Safety Council Presents Lone Star Gas Co. With Safety Award

The National Safety Council announced today that Lone Star Gas Company has been presented the Council's Award of Honor for its excellent safety record.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, in a letter of congratulations to D. A. Huley, president of Lone Star Gas Company, explained that Lone Star qualified for the award because of its low injury rate in 1953.

The company's injury frequency rate was 46 per cent better than its "par" rate, and its injury severity rate was 80 per cent better. "Par" rates are computed by the National Safety Council from the company's experience in other years and from the rates of the industry's classification to which the company belongs.

Huley, in a letter to Lone Star employees, said: "The National Safety Council has presented our company with the Council's Award of Honor for its excellent safety record in 1953.

"Our safety department is due much credit. It goes without saying that the efforts of that department's personnel contributed greatly to the success of our 1953 safety program.

"I extend my heartfelt congratulations to all of you for this outstanding achievement in the field of safety," Huley concluded.

Another Tiger Tussle Slated for Hico Team Tonight at Blanket

The Hico Tigers will hit the road again tonight (Friday) for a tussle with another Tiger eleven, Blanket. The Blanket Tigers have a 1-1 (won-lost) season record, having been smothered in their season opener with Goldthwaite 49-7, and winning from the Comanche "B" team last week 19-6.

Last week the locals were defeated by the Glen Rose Tigers, 18-0. In defeat, the Hico aggregation showed the fans a much improved and promising ball club than the one that was routed by Strawn the week before.

Hico played the Glen Rose team on equal terms all the way except for the three scoring bursts. All phases of the Tigers' game was much improved over the opening effort. Their defense was very good in this game.

In the game last week fumbles again hurt the locals. They lost the ball five times, one leading directly to a Glen Rose touchdown, and several costing them needed first downs.

Glen Rose's first touchdown came shortly after the game started when Jackie Vaughan intercepted a Tiger pass on the third play from scrimmage and ran the ball down to Hico's 14 yard line.

In the second period Hico fumbled on their own 7 and Glen Rose recovered to set up the second touchdown. On the second play, Udel Sandlin went over from the four to bring the score to 12-0.

Glen Rose started their third touchdown drive in the fading minutes of the third quarter, when they returned a punt to the Hico 38. On the third play in the final quarter, Billy Ratliff scampered 26 yards to the goal line for their third touchdown.

Don't forget the game tonight with Blanket. Go along with the boys and boost them to their first victory of the season.

Can United States, as Leader of Free World, Let Communist Expansion Upset Our Apples?

By WALTER SHEAR, Washington Correspondent, National Weekly Newspaper Service. (This is the third in a series of articles on the crisis in Indochina.)

IN CONSIDERING the importance of Indochina to the United States, two premises must be assumed. The first is that whether we like it or not, this country is today looked to for world leadership. The second is that we have vital stakes in the Far East for which we have spent billions of dollars and sacrificed thousands of American lives.

These stakes are the Philippines, Japan and Korea. We are morally obligated and committed by treaty to preserve their freedom. Therefore the question arises can we as the leader of the free world allow our position to be eroded, piece by piece, by the expansion of either Russian or Chinese Communist control further into Asia.

Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, puts it more dramatically. "Dare we permit" this further expansion, he asks. Our principal allies, Britain and France have even more of a stake. Burma, Malaya, the crown colonies, Singapore and Hong Kong are the remnants of a once vast colonial British empire in Asia.

While France is giving up its colonial rule in Indochina, her huge investments made there during some 90 years are perhaps safe from expropriation. Indochina is a rich, almost un-lapped nation as to natural resources. Indochina is the "rice bowl" of the orient and the rice crop covers approximately 3 out of 4 acres cultivated.

Should this rich source of food and natural resources disappear behind the iron curtain, the economy and the peoples of Japan, the Philippines and Korea would suffer dinner at their home. The Clarks lived here a number of years before moving away two or three years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Richbourg, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Finley, Mr. and Mrs. E. Vines and Mrs. Tom Shockey of Hamilton spent Tuesday and Wednesday at Buchanan Dam fishing on the Hi-Line dock. Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Richbourg and Mr. and Mrs. Doc Finley spent Friday in Fort Worth.

