Chamber of Commerce has attempted to get the railroad users to write letters explaining the need for the present facility.

At Thursday's Chamber Directors' meeting, President of the Chamber, Sterling Campbell, asked directors to personally contact business firms effected by the railroad concerning these letters. The May 2 hearing will be conducted by the Texas Railroad Commission and will rule after hearing evidence for and against the removal of the local agent.

The Chamber Directors expressed the feeling that removal of the agent would be the prelude to removing track to Gatesville.

It was pointed out during the chamber meeting that two past cases ruled on by the Commission have been split, with one upholding the railroad's desire to discontinue service and one overruling the railroad's intention.

Will this be the end of the line for the Cotton Belt in the future? Presently, the line ends at the Co-op, but hearings are scheduled for May 2nd at the Coryell County Courtroom at 10:00 a.m. concerning a non-agency situation.

Cove Election Judge Resigns Position

Mr. T.S. Donovan of Copperas Cove has resigned his post as Election Judge, Precinct #21, the Cove box, following the January local option election.

The local option election was called to consider the sale of alcoholic beverages in Copperas Cove.

Mr. Donovan filed the following letter with County Judge Norman Storm, County Commissioners and the area newspapers.

Gentlemen: This letter is to advise you that I am tendering my resignation as Election Judge of Precinct #21, Copperas Cove, Texas, and I will not be available at future elections. I am also resigning my position as Chairman of the Democratic Precinct #21 of Coryell County.

I have made this decision after careful thought and pensive meditation. I consider it an insult and a direct affront to me that I was appointed to "Poll Watchers" (more accurately described as Zealot Dry Campaigners) in the January local option election which we had on the "sale of alcoholic beverages" in Copperas Cove.

I do not know whether they were questioning my veracity and integrity by the appointment of these Prophets of Fire and Brimstone and Eternal Damnation or simply bending like a willow in the wind to the dictates of our Mayor and some other elective and appointed city officials. Perhaps this action was motivated simply by political expediency or by bending to the dictates of a special interest group.

My record will show that I have devoted several years of service to our community as election judge, and never before had my character been questioned and never before have I ever seen persons, who were so called "Poll Watchers" engage in open solicitation of voting a certain way (dry) on the issue at hand within the voting place itself. I had to call one of the so-called poll watchers down to me and threaten to put him out for trying to watch and tell voters how to vote. I think this letter expresses the opinion of most, if not all, the clerks that helped me hold the election.

I am releasing copies of this letter to the press with my authorization to print it since this is an official action of a governmental body which is complained of and which should be a matter of interest and concern to all voters.

Very truly yours,
/s/ F.G. Donovan

Election Law Seminar

Scheduled April 29

Charles Powell, Coryell County Democratic Chairman, announced Wednesday that an Election Law Seminar will be held Monday night, April 29, at 7:30 in the Coryell County Courtroom.

All 23 election judges are asked to attend and invite any election clerks to attend if desired.

Powell will be in charge of the seminar - type discussion and will answer questions concerning the new legislation affecting elections.

County Clerk, Bubba Henson, and Mr. Powell attended the Hamilton County Seminar, Tuesday night.

Four Radios Installed In County

Equipment

County Judge, Norman Storm reported Wednesday that the county had received shipment on four new General Electric radio transmitters - receivers from Waco Communications, Inc.

The radios will be installed in four of the county's fire trucks in the near future.

Judge Storm said "the radios cost a total of $2540 and will allow the trucks to be in contact with area emergency stations, police and highway patrol personnel at all times."

The four trucks are stationed in Copperas Cove, Oglesby and Evant and Gatesville.

Fireman to Feed National Guard Unit

The Gatesville Volunteer Fire Department announced this week plans to feed the 113th Light Maintenance Guardsmen, a Ham, baked beans, potato salad lunch at the City Fire Station at 5:00, Saturday, April 27.

Fire Department President, Jack Lipsey reported that final plans depended on the National Guard and when the unit would be off duty Saturday.

Lipsey expects approximately 100 of the guardsmen will be on hand for the meal and a short talk by Gatesville Mayor, Bob Miller.

The unit has planned for other social activities Saturday, in addition to the Firemen's feast.

County 4-H'ers Receive Sears Gilts

The Coryell County 4-H Sears pigs were awarded Monday, April 22. 4-H'ers receiving gilts were Douglas Freeman of the Pearl 4-H, Lawrence Pruett of Jonesboro 4-H, Audrey Barker of Copperas Cove 4-H, Robey Snider and Richard Moore of the Gatesville 4-H.

These boys and girls returning gilts to the program was Charlene Chambers and David Holden of the Jonesboro 4-H, Donald Pruitt, Mark Williamson and Richard Moore of the Gatesville 4-H. The Sears Management Program was judged by Don Decker, County Agricultural Agent of Bell County. The Management Program is judged on pigs weaned per litter, weight per litter, feeding and management of gilts and sanitation program.

Charlene Chambers placed first in the Sears Management Program. Mark Williamson second place and Richard Moore won third place.

Rickey Chamber of the Jonesboro 4-H was awarded the Sears Male to be used in the 1968-69 program.

W.J. Hoggett, 47, of Gatesville, died in a Temple hospital, Tuesday, after a long illness. Funeral services with full military honors will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in Hemeline Cemetery. Mr. Hoggett was a truck operator in the Central Texas area. He was a veteran of World War II. Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Hoggett; a daughter, Mrs. R.E. Spatzer of Copperas Cove; three sons, Jerry Ray Hoggett, Donald J. Hoggett and Kenneth Dale Hoggett, all of Gatesville; a brother, Oliver Hoggett of Gatesville and three grandchildren.

