

BAND PRESIDENT, DENNIS FLEETWOOD

SWEETHEART JANIS QUICKSALL

ESCORT, CHARLES AMENT

Band Names Sweetheart

It was that time of year again for the members of the Gatesville Hornet Band---time to select the 1969-70 Band Sweetheart, and choose they did. At the half-time ceremonies Friday night, the 110 piece GHS marching unit revealed their choice of Sweetheart for 1969-70, Miss Janis Quicksall.

Miss Quicksall, a senior and clarinetist with the music group, was presented one dozen long-stemmed red roses at the time of the Sweetheart announcement by band president, Dennis Fleetwood. Fleetwood then gave Miss Quicksall the traditional Sweetheart's kiss following the announcement. Her escort was Charles Ament.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Quicksall of Gatesville.

Members of Sweetheart Janis' court are Miss Jan Byrom and Miss Pat Gilmore.

Miss Byrom is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Byrom of Gatesville. She is an active member of the band and twirls as one of the Hornet Band's eight majorettes. Escorting Miss Byrom was Danny Smith.

Miss Gilmore is also a majorette in the GHS band and was a nominee for Future Farmer of America Sweetheart this year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Gilmore of Gatesville. Miss Gilmore's escort was Paul Stone.

Hornets Blast Bulldogs For Third District Win

Scoring on all of their first three possessions, the Gatesville Hornets powered to a 20 point lead before Coppas Cove could make a first-down Friday night.

The Hornets, still sharing the lead in District 13AAA with Belton and Lampasas, piled up 480 yards in total offense by scoring five touchdowns. The Hornet defense choked off the razzle-dazzle Cove offense allowing only one successful drive by the Bulldogs in the first half.

The Hornet defense started the ball rolling with a fumble recovery by Randy Schoenewolf on the Bulldogs' second play at the Cove 40-yard line.

On first down Mike Barr fell on his own fumble for no gain. Ronald Brown slacked for six yards on the second down play, and then on third down the Hornets powerful full-back Randy Schoenewolf went 13 yards for the first down at the Cove 20-yard line.

Speedy tailback, Brown then picked up the touchdown in three plays (six yards, ten yards and one yard) to give the Hornets their first touchdown. Schoenewolf's bonus point kick was true, and the Hornets led 7-0 with 9:35 showing on the clock.

The Bulldogs could not get started on their second possession as Lynn Mohundro and Gene Brazziel stopped their first down play for one yard. Second down netted the Bulldogs three yards as George Thompson teamed up with Brazziel to stop halfback Tony Nichols. A third down pass failed to connect as the defensive pressure was quick to take charge.

Larry Moore received the Cove punt and was dropped at the 17-yard line. The Hornets wasted no time in pushing for their second score. Brown carried for five yards, and then Barr ran for eight yards when all receivers were covered on second down.

Barr and Brown teamed up again for ten yards in three plays to the 40-yard line. Moore got the call on the next crucial third-down play, and the speedy wingback slashed for six yards and a first down.

The Cove defense stiffened for one play, and then Schoenewolf burst through the middle powering his way to the Cove 29-yard line.

The Hornets started with Schoenewolf's twelve-yard run on a "tour de backfield" as in five straight plays five different backs carried the ball.

After Schoenewolf set up a first down at the 29-yard line, Brown picked up a hard yard against the Cove defense. Ray Ortega then got seven yards to the Cove 20-yard line. Billy Hord smashed for the first down at the 17-yard line.

With the first down, Mike Barr kept on a triple-option play and knifed into the end zone for the touchdown. Schoenewolf tackled on the extra point and the Hornets had a 14-point first quarter lead.

The Cove offense was forced to kick after three plays against the tough Hornet defense. Good defensive play from Brazziel, Hord and Palmer forced the Cove fourth-down punt. Palmer stopped Richard Daily for a three-yard loss on second down.

The Cove punt went out of bounds at the Hornet 35-yard line, and the Hornets began a 65-yard march in 15 plays for their third touchdown.

Doug Freeman displayed his running ability for the Bulldogs as he crashed for six yards to the 41-yard line.

Schoenewolf carried tacklers with him for eight yards and a first down at the 49-yard line.

Barr continued to mix up his offense with Brown, Ortega and Moore pushing the Bulldog defense nine more yards back. The Hornets faced fourth down and one at the 41-yard line, and Brown picked up the needed yardage off tackle.

Five yards from Schoenewolf and a Barr to Freeman pass set up the Hornet offense at the Cove 25-yard line.

Ortega carried twice to the 19-yard line, and Brown hit to the 18-yard line. Again the Hornets were faced with a fourth

FUMBLE RECOVERY

Defensive lineman, Randy Schoenewolf, holds up the football to signify a fumble recovery for the Hornets. Schoenewolf alertly recovered the fumble on the second play of the game at the Cove 40-yard line.

The Hornet offense sparked by a 13-yard run by fullback Randy Schoenewolf scored seven plays later to take a 7 to 0 lead.

Long Time Gatesville Resident Buried Friday

Sophia Schloeman, life-long resident of Gatesville, died early Thursday, October 23, in Coryell Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Schloeman who was 80 years old at the time of her death, had been in the hospital for 11 days.

Services were held the following day, October 24, at 4 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church of Gatesville. Rev. Bob Richmond officiated at the services with burial in the City cemetery.

The daughter of Mr. John D. Brown and the former Corinne Wells, Mrs. Schloeman was born in Gatesville in 1889. She married Arthur C. Schloeman December 26, 1912. She had resided at 503 Park Street for 10 years and was a member of the First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Schloeman is survived by two sons, Gus Schloeman of Gatesville and John Schloeman also of Gatesville; one daughter, Mrs. Bayard Cole of Marletta, Georgia; two brothers, R. W. Brown of Gatesville and Fisher Brown of Dallas.

Six sisters also survive: Miss Lillie Brown of Waco, Dr. Ina Brown of Nashville, Tennessee, Miss Clara Brown of El Campo, Mrs. Creg Davidson of Waco, Mrs. John Johnson of Dallas, and Mrs. J. B. Bailey of Arizona.

Pallbearers were Lloyd Brown, W. D. Cooper, Ray Byrom, Twiford Schloeman, Paul Bromser, Robert Ashby, Fred Koch, Jr., and Charles Smith.

