

County Football Wars Set In Gatesville And Jonesboro Tonight

HORNETS FACE UPSET MINDED BULLDOGS TONIGHT

It seems almost unreal that a real rivalry can develop between two towns in only one year of football, but Gatesville and Copperas Cove renewed one-year old rivalry tonight at McKamie Stadium.

The two teams opened the competition last year in Copperas Cove with the Hornets favored by local predictors 27-7 and 42-6. The Bulldogs upset the Hornets 14 to 12.

To set the stage for tonight, the Cove Bulldogs are winless in district play, opening with Lockhart and then losing to Lampasas. Meanwhile, the Hornets have bombed Del Valle and slipped past Lockhart to share the district lead.

Coach Jack Moss said this week that Cove has a good football team. Moss noted the Cove offense will run reverses, double hand-offs, and pass.

"Cove has a well-balanced offense," said Moss. "Where in recent weeks we had to stop only one or two outstanding players, this week we will have to contain the entire team."

Moss noted that Nichols and Lamb each have been carrying the ball about 25 times a game. Baty has been a real threat on offense because of his running and passing, but a knee injury may limit his running. Moss said that Baty injured the knee earlier in the season and has shown great determination by playing with the injury.

The two losses for Cove do not tell the story accurately. Against Lampasas, the Bulldogs had a 13-0 lead at half-time and against Lockhart, they held a seven point lead until the third quarter.

Defensively, the Bulldogs play a "Texas 4-4" according to Coach Moss. "They are tough against the run," said Moss. The Hornets faced one of the toughest rushing defenses at Lockhart and gained 172 yards rushing.

Defensive standouts for Cove in early season action are Bill Chalmer, one of three sophomores on defense, and Richard Daily and Tommy Lamb senior two-way performers.

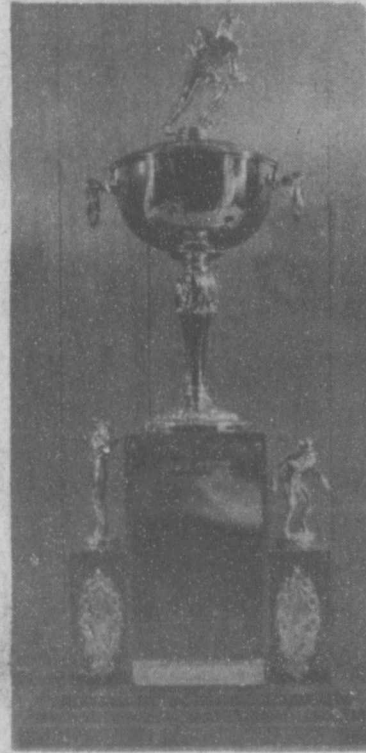

Moss has maintained from the beginning of the year that defense wins ball games and this week he summed up his impression of tonight's county championship, "Whoever plays the best defense will win the game."

The Hornets are surprised at themselves this season, and pride is developing in the camp. Moss is right about the defensive battle, it must be nice to see Steve Palmer back in work-outs this week.

Palmer is returning after surgery about two weeks ago and will resume some of his duties at linebacker this week. Moss noted that Palmer's re-

News - Press Trophy

The Coryell County News and the Copperas Cove Press began sponsoring a trophy between the Hornets and Bulldogs last season. The Bulldogs will be bringing the trophy with them this year after a year's stay at Cove.

The two losses for Cove do not tell the story accurately. Against Lampasas, the Bulldogs had a 13-0 lead at half-time and against Lockhart, they held a seven point lead until the third quarter.

Defensively, the Hornets improved each week since the season opener. The front four now has Schoenewolf, Lynn Mohundro, Bobby Hodge, and Gene Braziel as the mainline. Braziel is credited with 13 tackles in last week's defeat of the Lions. Linebacker Keith Bell has consistently had good defensive games and last week, he made 12 tackles as the Lions worked hard on the left side of the Hornet defense.

The pass coverage has been superb this season with only 15 passes completed while the Hornets have intercepted six aeriels. The "bomb-defusing crew" consists of George Thompson, Jim Sanders, Danny Belf, Larry Smith, Mike Williams, and Billy Hord.

Coach Moss remarked early this season that every team we face this season will be see FOOTBALL page 2

Eagles & Tigers Battle For Six Man Title

The annual Coryell County six-man duel between Oglesby and Jonesboro is set for tonight in Jonesboro.

