Raymond Cole, Number 44, played an outstanding game both offensively and defensively, Friday night against Marlin. Cole is pictured here intercepting a Marlin pass late in the game to stop a scoring threat.

HORNETS - MARLIN DEADLOCK IN 14-14 TIE GAME

After a successful opening game against Robinson last week, the Hornets seemed to regain their preseason form Friday night in a lopsided 14-14 tie with Marlin. The Gatesville offense must have used up all of its firepower against Robinson because it seemed to have nothing left to throw at the Bulldogs. The Hornet defense held well on the ground, stopping the Bulldogs for a total of only 69 yards rushing, but Marlin quarterback Clint Rogers riddled the Hornet secondary with passes, picking up 157 yards in the air. The game really started off with a bang. Fleet Hornet wingback, Raymond Cole took the opening kick-off on his own five-yard line and headed up-field behind good blocking. He broke free at the Gatesville forty-yard line and turning on his tremendous speed, easily outdistanced his pursuers for a 95 yard return. Before the stunned Bulldogs could recover, Mike Gaston punched over to score the two-point conversion, and give Gatesville an 8-0 lead with only 14 seconds of playing time elapsed. On the ensuing kick-off, Marlin mishandled the ball and Randy Schoenewolf recovered for Gatesville on the Bulldog 45 yard line. This gave the Hornets an excellent opportunity, but on the first play from scrimmage Gatesville fumbled, and the ball was recovered by a Marlin player at Midfield. The Bulldog offense quickly went to work as Rogers passed for 20 yards to end Lee Willars on the Gatesville 20. The Marlin quarterback then tried another pass but it was intercepted by Raymond Cole of Gatesville on his own 25 yard line.

The Bulldog defense held for three downs and Chris Bone punted to midfield. The Bulldogs struck quickly again, this time on a 30 yard pass from Rogers to Curtis Smith. A ten yard run netted a first down for the Bulldogs on the Hornet 10 yard line. The tough Hornet defensive line held for three downs, but on fourth down Curtis Smith punched over from the four yard line to bring the Bulldogs within two points, 8-6. The conversion attempt failed and with 6:34 to go in the first quarter Gatesville still held a two point lead.

The score board shows the situation, but defensive leader, Wayne Shirley, confers with Coach Jack Bell concerning how to stop the offensive threat of the Bulldogs.