Over $100,000 Taxes Collected In First Month

Coryell County tax-payers have already begun meeting their 1969 tax obligations reports County Tax Assessor-Collector Jack Whigham. Over $100,000 has already been received in State, County and school tax payments.

Whigham noted that voters registration is light at present with the deadline still three months away. In Coppas Cove 300 have registered to vote, and in Gatesville 1125 have already registered.

Whigham re-emphasized the voter registration procedures call for all persons to either register in person at the Gatesville or Coppas Cove Tax Assessor-Collector's office or to mail in written application to the offices.

House Burglary Near Neff State Park Reported

Marion Evans reported to the Sheriff's office Sunday that his home near Mother Neff State Park had been burglarized.

The home had been broken into sometime last week. Evans was in the process of moving into the home he had recently purchased when the burglary occurred.

The Evans family lives in Salado.

Taken from the home were: 2 fishing rods and reels, a .22 pistol, 2 electric blankets, one pair of hunting boots, set of dishes, canned goods, towels, dish towels, and several other items including an antique wood ice box.

The house burglary is one of several which have been reported in recent months in Coryell County.

Sheriff Cummings reported picking up a local youth for the Nolanville Police Department as a minor in possession charges.

Last week Sheriff Cummings arrested a Bell County resident on two charges of simple assault on Thursday, October 23.

City patrolman Clarence Beasley arrested a local man Saturday afternoon for driving while intoxicated. The man is free on $2000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Stony Hammock.

Tigers Down Eagles In Annual Battle 51 To 6

The Ogleby Tigers won the 1969 Coryell County six-man title with a convincing 51 to 6 victory over the Jonesboro Eagles.

The annual football clash is a highlight of each team's season. In talking with winning coach Gary Fox he noted, "Everything went right for us. The Eagles picked up 251 yards of total offense," he added.

Fox indicated that his number one defense played most of the ball game to control the Ray Sommerfeld and Ray Martin "one-two punch."

The Tiger offense ground out 424 yards of total offense to get their 51 points. Ogleby opened the scoring with a pass from Don McKelvin to Joe Pitts covering 40 yards in the first quarter. Willie Leos kicked two extra points to make the score 8 to 0.

Also in the first quarter, running back Larry Ross raced 50 yards for the second Tiger touchdown. Leos kicked for another two points, and the Tigers led 16 to 0 at the end of the first quarter. The Tigers scored two more

CORYELL CITY WATER PROJECT BIDS ABOVE ESTIMATE

Bids opened at the October 23 meeting of the Coryell City Water Supply Corp. were about $30,000 higher than estimated reports Farmers Home Administration Supervisor Vance Stephens.

The low bid on the distribution system was $243,210 and the well bid was $22,385 for a total of $265,595. Stephens noted

Damage Suit Settled Out Of Court Jurors Released

Forty-five Coryell County citizens were notified Friday by the District Court not to appear Monday for possible jury duty.

The damage suit, P. M. Massingill vs. Horace Richard Mosley, reached an out-of-court settlement Friday and notified the court of the settlement.

The 52nd District Court had no other cases scheduled for Monday's court docket.

The second session of the 52nd District Court June 1969 Grand Jury will be held Wednesday, with several cases set for presentation.

The suit filed by Massingill asked $24,134.80 in damages as the result of a Christmas Day 1968 auto accident.

that the system, the largest in Coryell County, was planned with a $150,000 FHA loan plus a $100,000 FHA grant. The bids are $15,595 above the amount of funds available and do not take into account the legal fees, engineering fees and other planning expenses of the project.

Stephens reported Monday that he would be in Temple Monday afternoon to apply for additional funds for the project.

Stephens indicated that "we will get it some way." He mentioned several things that could be done to reach a construction contract. Increased cash contributions, additional FHA loans, big negotiations, and reducing the size of the system are possible solutions to the money shortage.

Stephens explained that the project plans were with estimated costs were worked out in 1967 at 1967 construction prices. "Out of the money" bids in late 1969 seemingly indicate that increased costs are due to inflation is the problem.

The proposed water system will serve a large area of eastern Coryell County and part of McLennan County. On the west, the system ends on FM 929 between Coryell City and Gatesville. It will service 154 farm homes in Coryell City. Osage and ends on the east in between Crawford and Osage. Sixty miles of water line are to be laid when contract agreements can be reached.

The engineering plans call for a water well to be located just west of Coryell City with a pump to supply 90 gallons per minute pumping capacity.

A ground level storage tank with 50,000 gallon capacity is planned for near-the-well site. Engineers call for a booster pump and a 20,000 gallon ground reservoir to be located between Coryell City and Osage.

Poage Believes

U.S. RETREAT FROM VIETNAM INVITATION TO COMMUNIST ATTACK

KILLEEN, TEX., Oct. 23--Peaceniks and others who would pull American fighting men out of Vietnam without regard to consequences were denounced here today by Rep. W.R. (Bob) Poage, D-Tex., at a joint meeting of Killeen service clubs. The veteran Central Texas Congressman reiterated a stand which he declared in this military base city a year ago, calling for an all-out attack on North Vietnam's strategic installations and industries unless they complied with a brief ultimatum to talk seriously at the Paris conference. A withdrawal of U.S. armed forces from Vietnam without victory can lead not only to purges and persecution of South Vietnamese, he said, but to almost certain communist aggression not only in Korea but throughout all of Asia and the far Pacific--the Philippines, Taiwan, India, Australia and Japan. He said the retreat of the U. S. from South Vietnam would be viewed as a sign of weakness which invites communist attacks.

Poage commended President Nixon for refusing to yield to those who would have him fix a date by which all American troops would be withdrawn from Vietnam, but said he thought the Chief Executive was wrong when he did not say that unless the enemy stopped killing American boys then the war would be moved into North Vietnam as fast as possible.

In his address today in this city where Fort Hood is located, Poage said that as long as the North Vietnamese believe that American sentiment is ultimately going to compel the withdrawal of American troops without victory they are going to continue their brutal atrocities and American boys are going to die needlessly.

"No one can justify such a procedure," he continued, "but all too many Americans in and out of public life have been giving encouragement to hope and thereby prolonging the war."

