TIGERS HOST BLANKET FRIDAY

Lose One Game, Tie One In Last Week's Tussles

The Hico Tigers will take on the Blanket Tigers tonight, Friday, in the local stadium. The two-team system used last week by coaches Taylor and Hall, has been abandoned for this game due to a cancellation of the Thursday night contest with Glen Rose B team.

Blanket has won the only four games played between the two teams, and the locals will have their hands full tonight when the Tigers roar. The Blanket aggregation is reported to have another "salty" crew this year, and have a win under their belts going into the contest with Hico.

Tuesday afternoon of this week Hico scrimmaged with the Stephenville B team, and coaches' report of the scuffle were encouraging. Game time for the affair tonight is 8:00 p.m., and a large crowd is expected at the local stadium.

Buddy Ables and Van Hooper, junior and senior lettermen, respectively, were elected Captains of the 1957 Tiger team Wednesday of this week. A probable starting line-up for the Tigers in the game tonight may be found elsewhere on this page.

Running true to form and almost living up to the expectations of the coaches, the 1957 Hico Tiger football teams lost one game and tied another in last week's play.

The Tiger Blue team journeyed to Troy last Thursday night to take on what appeared to be an experienced band of Trojans, and came home on the short end of a drubbing 47-0 score. But the final outcome wasn't as bad as the score might indicate. A lot of valuable experience was gained, and chances are the boys of the Blue team will not be caught off guard again this season. From the stands the two teams appeared to be about three TDs apart.

On Friday night at the local stadium, the Tiger Red team outplayed a band of Gatesville State School Buffalos, but still were able to manage only a 0-0 tie with the Coryell County lads. The Gatesville school fielded one of the best organized football teams in recent years, with a few top players.

In the game last Thursday night at Troy a 145-pound halfback by the name of C. Cormany literally wrecked the Hico crew. The small, but hard-hitting back racked up five touchdowns for the evening, the longest being a 62-yard scamper in the second period.

The Trojans jumped on the Tiger eleven for a quick touchdown, and it was "Katie bar the door" from then on out. The locals held them scoreless for only one period—the third—with most of the damage being inflicted in the second and fourth quarters. After the first TD Troy lost two other scoring opportunities, losing the ball on the Tiger 7 yard line once and again shortly afterwards on the Tiger 5. Hico was unable to get past the mid-field stripe during the first period.

Early in the second quarter Troy blocked a Hico punt, and were off to the races, this period producing two other tallies to bring the score at intermission to 27-0. Hico crossed mid-field once more in this quarter, penetrating to the Troy 41.

The Tigers made the most out of the third period, holding Troy scoreless, and penetrating to the Troy 13 when time ran out ending the third period. They advanced the ball to the eleven yard line early in the fourth, only to see an incomplete pass kill the drive at that point.

Troy started their fourth quarter TD spree in just five plays after taking over on their own 9. On the sixth play Cormany broke for forty yards and the TD. The other two tallies were made on 3 and 1-yard blasts at the Hico line.

Forgetting the score, there was definitely some fine points in the game on the part of the Tigers. Buddy Ables, playing quarterback for the first time, completed three passes despite a leaky line which allowed a host of Trojans to converge on him all night. The 140-pound letterman was a demon on defense all night, consistently making tackles all over the field. Sophomore Shelly Hooper, making his first appearance on the varsity team, played a good game at end for the Tigers, catching two of the completed passes, one of which was almost an impossibility.

Other boys on the Blue team, most of whom have never played a down of football, showed up as well as could be expected, this being their first game.

The Tiger backs never had a chance to display their running form as the Trojan linemen were hounding them before the quarterback had a chance to make his bid on a fake or hand-off. As was stated before, the group gained invaluable experience from the drubbing, and should improve with each game.

REDS TIE GATESVILLE
On Friday night at the local stadium the Hico Red team played Gatesville even most of the night, allowing the visitors one scoring opportunity, while letting two drives of their own fizzle on the 5 and 3-yard lines.

