School Bells to Ring Sept. 2 For Fall Term

Local Plant in Excellent Condition For Fall Opening

Hico Public Schools are scheduled to open for the 1958-59 school year on Tuesday, September 2, according to information released this week by Supt. O. C. Cook.

The Tuesday date was set due to the Labor Day holiday falling on Monday, Sept. 1.

The local school plant is in excellent condition to receive the approximate 300 students which are expected to enroll on that day. An extensive painting program has been carried out during the summer months, and the property in general is in top condition. Meeting last Thursday night, school board members voted to purchase new tables for the Homemaking Cottage, which will further add to the effectiveness of that department.

The local faculty is complete with the exception of a band instructor, and board members are confident that a replacement for Mr. E. H. Bradley will be secured before the start of school. Mr. Bradley resigned to accept a similar position with the Keller school system.

One new bus was purchased last spring in the board's current replacement program, and delivery was accepted in Austin last week. The addition of this latest bus gives the Hico system one of the most modern and up-to-date transportation facilities in this area. The board purchased one new bus last year.

Football practice is expected to commence Monday, August 25, under new head coach Jack Barnett, who is returning to Hico after two years in the army. His assistant coach is Ross Hall, who was assistant here last year.

Increase in Lunch Prices.
Due to a loss of about $450 on school lunches during the 1957-58 school term, the local board felt that it was necessary to make a slight increase in the price for lunches this year. Prices agreed upon are: Grades 1 and 2, 20c each; Grades 3, 4, 5, and 6, 25c each; Grades 7 through 12 and adults, 30c each.

This increase in price for school lunches is the first that has been made in eight years, and was brought about by rising costs of groceries and labor.

School Calendar Set.
At the meeting of the school board last Thursday, the following calendar was set up for the 1958-59 term:

- August 29—General faculty meeting 8:00 a.m.

Local Cubs Visit Historic Sites at Camp Tahuaya

The Cub Scouts, Pack 92, Dens 1 and 2, spent last Sunday near Belton at Camp Tahuaya.

The group left Hico early Sunday morning and arrived at Belton at 10 a.m. A guide at the camp conducted them on a hike immediately after their arrival. The many places of interest they visited was the old Chisholm Trail, where old army cannons and army equipment passed many years ago. They also visited the site where the first grist mill in this area stood, and which will be a Boy Scout project for the next five years, restoring the old mill and put it into operation again. They returned by way of Lake Callan where the Scouts canoe, and saw the site where General Custer made his second last stand before his annihilation in New Mexico.

Following the hike the group enjoyed a picnic lunch and swimming.

Cubs making the trip were Lynn Wade Malone, Ronnie Hefner, Jimmy and Drewford Barnett, Leslie Royal and Steve Knudson. Parents accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Malone, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hafner and Mr. and Mrs. Bertice Barnett.

Arrowhead Collection of Hico Man Numbers Nearly 3,000

A unique hobby which is enjoyed by a local man is that of collecting arrowheads, and other early American Indian instruments.

The person who pursues this hobby is Ed Bulman, who resides south of Hico on the old I. Comer ranch.

In the accompanying photo there is shown only a part of the collection of arrowheads and other Indian tools which Mr. Bulman has gathered over a period of years which started back in 1938.

His collection includes articles from Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and Texas, with most of them being found here in this state. Approximately two-thirds of them have been gathered in Hamilton County. Included in the collection are several instruments which Archaeologists have not been able to identify.

Mr. Bulman is a member of the Texas Archaeology Society.

The elaborate collection includes between two and three thousand pieces, and more than fifteen hundred of the points are perfect specimens. When asked if he was still adding to the collection, Mr. Bulman stated that he was but the supply was getting more scarce all the time.

The collection pieces, which he has spent many hours of polishing and assorting, are all enclosed in glass cases. Each item in the collection is worth from 25c to $125, Mr. Bulman said.