Poage declared that those who would yield to the communists are to be found in both political parties, that this is not a partisan issue. "I have been embarrassed and humiliated by the 'run for cover' attitude of some of my Democratic colleagues just as I know President Nixon is embarrassed and humiliated by the defeatism of some of his republican colleagues. "No war should ever be a political football. It may not be 'smart politics' to buck the tide of unanalytical public sentiment but right now I believe it is right. It could mean political defeat. If it does, I can come home and live very pleasantly with my friends as long as I know I have been faithful to my country and to its fighting men, but I cannot live in peace either in Washington or in Texas if I feel that I have let those men down. "I have no condemnation for either President Johnson or President Nixon in connection with this war; I know they have sincerely sought to bring it to an end, but I do criticize those who are willing to use this war and prolong the needless slaughter of American boys simply to promote their own political advantage. And I can but feel complete lack of confidence in the judgment of those who let their desires so obscure their reason that they accept the idea that all that is needed is for us to quit fighting and that we can then come home with dignity and with the respect of either friend or foe."

After referring to the fact that he had proposed a year ago that the North Vietnamese be served an ultimatum, and reiterating that we can win the war promptly by bringing military might to bear on the whole of North Vietnam, Poage said: "Take away the hope of the North Vietnamese that our peaceniks and politicians are going to force an American withdrawal, let the North Vietnamese know that unless they seriously talk peace at Paris within a very limited time--and I still think one week is enough--that we will consider ourselves at liberty to blast any point in North Vietnam which our guns and our planes can reach; move our big ships back to Vietnam, put our big bombers over their cities; destroy their power plants; destroy their irrigation dams; flood their cities; cut their railroads; blockade their ports; and move American forces into Hanoi--where it would then appear that the peace must be written.

"The people of North Vietnam are fanatically loyal to their own country; they are perfectly willing to engage in any kind of deceit, torture and atrocities; they understand but one language and that is the language of force. We have the force; let's use it. When we do, and when we make them understand that we are not going to move out and turn the people of the south over to them for purges and persecution, we can have peace. The shooting will stop because there will be no one shooting at us. Our boys can come home with a feeling of accomplishment and pride in their country rather than as a defeated army slipping away from the battlefield under the cover of night. "Every true American wants to stop the slaughter but if we are realistic, we know that the only way it can be stopped is through an all-out effort."

Yarborough Says

Passage Of Bill Good News For Parks, Fisheries, And Wildlife Habitats

This week there is good news for Texas because the Congress has passed the Interior Appropriations bill.

This bill includes all the money needed to pay off all the judgements for Padre Island National Seashore, a total of over $12 million. This means that we will have the full Padre Island National Seashore. The passage of the bill means the completion of buying the land for this great national seashore and the saving of this beautiful coastal area for Texans and Americans for all time to come.

The bill also includes $1,130,000 for the purchase of land for the Guadalupe Mountains National Park. That's nearly all the money needed to settle all claims for this park. This will assure the permanent existence of the Guadalupe Mountains National Park which covers parts of Culberson and Hudspeth counties.

In addition, Congress voted $360,000 in this bill to build a Wildlife Habitat and Silviculture Laboratory at Stephen F. Austin University in Nacogdoches. The great College of Forestry at Stephen F. Austin has been trying for years to get money for this laboratory. The laboratory will be of great value to the pine-growing areas all the way from Texas to the Atlantic Ocean.

The bill also included $100,000 for the fishery and fish hatchery at San Marcos (that was the great work of Congressman Jake Pickle of Austin with whom I collaborated and cooperated) and $50,000 for the fishery and fish hatchery for salt water resources and experimentation at Port Aransas, and that was the great work of Congressman John Young of Corpus Christi. Most of the money for these projects was put in a bill by the Senate Appropriations Committee of which I am a member. Being a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, I was able to work in the committee for these funds for Texas. But I'm gratified to see that when we sent this back to the House in conference, the House conferees agreed to accept these projects.

The approval of the money to buy the land for Padre Island National Seashore marks the completion of the work I started 11 years ago. It was in 1958 that I introduced the first Padre Island National Seashore bill ever introduced in either house of the Congress. With almost all of the money--11/12ths--for the Guadalupe Mountains National Park, the fight that I started in 1963, when I introduced the first Guadalupe Mountains National Park bill even introduced in the Senate, is all but over.

Three years ago I introduced a bill to create another national park in Texas--the Big Thicket National Park in Southeast Texas. Work on this bill has been slowed as I have had to devote a great deal of the time and energy to getting the money to complete Padre Island National Seashore and Guadalupe Mountains National Park. Now Padre Island National Seashore and the Guadalupe Mountains National Park are established forever. The time and energy can now be diverted to the fight to save the Big Thicket and to create the Big Thicket National Park.

We rejoice in the passing of the Appropriations Bill and all it means for Texas in parks. At the same time, we must now work harder for the Big Thicket.

Reduced Spending Will Aid In Slowdown Of Inflation

As citizens of this country, we have had to deal for the past several years with a national economy which has suffered from spiraling inflation. This has meant that our hard-earned dollars have been able to purchase less and less.

Not many of our family incomes have been able to rise as rapidly as the prices we have had to pay for the goods and services we require in our daily lives. In the ten years since 1958, the cost of living in our nation rose nearly 20 per cent. That meant that if our family income did not increase by at least the same 20 per cent over the same 10-year period, we were falling behind in our ability to provide goods and services for the members of our family.

For those of us who receive automatic cost-of-living increases, inflation may be acceptable as long as additional wage increases are received which may be viewed as appropriate remuneration for increased skills and abilities which have been acquired through experience.

For those of us who are salaried employees, we must deduct from the raises we have earned through experience or the acceptance of additional responsibility, an amount equivalent to the rise in the cost of living in order to view our actual additional worth.

For those of us on fixed incomes, particularly retirement incomes, the inflationary rise in the cost of living is disastrous. It means only one thing. It means compromise in the standard of living enjoyed during past years so that the demands of inflation--demands over which we have no control as individuals--can be met.

Halting a rapidly rising economy is no easy business. There are myriads of economic factors to be taken into account.

The inflation we face today is largely due to the deficit spending which was practiced by our federal government over the previous several years.

