HICO HIGH GRADUATE WINS IMPORTANT HONOR FOR KOREAN FLIGHT

Capt. O. D. Cunningham Jr., Oklahoma City, Okla., son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Cunningham Sr. now of Waco, but who resided in Hico for many years, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross at an advanced U. S. Air Force Base.

Cunningham, whose wife lives at 4009 S. E. Twenty-Second Street in Oklahoma City, was decorated for flying his aircraft through heavy enemy anti-aircraft fire to gather vital weather data for the United Nations Air Forces.

Piloting an unarmed, unescorted WB-26 of the 67th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing, he went on a mission over North Korea to gather important weather data at a specific location in preparation for an ensuing fighter-bomber strike.

During the crucial flight, Captain Cunningham's WB-26 was subjected to intense and accurate fire from enemy radar controlled heavy anti-aircraft weapons, but due to his superior pilot technique and skill, he successfully evaded the enemy barrage of fire and gathered the vital data.

The citation concludes: "... by his display of personal courage and devotion to duty, Captain Cunningham has reflected great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force."

WEST POINTER'S FATHER WRITES FROM MISSISSIPPI TO "STRAIGHTEN RECORD"

(Hamilton Herald-News)
When the Herald-News printed a story about the graduation of Lt. Henry O. Schneider from the West Point Military Academy in June, we said that so far as we were able to ascertain, he was the first to graduate from the county. This week we received a letter from W. L. McDowell Sr. of Vicksburg, Mississippi, straightening out the record for us.

Mr. McDowell says in part: "Without detracting one bit from Lieutenant Schneider's honor which I know he is justly entitled to, I do wish to get the record straight, because I do believe Hico to be located in Hamilton County. And I know that the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Russell of Hico graduated from the Point long enough ago to be a general before World War II started. Also Luster Vickrey, son of Mrs. Em Vickrey and the late G. C. Vickrey of Hico, graduated from West Point in 1929.

"Again, in the class of 1939, our son, Col. W. L. McDowell Jr., who is now stationed at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Alabama, also graduated from the Academy.

"These just happen to be three that I personally know, and how many other families that are justly proud of their son's graduating from the greatest military school in the world, I don't know. But I am sure there must be many more over the entire period of the Academy's existence."

NUMBER 16

Summer Refinishing Puts School Plant in Excellent Condition

Although the new elementary school building, under construction by Kenneth Sparks, building contractor, and his crew, is not yet ready for occupancy, other buildings have been made ready for school opening Tuesday, September 8, and arrangements will be made to begin grade school classes on that date. Supt. O. C. Cook reports the school plant in excellent condition following extensive repairs to the high school building and says that plans are being made to have the new lunch room open for service on September 8.

A number of repairs, alterations and clean-up jobs have been made in the high school building during the summer months. All desks have been cleaned and given a coat of varnish; chalk boards have been refinished; hall floors, stairs and woodwork have been given a fresh coat of paint, and library tables refinished. New equipment has been installed in the boys' rest room, including a new floor. A fresh coat of paint has been applied to both boys' and girls' rest rooms.

Plans are being made now for a temporary set-up for classrooms for elementary pupils during the first few weeks of school. Announcement will be made later concerning the location, school officials stated.

Lunch Room Modernized.
Much new equipment and furniture is being installed in the new lunch room located in the east side of the elementary school building.

The large kitchen will have roomy working areas including a cooking area, preparation area equipped with sink and drain boards, large storage pantry, a deep freeze for storage of fresh meats, vegetables, etc., refrigerated units for milk and other perishable foods, modern dishwashing facilities and a very attractive serving counter.

Equipped with new tables with formica tops and new chairs the dining area will seat 103 pupils. This modern cafeteria will have one complete wall of glass.

The prices of lunches will be the same as last year 20 cents for children in grades one, two, and three, and 25 cents for children in grades four through 12. The lunches consist of two vegetables, a meat or meat substitute, one half pint milk and dessert. Mrs. J. E. Slaughter will again have supervision over the serving and preparation of school lunches.

Lions Receive Letter Of Appreciation For Waco Disaster Relief

At Wednesday's luncheon meeting of Hico Lions Club, held at Loudermill's cafe, President Harold D. Walker read a letter from Winthrop Seley chairman of the Waco Lions Club, and displayed an accompanying certificate of appreciation for aid given following the tornado in that city last May.

The letter said: "The members of the Waco Lions Club and the citizens of the city of Waco are genuinely grateful for the sympathy, encouragement, prayers, understanding, and assistance which we have received from our fellow Lions during our recent disaster. It has been our privilege to experience the powerful force of good that is created when men capture the essence of the Lion Code of Ethics: 'To aid my fellow man by giving my sympathy to those in distress, my aid to the weak, and my substance to the needy.'"

