Austin, Aug. 21.—Texas voters, in record-shattering numbers, went to the polls Saturday and re-elected Governor Allan Shivers for an unprecedented third term.

Shivers claimed more than 53 per cent of the votes, which totaled higher than 1,450,000.

"I want to continue to be the governor of all Texans. I do not only want but I need the cooperation of every Texan who is interested in the future of Texas. We must go forward together and continue the fight for the rights of all the people of our great state.

"This is a great victory, not only for Allan Shivers, but for Texas. My family and I stand tonight with deepest humility and hearts overflowing with gratitude. This gives us a renewed determination for the future.

"I hope that all Texans will join me in a prayer tomorrow for the welfare of our great state and its wonderful people."

In his statement conceding the race to Shivers, Ralph Yarborough commented:

"We fought a hard, clean fight and we lost."

For Conservatives.

Shivers' re-election was a triumph for the conservative Democrats as opposed to the liberal-loyalist faction.

Apparently the Shivers group will be in control of the state Democratic party convention, to be held in Mineral Wells September 14.

Essentially, although there were many issues, the campaign was a continuation of the long-running fight between the conservatives and the liberals.

Brewster Re-elected.

Associate Justice Few Brewster was returned to the Texas Supreme Court as the result of his run-off race with Alfred M. Scott of Austin.

Brewster's vote total was about twice that of Scott's.

Drought Aid.

Thirty-three additional Texas counties have been named by Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson as eligible for federal-state cooperative drought aid.

Naming of the additional number, bringing the eligibility list now to 75, came shortly after state and federal officials announced that "rough spots" in the aid program had been ironed out in a series of conferences.

Officials said that regulations of the program would now be enforced in the manner of last year's aid plan with eligibility of farmers not requiring a controversial "pauper's oath or financial statement."

Schools.

Texas schools will open to face last year's problem—a shortage of teachers and school rooms.

Research Director E. L. Galyean of the Texas State Teachers Association said that although the state stands 47th in the number of teachers with degrees, "there is an acute shortage of elementary school teachers."

Increases of teachers and classrooms have not been able to keep pace with a rapidly rising state enrollment figure, he said.

Farmers.

Central Texas farmers this week completed the election of new committeemen to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee for Texas.

The committee administers much of federal programs for farmers. New community elections were part of a revision of ASC community personnel as drawn up by the U. S. Agriculture Department.

Draft Call.

Texas' draft quota for October will be 1,122. State Selective Service Director Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield has announced.

The induction total is the state share of a national 23,000 draft call for the month.

In addition, 2,630 Texans will take first draft steps of physical and mental exams during October.

Fliers Back.

Bergstrom Air Force Base's 12th Strategic Fighter Wing, over 1,000 men strong, has returned to the Austin base after a 90-day rotational training period in Japan.

One of the two fighter wings stationed at the base, the 12th is commanded by Colonel Howard G. Cook.

Tidelands.

Texas will lease additional tracts of its oil-rich tidelands September 7. Current oil-drilling activity is centered on four locations.

The lease sale will include three tracts totalling 1,440,000 acres between the three and ten-mile lines. Besides present drilling, two other preparations for drilling are now under way.

Oil Increase.

An increase of 62,415 barrels of oil per day in September from Texas fields has been ordered by the Railroad Commission.

The increase, putting at least a temporary halt to state sagging production totals, will mean a permissive flow of 2,787,456 barrels per day.

A 15-day producing schedule makes possible the production jump. Daily figures will rise because there is one less day in September than in August.

Show Barn Expansion Proposed at Meeting of Chamber of Commerce

Expansion of facilities at the recently constructed livestock show barn and exhibition building at Hico City Park was proposed at the monthly meeting of the Hico Chamber of Commerce, held last Friday noon at Loudermilk Cafe.

Details of the proposal were referred to the joint committee appointed at the inception of the project about two years ago by the sponsors of the project, the Chamber of Commerce and the Hico Lions Club. Other matters related to the financing of the project were disposed of.