I am greatly encouraged by the sound and responsible steps which have been taken by the present administration to combat the inflation which affects all Americans and robs us as individuals of purchasing power.

The federal budget recommended to Congress for fiscal 1970 actually shows a surplus as opposed to a deficit the previous fiscal year of some 25 billion dollars.

Now this has been difficult to provide. Much of our federal budget is actually uncontrollable. Expenditures such as interest on the national debt, Medicaid and social security payments, government employee salaries and numerous other fixed expenditures cannot be controlled. Congress cannot decide to eliminate expenditures in those areas.

Another large part of our national budget is spent for defense. While limited reductions can be made in this area, we cannot afford to cut too deeply into our defense capability for if we prove unable to defend ourselves there will be little use in providing for domestic needs.

Additional millions of federal dollars are committed to federal construction projects which, once begun, cannot be left unfunded in subsequent years without wasting what has already been spent.

All this dictated some hard decisions for the administration regarding spending priorities. Now the Congress is acting on these recommendations. I hope it collectively exhibits the fiscal courage which has been shown by the present administration. If it does not, we may find ourselves even more deeply ensnared in spiraling inflation.

It is equally important that Congress extend the income tax surcharge at the rate of five per cent for the first six months of the next calendar year. The existing 10 per cent surtax has already been extended through this year. Further extension at the reduced rate will have a continuing positive effect in the battle with inflation because it will take additional dollars out of our economy.

Further, it is important that Congress approve a general tax bill which will not make an immediate net tax reduction of a size that will help push up prices that the consumer must pay.

Another blow against inflation has been struck by the Federal Reserve Board which, through its authority to force up interest rates on borrowed money, has been able to take additional sums out of the economy.

The most recent anti-inflation step taken by the administration was a psychological step. Yet it may easily be one of the most effective thrusts against inflation. In a letter to our nation's business and labor leaders, the President advised them to prepare for an end to the runaway inflation to which they have been accustomed.

Already some economic indicators are exhibiting the characteristics which may be associated with a slowdown in the rate of inflation or even a slight downturn in the nation's economy.

I believe we can expect to see a definite slackening in the acceleration rate in the cost of living in the near future, if Congress will follow through with the sound economic recommendations of the administration. This particularly includes a reduction in government spending.

Texas Farmers Urged To Weigh Pros And Cons Of Fertilization

FALL FERTILIZATION APPLICATION--During recent years several views on fall fertilization have emerged, says C. D. Welch, Extension soil chemist. Some seem to conflict, possibly due to differences in soils and management conditions, environmental factors and the source of the view presented. Welch suggests that producers weigh both the pros and cons before making a final determination.

Fall Clean-up Aided By Chemical Safety Guide

AG CHEMICAL CLEAN-UP TIME--Fall clean-up is especially important to agriculturists who use chemicals. It's the time, points out Dr. Jack Price, Extension agricultural-chemicals specialist, when left-over pesticides, pesticide containers and application equipment should be cleaned up and stored. He suggests that a copy of MP-825, "Farm and Ranch Guide to the Safe Use of Pesticides," be obtained from the local county agent as an aid in the clean-up program.

Dairyman's Course To Be Held At A&M Nov. 13-14

ANNUAL DAIRYMAN'S SHORT COURSE--This annual dairy event will be held Nov. 13-14 at Texas A&M University. All sessions are scheduled for A&M's Memorial Student Center. A. M. Meekma, Extension dairy specialist, describes the program as one dairyman and those interested in the state's dairy industry can't afford to miss. Local county agents can supply details on the program and speakers.

MINI, MINI, MAXI, MOE... Catch those hemlines at your toe-- that's where I'd like to have had my hemline Monday. With November weather a week early, I sure felt like the longer length dresses and coats were welcome in Coryell County! I guess we central-Texans will have to wait, though. It seems when fashion news such as the Maxi-look of a few years ago makes news, it takes a while to edge southward from New York and Chicago and all of those "smog-choked" fashion centers.

The big boys in fashion circles have been screaming Maxi for a long time, and I haven't seen as much as a "blue Maxi" flying around Gatesville town. Wonder when the first Maxi will invade the local area fashion idea? I guess if it does, we Gatesvilleites will be sewing those ruffles and 11-inch bright striped borders on the bottoms of those minis and knee-length dresses.

According to other leading fashion experts, the maxi look is far from total adoption into the everyday stream of fashion life. We are safe (for now) to continue wearing the above-the-knee lengths, for a while anyway. These maxi-opponents point out the on-the-go-ness of today's American housewife is one of the main reasons for the women's reluctance in giving up the shorter skirt for the ankle length job--and the busy American housewife will give that reason on her own!

BUZZ-BUZZ-BUZZ... It was definitely sting'em Hornet night Friday night, and Gatesville football enthusiasts got a new spirit item at the Hornet-Bulldog meeting Friday night.

The new addition to the Hornet spirit machine was a Hornet mascot--Brenda Jones. The first appearance of the mascot at a home game was quite a boost to Hornet fans and HORNETS!!

The mascot wears jersey #73 and sports chicken wire wings (for extra strength) and a gold 'n black Hornet head with springy feelers to feel out those Hornet victory signs (TD's of course!) Boy, wasn't that a busy, buzzy, bee Friday night!

Outer Space To Invade Kitchens

COLLEGE STATION--- "Spoon-bowl" and "wet-pack" meals like those used by Apollo astronauts may someday appear on the supermarket shelf.

Spoon-bowls, explains Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, are bowl-like zipper topped plastic bags from which freeze-dried foods are eaten with a spoon.

Wet-pack meals consist of regular undehydrated food wrapped in aluminum foil.

Soups, prepared foods and other away-from-home specialties may soon be packaged in the "Eat-Fast-Tube" a flexible plastic tube with a closed seal across the top," Mrs. Clyatt reports. The consumer places the top in his mouth and squeezes out the contents.

A variety of foods including candies and dried fruits was developed in the new packaging for space crews. For Apollo 10, chicken salad and tuna salad on white and rye bread were developed.

For Apollo 11, ham salad and cheddar cheese were added. Wet-pack menus for Apollo 11 included frankfurters, beef and potatoes. These cannot be heated.