Truman Finley of San Antonio visited Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Hiri Havens and John Alexander. Truman came by plane to Stephenville and his uncle, John Alexander, met him.

Some from Hico and other places visited Sunday at the Burks Bird Farm. The Home Demonstration Club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Zenith Johnson. Mrs. Hannah Belcher of Stephenville told the members how to care for small electric appliances.

From a strategic standpoint, Indochina lies across the most direct route, both sea and air, between the Pacific and south Asia. There is an almost unanimity of opinion among those best qualified to judge in our state department that (1) Red China will seek to overrun all of Indochina, and, (2) if Indochina falls, then Thailand, Burma, the Malay peninsula and the Republic of Indonesia will be next in line of erosion. This would mean 145.4 million more people swallowed behind the iron curtain.

But despite the tremendous world stakes on the block in Indochina, there is still some foot-dragging as between Britain, France and the United States in getting together on any acceptable agreement for united action. Thailand, thus far is the only Asian nation which has indicated its willingness to join a collective security pact. India is cool and remains neutral. Indonesian sympathies appear headed towards communism. Burma and Malaya will follow the British lead. Australia and New Zealand may go along. So will the Philippines.

The results of the Geneva conference boil down to the fact that the western world failed in its objective to eliminate the partition of Korea, and agreed to partition of Indochina. . . . were not willing to take the calculated risk of Moscow co-existence line . . . and the Moscow bluff worked. As this writer sees the picture in the Far East now, the stalemate in Korea will remain unless the USA is willing to reopen the war there on its own, and despite Gen. Van Fleet's recommendation that we do just that, we will NOT do so unless Red China's violations of the truce become so flagrant we can no longer remain passive and keep our self-respect in the eyes of the world and particularly in the eyes of Asians.

Certainly our prospects for peace have not been bettered, either by the truce in Korea or in Indochina. Secretary Dulles has been in favor of a strong policy. He has not been upheld either by our principal allies, nor by influential leaders in his own party at home. He has been forced to accept a policy of appeasement which may cost this country dearly. Mr. Dulles knows as do many here in Washington, that all is not well behind the iron curtain, that the western world has appeared when Communist Russia and China may be at their weakest point both by over-extension and by internal revolt. He admits his plan of united action or massive retaliation might involve serious risks.

"But these risks," he says, "are far less than those which will face us a few years from now, if we dare not be resolute today. . . . sometimes it is necessary to take risks to win peace just as it is necessary to take risks to win a victory. The chances for peace are usually bettered by letting a potential aggressor know in advance where his aggression could lead him."

Fairy

By Mrs. Eunice Massengale

We have somewhat cooler temperature today (Tuesday) following a cool front which passed over during Monday night. We received only a slight sprinkle of rain.

Some farmers are sowing grain in these dry fields of ours, in hopes of rain in the near future.

All were very sorry to learn of the passing of Blair Burney of Stamford, who passed away very suddenly while sitting at the dining table Saturday, according to information received Sunday. Funeral services were held Monday at Stamford where he resided. He was 72 years old and he and his wife and members of their family had attended the Burney family reunion held on Sunday, September 5 at the old Burney home place in the Gum Branch community, and remarked to friends that he expected to attend these reunions as long as he was able to come. They formerly resided near Fairy. He was a brother of the late John Burney who resided near Fairy for many years and is the last surviving child of the Burney family. We extend deepest sympathy to his dear companion and other relatives in this time of sorrow.

Also a Mr. Stidham of Hamilton passed away of a heart attack Friday night. He became ill while attending a football game at Kooker Field in Hamilton and when it was revealed by loud speaker that no doctor was present, he was rushed to his home, where he passed away before the arrival of a physician. He was 62 years old and was employed at Williams Hardware in Hamilton. He is survived by his wife and one son and family. We extend sympathy to his wife and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Springer and little sons, Randy and Van of Crane were Fairy visitors during the week end looking after business interests at their farm here.

We were very sorry to learn that Mrs. Ella Shepherd was a patient at the Hico Hospital last week. Sorry we did not know she was there on Monday when we visited Mrs. Little, who was a patient there. We have not learned whether or not she has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Carolyn and Jimmie Don visited Sunday in Dublin in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison, Darrel and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pittman.

