mer Gatesville School inmates scheduled for trial on May 26. The hearing continued well into the afternoon Monday. ## Forces For Freedom Scheduled For Saturday At Fort Hood

Ft. Hood's "Forces for Freedom" will be showing their stuff to an expected throng of onlookers Saturday (May 17) when the Armed Forces Day Open House.

Post Commander Lt. Gen. Beverley E. Powell has extended a warm welcome to area citizens to attend the event, saying, "It is appropriate that we in the military thank the American People for the trust they place in our Armed Forces, and we want to extend a personal invitation to all of our Central Texas friends to come see us."

The Ft. Hood Open House will be but one of many to be held around the nation and around the world.

There will be plenty of military police on hand to guide visitors to various Ft. Hood activities. Main Routes will also be marked clearly with red, white and blue signs and free shuttle bus service will provide continuous transportation between various points of interest on post.

Things will get underway at 9:30 a.m. with an open house at the Historic 1st Armd. Div., "Old Ironsides," Museum. The museum will remain open to visitors until 3.

The 2nd Armd. Div., meanwhile, will hold an open house at its museum as well as in various barracks, mess halls and motor pools.

The modern Sabre Service Club will also host a 9:30-3 open house. Other special services facilities will also be open to the public during the day.

Rides on such military vehicles as tanks, armored personnel carriers (apcs) and jeeps will also be provided by the 2nd Armd. Div., The "Hell On Wheels" Division. The rides will be held in the vicinity of the Mounted Review Field near the intersection of North Ave. and West Range Road.

Rides on Santa Fe Railroad cars will be available all day long arriving and departing the rail head area behind Prichard Stadium.

A static equipment display at Prichard is expected to attract a host of onlookers all day long. Rolling stock on hand will include an M551 "Sheridan", Combat Engineer Vehicle, Armored Vehicle Launcher Bridge, M548 Cargo Carrier, M577 Command Post Carrier, APCs and the 155mm and 8" Self Propelled Howitzers.

Hood chapter of the Association of the United States Army (AUSA) and a locally prepared civil defense exhibit. From 11-12 and 1:30-2:30 there will be a talent-laden variety show also at Prichard. In fact, the big stadium will serve as the nerve center and hub for the post wide activities.

An exciting highlight of the Prichard activities will be a mock airmobile assault, complete with helicopters. The attack will begin at 10:30. All in all, it should be a fascinating affair, for both adults and children.

Harmon Rogers Receives Texas A&M Scholarship Award

Harmon A. Rogers of Oglesby has been offered an Opportunity Award Scholarship for the study at Texas A&M University.

He was selected for the award by A&M's Faculty Scholarships Committee primarily upon scholastic achievement while in high school. Activities involvement also is a criterion. About eight applications are made for each scholarship.

"Opportunity Award recipients this year are outstanding and better students than ever," commented Robert M. Logan, Student Aid director.

Coryell Farm Bureau To Co-Sponsor Television Program

The Coryell County Farm Bureau is co-sponsoring a televised new conference featuring Jose Mendoza, spokesman for California farm workers who are resisting compulsory unionism. The 30-minute color video-taped program will be telecast on KCEN-TV (Waco-Temple) at 5:30 p.m., Saturday, May 17. Seven other central Texas County FBs are also sponsors of the program.

George Jageler of Gatesville, president of the Coryell County Farm Bureau, said the program was originally broadcast in the Lower Rio Grande Valley last month when Mendoza was in Texas for a series of meetings with new media. Clark Bolt, farm editor for the Waco News-Tribune and farm director for KCEN-TV, is one of the panelists on the show.

"We believe what Mr. Mendoza has to say is important not only to the farmers of this area, but also the general public," Jageler said. "He tells 'the third side' of the California farm labor controversy--not the growers' or the union's but the viewpoint of the farm workers themselves. 'Many people have heard only one side of this story,' Jageler said. 'They have been led to believe that the controversial farm union leader, Cesar Chavez, actually represents the grape workers in Delano, California, area where most of the labor strife has occurred.'

