Austin, Sept. 14.—With the state Democratic convention out of the way, Texans interested in government and politics turn their attention to the next regular session of the Legislature, coming up in January.

As the lawmakers convene, their principal problem is likely to be raising new taxes, in the amount of $10 million to $15 million per year.

Governor Shivers has advocated spending $5 million more annually for mental and tubercular hospitals.

He also has recommended more spending to continue improvements in the state prison system.

And he favors a state water conservation program.

Money will also be called for to enlarge the highway patrol and to continue paying teacher salaries at the current rate.

Present Conference. In his first press conference since the run-off primary, the governor said that his re-election constituted a re-statement of Texas independence.

To please Texas, the South and Southwest, the national Democratic Party must get back to the middle of the road, Shivers said.

Specifically, he recommended replacement of Stephen Mitchell, national Democratic committee chairman, with a "good, strong, middle of the road" man.

It's Not Over. Not ended by the recent gubernatorial election is the long fight between the conservative and the liberal-loyalist Democrats of Texas.

Already preparations are being made for another struggle in 1956, when, as in 1952, the rival candidates in Texas may clash over issues in the presidential campaign.

In Austin as well as in many another city, the conservative forces are setting up a permanent organization to work between elections.

Letters will go out to workers at the precinct level, thanking them for their efforts.

Fliers will be kept for use as reference when the campaigning begins next time.

Labor organizations are also active in the interest of elections two years hence.

Sent out by the UAW-CIO headquarters to all local union leaders in the state was a letter saying "We must, of necessity, prepare ourselves to be able to present our candidate and the issues to each and every voter next time."

Expressed in the letter was regret that Ralph Yarborough, opposing Shivers for the chief executive's job, was defeated.

Campaign Strategy Planned. For many years, the continuous political work done by the CIO has been recognized.

Union people work at politics the year round, whereas Texas conservatives have been, in the past, inclined to relax from the political wars between elections.

A significant development is the indication that conservatives now plan to alter their strategy next time by keeping right on the job from now right through the 1956 primaries.

One national columnist, commenting on the Texas election, remarked that the conservatives of this state have finally realized "that a political party cannot be captured by frontal assault. It must be captured by patient, quiet work at the precinct level."

Expenses Reported. Finally reported by both candidates were their expenses for the campaign.

Governor Shivers revealed a total cost of $285,121, with $242,687 in donations and no debts or loans outstanding.

Judge Yarborough reported that his campaign expenditures were $279,722 with $245,394 in gifts and $35,258 in debts outstanding.

Agency Reorganized. Re-organization in the Texas Education Agency's high officialdom came about as the result of the resignation of L. P. Sturgeon, associate commissioner of education, who will become public relations director for the Texas State Teachers Association.

Moving up in the agency will be Warren Hitt, who becomes deputy commissioner of education; Bascom Hayes, who will be assistant commissioner for instruction; and M. A. Browning, who becomes assistant commissioner for vocational education.

Dr. J. W. Edgar, commissioner of education, recommended the changes.

State Revenue Increased. In the fiscal year ended August 31, the State government took in $70,556,658, or nearly $55 million more than the total for the previous 12 months.

Biggest items in the state's budget are schools (about $255 million), up $26 million; welfare (about $150 million), up $20 million; and highways (about $152 million), up $5 million.

Accounting for much of the boost in revenue were increases in taxes on oil, natural gas, motor fuel, and franchises. There was an $18 million increase in federal aid for public welfare. Added to endowment funds was $28 million from mineral bonuses and royalties.

HICO, TEXAS, SEPTEMBER 17, 1954. NUMBER 18.

Textile Manufacturing Opportunities Cited at Meeting of Lions Club

C. W. Deaton, head of a corporation at Dallas engaged in the manufacture and marketing of children's lingerie, presented a detailed discussion of his firm's background at Wednesday noon's meeting of the Hico Lions Club.

Present at the invitation of Weldon Pierce, on behalf of the Lions committee which has investigated several plans for establishing or inducing the establishment of a local garment factory, Mr. Deaton said his organization had grown rapidly and constantly since its start in 1949.

The visitor outlined a plan whereby his organization, including key employees to operate the machines which he is willing to sell under certain conditions, might be moved into adequate quarters in Hico and operated successfully at a great civic advantage.

His decision to sell his enterprise was arrived at, he said, after he had been invited into other fields which present what he considers more advantages to him.

Upon motion by T. A. Randalls, who thanked the speaker for presenting "an intelligent picture of the textile business," the club voted to submit the plan at an early Board of Directors meeting.

President Wayne Rutledge and President Wayne Rutledge promised that it would be gone into thoroughly. Mr. Deaton requested that those present think the proposition over, ask questions and make investigations, and let him know what decision had been arrived at, saying he would be glad to come back again whenever needed, and work with local people on this or any other proposition that might fit into the plans and desires of the citizens.

Twenty-six members attended the meeting, along with three other guests, Richmond Herrington, W. J. Risenhoover, and Wade Anderson.

Prospects are favorable for the Carlton Rams to develop into a good football aggregation this year, according to a statement this week from Jack Griffin, the coach.

Griffin is from Baylor, and is starting his first year with the athletic department of Carlton High School.

First home game is scheduled for next Thursday night, Sept. 23, starting at 7:30 p. m. on Carlton's lighted field. Coach Griffin extends a cordial invitation from fans of this section to attend the game, and expects a large crowd due to the fact that the Rams are playing on Thursday night instead of on Friday night when other games might interfere.

This week Carlton journeys to Sidney to launch the 1954 football season on Friday night.

Among local students returning to college are the following: Roline Chaney, Baylor University; Bruce Slaughter and Harold Prater, University of Texas; Bivyn Dinklin, Tarleton State College; Betty Shook and Roberta McMullan, Fort Worth; and State College for Women.

Six members of the 1954 Hico High School graduating class were reported last week from the superintendent's office to be enrolling for college work this fall. They are Peggy Goodloe and Jean Sherrard, Tarleton State College; Carol Harris, Baylor University; Dennis Ray Stipe, Texas A & M College; Donald Ross, Southern Methodist University; and Mel Anders, Sul Ross.