While only a tiny percentage of the cars sold in the United States this year will be equipped with safety-styled head restraints, things will look different next year when they become required on the front seats of every new car. A preview of the 1969 look is shown in this year's Volkswagen passenger cars which feature built-in head restraints as standard equipment. Also standard are convenient lap-and-shoulder safety belts which can be easily fastened with one hand.

Outstanding Homemakers Of 1968 Announced

Five Texas homemakers are being honored for achievement in conservation in the home and on the farm.

Mrs. Fred Henry McCabe, Jr., Coke County farm wife and mother of three, has been named state Conservation Homemaker of the Year for 1968. Regional winners are: Mrs. John M. Lockhart from Stephens County; Mrs. Bill Sherman from Floyd County; Mrs. Frank Brnovak from Merkel; Mrs. Donald Betts from Cass County and Mrs. Harold Ahrens from Atascosa County. They were chosen from top conservation candidates by a panel of conservation and home economics specialists. The annual event is sponsored by the Fort Worth Press in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Soil and Water Conservation District and other groups.

State winner, Mrs. McCabe, with her husband and three children live on a ranch on Divide Route, Robert Lee, where they at the Gatesville State School for Boys.

I am a member of the Baptist Church and my wife is a member of the East Main Church of Christ. If elected, I will consider it my duty to serve each and every one of you - the citizens of Coryell County - to the best of my ability. The tax office will stay open at all times. Sincerely, Holice Barton raise sheep, cattle and cotton. They follow good conservation practices on their ranch and in the home, believing they are "a very natural part of our lives. The practices have improved the appearance of our land as well as our income," she said. Since moving onto their wheat and livestock farm in 1961, the Lockharts and their two children have rebuilt a home and refaced the entire grounds using management and conservation practices.

"We have developed a sense of pride as we have seen an abused land become productive," said Mrs. Lockhart, a substitute teacher in Brackenridge. The Shermans and their five children practice conservation on their diversified farm with fertilization, brush and weed control and crop management; and at home with household budget and planning.

Mrs. Sherman believes people must not abuse natural resources and feels she has an excellent environment in which to raise her children. Home improvements, restocking ponds, wildlife conservation, terracing and drainage and brush control are some of the practices on the Brnovak's farm in Mulberry Canyon. They raise cattle, sheep, small grain and cotton.

Conservation of time and energy is a must for their family of four, says Mrs. Brnovak. Mrs. Betts believes good management must begin with the best possible soil conservation plan. Her active family of five children practice conservation in their home and on their Seven B. Ranch near Naples where they raise cattle and hay. In the Black Hill Community near Floresville, the Ahrens family follow good farm management practices. One of their goals is to make their farm a place to be proud of and one which provides a good living.

With their time, energy and soil conservation practices they have repaired and rebuilt their farm.

Relief For New Car Warranty Headaches

RACINE, WIS. — Mounting problems of car owners with the new car warranty offered by most auto manufacturers is met headon in a broad new program unveiled by a leading producer of automotive parts based here. Called "Qualified Service Center," the new plan is carried out by service stations and independent garages.

New car dealerships have found themselves inundated in the last five years with new car warranty service as a result of expanded warranties coupled with record new car sales. Estimates are that many of these dealers are unable to service a large percentage of the warranty protected cars they sell.

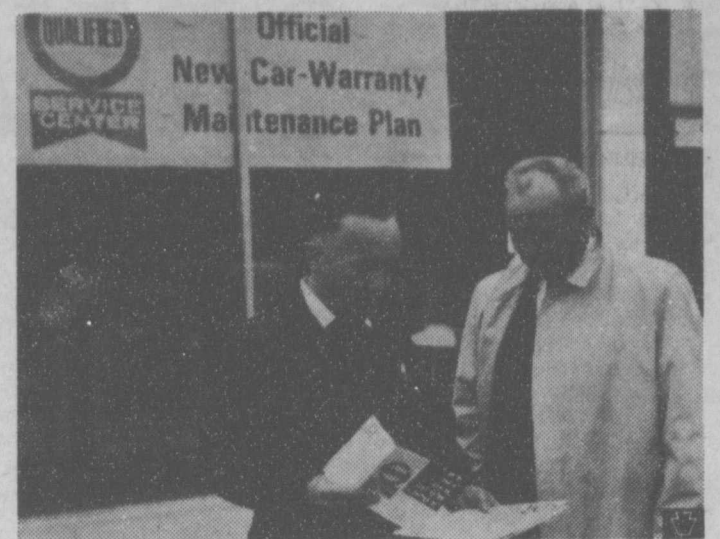

With over 80,000,000 automobiles on the U.S. roads, about 20 million are under some type of warranty. Predictions of 102 million motor vehicles by 1970 and 122 million five years later, and an annual forecast of 10,000,000 annual new cars, the problem continues to mount.

Individual owners must meet three specific requirements to keep the new car warranties in effect: Work must be done to the manufacturer's specifications, work must be performed at intervals stated in the warranty agreement, and car owner must show proof maintenance work was done as specified and at proper intervals.

Warranties do not obligate owners to return for service to the dealer from whom they purchased the car. Studies show the warranties are a nuisance to many, often misunderstood and frequently voided through carelessness or confusion.

The program, field tested for two years and now introduced by Walker Manufacturing, was oriented to service stations and garages because it "embodies the same type of good service they traditionally provided before regular warranty maintenance became so vital."

