VOLUME LXVI

WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Leslie Patterson slipped in quietly last Wednesday afternoon and paid his subscription up for another year so he could keep up with what's going on in and around Hico.

D. G. Appleby, Iredell, who was probably too busy to make a trip to Hico to pay his subscription, sent in his renewal by mail last week.

"Thanks for sending the paper on" was the friendly note which accompanied a subscription renewal from H. D. Driver, 2411 Ferrell, Plainview, Texas.

Guy O. Eakins, assistant cashier at the First National Bank, came in last Thursday and said he guessed he'd better pay this firm a dollar and a half for his subscription renewal. When asked which bank he wanted to check on, he replied, "Oh, just any—it doesn't make any difference."

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Randals think nothing of running up past the Oklahoma line to get her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson of Oklahoma City, and bring them back here for a visit, and still have enough time left to make a pretty good day in Hico. This is what we learned from "Miss Daisy" while she was renewing her father's subscription last Thursday.

E. N. Lambert, Route 4, Lubbock, is credited with another year's subscription since an office visit last week.

Mrs. L. O. Verckler will continue getting her Hico paper at Memorial Hospital, Abilene, Kansas, after receipt of a check mailed in last week by her son, Stewart Verckler.

Prompt response to a notice reminding that renewal time was here again was received by mail this week from Mrs. R. C. Pryor, Route 8, Box 241, Waco.

"Intended to ask about this when I was there," was the note attached to statement, returned with check to cover subscription renewal from Mrs. A. G. Macy, Route 3, Box 36, Killeen.

R. N. McKeage, 744 W. Frey St., Stephenville, mailed his subscription renewal in this week. He usually takes advantage of this occasion to visit with his old friends at Hico, but perhaps like everyone else he's too busy these days.

L. V. Houser, Route 3, while renewing his subscription last Friday stated that he had in 29 bales of cotton off of 65 acres and would have gotten another bale that day if it hadn't rained. But he wasn't complaining about the rain.

P. A. Watts said he guessed if he wanted to stay in the good graces of that niece of his, he'd better pay her subscription. Mrs. Ila Gafford of New Braunfels is the recipient of the favor, and he had just returned from a two

IT'S GIGANTIC! IT'S COLOSSAL! It's the annual Moslah Shrine Circus coming to Fort Worth November 16-25. There will be breath-taking balancing acts, the Loyal Repensky Troupe of pretty girl bareback riders, Professor George Keller and his wild animal act and the show-stopping Josephine Berosini, gorgeous girl high-wire performer.

Tigers Ease Out Granbury, 7-6, with Second District Win

FROM THE PRESS BOX

Hico's Tigers handed the Granbury Pirates a 7 to 6 pasting on Friday last. The Tigers' Benny Terry broke loose in the second period for an 87-yard scamper for a touchdown, and Billy Loden carried over for the extra point, and that was the end of the Tiger scoring.

The Pirates came back for the second half full of determination and in the third period Stacy Harris tried to carry over for the extra point but was unsuccessful and this ended the scoring in the game.

The Tigers again exhibited a good pass defense allowing the Pirates only one completion, but in the second half of the game the Pirates had good luck with their running attack finding good holes in the Tiger line on nearly every carry. The Tigers stuck to their ground game throughout, trying only one pass which was incomplete.

It looks as if the Tigers will have to play better ball to get over the hump against the Wampus Cats from Itasca this week end. However the Tigers had Fred Jones on the injured list and missed him especially in the punting department. This caused a shift of Knight to end and placed Pancho Ross in the quarterback slot for the entire game. Churchill was injured during this game, but should be ready to go against the Cats.

If the Tigers are back to full strength this Friday and want to win, they should take the Cats into camp. Anyway this reporter is picking the Tigers to finish the season with one conference loss. The Whitney team has not lost a conference game and seems to be a cinch for the championship, but if the Tigers can beat Itasca and Whitney loses, the Tigers could tie for the district.

Mass Meeting Nov. 4 At Hamilton to Climax Methodist Campaign

Climaxing an area-wide evangelistic campaign, Methodists from this community will attend a mass meeting, Sunday, Nov. 4, at 3:30 p. m. in Hamilton, at the school gymnasium.

The service is one of similar mass meetings to be held in key cities in this area. District Superintendent C. C. Seasons will preside.

The guest preacher will be Dr. J. T. Carlyon of Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

The local Methodist church will sponsor a delegation to attend the Hamilton meeting. Wayne Rutledge is chairman of the local committee.

Barbecue to Be Served at Homecoming

An afternoon program and meeting and a meal at the school cafeteria have been added to the plans for the homecoming at Hico High School, as announced this week. The Senior Class of Hico High School aided by local ex-students is sponsoring this event for all ex-students of the school, who are invited to meet here next Friday, November 9, the date of the Hico-Cranfills Gap football game. A section will be reserved for the exes who wish to attend the game, the sponsors said.

The time for meeting is 4:30 p. m. Friday in the high school auditorium. There will be a very brief program followed by a business meeting to establish a permanent ex-students' organization.

After the business session, a barbecue meal will be served at the school lunchroom for one dollar a plate.

The buildings will be open from 4:00 p. m. on, so that all who desire may visit them.

As it has been impossible to secure all the necessary addresses of former students, the planning committee is asking everyone to notify all ex-students he knows who live in or out of town.

