WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

For the past three months special efforts have been put forth by the News Review force to have to paper in the mails early enough to be dispatched out of the local office late Thursday afternoon. In this way some relief has been noticed in a situation which formerly resulted in frequent messages such as the following: received last May 28:

I am not fussing or raising heck, but we do not get our News Review until Monday nearly every issue. The papers from Comanche, De Leon and Stephenville come on Friday nearly every week. I am sure you get your paper in the mails on time and the trouble is somewhere else. If you can locate the trouble I will appreciate it very much. Thanks

BOB HAYNES
Stephenville, Route 2

We hope this situation has been relieved, if not entirely remedied, by our whipped-up schedule. Delivery of papers on time is still in process of being worked out, and it may be some time before the connections are made properly. It works both ways for effective discontinuance of the star route from Stephenville, the service has not been so good in either direction. But we like to know our readers are interested enough to wonder why their paper doesn't arrive on time, and will do anything we can to assure regularity.

Mrs. A. L. Newman, Fairly, has been marked up another year on her subscription card upon orders from W. E. Gayne, postmaster at that thriving center.

"Please find enclosed two dollars for our paper, as we want to keep up with Hico" was the note accompanying renewal from Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Graves at Waco. Wynson will now have two papers coming to his address temporarily, since his son Kenneth last week subscribed for himself and ordered it sent to his dad's house until he had a permanent address.

Derwood Polk and his family are missed from this community since that old salt was recalled by the Naval Reserve. But they have not lost interest in the old home town, as we received a renewal note from them last week. If you'd like to send them a Christmas card their address is 401F Magnuson Way, Bremerton, Wash.

N. L. Minquis was in Hico Saturday, and said he had to jog his memory to recall his date with this office as he had been to town three times and meant to do that errand but had forgotten it until then.

G. S. Johnson is another considerate friend who not only has us send the News Review out on Route 7 to him each week, but always turns his Star-Telegram subscription over to us to send in. He and his wife must keep pretty busy around their pretty place near Caliente, for we see their very seldom. Or perhaps they do a lot of visiting elsewhere.

H. Smith, who was station agent for the Katy at Hico for several years before his retirement some years ago, was in Hico visiting Monday and dropped by the office to pay up his subscription. Mr. Smith appeared to be getting along

ONE MAN'S FAMILY . . . Notable arrivals on the S.S. Washington in New York from England recently were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ballett, late of Hampshire, and their 10 children. They are bound for the New Castle, Del., farm of Mrs. Ballett's parents.

One Amendment Carries Here; Harris Named Representative

Hico voters gave an overwhelming vote to Fred Rod Harris over Edson Hooser of Gesteveville in Tuesday's election to name a successor to Earl Huddleston, resigned State Representative from the 94th District. The local vote was 128 for Harris and 30 for Hooser. Latest available reports from the district, composed of Hamilton and Coryell counties, showed Harris the winner with 1,281 votes to 445 for his opponent.

Only one amendment, the last of five on the ballot, pertaining to changes in old age assistance, carried here. None of the five were favored in the county. Texas voters as a whole made only one change in the patched-up state constitution. An amendment to increase the veterans land fund showed a lead of almost 13,000 votes in Wednesday's 6 p. m. tabulation, with 182,524 votes counted. Texas Election Bureau estimated there would be about a quarter of a million when the final count is tabulated.

With 177 votes polled here, the tabulations showed the following figures on the five amendments:

1. To permit a statewide system of pensions for county employees: 28 for and 112 against.
 2. To broaden the scope of investment for the University of Texas permanent fund, 22 for and 109 against.
 3. To allow an increased tax for rural fire prevention districts: 39 for and 104 against.
 4. To authorize the state to issue $100,000,000 in bonds to finance purchase of land by veterans: 73 for and 75 against.
 5. To increase the present $35,000,000 a year ceiling on state welfare spending to $42,000,000: 81 for and 81 against.
- A. A. Brown served as election judge at the local box and assisting him as clerks were Joe Guyton, Mrs. L. J. Chaney, Mrs. T. A. Randsall and Miss Louise Blair. There were 177 votes cast in the amendment balloting, with a lighter vote in the representative race.

REVIEW CLUB WILL HOLD ITS ANNUAL RUMMAGE SALE

The Hico News Review Club has announced that it will sponsor a rummage sale Friday and Saturday, Nov. 16 and 17, in the building formerly occupied by Randsall Brothers Grocery. The sale will be held two days this year in order to give visitors more time to look over the goods displayed, which will include clothing and miscellaneous items. Proceeds from this sale will go largely for school projects sponsored by the club. Anyone who has any used clothing to donate is asked to contact Mrs. Wayne Rutledge, who will see that it is picked up.

Tigers Nosed Out By Cranfills Gap in Homecoming Game

The Cranfills Gap slow-starting Lions came from behind a seven-point deficit here Friday night to down the Hico Tigers, 13-7, with two touchdowns made in the last quarter.

Neither team scored in the first quarter. In the second period Tiger Buck Terry snagged a pass tossed by Tiger Billy Loden and racked up the Tiger tally. Henry Terry carried over for the extra point. The third quarter was scoreless. But in the fourth, Lane Freddy Hammett broke through from the Tiger one-foot line and racked up six points. Glenn Rude tied the score with his point after kick. Again in the final period Hammett plunged over from the Tiger one-foot line for another touchdown. Rude's try for point was no good. It was the final game of the season for each team, and was Hico's homecoming.

Open House Sunday at Barrow-Rutledge Has Good Attendance

People from over the community responded in large numbers to an invitation to visit Barrow-Rutledge Funeral Home last Sunday afternoon and inspect the many improvements made there.

Wayne Rutledge said that there were over 200 adults visiting the establishment during the afternoon, and expressed sincere appreciation for the interest shown in the modernization work which was only recently completed.

The guests received souvenirs from the management. Gardenia corsages were presented to the ladies, and cigars to the men.

Besides visitors from Hico, many came from surrounding communities served by the institution.

LEGION MEETING TO BE MONDAY AT CARLTON
District Commander E. L. Jackson of Cisco will be present Monday night for the American Legion meeting to be held at Carlton school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Basketball Season Opens Next Week With Carlton Games

The Hico High School boys and girls will open basketball season for this year with two games with Carlton in the Hico gym Tuesday night, Nov. 20. The next night the same teams will play at Carlton. Girls game will begin at 7:15 and boys game will follow immediately, according to announcement by Coach Willie Sirmas, who named players as follows:

Forwards: Betty Bolton, co-captain, and letterman, Martha Britton, co-captain, Phyllis Jones, Peggy Warren, Peggy Ellis, Shirley Whit. Guards: Jack Sherrard, letterman, Nella Johnson, letterman, Patsy Little, Kay Jernigan, Marlene McLendon, Francis Latham, Jimmy Herod, Velma S. Jaggars, Aline Behrens. The managers are Margaret Hampton and Billie Jean Kennedy. The boys team is listed as follows: Billy Loden, Royce Knight, Jim Tooley, Steve Garrison, Buck Terry and Pancho Ross, all lettermen. Dor McLern, Carol Fillingim, James Lewis, Ray Battershell, Roy McWilliams, Ross Baldwin, Dennis Stipe, Alton Rainwater, Gary Brown, Billy Paek, Fred Jones.

