

Trash-Rubbish Pickup Begins Wednesday

The City will begin the new trash pickup service Wednesday, July 24.

The service has been planned for sometime with truck lease or buying the major problem to be overcome.

The city has leased a truck from Bill Walters and arranged for Mr. Walter to drive the truck during the trash-rubbish pickup.

The service begins tomorrow on the north side of Main Street and the entire Westview Addition. The following Wednesday, the truck route will be all areas south of Main Street not serviced the previous week.

The crew will not pick up waste which can be included in regular collection. The service is designated to remove such trash as grass clippings, tree limbs, junk, discarded furniture and rocks.

It will be necessary for all trash to be in containers for easy disposal.

One D.W. Reported Over Weekend

"The weekend was quiet," reports Police Chief, Gene Goins.

Only one person was picked up over the weekend. Clay Cupps, city patrolman, apprehended a man Sunday morning and charged him with DWI, 1st offense.

The man was fined $50 and $42 court cost in city court and released.

MEDICAL SOCIETY WAGES WAR AGAINST MEASLES

The Coryell County Medical Association will carry on a Measles Immunization program on August 6, 1968, at the Gatesville High School.

The vaccine will be administered by Coryell County doctors volunteering their time. The program is aimed at all children from 12 months of age through school grades 1 and 2, who have not had regular 10-day measles or previous measles vaccination.

The following registration form filled out prior to August 6 will speed up handling of the immunization.

REGISTRATION FORM

Here is the registration form for the campaign to end measles to be conducted in Coryell County. Measles vaccine will be given at Gatesville High School, Tuesday, August 6, 1968 between 1 and 4 p.m. Read the form carefully and bring it to the school.

WHO SHOULD HAVE MEASLES VACCINE:

Children 12 months through grades 1 and 2, who have not had regular (10 day) measles or previous measles vaccination. (Children who have had either of these already are immune and need no additional protection).

WHO SHOULD NOT HAVE MEASLES VACCINE:

Children sick with high fever on the day of the vaccine program.

Children who are highly allergic.

Children who are being treated for cancer, leukemia or tuberculosis.

If a child is under a doctor's care at the time of the clinic, consult the doctor beforehand.

All children must be accompanied by a parent or other responsible adult over 21 years of age.

Connally Cuts 1.3 Million From Legislative Bill

AUSTIN — Gov. John Connally Saturday, sliced $1.3 million from the legislature's giant something-for-everybody spending bill and expressed apologies that he was unable to trim more fat.

In a tersely worded statement, announcing his vetoes the governor scolded lawmakers for their handling of the $2.6 billion appropriations measure written in closing hours of the recent special session.

Much of his ire was directed at a $1.4 million spending program for the Department of Agriculture that was more than twice the amount allocated for current operations.

The appropriations bill, written for the most part in secrecy by a 10-member conference committee, earmarked $1,444,725 to the Agriculture Department to spend on a wide variety of programs. Connally said that this lump-sum method of appropriations "is of grave concern to me" because it prevented his exercising control over special spending programs.

The governor noted that in his recommendations to the legislature he proposed specific programs for the Agriculture Department to follow in developing and improving the state's ranch and farm products.

"My recommendations have been specific and directed toward a particular end so that an evaluation could be made of purposes and results and the magnitude of financial commitment intended," Connally said.

The governor's recommendations called for an expenditure of $773,608 for the new fiscal year beginning Sept. 1, slightly less than earmarked for current spending.

Instead of following his specific recommendation or even abiding by its own past program of spending, the legislature in adopting the appropriations measure turned to the lump sum method of expenditures.

The appropriation to the Agriculture Department lumps various items into a single appropriation of $1,441,725.

"Such a method of appropriation represents a blatant attempt to protect unnecessary and unwarranted appropriations by combination with other appropriations which are legitimate and beneficial," said Connally.

This practice, said the governor, is "nothing less than an abdication of legislative responsibility."

Not only does the legislature deny itself the right to establish priorities in spending, said Connally, the method of severely inhibits the chief executive from exercising his constitutional responsibility.

"The chief executive must either strike the entire appropriation from the law and with one stroke of the pen blank out all the beneficial and necessary parts of the appropriations along with abusive and unnecessary ones, or pass over the whole appropriation with its waste and excessiveness intact."

Connally said he was refraining from vetoing the entire program because it does contain "a number of worthwhile and meritorious expenditures."

Nevertheless, he said, "I am expressing my profound concern that this method of appropriation, if it becomes a matter of common and pervasive legislative practice, could lead to the most pernicious waste of the financial resources of this state that our history may record."

One of the most costly items struck from the 399-page spending bill was a $600,000 allocation to the controllers office.

$600,000 allocation to the comptroller's office.

This expenditure was not contained in either House or Senate versions of the appropriations measure but was mysteriously added to the document by the 10-member conference committee, meeting in secret.

It was intended to move the comptroller's office into a prefabricated building, to be constructed on state hospital grounds as temporary quarters for the agency until the new $7 million financial building is completed.

Purpose of the sudden move was to clear space in the Capitol for the House and Senate to provide additional office quarters for senators and representatives.

This space would be available anyway late next year when the finance building is completed.

After newspaper accounts pinpointed the mysterious $600,000 item, Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon, chairman of the Senate Contingent Expense Committee and Rep. Ralph Wayne of Plainview, chairman of the House Administration Committee, sent Connally a message saying the expenditure was not needed.

There was no mention of the news stories, but the two lawmakers said unforeseen difficulties had arisen that would boost the cost above the original estimates.

In his veto message Connally noted that an alternative agreement had been worked out to provide additional space for legislative offices and the $600,000 spending was not now needed.

Connally hoped $91,000 in salaries intended for hiring 13 briefing clerks for the courts of civil appeals, saying the jobs were not included in any original budget requests from the courts.

"Although some attempt at justification was made before the legislature," said Connally, "the need for this new position had not been adequately demonstrated."