"We in Waco are humbly grateful for the generosity of our fellow Lions who have reached out to their hands in helpfulness to us in our hours of distress. Please convey to the members of your Club our deep appreciation for their immediate response to our need. Unquestionably the action of your Club has demonstrated that it is made up of members who have captured the full import of the Lions Code.

"As a token of our gratitude we wish to present a Certificate of Appreciation to your Club from the Waco Lions."

Upon motion by T. A. Randall, the club voted to have the certificate framed and hung in the Lions Club hall along with the charter which is being framed.

Another letter read by the president advised of a forthcoming visit on Sept. 15 of some 35 members of the Waco Junior Chamber of Commerce who will be in Hico at 11:15 a. m. to extend an invitation to local citizens to attend Texas' newest major exposition, the Heart O' Texas Fair, Sept. 26 through Oct. 4. Plans for their reception will be made and announced later, the president said.

Present as a guest of Paul Noel was A. M. Quattlebaum of Dallas, International Harvester representative, who joined the local dealer in urging attendance of as many as possible at the demonstration of farm equipment Wednesday afternoon. Herbert Wolfe's guest was O. D. Spencer of Waco, Mag-nolia representative, and Porter Willis, new athletic coach at Hico Public School, was introduced by Supt. O. C. Cook.

Red Cross Chairman Names Local Staff
To Aid Bloodmobile

A quota of 150 pints of blood has been set for the Hico area, when the Waco regional office of the American Red Cross sends a bloodmobile unit to this city on Wednesday, September 9.

This quota will call for a greater number of volunteers than those who donated blood last year, but the need is greater now, said Mrs. B. B. Gamble, chairman of the drive, because of the large number of boys returning from Korean prisoner-of-war camps.

The chairman has listed her staff of volunteers who will help at the educational building of the First Baptist Church during the time when the bloodmobile is here. Also on hand will be a staff of nurses with the unit and a doctor from Hico Clinic.

Work Is Progressing On Improvements at Front of Reed Studio

Undergoing a face-lifting this week is the building occupied by Reed Studio, which is receiving an entirely new front wall of white stucco. The roof was raised to the level of the building next door, both buildings being the property of R. F. Wiseman.

Entrance of the studio was moved from the center to one side of the store front to allow space for a large lighted display area for photographs, and two plate glass windows have been added. The awning in front is also undergoing repairs.

J. E. Reed, who purchased the photographic business from Wiseman one year ago this month, remodeled the inside of the premises at that time, but the building maintained its brown front with black trim, so long characteristic of Wiseman Studio. The remodeling of the exterior began last Thursday and is nearing completion now after leaving the studio with an open-air look for several days.

The building, owned by R. F. Wiseman, was erected by his father some 60 years ago. Superintending the work is R. B. McClure, assisted by George Griffith in the carpenter work, with V. L. Spaulding and Paul Srader also helping.

G. E. Holladay Wins
'Get-of-Sire' Award at Huckabay Dairy Show

G. E. Holladay, prominent example of those cattle breeders of this community who have been building up their herds and getting due acclaim through awards at various shows, has recently received another award of which he and his fellow citizens are justly proud. At the Huckabay Community Dairy Show last week he won top money in the "Breeders Get-of-Sire" division.

This is a new feature of the old-established show, and was begun by the Stephenville State Bank, to be supplemented each year until 1960 by at least 10 dairy farmers who will pay $10.00 as a nominating fee for their sire.

Mr. Holladay's two winners were sired by Curtiss Candy Dandy Lou, whose sire Curtiss Candy Dandy George is senior herd sire at Curtiss Candy Farms. The two, a bull and a heifer, also won blue ribbons and purple rosettes in their classes.

The show was judged by Bob Majors, dairy specialist for Quaker Oats Company of Sherman.

Envelopes will be provided for writing name, address and amount of bill when making payment. Receipt will be enclosed in the following month's bill.

This depository box and equipment, just completed, was added as a convenience to the public, in line with the company's agreement with the City Council, according to Millard Oates, Gulf States advertising manager, who was in Hico the first of the week from Tyler.

HUMORIST VISITS HERE

Boyer House of Fort Worth, who had served as master of ceremonies at the press-radio party which annually precedes the Dublin engagement of the Madison Square Garden Rodeo, stopped in Hico Tuesday morning for a brief visit with the News Review staff.

House, prominent as a humorist, writer and after-dinner speaker, was on his way to Waco to emcee at a luncheon engagement. He is handling publicity for the Heart O'Texas Fair to be staged next month.