Mrs. John Fort and son Elton J. of Clifton visited Sunday with their sister-in-law and aunt, Mrs. Emma Ogle.

Walter Porterfield and Uncle Bob Parks visited in Waco last week. Mr. Porterfield visited his son, Louis and family and Uncle Bob spent the night with Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Gafford. Rev. Gafford is a former pastor of the Fairy Methodist church. Uncle Bob is in his 94th year and stood the trip fine.

Dewey Wilson spent the week end in Lawton, Okla., with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Porterfield, who are now part-time residents of Abilene, spent the week end at their home here.

Mrs. Brittle Little returned home Saturday from the Hico Hospital and is doing much better at this writing. She suffered a heart attack last Sunday week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hurt and little twin daughters of California, who were expected to spend the past week end here with her father and brother and wife, Walter Porterfield and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Porterfield, postponed their visit until this week end. They have been visiting near Dallas with Mr. Hurt's parents and other relatives. Following their visit here they will go on to Houston to make their home, as Mr. Hurt has been transferred there.

The writer attended singing at Warrens Creek Baptist Church Sunday, accompanying Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sumerford from Hamilton. On our return to Hamilton we visited a while with Mrs. Minnie McCarty at the Hurley rest home.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones and Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Jones and families of Lanham spent the week end in Lubbock with the ladies sister, Mrs. Stella Gilmer. They went for the purpose of attending Mrs. Gilmer's wedding on Sunday morning, when she was married to Mr. John Anglin of near Lubbock. Her brother-in-law, Raymond Jones gave her away in marriage. No further information of the wedding has been received at this writing. Mrs. Gilmer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Sellers of Hamilton and is a sister of Carl Ray Sellers of Fairy. Mr. Anglin is the son of the late Clay Anglin of near Lubbock, who was killed a few years ago when his tractor overturned on him. The groom is a first cousin of the Jones brothers. His mother being the former Maud Crosby of the Lanham community. Mr. Anglin is farming and ranching near Lubbock and Mrs. Gilmer was nursing in Lubbock. They will make their home in Lubbock at present. We wish for them much happiness and prosperity through life together.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Sellers of Hamilton visited Thursday of last week in the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and family.

We guess many are anxious to learn the report of the cat, which attacked the writer early Monday of last week. As stated in last week's news the cat was carried to Austin alive on Tuesday of last week and after learning the State Laboratory did not accept the live animals she was left with an experienced veterinarian, who was to take the head in when she died. But to the surprise of all, she was still alive on Friday. We received a card on Friday from our niece, Mrs. Charles Price giving this information. We contacted our physician by phone who had us call our niece and have the cat killed at once, the test made and phone us the report. But Mrs. Price learned that there was a lot of so called red tape to go through and after contacting several doctors by telephone Friday learned she would have to go to the veterinarian office and sign a permit before they would kill the cat. This she did on Saturday morning and we received the report about noon Saturday that she was not rabid, which was quite the contrary to our expectations. Mrs. Price asked the veterinarian if the cat was still ill when he killed her and he said yes awfully ill and still fighting. Well all this caused a lot of anxiety and worry even though she was reported to have not had rabies, it doesn't set our mind entirely at ease, for being attacked as we were and seeing the cat attack the chickens and dog we still have a worry since our physician didn't recommend taking the serum. After penning the cat here on Monday we noticed a dark object in the storm cellar and upon examination found a baby kitten about 10 days old, which we believe was hers, and that she had moved the kitten there only a few hours prior to finding her. But again we were stunned, knowing she hadn't raised any baby kittens in ten years. So all has been a puzzle. We wish to thank our many friends who have been so faithful to us during our anxious waiting, in contacting us by phone and personal visits and offered assistance in any way. Words cannot reveal our appreciation to you for your thoughtfulness and should misfortune overtake you, may you too be remembered by such loving friends.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

HOME PURCHASE BRINGS LEGAL PROBLEMS

With "National Home Week" being observed September 19-26 many people will be thinking at least casually about the purchase of a new home.

For the average person, the buying of a home is the largest single transaction of his life.

Possibly the first legal problem you will meet will be when you are asked by the seller or his agent to sign a contract of sale or earnest money contract.

The next legal problem would probably be to determine the status of the title to the property.