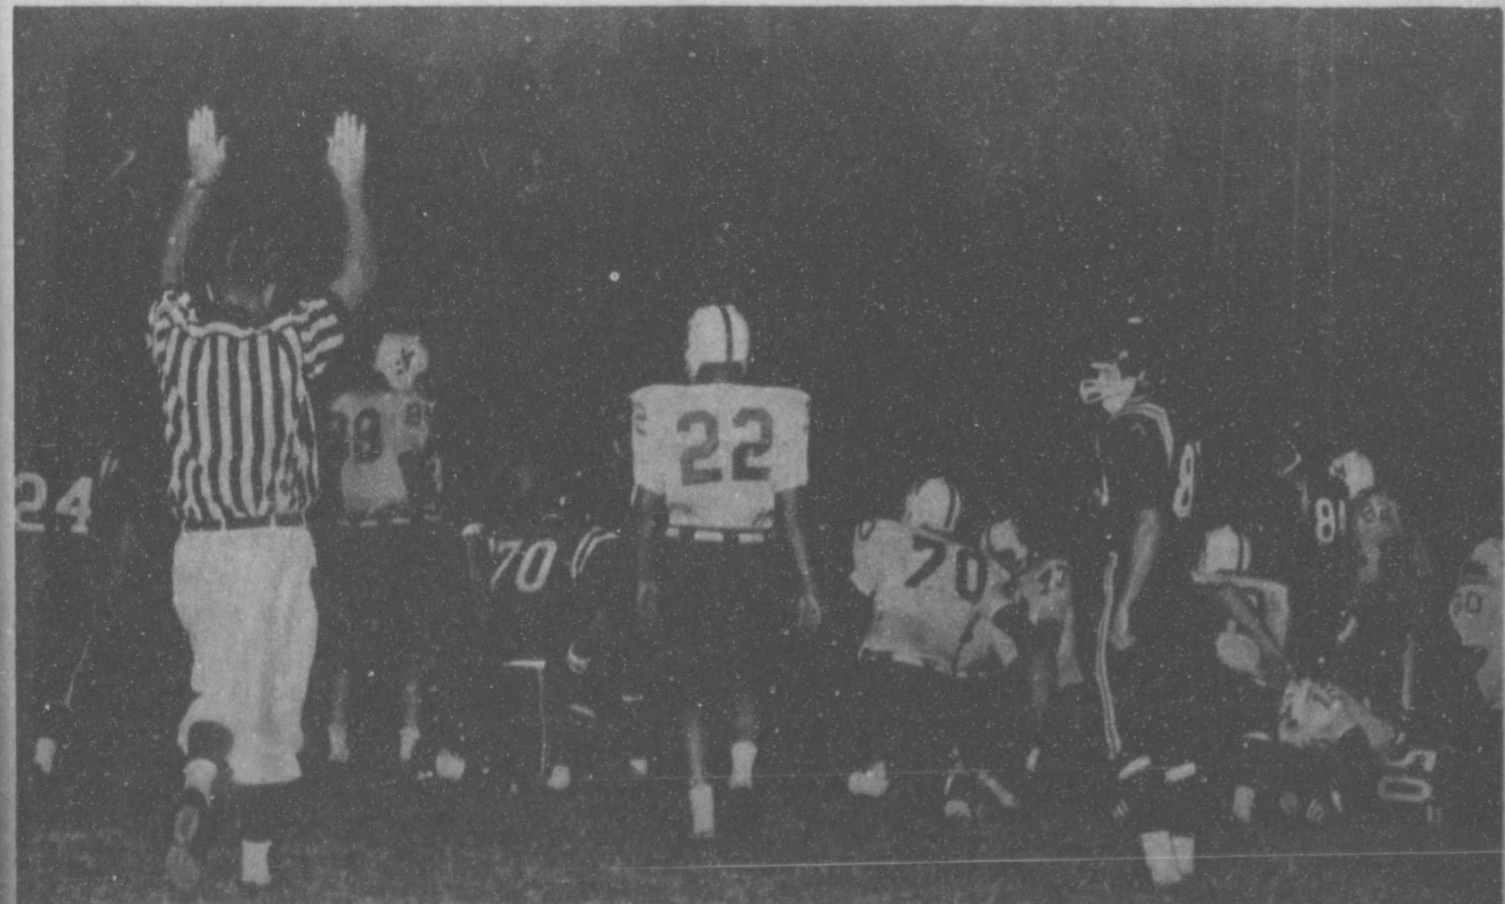

The rest of the first quarter was a defensive battle with both teams exchanging punts and neither able to make a first down. Early in the second quarter, a Gatesville drive was stopped when Raymond Cole, attempting to run the option play, fumbled on the Hornets' 48 yard line. Marlin quickly took advantage of this unexpected break. On first down Smith threw the option pass to Curtis Medkins who carried it into the end zone for a 48 yard touchdown play. Willars skirted the left end and crossed the goal line for a two point conversion, giving the Bulldogs the lead for the first time 14-8, with 9:07 left in the second quarter. For the remainder of the second quarter the teams waged a defensive battle with neither team able to retain possession of the ball for more than two series of downs. When the half ended, Marlin left the field with a 14-8 advantage over Gatesville.

The third quarter took up where the second quarter ended with neither team able to mount a successful drive. With three minutes of the third quarter left the Hornets took possession of the ball on their own 25 yard line following a Marlin punt. Gatesville moved to midfield before they were forced to punt. A Bulldog fielded the punt on the 16 yard line but was hit hard by Reggie Schoenewolf and lost the ball. Reggie alertly pounced on the loose ball giving the Hornets an excellent scoring opportunity on the Bulldog 16 yard line with 1:36 left in the third quarter.

On the next play Cole ran for 11 yards and a first down on the five yard line. Gary

14-14 Tie

The referee's signal is reassuring to Hornet fans as Mike Barr scores on a quarterback sneak on fourth down from the one-yard line. The third quarter score tied the Hornets and Bulldogs at 14-14. The extra point attempt was no good.

Pecan Weevils Could Be Damaging Coryell County Pecan Crop

Pecan Producers are urged to check their trees for the Pecan weevil, said Don Callahan, County Agent. Some producers in Coryell County have checked emergences in their pecans, after the recent rains.

The pecan weevil is a late season pest of the pecan. The weevil will emerge after each rain, during the months of August and October. The adult is a brownish weevil, which is about three-eighths of an inch long. The female has a snout which is as long as the body, the male's is somewhat shorter.

After the nut kernels have hardened, the female chews a hole in the shell and deposits her egg in little pockets in the center of the nuts. A good way to check your trees are to hit some of the limbs of the trees with a padded pole and see if the weevils will fall from the trees on a sheet or tarp.

Check trees that weevil damage has occurred in over the past years. For control, use two pounds of 80% Sevin to 100 gallon of water or two pounds of Guthion per 100 gallons of water. If Guthion is used, all livestock must be removed for two weeks, said Callahan.

Miss Nelda Whatley, who has been visiting in Gatesville, is entering Texas Tech as a Junior after two years in San Antonio College.

ter of Mrs. Billie Whatley and the granddaughter of Mrs. Bulah Stovall.

Miss Rebecca Adams has enrolled as a senior in Abilene Christian College.

Newest Electronic Craze

One of the reasons the "swinging generation" is swinging is that no matter where they go, young people today are surrounded by sound.

The general availability of sound reproducing electronic devices — record players, radios, tape players — at prices that are right has created a "sound revolution" — an explosion of sound welcomed by older generations as well.

The latest impact is being made by tape cartridge players, which combine the fidelity of magnetic tape recording with the convenience of the film-pack camera. Already the growth rate for sales of tape cartridges and players exceeds that of color television and shows no signs of leveling off as the sound revolution gains more and more supporters of all ages.

The tape cartridge movement was started in 1965 when the Ford Motor Co., after rigorous testing, adopted the 8-track stereo system, designed and produced by Motorola, Inc., as a factory or dealer installed option in its new cars.

Today all the major car manufacturers offer 8-track tape systems as original equipment or dealer installed. Many other companies offer add-on units for cars, boats, and planes, home playback equipment, either with speakers or with jacks for existing stereo record players, and portable, go-anywhere cartridge players.