W. E. McPherson is coach and Mack Hicks is manager.

Lions Talk Christmas And Annual Minstrel In Wednesday Meeting

Preparations under way for a minstrel to be held toward the first of December were presented to members attending the regular weekly meeting at Firemen's Hall. A. Chandler is chairman of this committee, composed also of Bill Howard and Arthur Burden.

Harold Walker, in charge of plans for erection and decoration of a Christmas tree in the business section, reported progress on plans for this Yuletide project.

Aubrey Duzan was named chairman of a committee for distribution of Christmas baskets to the needy, and J. T. Hitt and Rev. J. Fred Patterson agreed to serve with him.

Ladies of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in the Hico Methodist Church served another delicious meal to Lion President R. E. Jackson, presiding, and the following Lions: H. N. Wolfe, W. R. Hampton, W. C. Howard, D. E. Bullock, H. V. Hedges, W. E. Hafer, A. E. Duzan, Fern Jordan, A. H. McCommon, Conda Salmon, Paul Noel, Harold Walker, W. E. McPherson, Jr., Ray Cheek, J. T. Hitt, W. H. Greenhill, O. C. Cook, J. Fred Patterson, Weldon Pierce, R. L. Holford, J. B. Woodard and Wayne Rutledge.

Regular meeting will be held at the same place next Wednesday, with an interesting program promised under direction of Lion Cook.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICES ANNOUNCED

NEXT WEEK'S PAPER TO BE EARLY

Due to the fact that next Thursday, Nov. 22, is Thanksgiving Day, the News Review will be printed on Tuesday instead of the regular publication day.

There are two reasons for this, one, of course, is to allow the force to take the holiday along with the rest of the citizens, and the other is that we can better serve merchants and readers this way.

Cooperation in the way of early advertising copy and news items will be duly appreciated. It is not too early now, but after Tuesday morning it might be too late. Correspondents will take notice, please, and mail their letters in by Monday.

Advertisers are invited to call on us for cut and copy suggestions for timely advertising.

Baptist Pastor to Deliver Message at Methodist Church

Rev. L. H. Davis, pastor of the local Baptist Church, will deliver the Thanksgiving message at the Methodist church next Wednesday night, November 21, as the community gathers to give thanks for bountiful blessings. Members of all denominations are invited to participate in the services, which begin at 7 o'clock.

Songs of praise will be rendered by a selected choir, with congregational singing of some numbers. Other plans for the services are incomplete as yet.

The community service is an annual occasion on Thanksgiving, offering an opportunity for all Christians to gather together and offer praise and to give thanks for the many gifts of the Lord.

The general public is invited to attend these services, regardless of church affiliation. An honest effort will be put forth to make everybody feel at home and all will receive a cordial welcome.

Proper Lighting for Study Illustrated to School Groups Tuesday

Two groups of high school students saw a demonstration Tuesday afternoon on the proper way of lighting a study center in the home. Mrs. Harvey Belcher, employed by Erath County Electric Cooperative in Stephenville, presented the demonstration, also explaining rules for a contest to be sponsored in this area by Community Public Service Company and Erath County Electric Cooperative.

These demonstrations, Mrs. Belcher said, have also been given in other schools in this area and stress the effect of different size bulbs and lamps and the importance of the shade of the lamp. She also showed slide films with before-and-after effects of home lighting. A movie entitled "Father Sess the Light" was included in the demonstration.

Describing the contest for which students are eligible, she said that it is a project to improve home lighting conditions and will be judged on the basis of improvement. Rules and regulations of the contest can be obtained from any home room teacher and entries must be in by December 15. The contest closes April 15.

Early Start Seen on Farm to Market Road From Hico to Carlton

The signing of all right-of-way deeds for the new 9-mile farm-to-market road between Hico and Carlton has been completed, according to reports in daily papers. County Commissioner Fern Jordan said work has begun on setting back fences. Contracts for the new black-top road will probably be let in January.

The roadbed of the county highway now in use between the two towns, formerly the route of State Highway 67, later Highway 6, will be used for the new road, but the width will be increased from 60 to 80 feet.

MRS. RUBY COOK DIED TUESDAY AT HASKELL

Mrs. Charlie Cook, the former Ruby Howerton who was rearred here, died at Haskell Tuesday night at 11 o'clock, one day after her 45th birthday.

Her father, John Howerton, and several other relatives from Hico expected to attend services at Haskell at 2:30 Thursday afternoon.

Homecoming Events Draw Many Ex-Students; Organization Perfected

Bobby Lane was elected president of the Ex-Students' Association of the Hico Public Schools Friday afternoon at the business and organizational meeting held during the school's first homecoming program at the high school auditorium. Other officers were named as follows: vice president, Mrs. W. E. East; secretary and reporter, Mrs. H. V. Hodges; treasurer, Ellis H. Randsall; and program chairman, Mrs. Bryan Angell.

Plans for making the homecoming an annual event, sponsored by the Senior Class, were approved by the group, and dues were set at one dollar a year.

J. E. Lincoln, former superintendent of the local schools, was the chief program speaker, and the high school boys quartet, composed of Billy Loden, Bobby Lane, Roy McWilliams, and Benny Terry, provided entertainment. Bobby Lane presided as temporary chairman.

After a barbecue supper at the school lunchroom, the visitors attended the Hico-Cranfills Gap football game. During halftime activities, Karen Higginbotham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Higginbotham, was crowned Hico's 1951 football queen by the occupants, Benny Terry and Royce Knight, who also presented flowers to her. Attending princesses were Betty Bolton, Margaret Hampton, Juliet Grey, and Doris Fillingim. The crown bearers were Marlin Roberts and Suzanne Burden.

A homecoming dance at the Bluebonnet Country Club followed the game.

Spike Jones to Return To Fair Auditorium for Dec. 2nd Engagement

Dallas, Nov. 12—For the first time in three years, Spike Jones and his inimitable music will return to the State Fair Auditorium for one night only, Dec. 2. The last State Fair Auditorium appearance was as the star of the State Fair show in 1948.

For the "Musical Depreciation Revue of 1952" Spike has combined such old favorites as "Chloe" with new show stoppers including "Some Enchanted Evening". Glamorous Helen Grayson and the City Slickers will head the cast of 44 easy musicians and comedians.

Mail orders are now being accepted for the Dec. 2 performance. Prices, tax included, are $3.00, $2.50, $1.95, and $1.30. Mailing address is State Fair Auditorium, Dallas 10, Texas.