Those from Hico who attended the affair at Dublin were D. E. Bulloch Jr., Fred Red Harris, Buck Reader, Parker Goodloe and Roland Holford. The large crowd on hand, composed mostly of press, radio and city officials, enjoyed a delicious barbecue dinner and an interesting entertainment program.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mr. and Mrs. Woodward Brummett were dismissed from Hico City Hospital Friday after receiving treatment there for injuries sustained in an automobile accident Sunday, August 16, near Hillsboro.

They were returning from vacation spent in St. Louis, Mo. with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Massegale of Fort Worth, when the car in which they were riding collided with another car approaching from a side road and overturned completely.

Mrs. Massegale is still hospitalized in Harris Memorial Hospital in Fort Worth, and expects to remain there from six to 12 weeks. She was most seriously injured of the group, having three broken ribs and a broken pelvis bone. Mr. Brummett suffered a back injury, and Mrs. Brummett was recovering from bruises.

THE COXES AT HOME.—Polly and Murray Cox are shown with their children at home where the WFAA Farm Director's Monday through Saturday breakfast program originates over WFAA-570 at 6:35 a. m. The newly-lunched husband-wife show is begun to farmers, ranchers and their wives, with Cox discussing farm news and events, while Mrs. Cox gives over-the-coffee-cup comment on home-making and household hints. With the Coxes are their children, Kaye and Jimmie, and the family pet, "Miss Feet," the parakeet.

WFAA Farm Director Starts New Breakfast Series With Mrs. C.

A bright new program beamed to farmers, ranchers and their wives and heard over Station WFAA-570, from 6:40 to 7 a. m., Monday through Saturday, recently was launched by the station's Farm Director, Murray Cox, and his wife Polly.

Originating in their Dallas home the husband-wife breakfast show features over-the-coffee-cup comment and conversation of farm news and events, with special emphasis placed on information useful to women who live in rural areas, such as meal planning, canning, sewing, gardening and child care.

Becoming a husband-wife team on the air has been under consideration by the Coxes, who are known throughout the North Texas area as "Mr. and Mrs. R. F. D." but, as Mrs. Cox explained, having a pre-school age child, daughter Kaye, caused her to devote herself to more wifely duties.

Polly Cox is a graduate of Oklahoma A & M College. Prior to her marriage, she was assistant home demonstration agent in Seminole County Oklahoma. She also taught vocational home economics at Carter, Oklahoma.

Although Mrs. Cox didn't grow up on a farm, her father, James Lawrence, served as County Demonstration Agent for thirty-five years in Shawnee, Oklahoma, and in that connection and with her husband, she has always worked with farm people and agricultural groups.

Murray Cox, an outstanding leader in Southwest agriculture, joined the WFAA staff April 1, 1947. The son of a retired Oklahoma ginners and farmer, Cox attended Oklahoma A & M, specializing in agricultural administration. He became County Agent for Stephens County Oklahoma, after graduating, and was rated one of the top county agents in the state by the Oklahoma Agricultural Extension Service. He also wrote a column for the Duncan, Okla., "Banner."

Cox's wide acquaintance throughout the Southwest enables him to present a clear picture of conditions and prospects of agriculture on his show with his wife and on his other featured WFAA programs.

Central Texas to Have Its First Rodeo Under Roof

Waco, Aug. 27.—For the first time this section of the State will be the scene of a rodeo under roof when the Heart O' Texas Fair is held in Waco, Sept. 26 through Oct. 4.

The world's first indoor rodeo was held at the Fort Worth stock show in 1918. Since then indoor rodeos have become increasingly popular; in fact, most of the great rodeos are now held under roof. Among them are Madison Square Garden, Boston Garden, Denver, Houston, San Antonio and Fort Worth.

Chief advantage of the indoor rodeo is that all of the wild aspects of the out-of-doors are retained with the lighting and other effects, bringing out to the full, the excitement of the events says M. D. Corbin, executive vice-president of the Heart O' Texas Fair.

It is the proverbial far cry from that historic, barn-like North Side Coliseum in Fort Worth in 1918 with its rather small arena and seating capacity of some 3,000 to the magnificent Coliseum which will be the scene of the Heart O' Texas rodeo. Ours is the largest arena under roof in Texas and is the second largest Coliseum in the State.

From the arena floor to the catwalk, the distance is 70 feet 8 inches, which certainly gives ample room for a cowboy to buck without bumping his head on the roof. The total height of the building is 90 feet. Seats for 7,638 rodeo spectators will be available and since there are no posts, every seat gives a full view of the action anywhere in the arena.

Scanning the NEWS

THE excess profits tax, which the senate and house have extended for a six month period after strong administration pressure, is one of the most controversial and little known of our federal levies. Even the Eisenhower administration, while insisting upon it, called it a "necessary evil".