Like the Blue team, the Reds also gained invaluable experience. The competition was more even than was the game the night before, and several of the boys stood out in their fine play. Little Red Wagner showed lots of spunk in his quick dashes at the line, and Gary Duncan ran the keeper play well. Bobby Boone, the big freshman boy, played a good game, driving

Fairy Tigers Win First Game, Defeat Pottsville Last Week

By HARLAN WOOD

Fairy High School Tigers journeyed to Pottsville to play the Pottsville Bobcats last Thursday night, September 12.

Fairy won 34-0 on some brilliant blocking and excellent running by the backfield.

Two touchdowns in the first quarter were made by Harry Thornton on runs of 50 and 40 yards, and at the half the score still stood 14-0 in favor of Fairy. Extra points were added by the toe of Joe Knapp.

In the third quarter Robert Barnett scampered 25 yards for a counter, and in the fourth quarter Don Barnett scored on a 14 yard run.

Later in the game, Robert Barnett again scored behind good blocking, running 50 yards to score Fairy's final points.

Good defensive play and heads-up ball stopped Pottsville's offense several times inside the 10 yard line.

The Tigers played Flat Thursday afternoon, September 19, at 2:00 p.m. on the Fairy football field.

The completed Fairy roster and football schedule will be printed in next week's paper.

The Tuesday meeting will be mainly for the purpose of laying ground work for a future survey of this type, and to determine if enough interest is available to follow through with the plan.

IT HAPPENED HERE OR NEAR—

Proof of How to Ride Side-Saddle Finally Revealed

By E. E. DAWSON

I. THE PROBLEM:

When I stated some weeks ago that women rode with their faces and feet toward the right, after mounting a horse from the right, right away the statement was challenged. So an investigation was started. Readers lined up on both sides; some siding with Lee Autrey who raised the question; some siding with the writer's assertion.

Now maybe it can all be settled so everybody from here on will know how women of old did ride.

Here are two pictures of a side-saddle. The stirrup is absent, but where it was inserted in the saddle skirt is quite plain. Both pictures are actual, made this week. You will see that they are exactly the reverse: one favoring the left-side contention, the other plainly for the right-side contenders. If you will look on the last page of the paper you will find the solution of the whole problem, once and for all settled—and out of court!

II. THE SOLUTION:

Photographer Reed made both the pictures. Both are of the same sidesaddle. He simply turned the film over after he had printed it right, which showed that the stirrup was on the left side and that the rider faced the left after mounting from that side. Then the picture of the lady riding shows she rode facing the left. Mrs. Wallace Edwards has the saddle in her Antique Shop on Highway 281 just across the railroad and she will be glad to show it to you.

Photographer Reed furnished the pictures, but he did not make that of the lady riding. Mr. Frank Wiseman made that some years ago when a celebration was being held at Hico showing old-time ways and things. Mr. Reed ran across it and loaned it to us for this picturization that settles the matter finally.

We have had a lot of fun out of the matter. Dozens of folks have accosted us to express their opinions about the matter, and surprising as it may seem, some of the folks are yet unconvinced. Only last week a good woman asserted very positively that women mounted from the right and rode facing the right. And within minutes a man did the same thing; both being sure that the right side was the mounting and riding side for women. Thanks to all the folks who took an interest in the matter, for I would never have known I was wrong if the question had not been raised.

The patron is Miss Johnson, who has resided on the route for many years. This doesn't happen again every year, J. T.

Friday & Saturday

Filled with enchantment and featuring some of the merriest cartoon characters ever to come out of the Disney studio, "Bambi" returns to the screen, bringing with it all its original magic, drama and spectacular scenes.

The movie shows Friday and Saturday at Hico Theatre, and is a "must" for all children, as well as grown-ups, in Hico.

The hero is a forest deer named Bambi. From the time of his birth, he is squired by a forthright cottontail, Thumper, a self-appointed educational bureau. Thumper chapters Bambi's growth, teaches him in such technicalities as building a good working vocabulary. In the course of their activities they bump into Flower, a wistful skunk, and all goes well until predatory Man and a conflagration interrupt the forest idyll.