MINOR FIRE WEDNESDAY IN WISEMAN BUILDING

A small blaze shortly before noon Wednesday at the offices in the Wiseman building occupied by Shirley Campbell, G. C. Miller and Petrick Insurance Agency, was extinguished by quick work on the part of firemen, with only minor damage resulting.

Sam Looney, who also offices there, said the offices were unoccupied briefly, and assumed that perhaps he had brushed a lighted cigar against a dividing curtain over a partition at the rear of the building to accidentally start the fire.

AUTOMATIC GAS RANGE Sale NOW ON!

you just know she has an automatic Gas range

COOL! Automatic clock control cooks an entire meal in oven while you relax where a cool breeze is blowing.

COOL! Exact heat. Dozens of heats to cook with—not just a few factory-set heats. Exact heat means less waste; a cooler kitchen.

COOL! Instant shut-off. When Gas is off, it's off! Burners cool quickly; no long-lingering heat pours into your kitchen with Gas.

COOL! broiling. Heat pouring out an open door? Never! Automatic Gas ranges broil with broiler door tightly closed.

COOL! Gas cooker well cooks a full meal on one burner instead of three pans on three burners. Less fuel used. Kitchen's cooler!

COOL! baking. Many layers of insulation packed around five sides hold the heat where it belongs—inside the oven.

it's cool

Cooler cooking alone is reason enough to get a new automatic Gas range. But if you needed another reason you can find it in a new Gas range's record for economy.

An automatic Gas range costs up to $100 less than any other automatic range. There's no installation charge (saves you $25 to $50). And gas is cheaper to cook with (saves you $15 to $35 a year).

If you act now you save still more money. It's Old Store Round-Up Trade In Sale time at most Gas Appliance Dealers and Lone Star Gas Company! See your Dealer or Lone Star Gas Company for special values.

LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

This pickup pinches pennies!

There are two simple reasons why you save money when you buy an International pickup truck.

First, you get lower operating and maintenance costs. You get a pickup truck that is engineered throughout to do more work for less money.

Second, you get longer truck life. Even the smallest International pickup truck has the traditional stamina that has kept Internationals first in heavy-duty truck sales for 19 straight years.

You get these all-truck savings right along with features that no other pickup truck gives you. For example—the COMFO-VISION CAB is "the roomiest, most comfortable cab on the road." The Silver Diamond engine is an outstanding development of the world's largest exclusive truck engine plant. Super-steering gives you maneuverability and ease of handling that make driving a pleasure.

But get all the facts for yourself. Come in and learn why International pickup trucks are the best truck value in pickups today.

COTTON PRICES HAVE SHOWN UPWARD TREND
 Austin, Nov. 12.—Cotton prices have strengthened substantially in recent weeks, Dr. A. B. Cox of the University of Texas, reported.
 The cotton marketing professor cited four factors contributing to the trend: a 700,000-bale reduction in estimates of world production, U. S. cotton growers' holding of their 1951 crops, a government prediction that the scarcity of cotton will extend into the 1952-crop season, and the inflation threat.

SENIOR NEWS

Well, everyone is glad the homecoming is over, although we enjoyed ourselves.
 We appreciate the help Mrs. Slaughter gave us in serving the food.
 We had a nice crowd at the homecoming but would like to see more the coming year.
 Everyone who attended the dance Friday night enjoyed dancing and had a good time.
 Now that football season is over, everyone is looking forward to basketball season.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Basketball season is coming up and we're all ready to back the boys as well as the girls' team.
 Thanksgiving holidays will be Thursday and Friday, the 22nd and 23rd. We're having the six weeks' test this week and everyone is cramming like mad.
 We all hope to pass them at least so we can enjoy the taste of turkey.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Well, I guess all of you came to the ball game Friday night and if you didn't, you missed a good game.
 The freshman class was awfully proud of Karon Higginbotham, who was homecoming queen. Seems like the freshman class is the best class in high school. I wonder why.
 We are having our six weeks' tests this week. They were put up a week because of Thanksgiving.
 The freshman girls have been studying first-aid in homemaking the past few weeks. We are now studying animal and snake bites. One of our most prominent students came up one morning and said rattlesnakes wrapped around her all night. The funny thing about it was that first aid wasn't necessary. Her dreams are getting better all the time.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS NEWS

The first year class have started their home projects. We got kinda mixed up at first but we're getting it straightened out now.
 This week we are going to have our six weeks' test. We will probably be studying some this week, so we will pass our homemaking and also the rest of the subjects.

BAND NEWS

The band played and marched at the half-time of the homecoming game Friday night. The football queen, Karon Higginbotham, was crowned during this ceremony. Of course, we were all sorry the boys lost, but it couldn't be helped.

 The band parents are sponsoring a banquet next Monday night for the Order of the Eastern Star, as a means of making money for the band.

FFA NEWS

Ag news has been kinda slow lately, but seems to be picking up some.
 The boys are looking forward to our annual parent-son banquet which will be held sometime in December.

An ag meeting was held Monday night in which the banquet was discussed further. Afterward the boys enjoyed themselves by playing volleyball or basketball in the gym. Our concession stand at the football games proved to be helpful to our chapter funds which was run by Mr. Walker and some of the ag boys.

well, and we are sure his old friends enjoyed seeing him around these familiar haunts.

"Here comes my two dollars for another year of good reading," says a note from Mrs. Golda Rucbush, Shirley and Jo, at Chula Vista, Calif. "We like California fine except Jo," the note continues, explaining that different rules in school don't set well with her. "Shirley goes to the same school and likes it. C. K. There are over 400 in the 10th grade here, and they are very strict. She leaves home at 7 in the morning, attends school a half day, and gets home at 12:30. We went to the beach yesterday, and Sunday before last we went up in the mountains and saw the tall pines, taking our lunch in a large park equipped with outdoor fireplaces. The climate is wonderful here. We don't get our paper until Tuesday, but it is good news when it arrives. Wishing you folks the best of everything."

Mrs. H. E. Bell, 515 W. Norwood, San Antonio, Texas, responded to a reminder about her subscription last week by promptly sending in the charges specified thereupon.

"It ain't worth a whoop, but I can't do without it" was the good-natured jibe directed at the News Review business manager Tuesday by R. L. Prater, down in front of Knox & Tulloh establishment, all the while pulling out his money to pay for the paper another year. Good friends like Bob Prater can say most anything about this sheet—as long as they keep taking it like he has for the past hundred years, more or less.

Mrs. Mary L. Murray, Irving, Texas, is the recipient of a birthday subscription from her mother, Mrs. J. T. Connally of Hico, and can look forward to receiving the local paper for the next six months.

All-State Evangelistic Mission by Methodists Inspires New Move

Waco, Nov. 12.—The Texas Methodist Planning Commission has adopted plans for an all-Texas stewardship revival to be led by laymen during the next four years.