It will be helpful, the sponsors concluded, if all who plan to attend will send a card to Mrs. Bryan Angell, Hico.

Other planning committee members are E. Blair Jr., Truman Roberts, E. H. Randals Jr., Mrs. H. V. Hedges, Mrs. Weldon Pierce, Bobby Lane, Billy Loden and Benny Terry.

Joe Betts Cited for Outstanding Work at College in Arkansas

Searcy, Ark., Oct. 29.—Joe Betts, senior at Harding College, has been cited for outstanding achievement and effort in his college career. Dean L. C. Sears has announced. His name and biography will appear in the 1952 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," and he will be awarded a certificate of recognition.

Betts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Betts of Hico, Texas. Majoring in Bible and social science, Betts is president of the Alpha Phi Kappa social club member of the college chorus and men's glee club.

Recognition in Who's Who is one of the highest of collegiate honors. The annual directory lists distinguished students selected from colleges and universities throughout America, and is furnished to business firms as an employment reference. Students accepted for recognition are entitled to benefits of the placement service maintained by the organization.

Jet fighters carrying boats were launched from carriers for the first time in April, 1951.

School Carnival Crowns Two Sets of Carnival 'Royalty'

The grandest time was enjoyed at the annual public school carnival Tuesday night where every student and every father's daughter participated to make the carnival a howling success.

Yes siree... the carnival barkers plus the sales force talked Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public out of $567.91 to apply on fluorescent lights for the library, a recording machine for speech classes and a record player for musical classes and a Ditto machine for all teachers to use. We feel that all of these are necessary to keep up with modern trends of teaching.

The faculty of the Hico Schools thinks it is mighty considerable of the merchants and citizens who contributed their time plus their gifts to the success of the carnival.

And too, never let it be said that the diligent efforts of the many students was not appreciated. The students worked tirelessly to make the carnival a success.

The crowning of the King and Queen highlighted the evening of entertainment. In High School Billy Joe Luckie and Dorothy Randolph, Juniors, with 10,281 votes were crowned King and Queen, in Elementary School the First Grade, Judy Ogle and Michael Laws with 2,410 votes were crowned King and Queen. The second grade, Margaret Warren and Billy Carpenter, got $7.60; the third grade, Jean Ables and R. B. McClure, got $11.72; the fourth grade, Judy Griffiths and Alan Hedges, got $12.42; the fifth grade, Ann Hutton and LaVon Pierce, got $19.51; the sixth grade, Regina Ellis and Wayne Warren got $22.78; the seventh grade, Jerry Hamrick and Bonnie Johnson, got $10.39; the eighth grade, Lula Cox and Norman Norrod, got $13.89; the freshman, Mary Beth Ogle and Donald Mayfield, got $15.76; the sophomore, Doris Fillingim and P. H. Bruner, got $91.24; the senior, Wilma Haley and Benny Terry, got $3.15. This is the most votes received in this for the past three years, in 1949 the total number of votes were 11,106, in 1950 the total number was 15,525 and the total number of votes for this year is 33,737.

So folks, thanks again for your presence and your donations, and hang high the mask and ghostly costumes for another year, and when next autumn rolls around we will be looking for you, and we do mean you!

GARDEN CLUB ENTHUSIASTS INVITED TO SHOW AT WACO

The Belle Fleur Garden Club of Waco, Texas will present its fifth annual Flower Show on November 6, 1951 from 2:30 p. m. until 8:30 p. m. at the Y. W. C. A. auditorium, 2600 Austin Avenue.

The title of the show will be "Indian Summer." One of the features of this show will be tables for all occasions in this the season of "Indian Summer."

All Garden Club enthusiasts are invited to attend.

Local Health Units Should Be Organized in Every Community

Austin, Oct. 22.—"What the average community needs is a well organized health department which emphasizes five types of activities to protect the child's health," says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "These activities are: (1) The safeguarding of child health and motherhood; (2) the control of contagion; (3) accurate recording of births and deaths; (4) support of public health laboratories; and (5) sanitary control of diseases spread from human waste and by vermin and insects."

"The full time local health unit gives due emphasis to each of the above mentioned activities. To illustrate how these 5 essential functions are interrelated, the interest of the various divisions in the new born baby, preschool and school child may be cited as an example. Child health is safeguarded by providing information and instruction to the mother. Through the use of vital statistics, complete and accurate birth registration is kept, as well as records indicating deaths which occur among children from preventable diseases.

"Contagion is prevented or controlled against further spread through the encouragement of immunization early in life, through the prompt reporting of infectious diseases. Public health laboratories and sanitary engineers provide additional bulwarks of protection for child life.

"Adequate health organization and wholehearted support on the part of various state and local agencies are essential if these activities are to be successfully maintained."

Dallas News Writer to Visit Hamilton in First Open Forum Meeting

Hamilton, Nov. 1.—Wm. B. Ruggles, chief of the editorial staff of the Dallas Morning News, will be the first speaker on a series of open forum discussions sponsored in November by a group of church people in Hamilton. He will speak at the First Baptist Church, Tuesday, Nov. 6 at 7:30 p. m. A large attendance is expected from surrounding towns.

The general theme of the discussions is "Problems relating to our nation and our homes." Three speakers will be heard during succeeding weeks. On November 12, Martin Dies, former chairman of the un-American Activities Committee of the Congress will discuss Communism.