Key to the program is the QSC personal service record book, one for each new car owner participating. This record includes specifications that must be done and when, plus a schedule of maintenance service, starting with the current mileage. This amounts to automatic warranty protection with a complete list of all work performed. A copy of every order is on file in the event proof of service is needed.

Important additions to the individual record service book for each car are banners and signs for the dealer, brochures for customers, door stickers that tell not when the car was serviced last, but when it should be serviced next. Follow-up postcards remind the car owner when his car should be brought in for a checkup.

Tests show the QSC program is habit forming and the personal service record keeps the car owner coming back to the QSC dealer regularly. QSC is part of a well-planned program — a complete and accurate system of maintenance covering the three rules of warranty — factory specifications, stated intervals, and proof of work done.

Service station owners in the test program reported substantially increasing gross profit, increase of oil sales during a national decrease trend and TBA sales gross profit, besides doubling service dollar receipts.

Washington Views and News

You may have followed the work of our Special Trade Mission to Japan. I hope you have. I feel that this mission, of which I was a part, to Japan and to the Republic of China, (Taiwan) was very well received and was quite productive. These people in Japan and the Republic of China are increasing their buying power by leaps and bounds, and they are doing much of their trading with us. A few years ago, both of these countries were receiving aid from the United States. This aid has now been terminated. Today, both of these countries are buying most of their food and fiber from the United States. Japan, with 110 million people, bought almost a billion dollars' worth of American agricultural products last year.

would set up new trade barriers and second, they want to be assured if they concentrate their purchases in the United States that they can be certain we will always have an adequate and dependable supply. Secretary Freeman and I both assured them that we realized the dangers of a return to the type of high tariffs and trade barriers which we enacted just prior to the Great Depression and that we each felt that the United States can and will be a dependable source of supply for agricultural products throughout the foreseeable future. I think that the personal assurance of the Secretary of Agriculture and of the Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee had a very reassuring effect and will make it easier for our people to do business in these rapidly growing markets.

The gross national product (productivity) of the Republic of China has increased at a rate of more than ten percent annually for the last ten years. This means that their standard of living and their buying power is rapidly increasing. Neither Japan nor China can produce much more food or fiber. While they do a splendid job of intensive cultivation, they simply don't have the land for any sizeable expansion. We should supply most of their needs and we should get dollars for what we sell. We were asked "if these Far Eastern markets are so good, why waste anytime cultivating them." This seems to me to be like asking a merchant why he should pay any attention to his best customers. We want them to continue to be good customers. We think that a little attention will pay big dividends. The Oriental people place a great deal of importance on recognition, particularly recognition from a country as powerful as the United States. I think it was very helpful for them to know that high officials of the United States value their trade enough to come to Japan and say "thank you". I think it was also important for us to hear their complaints and we made it a point to give them numerous opportunities to discuss these features of American trade which they do not like. In addition to many specific items, there are two general sources of reluctance on the part of both the Japanese and the Chinese to tie their trade any more closely to the United States. First, they fear that we are about to return to the old protectionist system which

EVANT NEWS

By Cornelia Kreid

Getting the spirit of San Jacinto Day in my blood makes me hasten this news off, in advance of Monday, but if other things come up, call as you readers have been so gracious to do so, lately. . . We will keep the news going!

This week is a big one at Evant, too late for letting anyone know who may have wanted to attend, but Tuesday at 7:00 is Eastern Star - Masonic supper night, at Evant school lunch room.

Rain is still in the news, so far as I am concerned. We can set out plants, they never wilt. Grass and gardens so grow up together -- like the sheep and goats grazing in the pasture with the cattle -- and like the wheat and weeds too -- So let it rain!

The Tuesday death of Mrs. A.D. Smith brings connection with Evant and surrounding communities in that the couples son, Sonny, (Jesse) was a student in Evant school, while they lived near Bee House. She was only fifty and lingered several months after a series of surgery that began several years ago. A native of Oklahoma, she had no other members of her immediate family near by, or were they acquaintances of local people. Sonny, her only son, married LaQuota Stewart, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Stewart, Pearl. They have three children, making the deceased survived by the one son, daughter-in-law, her husband and three grandsons. She was buried in Pearl Cemetery, Wednesday, April 17, following services in Evant Funeral Chapel at 2:00 p.m.

Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sparks included their son, Kenneth Allen and family, Hamilton and grandson Dale and wife, Arlington.

Mrs. Bryan Parrish was admitted to Gatesville's hospital the first of the week.

Guests of Mrs. McBroyles for Easter included Mr. and Mrs. Quince Davidson, San Antonio; Dr. and Mrs. Gene Spires, Connie and Gary, Midland; and Mr. and Mrs. Brents Broyles and Scott, Dallas, together with a friend, Miss Lucy Long, also of Dallas.

Word came to Bill Frely last Saturday that his brother, Clyde, who lives at Snyder, but was a patient in the Big Spring Hospital, was seriously ill, so Bill went out to visit him. He was to be transferred to a Lubbock hospital for further examination and no late report is available on his condition at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Williams met their great-grand daughter, Melissa Ramsey and her mother, Mrs. Nella Neary, Mr. and Mrs. Dillard (D.E.) Ramsey and friends at Lake Buchanan, near Tow, where the Ramseys still maintain a camp. It had been two years since the family had all been together, and Melissa naturally was the main attraction (tip her) the seven inch fish she caught! She remembered all the family, although she is only five, for they had kept contact with her. She and her mother have traveled extensively and will spend the summer in Japan. Her husband is in the Air Force. Of course, her great-grandfather, Taylor Williams, helped her manage the fish catching.

Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mason included Rev. and Mrs. Irl Holt, Vernon and their charming little daughter-- that sings beautifully.

In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mason made a trip to Waco to visit his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Willie F. Mason, who moved the following day to make their home in the Masonic Home, Ennis. They had lived for years at Waco, but were originally from Viesta Mountain, near Evant.

Mrs. Era Williams, widow of the late Bob Williams, is now "at home" in Evant and expects to remain for a period of

"Slim" Galaway Has Statement To Voters To The People of Precinct 1:

I would like to take this means to express by thanks to all the people who have shown me their support and cooperation during this campaign.

I sincerely feel that I am qualified to hold the position of Constable of Precinct # 1, in that I have lived in Coryell County for the past 18 years and have resided in Evant for the past five years.

I have served on the Coparas Cove Police Force for two years and am now an employee of Gatesville State School for Boys. With this background, in law enforcement, I feel I am truly qualified to serve each and every citizen of Precinct #1 as Constable.

My sincere thanks,
P.R. (Slim) Gallaway

time. It is wonderful she can be home and hopes to see many of her friends -- and former patients . . . They are friends, too, of course, for she is a registered nurse. She had spent some time in Mesquite with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Drake. Mrs. Drake brought her home, but has already returned to her own home.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Cook are visiting her brother, the Bill Smiths and family and Mister Mrs. Herman Kreid and husband this week, as well as his mother at Star. The Cooks live in Louisiana.

Sadness of the loss of the twin daughters born to Mr. and Mrs. Chot Barker, Waco, Monday night, who died Wednesday and were buried in Hines Chapel Cemetery with Evant Funeral Home in charge, Thursday, April 18, affected many relatives and friends in and around Evant. The infants were the great-grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Faubion and also Mrs. Milton, Mullan. The mother was the former Miss Carol Brodnax, who made her home in Evant for a few years prior to her marriage. While still remaining in Evant for a few months, she will be remembered as clerking in the Flach's Grocery Store, and Mr. Barker being employed with his uncle, Charles Faubion's truckline.

Other close relatives in Evant include Mr. and Mrs. Billy Faubion and Odie Faubions, an uncle, David Drew Brodnax, Stephenville, graduated from Evant and is the only other close relative whose name is obtainable today.

After fifty-three years absence, Mrs. Minnie (J.B. Daniel) had word from her old home community, direct from her daughters who came to visit in and around Evant on April 17. Included in the party were Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Blair, Maryneal; Mrs. Thelma Blair, Robert Lee; and Mrs. Nellie Robinson, Sweetwater. Mrs. Robinson had made a visit back in about 1937, but the sisters and brother-in-law had not seen the "beauty spots" here as they called our area, since 1915. Mrs. W.C. Robinson, incidentally, will be better identified as Pearl Daniel, as she was just a little girl when they moved from Mt. View Community, where they attended Gholson School, then to Fairview and on to West Texas. Their father died at the age of 72, but approaching 90, the mother of the 14 Daniel children is still keeping in sight of the times, to say the least.

Tenant farmer, Mr. Daniel, and his family lived on what those who may recall them best, as the Bailey place, last occupied by a Leonard family from Waco, but now owned by Mrs. E.M. Kennedy and family. Recalling the Dr. Crumbley and his wife, the Hodo family, Kreids, Sneeds, Langfords, Jeff Brown, Professor Welch, of Gholson School, not to mention the Gholsons who all were in school there, too, and Esta Green Gholson and her brothers, R.V. and Kyle, they stopped at as many homes as possible. Leaving the Joe Kreids, (still talking) they went to Hamilton for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knox and planned to return home that same day.

What a small world, what a wide smile and while miles and miles of memory we can enjoy, just by doing as this family related they did. They wanted to go some place, together, so "home" was this area to them.

Mrs. Amy England went to New Jersey to spend an extended Easter holiday with her daughter and family.

Garth Wall, local business man, sustained a fractured leg Sunday, while working livestock. All the horses feet slipped out from under him, and the animal fell upon Mr. Wall. It was believed the shock of the horses fall may have prevented it not kicking or moving, thus aiding him to have a much less serious injury.

Mr. Wall is being cared for in the Hamilton County General Hospital, where he is as comfortable as can possibly be expected.

Library News

The board members and staff of the Gatesville Public Library wish to express their appreciation to the citizens of Coryell County for their continued support of the library. We would especially like to thank the Gatesville Messenger, The Coryell County News and Radio Station KCLW for the fine publicity given us during National Library week. We also want to thank Powell Supply Company for having bookmarks printed for us, and the Friends of the Library Association for their support during the entire year.

The membership drive for the Friends of the Library will continue for several more weeks to give everyone a chance to join. This organization holds only one meeting a year and has only a small staff of officers, but the benefit the library receives from them is unmeasurable. They buy new books, needed furniture or special items not covered in our budget. They also sponsor book reviews and other special activities for citizens of Coryell County. Everyone interested in more education and pleasure for themselves and their children owe their thanks to this dedicated group.

New books received this week are: A New Land Beckoned - German Immigration to Texas, 1844-47 with an indexed list of immigrants names, Battles of Texas by Seymour V. Connor and others, Roemer's Texas by Ferdinand Roemer, being a translation of his trip to Texas from Germany in 1845, and Presidio La Bahia by Kathryn Stoner O'Connor. For children, there is the new book called Felix the Bald-Headed Lion.