"According to Mr. Medoza, the farm workers union has less than 2 percent of the farm work force in that state signed up. Not only that, but the actual grape workers are opposed to Chavez's tactics, and have organized to tell the American people their side of the story. This was Mendoza's purpose in

Robert C. Mauer Named Manager Of A Dallas-Based Lone Star Gas Company

Robert C. Mauer has been named manager of a plastic pipe manufacturing facility planned by Nipak, Inc., a subsidiary of Dallas-based Lone Star Gas Co. The appointment is to be effective June 1.

Mauer will be in charge of the design, construction and operation of the plant which will produce polyethylene pipe and fittings.

Site for the plastic pipe facility, now in the designing stage, has not been chosen.

Mauer joined Nipak, Inc. as a senior mechanical engineer at the company's petrochemical plant in Pryor, Oklahoma. He will hold that post until his new assignment.

A native of Beaumont, Mauer graduated from Lamar Tech in 1953 with a degree in mechanical engineering. He is registered in Texas and Oklahoma as a professional engineer and is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

With home burglaries and car thefts on the increase, more and more products and systems are being developed to protect against thieves. But you needn't spend much money to guarantee safety for your belongings.

Here are some expert's tips worth latching onto.

A snap lock is not adequate for your doors because it can be forced when a strip of celluloid is pushed through the slot between the door and the door frame. That's why experts recommend both chain locks and chain bolts. Bolts, attached to a welded chain, which extends from the door to inside the door frame cannot be readily forced open, and also give you the opportunity to see who is calling when you answer the door.

Casement windows that open inward may be secured with a horizontal length of chain. And you can provide additional security for double hung windows by fastening links of chain between wooden window frame and trim in the same manner as your doors are secured.

And if you own a car port, experts say use a chain padlock between posts. Even if a thief is able to jump start your car, the chain will prevent him from backing it out without the padlock key. In your garage, chain your expensive gardening tools such as power mowers and your children's bikes, and padlock them too. That will prevent a pick-up you didn't quite expect.

Your local hardware store can help you select chains that are best suited to many security and decorative uses in your home. And help with installation and accessory suggestions.

So link up with chains—for safety's sake.

DO-IT-YOUR-SHELF PARTIES

Ever throw a spur-of-the-moment party that was more fun than those planned weeks in advance?

Sure, everybody enjoys an engraved invitation followed by formal festivities with all the trimmings—on occasion. But frequently the last-minute get-togethers of friends who drop in are the ones that really swing into high gear.

The open sesame to successful, spontaneous entertaining lies in shelf sorcery. Take a tip from canny hosts and hostesses who keep one cupboard shelf and one corner of the refrigerator stocked with "emergency" fare. Then when the gang drops in after the game, the movie or the P.T.A.—you'll be all set to serve in minutes. Suggestions for cocktail tidbits to keep in the cupboard:

Nuts in tins or jars to be re-toasted and served hot
 Jars of Italian pickled peppers
 Canned pate, anchovies, sardines, smoked oysters
 Canned olives, pickled mushrooms or onions
 Assorted crackers or chips
 Canned crabmeat, lobster or minced clams
 Canned soups are also a must for short-order socializing—to be used either for doctored up meals or as short-order sauces and stocks. Also good to have on hand are frozen containers of stew, beef stroganoff or chili con carne stored in the freezer. Popped into the oven while guests are still imbibing, these filling dishes will be ready to eat when everybody has worked his way through the hors d'oeuvres and is really hungry. Serving everybody's favorite cocktail, as they like them—once a costly and time-consuming chore—is now a cinch thanks to new canned Club Cocktails by Heublein. Available in nine best selling varieties—martinis, whiskey sours, daiquiris, margaritas, manhattans, vodka martinis and gimlets, mai tais and screwdrivers—each contains enough for three drinks which, when chilled and served straight from the can, have an alcoholic content equal to regular cocktails served on ice.

Ideal for football games and other sporting events, picnics, excursions, and club gatherings, as well as stay-at-home festivities, Club Cocktails are the last word in easy entertaining with a flair.