Enrollment Rises at Hico Public Schools; Budget Is Estimated. The Hico schools show a slight increase in enrollment this year, according to Supt. O. C. Cook. One hundred and nineteen students, seven more than last year, had been registered in high school by last week end.

Enrollment in elementary school, several admissions and withdrawals still expected, stood at 312.

The preliminary budget estimate for operation of the schools this year is $76,246. The final estimate is now being prepared.

FAMOUS TREE RECOVERS.—Texas' famed Live Oak, located near the coastal resort city of Rockport, apparently has completely recovered from an illness which almost claimed its life last year. The big oak is about 2000 years old, measures 32 feet in girth, and has a crown spread of 140 feet. Legend has it that the oak was used by the Karankawa Indians as a site for tribal councils and by early white settlers as a hangman's tree. It attracts hundreds of visitors to the Rockport area each year.

Rainfall at Waco So Far Even Below Hico's Dry Record

Waco, Sept. 15.—The first eight months of 1954 have been the driest of the 20th Century in Waco, and unless it rains 2.25 inches or better during the next two weeks, it will have been driest first nine months of the period.

Even at Hico, where drought conditions exist, weather observer W. R. Hampton reports total rainfall of 1917 for the first eight months this year—a slight edge of .39 inch over Waco's report.—Ed. Note.

So far this year the weather bureau has registered 9.79 inches of rain here. This compares with 9.82 inches for the first eight months of 1925, the driest of the century for that period prior to this year.

But for the nine months' period, including September, the previous record was set in 1917, which incidentally was the most arid full year of the 1900s, with only 13.39 inches. 12.04 had fallen up to Oct. 1. (It rained only 1.35 inches the last three months of 1917.)

If the inequatorial rains produce 2.25 inches for Waco, 1954 will tie 1917 for the nine-month drought championship of the century to date; if it doesn't rain that much, 1954 will be the driest.

The equinox is next Thursday, Sept. 23, so any rain that falls the rest of this month can be counted as an "equinoctial storm."

The Blackland Experiment Station at Temple finds 1954 thus far the driest on record there, but the station's records go back only to 1913, whereas the Waco records compiled by the Waco weather bureau goes back to 1900. The Temple station has recorded 9.93 inches of rain this year compared with 11.98 inches in this period in 1925, the year that, up to now, hold the drought record for eight and a half months there.

Temple's driest year of record was 1948, when only 20.41 inches of rain fell for the entire 12 months. That is a pretty respectable drought, but nothing to compare with Waco's 1917 figure of 13.39 inches, and Waco also beat the Temple drought mark with 20.12 inches in 1951.

Equalization Board Winds Up Its Work; Rolls Being Prepared

Current tax rolls for the City of Hico are about half finished, according to a statement from Mrs. J. R. McMillan, city tax officer.

The equalization board finished up its work on Sept. 4. A. A. Brown, Lee Rainwater and Ray Cheek were appointed to serve on the board by the city council. Henry Davis took Cheek's place when the latter was unable to serve.

Time was when a turkey poult, if he survived the first few weeks in which young turkeys fall prey to a staggering number of ailments, had a life expectancy which stretched to the next Thanksgiving, or even Christmas.

That's a thing of the past. Smaller turkeys, larger families, greater family mobility which enables all the cousins to gang up on one bird—these are combining to make the turkey an any-Sunday bird beginning in August, or even earlier in the year.

Back in 1940, says the Bureau of Agricultural Statistics of the Department of Agriculture, 79 per cent of all turkeys marketed were eaten in November and December. In 1953, this was down to 50 per cent. So far this year, the first seven months have shown a 20 per cent increase in turkey eating.

Bobby Ogle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ogle, left last Saturday for Torrington, Wyoming, where he will be employed by the H. B. Zachry Pipeline Company.

Tigers Smothered in Struggle with Strawn

Outclassed Locals Rugged on Offense, Ragged on Defense

By BUCK MEADOR

The 1954 football season was opened last Friday night in Tiger Stadium, with the young and inexperienced Tigers taking a 45 to 0 shellacking at the hands of the Strawn Greyhounds.

The locals, with only two veterans, Ronald McKenzie and John Halsey returning this year, were soundly outplayed and beaten by possibly the best team to come along at Strawn in many a year.

The Greyhounds, led by five footed halfbacks, Eddie Morris and Joe Flinn, jumped into an early lead and were never headed. They led 7 to 0 at the end of the first quarter, 20 to 0 at the half, 26 to 0 at the three-quarter mark, and racked up three more touchdowns and one extra point in the last stanza to make the final score 45 to 0.

It might be pointed out however that five of the Greyhound touchdowns came after Hico miscues, either fumbles or blocked punts inside the locals territory.

The Tigers' defense and their punting were the most obvious weaknesses of the team. Their offense worked fairly smooth but the defense was ragged from end to end. What could have been a very close contest was turned into a rout on these two very weak points. Come Friday night, you will probably see some marked changes in the Tiger team.

On the first play from scrimmage last week, Eddie Morris took a hand-off and skirted left end for 82 yards and a touchdown, only to have the play nullified by a penalty. It didn't seem to bother them very much as they scored their first points a few plays later.

Pass from center was fumbled by the kicker and Strawn was in business on Hico's 19 yard line. On the second play from this point Joe Flinn carried over for the score. His conversion was good and the Greyhounds led 7-0.

In the second quarter, Hico again fumbled on the 42 yard line. Three fumbles later and Eddie Morris had his first 40 yard touchdown from the 32 yard line. The third TD came three plays after a Tiger punt was blocked in their own 40, with Joe Flinn gaining 36 yards for the score. The first half ended with a score of 26-0. Morris had scored their first points a few plays later.

The second half it was about the same story. Strawn's fourth score came shortly after play started when Hico attempted to punt. The ball went straight up and daily came to rest on the Hico yard line. Three plays later and Eddie Morris had scampered over the 19.

Hico made their most serious bid for the night following this score. They worked down to the Strawn 24, only to lose 20 yards on an attempted pass, back to the 44, where Strawn took over. In two plays Strawn had worked down to the Hico six where the quarter ended.

On the first play of the final quarter, Morris knifed his way through for six yards and another TD.

Four plays after the following kickoff Strawn had possession of the ball on Hico's 45. On the next play Morris scooted the distance for his fourth touchdown of the evening.