Spoon-bowl foods included sausage patties, chicken with rice, spaghetti and meat sauce, pork and scalloped potatoes, chicken stew and beef stew.

Air-conditioned Tennis Shoes Cool it for Athletes

COLLEGE STATION---New air-conditioned tennis shoes and sneakers fit comfortably into the warm Texas fall picture. Woven from Cordura nylon, the shoe uppers are light weight and durable.

Fannie Brown Eaton, Extension clothing specialist, explains that Cordura, an abrasion-resistant textile, is more than twice as strong as cotton duck of comparable thickness, but weighs only half as much.

The fabric is cool to wear because it breathes through hundreds of tiny openings which let air in to the feet. Shoes are machine washable in medium water temperature, non-shrinking and quick-drying.

The casuals, called Jeepers, are available in sizes for women, misses, children, men and boys in several colors, Miss Eaton says.

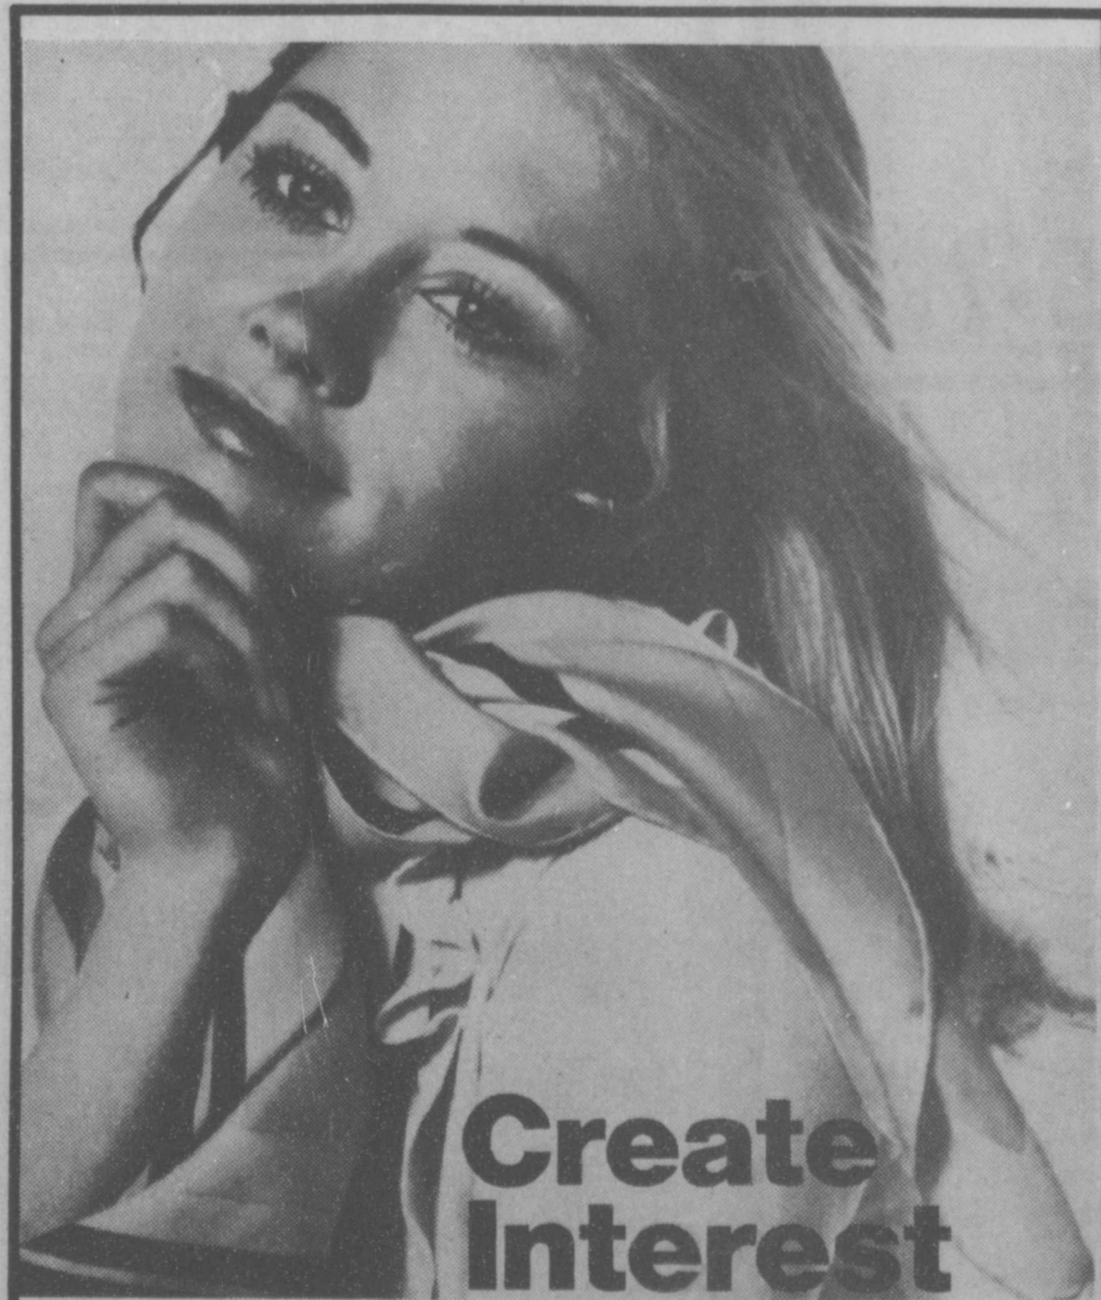

LOVELY HEAD MAJORETTE... Look what a lovely young lady Miss Susan Phillips is! And on-the-go too! Susan is the 14-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Phillips, Jr., of Garland.

Susan has been named head majorette of Jackson Junior High School in that North Texas city. The pert brunette ninth-grade student is currently attending Lanell Rowell's Baton Twirling Academy of Dallas.

Many of you Gatesvilleites will remember the Phillips family who lived here many years before their move to Garland in August of this year. Susan is a native of Gatesville and was named "Little Miss Coryell County" in 1959.

Isn't it wonderful to hear from former residents such as the Phillips--it makes me feel so good to find out about some ex-Gatesvilleites doing well in their new environment. Along with the picture and information, Mrs. Phillips wrote a nice letter.