Some of his more rare pieces are the Clovis, which is dated from 10000 to 16000 BC; the Sandia, which is considered earlier than the Clovis, and which no time has been established; Scotts Bluff, which dates from 4000 to 6000 BC; and the Plainview, which also dates from 4000 to 6000 BC.

The point which is considered the very rarest is the Folsom. This particular point is not included in the Bulman collection, but he has several parts of the rare piece.

While most of the points have been found in this area, Bulman said that some of them came from Indian graves which he dug up between Andrews, Texas and Eunice, New Mexico. He stated that some of the graves which he had dug into contained many various pieces, while others bore only a few.

The polished ax in the lower portion of the photo shown here is known as a "Celt," and contrary to many beliefs, there is no known use of the ax.

Bulman displayed a portion of the collection during the Hamilton County Centennial.

Lester Simpson, who is employed in Fort Worth, is spending his vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson.

IT HAPPENED HERE OR NEAR—

The Story of 'Soapy Smith'

By E. E. DAWSON

For a long time I have been reading about Soapy Smith, one of the notorious confidence men of the other century. But I never found much about him at any one time or place until now. Soapy Smith is illustration of the fact that however good or bad a man is, his record follows him and he comes to be a synonym of what he actually was. Thus this man's reputation lives with all that a bad man's reputation can be.

Jefferson Randolph Smith was born in Georgia in 1860, but was at an early age found in the San Antonio area of Texas during the days of the sixties and seventies, living on a ranch and earning his first money herding long-horn cattle. In the latter seventies a circus came to town and Jeff Smith saddled his bronc and went to see the sights he had heard about all his conscious life. But he did not see the sights at all that day. Before the circus tent was open, Jeff saw a man, Clubfoot Hall, with a crowd about him watching, and forking up money to give to Clubfoot at a dollar a shot to guess at which walnut shell the ball was under. Jeff Smith put up his money after seeing the con man put the ball under a shell. But Jeff lost his money. When the shell was lifted no ball was there. Jeff tried again and again and finally his forty dollars were gone and he did not have enough to buy a ticket into the circus.

But here was something he had to know about, so he got on his horse and rapidly rode back to the ranch and borrowed twenty dollars from one of the hands, and returned to the place where Clubfoot was holding forth. He snuggled up to Clubfoot and made friends with him and learned all of the trick of the walnut shells and the hidden ball. Then he left with the con man, Clubfoot Hall, and wound up at Leadville, Colorado, a town noted for its silver production and where a swarming crowd of adventurers were ready to bite at anything that offered a chance to make some money.

There he saw a man standing on a street corner handing out pieces of soap about an inch square for five dollars each. The crowd watched the man, named Taylor, wrap ten and twenty and fifty and one hundred dollar bills with some of the soap cubes, and for the five dollars a man paid for a cube he could select any cube on the table and have a change at a big profit. But nobody ever got one of the lucky cubes. Some time later Jeff Smith went to Denver and having learned Taylor's secret put on the soap act and met great success, so great indeed that from that day until his death he was known as Soapy Smith.

Later Smith went to Creed, Colorado, a silver mining town and carried on with great success and the accumulation of a lot of money. But all at once a government order reduced the price of silver from a dollar and a half an ounce to about sixty cents an ounce and the miners all quit and the silver business went begging. Soapy Smith went back to Denver and continued his con business with success.

About that time, the late nineties, gold was discovered in Alaska, the Klondike Strike, and Soapy hid him to Skagway and found great opportunities fleeing the miners who had returned from the gold diggings with fat sacks of gold dust. And at Skagway he became a dominant figure, the most influential man in the city and the richest.

Then one day he took his Winchester and went out to break up a thing that he opposed. A guard shouted to him to halt. But Soapy Smith was influential and rich and he did not stop when others called on him to halt. Then a Scot, named Frank Reid, snapped a pistol at him, the pistol falling to fire, and Soapy Smith levelled his Winchester at the Scot and pulled the trigger. But the Scot managed to pull the trigger on his pistol again and this time it fired, and a bullet went straight into the heart of Soapy Smith and the king of con men fell very dead. Soapy's bullet hit Reid at the same instant, but the hardy Scot lived twelve days before he finally checked out.

