Officials of the Muleshoe United Fund in a meeting Tuesday night began reviewing applications for UF support. The review was not completed and UF Chairman Jess Bryant is to call a meeting for further discussions and planning.

Mrs. Jeff Peeler and Mrs. Lee Pool went with Mrs. Herman White who took her paintings to hang in the gallery of Nelda Lee in Odessa recently. On the way, they visited the Roger Pools and on the way back visited Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Foust and Jason and Mary Reed of Big Spring.

The Bailey County Hospital District will meet in a regular session Tuesday evening, October 5, at 8 p.m. in the West Plains Memorial Hospital conference room to discuss old and new business.

Two Muleshoe High School representatives are to attend the state-wide meeting of the Texas Association of Secondary School Principals at Galveston Monday and Tuesday. They are Fred Mardis, high school principal, and Ben Grambling, high school counselor.

Two pistols, a watch and a phonograph record stolen from White Auto Store here in September have been recovered, Bailey County Sheriff Dee Clements said Friday afternoon. The items were among merchandise, including seven pistols, shoplifted, presumably one at a time, from the store from Sept. 8 to Sept. 26. Sheriff Clements said no charges had been filed and the investigation was continuing.

Lamb-Bailey Women's Cotton Council Meets

Lamb-Bailey County Women's Cotton Council met Saturday evening, October 2, at 8 p.m. in the Bula school lunchroom, for a social with their husbands and children as guests. The group enjoyed movies shown by Mrs. J.D. Smith of Littlefield that were made on their recent trip to Europe with a group representing the Plains Cotton Growers. Door prizes made from cotton were given to ones holding the lucky tickets. Refreshments of openface sandwiches, cake, pie, punch and coffee were served. While the men enjoyed playing dominoes and visiting, the women met for a short business session. Several items of business were discussed and a report from the nominating committee was given. Officers elected to serve for another year are president, Anna Black; vice-president, Sib Hubbard; secretary, Treva Autrey; treasurer, Wanda Legan; and reporter, Faye Jones.

Banks To Observe Public Holidays

The Congress of the United States and the Texas Legislature have designated the second and fourth Mondays in October as public holidays on which all state and federal offices and all banks in Texas must close, according to Oscar Lindemann of Dallas, President of the Texas Bankers Association. The traditional Columbus Day of October 12 and Veterans Day of November 11 were changed several years ago by Congress and the Texas Legislature to the second and fourth Mondays in October. 1971 will be the first year, however, in which these new Monday public holidays will be observed. Both dates were declared mandatory bank holidays by the Texas Legislature so that Texas laws would conform with the laws of the federal government and a majority of the other states, Lindemann said.

Bradley, parts manager at Fry and Cox, will succeed Frank Ellis as president of the Muleshoe organization in installation ceremonies for new officers in January. Clarence Jones, co-owner of Plains Auto Parts, was elected vice president. Jim Crawford, vice president of the Muleshoe State Bank, was elected secretary.

Lazbuddie Stomps Wolverines 52-0

Lazbuddies Longhorns roared past the Texico Wolves Friday night, to up their season mark to 3-1. The 'Horns rested on a 19-0 lead during intermission. After all was said and done the Longhorns had gathered a total of 52 points to Texico's 0. Halfback Author Graves started things midway in the first quarter when he galloped three yards to pay dirt. Mark Barnes kicked the point after. Graves again hit paydirt early in the second quarter when he roared past Texico line and traveled nine yards. PAT failed.

Lazbuddies' strong defensive team held Texico to 39 yards on the ground. Rick Seaton picked off a pass which might have been Texico's only threat of the half. Quarterback Seaton started things in the first half when he took the ball on a quarterback sneak for two yards and a touchdown. Barnes kicked the point. Mark Barnes kicked the ball back to Texico's Stewart who could not handle the ball and fumbled in the end zone. Halfback Graves recovered for a touchdown. Barnes again kicked the PAT. Coach Buddy Brock decided to do some experimenting, and moved end Loy Dale Clark to quarterback. Clark marched his team down the field. With only minutes left in the quarter, Clark took the ball on a sneak for two yards and his first

Tapes Available For Firms

Muleshoe business firms can obtain pointers on selling and self improvement from the distributive education department of high school, Mark Gist, head of that department, told the Business Activities Committee of the Chamber of Commerce at the committee meeting Wednesday morning. Gist said tapes are available from his department. The materials were purchased by the school.

