INSPECT PROJECT—Six members of the Texas Range Riders, a riding club from Houston which was one of the feature attractions at the Dublin Rodeo last week, are shown here as they inspected the FFA project of Mark McElroy last Saturday. McElroy, a freshman Vocational Agriculture student the past year, was the recipient of a cash award from the sponsoring Range Riders at the Houston Fat Stock Show Calf Scramble last spring. The calf will be fed and returned to the Houston show next year, and will be entered in the special calf scramble division. WEARING MEMORIAL Poppies TO HONOR NATION'S WAR DEAD Memory of those who gave their lives in defense of America will be honored here and throughout the nation on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 30, by the wearing of America's memorial flower, the bright red poppy. Millions of Americans will wear the flower on that day as a personal tribute to the nation's war dead.

Plans for the local observance of Poppy Day are being completed under the direction of Poppy Chairman of Byrd-King Post 333 Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. A corps of volunteer workers is being organized to offer poppies on the streets of Hico throughout the day. Contributions will be received for the Auxiliary's work for disabled veterans and needy children of veterans.

The poppies which will be worn here have been made by disabled veterans at the Veterans Hospital at Waco. The flowers are crepe paper replicas of the wild European poppy, which bloomed in such profusion "between the crosses, row on row" in the battle cemeteries in France and Belgium. This poppy was adopted by the American Legion and Auxiliary as the memorial flower for the World War I dead soon after the close of that war, and now has become the flower of memory for all of America's war dead of all wars.

Wearing a poppy will be your personal tribute to those gallant dead.

IT HAPPENED HERE OR NEAR—

Wolfe Brothers Have Interesting Careers

By E. E. DAWSON

I have bought a good deal of stuff for the yard and so-called orchard for a good many years from Wolfe Nursery, and always got good stuff, even though I did not make much success of fruit and flowers. After a good deal of effort I have discovered that our soil out here at Refuge is not good soil for fruits and flowers. But in all my dealings with Wolfe Nursery at Stephenville, I never heard anything of the promoters of that enterprise, until recently, when a newspaper story told numerous interesting things as to the managers of the business.

The newspaper story refers to the business as belonging to the mother of the two Wolfe sons. She is Mrs. Ross R. Wolfe. I wish I knew something of her, for she must be a talented woman to produce such sons.

The two sons who have partnership with their mother are Hugh and Danny. In high school and college they were football players of some note and success. In college days they were co-captains of University of Texas teams. One of them, Hugh, spent some years in pro-football, and then returned to join his brother and mother in the Stephenville enterprises. Danny, the second of the Brothers

Wolfe, started writing songs some years ago, and has recorded 75 of his productions. One of his numbers recorded, has had a sale of 1,250,000 in international markets. It is entitled "Sugar Moon," and has been featured by Pat Boone. Others who have featured his songs are Johnny Cash, Eddy Arnold, Ricky Nelson, and Elvis Presley. Danny Wolfe has his own recording studio at the nursery and a music publishing company known as Zebra Music, Inc.

The other of the Brothers Wolfe, Hugh, seems to have engaged in numerous activities, such as manufacturing farm gates, running a publishing company that issues Holland's magazine, home-building, housing development, farming and ranching, and is a co-owner of two well-known motels, one in Fort Worth, the other in Mineral Wells. Also he owns a golf course and bowling alley, and is promoting a culture on a vast tract of 5,257 acres in Gaines County, which has been planted to 250,000 paper-shell pecans. Well, I would call that a pecan well, I would call that a pecan well, I would call that a pecan well. He is quoted as saying that his best investment is Holland's magazine. I am quite fond of that good monthly and have read it for many a year, not knowing that a neighbor is its owner and promoter.

We are queer critters—all of us—it seems. When we hear of something outstanding we think it must be somewhere afar off, and it usually is. But we rarely consider a big enterprise as belonging to some of our neighbors. But we can't know things automatically, and only a few weeks ago did I know any of these things about our neighbors at Stephenville. Now that I do know I shall salute the Nursery as I pass it. Just one thing I would change in the whole picture, and that is that awful-looking animal atop the main building of the nursery. I suppose it is meant to represent a sure-enough wild and wooly wolf. But it does not look like that wolf I saw one morning in the early nineties as I walked three-miles to the country school where I was being "educated." The wolf was strolling along and smelling of every bush and bunch of grass it passed. When we boys yelled it started running and such speed in an animal I had never seen. The tale we told to our school mates and home folks was slightly exaggerated. But I still believe that it was a real runner, perhaps much like Hugh Wolfe and his fast-running enterprises.

Plans and Research for Salt Water Conversion Studied

By OMAR BULESON, M.C.
17th District, Texas

Washington, D. C.—It is seldom that encouraging news comes from matters dealing with income tax. One has emerged from recent rulings from the Internal Revenue Service.

Farmers and businessmen, in rural areas particularly, may find benefit in it. Payment of wages to children of a taxpayer may be deducted as a regular business expense, even though the money may be used for partial support of the child. Also, such payment does not, in itself, forfeit the taxpayer's $600 exemption. The test is whether the parent contributes more than half to the support of the child.

