Heavy Rains Soak Area

Friday ended more than a week of violent weather in Texas and the Gatesville area received some of the last minute fury. Friday morning, around 10:00 the heavy dark clouds moved over the area from the northwest, dumping varying quantities of rain in the area.

Heavy rains of over 3" fell at Jonesboro, where a tornado touched ground on the Doyle Ranch southwest of Jonesboro. Some damage was reported with many trees being uprooted in the area.

Turnersville also reported some wind damage from a tornado, northeast of the business community. Several trees near one residence were uprooted and some windows being broken.

Millard Sadler, a ginner and grain buyer of Turnersville, said he saw the twister that struck Turnersville and damaged several homes.

"It moved toward the town from the northwest," Sadler said. "It was pretty bad looking and moving pretty fast."

Sadler said he was in town when the funnel was first sighted and became concerned about three youths working in his tin gin building near his home.

"I saw that thing coming and I got in my car and beat it to the gin building and told those boys to get out of that building," Sadler then went to his home, got his wife and hid behind a rock bluff along the banks of the Bosque River near his house.

"That funnel just dipped in and out of this small town, here," he said. "I mean it was a roaring thing. It sounded like a whistle."

"The biggest part of it was right over us, but it seemed like it would skip one house and hit the next one."

Sadler said about five or six houses were damaged by the tornado, but apparently none of the stores were hit. His own house, typical of the damage, suffered several blown-out windows and doors and a broken television antenna.

He said his house apparently shook on its foundation and his nearby gin building was even blown askew.

Hamilton said the tornado blew windows out of one house, de-roofed a barn, blew down television antennas, uprooted a few trees and damaged several other trees with broken limbs.

Hamilton said the tornado was sighted by two or three Turnersville residents.

Another small twister was reported to have struck the Doyle Ranch about 15 miles northwest of Gatesville at 10:25 a.m.

Coryell County sheriff's deputy, Roland Burke, said the twister uprooted several trees and damaged a barn. A residence occupied by James Barron was barely missed by the tornado.

From there, the storm apparently moved on toward the Patton community between Waco and Crawford.

THREE CRASHES REPORTED BY OFFICERS

Friday, May 17, at 10:55 a.m. on FM Road 107, 14.1 miles East of Gatesville, a 1966 Ford dumptruck, driven by Paul Ross of Oglesby, was backing onto the highway from a private drive when a 1966 Dodge pickup, driven by Winward Bradshaw of Crockett, Texas, slid into the rear of the truck. There was $50 damage to the Ford and $200 to the Dodge. The accident was investigated by Highway Patrolman, J.K. Hamilton.

Friday morning, May 17 at 10:45 p.m., on FM 929, 7 miles north of Gatesville, Belva L. Gaston lost control of her vehicle, a 1963 Chevy when she ran off the right side of the road. She then slid back across the highway, from the right-hand ditch into the ditch on the left side. A passenger, Brenda Levy, was taken to Coryell Memorial Hospital and reported for a broken wrist. There was approximately $200 damage to the vehicle, J.K. Hamilton, Highway Patrolman, investigated the accident.

Saturday, May 18, at 4:00 p.m. on Highway 84, 6 miles west of Gatesville, a 1963 Chevrolet driven by Mrs. Mattie Dickie of Pearl and a 1966 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Joy Lynn Blanchard of Ireland were both going west on Highway 84 when Mrs. Dickie attempted a left turn into the Hemeline Road and was struck in the left side by the Blanchard vehicle as she attempted to pass the Dickie vehicle. There were no injuries reported and an estimated $30 damage to the Dickie vehicle and $50 to the Blanchard vehicle, according to investigating patrolman, J.K. Hamilton.

Gulf States Employees Strike

The employees of the local telephone company, Gulf States United Telephone Company, staged an employee walk out Monday morning at 10:00 a.m. The "Wildcat" strike is in protest to wage levels and Gulf States' failure to recognize the union.

Telephone employees in Stephenville, Hamilton, Groesbeck, Overton, Commerce, Athens and Gatesville walked out Monday, following employees of the Tyler General Office, which began the walk out Sunday at 5:30.

Local employees began picketing soon after leaving their jobs. One member of the striking group said "We have been treated unfairly. They have not recognized the union."

The union is under a "no strike" contract with the Telephone Company and consequently the strike was initiated by the employees and not the union.

Strikers explained, "we are the lowest paid telephone workers in the United States".

Workers in Navasota and Palestine are under a different working agreement, however, both offices were struck in sympathy with the striking employees.

Management and the union will negotiate a settlement with the striking employees. No estimates have been made as to the length of the strike.

Telephone service in and out of Gatesville will be manned by management personnel and non-striking workers. Shortly after 10:00 a.m. Monday, only occasional long distant calls were completed.

Local manager, Truman Grisham, had no comment Monday morning, due to the many details needing attention following the walkout.