The old toughs nearly all died that way, and so left a heritage of evil to the world and there follows the reputation that will not down. One is amazed in these days in which we live that men and women will try to fatten off the world by working evil schemes, and sooner or later are caught and have to pay the high price of crime.

HERE IN HICO

By E. V. M.

PRETTY GIRLS . . . deserve attention, and here in Hico we what we believe, more our fair share of lasses capable of winning beauty contests at any time or place.

Recent "Miss Reunion" contest more than bears out the fact Hico is blessed with a group of ladies who would more hold their own in any contest. Twenty-seven girls from Hico competed for the title, and the sad part of the affair is that all 27 couldn't be crowned. However they all received the recognition, and it reminded us of what a group of young ladies we were.

Friday night the winners will appear on KCEW-TV, the television station. The winners invited by Dub King to appear on his sports show that day, which starts at 10:30 the afternoon.

Everyone in Hico will have TV sets tuned to the Temple that evening, and we'll bet the girls conduct themselves in a manner that they will credit to our town. The record that Hico itself receives will be great benefit.

WON'T BE LONG NOW . . . until school starts, and school begins, old King Football just around the corner.

Jack Barnett has issued to every boy who will play this fall to report at 8 p.m. Monday, August 25, for opening workouts. Jack has a team of molding a team out of returning lettermen and men, and having them ready for first game, which is only a week away from the 25th. Young coach is highly optimistic, and anxious to get started with the boys again in a two-year lay-off at the expense of Uncle Sam, and any payment and aid that we give him would be appreciated.

As an energetic type of fellow demands—and will receive the maximum effort from boy on the squad. That's the opinion of the personable young man and we stand ready to aid in any way possible through the approaching season.

SCHOOL BELLS . . . It seems only yesterday everyone was getting around getting everything addressed for the close of school and now it's time to start again. If the summer seemed as short to the student as it has to us, then they feel cheated.

OTHER REMINDER . . . In over one week from now, people will have a chance to express their opinion once in deciding who they want to represent this county, along with others, in Austin for the next two years.

When talking, of course, about second primary election which is held next Saturday, August 22, in which local voters will elect officials to vote on.

One which we are primarily interested in is the Representative where H. A. Leaverton of Hico is contesting Bill Shannon of Hico for the seat which he occupied in Austin the past two years. Shannon and Leaverton had a majority of the votes cast in July Primary over the other candidates, Kal Segrest of Hico and Hicoville.

Another race on the ballot is that of the Supreme Court, where J. Edwin Smith is contesting Hamilton.

Stick our neck out and let Hamilton will defeat us but we're not going to take any chance of getting it cut off by the outcome of the election. One thing we will watch through—one of them will be elected when the next session of Legislature convenes!

REASONABLE TIME

Before a contract arises someone must make an offer and another must accept it.

Without an offer no acceptance; with no acceptance, no agreement.

But there is often a time within which you can accept the offer. And if not, the offer ends anyhow within a "reasonable time" which is determined by circumstances and the parties' intentions.

Smith had a set of books which Brown wanted. Brown wrote and offered him $200 for the set.

Smith didn't answer for six months, and meantime Brown bought a similar set. One day Brown got a letter from Smith saying "I accept your offer of $200 for the set of books."

Brown told Smith he'd bought the books elsewhere, but Smith still claimed that his belated "acceptance" had nevertheless sealed the contract with Brown.

Was there a contract? No, the offer had lapsed because it had not been accepted in the circumstances within a reasonable time.

There are many ways to end an offer. You may withdraw it, you may say that the offer expires at a given time, or you may die, or the other party may turn it down directly or by making a counter offer.

Here Smith had failed to accept Brown's offer within a reasonable time, which ended it just as though it had been withdrawn.