Passing School Bus Law Changed

Under a new Texas law drivers passing school buses must stop and remain stopped while the buses' lights are flashing. The former law required that drivers stop for school buses loading or unloading pupils and were then permitted to proceed with caution. The new law would give bus drivers the responsibility of signaling when pupils were safely inside the bus or out of the traffic area by turning off the flashing lights. Vehicles on another roadway of a divided highway are not required to stop for buses loading or unloading and drivers are not required to stop if the bus is stopped in a loading zone of a controlled access highway where pedestrians are not permitted to cross.

ASC Community Election To Be Held December 1

The ASC Community Committee election this year will be held on December 1. Ballots will be mailed to voters on November 19. The voted ballots must be mailed or returned in person not later than December 1. A slate of at least six nominees will be developed for each community. The communities in Bailey County are: A Community, north of the Sandhills; B Community, south of the Sandhills and west of Highway 214; and C Community, south of the Sandhills and east of Highway 214. Prevention Of Crime Is Topic Here

"Paperhanging," check book style, and shoplifting of the sort that can literally shift a business from the black to the red ink side of the ledger, were topics at a crime prevention course here Thursday. J.B. Hare, Lubbock, area assistance officer of the Small Business Administration, showed films on hot checking and store thievery to more than 30 business personnel. The films, one shown at 9:30 a.m. session, and the other at the 2 p.m. meeting, emphasized means of preventing losses by theft and bad checks. Jack Young, district attorney, reviewed laws dealing with hot checks and informed the group as to checking procedures that can be prosecuted. Harold White, Muleshoe chief of police, pointed out laws and procedures for prosecuting shoplifters. The program was sponsored

J.R. Carter Elected Zone Three Director

J.R. Carter has been elected director of Zone 3 of the Blackwater Valley Soil and Water Conservation District for a five year term. This position was formerly held by Carl Pollard of the Stegall community. Ray Carter, of Muleshoe, J.R. Carter's father, also served as director of the Blackwater Valley District when the district was in its infancy. J.R. Carter operates approximately 1950 acres of land, consisting of both dry and irrigated cropland, hayland and pastureland.

New Approach Seen To Insect Control

Bailey County Agent J.K. Adams, seriously concerned over past few years about over use of farm insecticides, today pointed out findings by researchers that indicate a different approach to insect control. Adams is convinced that considerable chemical application for control of crop pests is indiscriminate and in some cases ineffective except to make inroads on beneficial insects. The role of insecticides may change in the near future as knowledge is gained for new avenues of control. At least that is the indication from findings of research conducted by Dr. George L. Teetes, assistant professor and entomologist in charge of grain sorghum insect research at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. Teetes is working at the Center on a long range research program on greenbug control.

"Integrating insecticides with other methods of control is the goal of our research," explains Dr. Teetes. "However, since almost any aspect of an agroecosystem can significantly influence the pest complex, and ultimately plant damage and crop losses, changes in any one aspect can cause far-reaching changes in others. This interrelationship increases the complexity and scope of the research problems of integrated control. An integrated control program must be based on sound research in areas such as threshold levels, natural enemies, biological knowledge, crop susceptibility and differential toxicity of insecticides," Teetes says. He adds that research is underway in all these areas. "This year we used several methods at different locations to determine the population levels of greenbugs that must be present to cause losses in grain yields," he explained.

Determination of injury levels is an essential part of any insect control program. Teetes' initial findings show that grain sorghum past the boot stage can withstand high numbers of greenbugs without causing severe damage. But researchers need to know more accurately what this level is. The greenbug has many natural enemies and Texas A&M has research underway to determine how producers can most effectively use these beneficials, especially in conjunction with insecticide application. It is in this area that the differential toxicity of insecticides plays such an important role. Research initiated by Dr. Dale Bottrell and Jim Cates in 1970, and continued in 1971, shows that low rates of several in-secticides will keep greenbug populations below damaging numbers and yet have little effect on beneficial species. "Our tests show that several insecticides applied at the rate of one-tenth pound actual toxicant per acre had little direct effect on beneficials," Teetes said, "however, such effective control of greenbugs was obtained that beneficials had no food supply on which to maintain themselves and rapidly decrease in numbers." These tests were conducted in small replicated plots as well as large fields with similar results. Crop susceptibility is one of the main areas of research. The scientists are cooperating with sorghum plant breeders in selecting for plant resistance to the greenbug and attempting to determine with limited insecticide applications.