He eliminated proposed spending of $275,000 for installation of two new automatic ele-

Regina Balch Week Proclaimed

Regina Balch Shines In Miss Texas Pageant

Diane Huggins, a bouncy burnet from Tyler, woke up Sunday morning wearing the typical beauty face she prescribed for her audience the night before -- a happy one.

Diane, a 20-year-old junior at Stephen F. Austin and Miss Nacogdoches at the pageant, had a good reason for smiles.

With a 35-23-35 build and a rollicking "put on a happy face" routine in a mini-clown suit, she captured the Miss Texas of 1968 title.

The talented dancer said earlier she "never thought I had a chance" for the coveted crown. "This morning Sunday when I woke up I had to look for my crown to be sure I wasn't dreaming," she said always smiling.

Her mother, though, never doubted Diane's choice for royalty.

"I wasn't really surprised," Mrs. Leroy Huggins commented. She was always a queen to me. In becoming Miss Texas, Diane, followed a precedent set by the reigning queen, of 1967, Qualified Musicians Needed by U.S.

Air Force

T/Sgt Buchanan, Local Air Force Recruiter, announced today that the Air Force is in need of highly qualified musicians. The need is not restricted to any particular instrument.

Sgt. Buchanan pointed out that the musicians must be able to sight-read music and successfully pass an audition by an Air Force Band Director.

Qualified and select applicants can look forward to a career as a musician with an Air Force Band, which would be their only duty. Sgt. Buchanan stressed that this would be a wonderful opportunity for qualified young men and women to work in a profession they enjoy while serving their country, and fulfilling their military obligation.

For full details on a rewarding career as a bandsman in the United States Air Force, contact T/Sgt. Glynn Buchanan at 501 Franklin, Room 301 Waco, Texas or call PL6-6511 Ext. 201.

Gatesville's bid for the coveted title of Miss Texas 1968 was pinned on Miss Regina Balch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rabon Balch of Route 4, Gatesville.

Throughout the competition, Regina, her charm coupled with her many talents, shined forth as a fine representative of Gatesville.

Gina, 19, is a student at Kilgore Junior College, where she is a Rangerette sergeant. She was the 1967 - 68 state Pecan Queen.

The lovely Miss Balch stands five feet, five inches and has brown hair, brown eyes and an olive complexion.

As a tribute to Miss Balch, the week of July 21 - 27 has been proclaimed Regina Balch Week. The text of the proclamation states:

WHEREAS, Miss Regina Balch is a young lady who has won many honors and whose poise, personality and graciousness have brought credit to herself and Gatesville during her many appearances over the state, and

WHEREAS, she is one of the most glamorous members of the famed Kilgore Rangerettes; and WHEREAS, Gina reigned with charm as the Texas Pecan Queen in 1967 - 68; and

WHEREAS, she won the Miss Gatesville 1968 title over an exceptionally beautiful and talented field in the local pageant; and

WHEREAS, she is representing our city with striking distinction in the Miss Texas pageant; and

WHEREAS, Gina Balch symbolizes the extraordinary youth with which our city is so richly blessed and to whom we look for an imaginative future;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Robert J. Miller, as Mayor of Gatesville, designate the week of July 21 - 27 as REGINA BALCH WEEK in Gatesville and enjoin all our citizens to join me in extending a warm commendation and sincere congratulations to this outstanding young lady.

A reception in honor of Gina will be held at the Chateau Ville Dining Room tonight at 8:00 o'clock. All Gatesville residents are urged to attend the reception to say "thanks" to our Miss Gatesville.

"MY OLD ROOSTER"

by Roland Magill

When I've lost a lot of sleep
And think I'll sleep all night
So I lay my old frame down
And I'm sleeping good and tight.
Then I'm galvanized to life
For without a bit of warning
The old red rooster starts to crow
At four o'clock in the morning.

He's done this now for years
Ever since he learned to crow
A man can only stand so much
Then something has to blow.
Tho I love the old red rooster
And I'm a patient man
But if he wants to crow his Fool head off, I'll help him all I can.

A bird that's crowed for seven
Years, is old enough to know
He should wait till sun up
If he thinks he has to crow.
Dad burn a crowing rooster
I've had all I'm gonna take
The only thing left undecided
"Do I want him boiled or baked?"
He'll need pear boiling, that I know
But that old rooster's gotta go.

Worms are for the early bird
And are very habit forming
At his blast they hunt a hole
At four o'clock in the morning.
I knew if he didn't cut it out
And save his breath
Every worm would go in hiding
And starve the old fool to death.

My old rooster crowed his head off
Where did his spirit go
I wonder if they have a home
For old roosters down below.
Will he be allowed a harem
To tidy up his roost
Will they trimble at his voice
When he cuts his dogs a loose?

Just when I'm busy saying thanks
Tucked oh, so snug abed
Then a blast like Gabriel's horn
That would raise the dead.
Do old roosters live again?
I often think it may be so
For without a bit of warning
At exactly four in the morning
I still hear old Nicodemus crow.

Handley To Speak To Farmers Union

Texas Farmers Union field coordinator for South Texas, Bryan C. Handley of San Marcos will address the members of the Coryell County Farmers Union Thursday, July 25, at 8:00 p.m. in the Civic Room of the National Bank of Gatesville.

Medical Facilities

On July 16, Mrs. Hostetler, FHA Advisor and five Evant FHA officers met in the Homemaking Dept. for an executive meeting. They finished their plans for the 1968-69 yearbook. Some of the ideas for programs they have planned are films, panel discussions, skits and talks by some of the adults in Evant.

Their calendar of work was discussed and committee chairmen were elected.

Officers present were Marilyn Green, Joyce Thomas, Debbie Perry, Patsy Rodgers and Debbie Flippin.

They also planned to invite all present and incoming members to join them on a tour through the Gatesville Hospital and the Rotunda and for a swim at the pool after the tour. The tour took place Monday, July 22.