Research and plans for the demineralization of salt water has been discussed in this column previously. By reason of its importance, it deserves further mention. The increase in water usage points to two exceedingly important considerations for the future. First every drop of water possible needs to be conserved. Second, a way must be found to provide more water in the future, even with the best water conservation practices.

It takes 7 gallons of water to flush a commode; 200,000 gallons to grow a ton of good roughage; 660,900 gallons to make a ton of synthetic rubber. Paper mills, textile plants and all the expansion of new industry require an almost unimaginable amount of water.

Surveys indicate a water shortage in the United States by 1980 unless new methods are found to convert salt water to fresh water on a practical and economical basis. It is estimated that skyrocketing population and tremendous industry expansion will lift requirements of the United States in twenty years to 597 billion gallons of water a day. In 1955 the requirement was 221 billion gallons a day. The Department of the Interior says there just is not that much water.

Under a $10,000,000 authorization from Congress, an undertaking will be aimed at greatly reducing the cost of converting salt water for domestic use. A plant some place on the Pacific Coast will be built, which will have a capacity of converting a million gallons of water a day at a cost of less than one dollar a thousand gallons. This should represent a 50 per cent reduction in the cost of present methods.

Three plants for direct conversion from salt to fresh water will be built on the Atlantic, the Pacific and the Gulf Coasts. Two others will be located inland for experiments and converting "brackish water," which is prevalent in our West Central Texas area.

We think we have an ideal location for such a plant, but the competition is severe. It is reported that the States of New Mexico and Arizona have offered the Federal Government a million dollars to locate one of these two plants in their State, and will contract to buy the fresh water produced at one dollar per thousand gallons.

Just a thought: "It is better to be on the ball than behind it."

MRS. BLUM PASSES AWAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Sorrow has come to us again in the passing of Mrs. June Blum, who died at the Hico Hospital Sunday at 6:30 following a long illness. Mrs. Blum, who was the former Barbara Jones, was the only daughter of Elmer Jones and the late Mrs. Jones. She was reared in the Lanham community, and was a graduate of Fairy High School. She was a cousin of Mrs. Frank Hanes of Fairy.

Funeral services were held at Hamilton Tuesday at 4 p.m., with burial in the Lanham Cemetery.

Barbara was loved by all who knew her, and always had a smile for those she met. She was 35 years of age, and a member of the Lanham Methodist Church. She was married to June Blum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Blum of the Pleasant Valley community, in early womanhood.

She is survived by her husband, her father, Elmer Jones, a brother, Elverna, and a host of other relatives who deeply mourn her passing.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved relatives in these dark hours of sorrow. May God bless and comfort all.

Lee Adams was returned from Fort Worth last Saturday where he had been receiving medical treatments. He and his wife have rooms at the home of his step-mother, Mrs. Lennie Adams of Hico. Sorry to report him still very ill.

Mrs. Gladys Cox was carried to the Clifton Hospital last Sunday by her daughter, Mrs. Charles Price of Austin. Mrs. Cox's sisters, Mrs. E. M. Hoover, Mrs. Myrtle Enger and the writer also went to assist in her care. She was thought to be doing some better, but became worse on Saturday. Mrs. Price, Mrs. Hoover and the writer and husband plan to go to Clifton early Tuesday to take her to a specialist in Waco for observation.

Edd Allison suffered a blackout spell last week while assisting his wife picking beans. He is reported better at this time.

Bill Lackey of San Antonio was here a few days last week looking after some repair work at his farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Driver visited her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jenus Webber of Fort Worth last Sunday week. Jenus and the Drivers also visited recently at Dublin with their mother at the Dublin rest home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wright and Mrs. V. R. Leeth of Hico visited a while Sunday morning with Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Cox.

The following is a copy of a clipping handed us by Walter Porterfield, which was sent to him by his sister, Mrs. Janie Poyner of Durant, Okla.: Funeral rites were held at 11 a.m. Monday in Dallas for O. J. Colwick Jr., 42, former Durant resident, who was killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun in his hands near Carrollton Friday afternoon. Services were conducted at Cox Chapel of the Highland Park Methodist Church, with burial in Restland Cemetery. Mr. Colwick was the son of Mrs. O. J. Colwick of 815 N. 10th, Durant. Mr. Colwick was killed when he slipped into a gully made slippery by rain and the 16 gauge shotgun was discharged hitting him in the back of the head. He had gone to Carrollton with a companion to practice skeet shooting. The companion stated he saw a rabbit in a field and had started after it. After having a shot and being unable to see Mr. Colwick, he started a search and found him at the bottom of the gully. Mr. Colwick, a graduate of Durant High School and the University of Goodbody and Company Stockbrokers in Dallas, had previously operated his own brokerage offices at Sherman and Midland. At Durant High he was a basketball, tennis and golf star, and at the University he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He was a member of Highland Methodist Church. He is survived by his wife, Ruth, a daughter, Kay, a senior at the University of Texas, a son, John A. Dallas high school senior, his mother, Mrs. O. J. Colwick of Durant, a brother, Lt. Col. Cameron Colwick in the Army Dental Corps and stationed in London, England, a sister, Mrs. Glenna Fay Dairs of Dallas. Col. Colwick flew in from London for the funeral services. He was a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Colwick and a first cousin of Dr. J. T. Colwick Jr. of Durant. His father, the late O. J. Colwick, was one of the founders of the Durant Hospital.