Muleshoe Mules Win Over Portales 7-0

Bobby Hayes and Donnie Wheat led the Muleshoe Mules to a 7-0 victory over the Portales Rams Friday night at Portales. Hayes rushed for 76 yards followed by Wheat with 38. Don Long, quarterback, hit 50 percent of his passes with two completions for 23 yards. The Muleshoe Mules gained 109 yards all totaled with 70 rushing and 37 passing. Wesley yards of that coming in the second half. Portales gained 64 yards rushing and 41 passing, the visiting Texas team to 39 rushing and ten passing. The Mules had four first downs while the Rams had three. Two Muleshoe drives were yardage penalties on Portales cut short when Bill Holmes took the ball to the four yard line. Wheat took a pitchout from Nesser recovered a Wheat Long and went in for the touch-down. Don Heathington kicked the point after.

The Mules controlled the ball in the third quarter holding Portales to only 13 yards on six plays. Portales started moving as the fourth quarter began. Mike Speck returned the kickoff from his own ten to the Portales 41. Three yard runs by Speck and Archie McMath and a ten yard run by Mark Smith put the Rams on the Muleshoe 43. From there, Sammy Cook hit Bill Hardt with a long pass and Hardt rambled to the Muleshoe 12. But, Portales was called for holding at scrimmage. Cook, the Ram's signal caller dropped back again. Wheat jumped in front of the ball at the Ram 40 and sped to the endzone. However, the Mules were called for clipping back at the 48.

as tolerance, non-preference or antibiosis. "We have sources of resistance, but we must transfer this resistance into material that is agronomically acceptable," Teetes explained. This process often appears to go slowly, but some of the crosses made this year look encouraging. Biological knowledge of the greenbug is gained every year, but scientists are primarily directing their research to studying the overwintering habits of this pest. Eventually researchers hope to incorporate all these findings into an integrated control scheme, not necessarily eliminating greenbugs from sorghum, but maintaining populations below economic injury levels using all available means in conjunction with limited insecticide applications.

FHA Will Help Finance Youth Farm Projects

Future Farmers of America can obtain financial backing for their projects from the Farmers Home Administration in instances where the FHA finances the FFA youths' fathers farming operations, Clinton Kennedy, Bailey County FHA supervisor, said. Kennedy said the FHA is providing loans to encourage young men with agriculture backgrounds to become successful farmers. The vocational agriculture instructors in the county are to work with Kennedy if necessary to acquaint FFA youths and their fathers with the financial assistance program.

CONGRESSMAN

Bob Price

U.S. House of Representatives
18th Congressional District

In remarks on the House Floor today, Congressman Bob Price stated his opposition to the two-China-United Nations proposal:

"The present U.S. proposal to create a two-China-United Nations policy is extremely ill-considered. "It is one thing for the President to exchange communications with the leaders of Red China—after all, our Nation cannot continue to act as if the most populous nation in the world does not exist; however, it is quite another thing to welcome them into the United Nations, a proposal which I violently oppose. "I have been a longtime opponent of United States participation in the United Nations and as late as last December urged our withdrawal from the organization. It is my contention that seating Communist China in the United Nations would only serve to further reduce the organization's ability to maintain world order. When we consider the realities of the Peoples Republic of China, we find a government which enslaves its own people, continues to support hostilities in Viet Nam, and actively promotes revolution in neighboring countries. Seating the Peking delegation in the United Nations would provide Communist China a legitimate forum from which to pursue her oft-stated illegitimate goals at even a greater peril to the free nations of the world. "Those who maintain that the Peoples Republic of China would have a better incentive to be peaceful if it gained membership in the United Nations have only to remember Neville Chamberlain's policy of appeasement toward Nazi Germany and the resulting costs to Europe and the United States in World War II. Will we never learn that aggression is not stopped by yielding to it?"

"Before Communist China is provided the opportunity to sit in world councils, it should be required to demonstrate a sincere interest in protecting human rights and pursuing world peace by acting responsibly and justly toward its own citizens as well as the citizens of other countries. The tyrannical state of the Chinese Communist government is graphically shown by the continued stream of people who are willing to risk their lives and the safety of their loved ones by fleeing the mainland and joining the teeming refugee colonies in and around Hong Kong."