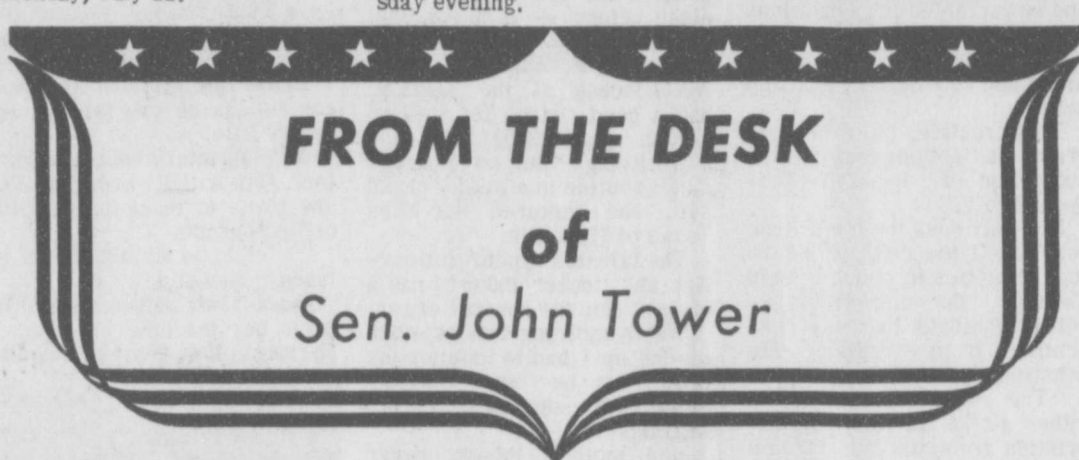

All area farmers and ranchers are invited to hear Mr. Handley speak. The topic of the meeting will be the Mondale Bill as the National Agricultural Bargaining Act is called, after Senator Mondale (D-Minn.), who introduced the important agricultural legislation.

Handley

Handley is known in South Texas for his knowledge of the Mondale Bill and his presentation of what the bill is and what it means to the American Farmer and Rancher.

The Union again urges all farmers and others interested in agricultural legislation to attend the open meeting, Thursday evening.

Texans have been sending me a record volume of mail in recent weeks sharing with me their views on guns and gun control. If you have written me and have not yet received a reply, I hope you will be patient. The volume of mail has overwhelmed my office's capacity to reply promptly.

In any event, I have already told you on this program and in many speeches around the state that while I am in agreement with the need for mailrestrictions on all sorts of firearms, I am not in favor of federal licensing or registration of guns.

There is, however, another very important area of federal concern. And, that is the need for prompt action to disarm not law-abiding citizens, but criminals. Your letters tell me in no uncertain terms of your own concern about this need.

It is clear that none of the present gun-control bills gets to the heart of this problem of reducing the criminal use of guns. I have, therefore, joined in sponsoring a bill which directly attacks the gun all of us are most worried about -- the gun in the hands of the criminal.

My bill would make it an additional punishable crime to use any firearm in the commission of any felony that breaks federal law.

This is not a complicated proposal. It is so simple I think any criminal or prospective criminal can understand it. It provides a mandatory jail sentence as punishment for any federal crime committed with a firearm. The length of this jail sentence would depend upon the seriousness of the crime and upon mitigating circumstances which the courts would consider -- but it could run up to life imprisonment.

Let's take a look at the reasons such a new law is needed.

In the year 1966 in our country 6500 murders were committed with firearms. 100,000 Americans were victims of rape or assault or robbery committed by criminals with guns. 55 policemen died in the line of duty of gunshot wounds.

It is clear that for the peace

Major Deavers was commissioned in 1951 through the aviation cadet program. He received his B.S. degree in 1965 from Texas A & M University.

The major's wife, Shirley, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.A. McDonald of San Angelo, Texas.

"Whatsoever Things"

By DONALD E. WILDMON

In Chicago Police Lt. Emmett J. McCormack rushed to a currency exchange and arrested a man who later was charged with armed robbery. "Everything seemed sort of familiar," said McCormack. And it should have. He arrested the same man 20 years earlier on the same charge and--you guessed it--at the same currency exchange!

And then up in Idaho another strange incident happened. A bottle tossed into the Portneuf River was found 38 years later by workers on a Pocatello flood control project. Inside the bottle was a yellowed note: "This bottle was thrown into the Portneuf River at Pocatello, Idaho, March 31, 1930. Finder please write to Eva Brockway, Robert Brockway and Mayme Brockway." The workmen contacted a retired railroad engineer, Clarence Brockway, of Pocatello. He said that Mayme was his wife. Eva was his daughter, and Robert was his son.

Back several hundred years ago a fellow by the name of Koheleth, who was a preacher, said these words: "Cast your bread upon the waters, for you will find it after many days." Maybe the two incidents above are evidence of this truth. But the truth of the statement covers more than incidents like those. There are other things that come back to us if and when we cast them.

One of the things that comes back to us is the good that we do. The good that we do is never wasted no matter how much it may seem like it is. And the good we do will come back to us eventually. It doesn't always have the fairy-book ending that we like to place with it but our good will return to us.

And love is another thing that if we will cast it upon the waters of human experience will return to us. The best way to be loved and lovely is to love. Fact about the business is that it is the only way. You see, if we will love them we will be loved. It is just that simple.

The Man of Galilee said that with what judgement we judge, we would be judged with. You see, if we do good people will do good to us. And if we love, then people will love us. He wasn't the first to say it, but He was the first to put it in the proper setting when He said, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." That may seem childish, and too simple, and old-fashioned, and out of step with modern man, but it is true. It is still one of the best rules on which to build one's life. J. C. Penney believed in it so much that he built a financial empire on it. Ever heard of the "Golden Rule Stores"? They were the forerunner to the J. C. Penney stores.

One indisputable law of life we need to learn early is this--whatever we cast upon the waters of life will come back to us. It would be a better world if all of us would learn that. Maybe then we would cast out bread that we would like to get back.

National Political Convention's TV Know-It-All

A gavel brings to order a political convention. But who brings order to the million details that go into the gavel-to-gavel coverage of political conventions on television? Behind the NBC coverage of the Republican and Democrat conventions are a dozen unit managers whose job it is to see to everything from housing and headpieces to "how can we get this done in time?"