CONGRATULATIONS... We must say congratulations to the 1969-70 Gatesville High Hornet Band Sweetheart, Miss Janis Quicksall. Miss Quicksall was officially named as the marching group's sweetheart during the halftime performance of the GHS unit Friday night.

With Janis on the grid iron Friday night were lovely princesses Jan Byrom and Pat Gilmore.

Janis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Quicksall. Jan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Byrom, and Pat is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Gilmore.

VISITORS IN GATESVILLE... It's so nice when Gatesville's sons and daughters can take time to come back to Coryell County and pause to remember old times in the area.

Miss Ruby Turpin of Austin is just such a person. Miss Turpin is a member of an old pioneer family of the area and was visiting here recently with friends and relatives.

IN WACO HOSPITAL... Leonard Meeks is in Hillcrest this week for examination and tests. Meeks entered the Waco Baptist hospital Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Meeks are the owners of Meeks Cafe on the east side of the Gatesville square.

Sigma Rho To Launch

Fund Raising Drive

Sigma Rho Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Thursday night, October 23, at the Guaranty Bank meeting room.

There was a discussion concerning the coming money-making project. Mrs. Leta Lanni of Waco gave a few tips on selling tupperware. The sorority will sell Tupperware and Stanley products to raise funds for their donations to worthy projects during the year. If any one is interested in purchasing any of the Tupperware or Stanley products, just contact one of the Sigma Rho members. If you do not know one of the members, call Jeanne Cohagan, 865-5207, or after 5 p.m., Ann Eubanks, 865-6320. Rita Weatherby presented an informative program on painting the person through photography, art and sculpture.

Refreshments were served by hostess, Ann Eubanks, on a table centered with a yellow carnation floral arrangement and an owl portraying the Halloween theme.

The second "grab bag" was purchased for a quarter to be worn at the tacky party later in the year.

CORYELL NATIVE DIES IN N.M.

Mrs. Rosa Riley of Las Cruces, New Mexico, died Sunday at 7 p.m. in a Las Cruces hospital after a long illness. She was 93.

Mrs. Riley was the sister of Mrs. Stella Pollard of Gatesville and the late C. P. Warren of Coryell City. She was the aunt of Mrs. Carl Butch of White Hall and Mrs. Leslie West of Gatesville.

Funeral services for Mrs. Riley will be held Wednesday afternoon in Portales, New Mexico, her former home.

Mrs. Riley was born in 1876, in Coryell City to Mr. and Mrs. Willis Warren. She lived in Coryell County until the early 1900's when she and her family moved to New Mexico.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Preston Turkinson of Portales; one son, Olive Riley of Las Cruces; six grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Wesleyan Service Guild Studies Reconciliation

Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First United Methodist Church of Gatesville heard a talk on "Reconciliation in a Broken World" at their October 21 meeting. The talk was presented by Mrs. G. H. Sawyer with the devotional, "Salt and Leaven" given by Mrs. Elbert Sheldon, co-hostess for the Tuesday night meeting. The lesson was the final talk in the Guild's study of reconciliation.

Co-hosting the meeting were Mrs. Sheldon and Mrs. Curtis Sims. Mrs. Sheldon, Guild President, presided over the club's business session. Mrs. Glen Whittenberg, program chairman, passed out Daily Prayer Cards and the "Call to Prayer and Self-Denial."

Attending the meeting in the Elbert Sheldon home were Mesdames Robert Ashby, Laura Benningfield, Mary Brumbelow, Sara Lane Dyche, Kate Holt, E. B. Huckabee, H. G. Huckabee, Perry Lehmborg, Guy Marlin, Francis Miller, J. W. Rhoads, G. H. Sawyer, Elbert Sheldon, Curtis Sims, Glen Stover, Glenn Whittenberg, and Miss Orpa Mayo.

Abundant Pear Crop To Bring Good Prices

COLLEGE STATION--- Bartlett pear trees produced an abundant crop this year so prices should be attractive, predicts Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Select pears that have already begun to soften. They will ripen satisfactorily at room temperature. Hard pears probably will ripen in similar conditions.

A quick recovery electric water heater keeps you in hot water

(when you need it)

Colder weather ahead means colder water coming into your water heater. To heat this colder water, a modern electric water heater uses immersed heating elements. The water is heated directly... no heat is wasted on the outside of the tank. Also, an electric water heater is compact, flameless and requires no flue... so it can be installed almost anywhere. If your present water heater is too old or too small, see your dealer or contact our office about a modern electric water heater. Ask about our installation allowance.

Fall Fertilization Advantageous

COLLEGE STATION--Fall fertilization for spring crops offers several advantages as contrasted to fertilizer application in the spring.

Dr. C. D. Welch, Extension soil chemist, lists these advantages for fall fertilization. Avoid periods of unfavorable weather immediately prior to planting season which may prevent getting into fields when fertilizer must be applied. Applying fertilizer in the fall leaves soil undisturbed and thus conserves moisture for planting. Utilizes labor and equipment during periods when not needed for other farming operations.

Also, takes advantage of "off-season prices and aids in avoiding temporary shortages of some fertilizers.

But Welch points out that it is difficult to generalize about fall fertilization and individuals must weigh advantages against such factors as lost nutrients from early application; soil characteristics and cropping systems and environmental factors such as temperature and rainfall.

Application of nitrogen in the fall should be considered only if ammonium forms are used, if soil temperature remains below 50-55 degrees F. during the period before planting and if properly applied to clay or fine textured soils. Welch says maximum efficiency can be expected when it is applied just prior to the period of use by the crop. Nitrogen in the nitrate form may be leached or lost through denitrification in water-saturated, alkaline, clay soils, he adds.

Since phosphorus remains in the soil near the spot of placement, time of application has less effect upon its efficiency than for nitrogen. The need for high amounts of available phosphorus in the immediate seed or root zone will be of most importance in determining time of application, says the soil chemist.

Potassium can be applied in the fall if such is an advantage except on sandy soils, advises Welch. Where high amounts of potash are needed on grass and legume crops, two or more applications are advised.

Wesley Jones, Mrs. Charlie Foust and children, her sons, Luther and Oscar and friends.