DON'T BE MISLED

Sick people are more frequently than otherwise unaware of spine failure in cases of sickness, pain and disease. Spine failure does not always produce pain or discomfort in the back unless there is acute backache or lumbago, but don't be misled. In the great cases of effects of spine failure are observed at some distant point remote from the spine such for example as neuritis in the arm or leg; headache or malfunction in one or more vital organs. Because of this fact, you can be excused for not immediately recognizing the location of your pain or illness, being in the spine. If you have been doctoring for some time, and find yourself, relieved, but not entirely well, might it not be wise to try something different, some new approach and means to locate and remove the cause, rather than treating the effects? In the spirit of a sincere helpfulness it may be suggested that you consult a Chiropractor. It may mark the day when you start on the road to vibrant health.

Cattle Raisers Meet, Discuss Beef Freeze

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, SEPT. 21- "Since the record will show beef has not contributed to the economic inflation of this country, it should not be subject to price-freeze controls, Frank H. Lewis, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, told officials of the Office of Emergency Preparedness in a Sept. 17 conference between cattlemen and the federal agency. This conference was reported to some 90 directors of the Association at their quarterly meeting in Lubbock, Texas, the following day.

About 300 members and friends of the cattle raisers group gathered to the two-day Lubbock meeting. The new Texas Tech museum served as the focal point of the event and the Ranch Headquarters complex now being constructed there received considerable attention. Lewis further reported that the TSCRA stand on the price-freeze situation was that if any stabilizing force other than supply and demand was required, it should be limited to the retail level only. The complication of variety of grade factors at the producer, feeder, processor and wholesaler levels prohibits any fair way of administering a price freeze policy.

Other problems brought before the TSCRA directors included the new trailer and truck brake and lighting requirements recently put into state law which impose unnecessary burdens on ranchers and farmers. Don C. King, Secretary-General Manager of the Association, also reminded cattlemen to re-record brands as provided for in recent state legislation.

Pending federal legislation sponsored by Rep. Graham Purcell to broaden the authority of the Secretary of Agriculture to control the spread of communicable animal diseases received the endorsement of the directors. A resolution urging passage of this legislation, HR 10207, was adopted by the group.

Bill McMillan, executive vice president of the American National Cattlemen's Association, discussed legislation and federal agency regulations, particularly labor department and consumer protection regulations.

Dr. Anson Bertrand of Texas Tech spoke to the group about research in the field of environment. Chemicals originally branded as dangerous pollutants are often being found to be of little consequence now that a refinement of testing apparatus has shown them to be of really insignificant as contaminants. He cited the "phosphate scare" which has had a marked influence on the soap and detergent industry, even though now the substance is proven by accurate research to be ecologically harmless.

Billy B. Davis of Pampa, chairman of the water resources committee, reported on conferences held with the Texas Water Quality Board concerning regulations on confinement feeding of livestock as opposed to routine ranch operations. He reports ranchers will receive some relief from pollution control rules aimed at more intensive operations.

Lubbock Reading Conference Scheduled

Mrs. Bonnie McCullough, Area Vice President of Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading, announces that the Lubbock Area Reading Conference (LARC) will be Friday and Saturday, October 15 and 16, at Estacado High School, Lubbock.

The theme for the conference will be "Reading: A Magic Carpet". Dr. William Durr from Michigan State University, and Dr. Kate Bell from the Houston Public Schools will be the speakers. Both of these educators are very knowledgeable in the fields of reading and children's literature.

Scheduled for Friday, October 15, is registration from 1:30 until 7:30 p.m. The first general session will be at 2:45 p.m. with Dr. William Durr of Michigan State University speaking on "The ESP of Reading Instruction", followed by a coffee break and exhibits from 3:45 until 4 p.m. Interest groups will be from 4 until 4:45 p.m. followed by a dinner meeting at 5:30 in the Gridiron Restaurant.

The second general session with Dr. Kate Bell of the Houston Public School speaking on "One Day Last Spring I Saw", will be held from 7:30 until 9 p.m.

On Saturday, October 16, registration will be from 8 to 9 a.m. followed by interest groups and coffee break and exhibits. At 10:15, the third general session, "Reading For the Disadvantaged" by Dr. William Durr and "Literature: A Many Splendored Thing" by Dr. Kate Bell, will be held.