The seventh and final TD of the night came in another Hico bubble. Strawn blocked a Tiger punt on the 16 and Larry Pruitt passed to John Lunsford for the 46 yards to end the scoring and the game.

Tonight (Friday) the Tiger's journey to neighboring Glen Rose for a battle with the Glen Rose Tigers. The Somervell County lads also went down in defeat last week at the hands of Meridian. The Yellowjackets pinned a 26-0 loss on Glen Rose.

Local fans should see a much better play game this week if they will play along and support the Tiger.

Unsafe Automobiles Menace Community, Safety Officer Says

"Unsafe automobiles are a menace to the community," Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association and Services Advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation today issued this warning and invited Texas motorists to join the statewide effort to put all automobiles in good mechanical condition. This vehicle maintenance program, sponsored by all official and non-official groups, is being conducted throughout May in cooperation with the Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

"A motorist has no more right to drive a mechanically unsafe car than he has to walk down the street brandishing a loaded revolver," Col. Tilley said. "In fact," he continued, "the unsafe car could be the greater menace, since its lethal nature is less obvious."

He pointed out that the alibi, "I didn't know my brakes were in such bad shape," doesn't excuse a fatal automobile accident any more than the alibi, "I didn't know the gun was loaded," excuses a fatal shooting.

"It's every driver's duty to know exactly what condition his automobile is in, and there's no excuse for ignorance on this point," Col. Tilley said.

According to Col. Tilley, a driver should keep checking his car constantly for the more obvious dangers or points. "This is easy and simple," he said. "A quick walk around the car can show if the lights are working. The windshield wiper, the horn and the mirror can be checked from the driver's seat. A brief examination of his tires will disclose excessive wear. Loss of brake efficiency shows up in ordinary driving."

"But no driver," he said, "should be satisfied with these surface checks. He should have his car checked regularly by a qualified mechanic. On the following points should be carefully checked: headlights, rear and stop lights, brakes, tires, steering mechanism, windshield wipers, muffler and exhaust system, window glass, horn and rear-view mirror."

Fairy

By Mrs. Eunice Massena

We have had much cool weather the past week, but the days are still in the nineties, and the nights are in the hundreds.

We are very sorry to report that Mrs. Brittle Little, a patient at the Hico Hospital, died Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. She had been in the hospital for several days, and everyone around here had gone to church, but she called for help around the house until about three o'clock that afternoon when the Park family, who live next door, returned from a visit in the home of their daughter and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Leonard. They rushed her to the hospital and we are glad to report her much better.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McClure and son of Boise, Idaho, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Lackey and sons on Wednesday of last week. They formerly resided at Burnet, Texas and were back for a visit with their parents and other relatives at Burnet and Dallas. Bro. McClure held the several summer meetings at the Church of Christ in Burnet, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy McClure and two small children of Cleburne have moved to one of the new apartment houses in Hico. Mr. McClure is a coach of the girls athletic community.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Porterfield and Mrs. J. A. Edwards and children of Agee attended the Smith reunion last Sunday week held at Pecan Grove near Gatesville. The sisters and families all of their Mr. and Mrs. Lester Smith of Hico. Betty returned home Saturday after an extended visit of her sons, Mr. and Mrs. L. Water, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Betts and Donna Jean Mrs. Burden Grove, Calif.

The writer was a business visitor to Dublin Saturday and while there visited a while in the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and Darrel.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sills are moving to the Woodard Brummett farm, where Mr. and Mrs. Brummett resided before moving into their new home recently. Mr. Sills will assist with the farm and ranch work. They have been residing on the Fred Jones Ranch (the former Burden place) but due to the drought, Mr. Jones sold part of his cattle and did not need extra help. Mr. and Mrs. Harley Beck have been living on the place for the past several years and looking after the cattle. After purchasing the property, Mr. Jones had two nice modern dwellings erected at the old home site of the Burden dwelling.

The writer and daughter, Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and Mrs. Bill Lackey visited Monday afternoon with Mrs. Brittle Little at the Hico Hospital.

Cotton is opening fast and if dry weather continues will soon be gathered. Seems most farmers are planning to let all open and make one pulling get all.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Driver of Dallas were recent visitors in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Driver.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hurt and twin daughters of California are expected to visit in Fairy during this week end with her father, brother and wife, Walter Porterfield and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Porterfield. They are on their way to Houston to make their home.

Mr. Hurt, who is employed by an oil company, has been transferred there. Mrs. Hurt will be remembered as the former Helen Porterfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Carolyn and Jimmie Don visited Sunday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Sellers of Hamilton.

The writer attended singing at Board Church near Gustine last Sunday afternoon and visited a few minutes with Mrs. Minnie McCarty on our return to Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Elzie Lee Parks of Fort Worth spent the week end with their parents, Mrs. M. E. Parks and Aunt and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Seago of Hico.

Mrs. Gladys Cox visited Sunday afternoon with Mrs. J. J. Leeth and daughter, Mrs. A. A. Brown of Hico.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Campbell and son Damon of the Pleasant Hill community, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blakley and Lera Jane Sunday. In the afternoon Mrs. Campbell and son and Mrs. Blakley and daughter attended a youth rally at Evant.