Although other tape playback systems are now available, the 8-track cartridge system remains by far the most popular, primarily because it still offers the best reproduction of sound and because the widest selection of recorded music on tape is available in 8-track.

The 8-track tape cartridge is a closed plastic container, about the size of two decks of playing cards (5-1/2 inches by 3-3/4 by 3/4), enclosing a continuous loop of tape. The tape comes off the inner edge, or core, of the reel, moves past the magnetic pick-up head of the player at a speed of 3-3/4 inches per second, and returns to the outer edge of the reel.

The system is called 8-track because the tape has eight separately recorded sound tracks — four stereo bands. Since the tape is on a continuous loop, the bands play in succession without stopping and at the end, the pick-up automatically shifts back to the beginning. Most 8-track units have selector switches to move the pick-up head from one band to the next. Eight-track cartridges provide up to 80 minutes of uninterrupted music.

The equipment and cartridges are available in appliance stores, music and record stores, automobile accessory stores and departments, and in specialty stereo shops. Costs for high quality equipment range from about $80 to $150.

Lower cost systems adapted from "voice recording" type equipment operating at slower speeds are available, but at a sacrifice in sound quality.

When considering tape systems, the prospective buyer should follow two main guidelines; determine the speed of the machine, because the faster the tape moves past the pick-up head, the higher will be the quality of the sound; and determine how broad the library of your favorite type of music is to be assured the widest possible selectivity.

CHILDREN OF DECEASED VETERANS COULD BE ENTITLED TO BENEFITS

Children of deceased servicemen may be eligible for Veterans Administration pensions even though their mother are not.

This reminder was made today by Jack Coder, Manager, VA Regional Office, Waco, Texas.

"This situation occurs under two sets of circumstances," Coker said. "First, the unremarried widow may be ineligible because her income exceeds limits set by law.

"Second, when a widow receiving a pension for herself and her children remarries, she loses her personal eligibility for a pension based on her veteran husband's death."

Minor children, however, may continue to receive pension payments in either case, even though they live with their mother, Coker said. Their personal eligibility is limited only by their personal incomes.

If a child's income is greater than $1,800 per year, no pension will be paid, but the child's own earnings are not counted.

Coker stressed that a widow's personal ineligibility should not prevent her making application to any Veterans Administration office.

"Unless an application is made, we have no way of knowing about children who might be eligible," he said.

Pensions may be paid to certain survivors of veterans of all wars, including the Korean Conflict and the Vietnam era, who die of causes not related to their service. Eligibility and the amount of pension are determined by the survivor's income.

Compensation, on the other hand, is paid to the survivors of veterans who die of service-connected causes, and income of the survivor has no bearing on eligibility or amount paid. Remarriage of the widow receiving compensation makes her ineligible, but as in the case of a pension, remarriage does not affect the eligibility of her children.

Full details are available at any VA office, Coker said. All applications should be accompanied by full identifying information on the veterans including, if possible, a VA claim number or insurance number.

Ahoy The Moon

By Roland Magill

How foolish can we mortals be to try to colonize the moon? To put it in a nutshell, we've gone crazy as a loon. We've pulled some silly stunts, this is the worst think Not even a gasp of air to breathe, and not a drop to drink.

Can we manufacture water from the elements up there? Will we find a magic substance to take the place of air? And perfect some formula to turn the ashes into food? Of course that's just the basic three but I'd admit them pretty good.

But nothing has been proven yet, It's all exploratory. It would take at least a year to build the laboratory. Can he hold his breath that long and never a drop to drink. And not a bite of pork and beans he'd wither on the vine I think.

As he tinkers with his gadgets, hoping for the right reflexes, Some guy will have a steady job hauling water up from Texas. He'll keep rolling day and night, for they'll need a lot up there, But with eleven hundred springs, Old Texas has it, and to spare.

But there's a hundred other things, transportation, light and power, But from a birds-eye-view, things look a little sour. He couldn't even leave a track, for things are weightless there, But how the heck do we expect A man to live on bottled air?

But if you think there's anything up there you think you want or need, I say "Hop to it Buddy boy" fervently I say "God Speed" But as for me, Old terra-firma is good enough for me Where God's cooling waters flow and His breezes wander free.

"Unity" was the unofficial theme of both Democratic and Republican state conventions, and each party expects to carry that concept on to a victory on election day, November 5.

Democrats at Austin passed the torch to Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, their nominee for governor, and heard ringing cries to support the party's ticket from courthouse to White House. Ben Barnes, the youthful lieutenant governor nominee, and Smith literally joined hands to dispel all rumors that they would not work together.

is some discontent in the ranks. A relative handful of delegates walked out in protest to what they termed John Birch Society control of the party's state committee. But they were solid in their backing of George Wallace for President. Wallace himself was at the convention, exhorting his followers to work hard on his behalf.

NEW COLLEGE APPROVED

Creation of new state senior colleges in San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Houston (two) and the Midland-Odessa area has approval of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System. Board also recommended an "upper division"-junior and senior years-higher education center at Laredo.

Master plan being compiled by the Board apparently will contain a proposal to limit enrollments at state institutions beginning in 1972.

Board recommended creation of a new dental school although it declined to make recommendation as to site.