Mrs. Bonnie McCullough says that the planning committee has tried to schedule interest groups, speakers and exhibits that will be interesting and informative for all educators interested in the improvement of reading. All administrators, teachers, librarians, and ancillary personnel are encouraged to attend this conference.

Erysipelas Found To Be A Problem In Swine Herds

LUBBOCK . . . The recent quarantine for hog cholera in portions of Hockley, Lamb and Lubbock counties has resulted in the discovery of swine erysipelas, according to Dr. Gilbert R. Hollis, Extension area swine specialist.

"Positive results of specimens from 27 of 30 different swine herds in the Lubbock-South Plains area have confirmed the presence of erysipelas," the specialist says. The discoveries were made by state and federal animal health officials who were inspecting herds for cholera.

"Erysipelas is an infectious disease affecting swine of all ages, but is usually most common in young and growing animals," Hollis explains.

The disease is caused by a bacterium that is resistant to ordinary disinfectants. The organism may be wide spread in soil that has been contaminated by infected pigs at an earlier date. Recovered animals sometimes carry the disease and may contaminate water and soil, he continues.

Erysipelas may occur in any of three forms; acute, subacute (diamond skin form) and chronic form. Acute swine erysipelas is characterized by a sudden appearance, with death of one or more animals.

The subacute, or diamond skin form, follows an attack of the acute form. Diamond shaped skin lesions may develop which, at first, are areas of purplish-red discoloration, but may finally result in peeling away of some sections. Chronic erysipelas may follow the acute form or it may show up independently. The resulting arthritis causes joints to be stiff and enlarged. The extent of arthritis varies with the duration of the infection. The disease usually spreads by direct contact, introduction of new animals into a herd, or from the droppings of birds and rodents. The bacterium can survive for some time in the soil and be a source of the disease year after year, Hollis warns.

Because of the large number of detected cases and deaths in the South Plains area, Hollis recommends vaccination against the disease. Pigs should be vaccinated for erysipelas between eight and 12 weeks of age. On farms with severe erysipelas problems, it may be necessary to vaccinate at six to eight weeks and to revaccinate at 12 weeks.

In extreme cases, producers need to vaccinate pigs at three to four weeks of age. Hollis advises consulting a veterinarian for proper dosage levels. Breeding stock should be revaccinated before each farrowing.

"If an avirulent live product is used, vaccinate before breeding," he says. Erysipelas bacterin may be used during pregnancy, preferably about a month before farrowing. The producer should consult with a veterinarian if he is in doubt about vaccinating pregnant sows.

"As with all disease conditions, an accurate diagnosis is important," Hollis emphasizes. If a veterinarian is consulted early, proper treatment can be started and losses reduced. Antibiotic treatment is usually very effective in acute cases. But, those animals which are chronically affected may not respond well to any treatment, he concludes.

Leonard Woodcock, President of the United Auto Workers:

"During the 90-day period, we are going to cooperate with the freeze imposed by President Nixon."

Manager

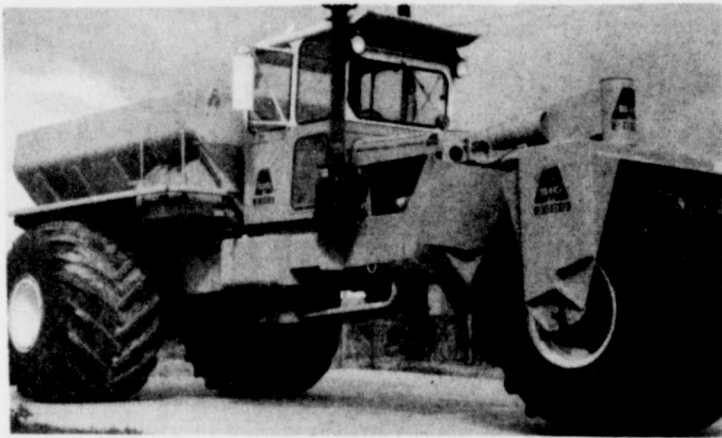

This week has been a good week for us here in the Chamber of Commerce office. The All-Texas Air Tour turned out real well, thanks to Pat Keese, Sharon Gilliland, Morris Nowlin and the Red Coats. We want to thank Morgan and Freda Locker for all the work they did at the Muleshoe Airport. Those on the tour were friendly and expressed their appreciation to us for the warm welcome we gave them and especially the fresh tomatoes and bell peppers.