Weldon Pierce reported for the committee investigating plans for establishment of a local garment factory or other similar enterprise. He said that if more people would "shove in a bucket of coal instead of throwing cold water on the project," he believed more could be accomplished. Reporting for the recently appointed building committee, Odie Peticick said progress along this line awaited more detailed information, since it would be hazardous to go ahead with plans until it was determined just what kind of building was needed by a prospective tenant.

Commenting on the increased attendance at the luncheon and meeting, President T. A. Randals said that "if the business men of Dallas and Fort Worth came out in the same proportion of their population to a similar civic meeting, the two towns already would have met." Inspiring this remark was the attendance of 17 members composed of H. D. Walker, Weldon Pierce, Bill Howard, Truman Roberts, O. C. Cook, W. R. Hampton, Odie Peticick, R. B. Jackson, Roland Holford, Edgar Bullock, Conda Salmon, J. B. Woodard, Ray Cheek, Milburn Knudson, Fern Jordan, Wayne Rutledge, and the president.

Iredell and Glen Rose Have 'Must-Win' Games Scheduled for Sunday

By LEON LEWIS

Hico and Dublin took their first games last Sunday in the playoff series of the Bosque Valley Baseball League.

Hico won over Iredell, 11 to 7. Dublin over Glen Rose, 4 to 1. There were exceptionally large crowds at both games.

Next Sunday finds Iredell at Hico, Dublin at Glen Rose. These games will draw still larger crowds, as Hico and Dublin will try desperately to eliminate their opponents by winning two straight games. If they are able to do this the finals would be played between Hico and Dublin. So you see Sunday is a "must-win" game with both Iredell and Glen Rose or their playing is over for 1954.

Don't miss these two exciting games at Hico and Glen Rose Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Watch your paper next week for a special announcement by Leon Lewis, president of the Bosque Valley League. What will it be? Well, watch your paper and see.

Don't forget the big Labor Day baseball game next Monday. Hico will engage a Mexican team from Lampasas at Meador Field. The game will start at 2:30 p. m. Admission charge will be nominal.

WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

It's always a pleasure to look over subscription records for the past month and meditate upon the excellent number of good friends the News Review is privileged to number among its list. Sometimes it appears that everyone who lives here or ever did live here exhibits a desire to keep up with local happenings through the home paper, although we realize that this is an ideal which could never be accomplished.

Since publication of a similar list on a corresponding week last month, a number of new subscribers have been included with the "old reliables" who never forget to tender their dues on time—or at least, pretty close to them.

"Was in Hico last Friday and wanted to see you people but you were out of town" was a friendly note accompanying a three-year renewal subscription from Mrs. J. E. Thompson of Hart, Texas. We'd about begun to believe Johnny and Verdis had forgotten all about Hico, judging from their infrequent visits. And wouldn't it be just our luck to be out of pocket every time they do come back to their old home town?

Mrs. J. S. Gray, the former Arietta Shaffer of Hico, wrote her usual chatty note in renewing a couple of weeks ago from Bakersfield, Calif. "Why is it I am always pressed for time?" she inquires, needlessly explaining a slight delay in sending her check, which this time turned out to be folding money. "Stop mother's paper until she comes home," she added. "She arrived on the Chief last Saturday morning and is having a good time, as usual. Daniel is about six inches taller than she is now; she is definitely surprised to death about it, and he is tickled to death about it, so everybody is happy. There is always a 'project' here in the office—it is the students now."

F. S. Crafton, who got out of the cattle business and went back to railroading at Austin several years before the Eisenhower boom, has sent his check for renewal of subscription, which was duly appreciated, along with a note about his health which we were sorry to hear: "I had a heart attack last April; haven't worked any since, just laying around and taking it easy. But I am doing fine. Don't know whether I will get to work for the Katy any more or not. You folks haven't got anything on us about the rain and heat. It hasn't rained enough here this year to run on the ground at our place, and we have had from 100- to 109-degree weather." By now we hope our old friend is damp, cool and back to normal health.

