DRAFT LOTTERY SETS 1970 CALL

The first draft lottery in 27 years was held Monday night, sending men born on Sept. 14 to the head of the line for 1970 draft calls.

The first birth date number was drawn by Rep. Alexander Pirnie, R- N.Y., ranking Re-publican on a special House subcommittee on the draft.

Men second in line for the draft next year will be those born April 24. The third birthday drawn was

It was followed by Feb. 14, then by Oct. 18.

Others will be called in the order in which their birthdays were drawn Monday night, until the local boards throughout the nation fulfill their 1970 draft

The list drawn Monday night applied to all men between 19 and 26 years of age as of the end of this year.

Only those classified 1-A or 1-A-0 will actually be called. But men now deferred or exempt would retain their place this order of call should they later become 1-A or 1-A-0, that is, available for the

The lottery began at 8p.m. when, after a brief invocation, draft director Lewis B. Hershey ordered the unlocking of a black box containing 366 blue plastic capsules and ordered them poured into a large glass

Inside each capsule was a slip of paper bearing a date-one for each of the 365 days of the year, plus one for Leap Year's extra day, Feb. 29.

Wiggins was watching the drawing along with the rest of the Abilene Christian College football team Monday night. He relates that when the drawing started sighs of relief echoed across the room as the symbolic drawing of the first date was handled by the ranking Republican Senator.

As his team mates relaxed for the next date to be called Wiggins instantly knew his fate, September 14, 1950 is a special day for Wiggins, his family, and now the Selective Service. Wiggins said "The boys started right away calling me Sarg." The student deferment which Wiggins has presently will allow him to complete his college work but as he says, "I probably won't be out over a month before they get me." "I was not planning on going ... I mean I was not going to volunteer," he continued. Wiggins seemed to have accepted this "lot" by late Tuesday.

Wiggins is studying to become a preacher and he intends to use only his student deferment and not a ministeral exemption to stay out of military service.

Last Two Week Holiday For Students

This past week the students of GHS were gifted with a surprise when it was announced that there would be a two week Christmas vacation instead of going one week, returning for the 29, 30, 31 and a holiday for New Year's.

L.C. McKamie, superintendent of the Public Schools said that this would be the last year that the Gatesville Schools would be able to have a two week Christmas vacation. He explained that the State legislature amended that the students would attend school 180 days instead of 176 at the beginning of next year.

"Mame" To Be Staged Dec. 9th

On Baylor Campus

"Mame" is the name, and the national touring company production of this hit Broadway musical will be in Waco Tuesday (Dec. 9) on the Baylor University campus.

"Mame" will be staged here one performance only at 8:15 p.m. in Waco Hall.

Starring in the title role of this production is Sheila Smith, a musical-comedy actress who has performed the role of the famed, vivacious Mame more than 250 times on Broadway.

One of the American stages longest-run musical hits, 'Mame' is still going strong on the New York stage, more than three years after its Broadway opening, May 21,

Meanwhile its touring company version is making the rounds of cities throughout the country.

"Mame" is a musical adaptation of the Patrick Dennis novel, "Auntie Mame," and subsequent play by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee. Lawrence and Lee also collaborated on the book for the musical; Jerry Herman wrote the music and lyrics.

Among its best known musical selections are "Mame" the rousing title tune; "Open a New Window"; and the ballad "If He Walked Into My Life."

Mame's story remains more or less the same in this latest version-the story of a gay madcap of the roo ing 1920's who gets orphaned, 10-year old nephew thrust into her guardianship in the midst of one of her huge cocktail parties and carries on from there through the stringencies of the 1929 financial crash that wipes her out, marriage to a fabulous scion of the old South, and affluent widowhood.

An enduring enemy of dul-lness, Mame is jolted to find, when her adored nephew grows up, that he has fallen in love with a stupid girl. Mame manages to extricate Patrick from an alliance by throwing him into contact with a far more suitable girl named Pegeen, who reminds him they had been childhood classmates in the radically progressive school Mame had chosen for Patrick. So presumably, after they are married, they live happily ever afterward, but that's not the end of "Mame". The end comes some years later when Mame bubblingly startsall over again to educate the 10 year old who is Patrick's and Pegeen's son. 'Mame'' was nominated for a number of Antoinette Perry (Tony) Awards, Broadway's equivalent to Hollywood's Oscar. Nominations came in such categories as best musical play, best musical actress, best director of a musical play, best supporting musical actor and actress, best composer and lyricist and best choreographer.