Mr. Ruggles, the speaker for Tuesday, is a veteran of both World Wars as well as being a veteran newsman. He is a forceful writer and speaker. The public throughout Central Texas is invited to hear him. There is no charge.

Over Half a Million Housewives Are Paying Social Security Taxes

Commissioner of Internal Revenue John B. Dunlap has recently announced that as of August 17, 1951, collectors of internal revenue had received 522,466 special envelope-type returns reporting Social Security taxes withheld from wages of household employees for the second quarter of 1951, ended June 30. This compares with a previous report showing that as of May 15, 511,288 such returns had been filed for the first quarter of the year.

Since the May 15 report was compiled, 55,371 additional returns for the first quarter have been received, and it is anticipated that a large number of additional returns for the second quarter will be filed in the comparable period.

Huddleston to Visit In Area Weekly to Interview Job Seekers

Earl Huddleston of Oglesby, former legislative representative for this district, but now field representative of the Texas Employment Commission, was in Hico Wednesday on business in connection with his duties.

Working out of the Fort Hood office of the Commission, of which Earl Lumpkin is manager, Mr. Huddleston said he would be in Hamilton every Wednesday to talk with anyone who might be interested in employment at Fort Hood. At Hamilton he may be contacted at the office of the county judge in the court house on Wednesday of each week.

DRAFT CALL ORDERED FOR NOVEMBER 6

Selective Service Local Board Number 23 has been notified that they have a physical examination call for 12 men on November 5, 1951. They also have an induction call for one man on November 6.

This information was received from Mrs. Pauline V. Lawrence, clerk of this board which includes Hamilton and Coryell Counties.

Inspirational Talk Heard By Hico Lions

A note of encouragement and hope for civilization even under present-day conditions, which sometimes are pictured gloomily in papers, was sounded Wednesday afternoon before the regular meeting of the Hico Lions Club. Rev. E. E. Dawson, who perhaps is the most active "retired" Baptist minister to be found within reach of a space ship, was the speaker. He introduced his serious remarks with a few anecdotes which caught his listeners' attention, and explained that Lionism was not a new thing to him. He first became a Lion 22 years ago, he said, and later has affiliated with Lions Clubs in various locations.

"When a man loses confidence in the honesty and integrity of his fellow man, he has lost confidence in himself," the speaker declared in starting his discussion on "The Bad and Good in Men." Using the Bible story of the Prodigal Son, he brought out the point that even though a man has sunk to the lowest depths, there is still hope for him if he realizes his situation, admits it and tries to improve on it.

Sincere resolution is necessary to improvement, he stated, declaring that he "never saw anything worthwhile accomplished that was not preceded by a strong resolution on the part of someone."

"We must have faith in the future," he said, adding that as he realized that he was in his declining years he was firmly convinced that his mission in life now is to encourage the best that is in men.

Having passed a picture around to the group showing a lighthouse over the surrounding waters, he defied anyone present to identify the scene as sunrise or sundown. The analogy he brought out was that these days should be regarded as a time of sunrise and not sundown. "All things work together for good for men who love God," he explained. "There is a sunrise and I can't go along with those who say we're going into the night of darkness and despair. There is still hope when the things that are evil are brought out—not hidden in the darkness of ignorance."

The meeting, held in Firemen's Hall, was attended by 18 members, who enjoyed a delicious meal served by members of the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service. With Lion R. B. Jackson presiding, others present were Lions Arthur Burden, Aubrey Duzan, J. E. Woodard, H. V. Hedges, R. L. Holford, D. E. Bullock, P. W. Hamilton, O. C. Cook, J. T. Hitt, W. F. Hafer, Wayne Rutledge, W. H. Greenstilt, T. E. Roberts, J. N. Russell, Ray Cheek, Harold Walker and W. E. McPherson Jr.

Lion Cook reported on the school's Halloween carnival and thanked the business men for cooperation received, apologizing for whatever annoyance they were caused by concentrated solicitation.

Lion Walker accepted appointment as chairman of a committee to secure, erect and decorate the traditional Christmas tree provided in the business section each year by the club.

SHIRLEY MUENCHOW, Burbank High School student, lends a hand with mailing of the San Antonio Livestock Exposition's 1952 premium list, which is now being distributed. Premiums for San Antonio's third annual stock show total $47,477.

"USO IS A MUST"—Greer Garson, movie star of Hollywood and Dallas, is high in her praise of the work which the USO is doing in behalf of our young Texans in the Armed Forces. "USO is a must for all of us on the home front," she says. "It's the least we can do for those in uniform who are offering their all to protect the freedom of our country." Looking over a new Texas USO poster with Miss Garson are Robert L. Thornton, Jr., Dallas, state treasurer of the Texas United Defense Fund Committee, and Sgt. Leslie J. Shaver of Austin, who has just returned from a year in Korea with the First Cavalry.

SENIOR NEWS

Everyone in the senior class is planning for the Homecoming, November 9. It's going to take a lot of work but I think everyone is willing. Mrs. Angell is sponsor of the Homecoming and the seniors are assisting.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Well, the carnival is just ahead. By the time you read this, it will have passed, but we are working hard on it now.

The band students in our room are Paul Gillentine, Peggy Goodloe, Doris Fillingim, and Nelta Johnson. Incidentally, they said the band trip to Wichita Falls was wet but fun.

We are really glad that two of us made the honor roll. We hope more will next time.