The Commission was in session at the Methodist Home here Nov. 6. The report was presented by Dr. D. L. Landrum of Palestine and authorized the executive committee to name a steering committee and secure a fulltime leader for the revival.

"The object is to create a greater sense of stewardship in the Methodist Church," said Dr. Landrum, "and not to raise funds for any specific cause." The emphasis will be stewardship of life, time and money, he pointed out.

The Commission also heard Bishop A. Frank Smith say that "the recent all-state evangelistic mission was the greatest thing that ever came to Texas Methodism." About 25,000 commitments to Christ and church membership were reported and the new interest in evangelism among laymen is marked, Bishop William C. Martin pointed out.

Roy Farrow, executive secretary of the Texas Methodist College Association, reported that he had assisted 100 churches in planning their budgets or in building campaigns, and that they had increased their finances by at least $1,000,000.

The Texas Methodist Historical Commission reported that Dr. Robert W. Goodloe, professor of church history in Perkins School of Theology, SMU, had been elected to write the history of Texas Methodism since 1900 and is at work. W. E. Rider of Ennis, treasurer of the Central Texas Conference, was elected treasurer of the Commission.

Officers elected for the Planning Commission are chairman, Pres. Umphrey Lee, SMU; vice chairman, Dr. Hubert Johnson, superintendent of the Methodist Home; secretary, Dr. Landrum. Dr. Lee succeeds Pat Thompson of Bay City who has served as chairman the past year.

Sportsmanship of Texas Hunters Commended By Game Department

Austin, Nov. 5.—The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission credited "the honor and sportsmanship of Texans" for implementing the promising 1951 waterfowl season.

And as the scatter gunners prepared to open the annual hunt for ducks and geese at noon Friday, November 9, he appealed to all Texans "to join the vast personal conservation movement."

"Wildlife men everywhere attribute the rally of the waterfowl flocks to the growing conservation movement, of course, along with a sympathetic nudge by nature.

"It is my own observation that no state may claim a greater sensitivity toward this personal obligation than Texas. For one thing, all appreciate the tremendous pressure on wildlife.

"This mass support of such agencies as Ducks Unlimited and of the state game program, plus a zealous adherence to the sportsmen's code, means better hunting for all."

The Executive Secretary went on to point out that the Game Department is "the mere agency for administering wildlife affairs," adding that "the success of this program pretty well depends on hunters' attitudes."

"This is plainly indicated in the matter of law enforcement," he explained. "Sportsmen everywhere realize that game laws must be observed because game laws cannot be enforced completely regardless of how many wardens are assigned to the job."

The Executive Secretary expressed the belief that the comparatively generous 50-day season and the prevailing bag limits would further stimulate sportsmen's cooperation.

Higher Cost of Food Is No Reason for Lowering Nutritional Standards

Austin, Oct. 29.—Although the high cost of food has made feeding the family a more expensive undertaking than ever before, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, is opposed to any lowering of nutritional standards. It is still possible for the careful housewife to provide an adequate balanced diet for her family.

"To maintain mental alertness and physical fitness certain foods should be regarded as essential," says Dr. Cox. "Each day's diet should include milk, a citrus fruit or canned tomatoes, a green or yellow vegetable, other fruit and vegetables, whole wheat or enriched bread or cereal, butter and meat, fish or poultry. Eggs should be eaten at least five times a week, liver once a week and dried beans and peanut butter occasionally."

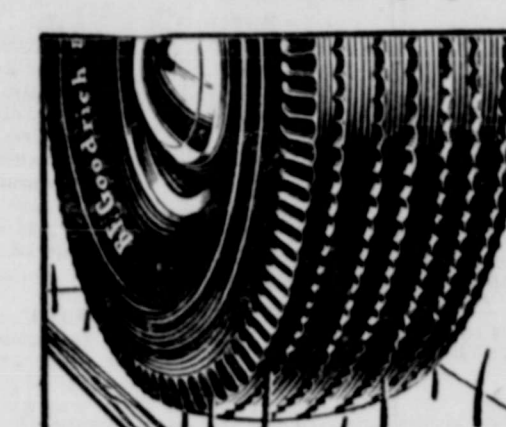

"Although meats have become more expensive than other foods they are still essential as sources of protein. It should be remembered that less expensive cuts of meat provide the same food values as the luxury items. Prices of pork, chicken and fish have risen less in recent years than other meats. "Canned and frozen fruits and vegetables have not increased in price as much as fresh ones and they retain most of the original food value. In buying fresh fruit and vegetables it is more economical to limit purchases to those that are in season and therefore more plentiful."

Calvin D. Diltz, 47, Brought Back Here For Burial Saturday

Funeral services were held here Saturday at 2:30 p. m. for Calvin Diltz, 47, who had spent most of his life in this section of the state before moving from here in 1940. He died Wednesday, November 7, at his residence in Oklahoma City, Okla., after suffering a heart attack.

Rev. J. Fred Patterson conducted the services from First Methodist Church. Burial was in Hico Cemetery with Barrow-Rutledge Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. Pallbearers were Aubrey Duzan, Tyrus King, J. D. Jones, E. V. Meador, Fred Junior Jaggers and Sam Looney.

Calvin Dempsey Diltz was born in Bosque County, August 4, 1904, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Diltz. He was married to Miss Lorene Pollard of Carlton in that community on June 17, 1923. They reared their family here and he was employed in the trucking business before they moved to Flagstaff, Ariz. in 1940. They made their home there until two years ago, when they moved to Oklahoma City. He was employed as a mechanic by International Harvester Co. Mr. Diltz had been a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving are his wife and daughters, Miss Florene Diltz and Mrs. Zelda Blevins, all of the home, and Mrs. Gloria Morrow, Pueblo, Colo.; two sons, M. R. Diltz, Las Vegas, Nevada, and J. D. Diltz, Fort Arthur; two sisters, Mrs. O. H. Allred of Hamilton and Mrs. C. D. Elkins, Sanatorium, and four grandchildren.

SERVICES HELD RECENTLY FOR WALTER WOOLLEY, FORMERLY OF CARLTON

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 6, from the Gustine Methodist Church for Walter Hereford Woolley, 82, who died Sunday Nov. 4, in the Stephenville Hospital after a two-week illness.

Mr. Woolley was a native of Lee County and had lived in Gustine for 25 years. He was engaged in the general merchandise business for some 21 years prior to his death and had previously lived at Carlton.

Married to the former Miss Minnie Campbell in Comanche County in 1891, the couple were parents of three children. One child had died in infancy, a son, Bailey, passed away in 1933.

The native Texan had been a member of the Methodist Church since 1893, and was active in Masonic Lodge circles.

Interment, under the direction of the Trewitt Funeral Home, was in the Toliver cemetery at Lampkin. The body lay in state for an hour prior to the services in the Gustine church.

Officiating at the services were three ministers, the Rev. Roland Miller, pastor of the Gustine church, the Rev. S. J. Isham, and Bro. Len Dalton of Hamilton.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Charles Froh of Stephenville; two sisters, Mrs. Sam Cooper of Meridian and Mrs. John Talley of Lampkin. Mrs. Woolley had passed away in 1944.

