

What every weekly newspaper needs is a column!

That's what we have heard for the past three months all the way from average citizen to paper salesman.

First off, we must get on record as being anything but a columnist. We have had enough time of getting the regular items of news worked and re-worked and then sometimes they don't sound exactly as we might have intended for them to.

Most articles of news can be handled through the regular columns of the NR, but there are many, many items that are impossible to work in in the routine manner.

For this reason we thought that a column appearing periodically would be helpful in many ways. We have had enough time of making it a weekly feature, but we do hope to carry it as often as time permits.

Much thought was put forth for a heading which would be suitable for a column of this sort. After a lot of deliberation we still came up with the same thing, "Here In Hico." Since this article has been carried as a regular feature in the NR for the past 25 years, we could see no reason for changing the name in anyway. We hope we're not infringing on the former editor's copyright, and that he won't mind too much our using his head.

One of the first things that we might put a column to use on is a way to thank a couple of people who are always willing and ready to lend a helping hand to someone else.

We are referring of course, to Mr. and Mrs. Roland Holford. Last week a situation arose whereby we had to be out of town on the three most busy days in a weekly newspaper office, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

We called on them and they responded "above and beyond the call of duty." Returning to Hico Thursday afternoon about 2 o'clock the Holfords and Bette had things well under control.

Had it not been for their able assistance, the readers might have received a bob-tailed, four-page edition about Friday afternoon. But everything worked out alright and we are indeed grateful to the Holfords for their help at a time when it was needed most.

A person should never judge the voting strength of a small town by the number of poll taxes paid. This was proven in the City election held here last Tuesday.

A total of 154 polls were paid in Hico, yet 393 persons voiced their opinion in the election that day. Just goes to show what a little work and organization will do.

Transportation to and from the voting scene was furnished by both parties involved, and every conceivable means was used. For instance, two wheelchair patients were brought to town in the back of a pickup.

It all sums up to one thing: People will express their views whenever and however they might see fit to do so.

A feature is starting with the current issue of the NR which we think will be both beneficial and interesting to most of the readers. It is entitled "By-Lines," and is written by the Hamilton County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Frances Wilshire. It will contain many helpful hints to the women (and men too) on current things, such as food, plants, gardens, and many others too numerous to mention.

We thank Mrs. Lenard Weaver for her interest in securing this feature, and also Miss Wilshire for her efforts in preparing it each week.

Maybe it will prove to be as interesting to you as it did to this column upon our first reading.

Rain! Rain! Rain! Hico and surrounding territory was wonderfully blessed with a nice rain Tuesday night. Up to 2 inches was reported in some sections. After the freeze and high winds of the past three weeks, this territory could use several more inches of moisture. Always said that nothing helped a person's disposition any more than a good rain at the right time.

And now back to the business end of this little ditty.

The present management has now been in force for three months and 8 days, and we want to state right here and now that we like it more and more.

True, we have our down and out days, but we are very pleased with things in general.

We hope we have pleased the readers, and will strive to do better as the months pass. The better half of the partnership, Bette, has acquired a sufficient amount of printers ink in her blood, and we feel that she thoroughly enjoys the work around a business which was entirely new to her three months ago.

The younger member of the family doesn't comment too much on her elder's doings, but in time, she too, will probably be talking in terms of picas, ems, galleys, etc. If we get by with this without losing all of our subscribers, we might try it again in a couple of weeks.

GOV. ALLAN SHIVERS, left, officially opened the American Cancer Society's annual educational and fund-raising Crusade by declaring April as Cancer Control Month in the state. Louise Blair Appointed Chairman of Cancer Fund Drive in Hico

Seth Moore has been named to head of the Cancer Fund drive for Hamilton County and has tentatively set April 11 as the opening day of the campaign. The county quota is $1,000. Moore said on a recent visit to Hico.

"Of the cancer fund dollar, 39 cents is spent for cancer education to save lives by spreading knowledge about the disease," Mr. Moore said, "and 26 cents for the Cancer Research program with 13 cents for service to cancer patients." The remaining 22 cents, he said, is divided among four phases of the work.

Louise Blair has been appointed chairman for the Hico drive. Watch this paper for a more detailed report on the drive as plans were incomplete at press time this week.

YOU and Social Security

NOTICE OF VISIT

A representative of the Social Security Administration office in Waco will be at the County Courtroom in Hamilton on Wednesday, April 13, 1955, between the hours of 9 a. m. and noon, according to information received from Joe Clepp, Field Representative.

Mr. Clepp added, "Were it not for the voluntary cooperation and aid given by Hamilton County in providing our representative with space to meet with Hamilton County residents, it would probably be necessary for many of them to make a trip to Waco to transact their business with us. Much time and expense is thus saved the people of Hamilton County."

"Most people," Mr. Clepp continued, "are now directly affected by the old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Act, as the 1954 Amendments are estimated to have increased coverage to a present figure of nine out of every ten workers and self-employed persons."

Your representative will be glad to accept applications for social security benefits and to answer questions.

Table with columns: Date, Max., Min., Prec. for March 30 to April 5.

The most active campaign in many years was conducted by all parties involved, which probably accounts for the large turn out at the polls.

Lawrence Lane was election judge, and he was assisted by Mrs. Guy Aycock and Mrs. Helen Ogle.

WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

New and renewal subscriptions received in the last two months have been numerous and we have gotten behind on acknowledging the many that have been turned in.

We appreciate all the subscriptions, and hope to run the list more often in the future.

We would like to make some comment on each and every one of the subscribers but due to having so many pile up on us, it is impossible to do so this week.

Hico and Granbury Win First Starts In B. V. League Play

The League got off to a good start on opening day with Granbury at Iredell and Glen Rose at Hico. Dublin did not play because of the funeral of Mr. Henry Sones.

There were large crowds at both games.

The Granbury-Iredell game had eleven innings—the score being tied 9 and 9 at the end of the ninth inning. Neither club scored in the tenth, but Granbury got away and scored eight runs in the eleventh inning. Big Smith pitched nine innings for Iredell, and Goodman the last two. Granbury used Lobo five innings and Deavers six. I tell you, those Granbury boys play ball!

The score at Hico was Hico 11, Glen Rose 10. This was a good game from start to finish.

Next Sunday finds Iredell at Dublin and Hico at Granbury. Go see these games! Don't forget, the games begin promptly at 2:30 p. m. Glen Rose has an open date.

LEAGUE LOSES FRIEND

The Bosque Valley Baseball League lost a great friend and supporter when it was learned that Henry Sones had passed away some time in the early morning hours Saturday morning at his home in Dublin. Henry had served the league in the capacity of base umpire since the league was organized, and for three seasons his three sons played with the league—Skeet and Jimmy with Dublin and Jack with Alexander.

Henry has been a lover of baseball since a boy, and was manager of the Harbin ball club some forty years ago when Harbin was a thriving little town.

The writer has had the pleasure of watching and playing many games of baseball with Henry in those days. I have never known a better liked man in the Dublin, Harbin and Alexander communities than Henry Sones.

It is with regret that this league must pay a final tribute to Henry Sones. Our love and sympathy goes out to his wife and three sons.

HELP MAKE MORE BEAUTY SPOTS FOR HICO

Guess all of our yards look alike since the high winds and freeze.

Don't give up even if it is dry. We hope we have April showers to make us May flowers.

We can plant Annuals. They are plants that bloom in the open the same year the seeds are sown and do not live through winter. Beautiful effects are obtained by massing of colors. Using Annuals of one color per bed, or putting several colors in each bed. Annuals provide excellent training for inexperienced gardener. Plant Annuals—learn to grow them.

America's Number 1 Garden Show To Be Held In Waco

"No. 1 in the nation" is the honor won by the Waco Council's Garden and Home Show its first year, and the 1955 edition is expected to draw a record-breaking attendance from over Central Texas. Dates are April 15, 16 and 17 and the scene will be the magnificent Heart O' Texas Coliseum in Waco.

The nine "Gardens of Yesterday and Today" will be the foremost features of a show so large that it will require the entire arena as well as the space in the concourse of the Coliseum.

There will be elaborate lighting effects to bring out the full beauty of flowers, shrubs, vines, trees and background of the gardens. An outstanding stage show will be presented, featuring the famous Kilgore Rangerettes. Other features will include the junior (school) show, conservation display 240 feet in length and numerous exhibits offering new ideas and products for the home. Also there will be an automobile show.

The balcony at the north end of the Coliseum will be transformed into a terrace tea garden from which visitors may view the scenes below while enjoying sandwiches and soft drinks. As a special service, a nursery will be provided so that little ones can be left under capable care while the parents attend the show.

The flower show was given for the first time in 1953 and won the rose rosette, the first prize award, in national competition. The show was not eligible to compete for that honor a second year in succession, but the 1954 event was regarded as even better than the first year and attracted visitors from Louisiana, Corpus Christi, San Antonio and from throughout Central Texas, with some groups making the trip in chartered buses. This year's show, offering many new ideas, is expected to surpass the previous ones.

A good crowd attended Quarterly Conference Sunday at the Methodist Church. Supt. Leslie Seymour of Cisco district delivered the 11 o'clock sermon. Dinner was served at the school lunch room. Directly after the lunch the group sang happy birthday to Rev. W. T. Stamford, who is 85 years old today. Monday, April 4, and also happy birthday to Mrs. Mattie Waisworth, whose birthday was Sunday, April 3, who left the group guessing her age. The group returned to the church after lunch, where the business session was in order. Several came from Pleasant Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hale of Alexander. The next quarterly conference will be in June at Pleasant Hill.

Several met again the past week and worked most of the week at the Methodist parsonage. We wish to thank those outside the church, who worked and contributed in any way to help us.

The Clairette annual cemetery working will be the first Saturday in May, which will be on the 7. We are asking everyone who are interested to send in your contributions or hand it to the Clairette Cemetery Committee any time. It will be put on record for this year's working.

Circus Will Present Pageant Containing Mother Goose Cast

Largely for the benefit of the children who always come to the circus in increasing numbers as the years go by, the management of the Tex Carson circus has had prepared, as a portion of the mammoth pageant of the Arabian Nights, a Mother Goose section with appropriate music to give it a proper setting.

It is in reality a beautiful and pleasing presentation. There appears in unique and correct costume Little Bo-Peep, Little Jack Horner, Mary, Quite Contrary, Jack and Jill, See-Saw Margery Daw, Humpty Dumpty, Little Miss Muffet, Simple Simon, Little Boy Blue, Little Tommy Tucker.