Mrs. Herman Foust will enter the Hillcrest Hospital, Waco, Wednesday, October 22, for eye surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Taylor were dinner guests of Miss Laura Tharp, Friday. They left Saturday morning with their daughter, Mrs. Johnnie Wells Watson, to spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Watson, at Arlington.

Lester Gilmore has bought the New Pruitt home from Zoo Gilmore and plans to move soon. Emmett Dollins has perked up his home, the former Church of Christ building, with a coat of brick red paint with white window and door facings, and plans to put on a white tile roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fleming ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Latham and family, Sunday, and in the afternoon made a drive through Camp Hood and that part of the county, including the old home place of Mr. Fleming, and the surrounding country where he and Mrs. Fleming grew up. All enjoyed a cook-out and the children and parents drank from an artesian well that was still flowing, yet not tempting in flavor and odor to them, however, Mr. Fleming enjoyed drinking from it.

If you care for natural beauty, now is the time to make some of these country drives, especially from Gatesville to Clifton via Turnersville, from Valley Mills to Turnersville, etc.

Mrs. Minnie Hollingsworth and Mrs. Florine Kyser enjoyed a short visit from Hildreth Mangum and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Spradley, Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Hayes visited with them in the afternoon.

Miss Mattie Cooper enjoyed being a dinner guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Payne Sunday and visiting with their sons, Ray of Waco and Joe and family of Austin.

Wednesday was a wonderful day for seven of the eleven living Grant daughters as Mr. and Mrs. Owen Lee, Mrs. Bessie Hamilton, Mrs. Nettie Wilson, Mrs. Effie Roew, Ft. Worth, visited with Mrs. Hubert Mayhew a while that morning, then all five went to Jonesboro, took Mrs. Albert Sellers with them to the Rotunda, in Gatesville, where they spent most of the day with Mrs. Myrtle Weaver, then returned to Mrs. Mayhew's, visited the kitchen cabinet, helping Hubert eat his boxed lunch before returning home.

Mrs. A. D. Daniel and Mrs. Florine Kyser attended the annual session of the Coryell Baptist Association in McGregor, Monday afternoon, remaining until after the night services. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Autrey, Mr. Cecil and Jack Buster attended the night services.

Mrs. J. F. Pruitt and children, Don and Mike spent part of the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Lottie Gallegly, and Jimmy Gilmore spent Saturday night with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Tharp and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dossman visited with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gary in Cross Plains, Sunday.

Mrs. Lyn Tharp took Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lee to Dallas last Monday, where Mrs. Lee received a check up on her eye surgery and found she was doing fine. While in Dallas she visited Mrs. Freda Lindenbratt.

Visitors in the Lee home the past weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Lee, and Tracy, Austin, and Mrs. Sallie Pruitt and Margie Fay Hafercamp, Saturday afternoon.

Memorials to the cemetery

Yield Prospects Continue to Drop

TEXAS CROP REPORT--Yield prospects for most major crops continue to fall short of levels attained last year. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says production of cotton, sorghum, rice, hay, sweet potatoes and peanuts is expected to be lower and sugar beets, corn, soybeans and Irish potatoes to be higher than last year. Lack of rainfall during the growing season in east, central and south Texas and lower harvested acres, notably for rice and peanuts, were cited as major factors in the decreased production.

Oglesby United Methodist Church Holds Auction

The annual Lord's Acre Festival Dinner and auction of the United Methodist Church of Oglesby was held Saturday, October 25, in Oglesby. Church members and friends of the church were served supper from 6-7 p. m. in the Church with Oglesby High School students singing for festival entertainment. Following the supper and singing was an auction to raise funds for the church. The members and friends of the Oglesby church contributed usable miscellaneous items for the sale. Jimmy Butch was auctioneer for the evening. Coryellites attending reported the turnout was good, and the sale was a success.

John Wallace Of Turnersville Buried Saturday

John Mitchell Wallace, a Turnersville resident, died on the morning of October 24 at his home. At the time of his death, Wallace was 58 years old. Services were held at 2:30 p.m. October 25 in the Turnersville Baptist Church with Rev. George M. Hall officiating. Interment was in the Turnersville cemetery. Wallace, who had lived in Turnersville for 55 years, was born in Lott, Texas, in 1911. As a small child, Wallace moved to Coryell County and Turnersville where he made his permanent home. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Wallace. Wallace is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Gallie Barginer of New Braunfels, and Mrs. Lillie Spicer of Marlin. The pallbearers were Zoo Gilmore, Curtis Cude, Loyd Cathey, Grady Russell, Gillie Wallace, and A. T. Wallace.

run. Leos connected on an extra point pass to Ross after the third touchdown. The Tigers opened the second half scoring on a four-yard pass play from McKelvin to end Charles Vandiver. The Leos-to-Platts extra point pass was good, and the Tigers led 36-0. Robinson scored a touchdown on a five-yard pass from McKelvin later in the third period. Leon combined with Ross for the extra point pass. The Eagles began rolling when Ray Martin grabbed a short pass from Sommerfeld and raced 40 yards to the Oglesby two-yard line. Then Dean Patterson sliced into the end zone for the touchdown. The Tiger defense set up the last touchdown when Robinson intercepted a Sommerfeld pass at the goal line and returned it 70 yards to the Jonesboro ten-yard line. A McKelvin to Richard West pass accounted for the Tigers' final score. Leos kicked for two extra points and the 51 to 6 final score. Leading ground gainer for the night was Jonesboro's Ray Martin with 124 yards. Larry Ross picked up 104 yards and Willie Leos picked up 82 yards. McKelvin completed 9 of 12 passes and Sommerfeld completed 5 of 16 passes.

play, and Barr called on re to sweep right end for yards to the nine-yard line. With first and goal, Brown led two times to score his second touchdown of the night. Copperas Cove bounced right with a 75-yard touchdown rush in eleven plays. Quarterback Gary Baty kept the Bulldogs alive when he raced 55 yards to the Hornet 16-yard line. On fourth down and five, Baty passed to Tony Nichols for the 10-yard touchdown play. Baty then teamed up with Richard Dailey for the two extra points. The Hornets began a fourth drive of the first half and marched 27 yards following a brilliant kickoff return by Moore for 28 yards. The drive stopped on a fourth down play with 21 seconds to play in the half. Mike Williams stopped what could have been a Cove score when he intercepted a Baty pass with five seconds to play in the half. The Hornet offense opened the second half by scoring from 58 yards out in five plays. During the mid-game break, the Hornets decided to open up the attack, and Brown started with a sweep around end for eight yards. Schoenewolf then picked up the first down to the 46-yard line. Brown then swept left-end for 17 yards to the 29-yard line. Barr passed to Freeman for another five yards and then Brown swept left end for his third score of the night. Schoenewolf kicked for his third extra point. The Hornet defense, which had allowed only three first downs in the first half, stopped the Bulldogs on their first possession of the second half. Braziel and Hord are credited with tackles on second and third down plays, forcing the Bulldog punt.