Cookies for Korea Must Be Mailed Soon to Arrive by Christmas

Christmas is a time for family gatherings. It's one day in the year when folks travel from near and far for reunions at home. But for American men fighting in Korea there is only the memory of the past and the hope of a future Christmas.

But the loneliness of a Christmas day on a bleak, cold battlefield can be lessened. The way to do it is with a box from home—a box filled with the little delicacies that we enjoy during the holiday. One especially good suggestion, from the Food Editor of the current Good Housekeeping Magazine, is a box of home-made cookies.

To have your cookies gift box arrive for Christmas, it must be mailed no later than November fifteenth. And to make sure that it arrives in good form—as cookies, not crumbs—here are a few simple instructions from the magazine's Cookie Cookbook.

1. Bake cookies that can stand a few knocks such as soft drop cookies and soft bars and squares.
2. Select a metal or wooden box. Line it with waxed paper. Place cushion of crumpled waxed paper on bottom of box.
3. Wrap cookies, individually, in moisture-vapor-proof material. For the Christmas touch, wrap them again in a holiday-decorated paper.
4. Snugly arrange layer of cookies in straight rows in box. Tuck ready-to-eat sugar-coated cereal or unbuttered popcorn into each nook to prevent cookies from juggling.
5. Repeat snug arrangement until box is filled to within one-inch of top.
6. Add final, generous cushioning layer of waxed or Christmas gift paper. Tape box shut. Wrap box tightly in heavy brown paper; tie securely with cord.
7. Label front and back with address and return address in full. Add "Fragile, Handle with Care" stickers.

ELECTED CADET OFFICER AT TEXAS UNIVERSITY

James M. (Mutt) Blakley of Hico was among the sixty-four Air Force ROTC students at the University of Texas who have been selected as cadet officers.

Blakley is now a second lieutenant. He and his wife and family are making their home in Austin while he is attending school at the University.

Fairy

By Mrs. Eunice Massengale

We have had some threatening weather the past few days, but still no rain in this section. Grain that has been sown is still in the ground.

There has been some moving in the community the past few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davis and their daughter, Vera Lee, have moved to their new home, recently erected on their farm west of Fairy, which is better known as the Charles Moore place. Mr. Davis' daughter, Mrs. Kermit Gordon and daughters have moved to the Ludie Young ranch home vacated by the Davis family. The Wilbur Brooks family, who have been residing on the Latham place in the Lanham community, have moved to the Hubert Berkly place west of Fairy, and Mr. and Mrs. Ovie Clark and family have moved to their farm, the former Will Smith place.

We are very glad to report Uncle Bob Parks able to be up and about at his home at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Dickerson of near Hico visited Sunday afternoon with his sister, Mrs. Brittle Little, who has been ill the past several days, but is better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Carolyn and Jimmie D-n visited Sunday in the home of her sister, Mrs. D. E. Allison, Ruby Jean and Darrel of Dublin.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Heyroth were Gatesville visitors last Saturday.

The writer visited Sunday in the home of our daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and family of Dublin, but returned to Hico in the afternoon to attend singing at the Pentecostal Church and open house at the Barrow-Rutledge Funeral Home, which we are glad we were privileged to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge are to be congratulated for the promotion of their funeral home, where more modern efficiency can be rendered in serving the public. Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge, Mrs. Grady Barrow, Mr. George Christopher and the contractor, Mr. Hoyd McClure. You did a swell job. We are proud of you.

The writer visited Thursday of last week in the home of Mrs. Willis Oglesby and mother, Mrs. Minnie McCarty of Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Smith and daughters, Patsy Jean, Emma Pearl, and Hattie Jo of Paola, Kan., spent the week end visiting her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Porterfield and other relatives. They all carried a basket lunch down to the Smith farm near Lanham and spent Sunday.

Cotton pulling will soon be over. T. L. Betts, whose cotton crop was a little late due to having to be re-planted, seems to have all available hands in his field and from all appearances will about finish up at his patch today (Monday). Mr. Betts is in close pursuit with a breaking plow.

We were glad to note Sunday, along our route of travel, that there are some who do have grain up. From the Fred Payne home north of Fairy, there were fields of green grain along the route on to Dublin. About one and a half inches of rain fell recently in the Dublin area and we also had almost the same amount midway between Fairy and Hico, extending a number of miles east and west.

The Howard Payne College Band of Brownwood rendered a program at the First Baptist Church, Sunday. There were also preaching services both morning and night. A basket lunch was served at the noon hour. Some one hundred members and guests attended.

We are very sorry to report Mrs. Maude Whitson a patient at the Hico Hospital at this writing. Mrs. Irvin Jones is assisting at the lunch room during her absence. Mrs. Whitson had gone to Dallas Thursday of last week to visit a few days with her son, Whitt and family, who are moving to New Mexico soon. She returned home ill the last of the week. We did not learn the nature of her illness, but hope she will soon be much better and able to return home.

The regular meeting of the P.T.A. was held Monday night with a very good crowd present. The seventh and eighth grade students rendered several songs, piano duets by Jerri Gean Dunklin and Lera Jane Blakley, and a panel discussion "Team Work Will do the Job", with Mrs. Timmerman in charge. Those who chose to assist her were Mr. Robert Jackson, Mrs. Georgia Carmean of Hico, Mrs. Elam of Evant, Miss Marguerite Ray of Hamilton and Mr. L. J. Wood of Fairy. All enjoyed the discussion very much and appreciate the services of these visitors.

The Cranfills Gap boys and girls will play the Fairy boys and girls in basketball this Friday night at Fairy. All are invited to attend.

There has been some sickness in the community due to colds and flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Porterfield and family of McGregor visited Saturday with his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Porterfield. The Louis Porterfields are moving to Oklahoma City soon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Oglesby and family of Fort Hood spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blakley and visited in Hamilton Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Oglesby.

Army Is Increasing Program for Officer Candidates to 16,000

Austin, Nov. 5.—The Army has decided to double its Officer Candidate program to produce 16,000 second lieutenants a year instead of 8,000. The current requirement for young officers and doubling the goal is due to the separation of thousands of Reserve officers who were ordered to active duty since the Korean situation developed. Colonel C. M. Culp, Chief of the Texas Military District, stated today.

In implementing the program a new Officer Candidate School has been ordered for the Guided Missiles Center at Fort Bliss, Texas. It is anticipated the new school will be ready to accept candidate officers for anticraft by Nov. 15.

It was thought earlier in this year that the activation of three new schools, graduating 8,000, would be sufficient, but separations of Reserves has brought about the change in plans and production of officers. At the present time OCS classes are conducted at the Engineering School, Fort Belvoir, Va.; Signal School, Fort Monmouth, N. J.; the Armored School, Fort Knox, Ky.; the three latest to be activated.