We had another project this week which we are happy to say was what we consider to be very successful. The project we are talking about is the Crime Prevention Course, co-sponsored by the S. B. A. and the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce. We want to thank Harold White and Jack Young for their help in making the project go. We feel like those thirty-five business people who attended are now well informed on how to deal with bad checks artists and shop lifters.

Again, we say we have had a good week because both projects went off well. Thanks to all of you for your help.

Time Saver:

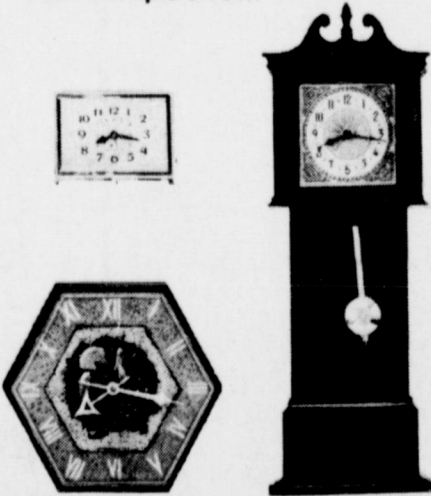

Fall fertilizer application is a sure thing. There's little question about weather. You have more time in the fall, too, and much less work to get done.

Take our suggestion: Save time by applying Ammo-Phos or Olin Nitrogen Fertilizers this fall after harvest. Get it over with.

The time you save by fertilizing this fall could mean several more bushels yield next year. And you'll be able to plant faster because the fertilizer you plow under this fall speeds crop residue decomposition, reducing trash problems.

Time Keeper:

If you place your order right away for Ammo-Phos or Olin Nitrogen Fertilizers, we'll give you a certificate that enables you to purchase these attractive clocks at special low prices. Call today.

The history of Vitamin C (also known as ascorbic acid) is interesting. It was the first vitamin to be identified chemically, and was associated with the prevention and treatment of scurvy among sailors. Vitamin C has many purposes in our body's well-being -- it aids in healing wounds of severe burns, helps prevent bleeding gums, and helps protect the body against infection. Since the body cannot store enough of this vitamin, it's important that at least one high vitamin C food is included in the diet each day. Good sources are: Oranges, grapefruit, strawberries, tomatoes.

Lazbuddie News Mrs.

Richard Engelking

A bountiful feast and good fellowship was enjoyed by all at United Methodist Church, Sunday, when they were hosts to the residents of King's Manor at Hereford.

It is an annual affair that is looked forward to by all people involved. It was a beautiful day for a drive to the country by those lovely citizens of the manor who really appreciate their 'day'.

And what better way to end a week long revival that was conducted by Dr. Clifford Trotter, former pastor at Hereford, now of Amarillo, in his new job as District Superintendent, Songleader was Rev. Oran Smith, pastor at Oklahoma Lane United Methodist Church, Host pastor is Rev. Carl Oglesby.

Mrs. Lena Menefee, a resident of King's Manor, spent the afternoon visiting her daughter, Mrs. Juel Treider and other relatives and friends.

The screwdrivers outlasted the gearstrippers in the annual Powder Puff football tete sponsored by the Junior class Tuesday night. It was a close contest all the way with the final score, 20-22 in favor of the Senior and Sophomore girls. Jimmy Noland and David Buentillo coached the Screwdrivers and cheerleaders were David Galman, Jack Finley Smith, Bobby Balderas and Bobby Templar.

Rickie Seaton and Danny Clark coached the gearstrippers and cheerleaders were Doyle Weir, Mike Winders, Kevin Hall and Neal Moore.

Comfort and convenience were the choice of Pete and Ettie Jesko in their lovely new home.

Mrs. Jesko's training and service as a former Parmer County Home Demonstration agent shows in the well planned storage and extra canning kitchen, where she will fill the already well stacked pantry, with more delicious looking pickles, relishes and vegetables.

A three-way mirror with adjustable shelves behind was another eye-catcher in the three bedroom and three bath home. One hundred and three of their many friends signed the guest book Friday night and were served punch, pound cake and nut breads.

A special guest was Mrs. Jesko's father, Frank J. Musil of Stamford, Texas. Other guests were present from Hereford, Friona, Bovina, Muleshoe and Farwell.

