CITY SALES TAX BACKED BY COUNCIL

Mayor Bob Miller released a statement of opinion of the City Council and Mayor on the City Sales Tax election sheculed for September 3rd, this week. The Mayor and Council pre-pared the following position and projections as to amount of projections as to amount of revenue and purpose of initial funds from the tax if passed. Mayor Miller prepared a very informative question and answer series, appearing on page 2 of this issue. On Tuesday, September 3, 1968, you the citizens of Gatesville, will be asked to determine whether or not you want to help finance your local government by paying a 1% City Sales Tax. This question will be resolv-ed in a special election called by the City Council. In calling this special election for the passage of a 1% City Sales Tax, the City Council is not merely making a plea for additional operation funds; but the Council is also asking your support in the continued growth and development of Gatesville.

The City Council firmly be-lieves that the 1% City Sales Tax is the most fair and equitable source of additional re-It has been demonvenue. strated in many other cities that a single tax source is inadequate and inequitable. At present, Gatesville has only one source, the ad-valorem tax. If Gatesville continues to derive all of its sales tax revenue from the ad valorem tax, it will become an unnecessary burden for some of our citizens.

Leauge, Gatesville should derive approximately $25,000 from a 1% City Sales Tax. This amount would automati-cally increase as our local economy expands. The need for additional re-venue and operating funds is becoming more evident every day. The "cost of living" for the City Government is in-creasing. Pipe for new water mains and for repairs and remains and for repairs and replacement of old mains is ever increasing, and the major steel companies have just recently announced a price increase. Labor costs are increasing. Many of our street surfaces are over 25 years old and the streets need to be completely rebuilt. As our town grows we are ever in need of expanding our water and sewer system into new areas. We need new streets for new housing. We need neighborhood playground facilities. We need new swimming pool with a sanitary filtration system. We need a larger and more modern library to meet the cultural needs of our citizens. We need additional office space for our City Government. We need a new Fire Truck. Our most modern piece, city owned, fire fighting equipment was purchased over 15 years ago. Gatesville is blessed with having these and many other needs. For they are signs of continued growth and prosperity. In order for Gatesville to meet these needs, additional money must be made available. As stated above, the City Council feels that the most fair and The City Council does not want equitable source of additional

A breakdown of the budget shows that 40% of the county's financing will come from ad valorem tax with an estimated $22 million 1969 evaluation. The tax base is presently 95¢ per $100 evaluation, meaning if the base remains the same, $209,000 will be available from this source.

County Judge, Norman Storm, reported Thursday that the tax base would be set at a court session early in September. All indications are that the 95¢ per hundred base will remain in effect in 1969. Also on Monday, the court will open bids on the remodel-ing program of the Coryell County Rest Home.

The remodeling program will feature larger kitchen facilities, dining and recreation areas and larger door ways. The county will finance the remodeling project by issuance of up to $30,000 in time warrants.

Coryell County ASCS office received word this week that barley is now included in the feed grain program for 1969, with corn and grain sorghums. Barley was part of the feed grain lease several years ago, but was not included in the feed grain program in 1967 and 1968

A State State

Q. How much money will a 1% City Sales Tax produce for Gatesville?

According to the Texas Municipal League, Gatesville should receive approximately $25,000.00 annually.

When would the tax become effective?

January 1, 1969, if passed on September 3, 1968. What items would be taxed? Q.

Only the items subject to the State Sales Tax would be covered.

Q. What will the additional money be used for?

A. Initially, the money will be used almost entirely for repairs and extensions to our streets and water system.

Why is the Sales Tax a Fair Tax? A. Because it is paid by everyone who lives in the city and will be paid by those who live outside the city, but benefit by its facilities.

Because it is paid by everyone in proportion to what they have to spend. The elderly and the low income groups of people will pay less tax because they will purchase fewer consumer goods. Food, drug items and other necessities are not covered by the tax.

Q. How has the City Sales Tax affected other cities?

Other cities have found that the City Sales Tax does not drive people and business away, but on the contrary, boosts city growth.