What is a reasonable time? It varies. The offer could expire in a few minutes in the stock market or last for quite a while, depending upon what a court would think is a reasonable time.

But in Smith's case six months was unreasonable.

Game Warden Reports

By SWEDE JOHNSON

State Game Warden Hamilton & Bosque Counties

With the hot month of July behind and part of the hotter month of August gone, it shouldn't be too long before a little cooler weather and maybe the old black bass will go to hitting again. Most of the people one finds around the lake at this time of the year are looking for the shade and a nice place to have their picnics and hold their family reunions.

The white bass are still hitting off and on, depending on where you find them, with the smaller ones nearer the top and the larger ones just about on the bottom. I would suggest trolling deep and using some good spoon-type bait, and for a new wrinkle, try trolling at a pretty fast speed. You will be able to locate your schools a lot faster and find that the faster the speed the more action you will obtain from your bait and you will be surprised at the results.

It won't be long before the new licenses will be on the market, probably around August 24 or 25. So if you hunt, fish, sell bait, or sell fish and catch fish for a living I would suggest that you purchase your license as soon as they become available. I cannot stress enough how important it is for all of us to pull together and to support such an important program as our wildlife.

Another thing I think maybe I should discuss is the fact that it is about the time of the year to take the old shotgun down from hiding and give it a good cleaning and oiling and see that it is tip-top shape for the first hunt of the season which opens September 1. At the present I am unable to go in detail as of the bag-limit and possession limit and the shooting hours but before the season opens I will be able to give you the latest dope.

In closing I would like to remind all of you to please not rush the season—be a good sport and play the game fair—and remember, the game you save today will be yours tomorrow.

Yours truly,
SWEDE.

TEXAS HOME DEMONSTRATION ASSOCIATION MEETING

On August 13, 14, 15 the 23rd annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association will be held at the Austin Hotel in Austin. This organization has accomplished many good things since it started 32 years ago. The purpose of the annual meeting is to provide opportunity for three delegates from each county to participate in a meeting to review achievements, and to evaluate and recommend to clubs a program of work for next year. Workshops in the six committees will offer each member and guest opportunity to share in discussions on health and safety, recreation, citizenship, education, and 4-H work, the standing committees of the Association. Also in civil defense activities.

The three delegates from Hamilton County who are attending this meeting are Mrs. Royce Hall, president of the Fairy Club; Mrs. R. L. Staggs, the incoming THDA county chairman and member of the Littleville Club, and Mrs. C. H. King, our present County Council Chairman and member of the South Hico Club. We know that these ladies will represent us well and come back with many new ideas that will be of value in planning our future work.

VACATION TIME

Everyone needs a vacation—a "pause that refreshes." Sameness produces staleness, and eventually lowers efficiency and morale. A change in environment and activities, or both, can put new zest and vitality into everyday living. Money is not the most important requirement for a successful vacation. Provisions for some rest, inspiration and inexpensive entertainment can be arranged by careful planning.

Consider all family members. Start your plans by listing the activities each enjoys most or feels a need for. Then take stock of the time and money available. Post-vacation fatigue from trying to do too much, or financial worry from over-spending, ruins many vacations each year. A careful look at the resources in your own home, community or surrounding area may bring to light some interesting possibilities for outdoor camping, sports of all kinds, reading, visiting, enjoyment of music, your favorite hobby or perhaps a chance for some special grooming that will give you a lift.

Better safe than sorry, whatever your vacation activities. Keep a look-out for possible hazards that may cause injury or tragedy.

TRAVEL LIGHT

Going away this summer? Take no more clothing than is absolutely essential. Traveling with light luggage is lots easier these days with all the new fabrics and finishes which make clothing so much easier to care for.