D. E. Allison of Dublin, son-in-law of the writer, came down Tuesday morning and carried the writer and sister, Mrs. Gladys Cox to the state laboratory for examination, which was thought to be rabid. Our doctor had advised taking the cat alive. We first drove to the home of Mrs. Cox's daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Price. Mrs. Price phoned the laboratory and was informed they did not accept live animals but only the heads of dead animals. She called a veterinarian who lived near her home to see about having the cat killed, but he did not advise killing it, but to wait until it died and then have the brain analyzed. This veterinarian had been bitten five different times by a rabid cat and gave us some information that we feel should be passed on for the benefit of others. He stated that a rabid dog will seldom leave its path to bite anything, yet a cat will make a lunge for anything it sees. He also stated the voice of a rabid animal will be husky as the throat is paralyzed and that you can neither eat or drink when bid and that they appear weak and sick. Our cat, which had fallen to come in for her meals for several days was about ten years old but had stayed in an unusually old species of cat and a very valuable cat we thought. Thinking, due to the fact that we could have died, we had a search of the premises to see if we could find out to turn out the chicken. On our return to the house we noticed our fox terrier pup pecking through a hole in one corner of the storm cellar door. We opened the door and out came the missing cat. She was reeling as she walked, but we thought this due to weakness from starvation. We went in and fixed some feed and when we returned she had left the yard. We later found her at the poultry yard. We thought she had gone there for water and picked her up and carried her back to the house. She would not eat the food, but followed us around and while trying to induce her to eat, she suddenly made a lunge and grabbed our foot on the right instep. Then we thought of rabies and realized we must get hold of her and pen her. So we got a sack and her feed and when she came to the feed, we quickly threw the sack over her head and put her up. We put water and feed in for her but she never ate any of the feed, but we did see her drinking as we thought. But this veterinarian says they are only trying to drink and do not swallow the water they lap up. The cat was left with the veterinarian and he will take the head to the laboratory when she dies. He stated she showed every symptom of rabies. We hope that this incident won't be the cause of valuable dogs and cats being killed, but we do hope that it will be the means of a lot of dogs and cats being vaccinated against rabies. This veterinarian tells us that out of 269 rabid cases in Austin last year, that none of the number had received inoculations. So we can see it pays to have them vaccinated. After all we feel we have a lot to be thankful for, as our face could have been torn up or an eye or both put out. This was another of our number 13 misfortunes. Monday was the 13th and the cat was 13 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Abel and Mrs. Dorman Vance and Cindy, all of Grand Prairie were weekend visitors in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jackson and Gwen. Mrs. Vance and Cindy will remain here the rest of the week.

Saturday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jackson were Bro. and Mrs. L. J. Wood, Mrs. Clarice Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hicks, Mrs. Betty Christian and family and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Abel, Louise and Cynthia Vance.

"EASY DOES IT"
BY HELEN HALE
YOU'LL find it easy to make ham and eggs quickly if you brown ham slices for a minute in the skillet, break an egg on top of each slice, then add 2 teaspoons water, cover and cook gently for a minute or two until the eggs are coated with white. Remove egg and ham slice together to warm plates for serving.

Quickly does it: Melt 8 large chocolate-covered mints in top of double boiler, adding a tablespoon of cream and blending thoroughly.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Cheese Beans
(Serves 4)
1 1/2 cups cooked 1" pieces green beans
1 teaspoon salad oil
2 teaspoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
Salt, pepper
Salad greens
1 1/2 cups cottage cheese
3 strips bacon, cooked, finely chopped
Drain beans, add oil, vinegar, garlic salt, salt and pepper to taste. Toss together to blend. Press lightly into small ring molds. Chill 1 hour. Run knife around edge to loosen. Unmold on greens. Spoon cottage cheese into centers. Sprinkle bacon over beans.

Spread on cake or cookies and let set for a few minutes before serving.

Fruit tarts and pies will have a nice glaze if you melt bright red jelly and top them with this.

Mashed cooked prunes blended with softened cream cheese make a tasty spread for sandwiches or breakfast toast which everyone will enjoy. It's healthful, too!

Have some sandwiches left over from lunch? Don't toss them out even if the bread has dried. For your next lunch or snack dip them in egg-milk mixture (as for French toast) and brown in a skillet with melted fat.

SCANNING THE NEWS

DESPITE austere warnings of some voices in Congress, in the State Department and outside of government, it appears that the United States has decided to give passive acceptance to the theory of "co-existence" with the Red Moscow-Peking axis, at least until some overt act forces a change in our policy.

As a matter of fact this nation's most powerful friends and allies are going in for this "peaceful co-existence" with Communism whether the USA likes it or not.

Here is the picture—Britain, our most powerful ally, has given tacit approval of the trip of its former prime minister Clement Atee and other Socialist British leaders for a good-will trade junket to Communist China. The British government is also giving encouragement to another trip to Moscow for talks with Malenkov.

In Paris, as was shown up at the Brussels conference, Premier Mendes-France is dead set against the European Defense Community and the set-up of a supra-national army, including West Germany for the defense of Western Europe. Whether Mr. Mendes-France is motivated by the desire to have the French parliament ratify EDC or not, he could not more directly play into the hands of Moscow, thereby weakening EDC.

The objectives of imperialistic atheistic communism does not change. And it has long been the avowed purpose of Moscow to wreck EDC and set up a Moscow-Berlin-Paris axis for the spread of Red Russian control to all Europe. Since the Communist victory at Geneva, Moscow has been playing up the "peaceful co-existence line" which means the end of any EDC for Western Europe, the neutralization and unification of Germany and the ousting of the United States from European soil.

So the Moscow campaign to prevent German rearmament via EDC, is on the surface gaining ground. All around the free world . . . In Japan, Britain, the Netherlands, France, Germany, Italy, Denmark, there is a tendency to close eyes to what is going on . . . there is a spirit of optimism for more trade with Communist nations and communist satellites.

In the meantime Russia bides her time . . . continues to build armaments, has outstripped us in long range bomber production. Russia won out in Korea with her satellite Red China . . . She won out in Indochina and that war torn nation is partitioned and it appears now that even in Free Indochina, if free elections were held today the Vietnamese might vote to join the communists. Russia is readying for war. We cut our defense needs.

Business in the non-communist world is good and as of now new war scares are hidden behind the thundering clouds of Russian intentions . . . so our policy now seems to be to go along passively with "co-existence."

In the meantime a committee of our Congress, The House Select Committee to Investigate Communist aggression, in a recent report declares that "co-existence" is a communist myth and will lead to war . . . that such "peaceful co-existence" can be attained only through the complete surrender of our free way of life for one of slavery under Moscow-controlled communism."

Hico, Texas, Friday, Sept. 17, 1954.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas. A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas.

STOP, THEN PASS HALTED SCHOOL BUS AT 10 MPH, LAW SAYS

School busses over the state have now begun the task of carrying thousands of children to and from their studies. Soon to be expected are the inevitable tragic reports of deaths and injuries occurring when impatient youngsters dash across busy highways to greet their waiting parents or to board the bus. Most of such accidents could be avoided if motorists would adhere strictly to the letter of the law pertaining to the passing of school busses.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear of a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed on one side of the center stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of any bridge, viaduct or tunnel. The prohibition also applies when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the center of the roadway.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Listen as the Redbird Rambles

By Carolyn Holford

SMALL WORLD . . . it has again turned out to be. Convoir is an aircraft plant which seems to stretch for miles into infinity when you stand inside the main assembly plant and look down the expanses of fluorescent lighting. The side walls seem to meet at some indefinable distant point, which makes it hard to determine whether there is an end to this part of the plant.