Keep in mind that an abstract is merely an outline of public records on the tract. Any person may purchase an abstract covering any piece of land, whether he owns it or not.

Following this would be the problem of transferring the title from the legal owner to you, as purchaser, in such manner that no legal question might later arise concerning your sole and exclusive ownership.

Incidental to your title problems is that of ascertaining what restrictions exist upon the lot you are buying and upon the neighborhood generally.

Other legal questions may arise in arranging the method of payment for the house.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on legal problems involved in buying a home has been prepared by Texas lawyers.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Listen as the Redbird Rambles

By Carolyn Holford

Fort Worth, Texas, 9/22/54

PETE THE PYTHON . . . has been hogging all the publicity around Cowtown—in fact over the State and Nation—since announcement of the giant 18-foot snake's escape last Saturday.

You couldn't say exactly that Pete had been in the limelight, since every device and scheme imaginable has been used in the search around the area of Forest Park, where he got away from his caretaker, Harry Jackson, Franksters have added to the confusion to the extent that our guess would be that Pete has crawled away for good in shame over the dither he's caused.

News Review readers probably have later information than was available to Redbird when this was written. They can be assured that, since we live in the general area between Benbrook and Forest Park, we have a good excuse for looking under our bed before retiring at night.

KEEPING IN TOUCH . . . with folks from home is often easier in Fort Worth than it is in Hico, and of course there is always much more to discuss when one meets up with someone under such circumstances.

Very first day I was in Fort Worth, I met a friend of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Boyd who said he had visited them on several occasions. Seems like the Redbird keeps crossing their trail, as it has happened again. The other night when Judy and I were in Huddle's Super Market, we were nicely accommodated when a gentleman by the name of K. W. Boyd put his okay signature on a check which we wanted to cash. Turned out he said Hico was his old stomping ground, and that he was a brother to C. H. Boyd, and used to sell coffee as a salesman in that territory.

He said he'd like to come back and visit around Hico during dove season, so look out Boyds, you might have company!

AN IMPROMPTU VISIT . . . with Mr. and Mrs. Junious Morrill and family brought an enthusiastic welcome, and a trip to the new Western Hills Country Club of Ridgela, which is still in the building stage. Mrs. Morrill will be remembered by Hico people as the former Mary Helen Hall, and she and her husband and children, Kenny, Kathy and Emily, were on their way for a swim at the clubhouse pool, which had been opened for the very first time that afternoon.

The kids really enjoyed the ducking, and from the looks of the weather since that time, it might be the last day the pool will be so enjoyed. But there will be a lot of good times at the club house during the next year when it is completed inside and out.

Mary Helen could hardly enjoy her swim for worrying about the poor workmen who were having to work inside while it was such hot weather. Yet she did manage to get several duckings, and was right in there with the youngsters in their water pranks.

BOSQUE FROZE OVER . . . about fifty years ago, according to publicity in the Waco News Tribune about the painting by Mrs. Clara McDonald Williamson of Dallas.

Mrs. Bradford Corrigan of Hamilton telephoned the Waco News-Tribune to say she was there the day the Bosque River froze over.

Mrs. Corrigan ever remembers the cow that fell through the ice and ruined the skating. Maybe it wasn't the same day as that represented in the painting, but Mrs. Corrigan is pretty sure it was the same place—the old bridge over the river at Hico.

Mrs. Williamson's painting is reproduced in the Oct. 1 issue of Collier's and excited some comment among people who wondered where and when it was. It is entitled "The Day the Bosque Froze Over" and shows a group of people in the costumes of 30 or more years ago standing on the ice under a steel bridge.

It wasn't Bosqueville, where a steel bridge stood until early this year when it was replaced by a concrete span. The bridge wasn't the same, and old-timers said they didn't remember the Bosque freezing over at that point, even although Roy Durie of Robinson recalls it froze over at Flat Rock, some miles upstream, in 1930, and he skated on it!

But the painting was no mystery to Mrs. Corrigan. She skated on the Bosque at Hico in 1907 or 1908, she is not sure which, and she says the bridge in Mrs. Williamson's picture looks like the bridge she remembers. Too, says Mrs. Corrigan, the landscape in the background is the Hico landscape, although she recalls more houses than Mrs. Williamson shows.