A wonderful host of new animals are re-introduced, ranging in personality from the matronly Quail to the bluster-voiced Owl. The latter is the one sane voice in a forest gone wild with spring romance. Faline, a lovely doe, attracts the now maturing Bambi; his friends Thumper and Flower are unblushingly captured, respectively by a lady rabbit loaded with allure and a shy but determined femmeskunk. Although the three pals do not lose sight of one another, their paths diverge and it is only when disaster strikes that they are reunited.

Re-released by Buena Vista, the delightful adaptation of the novel by Felix Salten is presented in color by Technicolor.

ARMY magazine photographer Audie Murphy pitches some woo at Keiko Shima in this scene from "Joe Butterfly" which stars Murphy and George Nader, and co-stars Keenan Wynn, Burgess Meredith, Miss Shima, John Agar, Charles McGraw and Fred Clark in the film which shows Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday at the Hico Theatre.

Sunday & Monday

The heartiest guffaws heard in a movie theatre in many a day will be heard at the showing of "Joe Butterfly," a Universal-International comedy about an engaging group of G.I.'s in Japan which was filmed entirely in that country.

The picture shows Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday at Hico Theatre.

Topping the cast of this technical and cinemascope production are Audie Murphy and George Nader, and co-starred with them are Keenan Wynn, Keiko Shima, John Agar, Charles McGraw, Fred Clark and Burgess Meredith.

The story concerns the desperate efforts of the staff of an army magazine to get out its first issue after the occupation of Japan, efforts that seem doomed to failure when the correspondent of a powerful American news magazine uses all his influence to commandeer the only presses available. After a hilarious series of misadventures, the soldier boys triumph, mainly because of the help given them by a wily, not too scrupulous but altogether charming Japanese sharpie whose nick-name is Joe Butterfly.

As the staff photographer of the magazine, Audie Murphy displays a new facet of his talent by giving a winning performance of a genial, irresponsible but thoroughly captivating youth who has an equal genius for getting into and out of trouble. Nader is the hapless sergeant of the magazine staff who has to impose some sort of authority over Audie and other capricious members of his crew, and he does an expert job of portraying an essentially serious fellow coping with erratic situations.

Keenan Wynn, who seems to have been specializing in unsympathetic characters lately, is again a disagreeable fellow in "Joe Butterfly" and he does the job so well that the spectator howls with glee at his continual frustrations. Miss Keiko Shima, an authentic flower of the Japanese stage and screen, is a delight as the native miss who captures Audie's fancy.

PLAYMATES—Spindle-legged young deer hero of Walt Disney's "Bambi," greets an adventurous butterfly. His friends, zany Thumper the rabbit, and Flower the skunk, watch the hilarious antics. "Bambi" will play Friday and Saturday at Hico Theatre.

HOMER ALLOWS . . .

From vast experiences and observations, I am convinced that I never profit directly or indirectly by losing our temper.

When the days are dark and the nights cloudy there are so many nice pleasant things to think about. For instance, our friends who have proven their sincerity and worth, and especially our parents and dear old grandparents to whom we owe our existence on earth, and I have an idea every day is sorta like father's and mother's day with grateful children. The sentiment expressed in the following lines by an unknown author expresses the reverence I have for my parents, even though my father went to the endless shore in 1899 when I was three weeks old. My mother is still living, more than ninety years of age, with conscience clear and peace of mind she is quite happy in the evening of life, for which I am thankful.

"Parents the dearest, truest, fondest name. (Of course this means the right kind of parents, like yours and mine.) All the world gave them that fame—they who gave us birth and from their life we took our worth. The ones who bear the sweetest name, and adds a lustre to the same." Who shares our joys? Who cheers when sad? The greatest friends I ever had—Long life to them, for there is no other could take the place of my dear parents.