Strikers reported that the action was not aimed at the local management, only top policy members in the home office in Tyler, Texas.

TEXAS FARM BUREAU

NEWS

Fires don't just happen, they are caused, Joe Smetana, Safety Director of the Texas Farm Bureau, pointed out in a graphic fire demonstration held in the Community Center here in Gatesville, Monday night, May 13, at 8:30. He went on to name the three causes for most fires: "men, women and children". In the 45 minute program Smetana used a variety of demonstration equipment and materials placed on tables 16 feet in length to dramatize seven basic facts about fire: its use, and control; (1) what fire is; (2) how to control fires; (3) the fact that nothing is fire-proof; (4) kitchen fires and their control; (5) fuel vapors; (6) the power of petroleum products; and (7) household wiring and overloaded electrical circuits. Using a "fire triangle board" Smetana illustrated that fire is like a three-legged stool - it can't work with one of the legs missing. The "legs" fire depends on are: (1) fuel, (2) heat and (3) air. He stated that in American homes these three things come together in deadly and destructive combinations every 37 seconds - an average of 1,500 home fires every day, causing more than 5,000 deaths in homefires every year.

Creating quite a loud explosion from one single drop of gasoline, Smetana stated that one gallon of gasoline contains approximately 155,000 drops and under ideal conditions, could produce an explosion force to equal the power of at least 30 sticks of dynamite.

After demonstrating how fires can be caused by overloaded electrical circuits and improper fusing, Smetana pointed out that many fires of this type are blamed on faulty wiring, and suggested that "faulty thinking" is involved more often than "faulty wiring".

The demonstration, which was brought to the Community Center under the sponsorship of the Coryell County Farm Bureau, is part of a long-range fire prevention program now being conducted by the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department. The demonstration has been presented over 400 times for some 125,000 people.

TIME FOR A CHANGE!

The National Labor Relations Board, by administrative fiat, is depriving the American businessman of his inherent right to manage his own company without interference from unions.

Francis A. O'Connell, Jr., Vice President, Employee Relations, Olin Mathieson Chemical Company, testifying on behalf of the National Association of Manufacturers, told a Congressional hearing that the NLRB has done this by thrusting upon the American economy the European doctrine of co-determination.

"Co-determination represents achievement of the basic socialistic aim of involving the worker in the management of the enterprise in which he is employed," Mr. O'Connell said. "Actually the NLRB's decision-bargaining doctrine goes further in projecting unions into the managerial process than has been done in Germany—the very cradle of co-determination."

"The right to bargain over any and every management decision which can affect the wages, hours or working conditions of its members, including those managerial decisions which will determine whether or not a job or a plant or a manufacturing operation will exist or continue to exist, has been given to the unions by the Board," Mr. O'Connell explained.

In a free enterprise economy, critical decisions on the use of capital and on the sound management of the business must be made by the owners and managers of that capital and by them alone.

Entirely apart from the practical considerations which argue against an attempt to apply collective bargaining to business decisions, it is clear that the statutory language of the National Labor Relations Act does not support the doctrine.

"If the time has come (and I gravely doubt it) for the imposition of co-determination upon the American industrial system, I submit that so drastic a change in the character and structure of our free enterprise economy can and should be made only by the Congress of the United States, and only after the most profound and searching debate and deliberation," Mr. O'Connell concluded.

Soldier's View Of Vietnam

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Conner of Bee House wishes to share the following letter from their son, Corporal L.D. Conner in Vietnam with the NEWS and its readers.

To My Family,

It will only be just a few lines to say a little "Thank You". Thank you for your nice letters, your prayers and thoughts, and oh yes, those goodie packages from the world. I wish I had more than this note with my love to send, but I don't. As you can see, I don't ever have any news that is worth peating. I guess it is the beginning of another Vietnam summer, because here I am sweating it out once again. How is Texas weather now? Just beautiful I bet. At least when I get home I can see the trees while they have all their leaves and the grass will be so green and even the springs, which bubble from the rocks, will be seemingly twice as cold as before. I often picture those old hills when I am sitting around thinking. There is so much I want to do and see accomplished in that part of the country I like to think of as Conner valley. I am very proud of my name because behind it is the people I can be proud of. These people, you, I will love always and try to accomplish something that one day my son can look at and be proud of.

Yes, today finds me with very few worldly goods but I still have all life, my life, to live and to a ripe old age I hope. This world, I have come to realize, has so much to offer one, if only a person is willing to learn and work toward his goal.

I can't actually pin point my goal in life yet. I have my general ideas which in time I hope will evolve into a worthwhile life. This letter today is more or less to say thank you for helping me in the years I have been growing up. I owe so much to my parents and family that it seems the only way I can repay them is to try my best to succeed in what ever I try to do. This at times seems to be a big order because for me it would be all too easy to say I quit. Then I remember - - - I am not the only person who has troubles and often mine are so small. Then there are times I can sit down and look around, even here now, and be so thankful I have obtained the position I am now in.