All are brought onto the state platform in the center of the huge canvas tent and as the band plays they are presented to the Fairy King who is supposed to preside over all of the Boyland. The work of presentation is made under the skillful direction of the master of pantomime producers and directors, Todd Henry, who has had a world of experiences along this line having been director of the performances in master shows.

No mother living will fail to appreciate the pleasure this educational feature adds to her child's pleasure and knowledge. By all means give the kiddies a chance to see Mother Goose in all her glory and with all of her children.

TERMINAL GRAIN CO.
FORT WORTH, TEXAS

FAIRY
By Mrs. Eunice Massengale

Last Thursday and Friday brought us a lot of blowing sand, and also again Sunday. Dry weather continues. Some of the farmers are cutting and baling their wheat crops and oats will not be able to hold up much longer without added moisture. The recent freeze did considerable damage to crops, gardens and shrubbery. All fruit crops are probably wiped out, also the pecans and fig crops, and gardens that were covered and saved during the freeze, are dying due to the dry weather. All looks quite discouraging, yet after all we feel we still have much to be thankful for.

We are very sorry to report that Mr. Billy Streater of the Lanham community is quite ill due to a paralytic stroke he suffered early Monday morning as he finished his breakfast. He was rushed to the Clifton hospital. We hope he will soon be much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Driver were in Texas City the first of the week to be with their son, Raymond, who was to undergo surgery on one of his arms to have a dead muscle removed. Patsy, youngest daughter of the Raymond Drivers underwent an appendix operation on Wednesday of last week.

We have been informed that Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wood and family were in Ballinger Monday to attend funeral services for a relative.

The writer motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sumerford in the Ohio community south of Hamilton early last Sunday morning and accompanied them to an all-day singing at Purnela near Gatsville. A large crowd was present and a bountiful lunch was spread at the noon hour. We received special invitations to attend another all-day affair next Sunday at Liberty near Turnersville. The grain crops en route from the Sumerford place to Purnela looked like they were too far gone to save even though rain comes soon, and many farmers were grazing their fields with sheep and cattle.

We are glad to report that Marvin Porterfield has returned from a Marlin hospital and is much improved and able to be up and about.

Mr. and Mrs. Texie Dell Allison of Fort Worth spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison and Mr. and Mrs. Garlon Streater and family.

On our return to Hamilton Sunday we stopped for a few minutes with Mrs. Minnie McCarty at the Hurley rest home, and glad to report her much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Carolyn and Jimmie Don visited Sunday afternoon in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and Darrel of Dublin. Other guests were the Allison's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pittman also of Dublin.

Pupils of the elementary grades of our school, accompanied by their teachers and a number of parents spent last Friday, April 7, in Fort Worth. While there they visited the Forrest Park Zoo, children's museum and the General Motors Parade of Floats. All enjoyed the trip very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison and daughter, Mrs. George Martell Stringer and children of Hico accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Texie Dell Allison to Waco Sunday where they visited in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dellis Seago and Schery.

The writer was in Dublin last Friday afternoon for a visit with our daughter, Mrs. D. E. Allison and family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cunningham were also in Dublin Friday. Mr. Cunningham was there for treatment at Dr. Wyche clinic.

We learned too late for last week's news that Mrs. J. J. Jones Jr. was very painfully burned during the recent cold spell when her robe caught fire from a gas heater. Her husband also received painful burns on his hands while trying to put out the flames. We are glad to report Mrs. Jones doing nicely and was able to resume her duties as home economics teacher of our school in a few days.

A bus load of our high school students accompanied by three of their teachers, Mr. Boyd Lowry, Mr. McClure and Mr. Martin Schrank, spent Friday, April 7 at Buchanan Dam. All had an enjoyable time.

We failed to report in last week's news that Weldon Parks, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Parks and husband of the former Miss Bobby Dell Streater, has returned home from overseas duty. He received his discharge recently at El Paso.

Robert Streater has been in Glen Rose the past week or more recuperating from a recent heart attack and other ailments. He was doing fine at our last report from him.

We have just learned of the passing of Mr. Ben Washam of Hico and was very sorry to learn of his passing. The Washam family formerly resided in the Fairy community and all extend deepest sympathy to the family in this time of sorrow.

Mrs. B. J. Parks returned from the Hico Hospital Sunday following a week or ten days stay there for observation. We have not learned the extent of her illness, but hope she is feeling much better.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to each and everyone for their great kindness in our hours of trouble and sorrow at the loss of our loved one, William Sterling Price. May God richly reward you.

You will never see a car in this position, but Chevrolet engineers did recently, when they hung the car by the front axle to make X-frame pictures. No other low-priced car even comes close to matching these important Chevrolet advantages . . .

If you're planning to buy a new car, the one you just can't afford to miss seeing is Chevrolet—for 19 straight years America's best-selling car. The Motaramic Chevrolet offers you so much more than the other low-priced cars that it's hardly fair to compare them. And even the high-priced cars don't have all the advantages that today's Chevrolet offers you.

The beauty's built in—not bolted on! Chevrolet's beauty is inherent in the basic contours of metal and glass. There's no excessive bolted-on ornamentation to go out of style overnight.