W. E. Goynes, postmaster at Fairly, used to be a valued correspondent for the News Review, especially in the sports department, until he retired several years ago—retired from reporting, that is, not from the post office. A sample of his wry humor appears now and then along with a subscription order, such as this: "While B. L. Wright was up from Mart and kicking up his heels at the Hico Reunion Saturday night, I relieved him of four bucks—two for the HNR and two for the Fairy Cemetery." You ought to get around more, Pickle, no telling who or what you'd find.

Mrs. J. H. Montgomery Jr. (Formerly Selma Smith) accompanied her check with a chipper note: "Say, how about starting that paper again? I've neglected to send check and missed two or three weeks, and I do enjoy it so much. You see, this is my 12th anniversary of being in bed, so news from the old home town looks wonderful to me." Mrs. Montgomery sent a clipping from a Dallas paper regarding the death last month of an ex-Hicoan, J. J. Green. "It was Bob and Lee Green," she added, "who had the first picture show in Hico—I believe they are called theatres now."

Joe D. Betts, who now lives at Garden Grove, Calif., has written for a street address change on his paper. "We moved just a couple of miles to the East, come to see us some time," Jodie added. O. K. Sailor, first time we're that far out West we may do that. But you may have to move a couple of thousand miles east before we have that opportunity.

Other new and renewal subscriptions received during the past month, included the following, which are acknowledged with appreciation:

Hico Voters Follow Trend to Shivers by Small Margin Saturday

Allan Shivers received four more votes for Governor in the Hico box last Saturday than did Ralph Yarborough. The totals reported by Precinct Chairman A. A. Brown were 192 to 188.

This was a switch in the local box from the voting in the first primary, July 24, in which Yarborough received 236 votes, with 197 for Shivers.

Hamilton County, which went for Shivers in the first primary, elected also to stay in the Shivers column, 1649 to 1103.

Voting was lighter than had been predicted, and also lighter than customary throughout the State, especially in the larger boxes.

Only county run-off was for Justice of the Peace in a box which did not affect Hico, wherein George Evans defeated Garland A. Tiner.

The Texas Election Bureau of Dallas made its final report of Saturday's second Democratic primary at 4 p. m. Monday, giving Governor Shivers a 92,406 vote edge over Ralph Yarborough.

The bureau said only about 2,500 votes were uncounted in 29 counties.

The final tabulation, from all 254 counties with 234 complete, gave Shivers 773,690 votes and Yarborough 681,284.

This gave conservative Shivers the Democratic nomination for an unprecedented third term by 53,17 per cent.

Shivers led the July primary by 23,787 votes.

The final report showed Associate Justice Few Brewster nominated for re-election by 777,478 to 428,201 over Austin Attorney Alfred Scott. At noon Scott had been reported with a total of 428,892. The election bureau said the difference was caused by a correction in returns from Jones County.

In the race for Congress, District 14, the final report from 19 counties, 18 of them complete, gave State Senator John Bell 43,285 and State Senator William Shireman 36,938.

A total of 1,454,974 votes was cast in the governor's race, the last election bureau returns show. Shivers will be opposed in the Nov. 2 general election by Republican Tom Adams of Crockett. Adams said Monday he expects to open a campaign between Sept. 15 and Oct. 1.

Gillespie County (Fredericksburg) gave Shivers the heaviest vote percentage. The 1,576 votes cast for Shivers against 166 for Yarborough was 90.1 per cent. Next came Webb County (Laredo) with 87.8 per cent or 6,212 for Shivers to 854 for Yarborough.

Three Visitors Bring Lions Club Attendance Within Three of 'Par'

The customary summer slump seems to have affected attendance at the Wednesday noon luncheon meeting of the Hico Lions Club this week. Three visitors, however, brought the total up to twenty, which is within three of the number for which Loudermilk Cafe is guaranteed on meals.

The guests were Sam Butler of Hamilton, Milton Dunlop and R. A. Roberts. The latter two agreed to consider becoming regular members of the club.

President Rutledge was joined by R. B. Jackson, membership and attendance chairman, in appreciation for the number present during recent meetings, and in an appeal for more to become interested in the meetings of Lions Club, described as "the strongest civic organization in the community."