Tickets to the Baylor engagement of "Mame" are $6 and 4 for lower floor and $5,4 and 3 for balcony.

The Baylor Student Union Director's office is now accepting mail order requests for the show. These requests with checks made payable to 'Mame'' accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped en-velope, should be sent to the Director's office, Student Union Building, Baylor University, Waco, Texas, 76703.

WELL HI AGAIN!...It's good to be back at the News Office once more for a few days.

Sally needed some time off to prepare last minute details for her wedding, for the wedding itself, and the honeymoon. It will be fun writing the column again, gramatical, puntuation, spelling errors and all. It will be good getting back into circulation too. Seems downtown is where the action is, or is it just the season for action. I think that's it. There is always more stirring between Thanksgiving and Christ-of the hustle and bustle. think a part of it amounts to people being more mindful of the things they have to be thankful for. It's a prolonged period of thanksgiving that runs into what is called the Christmas spirit. I love it— people appear to be nicer, the air cleaner, everything prettier, all things in general are more pleasant.

DENVER COLORADO...Resident Fred Vidler, brother of my husband spent the remainder of the holidays with us.

He flew by way of Braniff Airlines Wednesday night to Dallas where he rented a car and spent the night. The next morning he drove to Cleburne to be with our mother, Mrs. Alfred Vidler who makes her home at the Colonial Manor Conva-

Friday, Fred journeyed on to Gatesville where we were awaiting his arrival with open arms. Naturally we were sad to lose him when Sunday morning rolled around.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS GO GALORE ... I could hardley wait for the lights on the Court House to be lit. We made a special trip Monday night to the top of the hill above the Leon River bridge on Highway 84. It was a beautiful sight! This inspired us to put our own outside lights up and we couldn't get home fast enough to start our exciting project. Why is it half the lights are burned out, they don't cover as much space as you had hoped and a new extension cord is in order?

The next day sent me scurrying all over town in search for three different sizes of bulbs and trying to remember the color assortment needed. Needless to say, I was in a state of confusion as most simple projects usually leave me. In my case, all simple things wind up being a complicated, major ordeal. Now that the home front is lit up like a Christmas tree, I've decided it was well worth the effort. Especially when you have a six year old son.

THE CUSTOM OF CHRISTMAS LIGHTS ... Since early times light has meant faith and intelligence. Lamps; torches, beacon lights and watch fires have been associated with joyous occasions and festivities.

In 492, Pope Gelasius established Candlemas Day as the time for blessing candles in the churches. Which commemorates the presentation of Jesus in the Temple by his par-

In medieval Europe it became a custom to light a giant Christmas candle that would serve to shed its glow on festivities until Twelfth night,

It is thought that Martin Luther was the first to place tapers on the tree. Anyway, he gets the credit. Since then the candle has had many decorative uses in various parts of the home. Many churches have differnt impressive oandle services including music, prayers and the reading of the Christmas story

As far as for light itself candles have been replaced by the electric lights; especially for outdoor and tree use. There seems to be no limit to the large and artistic display of colored lights throughout our land.

To Christians lights symbolize Christ as the Light of the

With this thought lets remember Him who dispels the darkness as we deocrate for Christmas with our lights.

Pledge Wedding Vows

Miss Sharon Sue Ballard, John Dick Carl

The altar of the Westminister Presbyterian Church was decorated with three sevenbranched arched candelabra entwined with emerald foliage and contained ivory wedding tapers for the formal marriage of Miss Sharon Sue Ballard and John Dick Carl. Rev. Frank L. Seaman officiated the double ring ceremony at 3 p.m. Nov. 22. Behind the wooden cross of the communion table was an arrangement of polished greens. Family pews were marked with white bridal satin ribbons.

Mrs. D.D. Andrews at the organ provided organ accompaniment for Miss Harriett Snider in wedding selections of "The Lord's Prayer" and "A Wedding Prayer.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ballard of Purmela. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Carl, Littlefield.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown designed by Mrs. Robert Graham of white crepe in Juliet fashion. The romancreation featured high, stand-up collar, fitted bodice, long full sleeves gathered to deep cuffs fastening with tiny self-covered buttons, and empire waist accented with bias band. The skirt, corded with self fabric, formed a full-sweep chapel train in back. Her head was adorned with an original profile headpiece created by Mrs. Gene Hurt ofpearl-edged leaves from the fabric of her gown, accented with pearl sprays, crystal trim and fresh stephanotis. Lengths of delicate pearls and stephanotis fell from either side framing her face. From the headdress fell her fingertip three-tiered veil of illusion edged in wide lace. Her only piece of jewelry was a cameo lavalier, belonging to her Aunt, Mrs. Holbert Whitt, of Gatesville. She carried a bouquet in natural curving cascade of gardenias and stephanotis, interspersed with pearls and Balti ivy.