Open Up New Worlds

Read A Book Today!

Iris, Goddess of the rainbow, messenger of Zeus and Hera, reigns over many gardens this month as her namesake flowers come into bloom. There are several kinds of iris, some having bulbs and some rhizomes. But the best known and the easiest to grow are the bearded varieties, which really do come in all the colors of the rainbow. These perennial plants have long been garden favorites because of their adaptability to almost any soil and relative freedom from disease and insects.

To keep the iris beds at top blooming performance, the plants need to be divided and replanted every three or four years. Each iris rhizome produces one flowering stalk and will never bloom again, but it will also produce two new rhizomes on each side which will bloom the next year. Some varieties multiply so much faster than others that the slower growing one may be crowded out and fail to bloom. This has led to the old belief that the flowers changed colors. But bulbs or rhizomes are always exactly like the parent plant. Only through the seed can a change occur.

Transplanting is best done after the flowering period is over, when the entire clump is lifted, separated and the old roots discarded. Strong new rhizomes, each with a fan of leaves can then be reset in a new location or the old bed. The time to fertilize iris is at transplanting time with a good organic fertilizer such as cottonseed meal, dug thoroughly into the soil before the plants are set. These should not be set deeper than they previously were and the leaves may be trimmed back to about four inches. Iris do not like a mulch, fertilizer spread on top of them or old leaves allowed to pile around the tops.

With careful selection, it should be possible to have continuous bloom for eight or ten weeks. The newest varieties are expensive, but very beautiful older kinds are quite inexpensive. In the days when flowers were sent to convey messages, the iris meant faith, wisdom or hope. It is considered a good luck gift to a man and in astrology is the herb of the Moon.

Troop 72 Report

Randy Alderson and Dennis Fleetwood had the opening ceremony when Boy Scout Troop 72 had their meeting Monday night at the Scout House.

The Scout Laws were repeated in unison and the troop then went to the old football field for a game of football.

Upon returning to the Scout House, plans were discussed for Scout camp to be held in June at Camp Tahayna near Belton.

For closing ceremony, the scouts formed a circle and repeated the Scouters' Prayer.

Solving the Drapery Problem

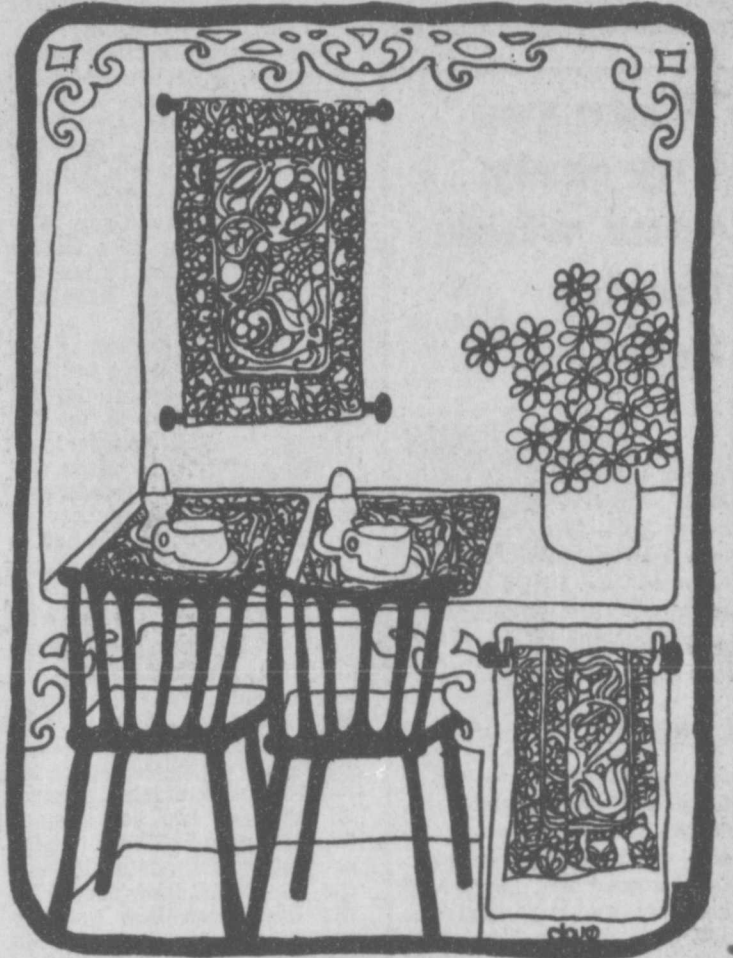

The old saying tells us that there may be nothing new under the sun — but the recent home furnishings market did see a variety of new ideas for bedspreads and draperies.

And when you go out to shop, you'll find a selection of richness in satins, velvets and linens, prints and solids for frills and matching opaques and sheers. And there are masculine fabrics for boys and men and fabrics to be used in special rooms such as the kitchen and the bathroom.

Among the bedspreads were several selections in beautiful imported cut velvets, tailored with no exposed seams. And there were sharply tailored cotton bedspreads for use in the multi-purpose family room, den or guest room.

Homemakers will find much help in the customized bedspreads which are usually stocked in all popular sizes and styles.

Irish Linen Decorates The Kitchen

Treat your kitchen to a colorful and exciting new look with the help of Irish linen. Irish linen has adopted modern ways with bold colors and prints, both in place mats and towels.

Liven up your snack bar by setting it with brightly colored Irish linen place mats with contrasting brightly colored napkins. For an especially dramatic effect, use a third bright color in earthenware dishes that are so right for casual dining.