With preparation plus relaxation the keynotes to today's informal celebrations, your Do-it-Your-Shelf party may be the social standout of the season!

INFLATION—"The single most urgent problem facing the economy is the threat of continuing inflation," said Sen. Edward W. Brooke, (R-Mass.). He said that inflation carries with it a forward momentum that can be controlled only by appropriate economic policies applied with "determination and persistence." He recommends the checking of federal spending, and monetary restraint to hold down the growth of money and credit, "perhaps for a considerable period ahead."

Highlights and Sidelights

Vern Sanford

When will the special session be? That's the big question around the state capitol. Legislative leaders defied Gov. Preston Smith by deciding to pass a one-year budget bill instead of the customary two-year plan. Reason given was to delay new taxation.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher announced the decision after two weeks of maneuvering and unsuccessful efforts to sell Governor Smith on the idea. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who had instigated the single-year budget tactic, of course concurred. Smith has stated about as plainly as he can that he considers the Legislature obliged to pass a biennial budget and balancing revenue measures this week.

His implied threat of vetoing a one-year bill, however, went unheeded.

Many legislators, who have strong misgivings about the course charted by their leaders, are convinced Smith will call them back into session this summer to finish the budget-tax job, if they don't get the job done now.

The conflict could be long and bitter. Barnes and Mutscher want Smith to wait until after the 1970 elections to call a special session on appropriations and taxation for 1971.

House-Senate conferees on the budget went to work this week to trim earlier 1970 spending recommendations by some $69 million in order that teachers can get a pay raise without a tax bill.

Mutscher is convinced this can be done while preserving a "sound, progressive" budget for the first year of the biennium.

"Needless to say," observed House Appropriations Committee Chairman Rep. W. S. Heatly of Paducah, "a lot of people are not going to get what they had hoped for."

EDUCATION GROUP FORMED Texas council for Higher Education in its first meeting threw its weight behind legislation to expand higher education, including state aid to private colleges and universities.

Blue ribbon 160-member group endorsed additional colleges "where warranted" and contracting for services of independent institutions. Although members differed over tuition increases, they passed a resolution calling on the legislature to determine an "equitable division of financial support between the state and those individuals directly benefitting from higher education." Former Congressman Lloyd Bentzen Jr. of Houston heads the council.

DRAFT CALL DOWN AGAIN--June draft call for Texas is 1,366, down from 1,453 in May, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service director, has announced.

Figure is the state's share of 25,900-man national quota. A total of 8,202 will be forwarded for armed forces pre-induction physical and mental examinations next month in preparation for future calls, Schwartz said. Total for May was 8,234. June call-up is the lowest since January when 1,363 were on slate.

APPOINTMENTS--Governor Smith withdrew nomination of Dr. Emerson Emory of Dallas to State Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation because Emory is committed to accept a state salaried job as a physician.

Martin Holter, formerly of Lockhart, has been appointed director of accounting for the Liquor Control Board, succeeding Kenneth W. Cook who was promoted to assistant administrator of LCB.

Smith reappointed Robert Leon of Austin to the board of trustees of the Teacher Retirement System. Members also selected Nat Williams of Lubbock and Willard Houser of Austin to the same board.

Morris Harrell of Dallas is new president-elect of State Bar of Texas and Jim Greenwood of Houston is junior bar president-elect.

Dallas Mayor Erik Jonsson has taken over the Texas Municipal League presidency.

SAFE TRAFFIC PLANS ASKED Texas Highway Commission has invited 13 cities to join in a cooperative effort to plan urban traffic operations for increasing capacity and safety of streets and highways.

Those asked to participate were San Antonio, Texarkana, Wake Village, Odessa, El Paso, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Corpus Christi, Arlington, Fort Worth, Abilene, Austin and Wichita Falls.

Senator, District 12

TORT CLAIMS BILL STIRS SENATE--Governor Preston Smith sent an emergency message to both the Senate and the House to request passage of a limited government liability law to replace the Tort Claims Bill which he vetoed earlier last week. Senator Oscar Mauzy, author of the bill, will try to override this veto and prevent passage of the new measure. I did not vote for the original bill and I do not plan to vote for the new proposal.