This year the two teams open District 25 B competition together, which will add importance to the game.

Jonesboro School Superintendent P. T. Lemmons reported the two schools have been in the same six-man football district for approximately 20 years.

Last year the Oglesby Tigers were regional champions, but against Jonesboro the Tigers found themselves behind at half time two to 0. The Tigers ended up winning 12 to 8. This year the two teams have almost identical season records. Jonesboro has a 3-2-1 win-loss record, and Oglesby has a 3-2 win-loss record.

Last week Jonesboro toppled Tolar 34 to 26 while Oglesby lost to Iredell 36 to 34.

Both teams will go into tonight's game with early season injuries healed and all players ready. Oglesby Coach Gary Fox expects to use Dan Mc-

Kelvain as quarterback for the entire game. McKelvain has had a foot injury that has hobbled him most of the season. Fox will start Charles Vandiver, Mike Robinson, Joe Pitts, Larry Ross, and Willie Leos on offense also. Defensively, Fox has selected Stanley Peveto, McKelvain, Pitts, Ross, Robinson and Leos as probable starters.

Coach Bill Dyer of Jonesboro will start on offense Dale Sommerfield, Jimmy Murry, Roy Martin, Dean Patterson, Robert Wood, David Holden. Dyer plans to use these six players on defense, also.

Farmers Union Appreciation Dinner

POAGE DECLARES FARMERS MUST GET FAIR RETURN

Chairman W. R. (Bob) Poage, D-Tex., as the U.S. House Committee on Agriculture, declared last night that farmers, hit by inflation more than any other segment of the economy, must get a fair return for their labor and money if sufficient food is to be produced for a steadily increasing population.

Speaking at an appreciation dinner given for him by the Farmers Union in Gatesville, the veteran Congressman including government payment. Wheat brought $2.40 a bushel in Kansas City in 1949 as compared with approximately $1.80 this year (with payments), and corn sold for approximately $2 a bushel twenty years ago brought only about half that amount in recent months.

A failure of the public to understand the relationship between agricultural production costs and the prices the public pays for items at retail level can lead to shortages and ultimately still higher retail prices, Poage said.

"If the consuming public is unwilling to pay a fair price for agricultural products, the volume of those products will, in the long run decline—not because of the perversity of our farmers, but because they just wouldn't have the ability to use the expensive technology necessary to produce abundantly," he said.

"If we are so foolish as to restrict the ability of our farmers to produce cheaply and efficiently because of an inadequate income, we must be prepared to pay substantially higher prices for everything we eat and wear, and that within a matter of a relatively few years.

"Admittedly, a policy of low farm prices and no production controls could bring about increased production for one, two or possibly three years.

Farmers, like everyone else, seeing their unit prices going down, would seek to maintain their living standards by increasing the number of units they could offer for sale. As long as they had any reserves or could get any credit, they could do this, but as existing machinery wore out and farm credit was restricted, as a lower price level would automatically restrict it, farmers would more frequently find it impossible to use the techniques which our modern science and research has made available, and production would fall."

Poage declared complete confidence in the ability of farmers the world over to produce enough food to provide the present population of the world with a good diet if they were given a fair return for their investment, one comparable with that of other kinds of producers.

"If they can't get such a share, he continued, 'obviously many more of our American farmers will be forced to leave the farms.

"Production will fall into fewer hands—and right here I want to make it clear I am talking about what will happen, not what I would like to see see POAGE page 2

"When we get to the point where we have no more agricultural producers than we have producers of gasoline, the price of agricultural products will respond as does the price of gasoline to the needs and wishes of those who control the production. I don't want to see this happen. I think it would be a tragedy for our America-- just as much a tragedy for urban America as for rural America."

farm price support program legislation, which is scheduled to expire December 31 of next year. "I have felt the Secretary was a reasonable man," Poage continued, "but he doesn't feel the urgency for new legislation which I think exists. I know that unless we have made considerable progress before the end of this year that our farm program will probably still be before the Congress at the end of the next session. This is not the way to get good legislation, and it is no way to give farmers the opportunity to use good farming practices."