And yet, the Redbird discovered the other day that it does have an end. Lost in flight, she had no signals by which to determine whether she was going in the right direction. So almost before she knew it, the end of the plant was in view. Turning around, she was surprised to hear a familiar voice from one who was working out in the spare department of the plant.

Raby Bruner, who has been a Convoir employee for a number of years since his discharge from the Navy after World War II, was also surprised to see the Redbird. Said he hadn't been very close in touch with homefolks since he and his wife Joyce had moved to a home of their own here in Fort Worth. Joyce is now working in downtown Fort Worth, but she also is a former Convoir employee.

Incidentally, Raby is a committeeman for the labor union, which probably creates a lot of work for himself. But then this is likely just another indication of how well he gets along with his fellow workers.

ANOTHER BIRD . . . if readers will pardon the pun . . . walked by while the former Hicoans were talking and said he was a Dove and had been reared at Carlton. He said he often goes to Hico to visit his wife's relatives.

So old home week extended all the way down that aisle. . . . EVEN ON A LONELY . . . country road, the Redbird found a connection with Hico the other day. On the way from Valley Mills to Lake Whitney on an improved farm-to-market road, she stopped at a filling station which was practically an oasis there in the prosperous looking farmland, where one met few people except those in care.

Stopping at the station, she talked to the owner, Thiele, who is a cousin of Dr. W. F. Hafer. Then she discovered she was only a short distance from the Hafer farm, where the doctor's father lives. Mr. Thiele said his wife is related to Miss Ira Cunningham in Hico.

GLAD IT'S NOT . . . Redbird season, as it is dove season, 'cause this gal might have to really spread her wings. By the grapevine she has learned, however, that doves must become smarter around Hico, and seem to have migrated either to a less arid place or to a place where gunshot is not so plentiful.

That's why she was a bit startled when a fellow employee told her that he had spent the week end in that locale and had seen a great flock of those grey birds, and what's more he had shot them.

Where was he hunting? Well, the NR really should charge for this information, so if you'll come by and make a bid on the data, you might be able to obtain directions from the editor; that is, if he is not out dove hunting. (Clues found below, if you can't find him.)

Best we know is that it was in the Chalk Mountain area, somewhere off the Stephenville road.

FOR A RECENT . . . article on a portion of the history of Hico, the NR staff has received an expression of appreciation. Readers may recall the story on the old Stinnett house, which was printed about six weeks ago, written by Mrs. Lora Denman of Dublin.

Mrs. Denman, we learned, was very much surprised to read about the Stinnett house. She had worked several years previously compiling the information, and had intended it for her own use and for her family. The Redbird received the information about three years ago, and typed off a copy of the history thinking it might make a good feature story some time later. It was printed without the author's knowledge.

Mrs. Denman's sister was also surprised to read about the house and it was she who called the article to the attention of her sister. This lady, Mrs. W. S. Cooper, now lives in Fort Worth, and the Redbird had the privilege of talking with her Saturday. Mrs. Cooper is the former Maud Hall, from a well-known family among long-time residents of Hico. She is a cousin to Mrs. Jim D. Wright, Mrs. Tyrus King and a cousin to Mrs. Susie Salmon, among other relatives that still live there. All these persons could probably add their own story to the article about the Stinnett house, we would guess. Any story about a home is as unending as history, and involves as many people as ever lived in it or went near it. For that reason, we admire Mrs. Denman's patience and perseverance in working many long hours to write such an interesting story in detail.

United States Policy in Indochina Dates Back to Vandenberg Resolution

By Walter Sheard, Washington Correspondent, National Weekly Newspaper Service. (This is the second in a series of four articles relative to the Indochina war where a trace has recently been signalled.)

United States policy in Indochina dates back to 1948. Basically it is set out in the resolution of June of that year sponsored by the late Senator Arthur Vandenberg. It pledges our assistance to guarantee that weaker nations may develop in freedom, but these conditions are under a system of collective security, or of collective defense.

In other words the United States is willing to enter into an agreement with the states of Indochina, and with other nations in the far east, or with our allies, Britain and France, to guarantee the freedom of these weaker nations.

It was under the terms of the Vandenberg resolution that our present Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles in 1951 went to the Far East representing our then Secretary of State Dean Acheson, in an attempt to set up such a system or pact in the area. He was partly successful only. He succeeded in forming separate pacts with the Philippines, with Japan, and a third with Australia and New Zealand, the so-called ANZUS pact.

Unfortunately it was the colonial status of Indochina in the French Union which made us suspect Indochina wanted its freedom. We were allied with France and France did not move fast enough in giving independence to the Indochinese states.

Secretary Dulles recently put it this way: "We are not prepared to go in for a defense of colonialism. We are only going to go in for defense of liberty and independence and freedom. We don't go in alone. We go in where other nations which have an important stake in the area recognize the peril as we do." However even under this policy we have poured billions of dollars into Indochina for military aid and material to help the French, hard-pressed both militarily and economically, against the communists. We have given aid to the Indochinese themselves for rehabilitation, public health improvement, projects and other means to increase the welfare of the people. We have conducted exchange of persons program bringing students, teachers, leaders to this country for study and advanced training in engineering, agriculture, public roads, mass education.

When the French returned to Indochina after World War II in 1945, the Japanese, who had overrun the entire peninsula, had reduced the people and the country to a state of abject poverty. It took years for the French to rebuild, and at the same time fight a war which lasted over seven years. This was one of the factors which prevented the independence which had been promised in 1949. French investments run into millions of dollars in rubber plantations, mines. What few roads and railroads were left had to be rebuilt. Even today the rivers are the chief highways and lines of communication in the terrain of mountains, vast jungles, fertile deltas and virgin timberlands. Only two ports serve the country, Haiphong at the mouth of the Red River in the north, now in Communist hands, and the twin cities of Saigon and Cholon in the delta of the Mekong.