One of these men is Gene Whitlock who has been a unit manager for various NBC shows since 1956. At the conventions he is the NBC unit manager in charge of production and related business matters for Gulf Oil Corporation, which again is sponsoring the television and radio coverage. Mr. Whitlock sees to it that the film libraries at both convention sites have the programmed commercials ready for use at the right time. He knows the running time and the intricacies of scheduling. He works with the advertising agencies in assuring the air quality of the film or tape and he must be ready for every contingency. If a sudden shift in schedule comes, such as "Drop Reel Number 106 and get Reel Number 127 on tape for the next break," Mr. Whitlock has to be able to quickly coordinate the network operations and insure the changes.

Mr. Whitlock must know a thousand things about the convention hall, the city, the political parties and their various candidates. Long before the convention opening, he has surveyed both the Miami and Chicago convention sites to learn the ins and outs, basements and lofts of the halls and the housing, food and transportation situations of both cities. He must sit on planning committee meetings and know how to obtain credential clearances and how to make one ticket to the gallery do the work of ten tickets, all within the tight regulations of convention halls and the respective party planning executive committees.

"Political conventions are just about the most exciting assignment you can get," said Mr. Whitlock. "It is very encouraging to see people become more and more interested in them. More people are recognizing that delegates to a convention are deciding a very important matter: who will be leading the country and arrange-ing their lives for the next four years.

For Mr. Whitlock this assignment appeals to his deepest scholastic interest. He majored in history at Brown University, where he was graduated in 1954. "Reading history as recorded in a book is just not as exciting as seeing it enacted on a convention floor," he said. "In the roll call of states you feel the power of democracy working right before your eyes."

New Regulations Under Study by LCB

Texas Liquor Control Board is studying new regulations for private clubs where "spirits" are sold.

Members won't reveal the recommendations that were submitted to them by Acting Administrator, O.N. Humphreys, Jr. until after careful study.

Last set of regulations banning cash sales in the clubs and curbing the issuance of guest cards by manager-members was knocked out by a district court order in May.

Humphreys termed the new rules "workable" but "not rigid."

Meanwhile, he submitted a long report on the steps taken to restore public confidence in the LCB which has been hard hit on investigation of irregularities.

Humphreys detailed steps taken to upgrade personnel and improve administration, case handling and record keeping.

At their July 18 meeting, the board also:

*Approved retirement for LCB Enforcement Chief, A.R. Cartledge and named as his temporary replacement Don Fishell, 39.

*Announced that a permanent successor to resigned Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. will be appointed in 30 to 60 days.

*Acknowledged that Stevenson told members he had received an expensive watch as a gift but they did not question his acceptance of it.

*Reported law enforcement activities and collections are on a substantial increase over last year.

"The future looks good," commented Chairman M. D. Noel, of Odessa, who is scheduled to step down soon after 16 years of service.

TAX BILL LAW

Now there's no way out of paying those new taxes approved by the Legislature in special session. Gov. John Connally has signed into law the bill which is designed to raise $160.2 million for 1969 state operations. It's effective October 1, and here's what it does:

*Raises the general sales and auto sales tax rates from two to three per cent statewide. In cities which levy 1% local option sales taxes the rate will be four per cent. (No change was made in exemptions.)

*Increases the corporation franchise tax rate (collectible May 1) from $2.25 to $2.75 per $1,000 of taxable capital, surplus and undivided profits. Portion of the franchise tax on corporate debt will be reduced from $2.25 to $2.00 in 1969 and phased out by 1973.

TOURIST RECORD

IN MAKING

Tourist travel is expected to far surpass all previous records this year, according to State Highway Department's travel and information division soundings.

One Highway Department travel bureau on Interstate Highway 10, near Orange, reported "customers" for the first half of 1968 were more than doubled total for January - June 1967. Ninety percent of the visitors were on their way to the HemisFair in San Antonio.

All eight established bureaus run by the Highway Department reported big increases. Total services went up 14.2 per cent for the first half of this year compared with the same period in 1967. Travel and information division said its mail inquiries are up 27 per cent.

Last year Texas was visited by 20.6 million persons who spent $1.2 billion. This was an eight per cent increase in visitors over 1966 and an 11 per cent jump in spending.

COURTS SPEAK

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has urged the U.S. Supreme Court to reconsider its decision that the Texas tidelands boundaries must be measured from 10.3 miles of shoreline as it existed in 1845, without regard to recessions.

State Supreme Court reversed an $862,000 verdict favoring foreign car dealers. They had sued the city of Houston for flood damages to autos, claiming inadequate drainage.

High court set October 16 for review of the lower court orders, directing a charter be granted to Mission Savings and Loan Association, San Antonio. Court said National Surety must pay $18,237 against the Corporation has a valid judgment of $18,237 against the Friendswood Independent School District, Galveston County, but cannot collect.

It ordered a new trial in a Hanford County landowners' suit against a professional wheatcutter whose truck started a fire in his field.

Third Court of Civil Appeals held that the State Board of Education could order a hearing on the appeal of a Lumberman school superintendent who was fired by a local board. Third Court directed a new trial in a case involving disannexation of 550 acres of land from Temple.

ATTORNEY

GENERAL RULES

City cannot force on a landowner higher air control standards than those set by State Air Control Board, Attorney General Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

A Texan is qualified to vote in a local liquor election if he resided in the state a year, the county six months before election and is a resident of the city where the election is held. Dallas County Hospital District has no authority to build and operate a crime laboratory.

State Insurance Commissioner has authority to release a surety bond on an insurance company that is in receivership when all claims are satisfied and when the one-year statutory time limit is satisfied.

Board of Vocational Nurses Examiners cannot vary fees set by state law. Plaintiff could not recover for faulty workmanship, labor and materials and/or negligence under a surety bond required by the Water Well Drillers Act.