You see this life today, which I am sure you know and realized long ago, is like a large

State legislators will return to Austin on June 4. This time to complete the budget-writing chore they put off last year...

Indications are strong that the bulk of the funds will come through the sales tax route. Gov. John Connally told reporters he is "fairly certain" he will suggest raising the two per cent sales tax rate to three per cent...

Proposal would provide incorporated cities with a $125,000,000 a year overall in state aid. State would gain $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 from the increased rate due to sales in unincorporated areas.

pected in Connally's sales tax package include: removing of some sales tax exemptions, taxing of services like laundry and haircuts; and increasing the auto sale tax rate to three per cent.

Governor also stated he might suggest a liquor-by-the-drink bill as part of his tax program. Legislative sources say he will suggest local option authority to sell liquor in small, one-drink-size bottles under stiff state tax and strict regulation.

Connally told reporters that overall revision of the liquor laws also may be proposed. He intends to submit no other business until financial necessities are handled.

He expressed confidence that the budget and tax bill can be passed within the 30-day limit. If lawmakers vote the same way their constituents did on the liquor-by-the-drink referendum (May 4) the governor may have a chance with the small bottles bill. At least 82 of the 150 state representatives and 17 of the 31 senators live in districts which voted for mixed drinks, with varying enthusiasm.

COURTS SPEAK

Texas' law banning mass picketing in labor disputes withstood another State Supreme Court test when lower court rulings in favor of the statute were affirmed. High court agreed with intermediate Fourth Court of Civil Appeals, however, that the display of Mexican strike banners in a Laredo dispute should not be enjoined.

Question of whether voter registration applications must be submitted individually has been taken to the Texas Supreme Court.

High court said Texas statute which allows unlimited damages to survivors cannot be applied to fatal accidents involving Texans in other states. An Abilene man should get a full trial on his $185,000 malpractice suit against two doctors, Supreme Court held.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial for wealthy Houston tobacco wholesaler Blair J. Schepps, who received a seven-year prison sentence on a charge of counterfeiting tax stamps.

Third Court of Civil Appeals affirmed a district court decision denying a $98,625 sale tax refund to a New York firm which claimed it received notice of deficiency more than three years after the date taxes were due.

DRAFT QUOTA CUT

Texas draft quota for June has been reduced by nearly a third, says Selective Service Director Col. Morris S. Schwartz.

State quota of 1,416 men has been trimmed to 961 on the basis of a new order by Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national draft director, National quota, all for the Army, was reduced from 29,500 to 20,000 at the direction of the Department of Defense.

Call for July is expected to be only 18,000, meaning a Texas share of 700 to 750. May call was increased 4.3 per cent late last month to 2,233 in order to provide some manpower for the Marine Corps, as well as the Army.

Draft boards will forward 8,500 men to examining and entrance stations next month for pre-induction physical and mental examinations. May total is 9,000.

SPEIR HEADS DPS

Texas Public Safety Commission officially designated one time high school principal Wilson E. (Pat) Speir as acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Speir succeeds the late Col. Homer Garrison, Jr. who headed the DPS for nearly 30 years. He had been Garrison's top assistant for six years.

Speir is a veteran of more than a quarter century of service with the state police. He was born and attended schools at Gilmer, graduated at East Texas State College in Commerce and was principal of Harmony High School for a year.

PARK SITES ADDED

Parks and Wildlife Commission has accepted 85 acres of land containing four early military posts which played important roles in the development of Texas.

Sites include Fort Leaton near Presidio, Fort McKavett near Menard, Fort Lancaster near Ozona and Fort Richardson near Jacksboro.

PWC Chairman Will Odom says the sites will be added to the state park system and facilities will be restored and preserved as an historical heritage for future Texans.

Odom also announced that a $14,275 federal grant has been approved for development of recreational facilities at Fort Griffin State Park 15 miles north of Albany. PWC will match the federal grant for a 503 acre park.

POLICE TRAINING

House Speaker Ben Barnes says he will ask Governor Connally to include in the special legislative session agenda a bill to create a statewide police training school to be called the "Homer Garrison, Jr. Law Enforcement Academy."

Barnes believes the school is needed and "would be a fitting memorial to the late Homer Garrison who did so much to build a fine state police system."

ATTORNEY GENERAL

RULES

School boards can order a trustee election recount if the candidate was defeated by less than five per cent of the votes cast even though a district court will order a recount under a different law (as in Starr County case), says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

In another recent opinion, Martin said that Bee County Commissioners must provide for competitive bids on the purchase of a new electronic voting system that costs more than $2,000.

ALLOWABLE

REDUCED AGAIN

Texas Railroad Commission slashed the statewide oil allowable for the third month in a row.