POAGE TALKS INFLATION BATTLE

This has been a sad week for those who believe in the ability of our people to exercise the self-restraint which is essential for the success of democracy. We all know that unless we can check the rapid increase in the cost of government and unless we can slow down the spiraling increase in the cost of goods and services which the people buy, the cost of living must continue to rise--yet early this week the House voted overwhelmingly to add an undetermined amount (estimated from $4 to $6 billion a year) for another increase in government salaries. I full well recognize that if we are not going to stop inflation, that salaries are going to have to go up every few months, and in the later stages of inflation every week, but are we ready to surrender our fight against inflation?

devotion to these high objectives and tell everyone else that we are bringing our troops home. This has been the dream of the ages. Woodrow Wilson talked of being "too proud to fight" but he soon learned that in the world of reality we had to fight or lose our rights--and he fought and won. This past week we have had demonstrations all over the United States, including the U.S. Capitol, where supposedly very intelligent men and women suggested that all we needed to do was to quit the Vietnam War and, somehow or other, peace, justice and tranquility would descend on that unhappy area. Certainly it doesn't require much knowledge of world affairs to understand that this would be an invitation for the massacre of hundreds of thousands or millions who have relied on and have fought with the United States and for the prompt repetition of the same kind of aggression in a dozen other countries to whose defense we are committed to come.

I think there are many signs that we are beginning to win this fight and it seems to me that we would all be better off were we to continue our efforts to bring inflation under control, but there have been many students of government who have contended that it was impossible for democracy to exercise the needed self-restraint. This vote seems to confirm their predictions. Neither can we maintain a great and a free country if we are to run from the responsibility of power or if we are to ignore the sound but harsh discipline of facts as they exist rather than as we would like to see them exist. Everyone wishes that all we had to do to maintain peace and justice in the world would be to announce our

I would not say that many of those who participated in these activities intended to hurt their country, but I certainly would say that they afforded great aid and comfort to our enemies and encouraged them to continue fighting and shooting American boys. Unfortunately, there is no cheap and easy way whereby we can stop inflation and there is no cheap and easy way whereby we can stop inflation and there is no cheap and easy way whereby we can stop Communism. If we want to end this war, the way to do so is to win it. I was gratified to learn that the student body at Baylor University repudiated all support for Hanoi.

Scouts Attend Camporee

Troop 272 attended the Boy Scout Fall Camporee at Westcliff Park on Belton Lake, October 17-19. A camporee is to test the boys on ability to work together and their Scout skills. The Scouts were tested on Patrol basis in the following skills: Leadership, discipline, map reading, first aid, campout preparation, and knots. The Bobwhite Patrol distinguished themselves by winning a First Place ribbon. Working under a burden of a three man Patrol, instead of an eight man Patrol, they earned 128 points out of 152 possible points.

The Scouts enjoyed the friendship of the bonfire Saturday night. The hi-light of the bonfire was the presentation of a Camporee plaque to Senator Watson. Many of the Scouts enjoyed talking to Senator Watson during Saturday afternoon. Scouts attending the Camporee from Troop 272 were James Loden, Senior Patrol Leader; Richard Mitchell, Patrol Leader; Freddy Kidd; Keith Thompson and their Scoutmaster, Donald Loden, Junior Assistant Scoutmaster attended as a member of the Camporee Staff. He was a judge during the Camporee. The Scout Leaders were well satisfied with the Camporee. They only regret that so many boys between age 11 and 14 missed the fun. The Scout Leaders and the boys of Troop 272 extend an invitation to all boys to join in the adventure of Scouting with our Troop.

NEW STUDY AIDS IN JR. HIGH LIBRARY

NEW AIDS
Something new has been added to the Junior High School library: a listening center. There are four headphones which may be plugged into a record player or tape recorder and played without disturbing other students in the library. This, along with a small filmstrip projector, will be used by students for review, for additional assignments, or for work they may have missed because of absence. The first students to try out the new equipment were Billy Dyer, Bobby Taylor, Bobb Hamilton and Jesse Avila who listened to recorded ghost and horror stories by Poe and Stevenson. They were probably getting ready for Halloween.

EVANT NEWS

by Cornelia Kreid

News is like everything else; a good start helps one's feeling. With the illness regulated to some extent, and the good rains that almost stopped church attendance and other movements last Sunday, the Evant area is in an autumn mood this week.

The school festival that is scheduled for October 31 has the highlight set on coronation activities for all grades as well as the usual fun and fund-raising features. Every patron will be expected to be present and all interested people are invited.