Hostesses were Mrs. Fred Burch, Mrs. Orville Burnett, Mrs. Roy Miller, Mrs. Freeman Davis, Mrs. Dalton Mimms, Mrs. Herbert Clay, Mrs. Je Don Gallman, Mrs. J.J. McDonald, Mrs. James Mabrey, and Mrs. D.B. Ivy. Their gift was two Early-American endtable lamps.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Hardage recently returned from Hubbard Lake near Breckenridge. They were accompanied by his sister and husband from Farwell. The weather was also rainy there that week, (that was when we received the two inches here) so they just enjoyed visiting in Abilene and Ft. Worth and attending cattle sales.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the families of Roy Daniels and Carrie Withrow.

Services were held last week in Friona for Mr. Daniels. He was a long time Lazbuddie farmer, but made his home in Friona the past few years.

Aunt Carrie was a faithful worker in the Lazbuddie Baptist Church up until about a year ago when her health failed her and was a real friend to those in special need.

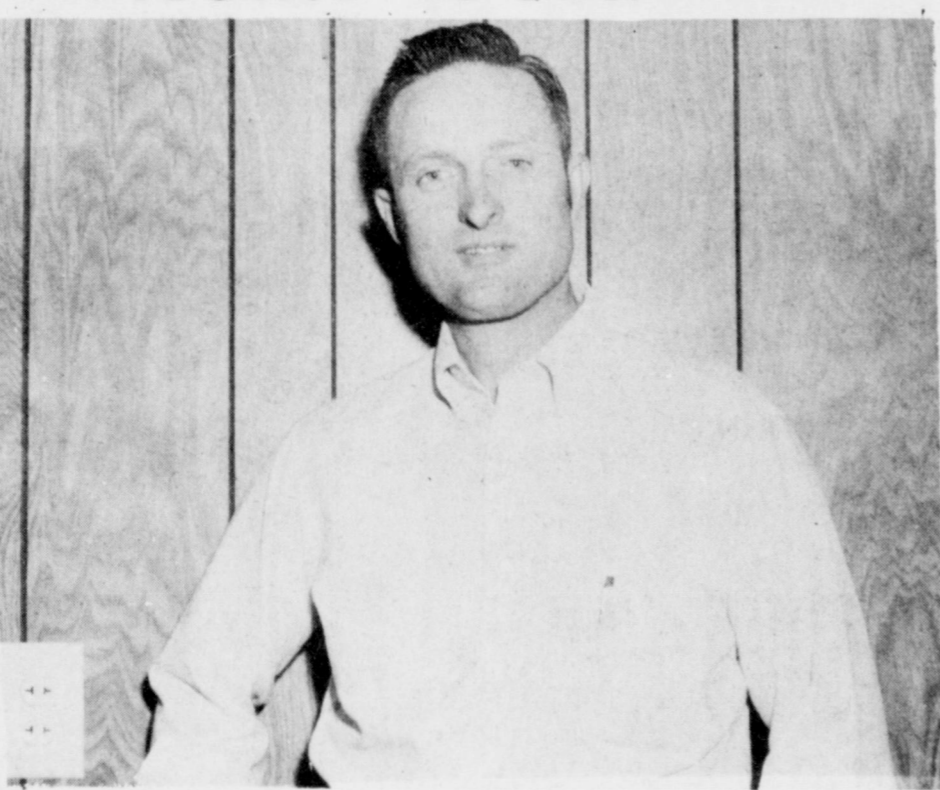

A visitor in the Alfred Hicks home has been his sister, Felicitia, of New York City. Sister Felicitia has also visited in Clovis with a sister while recuperating from a fractured leg.

Lazbuddie Longhorns suffered their first defeat of the season by Bovina 13-6. A close score and even closer ballgame as we were on the scoring line so close so many times it seemed, but wasn't our night. Right though, they proved in the first two wins they could do it even though they are a young team and will make a few mistakes. This Friday is an open date but they will be ready for Texico Oct. 8 there.

The annual powder puff football game this past Tuesday evening was won by the Senior and Freshmen Pink Panthers team. Her escort was Senior player Don Heathington. Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Heathington are Don's parents.