June factor was set at 45.2 per cent of potential, permitting top production of 3,445 barrels a day. This compares with 3,512.874 barrels during May when 45.7 per cent market demand factor applied. Major crude oil buyers submitted written nominations to purchase 3,025,126 barrels a day during June, a decrease of 46,143 from May. This was slightly more than forecast for June demand as submitted by the Bureau of Mines.

CANDIDATE TOOL

Runoff campaign between Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Don Yarborough is warming: Smith boasts of his long service and slams at Yarborough's liberal record. Yarborough counters he offers new leadership and specific, progressive programs. Voters still show little interest.

CAMPAIGN COSTS

Top spenders in the governor's race, Dolph Briscoe, ($696,179) and Eugene Locke ($679,063) finished fourth and fifth. Leading candidate Yarborough reported he spent only $182,584. Runner-up Smith reported spending $383,537.

WANTED BY THE FBI

JAMES EARL RAY, also known as Eric Starvo Galt, Harvey Lowmyer, John Willard, James McBride, James Walton, W. C. Herron and James O'Conner.

James Earl Ray, a Missouri prison escapee, sought under the alias Eric Starvo Galt in connection with the gunshot slaying of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., is one of the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover ordered the special addition of Ray to the "Top Ten" list to insure widespread dissemination of Ray's photograph and description to speed his location.

Ray has been intensively sought since the murder of Dr. King on April 4, 1968, as he stood on the balcony of a Memphis, Tennessee, motel. An exhaustive FBI fingerprint search, comparing latent fingerprints uncovered in the Dr. King case against fingerprints of over 53,000 persons on whom wanted notices were posted, determined that Galt and Ray are identical.

A federal warrant, issued at Birmingham, Alabama, on April 17, 1968, charges Ray, under the alias of Galt, with conspiring to interfere with a Constitutional Right of a citizen, Ray, who escaped on April 23, 1967, from the Missouri State Penitentiary, is also sought for unlawful flight to avoid confinement for robbery. His long criminal record also includes convictions for burglary and forging U.S. Postal Money Orders.

A white American, born in Alton, Illinois, on March 10, 1928, Ray is 5'10" tall, weighs 163 to 174 pounds, has blue eyes and short brown hair. He has a nervous habit of tugging at an ear lobe and his left ear protrudes noticeably. Known as a "loner" and "drifter," Ray has worked as a baker, laborer and color matcher. He has taken dancing lessons and completed a course at a school of bartending.

Consider Ray armed and extremely dangerous. Report any information concerning him to the nearest FBI office.

"Whatsoever Things"

By DONALD E. WILDMON

A lady by the name of Ethelwyn Wetherald sat down one day and wrote a little poem. It expresses a beautiful thought that we need. Here's what she wrote:

My orders are to fight; Then if I bleed, or fail, Or strongly win, what matters it? God only doth prevail. The servant craveth naught Except to serve with might. I was not told to win or lose, My orders are to fight.

It is good to remember that today in the world in which we live. It seems the measure of a man today is not that he fight for what is right, but that he succeed. Success, that's what we all want and many are willing to pay dearly for. Success, that's what makes a man. Success, that's what rules the world.

Funny how we can take things and twist them to suit us and our conceptions, isn't it? The coach who is the greatest success today is the one who teaches sportsmanship and clean play and love of the game. The doctor who is a success today is the one who drives the biggest car and lives in the largest mansion. The business man who is a success today is the one who can have the biggest store or make the most money off a product. The politician who is a success today is the one who can get elected the most times to a higher office. Even the preacher of today is not a success unless he serves the largest church.

One Man, who was counted a failure by the standards of the world, once said that the way to success was to serve. "The greatest among you shall be the one who serves the most." He said, And we have taken this and made it imply that we had to win. Win, at all cost. Win! You are a failure if you do not win.

I think we need to go back and get a few things in proper perspective about the faith of the Nazarene. He never once told us that we could expect success as the world measures success. He didn't even hint at it. If anything, we can expect the world to laugh at us and call us crazy, and old-fashioned, and prudish, and stupid, and about anything else they can think to call us.

But we think we have to win. And this has brought about a damaging and often a damning attitude of compromise. We can't rid the world of liquor or stop some people from drinking it, so make it attractive. We can't rid the world of lust so let's dress it up and put it in an expensive magazine and put it on the stands for all to buy. We can't keep men from using the name of God in vain, so let's use it in the movies and on the air and in all our speech. Compromising is one of the deadliest sins of our day.

A man named Abraham Lincoln once said it in these words: 'I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to what light I have. I must stand with anybody that stands right, stand with him while he is right, and part with him when he goes wrong.' Is it any wonder we say he was a great man? -FIVE STAR FEATURES

Private Health Care Spending At New High

Pocket Elections Slide Rule Contains Over 2,000 Facts

Operating on the slide rule principle where answers to election questions appear in windows, the new computer has been called "the final authority on questions about the past 40 years of presidential elections for this 1968 election year."