Gov. John Connally broke the ice on the national ticket front by endorsing Hubert H. Humphrey and urging Democrats to band together in his behalf. And the convention was read a telegram from President Lyndon B. Johnson saying Humphrey is his man.

In Fort Worth, Republicans, full of optimism over Richard Nixon's chances to sweep the state and nation and hopeful of statehouse gains as well, heard go-go speeches.

GOP leader Jack Cox of Austin told fellow Republicans, "If you are more liberal than I am, or if one of us is more conservative than the other, it does not mean one of us should be read out of the Republican Party." Shouts of affirmation went up through the hall, and every shade of Republicanism—ultra-conservative through progressive—decided to devote every effort to a Nixon-Agnew campaign.

OIL ALLOWABLE HELD FIRM

Railroad Commission fixed statewide oil allowable at 41.3 per cent of production potential. Figure is unchanged from September. Percentage factor permits maximum production of 3,246,026 barrels a day. Nine of 14 major crude oil buyers sought to keep the allowable intact. Four wanted a decrease and only one sought an increase.

First witnesses before a House committee's probe of connections between vending machine operators and taverns said their testimony endangers their safety.

Representative James Clark Jr., of Dallas offered evidence of alleged financial control of taverns by vending machine firms.

Committee Chairman R.H. Cory of Victoria said information has been gathered on the subject in Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio, Houston, Midland-Odessa and Amarillo. He emphasized there is as yet no evidence of unlawful activities by the merchandise vendors. Hearings apparently will continue through most of the year.

TAVERN-VENDING MACHINE PROBE OPENS

George Wallace supporters turned out for the Dallas convention of the American Party, and in short order endorsed Wallace and former Georgia Governor Marvin Griffin for places on the November 5 general election ballot as candidates for president and vice-president. No motions were accepted to nominate new state party officers, although there was a warm first meeting between the vice-presidential nominee and his fellow party members of this state.

Republicans adopted a platform of their own and Peter O'Donnell Jr., of Dallas remains at the helm of the GOP executive committee.

Money represents local collections from April to June 30. In most cases, collections ran substantially ahead of estimates.

Among the topics discussed will be (1) whether the economic benefits of the water to be imported into West Texas from East Texas and the Mississippi River will be worth the cost to West Texans; (2) whether they will be willing to pay the cost of the water; and (3) whether the present law giving private ownership to the state's ground-water resources should be changed to establish state control of ground water.

APPOINTMENTS

Wilson E. (Pat) Speir now is full-fledged director of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Colonel Speir has been acting director since May 14 following the death of Colonel Homer Garrison Jr., whom he had served as assistant director for six years.

Lt. Colonel Leo E. Gossett was designated DPS assistant director and Joseph E. Milner, chief of traffic law enforcement, Texas Ranger Sergeant James M. Ray of Midland was promoted to sergeant and transferred to Midland.

Governor Connally named Joe Benjamin Roberts chairman of the Texas Industrial Accident Board.

Frank J. Womack is new assistant director of regional programs for the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Connally re-appointed State Senator William T. Moore of Bryan as legislative member of the board of control for Southern Regional Education.

October contract lettings, as a result, will be cut from the planned $32,210,000 to $19,500,000.

State Highway Engineer J.C. Dingwall said, however, that construction will proceed as planned on farm-to-market roads and other work which does not involve federal aid. A special bid-opening has been set for December 31, after the trimming has been done.

SECRET MEETING

Closer cooperation between state government and the state's leading university was the topic of an intense, high-level, secret meeting in Kerrville called by Governor Connally.

Meeting was between about 50 University of Texas at Austin administrators, deans and department chairmen and the same number of executive directors or board members from major state agencies, along with Connally, Lt. Governor Preston Smith, Speaker Ben Barnes and Representative Gus Mutscher of Brenham.

"I am delighted to announce that such programs as associate degree nursing, farm and ranch management and mid-management training are all receiving very favorable reaction, as are other areas of training," Dr. Morton said.

A second grant in the amount of $124,000 has been received for additional training programs in technical areas. Morton said the funds emanate from the Department of Labor.

"We are presently negotiating for additional funding from a variety of sources including HEW, the Department of Labor and Department of Commerce," Dr. Morton said.

CTC also received coordinating board notice that it has been placed on the public junior college preliminary grant list

Money represents local collections from April to June 30. In most cases, collections ran substantially ahead of estimates.

CITIZENSHIP DAY

"The good citizen is the man who, whatever his wealth or his poverty, strives manfully to do his duty to himself, to his family, to his neighbor, to the State; who is incapable of the baseness which manifests itself either in arrogance or in envy, but who while demanding justice for himself is no less scrupulous to do justice to others," said President Theodore Roosevelt.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower put it in another way: "Patriotism means equipped forces and a prepared citizenry. Moral stamina means more energy and more productivity, on the farm and in the factory. Love of liberty means the guarding of every resource that makes freedom possible—from the sanctity of our families and the wealth of our soil to the genius of our scientists. And so each citizen plays an indispensable role."

The advice Andrew Johnson gave in 1866 holds true today: "The time has come to take the Constitution down, to enroll it, to reread it, and to understand its provisions thoroughly."

And one way in which every American adult can publicly demonstrate his citizenship is to register and vote in the November election! This is the fundamental test of a good citizen.