APPOINTMENTS

Dr. Bevington A. Reed, 58, was named to succeed Dr. Jack K. Williams as Texas Commissioner of Higher Education effective September 1.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith named three senators to a new committee to study state park needs: Joe Christie of El Paso, Doreen Hardeman of San Angelo, Roy Harrington of Port Arthur, Charles Herring of Austin, Don Kennard of Fort Worth, Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi and Murray Watson Jr. of Waco.

State Republican Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. designated Jim Campbell of Pampa as acting deputy state GOP chairman for the Panhandle - Northern Texas Region V, temporarily replacing Bryce V. Beard, Amarillo. O'Donnell appointed Mrs. Pierce P. Langford Jr. of Wichita Falls Region V as deputy state vice-chairman.

August has been declared by Governor Connally as Youth Month at HemisFair.

Ben Barnes, Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, heads a statewide committee to organize special youth excursions to the Fair. He is meeting with youth leaders in key cities in Texas to plan the August trips.

Special - low cost, package-plan excursions, including overnight accommodations in San Antonio, have been developed by HemisFair to tie in with the program.

Any youth group in Texas desiring to participate in "Operation Youthlift" should contact Hemis Fair Headquarters or the Speaker's office at the state capitol.

Remove Foreign Investment Curbs NAM Recommends

The National Association of Manufacturers has urged the federal government to remove immediately the "contradictory features of the direct foreign investment control program" and set a date for the elimination of this and other restrictions on investment abroad, "regardless of our specific balance-of-payments position."

The Association said that such controls "are not only self-defeating but eventually will undermine the foundations of international prosperity just as allowing the balance-of-payments deficits to accumulate unchecked."

Objectives

The NAM objectives in dealing with the present international monetary crisis are to preserve and foster world trade and economic development. But as the purpose of the international monetary system is to facilitate the flow of investment, goods, and people, "a host of controls on private-sector transactions is too high a price to pay for the uncertain hope that such might salvage the monetary status quo."

As the correct solution to the balance-of-payments problem, the NAM called for fiscal and monetary restraint, accent on incentives, and over the long term, a limitation on the outflow of funds from the public sector—the source of the payments problem over the years—at least to the amount of inflows earned by the private sector.

Investment Controls

"Before investment controls become deeply rooted in the structure of international finance and decisions on market development, a definite commitment should be made to dismantle them," the statement said.

"Otherwise, if the controls appear to produce a temporary improvement in our international payments, there is real danger that we would come to rely permanently on this crutch—to the detriment of our own and the free world's economy. A specific date for at least their partial demise should be selected—no later than January 1, 1970.

"Furthermore, any improvement in our balance-of-payments position prior to the expiration date selected—whether owing to sounder fiscal and monetary policies, various incentives, an easing of the Vietnam conflict, or any other reason—should be coupled with a phasing out of the investment controls and interest Equalization Tax. There should be a deliberate policy to ease the over-all burdens of the restrictions at the earliest opportunity."

BEAUTY IN BACK TOO . . . Yes, the Jenkins home reflects the air of cheerfulness and charm in the rear of the home, too! The back yard is filled with even more lovely flowers than the front! In addition to the beautiful flowers growing around the home, the Jenkins family has a huge garden, where everything from Strawberries to onions are growing. But pictures speak louder than words, so see for yourself!

Pictured above is the rear patio at the Jenkins' home. The focal point of the patio is a lovely cherub fountain, surrounded by - you guessed it - more gorgeous orange and yellow marigolds. The greenery growing on the light brick wall, adds a striking background for a quiet, peaceful setting. Lovely rose bushes encircle the tree to the front of the picture and a sloping backyard, covered in lovely, well kept, green grass completes the beautiful setting.

ONLY ONE OF MANY . . . The Jenkins home is only one of many beautiful fine homes in the Gatesville area. I think an afternoon "soaking" up the beauty that we Gatesvillites have at hand is as rewarding as any I've had. What a GLANCE AT GATESVILLE!

ATTENTION FARMERS . . . All farmers in the Coryell County Area who are interested in hearing about the "Mondale Bill" -- what it is and what it means to American Farmers and ranchers, are urged to attend the special meeting of the Coryell County Farmers Union. The meeting will be held Thursday, July 25, at 8:00 p.m. in the National Bank Civic Room of Gatesville. (For details see article, page 2).

A Nehru Jacket From An Old Coat

Here is a dollar-plus-change way to give your son (or husband) a great Nehru jacket -- and save dozens of dollars doing it. Every man and almost every boy has a sport jacket or suit jacket he doesn't wear anymore -- but it's too good to discard. A few minutes with a warm iron and a little Bondex tape will make the jacket into the latest style (to be worn with or without the new chains and medallions). What could be more practical? Here's how it's done:

1. Turn up the collar and cut it off along the fold-over line, leaving a stand-up collar.
2. Now, set dry iron at "Wool" and iron a strip of Bondex on inside of collar, letting Bondex edge extend 1/4 inch to outside. This binds rough edge and trims at the same time.
3. Iron on a second strip of matching or contrasting color Bondex tape on outside.
4. A third strip ironed on inside of collar provides extra stiffness as well as a dash of color.
5. Remove buttons from coat and replace with dime store brass buttons. Project ready to wear.

Decorating suggestion: edges of pockets are good places for an additional touch of tape for color and design. If you wish, decorate your hero with a tape and button medal on the breast pocket.

Miss Anita Wittie Honored at Rehearsal Dinner

A.H. Haralambou was host for a rehearsal dinner honoring Miss Anita Wittie and Phil Haralambou on June 28th at the Chateau Ville. Attending were members of the wedding party. The guests included Miss Joy Galloway, Miss Judy Fair, Miss Pat Wendeborn, Gerald Whisenhunt, Ricky Hanifan, Billy Joe Davis, Carry Haralambou and Harvey Haralambou.

Miss Anita Wittie and Phil Haralambou exchanged wedding vows in a 8:30 p.m. candlelight ceremony June 29, in the Bridge Street Baptist Church. Pastor Edgar McNeely officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H.B. Wittie of Gatesville and A.H. Haralambou of New York.