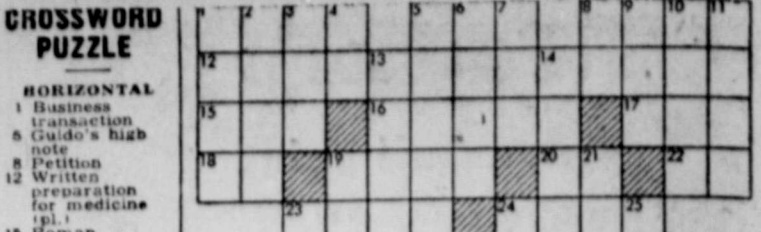

She speculates the painting represents an earlier freeze. (Temperature in the winter of 1899 went to 5 degrees below zero in Waco and Hico is 70 miles farther west and north and would be that much colder.)

to recall it to other people. Somebody had a cow staked near the river, and two boys named Carl and Arthur Weiser (they later moved to Waco) unfasted the cow and brought it down on the river and it broke the ice and fell through. The grown people had to come down and get the cow out."

Balmorhea State Park, southwest of Balmorhea, Texas, has the world's largest walled swimming pool—fed by natural springs at the rate of 26,000,000 gallons per day.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Slugger Wins the "Home" Game

Slugger White, the home town's star hitter, dropped by the other day to talk baseball, and to "tell one" on himself. Seems Slugger had been baby-sitting. "I was doing just fine," he said, "until it was time for a 'change.' I called Mom for advice. Still didn't get it right. Then Dad set me straight. "Place the diaper like a baseball diamond with you at bat," he said. "Fold second base over home plate, and pin first and third base on home plate. That did it—with no errors!"

From where I sit, Slugger's Dad had the idea. Often, like his Mom, a lot of us tend to give advice in our terms without considering the other fellow's way of doing things. Even in choosing your favorite beverage, it's best to think of your neighbor. If you like tea, and I prefer a temperate glass of beer, we should both "play the game" and try to understand each other's point of view.

EASY DOES IT

STUFFED dates for salad are made by pitting dates and filling with a mixture of cream cheese and orange marmalade. Use 1 tablespoon marmalade for each 3 ounce package of cream cheese. Grapefruit sections and unpeeled apple slices make a colorful as well as seasonal salad. Alternate green pepper slices and orange slices for another colorful salad idea. Serve this as a combination of light and dark salad greens for effective contrast. Here's a wonderful dressing for fruit salads: Mix together 1/4 cup

"Things get done when people do them together, and this is especially true in the field of child traffic safety,"

Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association, and Services Advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation, made that statement today in urging the cooperation of all the people in Texas in making a success of the child traffic safety program being sponsored locally this month by the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

"If we are to keep our children safe in traffic," he said, "it's going to take the combined efforts of motorists, parents and the children themselves."

The role of parents in this three-way safety effort is very important. Col. Tilley pointed out for parents can regulate to a large extent the activities of their children, keeping them away from dangerous traffic areas when they are not under the direct supervision of an adult. Parents also have many opportunities to teach children good safety habits.

"Of course," he said, "one of the best ways to do this is by example. If parents—and all adults—are careful always to follow safety rules, it will do much to instill in children respect for and obedience to these rules."

He pointed out that children don't have adult judgment, however, and that even when they have the very best training they sometimes are going to be unpredictable in traffic situations.

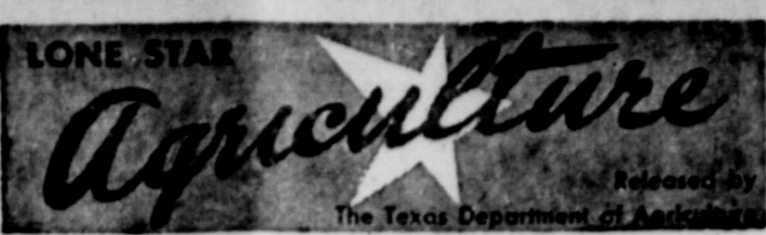

"This is where the motorist must do his part," Col. Tilley said. "It is up to the drivers to be especially alert near schools and playgrounds, in residential areas, and any place children might be expected to gather."