HEARING AID BILL--Licensing of all persons engaged in the fitting of hearing aids was authorized by the Senate last week through the establishment of a Texas Board of Hearing Aid Examiners. I was very much in favor of this bill as there is no protection for the consumer against outrageous prices for these devices. The Board would insure that businessmen engaged in selling hearing aids are qualified to do so. At the present time there are no rules or ethics involved in this profession, and the need for regulation is evidenced by the number of complaints reported concerning poor fittings.

APPROPRIATIONS PLAN--Leadership in the Senate (Lt. Gov. Barnes) and the House (Speaker Mutscher) have gone on record as favoring a one year appropriations measure

GRADUATION LUNCHEON - One of the first graduation parties of the season was one given by Mrs. Rufe Brown Saturday in honor of three seniors Georgianne Kellogg, Kay Spencer and Eloise Washburn.

The Dining Room of Chateau Ville restaurant was the scene of the luncheon where a long table was covered with a white linen cloth centered with a white spring floral arrangement. Each place was marked with a stand-up girl graduate and a gift of note paper wrapped in the school colors from the hostess, Mrs. Brown, who also presented the honorees with personal gifts.

The hostess voiced the blessing of the food before a menu of fresh fruit cup, white meat of chicken, green beans and buttered carrots with hot rolls, iced tea and parfait was served to the following mothers, Mrs. Hershel Kellogg, Walter Spencer and Johnny Washburn, other guests were Leah Pender, Vicki Hollingsworth, Linda Mensch, Shirley Jones, Pam Dixon and Jan Bradford.

Every one looked lovely and appeared to be enjoying themselves thoroughly.

I think Mrs. Brown did the girls a real justice by giving them this happy event to add to their book of memories.

This is the colonial style home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Price and family, on Royal Drive in the Mountain View Area. The house is antique brick with big white columns on the porch and white outside shutters. On each side of the front door are coach lights that add to the warmth of the entrance.

MR. AND MRS. BILL PRICE HOME

It was my pleasure Thursday to visit with Mrs. Levi Aldridge of 1701 Leon Street.

I went to have a look at her collection of salt and pepper shakers which adds up to more than two hundred sets.

Mrs. Aldridge collects other items such as rocks and bottles, but became interested in salt and pepper shakers about twelve years ago. Probably about half the states are represented and a few foreign countries. There are many different kinds ranging from animals, fruits, vegetables, kitchen appliances and other various shapes. They're made from wood, nuts, plastic, china, metal and pottery.

Her oldest set is one belonging to the set of China she received when she married 50 years ago. Though, she cherishes them all this particular set holds some fond memories.

One of the most interesting is a pair sent to her from Israel by her brother. The are carved from the wood of an olive tree. She also has a silver pair from England and another wood set painted in bright enamel colors from Mexico.

Being a lover of the beautiful little Hamill figurines, I picked as my favorite, a young boy and girl called "kissing cousins" sitting on a park bench kissing.

Another favorite of her's are the purple cows given to her as a Christmas gift by a little granddaughter.

Incidentally, she stated that is one of her biggest problems with the collection is to keep grandchildren out especially those like the kitchen appliances, binoculars, a metal bicycle holding a pair and a few others resembling toys. Another problem is to keep them dusted which requires a great deal of time.

Mrs. Aldridge said, "I think all older people should have a hobby or collection to occupy themselves." She went on to explain she didn't consider herself really old, but with the children gone and being a widow she had a lot of spare time on her hands.

I thought she made a very good point and wholeheartedly agree with her.

THE LONG COOL SUMMER

The cut-out dress is in!

McCall's Pattern #9785 is the newest take-off on the "bare look". The breezy culotte-dress; Pattern #9783, goes from sun-up to sundown with nonstop versatility.

Summertime is a breeze-in dresses cut out for the carefree life. The "bare look" is the latest and greatest way to keep your cool. Necklines dip daringly lower, backlines also take the plunge, and the bare midriff is suddenly the center of attention. Newest takeoff on this idea: the dress with cut-out sides.