Miss Geneva Brown, pianist and Mrs. Bonnie Mitchell, soloist, provided music for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress and matching coat of white silk linen. A crown of seed pearls and crystal beads held her shoulder length veil and she carried a cascade of white carnations. Tradition was observed by the bride wearing something old, new, borrowed and blue, with a penny in her shoe.

Miss Joy Galloway of Gatesville was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Judy Fair of Gatesville and Mrs. Pat Wendeborn of McGregor. They wore street length dresses of hot pink bonded crepe. Their headpieces of matching bows were caught with circular veils of tulle and white accessories completed their ensembles. Each carried a cascade bouquet of hot pink carnations and white streamers.

Gary Haralambou served his brother as best man with Gerald Whisenhunt of Oklahoma and Harvey Haralambou, brother of the bride-groom, as groomsmen. Ushers were Bill Davis of Austin and Rickie Hanifan of DeLeon, who also lighted the candles.

The bride's mother chose a pink linen dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony. The four - tiered wedding cake was served from the bride's table by Miss Margaret Roberts and Miss Carol Graham served punch. Miss Diane Spurlock registered the guests and Tommy Morgan, cousin of the bride, distributed rice bags.

For a wedding trip to New York, the bride wore a brown voile dress with beige accessories.

Mrs. Haralambou is a 1958 graduate of Gatesville High School and Mr. Haralambou is employed by Gulf States - United Telephone Company.

Following a two week trip to New York, the couple are at home at 2226 Bridge Street in Gatesville.

Taylor - Glover Exchange Vows

Mrs. Lewis Glover

Miss Linda Sue Taylor became the bride of Chester Lewis Glover, Saturday, July 20, at 7:30 p.m., in the First Baptist Church of Gatesville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy J. Taylor of Gatesville. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Velma Glover and the late C.L. Glover of Calera, Oklahoma.

Rev. Kenneth G. Patrick performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar backed with white gladiolus arrangement flanked by candelabra.

Mrs. Merle Carroll, organist, and Mrs. A.W. Ellis, soloist, provided the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of imported Chantilly lace combined with candlelight silk and finely pleated tulle. The long, fitted sleeves tapered to petal points over her hands. The bodice of silk, overlaid with lace, featured a Sabrina neckline, fashioned with a full skirt. A deep bank of lace on the front of the skirt was swept into an apron effect in back. A coil of silk organza rosettes and leaves, edged with seed pearls, held her silk illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses on a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a diamond drop.

Honor attendants were Mrs. Tom Parker of Lubbock and Mrs. Sam Greenfield of Carrollton. They wore dresses of coral peau de soie and carried nosegays of coral gladioli.

Lynn Dillingham of Dallas was best man and Richard Guio of Athens served as groomsmen. Steve Hatchel and Lonnie Taylor were ushers. Russell Guio and Ginger Guio, niece and nephew of the bridegroom lit the candles.

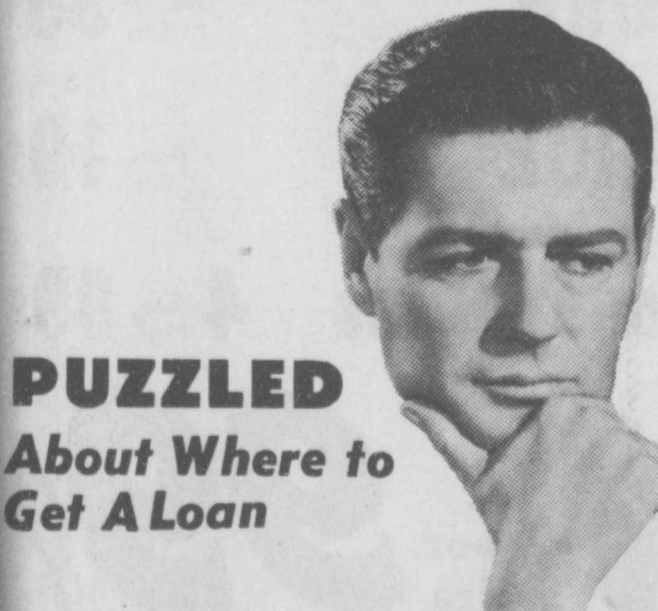

Tammie Miller, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Parents of the bride were hosts.

After a wedding trip, the couple will live in Irving.

Parents of the bride were hosts for a reception in the church after the ceremony. Members of the house party were Mrs. Steve Hatchel, Mrs. Leon Wells, Mrs. Van Necessary and Linda Kay Halford.

FARM REVIEW

Modern Farmers Have Potential Marketing Power

Farmers can enjoy a better life if they'll use more of the market power they already possess, said W.E. Black, Extension marketing economist, Texas A & M University. They have the potential for a lot of market power, but are using very little of it, he added.

Farmers want to enjoy and share in the American standard of living, he continues. They want and need a more stable income. Ups and downs in the market are getting harder to take because more and more of the things needed to produce are purchased for cash. They want to continue the American way of independently owned farms. In short, they want to be more certain about the future. They want to market makers rather than market takers, he said.

What are his sources of market power? There are at least six, said the economist.

First, farmers can market more of their products through cooperative marketing associations. Today, farmers sell only about one-fourth of their products through cooperatives. If this share were to double, they could begin to exert real market influence. Although Texas ranks third among all states in agricultural production, it ranks sixth in cooperative marketing.

Second, farmers can buy more supplies and needed services cooperatively. Today, about one-sixth of these items are purchased through cooperatives. These include such things as fertilizer, feed, insecticides, machinery, tools, electricity, credit, etc.

Third, farmers themselves can control the flow of products to market through marketing orders. Here farmers shape their own controls which are administered by the Federal government. The results of this are never very dramatic, but when properly used can keep the market from falling too low.

The fourth way, Black said, is through integration of two or more business steps under one management. Smart management can bring under one umbrella production and marketing, yielding profit to the farmer all the way. This source of market power is available to those who normally buy the farmers' products, as well as to farmers. Retailers can reach all the way back to the farm for supplies, while farmers can own retail stores. Who will ultimately enjoy the power that comes from integration has not been determined, he said.