At the same time children themselves must do the best they can to walk and play safely, observing the rules they have been taught," he said.

"Schools are doing a fine job of teaching safety, from kindergarten right through high school," he said, "and the police do all they can to keep children safe on our streets."

"But if this child safety program of the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council is to become really effective—if we are to keep tragic toll of child traffic fatalities from arising—we all must work together to accomplish our purpose."

FERTILIZER-PESTICIDE MIXTURES

A time and labor saving plan to combine two separate crop spraying jobs into one operation is being studied by agricultural experts in the Southwest.

The eventual goal is to work out a practical method for applying both pesticides and fertilizers at the same time. If it proves practical, it may also mean a better net profit for the farmer through lower production costs.

Since the end of World War II the use of pesticides and fertilizers on crops has far outstripped the research end of the projects. The demand has been so great for yield-increasing farm practices that new ideas are put to work in the fields before a complete, controlled study has been made of them. The same goes for the dual pesticide-insecticide operation.

As a result, there are wide differences of opinion even among soils specialists on the merits and practical feasibility of the mixtures. Recommendations concerning their use vary widely from state to state, and sometimes even between agencies in the same state.

Despite lack of experimental data on use of fertilizer-pesticide mixtures the demand for them seems likely to continue. It probably will even increase in volume so long as their use affords a convenient economical and reasonably satisfactory way of combining crop fertilization with insect control.

But many problems are still unsolved. Paramount among these are:

(1) The type of mixture that will supply the desired quantities of both pesticide and plant nutrients at the desired rate per acre.

(2) Timing of the pesticide application to fit the time for applying the fertilizer to achieve best possible benefits from both chemicals.

(3) Attaining the best method of applying the pesticide—which may not conform with the most effective or practical method of applying the fertilizer.

(4) Development of new equipment for applying the materials. When these "kinks" are ironed out, the results should prove to be a real boon to Texas farmers.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Calves Sell Dollars Above Last September!

Just a year ago this week the calf market was at its lowest ebb in years. There was virtually no stocker trade on calves and yearlings with the heavy September receipts of 1953 moving largely into packer channels.

The break in calf prices of around 50 cents per hundred at Fort Worth Monday, with some spots on medium kinds of stockers around 50 cents to $1 per hundred lower, still left prices far ahead of a year ago on calves.

On Monday good and choice slaughter calves brought $14 to $17, and a year ago on September 24th, good and choice slaughter calves were quoted at $11 to $14.50, few above $13.50. Cull common and medium slaughter calves Monday sold from $8 to $13.50, and a year ago at this time drew $6 to $11.

Stocker and feeder calves topped at $16 to $17 a year ago as against $18.50 to $19.50 at Fort Worth Monday. Steer yearlings at $15 to $15.50 a year ago compared with $16 to $18 Monday.

Fat steers enjoy a better market than a year ago at this same date, but cows and bulls are not selling as well. Good and choice fat steers and yearlings at $17 to $23 at mid-September of 1953, compare with $19 to $24 at this time. Common and medium grassers at $7 to $15 a year ago compare with cattle sold this week at $10 to $18.50.

Fat cows a year ago drew $9.50 to $13, and this week at Fort Worth sold at $8.50 to $12.50, while canners and cutters a year ago drew $6 to $9.50, and cutters sell from $5 to $9, with some shelly canners under $5.

Bulls sold at Fort Worth a year ago from $8 to $12, and Monday drew $8 to $12, a few at $12.50.

Monday's trade at Fort Worth saw fat steers and yearlings steady to weak, spots 25 to 50 cents off. Cows were steady. Bulls were steady to strong. Slaughter calves were mostly 50 cents lower.

Some noteworthy cattle sales at Fort Worth Monday included a load of butcher cows at $10 from E. G. Ralls Estate, Tarrant County, a package of seven fat cows at the day's top of $12.50 averaged 1,153 lbs. from Fay P. Groebble, Tom Green County, C. F. Mock & Son, Oklahoma, had 112 fat steers at 1106 lbs. at $22. Clyde McClung, Johnson County, had 42 steers of 948 lbs. at $22, and 23 heifers at 813 lbs. at $21. S. B. Burnett Estate, 18 steers at 906 lbs. at $18; Tom L. Burnett Cattle Co., Foard County, 40 cows at 1,048 lbs. at $12; J. Carter King, Jr., Shackelford County, had some $18 yearlings at $50 to $50 lb. W. W. Davis, Howard County, 34 yearlings at $80 lb. at $16; Frank Kirk, Eastland County, 17 calves 544 lbs. at $19; John Driskill, Hood County, 15 calves at $19.50 averaged 341 lbs. and 25 head at 341 lbs. drew $16. Ray Robers, Fannin County, some 428 lb. calves at $18, and some at 441 pounds at $16.