The Body's by Fisher!
You see Body by Fisher on lots of the high-priced cars—and only Chevrolet has it in the low-price field!

Today's most modern engines!
That goes for Chevrolet's new V8 and two new sixes as well. All bring you a modern 12-volt electrical system—double the voltage of other low-priced cars. Then Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" has the shortest piston stroke in the industry!

A drive to suit your driving!
There's silky, peppery Powerglide (even better this year!), new Overdrive (both extra-cost options), and a new Synchron-Mesh transmission that's as smooth as they come.

All the power helpers you want!
Windows, seat, steering, brakes—all are available with built-in "muscles" to make driving as effortless as you wish. They're optional at extra-cost—and worth it!

Come take the key!
There have never been so many good reasons why you should drive a Chevrolet!

Over Ten Million Chevrolet owners—Two Million more than any other car!

Texas Viewpoint

In Washington

By PRICE DANIEL U. S. Senator

Texas was beautifully represented last week at the annual Washington Cherry Blossom Festival by Miss Anne Blalock of Marshall. She was chosen by the Texas State Society as a princess in the royal court composed of charming young ladies from most of the states in the union. Anne, a co-ed at the University of Texas, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blalock of Marshall. She was accompanied to Washington by her mother and her aunt, Mrs. Myron Blalock, whose late husband was one of our State's most distinguished citizens and served for many years as Texas Democratic National Committeeman.

Davy Crockett.

Another distinguished Texan in our midst last week was Fess Parker, star of Walt Disney's TV production, "Davy Crockett, King of the Wild Frontier." He was born in Fort Worth and lived in San Angelo and Brownwood before graduating from the University of Texas. Members of Congress from Texas and Tennessee attended a luncheon at the Capitol in his honor, and several of us interviewed him on radio and television.

Standing 6 feet 5 inches, Fess Parker towered above all his hosts and visitors both at the Capitol and at the meeting of the National Rifle Association which he attended during his visit here. He wore his coonskin cap and buckskin clothes and carried "Old Betsy" with him on all occasions. A replica of the famous David Crockett rifle was presented to Deputy Secretary of Defense, Bob Anderson. It is entirely fitting that a Texan was chosen by Walt Disney to portray Davy Crockett in both his television series and the Davy Crockett movie which will be released in our State in June.

Grain Producers.

Many Texans were in Washington last week advocating higher grain sorghum support prices by the Department of Agriculture and attending the annual meeting of the National Federation of Grain Cooperatives. We are convinced that the present parity support price fixed by Secretary of Agriculture Benson on grain sorghum is unfair to the producers of this important crop, and have indicated our views to the Secretary and the President. Texans representing the grain producers here were R. G. Peeler, Hereford; Leo Wilkowsky, Happy; John Veneman, Spearman; Gabe Anderson, Bovina; John Pittman, Hereford; and W. M. Shirley, Lazbuddie.

Texans attending the grain co-op meeting included Frank Tripnett, Oscar Applequist, and Kenneth Lloyd, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Mayhugh, Edmondson; President and Mrs. Lloyd Neumann of Sinton; Mr. and Mrs. Truman Miller, Wildorado; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miller, Tullis; J. Burton Craig, Plainview; H. T. Cole, Quanah; and Horace Smith, Miami.

Victory for Texas Public School Fund. The Texas Supreme Court's decision last week in favor of the state in the lawsuit against The Texas Company, involving ownership of minerals in Duval County, should mean several millions of dollars for our permanent school fund. The decision was particularly pleasing to the writer and to my administrative assistants here in Washington, Jake Jacobson, because along with Charles D. Matthews of Austin, we made the decision to file this suit while serving in the Attorney General's Office in Austin. In fact, it was the last case prepared for trial under my administration as Attorney General and Mr. Matthews continued to assist Attorney General Shepperd in the trials and appeals which followed.

It was our contention, and the courts have now agreed, that a mineral deed made by the Duval Ranch and Cattle Company to The Texas Company on 4,000 acres of minerals in Duval County was void, and that the minerals and 67 producing oil wells actually belong to the State and its public school fund. Nearly a million in cash was also awarded to the State, and further production on this property should be an important source of revenue for our public schools.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. J. M. Martin of Clairette, through this method, wishes to thank the nurses and doctors for being so kind and sweet to her during her illness in the hospital.

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

Austin, April 5.—Two big proposals for the state's water conservation program won in the Senate.

One is Sen. Dorsey Hardeman's $100 million state bond issue for aid to local projects. It calls for a constitutional amendment vote in September. The other is an enabling bill to start operations if and when the amendment is passed.

House sponsors on this, and on the Parish $200 million bond bill to aid local projects have delayed calling for final action. They don't think they have enough votes.

Tax Hike. An openly hostile revenue and taxation committee shunted Rep. Jerry Sadler's $160 million-a-year gas processing tax bill to subcommittee.

It would levy a 1-cent tax on all Texas gasoline and repeal the 4-cent gas sales tax. Opponents said it would bring a 19-cent cut in crude oil prices, costing Texas $180 million a year.

The committee left buried the two bills embodying Gov. Shivers' original tax program. It included a 2-cent hike in the 4-cent gas tax and a 1-cent boost in the 4-cent cigarette tax.