In a mood for still another look? Try coordinated prints on Irish linen — sophisticated scroll patterns or casual stripes and checks. The trick to this decorating idea is to repeat the print in all of your kitchen accessories — place mats, towels, and the new oversized towels that come with a dowel for easy hanging on the wall above your snack bar. The handy housewife can easily sew up a pretty matching apron from an extra kitchen towel.

Decorating your kitchen with coordinated Irish linen is fun and inexpensive. Not only that, all your Irish linen accessories can easily be washed, right along with your towels.

GHS ADDS TWO STUDENTS TO WHO'S WHO LIST

Barbara Bennett and Paul Edwards

This week's male addition to the Who's Who list is Paul Edwards. When good old, serious minded, quick witted, friendly Paul graduates from GHS this May, he will leave behind a long list of friends and honors. Besides his Who's Who rating, Paul is GHS band president. In the GHS Band, Paul holds down a first chair in the cornet section. He is also active in the high school choir. His efforts during the past year have won him a berth on the Texas All-State Choir for 1968. Paul, like most seniors, will miss the everyday happenings of GHS, but sees bigger and even better things awaiting him at college. After graduation, he plans to enter Baylor University as a ministerial student. At GHS, Paul confesses that he enjoyed almost all of his subjects. Even though his highest grades were not in English Literature, Paul says that he enjoyed it very much. He says that participation in the GHS Band has been his most rewarding high school activity because it enabled him to take many enjoyable trips and make many new friends. When asked to what he attributed his high grades, Paul quickly responded that he owed it all to his parents. It was his parents who impressed on him to always keep up with his work. His mother's watchful eye made sure that he always had his work completed. Outside of school activities, Paul enjoys preaching in the churches around Gatesville. He also enjoys playing the piano and swimming.

Paul possesses a unique understanding of human nature which should serve as a guidepost in his religious training. His ability to always look deep into the important parts should also aid Paul in his life's goal, to be a minister. Besides his serious attitude toward religious and school matters, Paul possesses a quick wit and a large amount of humor. All of these attributes coupled with his desire to succeed, prove that Paul Edwards is more than qualified to be added to the list as Who's Who member for 1968. One of the six girls chosen for Who's Who this year was Barbara Bennett. Barbara attributes her good grades in school, which gained her the position, to competition among her friends and to her parents' push. Barbara's favorite subject in school is speech and this favoritism is well shown by the work she does in this class. Barbara's most enjoyable activity in school is choir. She especially enjoyed the All-State Choir Convention in Austin when she was a junior. She was very proud of the honor of being a member of the 1967 All-State Choir. The convention was under the direction of Dr. Charles Hirt from California, and Barbara classified it as "wonderful". Most of Barbara's interests outside of school are centered around the church and music program; however, she does enjoy modeling and dancing very much. Barbara says that she does not have any unique hobbies unless fishing could be classified as one. Barbara is very excited about and is looking forward to graduation. She doesn't especially want to leave all of her friends, but she does look forward to branching out in her studies. This summer she will attend Temple Junior College where she will take English and Science. In the fall, she will attend the University of Texas. Barbara will enjoy college because of the opportunity of taking so many different subjects and meeting "loads" of new people.

Seniors Top "A" Honor Roll

This six weeks, again the seniors have proven to be more scholarly than the underclassmen in GHS. They topped the all "A" honor roll with 11. However, the freshmen ran a close second with 10 making A's. The juniors were third with 8 and the sophomores last with one making all A's. The seniors making all A's are Jerry Ashby, Barbara Bennett, Sue Byrom, Colleen Coward, Janis Daniel, Paul Edwards, Joy Gallaway, Bob Gillette, Patsy Graham, Sara Nelle Lowrey and Diane Spurlock. All A freshmen are Jimmie Dyson, Teddy Foote, John Hodges, Larry Moore, Larry Parham, Paul Pollard, David Schaub, Dick Scott, Tom Stewart and Mike Williams. Juniors making A's are Kathy

Dear Uncle Charlie: I am supposed to be engaged to a boy in this school who is known as a playboy. At first he was very true to me, but now he runs around and acts as if he doesn't care. What should I do to keep him? Little Orphan Annie U.C.

Dear Annie: If you were stupid enough to become engaged to Don Juan without reaching an agreement that all other dating for him was completely out, then you have my deepest sympathy. Apparently you were sincere in your engagement, but Don Juan wasn't. The best advice I can give you is to simply forget him. U.C.

Dear Uncle Charlie: I am going with this girl and I think she likes me a lot. She is a junior and I am a sophomore. Since I can't go to the Junior - Senior Prom, she is going with one of my best friends. Now we aren't such good friends because I am jealous. Should I be? L.L.S.

Dear L.L.S.: No, you should not! There is no logical reason why your girlfriend should not date some other boy, go to the Prom and have a wonderful time. This Prom is an occasion which you get to attend only twice in your life and no one should be compelled to go alone and stand in the corner and watch everyone else enjoying themselves. What is one date going to hurt anyway? U.C.

GHS Newettes

The Girls Track team would like to thank the Administration, teachers and students that worked so hard and had a part in making their track meet a success. They appreciate the interest shown in their program. Barbara Bennett, Kay Spencer, and Dick Belf, from Mrs. Jane Dowell's speech class, presented a devotional Tuesday morning, April 23. Dick gave an introduction and Barbara and Kay read some poems that two GHS students had written.