To sell our friendship to the Indochinese leaders themselves has been an uphill job, despite our known attitude toward giving freedom to smaller nations, such as our action in the Philippines. We are pictured by the wily Communists as the occupying masters in Japan, and because of our alliance with France our proffer of aid was held up as just more colonial rule. All

CONGRESSIONAL

Q—Is the President required by law to submit a budget? A—Yes. The Budget and Accounting Act of 1921 authorized the President, assisted by the Bureau of the Budget, to prepare and submit an annual budget on the first day of each regular session for consideration by the Congress. In 1930 the provision was amended to require submission within 15 days on which the budget could legally be delivered because the second session began on Jan. 6. Although the President submits a budget the Congress is in no way bound to follow his recommendations. The Constitution gives to the Congress the power to levy taxes and vote expenditures for the operation of the government.

Q—Does the term "senior Senator" refer to age or length of service? A—The words "senior" and "junior" as applied to Senators refer to length of continuous service. A senior Senator may be younger or older than his junior colleague. Since seniority is important in the Senate, a state's senior Senator is more likely to hold the committee posts he prefers and to rank high on his committees (which means he is closer to committee chairmanships or a position as ranking member.) Provided they are both members of the party controlling the Presidency, the senior of a state's two Senators could normally expect a greater voice in patronage. Actually, a junior Senator sometimes ranks well in Senate seniority. Sen. Richard B. Russell (D Ga.), in the Senate since 1933, is the Peach state's junior Senator, but is ranking minority member (and a former Chairman) of the Armed Services Committee. Sen. Walter F. George (D Ga.), in the Senate since 1922, is ranking Democratic member (and former Chairman) of both the Foreign Relations and Finance Committees. (Copyright 1954, Congressional Quarterly)

peek at THE STARS

WHEN Ronnie Gaylor gets his discharge papers from the army, Mercury Records will find themselves in the peculiar position of having two male lead singers for the Gaylor's singing group. . . . Ronnie, whose voice was the lead on the early Gaylor successes, was replaced when he joined the army. . . . It is the new lead who is featured on the later Gaylor releases. . . . Mercury will try to keep the new Gaylor group intact, by recording Ronnie separately, back by two other singers, utilizing the style of the early Gaylor records. . . . This is liable to be confusing on a juke box.

Just a few months ago, Jeff Chandler, rugged movie star, came out with his first record, "I Should Care" . . . Not satisfied with doing the vocals only, he has branched out and turned tunesmith with a song, "That's All She's Waiting to Hear," which he also is publishing in his new firm, Chandler Music. . . . This definitely puts him in the Jeff-of-all-trades class. . . . Toni Arden's brother, Jan, has joined the recording parade and his first number should be out very shortly.

PLATTER CHATTER: CAPITOL: Stan Kenton revives "Lady in Red" with sizzling effect. . . . Reverse has another oldie, "Under a Blanket of Blue" . . . Jerry Lewis cloths his way through a silly-dilly, "Please Don't Send Me Down a Baby Brother" . . . Flip side has "Candelabra Boogie" . . . Tennessee Ernie's latest is "River of No Return" and "Give Me Your Word" done in his own inimitable style. . . . Nat Cole has another hit in "Make Her Mine" . . . "I Envy" backs it.

EPIC: The DeJohn Sisters do a nice job with a new one, "A Kiss And a Rose" . . . Reverse has "Crazy Song of India" which only vaguely reminds one of Rimsky-Korsakov's "Song of India" . . . "If I Could Be With You" is revived by Somechis' Smith and the Skylarks. . . . "Oh, Jane! Oh, John!" is the zany bit that backs it. . . .

Previous occasions of this nature have brought a large attendance of their children, relatives and friends throughout the years.

The couple, born and reared in Morgan County, Ala., married there Sept. 18, 1887, and 10 years later followed relatives to Texas. Not realizing that furniture and other necessities could be purchased in Texas they chartered a freight car and shipped all their possessions, including mules and fowls, to Hico.

my PET PEEVE by Mike Bennett

IT PEEVES me no end to admit that my mother was right, many years ago when she said to me, "One of these days—if you live so long—you'll discover why parents have grey hair."

My two-year-old son and his continuous escapades keep my follicles in a constant uproar. Some of his recent hair-raising adventures: a fall down a flight of concrete steps; a second-best tangle with a family of wasps; an unsuccessful attempt to drive an automobile.

I have to give him the benefit of the doubt where the fall is concerned; that happens to a lot of grown-ups, too, when they get careless. I can't, however, overlook the fact that it's definitely seeking trouble to poke a nest bristling with wasps. And, letting off the emergency brake on a car when it's sitting on a steeply inclined driveway is a bad thing for anybody not strong enough to hold down the brake pedal.

In the matter of the wasps, the situation was handled with a liberal dose of DDT (for the wasps) and a like dosage of baking soda (for the boy). A serious injury to both child and car was prevented only because daddy just happened to open the door in time to see the car start to roll downhill.

My wife, of course, shares my equal concern, but I think she is equally troubled over the fact that I spend so much more time recently in front of the mirror. She accuses me of getting vain with age, although she knows well enough that I am looking for the first tell-tale tinge of gray.

The attitude on the part of grandparents is something, too. "Oh," they say, "you must expect these things. After all, children will be children."

Helping Hand Class Meets Monday Evening At Methodist Church

The Helping Hand Class of the Methodist Sunday School met at the church Monday evening, Sept. 12, at 7:30 o'clock for the regular monthly meeting. Twenty five members and one visitor were present.

Highlighting this meeting was a covered dish luncheon and the election of new officers and teachers for the class. Tables were arranged, and food brought in, and the luncheon came first, which consisted of sandwiches, salads, cake and pie, also tea and lemonade.

After the meal, the president, Mrs. Waggoner, presided over the business meeting. Two songs were sung with Mrs. McCauley leading. Mrs. Baldrige had charge of the devotional, reading Scriptures from the book of John. Mrs. Ogle led the prayer.

All officers were re-elected, except assistant teacher. Mrs. Ogle was elected to that place which was held by Mrs. McCauley. The meeting closed with each member standing to repeat the class motto.