Are legs stepping out of the fashion limelight? Hardly! The pants look goes everywhere—and you're nowhere without at least one pant-dress to help you breeze through a busy summer.

Since the new styles have a bare minimum of frills, they're particularly easy to sew.

For the girl who wants to be a cut above the crowd, McCall's Patterns has just the ticket: #9785 for misses and juniors. The simple tank-top skimmer, cut out at the sides, makes quite a point of a slim waist and sleek, suntanned midriff.

Make it in-regular or mini-lengths; sew the same design in different fabrics to wear at the beach or in the city, at high noon or after dark. The world will see a new side to your fashion personality!

Equally versatile is the dashing culotte dress in Misses Pattern #9783. From deeply V'd neck to flaring split-level skirt, the effect is one of stripped-down elegance. No side-issues here, unless you add the new-minted touch of a gilt link belt.

This pant-dress can be made in three lengths to fit the life you lead. A mini-version is ideal for sunning, presto, change-o, and the same pattern produces an ankle-sweeping hostess costume! The street-length version has nonstop versatility for daytime and dates. Give it the "flower power" of the newest prints. Or endow it with the classic appeal of white, twice as refreshing with a double row of lace banding at the hem.

Texas Bowhunters Inc. Promulgate Year-Round Bowhunting

The Texas Bowhunters Inc. has recently been formed as a non-profit organization to promulgate year-round bow-hunting, it was announced by Frank Doerr, president.

Doerr said the Texas Bowhunters will work toward the establishment of preserves, the opening up of new counties for special archery seasons, the propagation of game for bowhunters, the dissemination of educational information related to the subject of bowhunting, and the protection and preservation of wild game.

Special arrangements will be made by the Association for exotic game hunting as a service to members and others interested in furthering the activities of bowhunting.

Frank Doerr, 48, president of the Association, is an experienced bow hunter. Starting in 1934, Doerr was responsible for helping in opening up counties for bowhunting in Pennsylvania. Since that time he has been an avid bowhunter. This year, Doerr was successful in bagging a wild, rare, white corsican ram, a sika deer, and a trophy Javelina.

Doerr is a member of the National Archery Association, Pennsylvania Bowhunters and the Houston Sportsman's Club. For additional information on the Texas Bowhunters Inc., contact Frank Doerr, president, 2608 Daldwin, Houston, Texas 77006.

Jageler said that the union's decision to boycott California table grapes on a nationwide basis is the one factor that caused grape workers to decide to try to tell their side of the story—since their jobs were jeopardized by the boycott.

Jageler, said the boycott was called in an effort to force growers to sign union contracts, thus forcing workers into the union, California does not have a right-to-work law.

Electric Companies Research Blackout Prevention Plans

A two-year research study aimed at prevention of electric service blackouts is being undertaken by the Edison Electric Institute.

In announcing the study, Earl Ewald, chairman of Northern States Power Co., said that modern power system networks are undergoing continuous change and require constant surveillance for reliable and economic operation.

"The sheer quantity alone of electrical equipment needed for future growth," he said, "and the establishment of new and larger operating pools will compound the existing complex situation."

"With new tools, such as computing and control systems, plus new methods in systems analysis, the industry is in a better position to conduct adequate research to meet the future needs of power system security," Mr. Ewald added.

North American Rockwell Corp., Electronic Associates Inc., International Business Machines Corp., and General Electric Corp., are involved in specific areas of the institute's research study.

EXTENSION SPECIALIST SAYS CHEMICALS CHEAPER AND BETTER WEED FIGHTERS

The favorable moisture conditions indicate excellent prospects for a good cotton crop in nearly all of Texas, reports Fred Elliott, Extension cotton specialist at Texas A&M University. But he added, this also means there will be grass and weeds to control.

In the past, much of the weed control done by the farmers was by hoeing. But now, due in part of the scarcity of hoe hands, but mostly because it is easier, cheaper, quicker, and better than by hand, chemicals are quickly proving themselves. For every dollar invested in herbicides correctly applied, the grower saves several more dollars in reduced production costs, said Elliott.