Announcement was made of the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors, to be held at Loudermilk Cafe at noon next Tuesday, Sept. 7.

Sunday, Sept. 5, Is Date for First Annual Salem Homecoming

A homecoming for former residents of the Salem community, between Hico and Stephenville in Erath County, has been set for next Sunday, Sept. 5. The celebration will be held in Stephenville City Park.

All people of the community, former residents and anyone interested in such a get-together have a cordial invitation to attend. They are requested to bring basket lunches, which will be spread at noon.

Speaking for the committee, C. B. Noland said that many people now living away from the community had been anxious to initiate an annual event of this kind, of which Sunday's gathering will be the first.

Vieta McAnally, who has been spending the summer vacation from her teaching duties at Duffau, has ordered her paper changed back to Odessa where she will teach again this year.

WITH THE COLORS

JACK'S A FIRST LOOEY
Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Neel report a pleasant visit last week with their son, Jack Neel, and family at Salina, Kansas.

Upon their return to Hico Paul was full of information about his son Jack and his duties, but most of it was double-talk because he didn't want to release any classified information about Uncle Sam's jet bombers which he was allowed to inspect after going through a lot of red tape.

Main item of interest, to our notion, was the fact that Jack has been commissioned a first lieutenant.

Mr. and Mrs. Neel saw many historical sites and interesting places, among them Eisenhower's home at Abilene, Kansas, which has been made into a museum.

October Draft Quota Calls for Induction Of 1,122 From Texas

Austin, Aug. 25.—The state draft quota for October calls for the induction of 1,122 Texans into the armed forces, Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state selective service director, said Wednesday.

A total of 2,630 men from 69 of the 137 state draft boards will be sent for combined physical and mental examinations in October, also, General Wakefield said.

"The 69 boards receiving calls for examinations have the largest number of older registrants not examined," the state selective service director explained when asked why other boards received no calls for examination.

Local board quotas for the October induction call and October physical examinations are scheduled to be mailed to the boards during the first week in September.

The 1,122 October quota is Texas' share of a national call for 23,000 men during that month. National quotas, beginning with the July call have been up from the average of 18,000 a month for several previous months.

"More men are being induced because the armed services need to replace more men getting out during the present fiscal year," General Wakefield said. "Inductions and enlistments credited to this state are currently exceeding separations," he said.

Instructions received with the October quota call for induction of men 20 years old and older, with drafting of men below that age being authorized only if the call cannot be filled with older men.

Latest available figures show that 21 out of every 100 men being inducted in Texas are under 20, but all are volunteers for induction.

While driving to Fairy recently Virgil Parker noticed a wild cat sitting at the foot of Fairy's east mountain near the Olga Duncan home. He secured a 22 target at the Duncan home and drove back and killed the animal. Sheep owners have reported the loss of small lambs and it is thought the wild cat is the source of these losses.

Dove Shoot Opens 1954 Game Season With Good Prospects

Austin, Sept. 1.—Opening of the north zone mourning dove season at noon Wednesday marked what could be one of the best shoots in recent years, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the showers that preceded the opener restored water tanks in many parts of the state at a time when the early migration of the feet birds was underway.

"Reports from scattered areas," said the Executive Secretary, "indicate there are plenty of native birds and that thousands of others have moved into the state enroute to their wintering grounds in Mexico and Central America. The problem is to have enough feed and water to hold them in Texas. Feed seems to be adequate in most places and the available water has been increased by moderate to heavy rains."

The Executive Secretary pointed out that roughly three-fourths of Texas was opened to mourning dove hunting at noon Wednesday. The North Zone season runs through October 10. The South Zone season prevails from noon October 1 through November 9.

The North Zone comprises Val Verde, Kinney, Uvalde, Medina, Bexar, Comal, Hays, Travis, Williamson, Milam, Robertson, Leon, Houston, Cherokee, Nacogdoches, and Shelby Counties and all counties north and west thereof.

The Executive Secretary said the best time to hunt mourning doves is late in the day when they are moving to and from feeding and watering areas. He said they "loaf" in the shade in the heat of the day and do not move about much.