This confirmed last week's report that administration forces had abandoned the two single-shot revenue bills and pinned new hopes on Revenue Chairman Stone's omnibus bill. It would permit increases in any of the 100-odd present taxes.

The billion and a half dollar House general appropriation bill (for two years) was passed by the Senate which substituted its own version.

When the House refused to concur in Senate changes, the way was opened for a joint conference committee to resolve the differences. Lieutenant Governor Ramsey has named five Senators to the Committee and House Speaker Jim Lindsey five.

Delaying Action.

Special session speculation again comes up.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips saw his filibuster record fall this week to Sen. Wayne Wagonseller.

Like Phillips, however, Wagonseller lost his battle. As soon as he stopped talking, the Senate tentatively approved the bus registration fee measure he was fighting.

When it was all over, weary Senators suddenly discovered the marathon talks had killed two full "house bill" periods in the Senate, with only one House bill passed in two weeks.

Observers saw that, with Shivers' entire program still hanging in the air, and four more Wednesday filibusters in the Senate capable of killing all of it, a new switch in administration strategy might be possible.

Thought was that Governor Shivers might ask the Legislature to lay aside the tax bill and the appropriation whopper, and pass other legislation before theoretical adjournment May 11.

That would mean his calling a special session on taxes and the appropriation bill. Appropriations must be in effect Sept. 1 to keep the wheels of government turning. He would have control in a special session, lacking now.

Point Won.

At any rate, the Governor won his point on the bill regulating securities.

As the legislature headed for what looked like its worst jam in the final month of session, he made a firm request that the House adopt a Senate bill repealing securities, particularly bringing certain trust company stocks under state supervision.

"I hope the House will disregard frantic efforts of certain speculators, promoters and others to vote final passage," he said.

Land Case.

Bascom Giles' legal troubles mounted when a group of San Antonio GIs filed a civil recovery suit in 53rd District Court.

Asking $33,000 judgment against Giles, the veterans charged that he made that much in "personal profit" out of a veterans land deal.

At the latest count, Giles faced two criminal indictments, charging conspiracy to commit theft of state funds and accepting a bribe, four felony theft charges, and four civil recovery suits.

Twice Giles has refused to testify in court about the veterans land scandals and charges against him.

"Open Door" Bills

Attorney General Shepperd has expressed "deep hope that action will be taken on the Open Door to Good Government bills during this session of the Legislature."

Most of the bills have been reported favorably by House committees, he pointed out, but some still are being held for further committee study.

"They are sound, logical proposals to aid better government in Texas, to give the people a bigger voice and to more quickly reveal official wrong-doing," he said.

Shepperd referred to 13 bills dealing with full public disclosure of public records and funds. All are pending in the House of Representatives.

SUBSCRIBERS—

D. E. Kirkland came up with a dollar and a half around the first. Said he was afraid he might cut him off if he didn't pay up. Mrs. Clinton Ritchey, the former Martha Porter, sent a check for $2.50 for a year's subscription, so we extra marked her time up for the extra fifty cents. They now live in San Antonio.

Washington

"As It Looks From Here" OMAR BURLISON 17th District

HAVING BEEN raised in the country and attended a one-room, one-teacher school, it somewhat grieves me to see the disintegration of a country community.

The disintegration begins with the consolidation of rural schools with the town schools. If the small country church has not already moved to town, it goes after the school. Then if there is a small fourth-class post office at the crossroads, it is doomed to be discontinued under present policies of the Government.

This is not to argue against progress, because that is what it is. It is a natural result by reason of better roads, better automobiles, and better advantages in the schools.

On the other hand, it is my feeling that the small communities have been the backbone of this country. From these rural areas have stemmed the stamina and independence which have contributed much to the development of our nation. I would not turn back the calendar, but I regret to see the passing of the small community life.

VISIBLE PROGRESS has been made by this Administration in getting Government out of business. It is no easy matter. Government did not get into business overnight, nor will it suddenly relinquish its hold on thousands of activities.

A year or more ago the President issued a directive to all Department heads asking them to make an inventory of all commercial and industrial activities now being carried on and to recommend which ones might be turned over to private business. For instance, the rope factory operated by the United States Navy for a hundred years has been ordered closed down. The House of Representatives has authorized the sale of Government-owned synthetic rubber plants, and also the Federal barge line. This is only a beginning. The Government is still engaged in more than one hundred lines of business in competition with its own taxpayers. The Congress itself is looking into this matter, seeking to determine which and what businesses of the Government can be disposed of or withdrawn from. This includes the sale of many pieces of property which would go back on the tax rolls. Of course, there are some business operations of the Government which must be carried on by it.

It was natural for the Government to get into many types of businesses during the past two World Wars. It was also natural for the bureaucrats to want to expand these business operations. This meant they would have greater authority and greater power, a higher salary, and more people working under them. In addition, there are those who actually believe that the Government can run a business better than private individuals and for the benefit of the people generally. It is conceded that there are some services of the Government which could not be handled privately. It ceases, however, to be a service when the Government is in active competition with private business.

If we could but remember that "the longer we carry a grudge, the heavier it gets and the more useless it becomes."