Mrs. Bearden, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Sue Ann Clardy of Odessa and Lynda Rieves of Lubbock. The attendants were attired in brown and ivory crepe dresses of carpet length. The ivory crepe gowns were softly gathered to brown yokes accented with jeweled necklines, and featured short sleeves and back belts held by two buttons. Their headpieces were formed of ivory crepe flower petals and pearl spirals covered with i-vory tulle. They carried fall sheafs of wheat, Peruvian lilies, bronz mums and variegated croton leaves.

Burr Heathman of Dallas served as best man. Grooms-men were Tommy White and David Tullos, both of Lubbock, Ushers were Paul Bearden, brother-in-law of the bride; Keith Kisner and Gary Strickof the couple and the bride-

naires of Peruvian lilies. The mother of the bride wore an ivory crepe dress and crochet coat costume suit with matching accessories and the bridegrooms mother selected a beige dress with matching accessories. Both dresses were fashioned with Juliet sleeves, fastening with tiny self-covered buttons. Their corsages were bronzed green cymbidium or-

The bride's table was laid with white satin cloth with pleated skirt. Her tiered and columned cake of chocolate, iced in white, was crowned with Peruvian lilies, bronze mums and wisps of smilax. The bottom tier was three interlocking rings. The second tier held a smaller cluster of fresh flowers. The base tiers held two bisque cherubs entwined with smilax and completed with a large cluster bouquet of flowers. An elegant nine branched silver candelabrum held crystal votive cups. The diamond cut punch bowl was encircled with smilax and appointments of silver and crystal completed the table. A wedding punch and nuts were served. Miss Linda Beadles registered guests. Miss Charlotte Sassman and Mrs. Jerral Downs served cake and Miss Gala Perry ladeled punch. Members of the houseparty wore corsages of ivory chrysanthemums.

The registration table held the bride's book, a fall arrangement and candles, and baskets filled with rice bags. Bags were created of ivory tulle. brown ribbons and small, ivory straw flowers, distributed by Misses Kimberly and Leslie Sheets.

For a wedding trip to Red River, N.M., the bride wore gold wool belted tunic suit with orante buckle, dark ranch mink trim, fur hat and brown accessories. She wore the gardenia corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Gatesville High School and received her B.S. degree from Texas Tech University in Lubbock. The bridegroom graduated from Littlefield High School, received his bachelor degree in industrial engineering from Tech where he is working toward a master of business administration degree. The couple will reside at 103 Ver-

Out-of-town guests included Mrs, Lee Bynum and Mrs, Holbert White, the bride's aunts, Gatesville; Mrs. Joe Bearden, Coleman; Mrs. Marguerite Heathman and Mrs. W.W. Hall Heathman and Mrs. W. Ward of Houston; Mrs. W.W. Hall and Nancy, aunt and niece of the bridegroom, Littlefield.

Pre-nuptial courtesies for the bride included a brunch Sept. 27 in the Hemphill-Wells tearoom in Lubbock, hosted by Mmes. Seay, Joplin, and Dodd; land both of Lubbock. Fathers a bridal shower Oct. 4 in Purmela, hosted by Mrs. Frank toms that it took centuries of work to dislodge, is binding of the girls feet in China, the selling of youth ( by their parents) into slavery in Japan and to release the head hunter's cravings as well,

Picturing the third generation members as fine outstanding specimen of youth Dr. Sone showed descendents of the original head hunter tribes as earnest workers for their own race, to open better spiritual living as well as better means of enriching their lives culturally and lengethening their lives by better physical living con-

Pathetic is the conclusion, however, that in the sight of some of the Orient the waysof Americans is not very uplifting. This gives vent to the rich thinking for all the Western civilization to overcome their wants of seeking thrills in killing each other, stifling their own lives with over drugging and the general degrading of a people who have had the best chance of any nation to be lifted to the heights of what the Supreme Being expects of Man.

The bright note that leaves

one smiling is that the Chinese people are all seeking for one supreme being outside of worhinges the hope of bringing that One Being to them in the