Before the carnival is over, we wish to thank our wonderful sponsor, Mrs. Segrest, for making our part in it possible.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Well, not to be bragging but the freshman class had more on the honor roll this month than any other class in high school. Everyone should be proud of us.

The freshman boys were initiated Tuesday night. From all of the complaints, they weren't feeling so well Wednesday morning.

The freshman class wants to thank everyone who gave us votes for the Hallowe'en King and Queen.

Everyone please come to the game between Hico and Itasca at Itasca Friday night.

PEP SQUAD NEWS

We were all out at the ball game Friday night, rain, snow or pretty weather, and we had a little bit of each.

We won by the skin of our teeth. The score was Hico 7, Granbury 6. We are proud of our pep squad. Everyone is very faithful about coming.

Be sure and go to Itasca Friday night and see us win again.

BAND INSTRUMENTS INCLUDE NEW DRUM

We have all the instruments we sent off to be repaired back now, and they all look wonderful. Replacing the heavy bass drum we had, is a new light-weight drum. The new bass drummer, Doris Fillingim, is really proud.

Last Saturday, our band was one of the many bands present at Wichita Falls for the Midwestern University Homecoming day. In spite of the rain and bitter cold, I think everyone had a nice time. Because of the cold weather, we thought it best not to stay for the Midwestern-A. C. C. football game. Instead, we came back to Mineral Wells and stayed over there about 3 hours, some going to the movies and others shopping.

The band is planning a hobo party for November 16, if nothing interferes with that date.

THEY SHOULD KNOW—THE DROUTH'S BEEN HURTING

Austin, Oct. 22.—Effects of weather upon business and industry are being studied by members of the Central Texas Branch of the American Meteorological Society.

Announcement of the survey was made by R. C. Staley, University of Texas meteorology instructor and branch president.

RAY PEARL and His Musical Gems, veterans of a thousand-and-one one-night stands, are on the march through village and farm again, bringing sweet music and smooth ballads out where the tall corn grows . . . Ray, who once did 63 one-nighters in a row before catching his breath, has been nicknamed "The One-Night King" and aptly so . . . Every fall after the resort season is over, the "Pearls of the Plains" jump into their musical safari of two limousines and a truck, and hit the highroad of song.

They play such places as "Smith's Barn" in Nebraska to the swank country club in Tulsa, Okla., before coming back to the big city, which this year was Chicago and the world-famous Aragon ballroom . . . Ray has just recorded two new novelties of Job records which are able to sweep the country any week now . . . The first is "Pass the Meat and Pass the Potatoes," which has been adopted as their theme song by the National Restaurant Association, and the second is "Find 'em, Fool 'em and Forget 'em," which is done in the Al Trace manner.

Both are sung by as winsome and lovely a vocalist as has hit the great plains in many a year . . . She is Lois Costello, Joliet, Ill., a 25-year-old beauty who has been dubbed "the Dagmar of the Bandstand."

The waltz is now entering its third surge of popularity since Pearl took to the bandstand 25 years ago in his native Johnstown, Pa. . . His hit-parade line-up includes four waltzes in his ten-top request numbers . . . "People come to a ballroom to dance," he says, "and they want to know what they're dancing to. My motto is an old, but good one: 'Where is the melody?' No be-hop and off-beat for the Musical Gems" . . . And it pays off in the small towns where Ray is One-Night King.

Iredell F. F. A. Boys Receive Awards in State Fair Exhibits

Donald Seal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Seal, Hico Route 1, was one of two members of the Iredell Chapter of Future Farmers of America to receive an award in the Junior Broiler Show at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas recently. Donald was awarded one superior ribbon and one excellent ribbon, the prize money on these 10 broilers amounting to $6.15.

A pen exhibited by Ronnie Helm of Iredell sold for $20. Donald received $15 for one pen of five, and $9 for the other.

Keeping account of his earnings, Donald wrote a card to Luther Knox of Knox and Tulloh produce in Hico, giving the additional information, as follows: "I had $37.50 in them, and the fifty I fed brought $68.64. I fed them 160 pounds of starter mash and 500 pounds of broiler mash."

Childless Married Men Eligible to Draft for Remainder of Year

Austin, Oct. 29.—Married men without children will be affected principally when state draft boards order approximately 3,600 men for physical examinations in November and December.

First orders to local boards for the examinations will be placed in the mail Wednesday. Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, said today. These are the first physical examinations to be ordered since the past April, except in isolated cases.

The orders are designed to get married men without children examined as early as possible, in compliance with official instructions from national Selective Service headquarters. First examinations will take place on November 5.

Eighteen hundred men are scheduled for examination in November and 1,800 in December. Examination dates scheduled for November are the 5th, 7th, 13th and 14th. Examinations will be given at armed forces joint examining and induction stations at Abilene, Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, San Antonio and Shreveport, Louisiana.

General Wakefield said that some of these men will be inducted in December and still more in January. He pointed out that, in many cases, these married men without children will be inducted ahead of single men who have been examined and accepted for many months.

"It turns out this way," General Wakefield observed, "because the law provides that men shall be inducted in order of age—the oldest first."

The state Selective Service director said he had no idea how many draft registrants are men with only dependent wives.

"We do know that we had 71,001 men with dependents at the end of August," General Wakefield said, "and at the end of September we had 69,610. From this we know that the local boards already have gotten under way on the job of reclassifying men with dependent wives alone as available for military service."

