Mountainview Youth Files Suit Against Texas Youth Council

The Gatesville State School employees have been named in a $75,000 federal suit, alleg-"cruel and unusual punishment" of a 15 year old Houston youth while an inmate at Mountainview State School for Boys, at Gatesville.

The suit named as defendants, Dr. James A. Turman, executive director of the Texas Youth Council, which has jurisdiction over the state school; M.B. Kindrick, listed as general superintendent of the Gatesville State School for Boys and "Garthman" a guard at the Mountainview School.
Mr. M.B. Kindrick reported

Thursday that he received first notice of the suit from a Waco news reporter, inquiring about the case. Kindrick pointed out that his only connection with the youth would be that the youth, like all inmates of both Mountainview and the Gatesville State School for Boys, are brought in through a central reception center. Kindrick explained boys held at the Reception Center, until a discussion is made to locate them at one of the seven schools of the State School system or to locate them at the Mountainview

School for Boys.
The Waco News - Tribune gives the following account of the incident, with another inmate.

Mack Morris, assistant su-perintendent of Mountainview State School for Boys, said Tuesday he had not heard of the lawsuit, but he denied that Keller was beaten or that he received any cruel or unusual punishment at the school.

Named as defendants in the suit were Dr. James A. Turman, executive director of the Texas Youth Council, which has jurisdiction over the state school for boys; M.B. Kindrick, listed as general superintedent of the Gatesville State School for boys; and a guard identified only as "Garthman".

Dr. Turman said the school has no guards and no one named Garthman. He said a youth activities supervisor at the Mountainview School is named M.D. Gartman.

Kindrick said he had not heard of the suit and that offhand he did not recall Keller, but that if Keller were an inmate at Mountainveiw School he might not recall him because he is not as closely connected with Mountainview as with other Gatesville State Schools. George B. Adams is superintendent of Mountainview, but he was not available Tuesday af-

Mack Morris, assiatant superintendent at Mountainview said Keller is still an inmate of that school and has never been beaten or given any cruel or unusual punishment.

Morris said Keller "got into

Home from Aberdeen Maryland, for a leave is Lt. Jimmy Blackburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Blackburn, Also home for the weekend was Ger ald Kinsey, stationed with the National Guard Unit at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm

Mrs. J.D. Henderson had her daughter, La Nell, and family in from the plains over the weekend. Together they visited as many of the local members of the family possible. Cheerful is the report on Mrs. E.J. Noble, sister-in-law of Mrs. Henderson, who resides in Lampasas, and has lived in the range of this newspaper while rearing her family. She is recovered from her latest broken bone, dresses daily and has been canning and preserving, like all other ladies of Central Texas, so far as the rest of us know. This time last year, Mrs. Noble was seriously ill following her stay of months in the hospital with the broken bone. If ever a prize is offered for the "most devoted" couple to each other "in sickness and in health" my vote goes for Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Noble, Lampasas,

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Williams report the arrival of a new - great - granddaughter. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wilson, Waco, on August 7, Charlotte, the first child of this couple, the first grandchild, too, she is of Mr. and Mrs. Voil Drennan, Hewett and formerly of Evant. Mrs. Drennan was Elva Williams, prior to her marriage. After last week's news left, Evant had a big piece of news that broke and it is still broken, much to our regrets. Mrs. Melvin Horton, one of the most faithful to attend the ill and indisposed, had the misforture of falling backward while cleaning her yeard and breaking her left elbow. Wearing a cast (and her usual smile) she was working on the family business books the next day. She is due to remain in the cast two more weeks, as of instructions from her doctor. Needless to say, her "bread on the waters" is returning fourfold. Neighbors are overflowing her table with food and services. Calling to report weekend guests, Mrs. W.A. Pax told of hearing former pastor, Rev. John Harper, McGregor, speak over Waco's TV station at 11 o'clock hour, Sunday. Their son, Alfred Jr. and wife, Balmorahea and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Adams and children, Crowley, were their company.

To be buried at Pearl Wednesday, is the wife of J. Lee Whatley, Denton, and formerly of Pearl. Found dead in bed Sunday morning, Mrs. Whatley apparently died of a sudden seizure. Stricken at church, Sunday evening, Mrs. Viola Knowles, a long time native of Evant, was conveyed to Scott and White Hospital by Evant Funeral Home ambulance, but died in the early morning hours of Monday. She had been active until her final illness of a few Her daughter, Mrs. Perry Knowles, Temple, had brought her home from a visit with her and her family, on Saturday, and she was in both church services on Sunday, Additional survivors include her other daughter, Mrs. Hayden Mitchell, Evant, four grandchildren and four great grandchildren. Services were still pending at the time of this writing. Mr. and Mrs. Walker Wigley went to Wichita Falls over the weekend and carried their grandson, Craig Shave, back to his home, in that city.

This news left clouds at Evant, but clouds had given no rain.