The Hornets' consistent and diversified offense began operating at the 40-yard line. Barr started the drive with three plays for 20 yards to the Cove 40-yard line. An incomplete pass and three carries by Brown put the ball down to the eleven yard line. Moore then took a pitchout and hit down to the four-yard line. Brown carried for two yards on second down, and Schoenewolf picked up one yard on third down. On fourth down, Ortega leaped over a pile of defenders for the touchdown. Schoenewolf kicked his fourth extra point of the night and the Hornets had a 34 to 8 lead. Cove was forced to punt again after only one first down when Bobby Hodge stopped the Cove first down play from the mid-field strip. Second down lost three yards when Freeman Braziel and Schoenewolf tackled Dailey at the 49-yard line. Baty's third down pass misfired with Williams covering. The Cove kick went out at the Hornet 5-yard line. The Hornet offense moved the ball again in 15 plays to the Cove 15-yard line and fumbled away a chance to score. The bulldogs had the ball first down at their 20-yard line, and Dailey burst through the middle on a "quick opener" and raced 80 yards for the game's final touchdown. The Hornets fumbled again at their 40-yard line with just under five minutes to play, and the Bulldogs began driving for another score with third and seven at the 24-yard line. A Baty pass was intercepted by Jim Saunders at the Hornet 15-yard line and returned to the Hornet 36-yard line. The game ended with the Hornets at the Cove 17-yard line in position to score again. Saunders quarterbacked the Hornets' last two drives of the game. The victory puts the County Championship series at one and one, and the News-Press Trophy will be in Gatesville until next year's rematch with the Bulldogs.

A new 50-member governor's committee has launched an historic effort to improve relations among Texas ethnic and racial groups. Gov. Preston Smith called on Governor's Committee on Human Relations at its initial meeting last week to document the problem of discrimination "warts and all" and recommend a solution. Secretary of State Martin Dies, Jr., of Lufkin is chairman of widely-representative panel, which includes whites, blacks and Mexican-Americans and a diverse economic cross-section. Former Secretary of State Roy Barrera of San Antonio was named vice chairman and Mrs. M. J. Anderson of Austin, secretary. "Racial blindness and intolerance in state government, local government, private industry and business and in every other place in which people come in contact with people must be overcome," Smith told the Committee. "Human relations problems do exist in Texas. That is why this committee is necessary." Smith pledged "any reasonable step" to help bring about "real and measurable improvements," and he called on all state agencies to "re-examine their employment practices, with a view to this worthy end."

Governor identified as obvious problem areas education, housing, employment, administration of justice, public facilities and services and consumer protection. Special sub-committees will be set up in most of these categories to begin study and investigation soon. NEW STATE PARK AUTHORIZED. A sales contract was signed last week for a scenic new 4,775-acre state park in Blanco County. Parks and Wildlife Commission agreed to pay $200 an acre--$955,000--for land it once was offered free by Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Wheatley of San Antonio. Legislature in 1963 did not provide $250,000, which the Wheatleys specified should be spent for development of the beautiful area, and state lost title to land. Money for development now will come from the $75 million parks bond issue and federal aid. Park is the second financed under the bond program. First was Dinosaur Valley in Somervell County. New area probably won't be open for a year, PWC indicated. TRAIN HEARINGS SET--December hearings have been set by Texas Railroad Commission on Missouri Pacific Railroad's request to eliminate the St.

Louis Eagle which runs from Texarkana to Laredo, via Jacksonville, Palestine, Austin and San Antonio. Laredo hearing will be held December 1, San Antonio session December 3, Austin hearing December 5, Palestine hearing December 8 and Texarkana windup December 10. AG OPINIONS--In giving notice of meetings of school boards and all other public agencies as required under the open sessions law passed by the 61st Legislature, commissioners courts should itemize agenda topics, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held. In related opinion, Martin said county clerks may charge "a reasonable fee" to school districts for posting the required notices of their meetings. In other recent opinions Martin held that: School districts cannot legally pay more to a teacher who is head of a household than to an identically-qualified teacher who is not. State's basic law against speeding is constitutional. District Attorney Hollis Garmon of Greenville is out of a job as DA because his home county (Hunt) was removed by the Legislature from the Eighth Judicial District and placed in the 196th. A judge lacks the power to probate or suspend the automatic suspension of a driver's license following a conviction for driving-while-intoxicated unless the entire judgment of conviction and sentence are probated. Resolutions of a junior college district board of trustees must be adopted by affirmative vote of a majority of all members. State may pay premiums for property damage insurance coverage for Texas Highway Department employees within the limits of the new tort claims act. A county-wide day school program cannot be paid for by the state during fiscal 1969-70. Tax collectors and deputies are liable on bonds for loss through fraudulent or negligent issuance of a tax certificate. EDUCATION Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System postponed action on a controversial staff recommendation to require needy students applying for Texas Opportunity Program loans to produce co-signers of notes. Proposal followed a report that some 40 per cent of students who have borrowed from the state bond fund since 1966 have skipped at least one payment. In all, $2.6 million is delinquent of the $6.5 million allocated since the loan program began. Opponents charged that requiring co-signers would cut very needy students off from aid. In other action, Board gave go-ahead to Scurry County for election on creation of a junior college district and a $3.2 million bond issue in late November. Board received a report showing that Texas college and university enrollments reached an all-time high of 399,599 this fall--an increase of 6.78 per cent over 1968. Only dropoff was in private junior colleges which reported a decline of 3.56 per cent due largely to elevation of two schools to senior college rank.