Here are its basic facts: Who pays it—Less than 12 per cent of the nation's 424,000 corporations with taxable income.

How much money will be raised by the six-months extension—About $800 million will be added to the government's till in fiscal 1954.

How do corporations compute the tax—They figure earnings during 1946 through 1949 and report average earnings during the three most profitable years of that stretch. Eighty-three per cent of that average is "normal profit" congress decided. Earnings over that amount are liable to the excess profits tax of 30 per cent. This is on top of regular corporate income taxes.

What is the purpose of the EPT—It was designed to limit the profits of businesses involved in defense work.

What percentage of corporation tax receipts comes from the EPT—The Ways and Means Committee estimated $2 billion out of a total take of $3 billion in corporate taxes come from the excess profits levy. That's about 67 per cent.

Why was extension urged for what Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey called a "bad tax"—It will help shrink the deficit of $9.4 billion, a record for the government to be in the red. Also the administration has said it didn't want taxes on business cut before taxes on individual income, which are to become lower Jan. 1, 1954.

Why is it a bad tax—President Eisenhower said the EPT is "especially hard on successful small businesses which must depend on retained earnings for growth." Assistant Secretary of Commerce Craig R. Sheaffer said the tax "purposely hits hardest on new and growing enterprises" and encourages "wasteful management."

• The Post Office Department is again asking congress to grant an increase in postal rates in an effort to get the long-time money losing service out of the red. If the move is successful here's what will happen to mail users:

- 1. A deep pink four cent stamp will be required for out-of-town letters. (The familiar purple three-center still will be good for in-town first class mail.)
- 2. Airmail rates will go up—from six to seven cents per ounce.
- 3. Book rates will increase from eight to ten cents for the first pound and four to five cents for each extra pound.
- 4. Varied boosts will prevail for different types of second and third class mail.

The small rate increase may eventually become law, but at the moment congressmen, although talking a lot about "economy" and "balancing the budget," show no signs of haste in putting it into effect.

THE SPEECH By Will Lozier

A VERY HEATHCOTE, chairman of the committee, flopped down into one of my big chairs and said, "We're over the top. Everything is set for next Saturday afternoon and we want you to make the presentation."

"Not me," I said. "You're the mayor, aren't you?" Avery demanded.

"That's exactly the point," I explained. "I've got business to take care of. Lots of business. You'd better get one of the other boys to make the presentation."

"Now wouldn't that be fine," Avery said sarcastically. "We've made up a big purse for Charley Bannerman, and the mayor of his own city says he hasn't got time to present it."

I felt like coming right out and telling Avery why I didn't like Charley Bannerman. When I was fourteen he had borrowed my baseball glove and never returned it. The years had passed and the loss of the glove wasn't too important any more. But there were other things. Like the time he took my girl to the senior prom after I was practically decided that she was going with me. And he hadn't bothered to apologize when I lent him my dress suit to get married in and he brought it back with a cigarette hole in the trousers.

No, I did not like Charley Bannerman, even though he was the star of the Gray Sox. They were giving him his "Day" next Saturday at the Stadium. So what? Other ball players had had their "Days" and had received everything from shaving mugs to twelve-cylinder automobiles.

I did not like any part of the set-up. I had been trying—unsuccessfully—to raise enough money to build an addition to the Hamilton City Hospital.

But Avery kept arguing, telling me I was the logical person to make the presentation, and pretty soon I gave in.

"All right," I said. "Tell me what you want me to say." He handed me a certified check. It was for a lot of money, more than enough to swing that new addition for the hospital.

"I've got your speech written out," Avery said. "I'll read it to you." He cleared his throat.

"Ladies and Gentlemen: It is a great privilege to be here today to honor Hamilton's leading citizen. I am alluding to a man who has become nationally famous, a man who is the idol of every—" "That's enough," I interrupted. "Just give me the speech. I'll read it with motions."

He handed me the sheet of paper. I read it to myself. Except for the difference in names, it was practically the same speech I had made a couple of dozen times.

Everyone in Hamilton was raving over Charley. They even said he was a changed man since he had got married. But I didn't care. I didn't like the guy; and so I decided to write my own speech. I'd say, "The citizens of Hamilton have raised a large sum of money for a ball player named Charley Bannerman." Then I'd hand Charley the check and sit down.

The "Day" had arrived. I sat in the stands near the Gray Sox dugout, waiting to be called onto the field to make the presentation speech.

I felt a light tap on my shoulder and turned around. It was Avery. "Have you got your fountain pen handy?" he asked.

I felt in my breast pocket. "No," I said. "I must have forgotten it."