Those who missed hearing Mr. Rabon Balch, lay speaker, at United Methodist Church of Evant Sunday morning will wish they had not. When one hears a successful business man, one-time coach, and present employee at Gatesville's State School give witness to his contacts in life and why he lives to be thankful for them, it is indeed inspirational. Having spent some twenty-seven years at State School, reared a fine family of his own and seen the effects of early training, he is well-shaped to testify to what youth needs most--responsible parents. He did not come as a total stranger to Evant, although he has never made his home closer than the seventeen miles to Ireland, where there was once a hotel with seventeen rooms and other benefits. Mr. Balch has met and worked with many local listeners and readers of this column. Active both in his home, church, lodge and career, Mr. Balch was indeed welcomed at the annual Layman's Day observance in Evant's Methodist Church.

The church's lay leader, Mr. Monroe Withers introduced Mr. Balch.

Birthdays come and go, but this time Mrs. Clyde Thompson will not let her memory making event ever be forgotten, for her room-mothers and students surprised her with a huge cake, gifts and party, all rolled into one, last Friday afternoon at her Special Education room in Evant School.

Mrs. Edwin Marwitz had a birthday, too, and all her family, including Gary Marwitz, who is just home from overseas and back on his job at the nursing home (as manager) in Gatesville. His grandmother was so happy to have him present, she just called him the "life of the party." In addition to the family, out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marwitz, Dallas, and his mother Mrs. Ada Marwitz of Fort Morgan, Colorado.

Mrs. Edna Horton and Mrs. Marwitz had the same birthday and shared the joy of the day in many ways. Mrs. Horton was overjoyed with the many beautiful cards she received.

The next birthday will be the marking of time change; do not forget to "fall back" one hour, so you will not miss Sunday School and church next Sunday, and meals and school thereafter.

The homecoming game has been reported, but all the rain was as good as the game, and every bit as appreciated as winning, even if some patrons did nearly drown while being loyal to the players. We suppose all the guests in town were at the Galaway, Munday and Marwitz homes. Clynton Smith and his family drove in from Bentonville, Arkansas, to be with his mother and to attend the homecoming and visit with his old schoolmate Noble Craft and wife. Noble and Oscar Craft and their wives and all the family met in the Galaway home for further "chats."

Mr. and Mrs. Deward Flippin and granddaughter went out to Plainview to visit the son and family. The young Flippin family is following the maize harvest in that country and find rains less and crops finer, than they left at home.

Word has been received by relatives at Evant that Wayne Bates, Arlington, has spent several days last week in the hospital. The thinking of the doctors was first settled on heart attack, but with his improvement to their satisfaction, he was dismissed with treatment and returned to work after a week of rest.

Late Sunday's report on Mr. Bob Clay sounds good. He was conveyed to the Goldthwaite clinic and hospital the first of last week with a heart condition. He became seriously ill after remaining there a short time, thus making the saving of his life possible by reaching help early. His sons Armond Zoo and Harold and his wife have been at his bedside as was permitted.

Mrs. Ruth Sneed is improved enough to have only short needs of her family visits and it seems good to say so after so long a time. She remains in Hamilton County General Hospital.

The constant attention of Troy Drennan's family upon his needs continues, in the hospital room in Hamilton. This family has shown great courage to withstand such a long illness of their young son. They ask for prayer from their friends and relatives.

The condition of Mrs. Hyldia Warner, who has lived in the January Care Home many years, is quite unchanged as an overall picture. Her home was in Houston prior to her coming to Evant.

Mr. Albert Gholson was complimented by a cheerful visit from his daughter Evelyn one day last week. Mrs. Prude and her husband John Prude operate a Youth Ranch in West Texas and make as many trips to Evant as time permits to check on her father.

On October 15, National Poetry Day was observed with much "fanfare" in larger towns but in Evant it had a quiet hour with the three volumes of Walter R. Adams and his latest picture gracing the school library for the day. At one period, Mrs. Claibourne Walton, fifth grade teacher, paused to hear together with her eager students the words from this, the only true living poet of Coryell County, as were printed in his first and now "out of print" volume, "The Dead Lie Down."

At the age of 37 he produced this collection which has stood witness of his best, in the opinions of many critics through the years. Additional books include "Bachelor's Poppy," an award winner and his "High to the Fruits," an outstanding member of any one's library. He contributed to "Six of One" and has won many prizes and honors from highly capable judges in many fields, both native and foreign. The prized "The Dead Lie Down" is inscribed "To my esteemed former pupil, Cornelia Bertrand." He is still that "little child's" guiding light.