There are nine weed control chemicals recommended for use as premerges in cotton. All of these can be applied in a band at the time of planting with equipment mounted on the tractor with the planter. Or, they can be band or broadcast applied as a separate operation immediately after planting.

Two of the chemicals, Plavavin and Treflan, can be applied broadcast in the spring, just before planting, but they must be soil incorporated, noted Elliott. They can be sprayed on the beds and incorporated with a Roll-N-Cultivator, row disc, do-all, or roto-tiller.

Incorporation should be shallow. It is very important to know where the incorporated herbicide is and to place the seed at the bottom edge of the zone of incorporation.

There are a number of herbicides available. Therefore, it will be well to study all the materials and learn as much as possible about their use, pointed out the specialist. Each grower can work out a system suited to his land and equipment.

Elliott said further information is contained in B-1029, "Suggestions for Weed Control with Chemicals", available from the local county agent. He also emphasized the imporstance of reading and following label instructions to prevent accidents.

PREVENTIVE PROGRAM TO HOLD LINE AGAINST SCREWORMS ANNOUNCED

Screwworms are on the prowl in Texas. Case numbers are already higher than last year and a statewide campaign has been launched to combat the current threat of a major outbreak by this livestock pest.

At an emergency meeting in San Antonio on April 30, livestock producers were told of the seriousness of the situation. An action program was outlined stressing greater vigilance and better herd management practices along with the release of sterile flies in an effort to reduce the impending threat of heavy screwworm reinfestation.

Screwworms socked-it-to-Texas last year when a record 9,268 cases were confirmed, marking the worst epidemic since the eradication program began in 1962. The severe outbreak claimed the life of a South Texas woman last fall.

The cattlemen have announced plans for re-activating County Screwworm Eradication Committees to "beef-up" educational programs and keep all livestock producers and sportsmen advised of the serious screwworm situation. Collection kits and vials for mailing larvae to the Mission Screwworm Laboratory for identification will be available from the county committees as well as from county agents.

Dolph Briscoe, Jr., Uvalde rancher and president of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation—industry group leading the battle against screwworms—told almost 100 key leaders that "no ranch is immune to the threat of screwworms this year. Texas has recorded more cases in a wider area this year than last, and case numbers in Mexico are much higher than last spring. Fertile fly migrations also are greater, and nearly ideal weather conditions exist for fly propagation."

Briscoe emphasized that prevention of cases is more important than ever, "for it costs about $800 to produce enough sterile flies to treat a single screwworm case."

Dr. S. C. Gartman and Dr. M. E. Meadow, Jr., U. S. Department of Agriculture veterinarians from the Mission Screwworm Eradication Center, also emphasized that the threat of a major screwworm outbreak this year is considerable greater than last year, due to reduction in sterile fly production during the winter.

"Conditions are right for a heavy screwworm re-infestation, since sterile fly treatment in the barrier area along the U. S.-Mexico border has been lighter than usual with the limited number of available flies. Sixty-three cases have been confirmed in Texas this spring, compared to only 40 a year ago. Sterile fly treatment areas presently include the lower portion of the state as well as the Edwards Plateau region and along the Rio Grand to the Big Bend area. Fly drops also are underway in Arizona and New Mexico, where cases have been confirmed; and for preventive purposes in Mexico," Dr. Gartman said.

The renewed battle against screwworms calls for county committees to emphasize the need for regular inspection of all animals, treatment of wounds—manmade and otherwise—with a product recommended for that purpose, and spraying herds with a recommended product.

"When infested wounds are found, livestock owners are asked to collect from 6 to 10 representative worms from the wound and mail the sample to the Mission Laboratory for identification as screwworms can be treated because of the cost factor."

Trustees of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, meeting prior to the general session, re-affirmed the need and desire to move the screwworm eradication program southward into Mexico. Officials of the Foundation, including President Briscoe and Vice-Presidents C. G. Scruggs of Dallas and John Hays of Yarnell, Arizona, have ratified a joint declaration to that effect with officials of the National Livestock Producers' Confederation of Mexico.