Avery handed me his. I just heard a mighty interesting rumor," he whispered. "They're saying Charley is going to borrow your fountain pen and endorse that check over to the hospital fund."

I didn't have time to answer him because they were flashing the signal for me to come down onto the field. The players of both teams were gathering around home plate. I walked down the aisle and in another minute I was standing in front of the microphone. The crowd stopped cheering; it was time for me to make the speech.

March of Dimes in Texas Spends 96% of Collections in State

Dallas Aug. 24.—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis today announced that through June 30, 1953 it had made 28 grants to eight Texas organizations totaling $500,307.10 according to General Robert J. Smith, state March of Dimes chairman.

The eight institutions still have in operating funds some $93,454.92 of the $500,307.10 granted since 1953, General Smith pointed out.

Largest of the grants was $137,751.14 to Baylor University for virus research and medical care with the second largest grant, $116,859.57, going to the University of Texas for virus research.

The other six organizations participating in the polio program are Southwestern Medical College in Dallas; Crippled Children's Hospital in Marlin; Texas Scottish Rite Hospital; Jefferson Davis

Hospital in Houston; Southwest Foundation for Research and Education in Dallas; and the Southwestern Poliomylitis Respiratory Center in Houston.

Of the 28 grants, 17 for a total of $189,419.83 were for virus research; four were for $13,486.05 for treatment aftereffects; one for education in the amount of $4,224.00 and six for medical care for a total of $199,722.30.

General Smith said that the $93,454.92 in unexpended balances from past awards was divided between Baylor University with $47,739.92 remaining for medical care and $45,715.00 by Jefferson Davis Hospital in Houston for the same purpose.

From 1938 through December 31, 1952, the March of Dimes campaigns in Texas have resulted in net receipts of $9,998,309.94 of which $8,716,145.54 or 87 per cent was actually spent in the state.

"It is of special interest to note that for the period January 1, 1949, through December 31, 1952, the March of Dimes campaign in Texas have netted a total of $6,579,024.40 of which $6,316,972.57 or 96 per cent has been spent in the state," General Smith said.

"However in 1952, the Texas March of Dimes campaign netted $2,181,624.87 while the Foundation spent $2,488,938.73 in Texas for polio epidemics; resulting in a state deficit of $307,313.86," he added.

"This means that we in Texas require $307,313.86 more than we donated to the March of Dimes campaign," General Smith declared.

He said that the 1952 campaign collections of $2,181,624.87 was the equivalent of 2829 cents per person in the state. The 1953 contributions of $2,635,837.26 represents 3418 cents per capita.

"In 1954, we have set a target of only 50 cents per person in Texas to help the National Foundation in its campaign of research to prevent polio and treatment once this disease has struck," he concluded.

Washington

"As it Looks
From

OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

"Breathes there the man with soul so dead, who never to himself has said, this is my own, my native land." Everyone is familiar with these lines. I think of them as I drive along or as I walk the streets and see things and people with which I am well acquainted.
This is being written from my home town of Anson.

Since my return the question most frequently asked is about the feeling in Washington regarding the truce in Korea. Does it mean peace? Is it another Communist trick to build up their strength for aggression in Korea or some other place?

All these are questions which only the future can definitely answer. The truce is based largely upon a hope that the basic political problems can be settled around the conference table.

Personally, I am pessimistic about the whole thing. The Communists have never yet agreed to anything which did not work toward their ulterior motives. They are masters at holding conferences. Their patience is seemingly inexhaustible. They have waited many years for the advantages they have today and are willing to wait many more for the cancerous conditions on which they thrive, to grow and spread.

Like everyone else, it makes my blood boil to learn about the treatment of our boys who were taken prisoners. This alone shows the utter disregard for common decency on their part. Their lies about returning the sick and wounded have been proved before the world, but it makes no difference to these people who have not the slightest concept of moral obligations.

This is the very obvious reason why, over the long run, only a doubtful attitude is justified. We are dealing with a new kind of enemy. It is inconceivable to the American mind that men, such as these, should be completely devoid of decency and any degree of fair play.

The truce was brought about because we wanted to stop the killing—because we place the highest value on human life. This could not have been particularly important to the Communists, who place no value on life, except as it may be used to further their cause.
They only understand power and strength—they only respect anything out of fear and hatred for it.

It is a sad world when we are forced to deal with this sort of fanaticism. But the choice lies between trying to reason where reason is not respected and attempting to destroy by war the source and power of Communism which is Russia. With all our moral forces we will try the former and hope for the best.