SCHOOL SEGREGATION

With schools opening for the fall semester, the matter of segregation is back in the headlines in Texas and elsewhere, and some school boards may now be pondering up on a law passed by the 53rd Texas Legislature.

By now everyone knows that the Supreme Court of the United States has decreed that segregation of public school pupils by race is unconstitutional. Since the Court's decision, however, the Legislature passed House Bill 65. The constitutionality of this law has not as yet been tested.

In effect the bill provides for local option elections to determine whether dual school systems shall be continued or abolished. It prohibits any board of trustees or any school authority from abolishing its dual school system (desegregating or integrating) prior to an election on the question. A prerequisite to such an election is a petition filed by at least 20 per cent of the qualified electors residing in the school district.

The election is to be conducted in a manner similar to elections for school trustees. It can be called on the same date as a school trustee election if the petition was filed within 90 days of the trustee election. Otherwise the election must be called within 60 days after the petition has been filed. Subsequent elections upon the same questions cannot be called within 2 years of any prior election.

Under this law those schools which integrated during the 1956-1957 term are permitted to continue integration unless this system of operation is abolished by an election held in the manner mentioned above. Another provision under a section of the law dealing with integrated schools is that a student shall be denied transfer from one school to another because of race or color.

The bill provides that if a school district should desegregate without first being authorized to do so by an election of the qualified electors residing therein, then the district becomes ineligible for accreditation and ineligible to receive any Foundation Program Funds. In

HELPFUL HINTS

- 1. Coat the bottom of ice trays with a light film of salad oil which they won't stick to the freezer shelf. . . remember to freshen them occasionally by washing in suds and rinsing thoroughly.
2. Keep freshly ironed garments from wrinkling before you get them from ironing table to closet. There is a new fold-away aluminum rack with projecting arms that holds up to a dozen pieces. It can be used for drip drying garments, too.
3. Grape supplies have increased substantially this week. These larger supplies are being reflected in lower prices in most markets.
4. Early apples from many of the nearby growing areas are coming in. They provide ideal makings for apple sauce or pies, for salads or for between-meal snacks.
5. Enjoy a September strawberry treat from the plentiful frozen stocks now available in local markets.
Serve them on ice cream, to make a luscious strawberry sundae, or with slices of cake topped with whipped cream, for an easy strawberry shortcake. (I like it best using Angel Food cake).

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wolfe, accompanied by his niece, Mrs. Bertie Cobb of Hamilton, were in Woodson last Friday to attend funeral services for his brother-in-law, Mr. Frank Bass, who passed away suddenly of a heart attack on Wednesday at his home in Breckenridge. he was sorry he missed her.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Houser spent from Friday until Saturday of last week in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Jameson and family of Fort Worth.

We learned Monday that Harold Lackey, who had moved last Monday to San Antonio with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lackey, decided to finish his high school work at Hico Public Schools, where he had attended for the past two years. He is staying in the home of Mrs. W. M. Horsley and son, Verne.

Mr. and Mrs. Deibert Pack of Stephenville visited Sunday in the home of her mother and brother, Mrs. M. E. Parks and Audie.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover were in Gorman last Thursday and Friday where Mrs. Hoover had a physical check up, and Mr. Hoover had some dental work done. Her mother, Mrs. A. L. Newman of the Millerville community, accompanied them on Friday and visited in the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tommie May and daughter.

Pat Hardestel of ACC filled an appointment at the Church of Christ Sunday. He was accompanied by a friend, Charles Daniel, also of ACC, who directed the song service. They spent Saturday night

We received a letter Monday from our good friend, Mrs. Margaret Jones of 3852 College Ave., Culver City, Calif. She stated that she is still a shut-in, due to arthritis and other illness. Although still able to do for herself. We feel sure she would appreciate hearing from her many friends, acquired while residing here.

They left for Farmington Tuesday morning.

Farmers have been quite busy breaking and preparing land for the sowing of fall grain and some few have some acreage sown.