The fifth source of power comes from building a bigger market, though advertising, merchandising, branding and product improvement of things farmers have to sell. Those farmers who merely produce the raw products for someone else to process and sell cannot use this means to get more market power. Successful market development carries big rewards.

The sixth source of market power is group bargaining. Here farmers try to influence the price and non-price terms of sale through group action.

The rewards are generally small, but this system may become more common if contract farming increases -- and there is every indication it will. A strong bargaining cooperative can build efficiency into production and handling as well as help write the contract.

Another source of market power, although less obvious, is to continue the present trend toward fewer, but larger farms. As this process goes on, those who survive will form even stronger marketing associations than are possible today. But farmers cannot wait. This is the most disruptive road to the most disruptive road to market power, but all indications point to its continuation. Today, only one-eighth of Texas farmers produce over 60 percent of the state's agricultural production.

The key to market power is group action. Farmers must sell on a group basis if they are to own farms on a family basis, concluded Black.

JOHNSON ACCEPTED IN CHAROLAIS ASSN.

James T. Johnson of Gatesville, has been accepted for membership in the American International Charolais Assn., Houston, the nation's fourth largest and fastest-growing beef breed, announced J. Scott Henderson, executive secretary.

Originating in France more than 200 years ago, Charolais has become well established in this country because of the breed's greater weight - for age, greater feeding efficiency and improved carcass values that produce a greater ratio of quality lean meat to fat than other breeds.

Registrations of purebred Charolais during the past year totaled 17,618 animals, a 46% increase above year earlier figures. Transfers rose 41% as more and more new breeders enter the production picture. Membership increased to 5,676 members, a 34% increase over the new members the previous year.

There are now approximately 59,900 purebred and 183,183 recorded animals in the association's herd book and appendix, for a national herd of 243,098 animals.

SORGHUM MARKETED ON HOOF MAY BE ANSWER

Grain-sorghum marketed on the hoof could be the answer for both grain and swine producers in Texas, Dr. Donald B. Hudman, Extension swine specialist with Texas A & M University, says.

According to tests conducted at the Stiles Foundation Farm near Thrall, grain sorghum fed to market hogs netted twice as much as grain sold at harvesttime in the area. On the market, grain was valued at about $2 per hundred pounds, but the hogs returned about $4 per hundred.

In the nursery unit, pigs from four to five weeks of age raised to 75 pounds, consumed about two pounds of feed per pound of gain. Hogs from 75 pounds to finishing, about 210 pounds, consumed approximately three and one-half pounds of feed per pound of gain.

The herd average at the Stiles Farm was approximately 334 pounds of feed per 100 pounds of gain, including sows and boards.

In the tests, 196 sows have farrowed 2,077 pigs, but more important, says Hudman, is the number of pigs per litter -- 10.6. At 35 days of age the litters averaged 9.4 pigs, or about 2 pigs per litter more than the national or state average.

The term "mortgage lifter" could once again be applied to hog raising in Texas if producers follow good production practices, says the specialist.

Market hogs should weigh approximately 200 pounds at 154 days of age for optimum economic production.

A desirable product must be marketed by the hog raiser and it should be one which the consumer wants and demands. About 90 percent of the market hogs should grade "Number One."

"Today, Texas producers must shoot for the meat-type hog with a loin-eye area of about four and one-quarter inches. An even better indication of the amount of meat a hog is carrying is the back-fat-probe -- an ideal hog is one with a back-fat measurement of 1.4 inches or less," Hudman says.

However, the Texas Safety Association emphasizes that tractor operators themselves can do much to prevent an overturn, or any other kind of tractor accident, by observing the following basic rules:

- Read and be familiar with the instruction manuals for your equipment.
- Maintain your equipment.
- Keep yourself in good physical and mental condition by getting enough rest, dressing comfortably, working at a pace within your physical abilities, and taking mid-morning and mid-afternoon rest breaks. (Last year in Texas, 20 of the 29 tractor fatalities occurred after 12 noon. The most dangerous period was between 12 noon and 6 p.m. when 14 of the 20 fatalities occurred.)
- Postpone tractor work if you are sick, taking strong medicines or emotionally upset.

1968 Hunting Calendar Set

The interest in hunting in Texas took a big step forward last week at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission adopted season and bag limits for the 1968 hunting seasons in those counties under the regulatory responsibility of the Commission. As discussed in public hearings, the Commission closed the alligator season in all counties where they had authority to do so.

The mourning dove season in the north zone will be held for 60 consecutive half-days beginning on Sept. 1 through Oct. 30 in the north zone, South zone hunting will begin Sept. 21 and continue through Nov. 19 except in those counties having a white-winged dove season where it will be Sept. 1 and 2 and Sept. 7 and 8 and from Sept. 21 and Nov. 15.

Bag limits for mourning doves will be 12 per day and 24 in possession. Bag limits for white-winged doves is 10 per day and 20 in possession. However, a bag limit of mourning and white-winged doves may be taken during the concurrent season in those counties.

RECORD CATCH

Records are broken at the Biloxi and Gulfport Fishing Rodeos each summer on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Thousands of fishing enthusiasts from all over the nation gather each summer on "America's Riviera"—the Mississippi Gulf Coast—to participate in two huge Fishing Rodeos. Breaking records is just as important to these rabid fishermen as winning the thousands of dollars in cash and merchandise prizes.

Giant tents, covering acres of ground, are set up for weighing and displaying the catches. Continuous entertainment is provided for the throngs of people who come to watch as new fishing records are set with almost every catch brought in.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast has been a famous beach resort since the late 1800's and is today one of the most glamorous, complete convention and vacation centers in the South.

Experimental Cars Test New Ideas

Here's a sleek new car from Detroit that's not for sale at any price. It's the Techna—a unique, six-passenger experimental car that has served as a test bed for more than 50 innovations by Ford Motor Company's advanced engineering groups.

The Techna is the latest in a long series of one-of-a-kind "concept" or idea vehicles built at Ford Research and Engineering Center. "Concept" cars—as they are known in engineering circles—are a means of putting ideas into hardware form for realistic evaluation.