The further breakdown of the Governments of France and Italy tends to support my view that no more money should be appropriated for foreign aid until they do more for themselves. When this matter was under debate in the Congress I offered an amendment which would have postponed action until January. By that time, we could have known whether we had friends in these nations or not. It does not appear very favorable at this time. France is paralyzed by strikes, and Italy has rejected a government friendly to the United States. Good dollars after bad doesn't seem very wise.

A good many of the Baptist people attended regularly. All Christians are revived and all enjoyed the meeting. Several people from near by towns attended. I failed to get their names.

For three nights the revival was in the church on account of rains. On Thursday night a very large crowd was there. As I was going down the steps I was on the bottom step. I reached over to a lady to help me. I leaned over too far. I stumbled and down I went on the cement. I hurt my bad knee but the worst was my right arm. Was hurt from the elbow down to my wrist. I had a very narrow escape from breaking a bone. If I had, the readers would be without any news from here, as I am left handed. I have done fine. My arm is getting well. The doctor and Rev. Terpstra helped me home and my arm was bandaged up from my elbow to my wrist. I am sure thankful that I didn't get hurt any worse.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Fort Worth, Aug. 25.—Corn Belt observers, according to an article compiled by Homer Hush in Wallace's Farmer this month, seem to be coming around to the view that June was the "low" time for cattle. This thrusts into the discard the idea that was prevalent in those parts that late Fall would be the better buying time for feeders.

Corn Belt observers, Hush reports, also feel that rains in the drought areas will "strengthen the hands" of the cattle growers. Yep! There's no argument there.

In fact, on the basis of Monday's cattle trade, it looks like the stocker and feeder buyers were unlimbering and more orders were on hand than was the case for the past couple of weeks. At Fort Worth Monday there was the biggest cattle and calf run since July—about 8,500 head. Twelve markets had 139,000 cattle and calves.

Despite this big offering, stockers and feeders sold strong to unevenly higher at Fort Worth. Some of the just fairly good kinds, that had to sell for slaughter a week ago, sold well to stocker buyers, a decided improvement.

Slaughter steers and yearlings were steady to weak. Slaughter calves ruled firm. Cows were steady to 50 cents lower, and the larger portion sold steady. Some buyers tried to buy cows sharply lower to 50 cents to $1 per hundred and complained that cows here were higher, grade for grade, than at other major markets.

Salesmen successfully resisted these bearish offers. Bulls closed 50 cents lower. Good and choice fed steers and yearlings drew $18.00-21.50 and choice to prime drylot cattle are quotable dollars above that range. Common and medium butcher stuff sold from $11.00-17.00; with rainy yearlings from $8.00-12.50.

Fat cows drew $9.50-12.50; canners and cutters sold from $6.50-9.50. Some straight barreled western or Brahman type cutters are quotable over $9.50. Bulls sold from $8.00-12.50.

Good and choice fat calves cleared at $14.00-18.00; and common and medium butcher sorts sold from $10.00-13.00, with culls from $7.00-9.00.

Good and choice stocker steer calves drew $14.00-18.50 with stocker steer yearlings from $16.50 downward. Stocker steers drew $17.00 down. Stocker cows changed hands at $8.00-14.00.

Hogs were 25 cents lower and topped at $25.75-26.00 at Fort Worth. Sows drew $19.00-22.00.

Sheep and lambs drew generally steady prices. Medium, good and choice fat lambs sold for $17.00-21.00, and fancy fat lambs of the right weights in load lots were quotable higher. Cull lambs sold around $12.00.

Stocker and feeder lambs drew $13.00-15.00. Fat yearlings drew $14.00-17.00 and old wethers sold from $7.00-10.00. Slaughter ewes cashed at $5.00-6.50. Solid-mouthed breeding ewes cashed at $7.00-10.00. There has been active demand for ewes suitable to go back to the country and each shipment to Fort Worth has been sorted very closely to sift out ewes of suitable ages. Most of the ewes are in canner flesh, which is making them weigh correspondingly lighter for the buyers.

Some substantial rains in some of the principal sheep country recently as well as the rapid development of some volunteer grain pasture grazing, is helping the outlook on sheep.

Fairy — By Mrs. Eunice Massengale

We are still having some real summer weather, what some term Indian Summer, with very little breeze. The water shortage has been quite a problem for many.

We are very glad to report Mrs. Olga Duncan recovering nicely from a major operation she underwent Thursday of last week at the Hico Hospital. She had been confined to the hospital a week prior to the operation but we did not learn of her illness in time to include in last weeks news. We hope she will soon be able to return home. Her daughter, Mrs. Herman Derden and children of Waxahatchie are staying in the home of her parents and assisting with the household duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Springer and Randy returned home last week after a few days stay at Miles and San Angelo. Mr. Springer had gone out to do some terracing, but was rained out. They stated they received heavy rains which flooded business buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester (Richard) Smith of Brady spent the week end in the home of her aunts, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Cox and the writer. Mrs. Smith, who has been an employee of the J. C. Penney Co., at Brady for a number of years is the former Miss Evelyn Enger of Hico and Fairy.