Central Texas College Receives Federal Grant

Central Texas College has received notification of three federal grants totaling $534,000 for training programs, equipment and a proposed classroom building.

The final $50,000 will become eligible when Congress appropriates funds for this current year, Morton Explained.

HOME DEMONSTRATION REPORT

Does "best buy" mean price, prestige, food value or convenience? Nothing is a "best buy" or even a good buy if it is not useful to the buyer. No food item is a good buy unless the family will eat it. Family customs, nation characteristics, family income, employment of the homemaker outside the home and store advertising influence food choices. Does price indicate a food item's value? This is one of the most misleading concepts in consumer buying. You need to compare similar size and

For example, price will have less bearing on the value of meat for a family dinner than the number of servings a cut will yield. The number of servings may vary according to cut, amount of bone, fat or other waste and cooking method.

What is the best value for you? First consider actual cost, the number of servings, food value, convenience, preference -- then decide.

You are the only one who can quality products at the same time.

An Irish Stew Is Different

A classic beef stew is made by first browning the meat. For an Irish stew (sometimes called a white stew) the meat is cooked without browning. In this particular recipe for Irish stew, tomatoes are added.

Irish Stew

- 1 pound lamb (1 1/2-inch cubes)
- 1 pound beef (1 1/2-inch cubes)
- 1 (1-pound) can tomatoes
- 2 cups stock
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 6 to 8 white onions, whole
- 6 to 8 potatoes, pared and quartered
- 3 to 4 carrots, pared and thickly sliced
- 2 stalks celery, sliced
- 2 tablespoons corn starch
- 1/4 cup cold water

Mix meat, tomatoes, stock (canned bouillon or bouillon cubes and water may be used), salt and pepper in large kettle. Cover and simmer until meat is almost tender, about 45 minutes. Add vegetables. Simmer until meat and vegetables are about fork tender, 45 minutes. Reduce heat to slow simmer. Blend corn starch and water. Gradually add to stew, stirring carefully so vegetables are not crushed. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to boil. Season to taste, if needed. Simmer a few minutes to blend flavors. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Note: Stew improves on standing and may be prepared ahead of time.

PROMOTIONAL PROGRAM FOR TEXAS FED BEEF

Meeting in Corpus Christi the week of September 16 representatives of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, National Livestock and Meat the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association made preliminary plans for a special promotional program for Texas Fed Beef. Jack Carrothers, President of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association said, "Texas Cattle Feeders will send to market some 1.2 billion pounds of fed beef in 1968." This is high quality beef which is well accepted nation-wide. We think it is important to improve the awareness of Texas consumers of the high quality of Texas Fed Beef and sell as much of our product as possible right here at home.

The "Texas Fed Beef Promotional Program" which has been under development by the Texas Cattle Feeders Association for some time, will be carried on in co-operation with the Marketing Division of the Texas Department of Agriculture. Texas Agricultural Commissioner, John C. White, said "the State Department of Agriculture welcomes the opportunity to co-operate with industry in the promotion of Texas Agricultural products."

In addition to those groups represented at the Corpus Christi meeting, other segments of the Texas beef industry will be invited to participate in the "Texas Fed Beef Promotion Programs." Plans are for the first phase of the promotional program to begin early in 1969.

On Tour With Farm Bureau Members

TOKYO, Japan—For Texas farmers not yet accustomed even to daylight savings time, the long jet flight from Texas to Tokyo-crossing nine time zones enroute—can be downright devastating to the human "inner clock."

What this means—in plain language—is that many of the farmers and ranchers and their wives on the TFB-sponsored world tour get awful sleepy in the daytime—when it's bed-time back home—and wake up hours before breakfast—just because their "inner clocks" are set to Texas time. But, despite being a little bleary-eyed, the 64 Texans on the tour are becoming oriented to the Orient.

What they see in Japan is an aggressive, hardworking people with a rising standard of living. They observe an island nation of 100 million people with less land area than California, a mountainous country of delicate beauty where only 16% of the land is capable of agricultural production. What this would seem to add up to is a growing market for Texas-produced grain sorghum, wheat, rice, cotton, poultry and livestock products. The tour members will have a clearer picture of market potential when they are briefed by U.S. embassy officials later on. They expect also to meet with buyers for a large import firm here.

The Texas Farm Bureau tour group—comprised mostly of farmers and ranchers and their wives—is on the first leg of a 31-day, around-the-world market-inspection, sightseeing and goodwill tour. After Japan, they are scheduled to visit Hong Kong, the Philippines, Thailand, India, Lebanon, Israel, Greece and Rome.

In our journey thus far, we have witnessed first hand some of the startling improvements made in transportation in recent years. We were whisked by jet to Tokyo via Los Angeles and Honolulu in just 16 hours flying time—an unthinkable feat just 15 years ago. And yet the big, sleek jets cross the ocean now with the casualness of a bus ride across Central Texas.

Here in Japan, we have seen what may be the forerunner of rapid surface transportation—especially between populous urban areas. I'm speaking of the super-swift, 130-MPH KODAMA (Echo) trains that travel at 30-minute intervals, both ways, between Osaka and Tokyo.