Although there has been no work done in several weeks at the cemetery it looks quite well compared to many. It seems impossible to hire anyone just now. Mr. Todd has promised us that he will help out again when he can. We appreciate the work he has done there in the past and hope to find someone else who can help out part time also. Since this scribe is still handicapped with a crippled foot due to a nail pierce six weeks and looks like now may take a little surgery to correct it we have been unable to keep up the duties about our place. As usual, help in these parts seems as scarce as hen's teeth.

Since we did not get to attend the school opening this year, we didn't learn until last week that Mr. Boyd Lowry had resigned his position as coach and faculty member, and accepted a position in the Liberty Hill School. We regret to learn of Mr. Lowry's resignation but wish for him and Mrs. Lowry the best success in his new position. Since school is in progress we would appreciate the parents having by the children. The drop is still at the usual place at Goynes store. Your relatives and friends will be glad to hear of you through your community

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS

By E. R. LAWRENCE

Frank and Pete Courtney, on the river north of Jonesboro a few miles, have been feeding steers for a few years. This year they tried something a little different and it paid off pretty good. They used Stilbestrol implants on a few of their steers to see how they would react to it while in the feed lot.

The steers receiving the implants reacted to one-half pound more daily gain than did the steers not getting the implants.

Frank and Pete went through their steers, cut 30 head out and had the thirty as near alike as they could get them. They then ran the 30 head through a chute and divided them into two groups of 15 head each. All 30 were numbered so they could be kept up with, and known at the end of the feeding period. One of the 15 head group was given an implant in an ear and the other group was not. They were all 30 placed in the feed lot on the same feed mixture and fed for approximately 100 days. They were marketed in July and those given the implants showed a gain of 275 pounds per head per day. Those not receiving the implants made a gain of 225 pounds per head per day. For a 100-day feeding period this amounts to a difference in gain of 50 pounds. The implants cost about 4 cents each per animal.

Floyd and Jim Green, Pecan Wells, report they had almost an inch of rain last Friday night. Floyd said that he had a diversion terrace about one of his fields and that water coming down it ran into one crack and that it was still trying to fill the crack the last time he saw it. We have lots of terraces and diversions that are cracked badly and should we get some fast rains, it is likely many of them are going to be damaged. Reports coming indicate that as usual the eastern part of the county got pretty good showers while the western part still remains dry. I've often wondered why it is that rains can't seem to cross highway 281. For the past several years that part of the county east of the highway has had more rain than that part west of it.

Pope Miller Gerald is building one of the new pig parlors on his place near the old fair grounds. This is a feeding set-up that works something like a broiler operation. About 50 head of pigs are fed in a small place, on a concrete floor, until they are ready for market. Pope Miller also has built a new farrowing house for six sows and at this time has two sows in it that farrowed this week. Guess this is one of those vertical farming operations we have been reading about in some of the papers and magazines. Anyhow, pig parlors are proving to be worth their costs to the hog feeder.

Wonder which be the first one in the county to start a pig hatchery. They are in operation in other parts of the country.

Experience in the county indicates that it is not advisable to plant a vetch crop unless there is a good bottom season at planting time. And we are approaching planting time for this crop—September 15 to November 1. Results of experiments at the

'WEEDY' MILK ON ITS WAY OUT?

A headache of long-standing to the dairy industry may be nearing permanent relief through virtue of a new machine said to remove off-flavors from milk.

The new device, which uses steam and high temperatures to destroy and carry away grass, onion and other bad flavors, is actually an Australian flavor-removing machine which was perfected and further developed at North Carolina State College.

Although very expensive as an addition to a dairy plant, the machine is believed fully justified by dairy farmers who in recent years have had to install proportionately expensive equipment such as bulk cooling tanks themselves. The flavor-saver would prevent these farmers from heavy losses due to rejections for off-flavor, which nowadays could amount to entire storage tanks of milk being wasted.

What the machine will not do is to disguise inferior milk, and for that the public can be grateful.