We were sorry to learn that Mrs. Carl Lackey has been a patient at the Hico Hospital. We hope by this time that she has recovered sufficiently to return home.

The Church of Christ meeting began last night (Monday) and will continue through Wednesday of next week. Minister McClish of Burnet will conduct the services. All have a cordial invitation to attend.

The Methodist meeting will begin Sunday night with Rev. G. C. Williams, a former pastor, conducting the services, being assisted by the pastor, Rev. Wesley Jones of Lanham, whom we understand will also direct the song service. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Carolyn and Jimmie Don visited Sunday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Sellers of Hamilton.

Several of our farmers began the harvesting of their maize crops during the last week. We understand the yield is fair.

Mrs. T. L. Betts received a letter Tuesday from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Effie Richardson of Terrell, stating that her little grandson was slowly recovering from an attack of polio he suffered some two months ago. She stated that one of his arms was paralyzed but he could now move a few of his fingers on this hand. He is in a Dallas hospital and is the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Richardson of Terrell. We are glad to hear he is improving and trust he will soon be able to be returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dellis Seago and Sherry of Waco visited Sunday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison received a letter recently from their son, Texie Dell Allison who is serving on overseas duty stating that he expected to be home by the middle of November. We rejoice to learn this good news and sincerely hope he makes it. Texie was one among our finest young men and is greatly missed from the community. His wife is the former Miss Doris Streeter of Lanham and is employed at the First State Bank of Cranfills Gap.

New faculty members for our school for the coming school term which opens Monday week, Sept. 7, are Mrs. John Rainwater, Hico Rt. 1, Mrs. Ruth Ramsey, Elmott, Home Economics, Mrs. Joe Grimland, Waco, Mrs. Cutberth, Meridian and Martin, Schrank, who will be vocational agriculture teacher. Mrs. John Rainwater is a former member of our school faculty and we are very glad to know she will again be a member of the faculty.

Ercy Parks was conveyed home Saturday from a Brownwood hospital where he underwent surgery recently. Glad to report him doing nicely.

Mrs. M. E. Parks and son, Audie spent last Sunday in Kerrville visiting in the home of their daughter and sister, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Fairbright and little sons.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goynne and daughters, Wilma Grace and Lynda Lou were in Waco last Thursday night for commencement exercises at Baylor University, where Mrs. Goynne received her master's degree.

LONE STAR Agriculture

Released by The Texas Department of Agriculture By John C. White, Commissioner

BARGAINS IN BEEF

Steaks and other good beef cuts rate star billing on the family shopping list the rest of this month and through September.

With beef of all types more plentiful now than during any comparable period in recent years, Texans now can really indulge in their traditional fondness for this home-raised product. Prices should be favorable enough to warrant laying away a good supply of meat in the deep freeze too.

Supplies of beef during August and September will be setting new records. The hot, dry weather that has prevailed over much of the cattle-raising region during the early summer has stimulated unusually heavy marketings of range cattle. This movement, added to the large supplies of fed cattle, means that the consumers are finding meat counters well-stocked with attractively priced cuts.

Judging by the quantity of livestock marketed during the past six months, and estimates of what is expected to come to market the rest of this year, consumption of beef in 1953 may be as high as 73 to 74 pounds per person. This would be a big increase over the 61 pounds per person last year and would equal or top the 1909 record of 73.2 pounds per person.

Housewives will need very little prodding to choose beef and beef products for their families. They know that the protein in beef is needed by young and old alike, and that variety meats in particular are good sources of important vitamins and minerals. Lean beef is a valuable source of B-vitamins and of phosphorus and iron. Protein and minerals are found in beef liver, kidney and heart. And liver, with its iron and copper content, is an important blood builder.

But the best news is that after years of almost prohibitive prices, beef is now coming within the family budget. As a result, weekend chefs of both sexes who go for outdoor cookery on summer evenings will be even more active in the next few weeks.

The barbecue baron may rely on easy-to-fix hamburger sandwiches, topped with onion or tomato slices. Or he may choose the ever-popular frankfurter on toasted roll with a generous garnish of relish or sauerkraut. But grilled steaks and other cuts are expected to top the list.

Whatever his preference, beef will score a hit every time.

MRS. HATTIE SOWELL AND CHILDREN

The Texas farm economy is vitally affected by the fact that our State now uses only 15 per cent of its potential water supply.