He explained the favorite feed of mourning doves is grass seed, weed seed, and seed of domestic grain such as red top cane, hogear, or any kind of small grain.

The daily limit is ten doves. Possession limit is the same. Daily shooting ends at sunset. Shotguns must be plugged to three shots. Rifles are prohibited.

The Executive Secretary suggested hunters obtain landowners permission before hunting on their premises and added that persons doubtful about legal provisions should see their local game warden.

STAYS WHITE AND BRIGHT FOR YEARS
cleans itself!
MAGNIFIED CROSS SECTION SHOWS SELF-CLEANING PROCESS
1. All paints collect dust and dirt during the first few months.
2. With Du Pont House Paint, a fine white powder forms on the surface after a few months.
3. Rains wash off this powder—and with it, much of the accumulated dirt and grime.
4. Self-Cleaning leaves surface clean and white. . . keeps it sparkling white for years. This cleaning process is gradual and does not adversely affect the long life of the paint.
For lasting home beauty, make sure your painter uses Du Pont House Paint. Made of an exclusive Du Pont combination of pigments and oils, it literally sheds dirt and dust during every heavy rain . . . leaves your home handsomely white, sparkling bright for years. Normally, this "Self-cleaning" action starts in a few months on most surfaces. However, excessive soot or heavy shade, or stains from metal surfaces such as copper screening, may interfere with or delay the process.
Consider the other advantages of Du Pont House Paint. As it keeps your house beautiful for years, it also protects against rust, rot and decay. Smooth, easy application, excellent spread and high-hiding—all these factors work in your favor when Du Pont House Paint goes on. It's available in "Self-cleaning" tints as well as white.
And here's a tip for your painter: When working on new wood or excessively weathered paint films, a prime coat of Du Pont House Paint Primer is recommended. It assures maximum adhesion and performance of the finish coat.

Listen as the Redbird Rambles By Carolyn Holford

SHADES OF FALL... are beginning to appear again, and with football season opening soon, guess everyone will be in the mood. So far the football season is the only indication of anything Fallwise.

THE GRAND STATE... of Texas does not need to fear the drought following the election as one of the campaign promises of our re-elected governor was relief from this situation.

MOST ASKED QUESTION when the Redbird returned to Hico over the week end was "Do you like your work in Fort Worth?"

NOW THAT SCHOOL is about to begin, the Redbird would like to pay a tribute to the type of teacher who loves her work so well that she makes it a pleasure for her children to return to classes.

THIS TALK... is also backed by actions of this teacher. She is probably not the only teacher in Hico who feels this way or who works out her job thoroughly, as certainly any teacher who stays with this career for a lifetime must be devoted to the work of making a class enjoyable and seeing that no child is neglected.

this teacher takes practical applications to teach mathematics, geography, government procedure and many little things, such as change-making, buying money orders, writing checks, and others. Last year she went to a great deal of work to set up a post office in miniature in her classroom. She took the students to visit the local office, and with the cooperation of the post office staff, taught them the procedures. Then when they returned to the classroom, they continued the project, with one student serving as postmaster, and others being clerks or customers or route carriers. Perhaps in this way, they learned many things which would be overlooked in books or they gained a conception of geography and other subjects which might have been mere dull facts.

Perhaps you have guessed by now that the third grade teacher is Mrs. O. C. Cook, who is probably at this moment dreaming up a new idea for entertaining her children while teaching them throughout the nine months of school. Lucky is the child who is entering her classroom this year. Well, as a matter of fact, we believe all the children who are entering school in Hico this year are pretty fortunate.

AUNT AMANTHA'S BIBLE By Garry Montgomery

PROMPTLY, at 10 o'clock, as usual, Aunt Amantha, who was 78, sat down to read a chapter in her big family Bible before she went to bed.

She lived alone in her old ancestral house and, when she'd finish a Bible chapter, closed the big book and locked windows and doors. But tonight she forgot these two things, because of a phone call.

It was her daughter-in-law to relate some of the latest gossip. The conversation had irritated her, for it was so late. That is perhaps why Aunt Amantha left the Bible open, turned off the lights, and walked to her bedroom.