Cross Filing

Cross filing in political races is out as the result of a bill passed by both houses and signed by the Governor. This bill by Representative Maury Maverick of San Antonio, removes from the law a sentence allowing candidates to run "as the nominee of two or more political parties for the same office." Controversy arose over cross-filing when Governor Shivers and other state candidates were listed in 1932 as the nominees of both the Democratic and Republican parties.

Carrots are one of the most dependable vegetables and are usually reasonable in price. They are available the year round because of modern transportation and improved marketing practices. A well balanced daily diet should include one serving of a yellow vegetable for vitamin A. One-half cup of carrots will furnish all of vitamin A needed for a day. Packaged carrots hit the market about three years ago. These are topped to reduce transportation costs and give consumers a better product. Plastic bags help retain freshness and provide good storage until the carrots are used. Look for carrots that are firm, clean, fresh in appearance, smooth, well shaped, long and slender, and have a bright orange color.

Spring brings many good things, but inevitably along with the good comes the bad, and ants certainly be counted in the less desirable class. Killing the workers outside their nests merely weakens the colony. And it is very seldom that the colony can be completely destroyed this way. Therefore, it is essential to locate and destroy the nests in order to kill the queens and young. To control these pests in your home, use a two per cent chlordane household spray or 5 per cent dieldrin household spray. Apply the insecticide to baseboards, window and door facings, water pipe fittings and other places where ants may enter the home. For permanent control, treat around the foundation of the house and other outside premises to destroy colonies. If there are ant colonies over the lawn, dust the colonies thoroughly with five or ten per cent chlordane or two per cent dieldrin dust. Then sprinkle the lawn after applying the dust. If you want to use a spray then follow the manufacturer's directions for dilutions.

Interestingly enough, there is something new in tape measures. The new tape measure combines the advantages of both rigid metal and soft cloth. At first glance it looks the same as the standard 60-inch yellow woven fabric tape that starts at both ends with number one. But the woven fabric is bonded with a permanent plastic stiffening. It folds every 7 inches like a carpenter's rule, and yet the stiffness is flexible enough to measure around the smallest body area, such as a finger or wrist. It helps, too, when measuring the length of a skirt from waist to hem, for it doesn't tangle and curl, but lays flat to the fabric. You can use the edge like a rule's straight edge when you are guiding a tracing wheel in a straight line, for it won't curl, stretch, shrink, kink, or tangle. It is completely washable yet retains its rigidity. The new tape measure can be obtained for a very low cost, most everywhere.

Instant orange juice crystals and instant grapefruit juice crystals are now making their appearance on the market. These new concentrates require no refrigeration, are light to ship, store easily, and can be reconstituted quickly with the addition of water. Approximately 96 per cent of the original vitamin C content of the fresh juice is retained.

AN EASTER STORY—

By STELLA JONES

Mr. and Mrs. John and Irene Hobson lived in a Texas City. They had two children, a boy 15, and a girl 6. She wasn't old enough to start to school in the fall. She was large for her age.

Mr. Hobson were fine people. He was the head clerk in a large grocery store. His parents lived on a farm outside of the city limits. They would visit them and bring them things from the farm. Milk and butter, chickens, eggs and vegetables. Her parents lived in another state.

Spring weather had opened up and everything was beautiful.

On Wednesday afternoon, Marie, their little daughter was playing under a shade tree. Had her pup and kitten with her.

A girl walked up to her. Marie had seen her a few times. Her dress wasn't any too good and wasn't so clean. Marie asked her where she had been. "I delivered milk to a lady down the street. I saw you and I just came by." Her hair hadn't been combed and didn't look good.

Marie called her mother out there. Mrs. Hobson told her to go in and wash her face and comb her hair.

Watch and see what Marie does for Ama Brown.

"Marie, you take her to town and get her fixed up," said her mother. She gave her $10. Mr. Hobson came in and he gave her $3.00.

Marie took her to a beauty shop and her hair was made beautiful by a permanent. The two girls went to a dry goods store and got Ama a dress for Easter and some other things. Mr. Hobson gave her some Easter eggs. She was proud of everything.

Mr. Brown was a beer drinker and every bit of money he got would go for beer. Mrs. Brown asked Ama where she had been. She soon told her. Her old dad was at home and he said, "if I had the cost of all those things I could buy a lot of beer." "You don't get it," replied his wife. Ama had her money. She had a twin brother. They were 9 years old. This day, Ama didn't get to go to school.

On Easter Sunday, Ama wore her new dress that Marie bought and she looked pretty. Mr. and Mrs. Brown had a little boy age 4 and a daughter age 16 who would finish high school this June.

Mrs. Brown and children went to Sunday school and church this happy Easter.

They had a good cow which gave plenty of milk and sure made the butter. The lady they sold to payed by the week and this Saturday she payed up, which was a neat sum. If Brown had of been there he would have got the money. Mrs. Brown and children will remember this Easter as a happy one brought on by Ama going to the Hobson home. For a little child shall lead them. Marie will lead them to a better life. Mr. Brown was in town Monday and Mr. Hobson saw him. Brown wouldn't work much. He could not hold a job down.

Mr. Hobson had the right to hire a clerk so this Monday he asked him about running the delivery truck. He said "I will try." "You go home and bathe and shave." He told his wife he had a job in the store and she was glad. "I deliver groceries." Mr. Hobson took him to a store and fit him up in work clothes. He got a hair cut and looked nice, and ready to go to work. The owner told him just as sure as you spend any of the money for beer out you go. He promised he wouldn't and he stayed with the job. Was a better husband and a better father.