Foundation officials emphasized that in order to move into Mexico, the project must move through diplomatic channels and then be accomplished by the governments of the two nations involved. In preparation for a joint program between the U. S. and Mexico, SWAHRF trustees authorized the financing of an architect's plan for a plant to produce sterile flies in Mexico. The designs are to be worked out in cooperation with officials of Mexico.

"I did it and I'm Glad." That's what many a plastic bag might say if it could talk, for ingenious home economists are coming up with a delightful variety of jobs that the "Glad" plastic bags can do.

—To prepare baked goods for mailing, first wrap in plastic bags, fit snugly in crushproof container, cover again with plastic bags before wrapping for the mail. —Send soil samples for analysis to your county agent in plastic sandwich bags. Include a label identifying the location from which you took each sample.

—To avoid taking down several hat boxes before locating the one you want, cut holes in the sides of the boxes and back with clear see-through plastic wrap. —When children go camping, pack a complete set of clothing for each day in plastic bags. They will have fresh outfits ready to step into each morning, and at night they can use the bag for soiled clothes.

—Keep extra plastic wrap in your sewing basket for tape measures, keeping matched sets of buttons together, protecting patterns, and keeping braids and trims neat.

—For someone allergic to feathers, cut and shred plastic wrap to stuff his pillow.

Volleyball Tourney Won By Cockrell Team

The Gatesville Parks and Recreation 1st Annual Volley ball Tourney held this past weekend at the Recreation Center attracted 250 spectators as the Gatesville team captained by Sam Cockrell took top honors. The three-day tournament featured twelve men's and 10 women teams from all over Central Texas.

In both men's and women's division trophies were awarded to champion and consolation winners.

Recreation Center manager, Jerry Sullivan was pleased with this first year for the tournament's showing surprise to the number of spectators and teams turning out. Sullivan noted that all teams entered were present for their games and the tournament maintained the original schedule.

Alderman Gene Chitwood, in charge of the City Parks and Recreation Department was on hand to award trophies at the Saturday night finals. Chitwood noted that the 1st Annual Tourney was highly successful in all respects.

Winning in Women's consolation was Clifton's team who defeated a Meridian's team in Saturday night's first activity.

Later the Tankersley team from Clifton took the first two games in a "best of three" series from the Pearce team of Gatesville to win the Women's Championship.

In men's action the First Baptist Church team dropped two in a row to the Walker team from Clifton for the consolation honors.

Two Gatesville teams met in the men's finals, one team consisting of high school youth lead by Bob Gillette and the other lead by Sam Cockrell. In two games Cockrell's squad captured the title to the First Annual Parks and Recreation Volleyball Tourney.

Clifton's womens team captured the crown in the 1st annual P&R Volleyball Tourney Saturday night.

Food For Thought

Mrs. B. A. Snoddy

"Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins" Isaiah 58:1.

With this weeks writing, I'm asking you to read two articles clipped from the daily paper of Lubbock, Texas, published the 2nd and 3rd day of this month 1969.

Personally, I am not voicing my opinion on this particular issue, but truly, this is Food for Thought.

The articles are as follows: Miss Lola Bell Holmes, a veteran of seven years' undercover work for the FBI, will speak on "The Revolution Is Planned" at 8 p.m. today in the auditorium of Lubbock Christian College.

Her sponsors say Miss Holmes infiltrated the Communist apparatus for the FBI in 1956. Continuing, they say:

"While working within the Communist Party in Chicago she helped the Communists carry out their orders to use the so-called civil rights movement as the torch to light a fire of revolution in America. She rose to positions of prominence in the Communist-created Negro organizations in the party itself. For seven years she took orders from Communist bosses and reported all to the authorities.

"In 1963," her sponsors here say, "she surfaced to give testimony before various government bureaus. The Illinois Department of the American Legion awarded her the Citation of Distinguished Service to the United States in 1964 for her bravery and patriotism."

Miss Holmes now speaks to American audiences whom she maintains "... are in the midst of a revolution ... that is like a giant octopus with its tentacles stretching into every walk of life."