Other OCS classes are held at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.; Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla.; and the Army General School, Fort Riley, Kan. Prior to the outbreak of the Korean conflict there was only one school at Fort Riley, Kan.

When the Fort Bliss School is opened that will make two OCS establishments in the Fourth Army area.

GUESTS ENTERTAINED AT V. H. JENKINS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon H. Jenkins were hosts last Saturday evening at a hamburger supper at their attractive ranch home. Guests were served buffet style. An arrangement of yellow mums centered the serving table, which was covered with a white linen cloth.

The following guests were entertained with party games after supper: Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Proffitt, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McPherson Jr. and daughter Julia Ann, Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Proffitt of Levelland, Mr. and Mrs. J. Doyle Love of Dublin and Mr. and Mrs. Orville S. Blevins of Houston.

Another Story— LOVE IS GREAT

By STELLA JONES

"What do you want," asked a rich lady to a poor looking girl, that came to her front door.

"I am looking for work," was her reply.

"You do not look very clean. I will hire you but go home and clean up." Little did Mrs. Lumas know that this girl would be her future daughter-in-law.

"I worked for a lady up the street is the reason I am not very clean. She wouldn't let me clean up myself," was the visitor's plaintive excuse.

Her mother, Mrs. Alma Simmons, wasn't much—had one or two men at her house a great deal of the time. Her husband was dead. She was a wild one. The girl's name is Jova. She has twin brothers, Nolan and Olan, age 12.

She finished high school the past year. Was 17 in August. This was the first of April.

"Mom, I have a job as a maid with Mrs. Lumas and all the money I make is strictly mine." She thought to herself, "I might help Nolan and Olan."

Mr. and Mrs. Lumas have 2 children, a son age 21, and a daughter age 15. Aldo is his name and Mary is her name.

She went there on Friday. "Jova, my maid is off and I want you to help me to get ready for a party." Jova took special care with her for Mary was pretty. Mr. Lumas was the manager of a big dry goods store and general merchandise.

They were very wealthy people. They lived in a large city in Texas. Aldo was in college in Texas and was learning fast. On Thursday before Easter he came home.

He noticed Jova and spoke to her like he would anyone else. He didn't know she was his mother's maid. On Saturday he asked about her.

"She is my maid and you must not go to liking her too much," said his mother. On Saturday night he took Jova and Mary to a picture show. Their rich friends there thought it was awful because they knew who she was. Jova was a nice girl but her mother wasn't much and they knew it.

Easter Sunday was lovely day. She belonged to a Methodist Church in her neighborhood and she went there that Sunday. She had a new Easter dress and hat and shoes and she looked pretty.

Aldo returned to college on Tuesday and he wrote to his parents and Mary. He loved them very much and in the letter he said to tell Jova hello for him and that gave her a thrill.

He came back in May and he was in love with her. He went with Jova and she enjoyed being with him, but his mother didn't like it one bit. Mr. Lumas said, "Anna, Aldo is of age and if he wants to go with her, it is none of our business." Before he left he was in her room talking to her. None of the family was close by. Mary was in school.

"Jova, I am going to write to you and I want you to answer," he told her.

"I sure will, Aldo," she replied. One of the servants had the job of taking the mail out of the mail box and it was given to her and no one would know. He was standing in the hall close to her room, when his mother came in.

"Son, what are you doing in Jova's room?"

"I just went in to tell her goodbye. If she is our maid, she is good as anyone and should be treated as such," he petulantly responded.

In a few days she got the letter and oh, how proud she was.

In June the term was ended and he came home for the summer. Her twin brothers were at the home of a neighbor and who took good care of them. The middle of May their mother left there with one of her men friends.

The house where they had lived was a very good house, 5 rooms and a bath. Mrs. Simmons had the garden broken up and planted and when she left the young vegetables were growing. A family moved in and took charge of things. A nice fruit orchard was also there and by June the peaches would ripen. Mr. and Mrs. Lumas didn't have a garden. The waiters told Jova to come and get all the vegetables that she wanted and also the fruit. She and Aldo would go there after the nice vegetables and fruit and some of the nice girls would see them and it would make them mad. All were jealous.

"The very idea of him going with their maid," one girl said. "I would love to break them up but Aldo is a man of his own."

He went with her a good many times. His mother didn't like it. She was afraid he was falling in love with her and the love he had for her was great and more and more.

He helped at one of the hospitals and it would help him in his medical studies and he liked it. Aldo was a fine young man and was liked by all and was kind to one and all. He was fitted to be a fine doctor. Many didn't like it one bit about him going with her but she couldn't help it.

Alas, his vacation was coming to a close and he would leave again for college. A party was given for him and a large crowd was there. Mrs. Lumas was in hopes he would choose him a future wife from this large bunch of pretty girls.

Jova had to stay in her room. She felt very lonely and forsaken. She was a fine hand to sew and she was making her a dress. She had their machine. When they got ready to serve she was called in to help. The party was a great success. His mother asked him the next day if he had made a choice. He said, "No, mother, I have not."

"I was so in hopes you would," she said.

"The idea of you going with our maid is awful. There were plenty of pretty girls here last evening and were rich and any of them would make a model wife."

He knew right then that Jova was the one he wanted. "Some have more money than brains," he retorted. He continued to write to Jova and the letters sure pleased her. He thought of her a great deal.

He was at home for the Thanksgiving holidays. On that day the Lumas family had a big luncheon with some of their close friends there. Jova looked very happy to be in with the family and especially with him. After the luncheon was over she went to her room and changed her dress and she looked pretty.

Iredell Dragons to Meet Connally In Season Finale

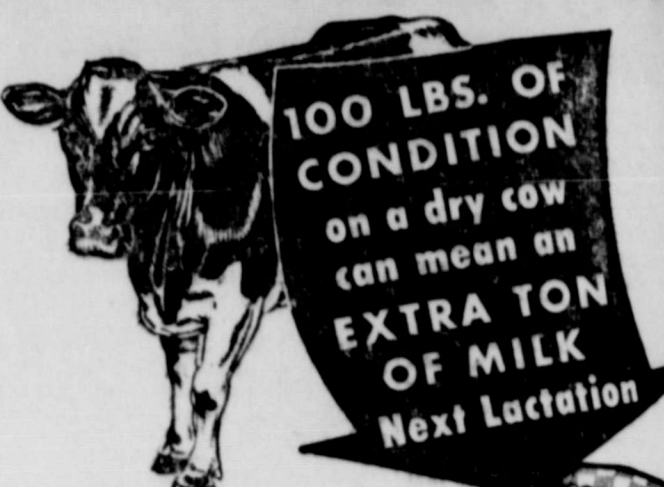

The Iredell Dragons are said ready and eager for the Connally Cadets, and a good game is promised tonight on the Iredell field. Game time is 7:30. The game will close the season for both teams.