Humble to Telecast Football Games on New Time Schedule

The most interesting plays from the TCU-Oklahoma and Texas A & M-Oklahoma A & M football games this Saturday will be featured next week on The Humble Company's TV program, Texas in Review. Kern Tips will deliver a commentary on the highlights from the games.

Another feature on the program will show how the Intracoastal Canal serves the State of Texas. This canal connects all the ports of Texas to Mexico. There will also be films taken at La Fiesta de Lameza, held recently in Lameza.

Beginning next week, Texas in Review will change times and stations in several areas of Texas.

New times for the program on Monday, Sept. 27, are: KRLD-TV, Dallas, 7:30 p. m., and WBAP-TV, Fort Worth, 8:00 p. m.

New time for the program Tuesday, Sept. 28, over station KCEN-TV, Temple, is 8:30 p. m.

Texas Farmers Could Add to Income by Reducing Fire Losses

Austin, Sept. 21.—Texas farmers could add as much as $5,000,000 to their annual gross income by reducing fire losses, an Austin insurance executive says.

Norris W. Parker, manager of the Texas Insurance Advisory Association, a trade association which compiles statistics on fire losses, said that fires in 1953 destroyed at least $5,000,000 worth of farm buildings and crops. The figure for 1954 may be even higher unless something is done to reduce farm fires.

Nationally, the picture is even worse. Fires across the nation last year cost farmers $100,000,000.

Three safeguards are suggested by Mr. Parker to help reduce farm fires:

1. Use care and forethought in the construction, maintenance and use of all farm property with a view to eliminating all needless fire danger.
2. Equip farm houses and out-buildings with simple fire extinguishing equipment to enable individuals to extinguish fires before they reach the serious stage; and
3. Organize farm community fire-fighting brigades equipped with more effective equipment than an individual farmer can afford to fight larger fires.

Farmers throughout the state are being urged to check their fire defenses as a part of the national observance of Fire Prevention Week, October 3-9.

WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Expiration notices sent out recently right in the midst of the drought have brought a flood of renewals to the NR's subscription department. Also entered as subscribers were a few new names, and a number of old friends who have come back into the fold.

Of course it's not all good news, in spite of the fact that our subscription list is the best it's been in the last quarter century—and maybe ever before. A few noble characters who received notices showed the courtesy and took the trouble to advise why they were letting their subscriptions go. One fine lady said she always enjoyed reading the home paper, and would like to continue except for the fact that her eyes were failing and wouldn't allow it. A courageous gentleman who's sticking it out by cutting all possible expenses said he'd be seeing us as soon as it rained. And so it goes.

Dave Persons, a loyal Hicoan who is now co-ordinator of the Haskell County Vocational School, made us very happy by attaching a note with his renewal: "Do not want to miss a copy of the best paper in Texas." Then along came Sid Dickerson, from out on Route 4, to let the wind out of our sails. Apparently peeved because he was waited on by menfolks whom he described as "a poor excuse for help around here," Mr. Dickerson gave us the privilege of sending his paper out blank on one side if we ever run out of news. Well, he might be surprised some week.

A note from Kansas City early in the month from Wade Green-salt who was vacationing there requested a couple of issues he would miss before he came home. "I'll pay you when you catch me," said Wily Wade. He came home, all right, but apparently he's hard to catch for he slipped in almost before we knew he'd gone.

G. G. Montgomery, who made us unhappy by moving to Waco, sent in his renewal and salved our feelings. "Two bucks won't buy much of anything," his note said, "but I want to keep a check on T. A. Randals and Paul Neel."