The revolution, she says, "with its bombs, riots, fires and death is being financed by the War on Poverty."

The speaker is being brought to Lubbock by the "Lubbock County Support Your Local Police Committee" which was formed to encourage local law enforcement personnel and to help guarantee that Lubbock police remain independent of any centralized control. Sponsors include: the Rev. Bert Homer, Dr. Patrick Pappas, Olen Beard, the Rev. Wesley Davis, Dr. Cadman Chaffin, Hilton Sherrod, Dr. Melville Monte, John Chezem, Dr. George Beck and C. A. Porter.

Miss Lola Belle Holmes told it "like it was" - as she saw it - to a capacity crowd at Lubbock Christian College Friday night.

An anticipated crowd of 180 persons who had bought advance tickets, turned into 486 and had to be moved from the smaller Mabey Auditorium to the college cafeteria to hear the former FBI agent.

"In America," the speaker told a rapt audience, "our first job is to stop and route the Communists."

She then outlined Communist activities which occurred and of which she had been a part in her six and a half years as a Communist for the FBI including plans for the march on Washington.

"I love America and its people. My people, the Negroes," said the woman who grew up doing chores on her father's Louisiana farm and attending a segregated grade and high school and "loving it." Her father told her that you "only get out of this world what you put into it. So hold you head high and walk with dignity."

This, she says is what the Negro race must do - "move away from the Aunt Jemimaism and Uncle Tomism with dignity."

In naming key Communist-infiltrated and concentrated organizations in the U. S., Miss Holmes cited United Auto Workers, the National Council of Churches, Students for a Democratic Society and the War on Poverty program. In a question-answer period, she said that the "Communist had only infiltrated the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to the point of controlling the money."

In Vietnam, she said, "we are just killing off the cream of the crop in young Americans. I want it (the war) won and bring our boys home."

In speaking of her visit at Dunbar High School Friday, Miss Holmes revealed that this was only the second time she had been allowed to speak to a group of Negroes since her expulsion from the Communist party in 1962. She criticized her reception and then said: "They think I don't know what happened in the Communist part," and here her voice rose then broke in emotion, "I know what happened."

"We must stop Communism, so that this country, this wonderful country will never perish from the earth." With that, Miss Holmes received her second standing ovation of the night.

Preceding her honorary citizen award, the pert, vivacious speaker smiled as Mayor W. D. Rogers Jr. commented hers was "one of the truly great speeches I have heard."

Miss Holmes was in the Hub City under the auspices of the Lubbock County Support Your Local Police Committee headed by Charles Guthrie.

PAR POINTERS

In Spain the rain falls mainly on the plain. But as any golfer knows, it also falls on the greens. And wet weather play is nothing to sing about. With a few adjustments, however, you can manage reasonably well on soggy courses. The key phrase here is "play conservatively."

Don't cut that dogleg quite so close if it means risking a hit into a wet rough. On iron shots, always play for the fat part of the green. Don't take chances with a pitch from soaked turf. Traps can cause additional problems. Rain-soaked traps can become hard-packed and thus, more difficult to handle.

Corp., are available for about $25.00 in leading pro shops and sports departments.

This golfer is using his No. 8 iron. The ball will land along the edge of a heavily wooded area near the green—but next to a fallen tree branch that will hamper his swing. According to the rules, what can the golfer do in this situation? (see answer below)

My Neighbors

Locker room miscellany: The longest recorded hole-in-one was shot by Robert Mittern on Oct. 7, 1965, at Miracle Hills Golf Course, Omaha, Neb. The ball traveled 444 yards on the tenth hole ... the all-time marathon record is held by James J. Johnston of Fort Worth. On Oct. 14-15, 1959, he played 363 holes at the 6,101-yard-long Abilene, Tex., country club ... the all-time moneymaker in P.G.A. tour events is Arnold Palmer. His official winnings from 1955 through 1968 totaled $1,053,117.

Answer: The rule book states that any movable obstruction can be removed, if the ball

"4's and one 'B'—You must reflect my side of the family..."