Created by a nationally-known management consulting firm, H. Clifton Morse & Associates, Inc., Chicago, which spent four years of research in its development, the election slide rule tells: Names of all 36 U.S. Presidents, their party, their opponents, their terms of office, their vice-presidents, dates of birth and death, home states, wife's name, and their religion.

Names of presidents who died in office, names and dates of assassinated presidents, names of opposing second, third, fourth, and fifth party candidates who received electoral votes.

Presidential voting records of all states for the past 40 years, number of electoral votes for each state.

Present governors of all states, their terms of office, dates of each state's next election.

Names of all U.S. Senators, senator designations, next election dates.

Results of each state's election for House of Representatives, number of seats, number of Republicans and Democrats, % of change in number of seats as a result of recent reapportionments.

All of this and additional information is contained on a pocket-size, 4 by 9 inch, 'slide show' computer which is available for $1 each. Write ELECTIONS COMPUTER, Morse & Associates, Dept. D, 203 N. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60601.

Industry Helps Reduce Car Mechanic Shortage

The 20-year shortage of car and truck mechanics is being partially alleviated through summer seminars and in-service workshops to bring industry personnel and new processes into contact with the mechanics teachers on the campus or in industry classrooms each year.

A number of these sessions are given college credit, due in large part to the work of the Automobile Manufacturers-American Vocational Association Industry Planning Council.

Twenty-five colleges awarded credit for automobile mechanics courses maintained by industry in 1963. The number had risen to 32 by 1965, and there is reason to believe that the number of credit institutions has continued to grow, according to the Association.

Car and truck builders are aware that availability of a sufficient supply of properly trained and motivated mechanics is essential for continued good relations with their dealers' customers. For this reason manufacturers continue to work to find good teachers, good students and good facilities for both.

NEWCOMERS ELECT OFFICERS

The Gatesville Newcomers Club held its 1968-69 Club Officers Installation Banquet at 7:30 p.m. in the Chateau Ville Restaurant dining room.

Delivering the opening blessing was Carl Barnhill. Speaker for the occasion was Mr. Bob Miller, Mayor of the City of Gatesville.

Miller spoke to the group about Gatesville Yesterday - Today and Tomorrow. Miller briefly took the group back in time to the old west, of which Gatesville was a part. He told of the many civic projects which the community is currently working on, such as the new water systems throughout the city. Miller then projected into Gatesville's future with a discussion of the new city library, new recreational facilities.

Following the mayor's address, the past club officers presented their respective successors with the tools and advice needed to succeed in their offices.

"Annie" Opens At Casa

Switzerland had its William Tell, who merely could hit an apple with an arrow, but America had its Annie Oakley, who could shoot "the fuzz off'n a peach" with her trusty rifle, and the musical comedy celebrating her bull's eye prowess, called "Annie Get Your Gun", with its songs by Irving Berlin, will open the eleventh season at Casa Manana tomorrow at 8:15 p.m.

Along with the razzle-dazzle of Irving Berlin's most successful musical, Casa will shine even brighter with the sparkle of Ruta Lee, all-time favorite actress at Casa Manana, in the role of the shootin' gal, who, in her starring days with the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show could hit two-inch flying spheres by taking aim at their reflection in a Bowie - knife blade.

Along with her will be another Casa favorite, popular leading man of last year's "Molly Brown", James Hurst as Frank Butler, the man whom Annie loves and nearly loses because she surpasses him at marksmanship.

Their rivalry is celebrated in one of Berlin's wittiest songs, "Anything You Can Do, I Can Do Better", a duet in which they not only boast of outdoing each other at precision in riflery, but also in talking faster, singing sweeter, singing louder and buying things cheaper and their reconciliation is revealed in still another Berlin song-hit, when Annie ruefully realizes that "You Can't Get a Man With a Gun".

In addition to Annie and Frank there's a secondary romance

"YEAH, YOU GOT EYES!" --- exclaims Ruta Lee as Annie Oakley, as she gazes with awe into the countenance of James Hurst as Frank Butler, who has eyes only for her gun. Annie is smitten and stays so throughout "Annie Get Your Gun", is the happiest, laughingest of all musicals boasting 14 hit songs by Irving Berlin and a book by Herbert and Dorothy Fields. The show opens the 11th season at Casa Manana May 20 through June 1. Performances begin at 8:15 p.m. Monday through Saturday nights, with matinees at 2:30 p.m. on Saturdays. Reservations may be made by going to the theater or calling the Box Office at ED 2-6221, or the Preston Ticket Agency in Dallas (EM 3-9311).

One of the newer varieties is a hybrid hullless corn called Minhybrid, developed by the Minnesota Experiment Station. Higher yield and greater expansion when popped are other virtues.

County Agent Report

by Don Callahan

The outlook for a pecan crop for Coryell County looks good at time. There are clusters on trees that go as high as seven to eight per cluster. But with the rains coming at the time of blooming and setting may cause some of the nuts not to mature.