The Dragons rolled over the Tolar Rattlers in a non-conference tilt at Granbury last Thursday night, Nov. 8th by a score of 57-0. Playing one of the best games of the season the Dragons were alert and ready. Newman broke off right tackle for 65 yards and a score early in the second quarter after Iredell had held a determined Tolar drive. Word scored a second touchdown after a sustained drive. He scored again after a pass interception by McCroskey gave Iredell the ball on the 15 yard line.

In the second half, Davis intercepted a pass and returned to the Tolar one foot line where Word again carried over. Newman turned in a sparkling run of 58 yards after fumbling a lateral to score; a pass from Wyche to Putty was good for 25 yards and a score; and Don Linch and Word scored after sustained drives to give Iredell additional touchdowns. The final play of the game saw Don Linch run 65 yards around right end to score the touchdown just as the clock ran out. Ensminger kicked three points during the game to make the final score 57-0 for Iredell.

LIVESTOCK SHIPMENTS INCREASED THIS YEAR: Austin, Nov.—Livestock shipments in Texas during September were 74 per cent greater than in the same period last year, but only 4 per cent above August, 1951, shipments, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

The disparity is explained primarily by the drastic effects of drought on Texas pasturelands, officials said. Further indication of the drought's seriousness is shown in September-to-September comparisons of shipments within the state. Specifically, cattle shipments were down 4 per cent; calves 39 per cent; and sheep, 59 per cent, showing most livestock were shipped out of state.

However, intransigent shipments of hogs, not primarily pasture-fed animals, were up 300 per cent.

"Let's Talk Live Stock"

By TED GOULDY

Fort Worth, Nov. 9.—Livestock producers in the Southwest suffered a heavy loss in flesh on their grass cattle and calves following the unseasonable killing frost and freeze that struck Nov. 3.

Just how large this loss is can hardly be estimated but some figures compiled by an order buying firm at Fort Worth during the past week give a clue.

This firm reported that shrinkage in weight on the calves they bought for Northern feeders during the week was over 20,000 pounds, an average of about nine pounds per head from the time these calves were bought and sorted and then shipped out.

This nine pounds per head was lost in a period of usually not more than 24 hours from the time the calves were bought and often in eight to ten hours after calves are purchased, they were already on the move in the rail cars.

Breaking this down to a dollars and cents figure is difficult but by estimating the cost of these calves at $30 per hundred, this made a loss of $6,000 in actual money, and the 20,000 pounds of shrink is the equivalent of a carload of cattle.

Similar shrinkage of flesh, no doubt, has been taking place in pastures where the green stuff that had come up following the rains was nipped. Only the fed cattle and calves are able to go along making gains under present conditions.

One shipper to the market at Fort Worth reported that he and his neighbors had suffered as much as 15 to 20 pounds shrinkage per day on their calves on the basis of some test weighings they had made.

Thursday, November 15, a group of commission men, representative of the Fort Worth Stockyards Company and yours truly, Ted Gouldy, will journey over to Kaufman for a meeting with livestock producers in that county.

Walter Rice, fieldman for the Fort Worth Stockyards, will show the color movie, "Today's Chisholm Trail" in the County Courtroom at Kaufman and all phases of livestock marketing will be discussed—including the "fabulous four-bits under."

County Agent Reagan Brown has arranged the meeting and reports lots of interest among Kaufman County livestock producers.

A question and answer period will follow the talks.

Livestock movement is expected to continue heavy during the next several weeks to Fort Worth. One reason is that only in the past week or ten days have the cleanup catts from the big ranches begun to show at the market.

The aged cows, bulls and culled out calves, yearlings, etc., are coming to market from 30 to as much as 75 days later than usual this year. Part of the delay has been the shortage of livestock cars during September and the first part of October that slowed the movement of contracted calves and cattle off the big spreads in the Western part of Texas.

The meat packers operating at Fort Worth are on needles and pins awaiting the dollars and cents ceiling prices on veal and lamb.

Rumors are current, as usual, and this has been an unsettling factor in the trade. Some talk is that veal and calf ceilings may be set at similar levels as the ceilings that are now on the comparable grades of beef. If this is done some lower prices on top grade fat calves will result.

The hog market in the past few weeks has been having its ups and downs, mostly downs, as the large movement in the Midwest continues.

Price fluctuations have been upward or downward almost in the exact ratio to the number of hogs offered around the 12 major markets during the past week.

When the days receipts named the 100,000 marker, the market sagged, when they were nearer the 70,000 marker, then prices climbed a little higher.

Incidentally to give you an idea as to the tremendous amount of pork that was produced this year—the September hog slaughter was 54 per cent above a year ago, but 54 per cent above the September average for the past five years.

Another eye-opener was the fact that the hog slaughter for the first nine months of 1951 was ten per cent ahead of a year ago but 26 per cent above the five year average for the first nine months.

A severe meat shortage would have developed had not the hog producer stepped up their production during 1951. All other species, cattle, calves and sheep dropped well behind the previous year's slaughter total.

Iredell Man's Brother Dies in Oklahoma

Hollis, Okla., Nov. 5.—James Anderson Cavness, 83, prominent farmer and rancher and extensive landowner of Harmon County, Okla., died at 11:15 p. m. Friday in a hospital at Quanah, Texas, following an illness of several months.

He had been in failing health for more than a year.

Services were at 2 p. m. Monday Nov. 5, in the First Baptist Church of Hollis, with Rev. L. S. Crawford, Baptist pastor of Shamrock, Texas, officiating. Burial was in Fairmont Cemetery under direction of Coley's Funeral Home.

Born Aug. 17, 1868, in Benton County, Ark., Cavness came to Harmon County in 1899 to pioneer dry land crops in this area. He was well known as a cattleman and farmer.

Active in church and civic affairs, he was a member of the First Baptist Church of Hollis and remained active in politics from early days, when he made horseback trips to Oklahoma City to attend Democrat Party conventions, until recent years. He served for many years as chairman of the Harmon County Election Board and for 20 years as a Harmon County Commissioner. He was former Harmon County Democratic Chairman and known as a supporter of the party for more than 50 years in southwestern Oklahoma.

His wife, who he married nearly 65 years ago, died about five years ago.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Talmage Howard of Quanah, Texas; and Mrs. Wooten Hankins of Eldorado, Okla.; five sons, Cary Cavness and Ewell Cavness, both of Phoenix, Ariz.; Reagan Cavness and James B. Cavness, both of Hollis; and Martin Cavness of Pasadena, Texas; 12 grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and a brother, D. E. Cavness of Iredell, Texas.

Blessings of Giving Will Be Stressed in Thanksgiving Service

The blessings of giving will be stressed in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Thanksgiving" to be read at the special Thanksgiving Day service in Christian Science churches Thursday morning, November 22.

Students of the Christian Science religion consider this observance of special significance because they have learned that the giving of gratitude for blessings already received is not only homage due the Giver of all good, but also further enriches and blesses their lives in His service. Opportunity is thus afforded during the church service for audible expressions of gratitude appropriate to the occasion from Christian Scientists in the congregation. The public is invited.