At present, some 3,700,000 acres of land are cultivated under irrigation in Texas. Production from this irrigated acreage accounts for 40 per cent of the gross Texas farm income from harvested land.

Two-thirds of the irrigated acreage is based upon ground water resources. These resources are being gradually depleted by irrigation.

The picture this presents is clear and unpleasant. Texas faces an eventual substantial reduction in farm income unless ground water irrigation can be replaced with irrigation using surface waters.

The surface water supplies of Texas were fully utilized, we could bring another million acres of land under irrigation. At the same time, we could meet the vast water requirements of our expanding industry and the water needs of our growing municipalities.

The Nation needs the food and fibers produced on the land already under irrigation in Texas. With a continuing expansion of our economy, the Nation also will need the food and fibers that could be produced on the additional million acres of land susceptible to irrigation if full use were made of our State's potential water supplies.

Where we feed four persons today we must feed five by the year 1975. Where we used 482,000,000 acres of farmland in 1950, we will require the production from 577,000,000 acres in 1975. The potential added production from Texas will be badly needed.

So the water problem in Texas, particularly as it affects our agricultural production, is not simply a State problem. It is a national problem as well.

It is a problem that must be solved by Federal-State cooperation.

The Bureau of Reclamation appraisal is firm in concluding that a relatively small proportion of Texas' water requirements can be permanently supplied from ground water at a reasonable and predictable cost.

Most of the State's water supplies eventually must come from surface sources from that 85 per cent of our potential water supply now allowed to drain off into the Gulf.

Texas and the Nation cannot afford to allow such a loss to continue.

Texas' almost miraculous industrial progress during the last decade has attracted nationwide attention. Many new manufacturing establishments big and little, have sprung up over the State.

An enormous overall addition has been made to the productive capacity of the United States.

We want to continue our industrial growth. Development of large and dependable water supplies is essential to maintenance of the rate of Texas' industrial growth.

Water is the lifeblood of modern industry.

These needed supplies will have to come from water resources not used at present. That is a primary conclusion of an appraisal of the Texas water problem made by the Bureau of Reclamation.

The Bureau reports that Texas has a potential water supply more than sufficient to take care of all foreseeable industrial and farm and municipal needs. Our present use of water represents only about 15 per cent of the water available, year after year from Texas streams.

The water problem facing our State is two-fold. First, we must take steps to conserve as much as possible of the 85 per cent of the total supply that now runs off into the Gulf of Mexico and is lost to us.

Second, we must devise and put into effect a distribution system that will get adequate supplies of water to the places where they are most needed.

Admittedly, this challenge is no puny one. But it is one that must be met. Only by meeting it can we take advantage of the unparalleled economic opportunity before us.

Every phase of our anticipated industrial development will require increased supplies of water. The Bureau of Reclamation predicts, for example, that eventually industries and municipalities in the Gulf Coast area will require an annual water supply four times as large as the present usage.

The Bureau report suggests now and revised programs aimed primarily at transforming Texas' potential water resources into available water supplies. It estimates economic gains that would come to Texas as a result of carrying out these programs. It discusses the character of the Federal interest in the Texas water problem. It outlines policies which respect both State and national interests.

The solution of our water problem is vitally important to Texas, of course. But not to Texas alone. The entire Nation has a great stake in solving this problem.

I hope that Texas and the Federal government will work together to solve the problem—with the rights of Texas over its own waters protected to the fullest degree.

The basis of such a cooperative program is set forth in the report by the Bureau of Reclamation.

August's Slogan of Safety Association Is Important Message

"Signs of Life" are for pedestrians as well as motorists.

This point was emphasized today by Col. E. B. Tilley, Services Advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation, Houston, and President of the Texas Safety Association which is sponsoring the August traffic safety program in cooperation with the Department of Public Safety.

"Many people seem to think that 'Signs of Life'—traffic signs, signals and pavement markings—are placed there for the use of drivers only," he said. "Actually, they are intended to guide and protect the pedestrian as well."

If pedestrians would heed these signs—obey traffic lights at intersections and signals at railroad crossings—a lot of lives would be saved, according to Col. Tilley.

"One of four traffic victims is a pedestrian," he said, "and more than half the people killed in city traffic are pedestrians."

"Among the factors contributing to these fatalities," Col. Tilley said, "are crossing at intersections against the signal, crossing intersections diagonally, and crossing between intersections."

"Certainly many deaths could be avoided if pedestrians crossed streets at the proper places, and obeyed traffic 'Signs of Life' where they are provided," Col. Tilley pointed out.

The August slogan of the Texas Safety Association and the Department of Public Safety, "Signs of Life—Know Them, Obey Them" is an important message for everyone," he said. "Whether walking or driving it applies, and the person who follows it may be saving his own life."