Imagine travelling by train between Dallas and Houston—a distance of some 300 miles—in just 2 hours and 50 minutes! That's the equivalent of what we did on one ride from Kyoto to Tokyo. The "silver bullet"—as it is sometimes called—makes only 2 stops between Osaka and Tokyo—and Kyoto, where we stayed the first two and a half days in Japan—and Nagoya. The "bullet" runs on a tight schedule, and only stops about three minutes at each place to take on and discharge passengers. As a matter of fact, we had to send our heavy luggage ahead the night before by truck so we could board with only our small hand luggage. The "bullet" waits for no one.

The train trip from Osaka-Kyoto to Tokyo takes you through a fairland of rural loveliness. For mile after fleeting mile you view an unfolding panorama of rural Japan. It is a country of verdant hills, rice paddies and row upon row of manicured tea plants. And yet, you are never out of sight of human habitation. The farmhouses in the small villages are only seconds apart, and you rush through many, many towns and cities. There are 25 million Japanese living along the 300-mile route of the Kodama train. This is one fourth of the total population of this teeming island. When you arrive in Tokyo, and step from the train into the vast labyrinths of Tokyo Station, it is like being immersed in a sea of humanity—a veritable ant hill of scurrying figures. For this is Tokyo—city of more than 11 million people—largest metropolis in the world. Of this you have no doubt.

Value of Farm Output and Production of Cattle On Increase

The total volume of farm output in the United States in 1967 was a record 4 percent above 1966 and 18 percent above the 1957-59 average. Production increased for cattle, calves, and hogs but was lower for sheep and lambs, reports C.A. Parker, Texas A & M University Extension economist.

Poultry and egg production, he adds, was at a new high with record output of eggs, broilers and turkeys. Dairy products remained at about the same level as in 1966.

Cotton production was the smallest since 1895 and only half of the 1961-65 average. Record corn and sorghum grain output pushed the feed grain total to a new high. Food grain production increased 14 percent above 1966. Oil crops continued to increase, primarily because of a rise in soybean output.

Labor used on farms in the United States totaled 7.4 billion man-hours in 1967. This, explains the economist, was lower than any previous year and 1.4 percent less than in 1966. Farm output per man-hour in 1967 rose more than 6 percent from a year earlier.

The increase in livestock production per man-hour was greater than for crops. Fewer workers in 1967 supplied food and other farm products to an increased domestic population. Each farm worker in 1967 supplied 42 domestic and foreign consumers with their needed agricultural products. The total volume of inputs in 1967 was nearly 2 percent See Farm Output Page 6

Cotton Producers Institute's "Extraordinary Effective Work" Wins Vanguard Award

Cotton Producers Institute has been named grand winner of the Vanguard Award.

The award is given annually as a result of a poll of the board of directors of the National Retail Merchants Association for "performance in assisting retail stores to increase their sales."

The presentation was made to Cotton Producers Institute President Russell Giffen, Fresno, Calif., at a luncheon in New York City.

In announcing the winner, Budd Gore, manager of NRMA's sales promotion division said, "The Vanguard Award has been presented to Cotton Producers Institute for its extraordinary effective work with retailers. Promotional themes were carefully developed and executed. Cooperation with retail stores was outstanding. The cotton promotion program was sufficiently flexible to make it possible for each participating store to mold the effort to its particular community personality and promotional policies and procedures. The result was both exciting and profitable."

The presentation was made during the fourth annual Retail Advertising Management

Executive Seminar attended by 125 retail advertising men from the United States and Canada.

Finalists also receiving palques were Monsanto Textiles, Clairfort Incorporated, Kingsley Machine Company and the National Knitted Outerwear Association.

Neither Trematodes Nor Nematodes

In Texas Fish Harmful To Man

AUSTIN—The parasitic worms which freshwater anglers find in Texas fish are not harmful to man, says Marion Toole, inland fisheries coordinator for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Toole says the parasitic worms fall into three categories—trematodes, nematodes and cestodes.

Trematodes are parasitic worms which may be found on the skin and gills or in the muscle tissue of fish.

Fishermen may find three types of trematodes in Texas fish. These are the Ancyroccephalus which has four large hooks and 14 to 16 small hooks on the posterior disk, the Clinostomum or yellow grub, and the Crassiphlicla amblolipitis or black grub.

The Ancyroccephalus attaches itself to the skin or gills of the fish.

The yellow grub embeds itself to the skin or gills of the fish.

The black grub embeds itself in the muscle tissue along the base of the dorsal fin, and the black grubs appear as black cysts on the fins or under the skin of most pond fish.

Both the black and yellow grub have a complicated life cycle which begins with the adult grub in the oral cavity of the Great Blue Heron. Aquatic Snails and fish are only intermediate hosts for the parasite which eventually winds up in the Great Blue Heron again.

Toole says usually when yellow or black grubs are found encysted along the dorsal muscle tissue of fish, they can be removed by cutting off a little muscle tissue.

Two types of parasites may be found in the body cavity—nematodes and tape worms.

These parasites are removed when the fish is dressed and do not affect the condition of the fish. Thorough cooking will kill any parasite that have not been removed by the dressing process, biologists said.

Moving Day For Rio Grande

Putting the Rio Grande river back where it belongs would appear to most people to be much too formidable a task to undertake. But not for Mexico Compania Constructora S. A., a leading Mexican contractor headquartered in Mexico City.

