People Will Pass On $38,000 Bond Issue In Election May 16

Ownership and operation of the ocal hospital as a municipal enterprise will be offered in an election to be held May 16, at which all qualified voters will have an opportunity to pass on a bond election ordered for financing the deal.

Originating with a group of citizens including a number of stockholders, the proposal some time ago received the approval of the hospital's board of directors, provided a satisfactory arrangement could be worked out.

Revenue is considered more than adequate to pay off the general obligation tax bonds within the specified period of 25 years. Speaking as the original promotor of the enterprise which organized and incorporated in 1945, Dr. H. V. Hedges this week cited some of the factors which influenced the management in offering citizens of the community an opportunity to assume ownership and management of the institution which has so adequately served a long-felt need. Chief among them were economies of operation possible under municipal ownership, including avoidances of excess taxes on corporations and advantages of savings on purchases.

"We started operations, you might say, on a shoestring," he said, "and have passed the primary period of handicaps that had to be overcome before the hospital was the going institution it is consider ed to be today. ## LISTEN As the Red Bird

By Carolyn Holford

HABITS OF REDBIRDS . . . a subject about which this bird was not well informed until one day last week. H. E. Jones, who observes these birds a great deal, told us that they are quite mean and if one ever bites your finger, you'll know that you've been bitten. Mr Jones has recollections of putting one in his mother's sewing machine drawer a number of years back, and when she reached in for a spool of thread, the outcome was terrific. At present Mr. Jones is looking forward to the time when a redbird on his place hatches out some little ones, out in the old deserted rabbit hutch, where mamma has chosen to make her nest. Goes to show some birds aren't particular.

ANOTHER FOWL HABIT or perhaps one which Christine McClure hopes won't be a habit . . . was noted recently in the two multi-colored eggs which her hens laid around Eastertime. Originally brown, the eggs were circled with rainbow bands, and they carried spots which almost made an outline of a face.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE to pick up the hometown paper and read that your father was the meanest man in town? That's the first line Jack Neel said he saw in a recent issue of the Hico which he claims he reads faithfully in their home in Victoria. After seeing then the line saying "Paul Neel is the meanest man in town," Jack read on to follow the gist of the story which con cerned the departure of one Lions Club goat. He said he wasn't par-ticularly surprised then to see his dad's name in connection with that story, as chances were pretty good of "getting someone's goat" where that fellow was concerned.

ORCHIDS ALL AROUND Thoughtful citizens have expressed their interest in this column from time to time, and as usual the writer is happy to know that these words though not weighty are at least noticed by our readership. This week we received a note from Mrs. S. E. (Jake) Blair, who said she enjoys reading the column and that for her it is "the top of the news." - H H S -BAND NEWS

The band students and the freshman class went skating in Stephenville last Thursday night. Mr. and Mrs. Remington, Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. Pruett were sponsors. Everyone had a very nice time, even though some of the kids to Burden's Gro. Apply Saturday were pretty sore the next morning. We are all looking forward to another band party about two week sfrom now. We haven't decided yet about what kind of party it will be.