BAMBOO—A NEW 'SPECIALTY' CROP FOR TEXAS

various stations show that Mustang oats have given better yields than other varieties in the tests. It is true that Mustangs didn't do well this past season, but I believe we should consider that it is their first failure and too, that they are best for winter grazing.

thing more than oriental-looking window shades and fishing poles. And as a new money crop possibility for Texas' lumber-growing regions, bamboo is a natural.

As a source for pulp fiber, bamboo has a potentially bright future because: It grows faster than soft woods and yields four to six times as much pulp per acre; It could be harvested mechanically, eliminating the saw and the ax; It would be cheaper to handle at the pulp mill; it will grow almost anywhere that the average minimum temperature doesn't go below five degrees—ready-made for East Texas' climate.

Also, bamboo fiber has proved to be better for certain specialty papers—such as facial tissue and fine writing papers—than other soft wood pulp.

Bamboo could never replace the reliable pulp-producers we have today. But in our time of crop restrictions, allotments, curbs and controls, it certainly shows promise as a possibility for idle Texas acres.

for needed yardage on several different occasions. All of the young linemen played a good game, with timely blocks and fair tackling.

Gatesville received the opening kickoff of the game and worked to the 41 from where they kicked to Hico. On the first play Hico fumbled and Gatesville was in business on the Tiger 31. Hico returned the compliment three plays later and regained possession on their own 43 from where they punted and Gatesville put the ball in play on their own 32. On the second play Wagner intercepted a Buffalo pass on the 35 and ran it back to the Gatesville 25. Hico was unable to make the needed first down and Gatesville took over on their own 23 yard line.

After another exchange of punts, Teague of the Gatesville school broke through the Hico line and raced 31 yards to the Tiger 19. Duncan saved an almost sure TD when he raced in and caught the runner from behind. The Buffalos were unable to gain the necessary yardage for the first down and Hico took over on their own 23. On the ensuing series of plays the Tigers drove to the second nearest point of scoring of the evening. Duncan, Wagner, and Boone alternated in the ball-carrying department to work to the five, where time ran out ending the first half. The longest gainer in the drive was an 18 yarder by Duncan, followed by a 14-yard play by Boone. Wagner contributed several nice gains in the drive.

Early in the third period the Buffalos completed a pass for 54 yards which carried to the Tiger 9. Duncan again saved a sure TD by chasing the runner out of bounds at that point. The Buffalos worked to the Hico one yard line before losing the ball on downs. Hico never seriously threatened during the third period.

In the fourth period Hico drove to the Gatesville 3 yard line, but there the offense fizzled and they failed to make the touchdown which would have given the victory. Bobby Boone set the scoring drive in motion when he intercepted a Buffalo aerial on his own 45 and raced back to the Gatesville 23.

Gatesville bounced back with a drive of their own, starting at the 3 yard line and working to the Tiger 25 before running out of snuff. The game ended after Hico had taken over at that point.

By HUGH WILLIAMSON

Find a dove hunter and you can quickly organize a debate about open seasons.

For example, take the fellow who goes dove hunting the first part of the season. He gets birds, all report. But a lot of them are small and still have their pinfeathers. That man may say they opened the season too early.

Then you take the fellow who week, all of the younger freshmen and sophomore boys displayed much talent and interest in the game, and gave fans hopes of better things to come in the future.

After the two-game schedule this week, the two teams will be combined for the next two games, against Toiar and Evant, and an attempt will be made to fill the October 11th open date with two more games, before settling down to the regular one game each week.

In the two games last week the coaches played approximately 27 boys.

goes out late in the season. The birds are scarce because cooler weather has caused them to move south. This hunter says they opened the season too late.

There's no solution in going out in the middle part of the season. Everything depends on the weather and when the birds hatch. These are factors over which the game regulation people have no control.

I have been talking over this situation with some of the game management folks, and they are looking for the answers. They will tell you that the doves are increasing in number, unlike most other game birds and animals. That's because the dove is an adaptable creature. Take away his natural habitat, remove his watering place, and he'll come nest in your front yard.