One-Half of All Adults During Lifetime Suffer From Athlete's Foot

Austin, Sept. 14.—The common disease, popularly known as athlete's foot, is said to be the third most common disease seen by skin specialists during the summer, and the fifth most common disorder in winter. It is due to a little mold-like growth or fungus which thrives best where there is moisture and warmth. Therefore, the feet make an ideal place for the growth of this germ.

"To have athlete's foot, the infection must be gotten either directly or indirectly from someone else," states Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. "The most common places to contract the infection are around shower rooms, baths or bath houses, locker rooms, and other public places where persons go barefoot. And it is probable that at least one-half of all adults suffer from the infection at some time."

The following measures have been suggested for preventing and avoiding recurrent attacks of athlete's foot:
1. After bathing, dry carefully and thoroughly the spaces between the toes.
2. Liberally apply a plain, unperfumed talcum to those areas and sprinkle it freely in socks, stockings, and shoes.
3. Wear properly fitting hose, that are absorbent but not too coarse.
4. Wear shoes that are not too tight, nor too large. They should fit the foot comfortably.

Backward Glance and Look Forward Feature Garden Club Meeting

Mrs. S. E. Blair Sr. and Mrs. J. W. Fairley were hostesses to Hico Garden Club members last Friday in the home of Mrs. Hord Randsals, at a tea honoring presidents of the club.

Mrs. John Golightly presided at the opening meeting of the club year, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Lawrence Lane, and the vice-president, Mrs. Fred Rainwater.

"Backward Glances" at the club were given by Mrs. Marvin Marshall. In the Spring of 1946, in April, six or eight women met at City Hall to organize a Garden Club for Hico. Mrs. Marvin Marshall was elected president; Mrs. Effie Porter, vice-president; Mrs. H. N. Wolfe, secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Vivian Blair later wrote the by-laws. The first meeting was attended by ten or twelve ladies. The membership has increased up to date to thirty-six active members and seven associate members.

The theme for the new club year, "More Beauty Spots for Hico," is not only a goal for club members but for citizens as a whole. By working together, a lot can be accomplished. Growing a new flower and making yards and gardens beauty spots.

Cleaning all vacant lots of weeds and trash, and keeping weeds and wild grasses under control. Living up to the town's motto, "Healthy Hico on the Beautiful Bosque."

Mrs. L. N. Lane, president, was extended a leave of absence due to the illness of a sister, Mrs. Seales.

Tea was served from a beautifully appointed table graced by a dark green table cloth with a mass arrangement of pink and coral crape myrtle and queen's wreath. Twenty-four members attended, with three guests, Mrs. J. W. French who became a new member, Mrs. Lusk Randsals and Mrs. Tullio Randsals.

An interesting program is planned for the meeting on October 8 in the home of Mrs. J. E. Lincoln. The topic will be "Preservation of Leaves, Gourds, Burrs and Grasses." All members are urged to attend, and new members cordially invited.

What's New in Horticulture—A new seedless watermelon will be ready for planting next Fall.

Garden Reminders—Sow seeds of Texas blue bells, stocks and wallflowers in shallow boxes for sturdy plants to be set out before frost; clip back straggly branches of evergreens; divide daylilies, cut leaves back half way to roots after dividing; start new house plants.

Hico Review Club Opens New Year With Seated Tea

The Hico Review Club inaugurated its 31st club year with a seated tea last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Odie Petick.

Mrs. Bryan Angell was in charge of the entertainment, and had a most enjoyable program planned. A general business meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Truman Roberts on Sept. 23.

"THE BEST YEARS OF OUR LIVES"

Chances of Children's Dying from Disease Reduced Two-Thirds

Austin, Sept. 16.—Chances of today's school age children—5 through 19—dying of disease have been cut by two thirds in the past 15 years, a State Health Department statistical summary shows.

Thus, excluding accidents, the readin' writin' rithmittle set has three times as much chance of living to collect high school diplomas than had the class of '38. State Health Officer Henry A. Holle attributes healthier school life in 1954 to improved environment at home and school, immunization and vaccination programs, improved drug therapy, and education of the lay public on the importance of disease prevention.

One of every 594 school-age children in 1938 died of disease. By 1953 the ratio had been cut to one in 1785.

Parents of Texas one and three-quarter million scholastics can breathe easier knowing that 1953 diphtheria death rates have been reduced to one-tenth of the 1938 rate, influenza and pneumonia to one-sixth, scarlet fever to one-third, and malaria and typhoid fever to a flat zero.

Fifteen years ago, the summary shows, school child deaths from all causes reached 3389, compared with 1698 deaths last year. And enrollment in public schools last year was greater by 70,000 than enrollment in 1938.

"Typhoid fever and malaria are excellent examples of what can be accomplished by simply cleaning up mosquito and fly breeding areas, improving sewage and garbage disposal, and improving housing conditions," Dr. Holle said.

Malaria caused the death of 39 school children in 1938, and typhoid killed 144. Neither disease claimed a single life last year.

Significantly, it was in 1938 that the State Health Department began operating on its present scale.

The figures concerning accidental deaths aren't as bright as these on disease-produced fatalities. Accidents accounted for only 22.3 per cent of all school age deaths in 1938, compared with 46.7 per cent in 1953.

Accident prevention programs probably represent the most urgent field for student health education, Dr. Holle believes.

Answer to Puzzle No. 278

His hero...do you really deserve it?

Of course you deserve to be your son's hero. Haven't you worked extra hard to provide for his physical needs, strained your memory for facts to feed his enormous curiosity, passed on to him the timeless spiritual truths treasured from your own childhood?

Still, you wonder at times if you can ever be equal to the image you see reflected in his eyes. You wonder if you can ever build enough security to justify the unqualified faith that lights his face now.

Eight million Americans just like yourself have discovered a plan that's helping them work toward goals like this, a plan that can provide financial security for your family and educations for your children. It's the Payroll Savings Plan of investment in U. S. Savings Bonds—the Bonds that now pay an average 3% annual interest for as long as 19 years and 8 months.

Here's how it works. Just tell the people in your pay office how much you want to save. They'll put that amount aside for you each payday. When enough accumulates, they'll buy and turn over to you a Series E Bond which then adds its interest to your total. This way $3.75 a week, for example, becomes $1,025 in just 5 years.