Freedoms Council Presents New Books to GHS Library

Last fall, the GHS Freedoms Council sold litter bags to buy some new books for the GHS library. Recently, seven of the new books were received. The books that the Freedoms Council donated are as follows: Where Liberty Stands Guard, and Freedom, both by Earl Schenck Miers; The Shot Heard Round the World, Jeanette Covert Nolan; Young Man in the White House: John Fitzgerald Kennedy, I.E. Levine; Defender of the Constitution: Andrew Johnson, Margaret Green; and two volumes of the Founders of Freedom in America: Signers of the Declaration of Independence and Signers of the Constitution of the United States, both by David G. Whitney. An eighth book that was donated by the Freedoms Council, America During Four Wars by Sutton and Miers, is on order.

GHS Band Holds Western Banquet April 19

GHS Band members and their dates came all decked out in western costumes to attend the GHS Band Banquet last Friday night. The GHS cafeteria was decorated in authentic western setting. After president Paul Edwards' welcoming speech, Mr. Lamkin gave the invocation. Following a buffet style meal of barbecue, potato salad and western style beans, the band members enjoyed home-made ice cream. Paul Edwards made a few announcements, including the announcement of the winners of the best dressed western couple contest. Janna Bonner and David Powers received a set of cowboy pistols and some plastic cowboys and Indians for being the best dressed couple. Michael Meador, band vice-president, gave the last wills and testaments of the departing seniors. All of this nonsense was followed by more foolishness as Sue Byrom, drum major and Paul Edwards led the group in reminiscing over some of the year's more humorous events. After the program was completed, the band members enjoyed dancing and games in the girls P.E. room.

FHA To Elect Mitchell Presents Book to Library

Mr. Lloyd Mitchell recently presented the GHS library with a copy of the book entitled, Coryell County, A Comprehensive Plan for Water and Sewage. This book is a study of this county's water resources; it also includes studies of area economics, agriculture, and mineral resources. Many very detailed maps in the book show the topography with Coryell County. The book was prepared by Harry L. Gray, the consulting engineer of the study made of Coryell County. A planning commission composed of Jack Elam, chairman, James Dixon, secretary, J.W. Griffith, Lloyd Mitchell and Floyd Murray picked the engineers who made the study and approved the project. This book would be extremely helpful to any community in Coryell County that would like to install water and sewage systems, because it contains maps and studies of a possible water and sewage systems layout for the communities in Coryell County.

Junior - Senior Prom To Be Held Tonight

The annual Junior - Senior prom will be held this Friday night, April 26, in the GHS cafeteria and girls' gym. The prom lasts from 8:00 p.m. to 12:00 p.m. Because it is a prom, the food will be served buffet style. A photographer will also be present if anyone should want to have his picture made.

Seniors Plan Senior Day

Following a series of meetings, the GHS Seniors have ruled out a trip to San Antonio and the Hemis Fair for their Senior Trip. In a special meeting, Thursday morning, Mr. McKemie was in charge as he made special announcements about graduation. With the help of the Senior sponsors, he explained many of the technical problems of graduation exercises. The suggestion of a senior trip to San Antonio came up and the seniors were instructed to come back in the morning for another discussion. Senior class president, Charles Ivy, was in charge of Friday morning's meeting. He reported his findings on the cost of several suggested plans for Senior Day, May 24. The class was instructed to think about the situation over the weekend and report back Monday morning and a vote would be taken to determine whether there was sufficient interest to work up a trip to HemisFair. At 8:30 Monday morning, Mr. Pruitt took charge of the meeting of GHS Seniors. Due to the fact of the enormous cost of transporting the 120 GHS Seniors to San Antonio, the Seniors voted unanimously to rule out the trip. Charles Ivy was appointed to head up a committee to look into other plans for Senior Day.

The Easter program is a yearly event that is enjoyed by all and is considered an appropriate way to begin the Easter school holidays.

Students Tell "What United States Means to Me"

The following sentences were taken from Sixth Graders' themes on the subject "What the United States Means to Me." David Byrom: "The people of this country have the responsibility of defending this nation and the freedoms we have." Reed Brown: "In this time of disorder our country, our freedom, everything we have gained, is on trial." Gene Fleetwood: "I think the United States Government is one of the fairest and best that a country could have. I like the way that the officials are chosen." Carolyn Thomson: "We students of America have many responsibilities." Warren Nealey: "I think America is a great country, but if we are to keep it great we must be united as one, and not divided." Connie Clemons: "We as American students should be thankful for that we have inherited." David Saunders: "The future of the United States lies in the hands of the younger generation." Tommy Davidson: "I'm glad America is my land and a land of democracy." Steve Storm: "If we didn't have these freedoms, there would not be very much reason to live." Shelly Morris: "Our freedoms are very precious."

SWC To Hold Spring Meeting In Ft. Worth

University of Houston won't be making application for membership in the Southwest Conference May 3 - 4 when that august body holds its spring meeting at Fort Worth.

The conference has said it doesn't want anybody telling it they should be a part of the eight-school league that ranks with the best in the country.

But that doesn't mean Houston won't come up for discussion because a member of the conference can submit the big bustling university at Houston and that would force action.

It is indicated that this may be done, but by whom is not revealed. But since Houston is now a state school, it might come from one of the State schools' members, like Texas or Texas A & M.

Houston doesn't have to be a member of the conference to prosper with its sports. It has been doing quite a job of late and has managed to rank high in football, basketball, golf and baseball. But Houston could do better as a member of a conference and it appears from here that the Southwest Conference could do better with Houston as a member.