W. C. Watkins, who enclosed the long green to keep his paper going up to Fort Worth, also sent a clipping showing him analyzing water at River Oaks in his present capacity of Chief Chemist. He and his family, including his son Bobby who is in service, keep up with things around Hico where they lived until a short time ago.

Mrs. Jim Adams, now living at Stephenville, sends regards along with her renewal, as did the H. L. Sargents of Lake Dallas, Judge Frank G. McDonald of Waco, and a number of others who found time to say howdy along with their mail orders.

Grace Phillips, who was counting on paying her subscription in person but found it didn't work out that way, mailed it in from Mineral Wells. She migrated to

TSC Enrollment Shows Increase Over Last Year

Stephenville, Sept. 21.—Enrollment of students at Tarleton State College shows an increase of eight per cent over the corresponding time last year, Tarleton President E. J. Howell said today.

Figures through this week showed that 681 students had registered compared to 629 at the same time last year.

College officials pointed out that they expect about 100 more students to enroll between now and the last official day of registration, October 2.

Broken down into classes there are 449 first-year students compared to 472 last year, and 147 second year students compared to 97 last year.

Male students outnumber the women students, 505 to 176. Figures at this time last year showed that there were 469 men to 160 women.

One of the largest increases, percentage wise, was in the number of veterans signed up. Through this week showed a total of 45 veterans had enrolled compared to 14 at the same time last year.

The Liberty Bell was cast and cracked three times. It cracked on its first trial, was recast, then cracked during the funeral of Chief Justice John Marshall. It cracked again in 1846, when rung to celebrate Washington's birthday.

The eastern end of Long Island was once important cattle country. As early as 1860, "cow keepers" tended herds of grazing animals and from two to six thousand head ranged there until the end of the 1890's.

The Appalachian Trail in the eastern United States winds through 14 states, eight national forests and two national parks.

- Q—What is the educational exchange program of the State Department?
A—It is our Government's program of sending Americans abroad and bringing people to this country from more than 70 other countries to study, teach and absorb the meaning of each other's ways of life. The United States believes that these direct personal contacts in connection with projects of benefit to us and to each of the other participating countries will improve our international relations by building real understanding and mutual respect.
- Q—What and where is statuary hall in the capital building?
A—Statuary Hall is in the south wing of the Capitol near the center, comprising a room where the House formerly convened. Since 1864, when the room was reconstructed it has been designated as a national room where every state is permitted to exhibit two statues of illustrious deceased citizens. However of a recent date only 42 states were on exhibition there since the tremendous weight forced placing some 36 other statues in other sections of the building. States not yet represented include Wyoming, North Dakota, Nevada, New Mexico, Montana and Colorado.
- Q—Is the statue on the Capitol dome that of an Indian?
A—No. The bronze figure represents Liberty and is that of a woman. It is 19 1/2 feet high and weighs 14,985 pounds. It was cast in Rome and mounted on the dome Dec. 2, 1863.
- Q—What nations are included in the "Colombo" nations which are today frequently in the news?
A—The "Colombo" nations include those southeast Asian nations recently given independence including India, Pakistan, Burma, and Ceylon.
- Q—Is the picture of any other man except presidents of the United States used on any U. S. Currency? And will you name all presidents used on bills?
A—Yes. The picture of Salmon P. Chase, Secretary of Treasury under Lincoln, is used on $10,000 bills, and Alexander Hamilton, the first secretary of the treasury under Washington, is used on ten dollar bills, while Benjamin Franklin is used on one hundred dollar bills. On one dollar bills—Washington; two dollar bills—Jefferson; five dollar—Lincoln; twenty dollar—Jackson; fifty dollar—Grant; five hundred dollar—McKinley; one thousand dollar—Cleveland; five thousand dollar—Madison, and one hundred thousand dollar—Wilson.
- Q—How many signers were there to the Declaration of Independence?
A—There were fifty-six signers. These included 15 lawyers; 1 brewer; 8 farmers; 16 judges; 2 physicians; 3 soldiers; 8 merchants; 1 manufacturer; 1 college president and 1 printer-publisher.
- Q—Do parity price supports keep retail food bills high?
A—The House Agricultural Committee conducted a recent survey on this subject and declared while farm prices are reported down 20 points from the peak reach on the official index in 1951, you pay today about as much as you did then for your groceries.