The Payroll Savings Plan works even for people who have never been able to save before. It will work for you. Why not sign up today?

If you want your interest as current income, ask your banker about 3% Series H Bonds which pay interest semiannually by Treasury check.

Choose your own savings goal

	If you want approximately
	$5,000	$10,000	$25,000
Each week for 9 years and 8 months, save.....	$8.80	$18.75	$45.00
Each week for 19 years and 8 months, save.....	$3.75	$7.50	$18.75

This chart shows only a few typical examples of savings goals and how to reach them through Payroll Savings. Remember, you can save any amount you wish, from a couple of dollars a payday up to as much as you want. The important thing is, start your Plan today!

NEED FOR COVER CROPS

If experience is the best teacher, then Texas has had some harsh and bitter instructions on the need to save our agricultural land. Drouth has exhausted most of the subsoil moisture from vast sections of the state. Hot winds sweeping over nude fields lifted great quantities of our topsoil and powdered it into worthless dust. The disaster set us back many years in farm progress.

This is the second time in 20 years that we have experienced a "dust bowl" era. Apparently, we didn't learn our lessons very well the first time. But there are exceptions.

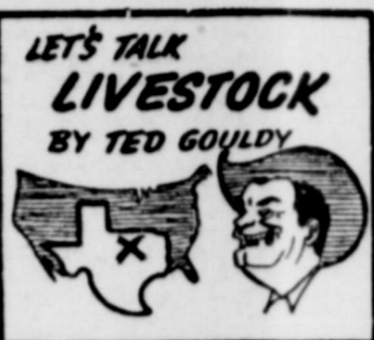

During a recent survey of the Plains area, a curious and heartening phenomena was observed. Next to a completely blown out field, you could see a plot which still retained its topsoil. The relatively undamaged areas were those where the remaining soil moisture was utilized to produce cover crops.

Thousands of acres of land are allowed to lie barren in the off seasons in Texas. These fields are the first to suffer damage when dry winds start to blow. Yet, time after time, cover crops have proven to be an important factor in preventing this waste. We should take advantage of this knowledge. Government authorities recognize this fact as a result, a recent change in the Agricultural Conservation Program makes any farmer or rancher eligible to apply for cost-sharing of planting cover or green manure crops on cropland which will be shifted from crop production next year. The ACP authorizes payment of up to 50 per cent of the cost of seedbed preparation, fertilizer, lime and seed for establishing cover crops on such land.

The main purpose of this aid is to provide adequate protective cover. But such crops can also provide emergency winter pasture for livestock. In many cases, this will be the only home-grown roughage available this winter and therefore could be extremely important in Texas.

Farmers and ranchers are encouraged to take advantage of the program this year. Conservation practices are drastically needed in all sections of the drouth area. A lot of poor up land should be retired to grasses and much more needs to be protected during the winter and early spring months.

In view of an expected shortage of some farm seeds due to short crops this year, farmers are advised to anticipate their needs and order seed early.

Cattle Sell Well, Stockers Strong

A big run of cattle appeared at Fort Worth and at other major markets as the mid-September marketing got under way last Monday. However, the buying power remained strong on cattle and prices were favorable.

Cows were fully steady and bulls also held fully steady. Slaughter steers and yearlings brought strong prices, with some fat steers and yearlings from $22 to $25, the latter price for a short load of fed cattle from the State Home at Corsicana. This $25 price was the highest fed cattle price in some months at Fort Worth. Numerous loads of well finished steers sold from $20 to $22.

Stocker and feeder demand remained strong and a load of fancy feeder calves weighing 512 pounds from P. R. Bonds of Tarrant County topped at $21, and their heifer mates sold at $18.75. Order buyers reported the numbers of high quality stockers and feeders was short of the demand for them from Cornbelt and Western feeding areas. Some of the plainer kinds of stocker and feeder steers drew strong prices.

Slaughter calves ruled weak to 50 cents lower with a top of $18 sparingly, and most sales from $17 downward of fat calves.

Sheep and lambs drew mostly steady prices except slaughter ewes were around 50 cents per hundred lower at Fort Worth Monday. Fat lambs topped at $19 and feeder lambs drew $12 to $15. Some feeder lambs at $15 were considered stronger than comparable lambs sold late last week.

Slaughter ewes sold around $3 to $4, a few outside that range. Slaughter yearlings sold from $8 to $12.50, and old weathers drew $9.50 down. Old bucks sold around $3.

Hogs In Sharp Price Advance

Butcher hogs moved up 50 to 75 cents per hundred at Fort Worth Monday. Top hogs sold at $21 to $21.75, mostly at $21 on top hogs. Less attractive butchers including fatbacks, cold bloods, lights and heavies were reported from $19 to $20.75.

Last week hogs had closed at $20.50, the lowest price of the year and also the lowest price since February of 1953 at this market.

Sows were 50 cents higher at $15 to $18.

The strong demand for stocker and feeder cattle and calves has been a firm prop under prices at the market at Fort Worth recently. The continued demand from principal feeding areas in the Cornbelt was bolstered by the predictions of a whopping corn crop this year. Fort Worth order buyers report more orders in hand than they can fill for the high grades.

In general, it is believed that feeding margins may be smaller this year than last, since stockers and feeders are currently selling $2 to $4 above a year ago. However, recent strength in the fat cattle market has been highly encouraging.

Stories of the drouth in Texas have been exaggerated in the minds of some of the mid-westerners who were at Fort Worth for the Aberdeen-Angus feeder calf sale last week. One lowan cornered this writer and asked in surprise, "What's this, I thought all the cattle in Texas were thin?"

Apparently he thought that all the cattle in this section were staggering around virtually starved to death. Fact is that because of the supplemental feed they have had, most calves and cows coming to Fort Worth this year are heavier than normally is the case.

Feeder lambs coming to Fort Worth yards are averaging 8 to 10 pounds heavier than normal this year. The reason? Not better pasture, but the supplemental feed the ranchers and farmers have been giving the stock.

In fact some lambs in feeder flesh are too heavy to suit most of the feeder buyers, indicating they had more milk from the supplementally fed ewes than was expected. They also probably picked up some of the feed, too!