The other thing she forgot was to check and see if windows and doors were locked. She fell asleep minutes after hitting the pillow.

A shadowy figure of a man slunk across her lawn, hesitating only at the double front windows. It was fairly dark here, for a street lamp was down away, and the moon a mere slit of reflected light.

He pushed at the double windows, and smiled as they gave in. Carefully, being the expert he was, he pushed at them again, and they opened easily and without a squeaking.

This would be a cinch, he thought. The easiest job he'd ever done! The house, too, was dark, and he imagined no one would stand in his way, now!

The shadowy figure climbed stealthily into the house. His hand in a suitcase pocket he brought out a long, slender flashlight that would give off a needle-like beam. In a moment the light pinpointed across the room, hit the table.

The light showed the opened Bible, a lamp on one side, a squat vase on the other. He pushed the light about the vase, saw the peculiar Jap figures, then pointed the beam into the vase opening and leaning over, peered inside.

His heart skipped a beat as he saw a roll of bills, done together by a thick rubberband. Eagerly he tipped the vase upside down and the roll fell out.

Nervously he ripped off the band and counted the bills. There were eight $20 bills there! Hastily he shoved them into a suitcase pocket and turned the vase upright again.

Then he pointed the light at the opened Bible, saw the page headed Psalm 37. He saw marks on the margin pointing to Verse 17. Maybe it was a coincidence; but he was curious, and bent his head to read the verse marked by pencil.

It was curious that Aunt Amantha had marked this verse, tonight. He read: "A little that a righteous man hath is better than the riches of many wicked."

Suddenly a curious feeling overcame him. His spine tingled, a little. The verse seemed to strike him directly between the eyes! Somehow, he remembered his boyhood, his own mother, and dimly thought he recalled her Bible.

As suddenly, he grabbed at the bills in his pocket and, without bothering to put the rubber band around them again, stuffed them into the squat vase.

He found a drawer in the table, and in it a pencil and scratch pad. Beaming his light on the pad, he wrote: "Lock your windows at night."

He laid the scribbled note over the opened Bible, then hurried back to the front windows which he locked securely.

Shortly he was creeping toward the front door, his beam of light showing the way so that he would not stumble. Finding the front door he tested the lock, and then went out. He closed the door securely.

Better than the riches of many wicked... and the shadowy form of the man vanished into the blackness of the night.

SHORT STORY—

A BOLD ONE
By STELLA JONES

A young married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tragin had moved to a Texas city. They had recently married in another city in Texas. Her name was Mildred. He was a lawyer. They had a beautiful home in the heart of the city. Mildred enjoyed keeping house for Ray. A woman would come in and help clean up the house once a week and she would also do the laundry.

On this day Mildred got a telegram from one of her girl friends, who lived in the city where she moved from. She was a saleslady in a dry goods store and was having her vacation and would spend it with her. Would be there on the night train.

After they had finished lunch, Ray went back to his office. He gave her a sweet kiss and said, "Be good." She told him that after she cleaned up the dishes and took a bath she was going to bed and go to sleep. This is one time she should not have slept. See what happens.

She laid down on the day bed. She had been to a store close by that morning. When she came back she left her shopping bag and her purse on the table. The purse had $25.00 and some small change in it and some other things.

A certain young man, who knew Mr. and Mrs. Tragin, had come in from the army, having received his discharge.

While Mildred was asleep he came in the room. The back screen door wasn't hooked. A woman who lived next door to them saw him go in. He got the money and some other things and crept out, and she still slept on.

Ray decided to phone her. He guessed she was awake by now and he wanted to talk to her a few minutes. The phone rang but no answer. "I guess she got up and went somewhere," he thought.

In a few minutes she awoke and happened to look over at the table and saw that she had been robbed. She phoned to Ray and told him and he and some of the laws got there at once. Ray told her he had phoned.

"I guess I was asleep." She almost cried about it.

Their neighbor, Mrs. Smith, came over and told them that she had seen a man come in and leave. She just thought he was an agent or something. Was dressed in army clothes.