The Golden Text is: "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O most High" (Psalm 92:1).

One of the Bible citations is from James 1:17: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

The Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, contains this statement used in the Lesson-Sermon: "God is not moved by the breath of praise to do more than He has already done, nor can the infinite do less than bestow all good, since He is unchanging wisdom and Love" (page 2).

protect your child against whooping cough

WORLD-WIDE in its distribution, whooping cough is endemic in large cities, becoming epidemic on a large scale every two to four years. The seriousness of pertussis, especially in young children, is evidenced by the mortality rate—about 26 percent in infants less than one year old.

Children should be vaccinated during the first year of life. Do not wait for an epidemic. It takes several weeks after vaccination for the body to produce antibodies. Ask your physician now about protection from whooping cough for your baby.

We carry fresh stocks of vaccine under refrigeration at all times.

THANKS TO THE VOTERS

Words cannot express my deep and sincere appreciation of the overwhelming vote of confidence accorded me in the recent election which named me your State Representative from the 94th District. In all my political career I have never been so humbly appreciative and realize that since the vote came without an intensive campaign, it reflected true friendship and trust on the part of the public.

Although opportunities for full service may not arise often in the remainder of my term, I am anxious to help whenever possible and hope the people will feel free to call on me for anything needed that I can do.

Sincerely,
FRED RED HARRIS.

New Law Will Prevent Imposition on Texans by Out-of-State Drivers

Austin, Nov. 15.—Texas motorists who become involved in traffic accidents in other states and motorists from other states who become involved in accidents in Texas are most likely to find that the long arm of the new Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law has followed them right to the scene of their misfortune. Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr., pointed out today.

As explained by Director Garrison, here is how it will operate when the law becomes effective in Texas on January 1:

Assume that a Texas motorist is driving his automobile in another state having a similar security type safety responsibility law and is involved in an accident that results in death or injury to a person or property damage to any person in excess of $100. He will be required, under the laws of that state, to furnish proof of his ability to meet damage claims either through insurance or by depositing sufficient security to cover the apparent damage he caused.

Should the Texas motorist fail to do this, the authorities of the other state will suspend his privileges to own or operate a motor vehicle in that state and will send a certified copy of its suspension order to the Texas Department of Public Safety. If the circumstances in the other state would have resulted in suspension in Texas, his motorist privileges will also be suspended in Texas. They will remain suspended until he has satisfied the law of the other state to the same extent that he would be required to satisfy the Texas law.

In the same manner, the new Texas law applies to non-resident motorists who are involved in accidents in this state, resulting in death or injury to a person, or property damage to any one person in excess of $100. Non-residents who fail to meet the requirements of the Texas law will have their privileges suspended in this state and also in their home state if the circumstances would have called for similar action there.

"When you understand that 10 per cent of the traffic accidents in most states are caused by out-of-state drivers," Director Garrison said, "you will appreciate the importance of this provision in our law. It means that a visiting motorist will no longer be able to skip out of responsibility for his damages by crossing the state line. If he does, he will find the administrator of his own state's safety responsibility law waiting for him with a suspension order. I think this alone will do much to promote greater safety on our highways."

Since 34 other states have enacted safety responsibility laws similar to the ones that soon will become effective in Texas, the area where motorists are not subject to these modern statutes has been considerably narrowed. While the safety responsibility law in a few of these states does not include this reciprocal provision, they are rapidly adding it. In addition, traffic accident experts predict that most of the 13 states that have failed to enact these statutes will do so within the next two years.

Farm Workers Are Protected By Social Security Benefits

AN EMPLOYEE of a greenhouse called his local social security office. "I hear that people who work on a farm have been brought under social security. How about me? Do I now have social security like regular farm workers?"

The answer was: "Yes, you are a farm worker." It was explained that, for old-age and survivors insurance purposes under social security, a "farm" is defined in its broadest sense. It includes not only a greenhouse when used primarily for the raising of agricultural or horticultural commodities, but any other acre or fraction of an acre commercially used for agriculture, horticulture, or animal husbandry.

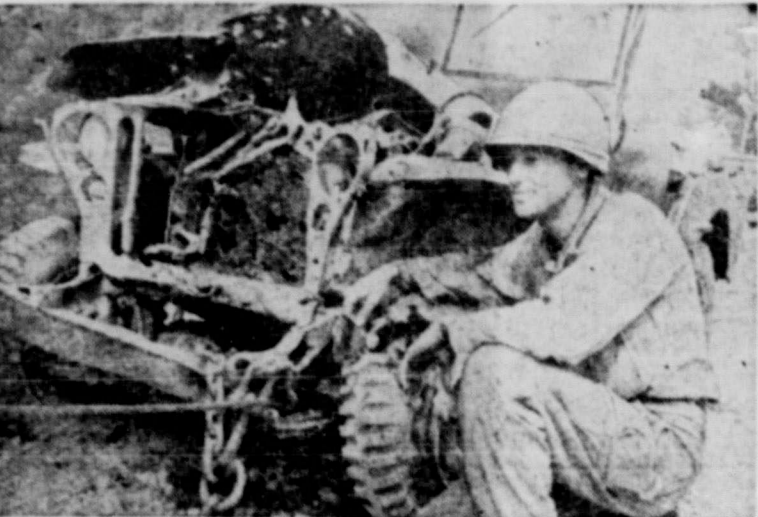

Equally broad is the social security definition of a farm employee. It includes not only the man on a tractor in a prairie wheat field, and the man at the potting bench in the greenhouse, but also some 600,000 other regular workers, whether hired to herd sheep on a New Mexico mesa, or manage milking-shorthorns on an Iowa stock farm.

Whether or not the job of a farm worker is covered for old-age and survivors insurance depends on three things: First, his employment by the farm operator during a three-month qualifying period; second, his regular work for the same employer during the calendar quarter immediately following the qualifying period; third, his earning of cash wages of $50 or more in each three-month period after the qualifying period.

The "qualifying" three-month period does not in itself count towards social security payments, but the first step to that end for a farm worker is the "qualifying quarter." It must be a calendar quarter—that is, a three-month period beginning with January, April, July, or October. The worker who is employed by one operator continuously during a calendar quarter may then begin to get social security credit for his wages in the following quarter, by working 60 days or more on a full-time basis for the same employer for cash wages of $50 or more.

The test that he must continue to meet, quarter after quarter, is the same. He must work for this nurseryman on some 60 days, and be paid $50 or more in cash every calendar quarter. As long as he meets these conditions, his cash earnings from his work will be credited to his social security account, and he will be building towards old-age and survivors insurance protection. However, if in any future quarter he fails to work as a nurseryman for less than 60 days, the continuity will be broken. He will no longer be a regular employee, no matter how much in cash he is paid for less than 60 days of work.