An average of 26 men per local board will be sent for the physical examinations in the November-December period.

Carlton

By Mrs. Fred Geyer

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warner of Maysville, Mo., visited the past week with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Ellison. They left Sunday to visit relatives in Lubbock, before leaving for Long Beach, Calif., to spend the winter with their son, Carl Warner and family.

Billy Grubbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grubbs celebrated his sixth birthday with a party Thursday afternoon, October 25, at the home of his parents. Halloween motifs in games, refreshments and favors were carried out throughout the afternoon. Guests were the following little friends: Gary Keith Jordan, Wayne Harbour, Weaver Ballard, Jerry Dutton, Randy Odom and Freddie Self. Mrs. Fern Jordan assisted in entertaining and serving the boys.

George Lowery and family of San Angelo spent Saturday night with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lowery. His parents accompanied them to San Angelo Sunday for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Partin came up Sunday from Waco after her mother, Mrs. Ophelia Upham, who returned home with them for a visit.

Mrs. W. H. Vick visited Sunday afternoon at Pottsville with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Van Wisdom.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Upham returned Sunday to their home in West Columbia after a visit with his mother, Mrs. Ophelia Upham.

Little Miss Carla Moss of Fort Worth is spending this week with her grandmother, Mrs. Lilla Byrd.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Geyer and baby, Patricia Ann of Granbury spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Geyer. They and his mother visited Sunday afternoon at Dublin with Mrs. Paul Warren and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson and daughter Jean of Ozona were week end visitors with his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hobdy Thompson, Don and Sherie.

Mrs. J. R. White and children of Irving visited over the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Watt Sharp Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fletcher and children of Rochester spent the week end with her brother, Bud Lefevre and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Dyer were week end visitors in Dallas with his sister, Mrs. J. R. Hill and husband.

Second Lt. and Mrs. Laymon Smith of New Orleans, were week end visitors with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charley Proffitt. Sunday afternoon visitors in the Proffitt home was their son, Adolph Proffitt and family and Mrs. Funk of Comanche.

Fairy

By Mrs. Eunice Massengale

We received about one half inch of rain here last Sunday and are in hopes it will be sufficient to bring up the grain that has been sown.

Word was received here late Monday that Mr. I. N. Adams of Hico was seriously ill. His sons, Ellis and Lee, who reside here, were notified. He has been in very bad health for the past several years having to remain in bed most of the time. He and his wife are former residents of Fairy. We are very sorry to learn of his condition and hope that he will soon be improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Waynand Allison and Johnny of Baytown came in Monday for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison and Texie.

The writer was in Glen Rose Sunday to attend funeral services for Mrs. Charlie Stephenson, wife of Rev. Charlie Stephenson. Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. at the First Baptist Church there. Despite the very inclement weather, a large crowd was present for the funeral service. Mrs. Stephenson was 57 years old. She is survived by her husband and several step-children, also two sons by a former marriage and other relatives. Rev. and Mrs. Stephenson had attended singings all over Hamilton and surrounding counties for the past several years until his health failed him in 1949. He is very ill of a heart ailment and suffered three heart attacks following the death of his wife, but by keeping him quiet, was able to attend the funeral services at the church. Rev. and Mrs. Stephenson have made many friends in this section, who will be very sorry to learn of her passing. We extend deepest sympathy to Rev. Stephenson and all other relatives. They were dear friends of the writer since our marriage to our late husband was performed in their home with Rev. Stephenson officiating.

The writer was in Dublin late Sunday where we visited a short while at the home of our daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and family and also to meet our sister, Mrs. Myrtle Enger of Brady who came down for a short visit. We carried her back to Dublin late Monday for her return home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison, Ruby Jean and Darrel and a friend of Ruby Jean, Miss Nancy Brannon, all of Dublin visited here a while Monday night in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison and Texie, and to be with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Waynand Allison and baby. The ladies also visited in the Carl Ray Sellers home.

The writer and sister, Mrs. Gladys Cox were in Gatesville one day last week as patients at the Baize Clinic.

W. N. Bridges of McGregor visited here last Friday night in the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blakley and Lera Jane. Mr. Bridges stated that the Army worms had reached McGregor and were cleaning up most everything in their path.

Leon Springer returned home Saturday after spending several days at Miles.

Our Halloween carnival will be held tonight (Tuesday). We will give a report on the affair in next week's news.

The R. W. McAdams family are doing some remodeling at their farm home. A long open porch is being closed in, turning the space into extra bed rooms.

Mrs. Marion Agee and members of her family were here Sunday paying a visit to the Fairy Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison and Texie visited Sunday afternoon in the home of their son and brother, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and family of Dublin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Paulson of Fort Worth spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Brummett.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Giesecke of Hico were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Brummett. Minister Giesecke had delivered the morning service at the Cranfills Gap Church of Christ Sunday.

90% For! 10% Against

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Time to settle...

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop their delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors continue to refuse. They continue a course of dillying and dallying. It is definitely time to

END THIS QUIBBLING!

On June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act—an Act largely fathered by the unions themselves—made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules" in railroad language) which had been in dispute between employees and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employees Accept
Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employees—more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse
But three unions—with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total—have refused to accept, even after months of negotiations. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the so-called "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers.

In all, there are about 270,000 operating employees. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by BLE, BLF&E, or ORC. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employees are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot agree to.