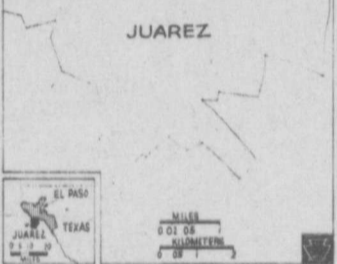

With a fleet of six giant Allis-Chalmers earthmovers, the contractor has done just that—digging a new channel in the right place to put the river back.

Nearly one million cubic yards of moist, heavy sand, deposited over the decades by the Rio Grande river (Or Rio Bravo, in Mexico), are being moved in the process of forming the new Adolfo Lopez Mateos Canal, which will slice between Juarez, Mexico, and El Paso, Texas. By fall, the contractor hopes to be ready to switch the Rio Grande into the new canal, where, as the international boundary between Mexico and the United States, it properly should be.

For more than a century, Ciudad Juarez and El Paso have been in this precarious position, situated on opposite sides of the border at the extreme northwestern tip of Texas where the Rio Grande snakes its way down from New Mexico. Since 1853, the two cities watched the river gouge out three completely different channels.

Result: by 1962 the meandering stream had bequeathed some 400 acres of land, called "El Chamizal," to El Paso.

But in this age of earthmoving behemoths, even intangible things like international boundaries can be set aright, especially between friendly, understanding neighbors like Mexico and the United States.

Map locates new channel (broken line) excavated for construction of the Adolfo Lopez Mateos Canal.

Loaded to the gills and lined up Indian file, this fleet of Allis-Chalmers earthmovers tote away more than 25 tons of sand and dirt from the new river bottom forming the relocated channel of the Rio Grande.

At an official ceremony last October, President Diaz Ordaz of Mexico accepted return of the land from President Johnson in Juarez, marked by cheering crowds and fluttering blizzards of confetti.

Ingeniero Frederico Schroeder, project engineer for the contractor, had already brought in his crew and heavy equipment to move more than a million tons of sand to relocate the Rio Grande. The project has been the scene of intense activity, eight hours or more a day and six days a week.

Goal of the project—diverting the water of the Rio Grande, or Rio Bravo as it is known south of the border, to mark the new boundary—is a matter of moving earth and moving it fast. The earthmovers provide an impressive sight coming down the excavation slope Indian file, kicking up tons of dust as they approach the new Paso del Norte bridge still lined up perfectly despite their speed and the rough terrain. They disappear under the bridge and then reappear at the other end on their way to pick up yet another load.

Other crews stream out of the batch plant nearby to handle the 130,000 cubic yards of concrete lining for the canal.

A bird's-eye view clearly reveals the strip marking the excavation for the new canal around the pie-shaped wedge comprising El Chamizal, just west of Cordova Island. Visible, too, is the gap formed by houses torn down in the previous housing project. But even more apparent is the fact that the new border is a gigantic step forward, due in large measure to the efforts of the industrious crews working on the project under the leadership of Ing. Schroeder.

Marlin's Magician

Curtis Smith, Number 40, gave Marlin the lead on this plunge into the end zone on fourth down in the second quarter. The Hornet defense stopped Smith most of the game and allowed him only one touchdown.

Carothers then ran two plays that gained three yards. On third down quarterback Mike Barr drove to the one yard line as the third quarter ended. The first play of the final quarter saw the Hornets faced with fourth down and one yard to go for a touchdown. Barr came through with a quarterback sneak to tie the game at 14-14. The Hornets decided to try to kick the extra point which would have given them a one point lead. The snap from center, however, was a little bit high and holder Neeley mis-handled it. He attempted to run but was stopped just short of the goal.

The fourth quarter was mostly a defensive battle with no team gaining an advantage until, with 4:41 left, Rogers of Marlin threw to Curtis Medkins who made a fantastic catch on the Gatesville 37. Rogers then ran to the Hornet 14 yard line but the Hornets were saved by a clipping penalty which moved the ball back to the 46 yard line. Cole stopped the drive for good when he intercepted another Bulldog pass, this time on the Gatesville 30.

With 1:26 to go in the game, Wayne Shirley recovered a Marlin fumble on the Hornet 39 yard line, but Gatesville was stopped when they also fumbled. With 42 seconds left in the game, Marlin tried desperately to score. They looked like they might succeed when Rogers passed to Sweat at the Hornet 37, and three plays later to Smith on the 24. Time ran out on the Bulldogs, however, leaving the final score a 14-14 deadlock.

One of the few bright spots

Mike Gaston took this short pass from Mike Barr in the first quarter action. Gaston was injured on the first play from scrimmage Friday night and was later taken from the game.

for the Hornets in an otherwise dull night was the play of Raymond Cole. He not only returned the opening kickoff for a 95 yard TD, but he also intercepted two passes. The Hornet defense also did well against the rush, especially in containing Curtis Smith, number 40, who was the Bulldogs' big gun. The defensive secondary, however, was a different story. They need a lot of improvement and they need it quick if they want to keep Killen from staging a runaway next week. The Hornet offense was similarly ineffective, gaining only 107 total yards. Gaston and Barr both sustained minor leg injuries which made the running game ineffective, but even if they had been in perfect shape they couldn't have gone anywhere with the lack of blocking they got from the offensive line.