City officials in other states report that a local sales tax is often an inducement for an industry to locate in that city levying it. Owners # of business want to see how the local city government is financed, and to see that important ser-vices are provided in sufficient quantity, and that property is not the sole support of the cost of all.

Q. How will the city collect the tax?

The collection will be made by the state and the money returned to the city. At the time that a consumer makes a purchase, the merchant would collect the 1% City Sales Tax in addition to the State Sales tax. He would then forward the total collected, along with his quarterly report, to the State Comptroller. The city's portion of the tax would then be returned

A. The state would retain only 2% of the City? a collection fee. This is considerably less than the cost of collecting any other type of tax.

Q. How many cities in Texas have passed the Tax?

A. As of July 9, 1968, 277 Texas Cities have approved the Local Sales Tax. This covers over three-fourths of the urban population in the State.

When would we receive the first money from the tax? The first money collected from a local sales tax would A., become available to the city in mid-June 1969. Additional money would be received each quarter.

Q.

How can this tax, if passed, be repealed? Another election would be necessary. This could be called by the City Council, just as this election on September 3 was called, or by petition from a sufficient number of qualified voters. At that election the voters would then determine whether to continue the tax or repeal it.

Q. What if the Tax fails?

If our city is to continue to grow and expand and compete with other cities, for new industries and job opportunities for our citizens, we must have more funds. There are other sources of revenue available, but none as fair and equitable as a sales tax. Q. Where do I vote?

A. All qualified voters, residing north of Main Street, will vote in the City Hall. All qualified voters, residing south of Main Street will vote in the County Court Room in the Courthouse, How should I vote? Q.

That must be determined by each individual.

Then Connally said he guessed that Humphrey "pro-bably like anyone else is kind of smarting from newspaper accounts and stores that he is a Johnson man and part of the adminstration . . I guess he wants to make it clear he is independent and therefore he does not want to have any conversation with or about Texans or anyone in the delegation." Connally said he did not think Humphrey had enough convention votes presently for nom-ination. "Basically all the strength he has now is from Johnson delegates. That's all he had when he started and that's all he has now. I'm sure this is apparent to him." He said a delegation caucus tentatively set for Sunday afternoon in Chicago might result in continuation of his favorite son candidacy or it might end with his recommendation that the votes be switched to support one of the main candidates.

"It may well be the delega-tion doesn't want to be re-leased," he said. "I am not going to be dog-in-the-mangerish (sic), I am not going to be dictatorial about it, I am going to try to do what the delegation wants to do."

RIGHT NOW . . . (7 p.m. Wednesday) we're on our way to Copperas Cove to check out the Bulldogs of 1968. You know the Hornets are scheduled to beat them October 13. "We", Johnny and myself, in fact, I bet our Justowriter operator has a heck of a problem reading this since our tax dollars were working and the road was messed up between Pidcoke and Copperas Cove.

Anyway it turned out our attempts to see the A- team Bull-dogs failed. We did see the Frosh - they look pretty good wonder what date our Hornet Frosh are scheduled to beat

We also dropped by the Evant Elks practice field - the Elks have a pretty good sized line - can't predict there though - have to see action!

here numbers. You know, every ten years the United States Federal Government ain't sure where everybody is. So, they send somebody 'round to count heads and ask a lot of questions. The last time they counted in 1960 they said that Turnersville had 316 housholds with 908 people. And there were 43 widows to 23 widowers living there. Now, you people over better not be Evant way laughin'. Husband huntin' for a widow ain't so good there either. Out of 1,048 people living in Evant there wuz 20 widowers and 77 widows. Anyways, that's the sort of thing they tell you. They print all the numbers up real official like. If'n you want to you kin find out things like how many houses have running water, how fur everybody went to school, or if you could make more money doing something else. There's lots of figures if'en you'd like to look 'em up. All in all Coryell County has feared of. Pretty soon there ain't gonna be no butter. 'Cause there aint' gonna be no body left to milk the cow.