What Do the Railroads Offer?
They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to repudiate this agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?
Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $34 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 19½ cents an hour ($1.56 per day). Large sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases?
The White House Agreement includes an "escalator" clause under which wages will be geared to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases—April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employees covered by signed agreements.

What About the 40-Hour Week?
The White House Agreement calls for the establishment of the 40-hour week in principle, for employees in yard service. The employees can have it any time after January 1, 1952, provided the manpower situation is such that the railroads can get enough men to perform the work with reasonable regularity at straight time rates. If the parties do not agree on the question of availability of manpower, the White House Agreement provides arbitration by a referee appointed by the President.

What Else Do the Union Leaders Demand?
The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with rules changes, which have already been agreed to by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Of these, the principal one seems to be that having to do with so-called "interdivisional service"—runs which take in two or more seniority districts.

The union leaders would bar progress and efficiency in the industry, and better service to the public, by maintaining a situation where they can arbitrarily stop a railroad from establishing such interdivisional runs. The carriers propose that if a railroad wishes to set up an interdivisional run, the railroad and the unions should try to agree on such run and the conditions which should surround its establishment, and if the railroad and the unions can't agree, the matter will be submitted to arbitration.

Rules Can Be Arbitrated
The railroads have not only offered these three unions the same rules agreed to by the BRT and covered by the White House Agreement, but have even agreed to submit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed
With the pattern so firmly established in the railroad industry, it seems fair to suggest that the leaders of BLE, BLF&E, and ORC stop their quibbling and take action to make the railroad labor picture 100% complete. Certainly today's economic and international situation calls for a united front. And certainly no good reason has been advanced why these three unions should be preferred over all other railroad employees.

YOUR PROFITS hinge on
Lamb Crops . . . Wool Clips

A big lamb crop and a heavy wool clip . . . that's what you want from your ewes. But if your ewes aren't fed a ration containing the ingredients needed to produce a lot of lambs, you're apt to come out on the short end.

Lots of ranchers feed Purina Range Checkers to their ewes before lambing. They find Range Checker - fed ewes come through in good shape and have lots of milk.

"Let's Talk Live Stock"

By TED GOULDY Fort Worth, Oct. 26—It was generally believed by the livestock trade that cattle and calf prices had turned the corner from the low time of the season during the past week.

Certainly the buying side was more aggressive during the week and some classes of cattle and calves rebounded from the low points of the third week in October with gains of $1 to $2 per hundred.

Not all cattle and calves reacted so sharply and it was anything but a runaway market toward the higher levels.

Most encouraging sign in the trade was the better mental attitudes of both buying and selling interests and it is agreed that any significant market trend, either upward or downward, is governed 75 to 90 per cent on psychology as much as anything else.

Some showers and rains in many sections of the Southwest and the cooler temperatures helped. A sharp increase in the supply of livestock cars also kept order buyers active and this put a firm prop under the market.

Well finished fat cattle are increasingly scarce but the supply of fed cattle for the months ahead appears to be large.

Not any great numbers of cattle are in feedlots yet in most parts of the Southwest, but Cornbelt and Western and West Coast areas are pretty well loaded.

This week at Fort Worth, Howard Martin of Cedar Hill marketed a load of 1,025-pound steers at $37 and John Lee Walker of San Saba, sold a load of 1,161-pound steers at $35. Parker Jameson of Haslet had three loads of well finished steers at $32.50 and another good load of steers sold at $35 and averaged 1,181 pounds and came from near Wellington.

The movement of Kansas cattle to Texas was again noted this week. About three or four loads of big plain red heifers with a touch of Brahmas from near Parsons, Kansas, arrived at Fort Worth and sold for $28.65.

Hog prices were under heavy pressure again and tumbled to the lowest point since last December. Heavy rains in the North were the big factor in the weaker market for hogs.

Mrs. H. L. Patty of Dallas County, marketed a big Shorthorn bull at Fort Worth this week. He weighed 2,225 pounds and brought $30 per hundred, a gross value of $667.50 for one bull!

Many sheep men in the Southwestern parts of Texas report many young ewes may have to be disposed of unless some rams come. It is hoped that these good bands of ewes can be carried through, since many of them have been carefully bred up and to lose this good seed stock would be a severe blow to Texas' sheep and wool industry.

Most of the large runs of sheep at Fort Worth during the past week had been aged ewes, however. This calls for lots of extra sorting, to be sure that ewes with enough teeth to go back to the country again are sold for stockers instead of slaughter.

Sorting these sheep is back-breaking work and commission firm employees are often hard at work by three o'clock in the morning sorting the shipments so that sale can begin on time at 8:00 A. M.

Rumors have been rife in the industry that the OPS might release cattle from controls. Most observers at Fort Worth feel that the possibility of this is remote.

Reasons include: 1. A large staff has been hired to grade and supervise meat and sales, etc. 2. OPS Director DiSalle has repeatedly stated in public (last time only last week) that OPS has not and will not consider surrendering on livestock and meat controls.

3. New plans for making controls effective were announced only last week. 4. It seems certain that OPS will not surrender meat and livestock controls until the meat supply is so obviously large that controls need to be supplanted by support prices. At that point, Congress will probably do the de-controlling.

Feed processors and dealers report bookings of livestock feed for Fall and Winter delivery are at all time record levels in most cases. This accounts for the strength of the market for feed stuffs.