A saleslady said a man of that description came in the store and bought a bill of goods. Was dressed like an army officer.

"Would you know the man?" asked the sheriff.

"Yes sir, I would," and Mrs. Smith said she would also know him.

"He got in his car and left the store," the saleslady told them.

His parents lived there in the city. Ray and some of the laws and the two ladies went to his home. He was laying down taking a rest.

"Is he the one?" asked the sheriff.

"Yes sir, He is."

"Were you in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tragin this afternoon?"

Money and some other things were taken. This woman, Mrs. Smith, saw you leave the house."

The laws got too hot for him. He went out at the back door and left in a hurry in his car.

"We will get him," said the laws.

He stopped at a small place 20 miles away. Was in a cafe having a big time, talking to the waitress.

The sheriff said, "You are under arrest and come with me." They asked him what he had done with the money.

"I spent most of it." He was taken back and put in jail to await his trial.

The girl friend of Mildred's came in that night. Her name is Miss Amy Lee Origin. She was one of Mildred's chums. Ray and his wife told her of the robbery.

"Oh, Mildred, I'm sorry," said Amy. "I hope he will go to prison for it."

His trial was the next week. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hastings, were grieved about him. He was sent to prison for 5 years.

Amy enjoyed her visit very much.

Ray told his wife to always hook the screen door when she laid down or any time.

She said, "Honey boy, I will be careful next time."

Ray gave her the amount of the money that was stolen and some more. She had a beautiful compact on the table and that was taken. The man gave it to a waitress at the cafe and she gave it to the sheriff to take back to Mildred.

She will not forget this for a long time for she went to sleep at the wrong time and she will always hook the screens. It does not pay to steal for the Bible says Thou Shalt not Steal and no one gets any pleasure out of it. All that steals should be punished for it.

Your interest-earning U. S. Savings Bonds never take a day off

Underneath the newspaper you'll find a big, relaxed grin reflecting dreams of a new home . . . or possibly the happy retirement years in the future. For behind the smile is a pretty smart fellow who gets closer to his goals even as he dreams about them, thanks to U.S. Savings Bonds. Every Bond he owns is earning extra money for him every minute of every day. Bonds earn an average 3% interest, compounded semiannually, if held to maturity—and go on earning it for as long as 19 years and 8 months.

You can't find a surer way to save than by investing in U.S. Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan. Just tell the pay office where you work how much you want to save each week. It puts that amount aside for you. When enough money accumulates, it buys and turns over to you a Series E Bond. Why not sign up at your pay office today?

If you want your interest as current income, ask your banker about 3% Series H Bonds which pay interest semiannually by Treasury check.

Precautionary Use of Insecticides-Herbicides

A word of warning to farmers who spray their own fields: Never use the same equipment for applying herbicides and insecticides without a thorough cleaning between jobs.

In the long run, it is actually better to use two sets of equipment.

Many farmers fail to recognize the killing power of herbicides on broad leaf plants. The chemical 2, 4-D is especially powerful. It does an excellent job on weeds—but its effects are just as potent on your cash yielding row crops.

Even a very small residue of 2, 4-D will remain in your spraying equipment from one season to the next. If an insecticide is mixed in the tanks, that left-over bit of 2, 4-D will still be enough to cause serious damage to the crop.

Near Round Rock, Texas, this year, a farmer sprayed his entire cotton crop with the same equipment he used to kill weeds around the barn and house. Even though he had cleaned the tanks, the residue was enough to blight his field. Fortunately, he still had time to replant his cotton.

Cases like this are frequent and thousands of dollars are lost each year. In other instances, herbicides are carelessly applied, resulting in extensive damage.

An employee of a Texas Air Force Base once used far too much herbicide chemicals for the job at hand. He sprayed 100 yards of weeds along a railroad track, using 100 gallons of undiluted 2, 4-D. Actually, only one gallon of chemicals properly diluted was needed.

The concentrated spray from this job drifted into adjacent cotton fields and killed the plants.