The cold weather has held the emergence of the Pecan Nut Casebearer Moth. Pecan growers are urged to check their orchards for eggs of the casebearer. Growers should check the blossom end and if they find a bluish-green dot or white dot on the pecan, these are eggs laid by the casebearer moth. If one or more eggs are found in one cluster out of five it is time to spray.

The insecticide, Sevin, at the rate of four pounds of the 50% wettable powder per 100 gallons of water, is excellent for control. The addition of two pounds of zinc sulfate per hundred gallons can be sprayed at the same time to aid in the control of rosetts.

A sprayer with 400 to 600 pounds of pressure should be used to do an effective job of spraying. Covering the pecan nut cluster with the spray is the most important factor in control of the Pecan Nut Casebearer.

If the weather continues to range in the 50's and 60's at night, it will probably be May 25th before themoths will emerge in heavy population to justify spraying. But growers are urged to check their orchards to see if they have a heavy enough set of pecans to economically spray their orchards and also check to see if there are casebearer eggs to justify spraying.

The Unexpected Guest by Betty Crocker

Now here's a challenge. It's 6:00 o'clock, the chops are cooking — then Dad calls and he's bringing a guest for dinner. Problem: how do you stretch one chop per person into a company-style dinner? Solution: you bake a batch of beautiful biscuits and take the emphasis off the meat shortage. Or serve pretty Parker House Rolls, piping-hot with lots of butter, and let them steal the show. Or when the menu's based on spaghetti, salad or soup, do as the Romans do and serve buttery bread sticks. It's a foolproof strategy. Tempting hot breads make even a budget meal look like a banquet — and you, a homey hostess. Here's your double-quick formula.

ROLLED BISCUITS

2 cups New Bisquick
1/2 cup cold water
Heat oven to 450°. Stir ingredients with fork to a soft dough. Gently smooth dough into a ball on floured cloth-covered board. Knead 5 times. Roll 1/4 inch thick. Cut with 2-inch floured cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet 8 to 10 minutes. Makes 10 to 12 biscuits.

Quick Parker House Rolls: Follow recipe for Rolled Biscuits (above) except — roll dough 1/4 inch thick and cut with 2 1/2-inch biscuit cutter. Brush each round lightly with melted butter and fold in half, pressing edges together. Place rolls close together in ungreased 9x1 1/2-inch round layer or 9x9x2-inch square pan. Makes 12 to 16.

Butter Sticks: Heat oven to 450°. Melt 1/2 cup butter or margarine in oblong pan, 13x9x2 inches. Follow recipe for Rolled Biscuits (left) except — roll dough into rectangle, 10x6 inches. Cut lengthwise in half. Cut each half into 12 strips, each about 3/4 inch wide. Dip each stick in melted butter to coat all sides; arrange in pan. Bake 12 to 15 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 24 sticks.

More speedy secrets: Serve a tray of crisp relishes with the before dinner beverages. Convert a peach into a fancy dessert with a dollop of sour cream and sprinkling of brown sugar. Keep a well-stocked emergency shelf and you're always ready for the unexpected.

Making your ear attentive to wisdom and inclining your heart to understanding.

—(Prov. 2:2).

Before trying to get along with others we must try to understand ourselves. Then we can improve the things that need it, so that the more understanding we have of ourselves, the better we will understand others. Prayer is the way to understanding for it gives us patience and enables us to be tolerant.

Rural Community Systems Improve

"Rural community progress in Texas has been spurred by the development of 436 modern water systems, sewer systems and recreation centers through the Farmers Home Administration," said Coryell County Supervisor Van Stephens.

Stephens reported on benefits brought to the state under Rural Community Facilities programs that have been enlarged under President Johnson's efforts to improve living conditions in rural areas.

Water supply problems have been solved for more than 180,000 people in rural Texas through 418 water supply systems made possible by FHA loans and grants totaling more than $54 million. The new systems serve both rural towns and countryside where the people have had to exist on uncertain and, sometimes, unsafe water supplies.

Stephens reported that three rural communities in the state also have new or improved waste disposal systems through out Texas underway from application stage to those under construction.

"We are beginning to make real progress toward the President's goal of clean, constant water for all of rural America," Stephens said. "Towns benefited by the program are able to improve living standards and accommodate new business and industry when they can offer the same kind of water service as found in the city."

"A typical effect," Stephens said, "is seen at Fort Gates where 35 new houses have been built since a community water system was completed in 1964."

Through insurance of private loan financing, the Agency also has made possible the construction of 15 outdoor recreation centers developed by community associations and serving an estimated 13,500 people in rural Texas.

The centers give rural families the same opportunity as city and suburban dwellers to enjoy modern swimming pools, playing fields, golf, boating and other forms of outdoor recreation.