Make a plan and build your wardrobe around a basic color scheme. Well chosen separates and such small accessories as scarfs, flowers and jewelry help vary your costume. Take the type of clothes you know you like to wear. As useful as separates are to most women, if you don't like to wear them at home you won't like them away from home. The same thing applies to knitted suits and dresses. They're ideal for packing but remember, you want clothes ideal for wearing, too. Be practical but not drab. When in doubt, don't take that extra dress.

RECREATION FOR SMALL CHILDREN

Are your own children frequently asking for something new to do? Do you have visiting children who find it difficult to keep themselves occupied. Why not try offering some finger paints? Right now it is a good pastime to keep children busy during the hottest part of the day when little ones should not be outside.

Finger painting offers a challenge to the artistic abilities of young and old without the inhibitions presented them by many other mediums. For finger painting, a smooth washable surface is needed. The table should be in some place where a little spilled water will do no harm. Cover the table with oilcloth or papers if it is a top which might be injured.

The paper used for finger painting needs to be glazed on one side. Ordinary shelf paper that comes in rolls is satisfactory. A piece of oilcloth may be used also. Here is the recipe for making finger paints—you may also find them on the market in any store that handles toys.

HOME MADE FINGER PAINTS
three-fourths cup laundry starch
One and a half cups soap flakes
Cold water
Boiling water, 1 quart
Coloring—cake or frosting colors—poster paint, water color paints—blueing.

Mix the starch with a little cold water. Pour the mixture slowly into one quart of rapidly boiling water. Stir constantly until the mixture thickens; when it cools slightly, add the soap flakes. Stir well. Divide into three or four parts and color each part a different color.

Finger painting is done on a piece of glazed paper of a size that will fit easily on the table. Wet it on both sides, put it down on the table, shiny side up, and smooth out all wrinkles with wet hands. With a spoon put a scant teaspoonful of paint on the paper, with wet hands smear the paint over the paper, using both hands and a free arm and shoulder motion. Many effects can be obtained with fingers, fingernails and fists. When the painting is finished pull it off the table, and hang it up to dry. When dry the painting may be pressed on the back with a hot iron. Cleaning up afterwards should always be a part of fingerpainting.

Jars of finger paint wrapped attractively would be a splendid gift for a child. Attractive Christmas wrapping paper may be made using the finger painting method for decoration. Try it for wrapping your gifts this year.

HOMEMADE GAMES FOR FAMILY FUN

Simple, interesting homemade games are proving very popular with youngsters of all ages. They provide double entertainment for family members—the fun of making the games, and hours of enjoyment in playing with them.

"Homemade Games," a set of directions compiled by two specialists in that field, is being used widely by home demonstration and 4-H Clubs. Some of the games might be made to use as gifts throughout the year. You may get a copy of "Homemade Games" from my office by coming by or dropping me a card and I will mail you one.

IS THE FARM VOTE STRENGTH DECREASING?

The general opinion in some circles of government today is that the farm vote as a power at the polls is a thing of the past.

Such a misconception has, on occasion, led to neglect of the rural segment of our economy in favor of a more vocal minority. This is known as "oiling the wheel that squeaks the loudest," among unsuccessful petitioners for governmental process. The group which gains its demands usually calls it, "Making yourself heard in Government."

It is true that the farm vote now represents only about 9 per cent of registered voters on a national scale. But this does not present a true picture of agricultural strength.

If everyone concerned only realized it and acted accordingly, the agricultural block could still be the mightiest power in effect in our Democratic form of government.

For a total of 63 per cent of our population is directly connected with the buying, selling, manufacturing or processing of our farm products. Legislative matters important to agriculture are vitally important to all these persons. Here is how it works! If everyone who buys the raw products of the farm would vote with the farmer as a block, the strength of the rural vote would increase to 14 per cent. If those who pass these products through the channels of trade were counted, the total goes up to 24 per cent. The processors and manufacturers of these goods would swell the total to 27 per cent. Retailers of the ultimate product increases the strength to 56 per cent.

And finally, those who sell the farmer only those tools and materials needed to produce his crop brings the grand total to 63 per cent of our voting strength.