Another thing about doves. They may be inclined to nest mainly in the spring, but this home-making and young-raising is likely to go on through the summer and on into the fall, sometimes all year long. So the hunter will get some small birds, no matter what the season.

PROOF OF THE ARGUMENT

PROOF of the argument which has been raging fast and furious between E. E. Dawson and Lee Autrey, with sideline comments from many, many other residents, is hereby submitted. Still have your doubts?

The government biologists are studying all these angles, and based on what they find, there may be changes in dove hunting regulations. Perhaps the season will be lengthened, or the bag limit increased, or both.

As it is now, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service sets the length of season. That's because the dove is a migratory bird, and the regulation officials want to give the hunters of all states an equal chance for birds. As far as the season dates are concerned, the federal laws that pretty much up to the states.

Add it all up and what you get is the happy fact that doves thrive in spite of drought and high water, and that the outlook for dove hunters is likely to keep getting better and better.

New Rod Material.

Strange and wonderful things turn up as the scientists of this day and age pursue knowledge. A good example is the new fishing rod material developed by the genius-type workers on guided missiles.

The stuff is called Missillite, which Conolon now is using to make rods that are reputed to be stronger than glass. The new material is a combination of fiber-glass and resin.

Another innovation by Conolon is the guide that is anchored to the rod at one side only. The advantage is in greater flexibility of the rod.

"Splat" Fishing.

One of the outdoors magazines recently published a yarn about "splat" fishing, which is much the same thing we know as skitter fishing. East Texans in particular have been familiar with it for years. Anyway, these "splat" fishermen used a stout cane pole and a shortish, heavy line. Fishing from a boat at night, in very shallow water right along the bank, they used a long-shank hook baited with pork-rind. One of their tricks was to run a rubber band from the eye of the hook to the barb, making it practically weedless.

They dropped the bait out on shore, then pulled it in so that it plopped into the inches-deep water. When the bass took it they horsed him right in, taking no chance on losing him in the brush.

The system, with many variations, works—as many old-timers in Texas and elsewhere know very well. It is a form of what you call "meat" fishing, as opposed to "sport" fishing.

Sometimes sport fishing pays off, sometimes it doesn't. When it fails, a man will be tempted to go after fish by whatever means.

The other afternoon, I wished for one of those skittering rigs. The weather was warm, so I figured the bass might be congregated where a spring-fed stream empties cool water into the river.

No fish responded, but I saw a big bass splash twice by an old stump, not 20 feet from where I was fishing from the bank. I dropped a topwater lure on the spot, and the bass took it immediately—took it under the stump where my four-pound spinning line wasn't anything like enough to pull him out.

If I'd been skittering, of course, it would have been a different story. Or maybe if I had been in a boat, casting into the bank with a bait-casting outfit, it would have been all right.

Tackle Argument.

Talk about debates, you can get into one plenty fast when you bring up fishing tackle.

There's the purist who wouldn't look at anything but a fly rod, and who wouldn't think of using anything but a dry fly. He fishes for trout and nothing else.

Then, there's the fly rod man who will not only use his rig to cast wet as well as dry flies, but will go so far as to fish for types other than trout and who, upon occasion, might slip a worm on his hook if nobody is looking.

In our part of the country we favor the casting outfit because the heavier lines help us get our bass out of the lily pads and brush.

Aristocrats of the casting school would never use anything but a topwater lure. Down the scale you find those degraded people who use deep runners, spinners and spoons. Then, there's the fellow who will bait his hook with minnows, worms, crayfish, shrimp or anything else the fish will bite.

There are several categories of spin fishermen.

At the bottom of the heap are the cane pole and trotline fishermen. They catch the most fish. I am not going to talk about the bait they use. Least of all am I going to talk about catfish bait.

Who's kidding whom? If somebody tells me I can catch a 15-pound blue cat by using a dog's tail for bait, Poopsie had better get under the house.