Stephens said the Agency has also made grants to 60 counties of the state for comprehensive planning of the future development of water and waste disposal services in rural areas.

THIRST QUENCHERS

To quench that summer thirst of innumerable gardeners, two new varieties of melon make their debut in 1968.

One is an early-bearing hybrid—Burpee Crenshaw—which takes 90 days from seed planting to reach edibility. The oval fruits, pointed at the stem end, weigh up to 14 pounds each and have that traditional delicious Crenshaw flavor.

Their skins are dark green, entirely without netting, and they turn yellowish green when ripe enough to pick and eat. The flesh is thick and salmon-pink in color.

The vines on which these melons are produced are healthy and vigorous. And the length of season required to grow them to fruiting means that these melons can be grown almost anywhere.

The second new melon is a

WASHINGTON REPORT

Bring A Better Life To Farmers

The time has come to do something for the American farmer, to balance the costs of modern farming with prices in the market place for their crops.

That's what we mean when we talk about "bargaining power for farmers"—the right to bargain with the middle-men to get a fair price for their crops.

I am cosponsoring a bill with Senator Walter Mondale of Minnesota which I believe will help correct the dangerous cost-price imbalance which is driving families off the farms. Our "bargaining power" bill will create a National Agriculture Relations Board made up of producers and buyers to set standards for buying and selling farm products and to let farmers participate in setting prices for their products. Today farmers are largely unorganized from a marketing standpoint. They are captives of a vicious market demand system. They have no collective strength to take to the bargaining table and to tell buyers "meet my price and leave me room for a fair profit." Instead they must take what is offered and often that is pitifully little.

The farmer has always been the foundation of our national prosperity, but the sad truth is that while our national economy has reached record heights, farm earnings have sunk to record lows. And, of course, farm costs have gone up like costs everywhere. Labor is more expensive; farm machinery and fuels are more costly; seeds, fertilizers and crop chemicals all represent greater outlays now than a decade or two ago.

All these things cost more today than they did in the 1940's or 1950's but farm prices have actually dropped 9 per cent since then.

It is worth noting that while food prices have spiraled upward in the past two decades, the farmers' earnings have gone steadily downward. In Texas, nearly half of our farmers earn less than $5,000 a year, although most have a large investment in land, machinery and farm tools. Farm employment has dropped 46 per cent in the past 17 years. Part of that is because of mechanization, new machines that make it easier to work the soil. But other farmers quit their land to keep from going broke, driven off by low farm prices. So farmers and farm workers are moving off the farm and into the cities, forced to seek another life in the concrete jungles of the streets.

A poll in this month's FARM JOURNAL magazine shows that nine out of ten American farmers want Congress to create a climate for bargaining power. Nine out of ten say they need better prices from processors and buyers if they are to surlive. Farm prosperity is of the utmost importance to Texas. We have over 300,000 farm families in Texas, more than any other state.

That is why I support the Mondale "bargaining power for farmers" proposal. It will bring a better life to our farmers; a stabilizing force to our economy.

PRICE SUPPORT RATES ANNOUNCED

1968 price support rates have been announced - for Oats $0.74 per bushel and Wheat, $1.35 per bushel.

Hailed Out Wheat

If you are signed up in the Wheat Program and have had any wheat that has been hailed out, be sure to check with the office before putting this acreage to any other use. If destroyed wheat acreage is planted to grain sorghum, the acreage will count both wheat and grain sorghum, unless reclassified. It must also be reclassified if used for diverted acreage.

Producer Certification

If you overplanted your grain and under planted your grain sorghum and corn and are signed up in both programs you are automatically in substitution. If you are out of tolerance on your total permitted you will be out of both programs.

Measuring Service

This office offers measuring service on request. Farmers desiring to have planted or diverted acreage measured prior to certification date of August 1, may request the service through July 1. The cost must be paid by the farmer. This is not a requirement. The farmer may do his own measuring.

Price Support Payments

In order to qualify for price support payments on planted cotton and feed grain acreages on participating farms, the crops must be planted and cultivated in a workmanlike manner with the expectation of producing a normal crop. If the crop is destroyed by natural causes, or planting is prevented due to weather conditions, replanting or planting will not be required after the following dates:

Feed Grain - June 1st
Cotton - June 15th

If the crop is destroyed and not replanted, or planting is prevented, the farmer must file application if acreage credit is received.

Soybean Champions Develop Plan To Boost 1968 Soybean Yields

National Soybean Council of Champions presents original copy of the 1968 "Champions Plan" to Secretary Orville L. Freeman.

Four of the nation's top soybean growers have drawn up a 1968 "Champions Plan" as a production guide for all soybean growers. Purpose of the Plan is to boost both yields and profits from the 1968 soybean crop.

The Champions' Plan is a combination of award-winning production practices, found effective by the four-member Soybean Council of Champions. Soybean growers who follow the new Plan can increase their individual yields by five to six bushels per acre over the national average. Such an increase could double net returns per acre, the Champions report.