Of course, all of us rely on agriculture for our daily needs. Hardly another single industry affects the entire population so directly.

The primary conclusion to be drawn for this is—that the fate of agriculture, its leaders and its legislation—is of concern to us all.

For this reason, it is very important that every citizen know the men and issues which will guide and affect our agricultural outlook.

SIGHTS TO SEE IN TEXAS

There's plenty to see in Texas, wherever you may roam on a holiday jaunt or on a vacation trip. Clockwise from the lower left hand corner, some of the impressive sights to see in Texas are: The Big Bend, some of the most striking scenery in the state; Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas at 8,751 feet; the Palo Duro Canyon, camping grounds for Indian tribes in frontier days; East Texas oil fields, biggest of them all; the 570-foot San Jacinto Monument, commemorating decisive battle of Texas history; Gulf Coast Beaches, some of the finest in the world; the Alamo, "Cradle of Texas Liberty," and in the center of the state, Texas Longhorn Cavern, biggest cave in the state and third largest in the world, one of Texas' most spectacular natural wonders. Sightseeing is fun in Texas.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS

By E. B. LAWRENCE

I have just received information from College Station about a new clover that might have possibilities here in the county. This clover is called Israel Clover. It is an annual white sweet clover and is similar to Hubam in appearance, but grows taller, has longer stems and leaves and is approximately 60 days later in maturity. Israel may reach a height of 7 to 9 feet in row plantings by the end of the season.

Israel is indeterminate in growth habit, that is it will have both green and mature seed on it at the same time, like Hubam. Israel may be used for soil improvement, pasture, or silage. The forage yield of it during the spring is somewhat less than Hubam but, with a longer growing season, its total production exceeds that of other varieties.

With adequate soil fertility and moisture, yields as high as 9 tons per acre of air-dry forage have been obtained. Under less favorable conditions yields of 2 to 4 tons are obtained. The large leaves and succulent for a larger portion of the growing season. This characteristic makes it ideally suited for grazing or for the production of silage.

Seed of this clover may be harvested by direct combining. Harvesting should start when early seed begin to shatter and the late seed are still green. Seed yields of 500 pounds per acre have been obtained in South Texas.

The clover is not adapted to fall seeding in this county as it will winter damage when temperatures reach 18 degrees.

Certified seed will be available this spring and fall for the state. This clover should give us another summer legume for soil building and also pasturage.

I'm afraid we have the smallest cotton crop, in acres, this year that the county has ever had. Indications are that we have around 3,500 acres that will be harvested. Our county allotment was a little better than 12,000 acres.

Over the south, cotton furnishes work for many thousands of people and every one of them have a vital stake in producing high quality cotton. The higher the grade the more money there is to be divided up between all those working with the crop.

Cotton is graded on the basis of color, foreign matter or leaf trash content and ginning preparation. Ginning preparation is one of the items that does not cause much of a problem here because we have two gins that will compare with any in the state when it comes to equipment and the actual ginning of the cotton. They are as modern as a few things that the ginner as gins can be. However there can not get of a bale of cotton. One of these is trash that has been imbedded in the cotton due to tramping it in a small trailer or pickup. Tramping knocks off some of the shuck, leaves and also breaks up certain grass stems that otherwise could be removed in the ginning operations.

Too, wet cotton can't be ginned as it should. While a certain amount of moisture can be handled, wet cotton can't for best results. While the greater part of the crop is harvested with strippers, stripped cotton can be handled successfully through the gins. However a better grade will be obtained if cooperation is given the ginner. Green leaves are likely to stain the lint and this stain can lower the grade.

Starting September 1, all dairy men of the county will be on a program to eradicate Brucellosis from their dairy herds. This is another step the dairymen are taking to produce a better product for the market.

A dry milk cow does not bring in any immediate returns and for that reason is often the most neglected animal on the farm. This is a serious mistake because it is during the dry period that a cow builds her body reserves and gets