Standout performers for the Hornets on offense were Cole and Barr, and on defense were Ingram, Freeman, Pate, and Gillette.

Raymond Cole Dashes 95 Yards With Opening Kick-Off

The Play of the Week

Selected By Jack Gunlock

This week assistant varsity coach Jack Bell selected the first play of the game as the "play of the week". There is nothing unusual about this play; it is the Hornets' standard kick off return play, but this week it worked to perfection against the Marlin Bulldogs. Deep man Raymond Cole took the ball at his own five yard line and sped all the way to the Marlin end zone.

The diagram and following explanation shows the blocking assignments, which were carried out perfectly enabling Raymond to make his long return.

The Marlin kicker, K, kicks the ball to Raymond Cole, number 44, who starts upfield. Wayne Shirley, number 50, blocks the kicker, and the rest of the front line Hornets, Keith Bell, number 60, Randy Schoenewolf, number 70, James Ingram, number 75, and Don Gillette, number 62, block the opponents as shown in the diagram. Bubba Neel, number 24, and Doug Freeman, number 84, also carry out their blocking assignments. Mike Gaston, number 17, Reggie Schoenewolf, number 89, and Gary Carothers, number 39, form a wall up the middle in front of the ball carrier. Their assignment is to block any opponent who gets through the initial line of Hornet blockers. Raymond Cole, number 44, follows these blockers for as much yardage as possible. Friday night, Cole broke through the defenders at his own 40 and raced the remaining 60 yards untouched to the goal.

Jonesboro Eagles Stop Cransfill Gap 48-0      Oglesby Tigers Continue Winning Streak

The Jonesboro Eagles pleased the hometown fans, Thursday night, at Jonesboro, with an offensive display, with Gary Massingale scoring three first half touchdowns against Cransfill Gap.

The Eagles took the opening kickoff and Massingale wasted no time in putting points on the scoreboard. On the third play of the game, Gary raced 35 yards behind a good block by Randy Roebuck for a touchdown. The extra point kick was good, Eagles 8 - Lions 0.

The Lion offense could not sustain a drive Thursday night against the tough and speedy Eagle defense. On the Lion first possession, they were forced to kick after three downs.

Two plays later, Gary Massingale did an instant replay of the first scoring play, racing around left end for 30 yards and a 14-0 lead.

The Lions failed to move the ball the second time they had it and kicked on fourth down.

The Lion defense jelled at this point and picked off a second down Eagle pass. Lion offense again was stopped and forced to kick.

The Eagle speedster, Mickey Perry, scampered five yards on third down for the third Eagle touchdown. P.A.T. failed. Jonesboro 20 - Cransfill Gap 0.

With very little time left in the first half, the Lions attempted to get things rolling, only to have Mickey Perry intercept a pass near the Lion 10-yard line.

Gary Massingale then swept left end for a score, last minute Eagle touchdown. The extra point kick was good, (28-0)

The only scoring of the third quarter came on a broken play where Mickey Perry attempted to go left, then reversed his field and scored around right end from the 25-yard line.

The Eagles scored twice in the fourth quarter, once on a pass to Randy Roebuck and Doyle Summerfield ran 33 yards for the final score.

Last week, the Eagles took the measure of last year's powerhouse, Iredell, 44 - 2.

Against Cransfill Gap, Coach Bill Dyer, pointed to performances by Randy Roebuck, Mickey Perry, David Young, Gary Massingale and Doyle Summerfield as outstanding. The Eagles are young this year, but the spirit and desire are still strong.

The Oglesby High School Tigers continued their winning ways this weekend with a 72-25 romp over Trinidad.

The Tiger offense found many different scoring combinations with seven athletes scoring touchdowns.

The Oglesby six moved for a score on the first play of the game, with Ronnie Sullins connecting on a 50-yard pass to Johnny Pitts.

The Oglesby scoring was as follows: Johnny Pitts, 18 points; Larry Ross, 12 points; Willie Leos, 6 points; Mike Robinson, 12 points, Ronnie Sullins, 12 points and Donald Waddill, 6 points.

The Oglesby offense was maintained by Larry Ross, end, Willie Leos, who combined for 233 yards net gain on the ground, Ross carried for 117 yards and Leos for 116 yards.

The Tigers had a total net offensive yardage of 368 compared to Trinidad's 319 yards. Coach Gary Fox analyzed the total yardage figures pointing to the stout Tiger defense, lead by Joe and Johnny Pitts for stopping the Trinidad scoring threats.

In first downs, Trinidad had eleven first downs to eight and passing, Trinidad completed 12 of 21, while Oglesby completed 9 of 16 passes.

The Tigers defense stopped the Trinidad offense when the time was right. Larry Ross pounced on a Trinidad fumble in the second half to stop one drive and Charles Vandiver intercepted a Trinidad aerial to stop another drive.

Oglesby will play Cransfill Gap, Friday night.

larger than in 1966, says Parker. Agriculture in the United States, he says, is increasingly dependent on the non-farm sectors of the economy for production inputs. The record high volume of purchased inputs in 1967 was 24 percent greater than in 1957-59. The volume of non-purchased inputs has decreased 19 percent since 1957-59. Inputs used in agriculture in 1967, however, were more productive than in 1966. Farm output per unit of input in 1967 was about 2 percent greater than in 1966 and 8 percent greater than in 1957-59.