The Plan is a practical guide of key management practices that greatly affect soybean yields. The Champions report that greater emphasis must be placed upon better varieties, more effective weed control, higher fertility, correct soil pH, and seeding rate, as outlined in the Champions' Plan. Biggest factor limiting soybean yields and profits is careful management in all phases of soybean production.

The four members of the National Soybean Council of Champions represent all major soybean areas. Their 1967 yields averaged 74.3 bushels per acre — more than three times the national soybean yield average. Council members include Harris Barnes, Clarksdale, Miss.; Dean Chandler, Herrick, Ill.; Maurice Gray, Highland, Kansas; and Ted Mitchell, Youngsville, N.C.

Agriculture Secretary, Orville Freeman, received the Champions in his Washington office to discuss the Plan's recommendations. The Champions reported that increases in 1968 yields and profits will help make possible more competitive soybean prices, as well as give U.S. farmers a welcome boost in farm income.

SPoon FISHING...and other tips
BY TOM ANDREWS

"SILVER" LURES TRAVEL BEST
Some fishermen, like me, travel a lot. Others, and you may be one of them, can only fish new waters once a year at vacation time. Yet both of us have felt the need for a lure that would work well anytime, anywhere.

When I started analyzing this problem some time ago, I discovered that it came in two parts. It wasn't enough just to settle on a particular type of lure, I learned. You also had to be concerned with the color of that lure.

Fortunately, it didn't take me long to nail down the kinds of lures that would serve well no matter where they were used, the season, or the weather. The spoon and the jig won hands down. Why? Well, if either lure has the weight and shape of a Johnson Silver Minnow or "Lucky" Lujon, for example, it can be cast or trolled, fished slow or fast. It will work well in fresh or salt water, swift rivers or sluggish backwaters, deep glacier lakes or shallow farm ponds.

The problems I had in appreciating the importance of color are still kind of embarrassing, but they were finally solved in just one exciting week several years ago. I was out with friends on a San Diego party boat. I had given each of them a "Lucky" Lujon and we were anxious to see how this jigging-type lure would work on yellowtails. Because we intended to cast and retrieve, we were put on the bow apart from the cut-bait fisherman. Well, we weren't apart for long! Within an hour, we were arm-weary from hauling in 15- and 20-lb. yellow-tails — and tongue-weary from identifying our "bait," the "Lucky" Lujon.

Two days later, I was in St. Louis on business, and on Thursday morning was flown out to Eganell Dam at Lake of the Ozarks for a few hours of bass fishing. There were three Lujons left in my tackle box and I shared them with my companion and the guide. The guide had told us not to expect too much; heavy rains had been providing free meals for the fish.

It didn't take us quite half an hour to speed the pace of the action. We had the guide hooting with glee as he netted bass after bass. We just cast our Lujons as far as possible, let them sink for several seconds, then started retrieving with steady reel speed and constant raising and lowering of the rod tip.

The same routine was faithfully duplicated the following Saturday when, with my wife and son, we ran the long swells due east of Jacksonville, Fla., and filled the transom of our 20-footer with Spanish mackerel.

And while filleting those mackerel I realized that, in two oceans and a body of fresh water, I had enjoyed great luck with a jig — one with a silvery finish (the Lujon is nickel-plated).

Since that time, I've never seen a lure that could "travel" better than a silver or silvery-finished spoon or jig.

Rains Halt League Opening

Little League Baseball failed to start on schedule this week because of the heavy rains. Jim Miller, Commissioner, rescheduled the opening ceremonies and the first games for Thursday, May 23. The first game will be between defending champions Methodist Men and the Fire Department, starting at 6:30 for the Freshman League.

Originally scheduled as a single game on Friday night, May 17, the rescheduling to Thursday will be a double header with Jones Cleaners and Jackson Insurance starting at 8:00 p.m.

Commissioner Miller reported Monday that Mayor Bob Miller would officially open the season between the two games on Thursday.

This year, 17 teams will play 110 games at two local parks. Some 250 young men will compete in the three leagues, hoping to finish on top at the July ending date.

The Cummings Insurance - Coca Cola contest originally scheduled for Saturday night, May 18, will be rescheduled for later this season.

Following Thursday night's doubleheader, things will get down to regular schedule as follows:

In the Junior League, Friday, May 24 - Guaranty Bank vs. National Bank, Saturday, May 25 - Scott's Furniture vs. Messengers.

In the Freshman League, Friday, May 24 - Dairy Queen vs. Cable-Vision, Saturday, May 25 - Cummings Insurance vs. Jackson Insurance.

Sentence Saturday morning and showed no emotion concerning the verdict or sentence.

Sheriff Windy Cummings transported Mr. Paul to Texas Department of Correction facilities in Huntsville, Texas on Monday, May 20th.