Coaches

The Mules loss to Friona was a complete team loss, and the players and coaches worked extra hard to make a better showing against the Boy's Ranch Roughriders. There are many students from MHS participated in the pep-rally bonfire. Wood was gathered and stacked by the Freshmen to get the fire underway. There was a parade led by the band followed by the cheerleaders. The football boys were carried on a flatbed trailer. The parade went down Main street to the Boy Scout grounds where the fire was underway. The boys entered the area of the bonfire to the Mule spell out and the burning of a Roughrider effigy as voodoo. Tommy Clements delivered the inspiration for one and all. The school song closed the bonfire and all students returned to school to decorate the halls of MHS for Homecoming.

1971 Homecoming was climaxed with a 40-21 Victory over the Boy's Ranch Roughriders. Homecoming was well attended by Muleshoe High School exes. Freshmen Light Bonfire

BY Vicky Griffin
A Bonfire for the Homecoming game against Boys Ranch was held Thursday, September 30. Preceding the Bonfire was a parade, which started at High School and went down Main Street to the Boy Scout grounds where the fire was held. Riding in the parade were the football players, the cheerleaders, the FHA and other supporters of the Mules. The Freshmen class was responsible for lighting and building the fire and for cleaning up afterwards.

Using the theme of Victory Land the Juniors placed first in Homecoming hall decorations. This is the third year in a row that the class of 1973 has won first. The Juniors received 46 1/2 points which gives them a total of 165 1/2. This makes them the class with the most points for the year. Upon entering the hall the first glimpse was of the draping plastic ceiling with a stream of lights down the center. Following the yellow brick road, one could see the terrible witch

John Tower United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

As those of you in the affected areas are acutely aware, recent heavy rains have caused significant flood damage in some areas of Texas, particularly portions of the Gulf Coast and the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Rising waters from torrential rains have invaded homes and businesses, remained for several days and receded, leaving property damage estimated in the millions of dollars.

In most of the affected areas, the federal government has responded with Small Business Administration and Presidential disaster declarations and damage surveys are continuing in the most recently flooded areas. Traditionally, flood insurance has been unobtainable, insurance companies have either refused to offer flood insurance or have demanded premiums so high as to make them undesirable from the standpoint of the property owner.

This is understandable, for there would be an exceedingly high risk in insuring property located in a flood plain, while the chances against flooding are such for property on high ground that no owner would wish to purchase such insurance. It became apparent that no flood insurance could be available except with the support of the federal government.

In order to meet the pressing need for flood insurance, the Congress enacted the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, embodied within the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 as Title XIII. The flood insurance program now administered through HUD, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, enables property owners to purchase from their local insuring agents insurance against losses resulting from physical damage resulting from flooding. The program is carried out in cooperation with private insurance companies, agents, brokers, and adjusting organizations.

This federal flood insurance is now available in many communities in Texas and will be available in more as increasing numbers of local authorities meet federal criteria for zoning and other regulations designed to further protect against the potential of flood damage.

The recent heavy flooding in parts of Texas points up the advisability for property owners throughout the state to take advantage of the federal flood insurance in areas where it is available.

The federal flood insurance law contains a penalty clause designed to encourage property owners to avail themselves of the insurance, rather than depending wholly upon federal disaster assistance potentials. It provided that in areas where flood insurance was available, that Small Business Administration disaster assistance loans may be made only to cover damage over and above those which would have been covered by flood insurance, regardless of whether the owner actually purchased the insurance. The Congress provided a one-year grace period to this penalty clause in the belief that one year would be adequate time for property owners to take advantage of the flood insurance.

We have now found that the one-year grace period is not sufficient and last week I offered legislation to extend this grace period through the end of 1973. When the torrential rains came and caused the recent flooding, it was found that relatively few property owners had purchased flood insurance even within those areas where it had been available for more than a year. This was due at least partially to an inadequate job of public information by the federal government. I believe that a three-year grace period would be a proper extension which would give property owners a reasonable period of time to become aware of the availability of federal flood insurance in their local area and to assess the merits of purchasing such insurance.

Owners of the flood insurance would continue to receive the protection and remain eligible for federal disaster assistance loans if needed to cover any uninsured loss.

It seems to me that it is almost contradictory that portions of our state are suffering disaster from flooding while earlier this year much of the state, indeed, some of the areas which were most adversely affected by the flooding were experiencing severe and persistent drought conditions earlier in the year.

I hope that our federal flood insurance amendment will help meet some of the problems caused by the recent flooding.