Included among the many new ideas under study in the Techna are:

- an offset driveline tunnel so that center-seated passengers don't have to "straddle the hump";
- a structural-glass windshield which eliminates the front corner post for panoramic vision;
- a small inspection hatch in the hood for easy routine maintenance checks;
- power-operated doors which open straight out from the body rather than swinging, for ease of access even in tight parking situations;
- a rotating ring electric control for the transmission which eliminates the gear shift lever;
- radio mounted in the trunk, with controls in the floor armrests;
- high-level brake and turn signal lamps in the rear window that may be seen through successively following cars in heavy traffic;
- the front seat is fixed, ties having a white-winged season.

Shooting hour for both species will be 12 Noon, Central Standard Time or 1 p.m., Central Daylight Saving Time, to sunset each day.

In the Trinity-Brazos area, which includes Coryell County, Deer may be taken from Nov. 9 through Jan. 1. In Falls, Milam, McLennan and Navarro Counties, the bag limit is one buck deer and no antlerless deer. In other counties of the Trinity-Brazos are, Anderson, Bell, Brazos, Burleson, Coryell, Freestone, Grimes, Henderson, Limestone, Madison, Robertson and Williamson, the bag limit is three deer with no more than two buck deer except in Limestone and Burleson Counties no more than two deer in the aggregate may be taken. Antlerless deer may be taken by permit only.

There is no open season on javelina and no closed season on squirrel. Bag limit on squirrel is 10 per day and 20 in possession. Squirrel season in Limestone County is determined by statute.

Turkey may be taken Nov. 9 through Jan. 1, except in Anderson, Burleson, Freestone, Henderson, Navarro and Robertson Counties where there is no open season. Bag limit is one turkey, either gobbler or bearded hen.

The quail season opens Nov. 9 and runs through Jan. 31 with a bag limit of 12 per day and 36 in possession.

... Legislation

vators in the Capitol. Connally noted that a more realistic plan for utilization of space in the Capitol can be made next year after the comptroller and treasurer move into the new finance building.

Proposed creation of a new $16,500-a-year job in the Board of Control was struck down by Connally.

He said the post, assistant executive director, was not requested by the agency and was not recommended originally by House and Senate appropriation measures. It was added to the spending bill by the conference committee.

"Since no role or function has been established for this job," said Connally, "it would create only confusion and inefficiency within the administrative staff."

The governor sounded a similar comment in eliminating two new jobs from the Liquor Control Board, a deputy administrator at $17,500 a year and an assistant director of auditing at $13,000 annually.

Neither position was requested by the agency or contained in original appropriations measures.

And, said Connally, there is no proof that the jobs would improve the agency's performance and effectiveness.

Other items redlined from the bill before he signed it into law.

A $90,000 allocation to the Parks and Wildlife Department to purchase the dinosaur tracks site in Somervell County near Glen Rose for development into

Astros Have Tough

Lineup

For Two Weeks

The Houston Astros will have a heavy diet of indoor baseball beginning Friday, July 26, when they return to their home in the Astrodome to play 16 games over a 17 day period, running through Sunday, August 11.

The San Francisco Giants, Los Angeles Dodgers, Philadelphia Phillies, New York Mets and Pittsburgh Pirates will provide the opposition for the Astros who are hoping to push into the first division.

Willie Mays, Willie McCovey and Juan Marichal will lead the Giants in night games, Friday, July 26, Saturday, July 27 and a 2:00 p.m. game, Sunday, July 28. Marichal, who is in shooting distance, becoming a 30 game winner, will pitch either Friday or Saturday night according to Giant's manager Herman Frank.

The Astros will celebrate "Louisiana Days" on the 27th with a pre-game musical show by Astroworld's dixieland band and each fan will receive an autographed picture of Rusty Staub. Sunday, the 28th, will be "Family Day" with all children, 16 or under and accompanied by a parent, receiving a dollar re-union on box and reserved seats.

The Dodgers will play night games, Monday, July 29 and Tuesday, July 30 with the Tuesday night game a special "Family Night" with the reduced ticket plan, plus a color TV set going to the largest family at the game. The July 30 game will start at 7:00 p.m.

The Phillies move in for a weekend series with night games Friday, August 2, and Saturday, August 3 and a 2:00 p.m. game Sunday, August 4. Saturday night will be "Surprise Night" with special gifts for lucky fans and Sunday will be "Family Day."

The amazing Mets are slated for night games Monday, August 5, Tuesday, August 6 and Wednesday, August 7, which will be "Ladies Night."

The powerful Pirates close out the long home stand with a big five game series that includes night games Thursday, August 8, and Friday, August 9, a day-night double-header, Saturday, August 10 with the day game starting at 1:15 and the night game at 7:30 p.m., and will conclude the series with a 2:00 p.m. game on Sunday, August 11.

A country music show featuring the "Buck Owens Show", sponsored by KKK, is set for a state park.

A $187,500 item for the department to buy land for development of a state park near Port Lavaca.

A $50,000 expenditure for the Board of Insurance to investigate claims for health, accident and hospitalization insurance.

A $22,000 item for Blinn Junior College in Brenham to operate the museum at Washington - on - the Brazos State Park.

Connally said purchase of land to develop parks should not be a part of the general appropriations bill, financed mainly from tax revenue.

He said Texas voters last year approved a $75 million bond issue for state park development and money from this program should be used for such items as the proposed dinosaur tracks and Port Lavaca state parks.

6:30 p.m., Saturday, August 10 prior to the night game with the Pirates. This night game is a makeup game and was not on the original schedule. Sunday, August 11 will be "Father - Son Day" as the sons of the Astros players take on their dads in a special contest before the regular game. Tickets for these games as well as all future Astros' home games, can be obtained at the Astrodome ticket office, at all five Foley's Stores in Houston and Pasadena, at most Trans

Texas Airways ticket counters throughout the Southwest, or by writing: Tickets, Astrodome, Box 1691, Houston 77001.