THE STATE OF TEXAS TO: Jack Robards, GREETING: You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 8th day of December, A. D. 1931, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. before the Honorable District Court of Hamilton County, at the Court House in Hamilton, Texas.

Said Plaintiff's petition was filed on the 23rd day of October, 1931. The file number of said suit being No. 4540.

The names of the parties in said suit are Mrs. Lou Robards as Plaintiff, and Jack Robards as Defendant. The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to-wit: Suit for divorce on the grounds of harsh, unkind, and cruel treatment and for adjudication of property rights.

Issued this 23rd day of October, 1931. Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Hamilton, Texas, this the 23rd day of October, A. D. 1931. C. E. EDMISTON, Clerk, District Court, Hamilton County, Texas.

"I'm going on a diet"

PERHAPS overeating is the most common dietary indiscretion. The natural result of overeating is obesity. It has been said that we in America eat ourselves into a premature grave. The pendulum then frequently swings back to the other extreme. We go on a diet. Many self-imposed reducing diets wouldn't keep a bird alive, and often serious vitamin, mineral, and protein deficiencies result.

In recent years great strides have been made in our knowledge of nutrition. For the maintenance of optimal health, one must be assured that proper balance of various foods is maintained. For dietary advice of any kind see your physician. You can then be certain that all bodily needs are being adequately met. Bring your prescriptions to us.

Read This Daring Guarantee of at least 10% More Eggs:

Nutrena's "More-Eggs" GUARANTEE

Switch your layers from any other egg feed to Nutrena All-Mash, Nutrena 20% Egg Feed or Nutrena 27% Grain Balance and follow the Nutrena feeding plan for 30 days. If you don't get at least 10% more eggs than you did during the 30 days before you switched, Nutrena will pay you the difference in cash at the current market price per dozen. This offer is good until January 15, 1932. It does not apply to obviously molting or diseased flocks.

Nutrena Mills, Inc.

Here is why Nutrena Guarantees you at least 10% more eggs in 30 days:

This unusual guarantee has already been proved in on-farm feeding tests in an 18-county area. Flocks actually averaged better than 32% more eggs the first 30 days after switching to Nutrena Egg Feed, containing special Livium for Layers.

Livium for Layers is Nutrena's exclusive "extra" that is added to all Nutrena Egg Feeds to step-up their egg-producing power. You get it only in Nutrena Egg Feeds.

How can you lose? If you switch now from any other feed to Nutrena Egg Feed, you can make absolutely sure of at least 10% more eggs during the next 30 days—or the equivalent in cash. And you are shooting for much more increase than that—as in the case of Mr. Ehrfried Schwahn, who says: "Nutrena beat what they promised. They guaranteed me at least 10% more eggs—but I actually got a much greater increase. In 30 days after I switched to Nutrena, my hens were laying 15 dozen more eggs per week, which was a 25% increase."

The Young Man Learned from Ford

MAGNUS ACHIEVED THE 'IMPOSSIBLE' IN MANUFACTURE OF HARMONICAS

By SAMUEL T. WILLIAMSON

One reason why we don't hear so much about Horatio Alger these days is that too many people regard his rags-to-riches stories as out of date. Why work too hard? Got a car? A television set? What more do you want that you can't get by 18 to 24 easy installments and on a 40-hour week? If you want more, you're licked before you start. There's the income tax if you win. And if you do think up something new, some big company has to make it and will only pay you peanuts.

All this is nonsense to Finn Haakon Magnus, late of Norway and now of Newark, N. J. This soft-spoken young descendant of the Vikings—he's only 43—has created a multi-million dollar industry where none existed before. Only one thing, he says, keeps a man down in this country, and that is the man himself.

In the summer of 1925, Finn Magnus, then a boy of 17, arrived at Ellis Island and landed at New York's Battery, crossing a big valise. In his pocket was $25. He found a lodging house, rented a room and went out to look for breakfast. Then he got lost. Knowing neither street nor street number of his rooming house, and each house and street looking like the other, he walked around and around on the sidewalks of New York. He never did find the place or his luggage.

But he still had $25, and before it was spent, he got a job as stevedore on the tough Brooklyn docks. Next he was a dishwasher. Then an elevator operator. After that, a factory stock clerk. At length came his first opportunity. The Ford Motor Company took him on as a student.

Here the young Norwegian picked up something that has become as typically American as a drug-store sandwich and corn on the cob: the principles of mass production. More people understand those principles than understand them. But never were they expressed more clearly and more simply than by the man Magnus was working for. Mass production, said Henry Ford, is a "productive organization that delivers in continuous quantities a useful commodity of standard material, workmanship and design at minimum cost." At Ford, Finn Magnus saw how mass production brought down costs so that more might enjoy the commodity. "What makes this country unique," he decided, "is that good things are not for the few."

He also learned another lesson; the useful commodity must be popular. Henry Ford was learning that lesson at the same time. Model T was still useful, but people were no longer satisfied with it. Ford shut down to retool for Model A, and Magnus was out of a job.

His next job was with a cash register concern, but the depression came! There was less cash and little need for more cash registers. One product however, which is a necessity in good times and bad is buttons. Finn Magnus became a night machine operator at the Button Corporation of America. He wasn't a night machine operator very long, for he soon saw that the mass production principles he picked up at Ford applied to button-making as well as to putting automobiles together. He found ways of eliminating waste, of short-cutting production, improving quality and increasing profits. Within nine years he was superintendent, then general manager. He was in his early thirties and at what for most people was a pinnacle of success, but for Magnus it was only the beginning.