Houston as 22,000 students and has been a senior college for 30 years. It has a field house, due to be finished next year, that will seat 12,000. That would be bigger than any field house in the Southwest Conference.

The last football season found Houston playing in the Astrodome and averaging over 45,000 spectators per game. That also is ahead of the Southwest Conference average.

The largest football crowd was 53,000, but that's because the Astrodome can't hold any more. The smallest was over 40,000.

Houston was national champion in basketball, went to the finals in NCAA baseball, won the golf title, and had an 8-2 season in football and had a representative team in track. It didn't do very well in tennis but expects to begin climbing in that sport.

It is fully accredited scholastically and has added by the 1.6 plan of the NCAA.

It has fine athletic facilities and it does a good job in recruiting athletes. It would do better were it in the conference. That might be one of the reasons for the conference not wanting it.

Also, there is the question of competition. But here it would seem to react to the benefit of the Southwest Conference. More competition would make the conference stronger.

Houston would add to the financial picture with its big draw in football and basket-

The major objection of the Southwest conference has been that by adding Houston, the league would be too large. The round-robin that has made the Southwest Conference a strong league was advanced as a reason for not taking in any more schools.

Now each member has seven conference games, leaving three dates for inter-sectional football. However, two would be sufficient and the addition of Houston would be a bigger draw than a third.

It seems Houston is quite qualified for membership in the Southwest Conference. It would undoubtedly make a fine contribution to the Southwest Conference's athletic program.

Spring Tackle "Training"

Anglers can take a tip from the pre-season warmups and training now underway in the baseball camps.

Seeing that equipment functions perfectly is just as important to a fisherman as good physical condition is to a touted 20-game winner or the team's "big stick."

Getting gear in shape after a winter's layoff is vital to the success of early trips afloat, say the authorities at Mercury outboards. If you don't, you're likely to discover all sorts of problems . . . and all at the wrong time.

While most of us were admonished to prepare our gear last fall, such good advice has a strange habit of falling on closed ears . . . particularly if the geese were flying. So haul out the tackle box NOW, while you have the time.

Thoroughly clean reels, re-lubricating according to the maker's specs . . . but use greases sparingly. Check lines for signs of weakness; snip off 10 feet of monofilament, if you haven't already done so. Remove that fly line from the spool and hang in loose coils, if even for only a short period.

Lures should be touched up with paint, if needed. Bone hooks to needle sharpness. Polish spoons and spinners like fine silver - if they don't take a bright shine, replace them.

Though reels are the most critical elements in tackle, inspect rods carefully. Look for loose wrappings, ferrules and reel seats. Observe carefully the condition of the tip where the line rubs against the guide; any indication of furrowing calls for immediate replacement.

Plenty of soap and water, mixed with a generous portion of old-fashioned elbow grease, will do the job on most other items, say the Mercury lads.

Spring conditioning prevents excuses. Get started now!

REMOVE WARTS!

Amazing Compound Dissolves Common Warts Away Without Cutting or Burning

Painless, colorless Compound W; used as directed, removes common warts safely, effectively leaves no ugly scars.

Local Links To Hold Low -Ball Tournament

The golfing event of the season for the local club will be held Saturday and Sunday, April 27 and 28.

The field is growing each day with top entries from Austin, Waco and Fort Worth already received by tournament directors.

The cool spring days this week have kept the greens in perfect shape and should be perfect for the tournament. The course has begun to take on a well groomed look, under the direction of greenskeeper, Jim Tabors.

For the first time, this year, players (including myself) will find the roughs "ruff" and the fairways "fair". Meaning that the off fairway grass has grown up and will present a problem to the wandering golf ball and player.

Practice rounds by some top central Texas players began last weekend and have continued all week. As the weekend draws near, more will come to try their hand at the old Gatesville Country Club.

What does it take to win a low-ball tournament? One year when the championship flight went 54 holes, 26 under par won the prize. The test has changed to 27 holes, all played on Sunday and it will take 10 under par to win.

If you are a spectator and enjoy sports, you can find some pleasure in watching these weekend golfers act professional and play surprisingly well. It costs nothing to watch and that is a real bargain in this day and time.

Youth Rodeo To Be Held at HemisFair in San Antonio

The world's largest and most exciting youth rodeo will be held as a feature attraction of HemisFair '68 at San Antonio. Competing for $25,000 in prizes will be members of the Texas Youth Rodeo Association, June 24-30 in the HemisFair '68 Arena.

For the past 14 years, members of the TYRA have competed in rodeo events leading to state champions. What spectators have learned is that the talented youngsters can ride, rope and race with the best. There will be two rodeos daily, at 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Competitors in the HemisFair '68 rodeo will compete in twelve action events. These will include bareback bronc riding, calf roping, boys and girls barrel race, cloverleaf barrel race, steer wrestling, junior and senior pole bending and bull riding.

TYRA membership is made up of boys and girls to age 18. Generally, boys and girls compete separately, with the age break at 14. "In the junior events, we have many youngsters five and under," said George Light, III, Chairman of the youth rodeo. "These youngsters can really make a horse go."

Gus T. Brown, Jr., Secretary, said that winners receive valued trophies, such as saddles, belt buckles, boots, spurs.

"Proceeds and profits from the rodeo go to the establishment of college scholarships. Members in TYRA goes beyond horsemanship and members to be eligible to compete are encouraged and required to keep school grades high.

Information on TYRA membership entry and tickets may be had by writing Secretary, TYRA, 307 E. Sunset Road, San Antonio, Texas 78209.