Last week marked the first report card week in Evant's school year. There is some outstanding students--as well as some outstanding teachers and as time goes on, observers shall see how much they, the children, keep in sight of their guiding lights. As is being said of good parents, good teachers shall have starry crowns one good day!

Gatesville at a Glance

by sally jones

EVEN I HAD THEM LAST WEEKEND...Visitors, that is. I was happy to greet Jan Whitaker, Nelda Whatley and Linda Patterson. The three are college chums of mine and came to Gatesville for my bridal luncheon hosted by Mrs. K. R. Jones, Saturday.

Jan and Nelda are in Lubbock now working at and attending Texas Tech. Linda is an old Bruin friend of mine. We were roommates at good ole Baylor. It's fun to visit with friends after being separated by time and miles.

Also visiting the outlaw (me) were my future in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jund of Marlin and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Erskine also of Marlin. Mrs. Erskine is David's sister. The two female Junds were present at my luncheon, also.

While we girls were eating and enjoying conversation at the affair, the males were working diligently on a new corral for a new family member, Decem 6. So you see, there will be two nags at our house! Decem 6 and Me. In case you are wondering, Decem 6 is David and my $35 nag.

Decem 6's name has some special significance in that Decem is the Latin word for December, and 6 is the date of our wedding, so Decem 6 is the second nag in our bunch.

WILL CALL HAWAII HOME...Life will involve palm trees and a balmy breeze for SFC James A. Grimes and family since their assignment to Honolulu by the United States Army.

Sgt. Grimes and his wife Sylvia along with their two lovely children, Lynne and Jimmy, arrived in Honolulu October 20, aboard the USS Lureline. Sgt. Grimes will be working with the U. S. Army Recruiting Station there for three years.

Sylvia has a brother, O. N. Blanchard, who is stationed in Honolulu with his family. GMC Blanchard is serving aboard the USS Kawishui in the waters off Vietnam.

Sylvia and Mr. Blanchard are the children of Mr. and Mrs. John Blanchard of Route 1, Gatesville.

ONE MORE BEFORE WE LEAVE...One more snap of Lynne and Jimmy Grimes before leaving the good ole U.S. mainland for the sunny shores of Hawaii. Lynne and Jimmy are the son and daughter of SFC and Mrs. James Grimes. The snap was taken October 15 in Long Beach, California, prior to their departure for Honolulu, Hawaii.

Happy Birthday Fort Gates!!!...Sunday marks the 120th anniversary of the establishment of Fort Gates, a nucleus for settlement in Coryell County's by-gone days. The historic fort was established in October, 1849; today only a marker stands at the site southeast of Gatesville near the Leon River.

According to data from "Coryell County Scrapbook," by local historian-author Mrs. Tom Mears, the frontier post was part of a line of forts established to protect settlers from hostile

Dr. A. G. Blankenship, retired Dean of the East Texas State College in Commerce, was in Gatesville last week on business and pleasure. He is a native of Coryell County, having been born and reared on the old Blankenship homestead nine miles north of Gatesville in the White Hall Community.

Miss Parrish, a 1969 graduate of Gatesville High School, attended the Stenograph Institute of Texas in Abilene.

Mr. Zim was a 1966 graduate of North Dallas High School and attended the University of Minnesota at Brainerd, Minnesota. Sgt. Zim is now serving in the United States Air Force and is presently stationed at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene.

The wedding is planned for December 6 in the Purlmela Baptist Church with Rev. Fred Grubb officiating.

Bykota Class Installs President

Bykota Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met for their monthly meeting, Thursday, October 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the church parlor.

The occasion was installation of officers, an impressive presentation by Mrs. Betty Williamson, Mrs. Williamson chose "Autumn Colors" as her theme. She stood before a table holding a large fall arrangement in a wicker basket. As she challenged each officer with her duties, she related her job to a color and a Bible verse, then presented her with a flower in that color.

Joann Poston, vice-president--yellow, a joyful color, like patches of sunshine will seek to create in the class a spirit of welcome and friendliness (Psalms 35:9).

Jean Boyd, Nelta Maxwell Evelyn Lovejoy, LaRue Sullivan, group chairmen and leaders--orange, a warm color, hoping each will extend the warmth of her spirit to those in distress and to share themselves and our Lord with others (I Cor. 6:20).