Some months after Pearl Harbor, he tried to buy a harmonica. "None to be had," the store clerk said. "Harmonicas come from Germany and Japan. Don't you know there's a war on?"

"Why aren't they made in America?" he asked.

"Too expensive."

Harmonicas were made of wood and brass—80 separate parts, put together in 150 separate, laborious, all-hand operations. Each brass reed on the reed plate which is the music-making part of the instrument was hand-riveted and hand-tuned, a skill handed down from parents to children.

"Why not mass produce them in plastics, the way we do buttons?" Magnus asked.

"Ridiculous!" said plastic experts. "Impossible!" All that Magnus had to do was to find a plastic which would give off a sweet, musical sound as a brass reed. Then he must mold a plastic reed plate on which all reeds are in tune. And to get such a delicate mold, he must have dies with tolerances of one ten-thousandth of an inch—tolerances never before achieved with plastics.

It took Finn Magnus three years to accomplish these three impossibilities. Weekends, holidays and nights, he worked in an improvised laboratory in the cellar of his home. Sometimes he worked straight through the night, then swallowed a cup of coffee and hustled off for a day at the button factory. The ultimate result of those three years of experiment is an all-plastic harmonica whose five pieces are assembled in seven operations. It is a far cry from the price of the old imported variety. One machine turns out 8,500 an hour. That was five years ago. Today, the Magnus Newark plant with its 500 employees is the center of the world's harmonica industry.

Other musical instruments stream from the Magnus plant, and the time may come when the members of today's brass bands will be toting plastic instruments. But Finn Magnus has no intention of stopping at such other innovations as plastic bagpipes, plastic electric organs and pianos. Ideas for scores of new products and inventions are whirling around in his head.

The young man who learned from Ford may have reached this country nine centuries later than his Norse ancestors, but he certainly has made up for lost time. And his story tells more about America than a mile of economists' charts and statistics, or a year of after-dinner speeches.

Three Appeal Boards Added to Selective Service in Texas

Austin, Oct. 29.—Three additional appeal boards have been added to Selective Service in Texas, Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director, announced today.

The new appeal boards are located at Houston, San Angelo, and Tyler. The old Texas appeal board at Austin, in existence since 1948, has been retained. The new appeal boards were set up in compliance with Section 10 of the Universal Military Training and Service Act.

"This provision of law directs that an appeal board be set up in each federal judicial district," General Wakefield commented. "Each appeal board is required to have a member each from industry and labor, one physician, one lawyer, and, where applicable, one member from agriculture."

"It is my understanding that the purpose for the amendment to the law was to make sure that every registrant should have an opportunity to have his appeal heard by an appeal board within the federal judicial district in which he resides."

The Austin appeal board will serve the Western Federal Judicial District of Texas, the Houston board the Southern District, the San Angelo board the Northern District, and the Tyler board the Eastern District.

Members of the appeal boards were appointed by President Truman after recommendation by Governor Allan Shivers, as required by law.

Members of the boards are as follows: Houston: T. J. Arnold, chairman; George A. Wilson, vice-chairman; Dr. Henry R. Maresch, secretary; E. J. Mosher, all of Houston; and G. W. Liestman, Allie.

Tyler: Ben F. Johnson, chairman; Gordon N. Gray, secretary; Harry Dickson; W. B. McGinney; and Dr. E. D. Rice, all of Tyler.

San Angelo: E. E. Murphy, chairman; W. B. Groseclose, secretary; Marion H. Badger; Dr. D. D. Wall; and J. C. Woodul, all of San Angelo.

Austin: Horace H. Shelton, chairman; D. T. Gilliland, secretary; T. J. Butler; Dr. Raleigh R. Ross, all of Austin; and J. H. Johnson, Del Valle.

The boards are created to permit draft registrants to appeal from classification decisions of local boards. Registrants must appeal within 10 days from mailing of a notice of classification.

Under a recent provision of law, a registrant may designate that his appeal be sent to the appeal board having jurisdiction over the area in which he holds a job instead of the one having jurisdiction over his place of residence.

March of Dimes in 1952 Must Be All-Out Double-Effort Drive

An eighteen year old baby girl—born in an iron lung herself—came down with bulbar palsy.

A Livingston yell leader—cheered on a football game one night—died of polio three days later.

A prominent mother of three was attacked by the virus and lost the fight. Although California led the other states in emergency equipment required during the year, the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis reported that Texas followed closely. By mid-October, the Lone Star State had received 62 life-giving respirators—shipped to hospitals by the March of Dimes organization.

As polio continued to take its toll in Texas, volunteer county officials of the NFIP—born from their regional pre-campaign planning meeting in Dallas—set gears in motion for the 1952 March of Dimes campaign.

"Commencing on January 2nd, 1952 instead of the traditional January 15th," Lloyd Gregory, state chairman, pointed out, "the March of Dimes must be an all-out, double-effort drive to assure funds for continuing care of patients from the epidemics of 1948, 1949, and 1950, and for new patients which we must expect during the remainder of 1951 and 1952."

"Funds must be available," the MOD leader said, "to intensify research work carried on throughout the Nation, seeking a preventative or cure. That's why we're organizing now throughout the State to conduct the most successful March of Dimes ever staged in Texas."