In 1952, some 1,054 cases of damage from herbicides were reported to the Texas Department of Agriculture. Last year, this number was cut to 239—but it is still too much waste from carelessness.

Remember to clean your equipment with the solutions recommended by the Texas Department of Agriculture. But to be really safe, use two sets of equipment for the two jobs.

For the most part the packers were singing the blues over the condition of the dressed meat trade and the fact that currently their slaughter is running far behind a year ago at Fort Worth and other Southwestern packing centers.

This gloomy mental attitude was not shared by the buyers of stocker and feeder cattle and calves. Order buyers and dealers at Fort Worth said they could use many more high quality stockers and feeders than they are getting in the runs, and it appeared that feeding of cattle in the 1954-1955 season would be at a heavy rate.

Corn Belt and Western States feeders had a good year last year with estimated profits by the USDA running between $30 to $40 per head. While this was above average, the spread between feeder costs and fat cattle prices has narrowed somewhat this year, the feeders were apparently able to see a favorable margin still.

This served to take thousands of calves and yearlings out of packer channels and into stocker and feeder channels. At Fort Worth Monday, the good and choice quality stocker calves and yearlings drew $15 to $19, a few calves higher, older steers and long aged yearlings drew $18 downward.

Slaughter calves were bid lower and in many cases sold well below last week's high time. Cows were steady to 50 cents lower, most of the more desirable kinds selling pretty near steady and the junkier and excessively grossy kinds taking the dip. Bulls were weak to 50 cents lower and sold fully $1 below two weeks ago. Fat steers and yearlings drew steady prices, with choice fat kinds topped in the $20 to $23 bracket.

Hog Prices Tumble; Lowest In Weeks

Top hogs sold at $21.75 at Fort Worth Monday, a break of 75 cents per hundred under last week's close. This was the lowest point in several weeks.

Packers reported pork sales were lagging and pointed to breaks in wholesale pork prices last week of from $4 to $9 per hundred at some of the Eastern population centers.

Supplies of hogs were increasing seasonally to some extent, but it appeared the pork was running into a combination of hot weather and liberal supplies of other kinds of meat as the principal factors in their downfall.

Packers pointed out that a heavy percentage of the hog requires some time to cure and process and with the Fall season at hand and its increased supplies coming up the long-term view on pork prices was definitely inclining downward barring unforeseen developments.

Sheep and Lambs Hold Steady Here

Despite lowered dressed meat reports from Midwest and from Eastern centers, in the past several days the lambs and sheep held steady at Fort Worth. Some support from the stocker and feeder buyers was a prop under the market as was the fact that receipts were rather light. There was steady demand for breeding types of ewes when they had quality and were of suitable ages to go back to the country.

Good and choice fat lambs topped at $18 to $19, and were considered by the trade as quotable to $20 and $21 when they were suitably fat and conditioned. Stocker and feeder lambs were quotable around $12 to $16. Slaughter ewes sold from $3.50 to $6 and stocker ewes ranged from $6 to $10, a sizeable string of good ewes at $10 going back to the country from Fort Worth Monday that averaged 15 pounds.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

"RULES OF THE ROAD" EXPLAINED

With the death-laden Labor Day week end and the usual series of football week ends coming up, the thoughts of many Texans are turning toward traffic safety.

To obtain correct and authoritative information about driving is a simple matter. A letter or postcard to the Department of Public Safety, Driver's License Division, Austin, Texas, will bring an official publication, the "Texas Driving Handbook" to anyone who requests it.

Aside from considerations of personal safety, proper driving habits and observance of traffic laws will help prevent financial loss. This is true in spite of the fact that most people now carry liability insurance as a protection under the Texas "Drivers Responsibility Act."

A negligent or intentional act is necessary in order to impose legal liability for damage. Where both parties to an accident are negligent, the court will very likely say that both are at fault, and that each must pay for his own damages.

Two of the most important legal rules pertaining to accidents are those having to do with "proper look-out" and "proper control."

Even though legal speed limits are expressed in terms of a certain number of miles per hour, conditions may arise which prevent the driver from maintaining "proper control" of his automobile at that speed.