Pat Brazzil, secretary--brown, a good background color and also an interesting one, was charged to be faithful, dependable, and to keep a record of all the other colors (Matt. 25:23).

Josephine Pollard, treasurer and love fund chairman--bronze, a combination of all the other colors mentioned, a bright, shiny, lovely blend, as are her responsibilities. She was told to always be cheerful, ever-ready and willing to fulfill her duties.

Billie Thompson, reporter--purple, created from the blend of red and blue. A scarce and costly color in the early days. Her responsibility is like purple, a "creation" and she is to use the richness of the English language and her imagination to report activities to the available resources, thereby "witnessing" for the class. (Prov. 25:11).

Charlie Francis Straw, teacher--green, a color that must be used in all arrangements to make it complete, and so it is with the teacher to her class, a necessary element that binds all else together, denoting what a blessing it would be to sow the seed of the Word in the hearts and lives of the members (2 Tim. 3:16).

Mrs. Williamson said, "Yes, God's world is beautiful in the autumn. As our spirits are lifted by the glory of His handiwork, may the vibrant colors inspire us all to serve God with the best we have, remembering that He speaks to us everywhere."

Ending the installation service, a prayer of dedication for the new officers and the class was voiced.

Copies of "Good News for Modern Man" was autographed by class members present to present to Kay Hamilton and Doris Pilot as "going away" gifts.

Refreshments of orange slice cake, orange punch and green olives were served by hostess, Joann Poston.

Members present were: Mmes. Charlie Francis Straw, Betty Williamson, Joann Poston, Wanda Patrick, Becky Necessary, Lillian Vidler, Barbara Brown and Nelta Maxwell.

Ernest E. Fowlers Feted By Children On Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Fowler

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Fowler of Copperas Cove were honored Sunday afternoon by their children on their 50th wedding date with an open house in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Norman Storm of Gatesville.

Hosting the affair were five of the couple's six children: Mrs. Clarence (Veda) Courtney of Winnie, Gerald A. Fowler of Fort Worth, Mrs. Norman (Wanda) Storm of Gatesville, Clanton O. Fowler of Copperas Cove, and Charles A. Fowler of Joshua. One daughter, Mrs. Joe (Ernestine) Forquharson of Maracaibo, Venezuela, was unable to attend. Mrs. Forquharson's husband is employed with an oil company in that South American country.

The table was laid with a white Barcelona lace cloth over gold lining. An arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums was centered on the table and flanked by single golden tapers in silver candlesticks.

A three-tiered white cake decorated with wedding bells and a golden "50" was served to one hundred guests calling from 3-5 p.m. Also served were white nuts and mixed nuts from silver compotes and golden punch from a crystal bowl.

Six of the couple's 15 grandchildren served refreshments to the callers. In the house-party were Mrs. Arnold (Myra) Bethke of Winnie, Mrs. B. R. (Marcia) Wallace of Gatesville, Janet and Karen Fowler of Fort Worth, and Virginia and Dana Fowler of Killen.

Mr. Fowler was born in east Texas and moved to Lampasas county and the Izora area at an early age. Mrs. Fowler is the former Miss Ada Chambers of Lampasas county. She was Izora in 1919 and lived in Of their 15 grandchildren, eleven were able to attend the festivities this week.

Through faith...won strength out of weakness.—(Heb. 11:33, 34).

Some persons may equate strength with the power to move heavy objects; or the power to move other persons through the force of their will. But the strength of God is the strength that is equated with ever-renewing vitality, with an eagerness for life. It enables us to help other persons without attempting to dominate them. It is a strength that is equated with the God-power within us.

Mrs. Williamson said, "There is something inspiring about the fall season of the year. Nature does her utmost to encourage us by clothing the world with her brightest, warmest colors. She causes us to quicken our steps because of the briskness of the weather, and we seem to feel new vigor and ambition. It is an appropriate time of year to begin anew in our Sunday School work. It is a good time to take stock of ourselves and to make new resolves."

At this time she introduced the officers and their colors: Barbara Brown, president--red, a strong and vigorous color, so that she might ably guide in the work of the class and to promote a compassionate outreach to people (2 Tim. 2:15).

NEW NEEDLEWORK IDEAS

A number of interior decorators are also hooked on needlepoint. So if you're handy with the needle, now's the time to get started. Seems that some people are paying up to $75 for a 15-inch pillow, and into the thousands for a rug to do themselves!