MAKE-UP TIME in "How to Marry a Millionaire," the Cinema-Scope comedy sensation from Twentieth Century-Fox starring, in color by Technicolor, Betty Grable, Marilyn Monroe (center) and Lauren Bacall. The picture is showing at the Hico Theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 12, 13, and 14.

Jimmie got a job after school taking care of a little 3-year-old boy, for a rich lady that lived down the street from them. The little boy was good and wasn't any trouble.

Jimmie wanted a bicycle. He saved his money and his daddy helped him to buy it and he was sure proud of it.

All this good luck came to the Browns by Marie Hobson being kind to Ama for it pays to be kind and help the needy.

Alice Brown finished high school and through the influence of Mr. Hobson she got work in the bank. Mr. and Mrs. Hobson gave her a nice check for graduation.

In the fall she entered college which was in the city where she lived. During the summer she worked in the bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were a happy family and look back to the happy Easter for them, for a little child shall lead them and Marie led them. She will have stars in her crown.

May all enjoy this short story as much as I did in writing it.

(The End.)

"EASY DOES IT"

CREAM cheese balls rolled in chopped salted almonds do wonders for fruit salads. Scoop the balls from the cheese with a small scoop, then toss lightly in the salted nuts.

Make a special sauce for hamburger if you want a real treat: chop one large peeled firm tomato, then mix with a small can of chopped ripe olives, finely chopped onion, a small can of green chili peppers, chopped and a tablespoon each of oil and vinegar. Season to taste and allow to stand for several hours before serving.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Cottage Cheese Salad Dressing (Makes 1 1/2 cups) 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk (1/2 of 15-ounce can) 1/2 cup vinegar 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard 1/2 teaspoon paprika 1/2 cup cottage cheese

Blend thoroughly sweetened condensed milk, vinegar, salt, mustard and paprika. Force cottage cheese through sieve and add to mixture, beating until smooth. If thicker consistency is desired, place in refrigerator to chill before serving. Excellent for fruit salads.

When unexpected company comes and dessert offers a problem, simply whip out a can of cling peaches and serve with whipped cream sprinkled with crumbled gingersnaps.

Another quick and fancy dessert combines a package of instant vanilla pudding with one 12-ounce can of apricot whole fruit nectar. Fold in 1/2 cup of whipped cream and spoon into sherbet glasses. Top with quick-frozen or canned raspberries.

If you use canned ham, here's a good glaze: combine 1/2 cup each of honey and brown sugar and spread evenly over ham. Bake in a moderate oven allowing 15 minutes for each pound of ham.

HYBRID GRAIN SORGHUM PROSPECTS

The first large-scale seed stock production of hybrid grain sorghums will be initiated in Texas this year by about 100 seed growers.

This will be good news for farmers interested in new hybrids. Comparison tests show increases in production of from 20 to 30 per cent over sorghum varieties now commonly grown.

Hybrid grain sorghum is the result of many years of experimentation and study conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations. It had its beginning as far back as 1927 and was eventually developed at the Chillicothe and Lubbock stations, thanks to efforts of Chillicothe men, Supt. J. Roy Quinby, and Mr. J. C. Stevens, as well as Dr. Nicholas W. Kramer and R. E. Karper of Lubbock.

The Seed Division of the Texas Department of Agriculture will have its role in production also. Seed stocks will be released to responsible seed growers who will produce small plots under TDA supervision. This program will be conducted with the cooperation of the Extension Service of A & M College.

Present plans call for the distribution of this hybrid seed to farmers in sorghum producing areas for field trial and comparison in 1956. Seed growers who participate in production this year will be eligible for larger and more extensive production next season, also. This should result in the availability of a large supply of hybrid sorghum seed in 1957.

Production methods are somewhat technical, requiring the planting of two rows of pollinator seed adjacent to six rows of male sterile growths. The hybrid seed is produced from the male sterile rows and the pollinator seed rows are discarded for seed purposes.

Inspection will be made by TDA men. Rules and regulations of production have been tentatively adopted by the State Seed and Plant Board. These "Seed Certification Standards" help assure the producer of high quality seed.

These objectives are the primary purpose of field seed certification activities of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Cattle and calf prices were inclined to be on the low side of steady in most cases Monday at Fort Worth. Buyers' point to a number of factors as influencing the trend, despite the fact that runs reported around the nation were somewhat below a week earlier.

Most important factor in the weakness of fat cattle and fat calves is the expected domination of the Easter dinner tables by ham and turkey. Nationwide promotion of Easter hams as handled by the National Livestock and Meat Board has all the purveyors of red meat certain that ham will dominate the holiday board.

The Texas Turkey Federation and the National Turkey Federation are also pushing turkey as an Easter dinner specialty and between the Easter lamb trade took a bad tumble last week.

Eastern seaboard wholesale meat dealers, the No. 1 handler of lamb, openly expressed fears for the lamb market last week in the face of the all-out ham drive.

Another factor that weakens the immediate cattle trade is the continuation of sub-normal moisture in much of the Southwest and the accompanying blowing of the soil. Even the most optimistic cattle buyers are wary of going into the Summer without a season in the ground, and much of the Southwest needs rain right now.