Even in Rugs

One New York designer has a summer house crammed with needlepoint. According to reports he has a 4x6-foot rug in bright colors on a black background in the dining room. And each of the six round wrought iron dining chairs has a cushion in a different floral design.

Be a devil. Surprise her with flowers.

Hornet-Lion Battle— No Run Off

If anyone thought the Hornet-Lion game would be a run off, they were wrong, for it was a battle between both offensive and defensive teams.

The Hornets were the first to score when in the second quarter, they drove 70 yards to let Ray Ortega go over from the two. Kicking the extra point was Randy Schoenewolf, making the score 7-0 at the half.

Early in the third quarter, the Lions scored their first T.D. on a 27-yard pass from quarterback George Rodriguez to halfback John Thomas. The extra point failed. Two minutes later Lockhart scored again as Albert Schuman intercepted a Gatesville pass and ran 38 yards to the Hornet two-yard line. On the next play, fullback Frank Mendoza plunged over for six more points. The conversion point failed.

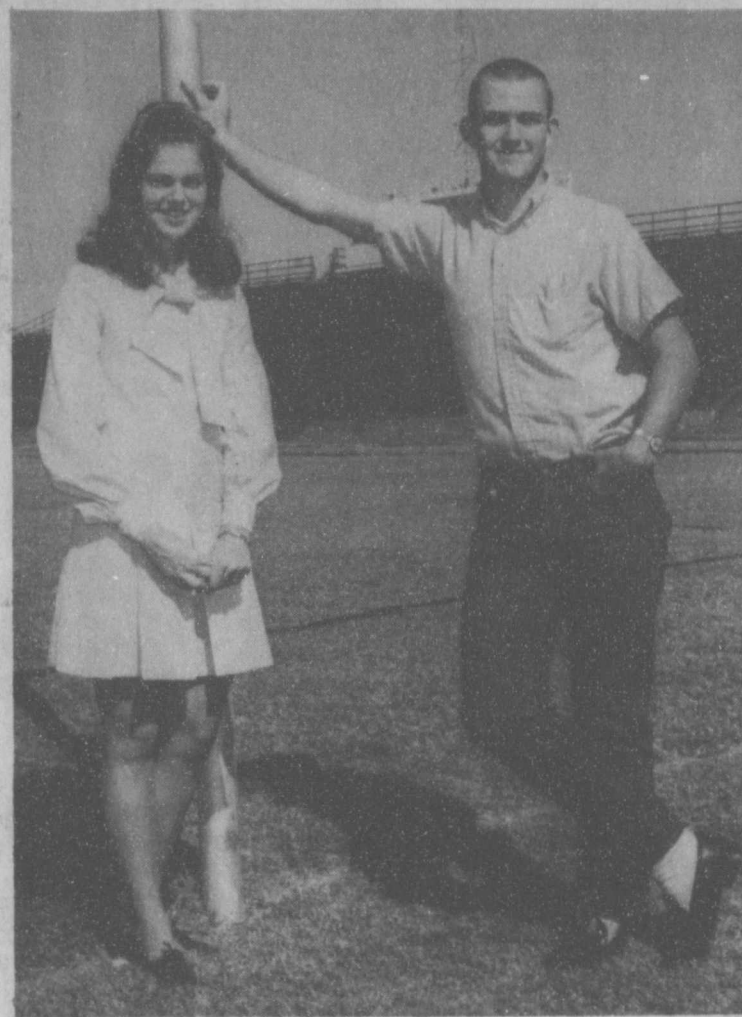

With no more than five minutes remaining in the game, Gatesville came bulldozing down the field for 82 yards and the go-ahead touchdown. An extra point was good, and the Hornets went ahead. After that, it was nip and tuck for both teams as the Lion offense threatened to score in the closing seconds of the game, but our "fearsome foursome" on the line came through to save another Hornet victory.

Tonight the Hornets meet the Copperas Cove Bulldogs at McKamie Stadium. The Hornets are "No. 1!" so let's go out and support them.

The group's two previous hit singles, "Spinning Wheel" and "You've Made Me Very Happy" are from the album which points up why the album was No. 1 for so long on the charts.

THE BAND have a new album titled simply, "The Band." It features a dozen country-soul songs, written or co-written by guitarist Robbie Robertson. The group's newest single, "Up on Cripple Creek," backed with "The Night They Drove Old Dixie Down" is from the album.