Fed steers and yearlings and cows opened steady to 50 cents lower. Stockers and feeders were mostly 50 cents lower. Fat calves and bulls sold about steady at Fort Worth Monday. Top fat cattle were club steers sold at $5.50, and some commercially fed cattle sold at $23 and $24. Fat cows drew $12 to $14.50, and canners and cullers sold from $8 to $12. Bulls $10 to $15. Fat calves $21.50 down. Stocker calves and yearlings $13 to $22.

Lambs React After Bad Break Last Week. A good recovery from the lows of last week in sheep and lamb prices continued at Fort Worth Monday. Average prices of most sheep and lambs were 1/4 to 1/2 and in sport 1/2 to 1/4 above the extreme low spots of last week's trade.

Good and choice fat Spring lambs drew $20 to $23, and shorn fat lambs cashed at $19 down. Old wethers drew $13 down. Old ewes sold from $5.50 to $7, and old bucks drew $4 to $5. Yearling wethers sold around $16 down.

Hogs Open at $18.25 Top at Fort Worth. Good and choice butcher hogs topped at $18.25 at Fort Worth Monday. This was 25c above 1c close the week before. Less attractive butchers sold from $17 to $18 and packing sows sold for $14 to $16.

By E. E. DAWSON

This week is a very important one in America, and for that matter in all the world. During this week the eyes and hearts of the people of the earth will be directed toward God, for religion is the chief theme among all nations and many will turn wholeheartedly to the spiritual and make their vows of fidelity and steadfastness. Whatever one may think of the religious rites and practices of groups other than his own, the above statement is true beyond question.

This writer is unable to accept a lot of the religious ceremonies and rituals and many items of faith that will be practiced and declared during the week and culminating next Sunday. But he is an American and grants the right of every man to practice his religion as he will, so long as it is moral. If one expects others to respect his religion, he must by the same token respect the religion of the other man. To respect another in his beliefs and manifestations of religion is not to command that faith or believe in it.

Religion is the basis of all true morality and the chief cornerstone of our American heritage, and we hope that this week religion shall be promoted in a significant way from Atlantic to Pacific, from Lakes to Gulf, and out to the farthest reaches of the world. However, one may consider Holy Week, so called, the celebration of the Resurrection of our Lord and Master is just as important as the celebration of His birth. In fact, but for His resurrection we would all be hopeless as we look toward the future. This man will undertake to fully appreciate the significance of His rising this week, as he has done through all his years.

Having said the above, here is another thing we feel impelled to say: While saints are being venerated this week, we would venerate in our heart the saints whom we know, who are yet alive and able to be seen by anyone who takes the trouble to observe. By veneration, do not get the idea that worship is meant. As here used it means respect, appreciation, gratitude for. And the saints here mentioned have never been canonized, and will never. They are known only in a small circle, and their names have never been in print except in newspaper locale, or in the community correspondence columns. Nevertheless they are real saints, and we nominate them for sainthood.

There's Rita, a housewife and mother, and one who works with hoe and shovel and whatever implement is needed at the moment. And yet she is artistic and those made that on occasion have talked with hoe and spade and hod are gentle and comely and efficient. Her little queenly daughters are cultured and gentle and constructive, and one must love them just to know them. Alongside her husband she walks cheerfully in all sorts of weather and conditions and has a smile for all who pass her on the road of life. She is a saint in fact and in our estimation.

Con rates with the ones accorded official sainthood.

There's Rose, wife, mother and grandmother, who has nursed her sick child through so many years now, and kept her own home and the child's aid ministered to the grandchild and the in-law and the husband. Rose takes her place in the religious life of the community and all worthy community activities; she knows how to pray and teach and minister and always has a friendly smile on her expressive face. She is nominated for sainthood.

There's Lois, a wife in a county seat town, gentle, hard-working, artistic to an unusual degree, always serving in religious circles with efficiency and ardor, and participating in community enterprises that are good and helpful. Her home is a symbol of hospitality and one feels so comfortable in the presence of her genial smile. Yes, Lois is nominated for sainthood, and though she will most assuredly never receive formal acclaim as a saint by any religious organization, those who know her will testify to the saintliness of her life. She is nominated.

There's Lola, a farm-ranch wife, mother, who has all the toils and responsibilities of her position, and yet she is a most saintly soul, with deep interest in all that is constructive and for real human welfare. Her sons are noble young fellows; one a soldier, the other a collegian at this moment. The husband is under the spell of her gracious soul and his development has been so very evident to all who have known him through the years.

In the Eighth Psalm, David speaks of God, the creator, who placed the planets in their orbits, having a particular care for man and visiting him. In each of these cases cited, God has visited with His saintly handmaidens and turned their kitchens and living rooms and the commonplaces of their spheres into places of glory. And while all of these mentioned have been of the gentler sex, one could easily name an indefinitely long list of men, of all ages, who toil in the hard and responsible places of life and attain a blessed sainthood. In this week of religious significance we take our hat off to the kitchen and farm and ranch and store and highway and legislative assembly saints who make this a livable world, a blessed atmosphere in which children can be born and grow up and take their directions in life. Hail, all ye saints!