The Senior Colwick family were former Fairy resident where Dr. Colwick was a practicing physician. We can remember O. J. Jr. as a little white headed boy some 3 or 4 years of age. His mother the former Minnie White of Lamkin, taught music here before her marriage to Dr. Colwick. We understand the tragedy occurred about a month ago. Our sympathy is extended to those bereaved in his passing.

We hope to get the cemetery finished in the next few days. Nona Brunson worked most of last week, working lots and started mowing Friday, but the showers Friday night and Saturday has retarded the completion.

We received a letter Tuesday of last week from James C. McClammy of Glen Rose. He stated that he had visited the cemetery recently and noticed that there was space on either side of his mother's grave, and that the family would need no more space. We appreciate his thoughtfulness and wish others who have relatives buried here would give information on what space they will need, and also which side of the present grave to leave the space, as many lots do not have corner stones.

Mr. and Mrs. James Abel and baby of Liberty Hill are visiting in the homes of their parents, Mr.

and Mrs. Walter Abel and Mr. and Mrs. Audie Clark.

ALEXANDER

By MRS. ALICE WILSON

The Vacation Bible School will begin June 1 at the Baptist Church. Everyone is invited to attend. Mrs. Carl Mitchell is showing some improvement.

Mrs. J. D. Jaggars is about the same at last week.

Mrs. Sybil Sowell and daughters from Hico visited her mother, Mrs. Alice Wilson Sunday afternoon.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Warren during the week were her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Adams of Canyon, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Hall of Hico. The Adams plan to visit in Waco with their son, J. R. Simpson and family, and a sister, Mrs. Callie McKenzie before returning home. Mr. and Mrs. Truett Walker and Jessie Cooper attended a cemetery working in Corvell County last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Whisnant and children from Waco visited her mother, Mrs. Le. Ponder during the week end.

Bear Walk Cures Rheumatism But Rough on Patient

One of Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" items tells about Rumanian peasants who believe that a person suffering from rheumatism can recover his complete health by having a trained bear walk back and forth on the patients backbone for half an hour a day.

We have never tried anything so rough on the patient, but the idea appears to contain merit. If you have no other way available, such an accidental method of correcting spinal misalignments is preferable to no help at all.

The following case history is taken from our files:

A thirty-two year old lady came to the Stephenville Chiropractic Center complaining with pains which she had had for five years, which had been previously diagnosed and treated as arthritis.

Our spinal analysis indicated nerve interference and spinal x-rays were recommended to locate what was causing the trouble. She was discharged when spinal alignment was restored at which time she reported she had no pains for the past two months and felt completely well.

Electric COOKING

You can say goodbye to pot-watching and oven-tending when you cook electrically. The clock-controlled electric oven turns itself on and off at pre-set times, cooks a complete meal while you're away from the kitchen. The thermostatically-controlled electric surface unit "feels" the temperature of the food in the pan, maintains any selected cooking heat automatically, preventing boil-overs and burned foods. CONTROL HOUSEFLIES AND OTHER INSECTS

We have available in our office a very good publication, "Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects." Among those listed is the fly. Flies carry disease germs that endanger health. Don't give them a chance to live and multiply.

Sanitation is the first step in controlling this pest. Make sure all windows and doors are tightly screened. Keep garbage and other refuse tightly covered and dispose of it frequently by burning or burying. Keep compost piles covered and clean up after dogs, cats, and chickens.

Killing is the second step against this pest. Kill flies by spraying in and around the house. Use both the space and surface-type spray. The new bait preparations are good for use outside where flies gather. For more information on type of bait or spray to get, and how to apply send for a copy of this bulletin.

TRAIN CHILDREN TO HELP

Expecting the youngsters to help with work around the house this summer? If so, it will pay you to give attention and patience to training them in jobs they are to do. Children are often confused because adults are not consistent in teaching them to do things, not clear in the direction given. They need to know why certain things should be done or why certain ways of doing are better than others.

Patience pays. You might try this pattern to train children and others in doing a job. First, explain to the child exactly what he is to do, and how it is to be done—step by step. Work with him several times, helping as needed. Watch him do it alone, making suggestions as he works.

Leave him while he does it. Finally, it's important to praise him for good work or effort, so that he leaves a job with a feeling of satisfaction.

IT'S BERRY TIME

Whether you eat them in preserves, on ice cream, in pie, a shortcake, or fresh with cream and sugar, it's berry time.

Why not freeze some strawberries or dewberries now while they are in season to enjoy later during the non-productive months? Firm fully ripe red berries are best for freezing. They may be packed in syrup, in dry sugar or packed without sweetening. However, they have a better texture and flavor if sweetened. If you need specific instructions on freezing berries and other foods, call for one of our booklets on "Frozen Foods." Phone 231, Hamilton, office on second floor of the courthouse.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Back to the subject of children helping. Sometimes they try to help us cook and it all gets complicated. Here is a recipe that the youngest can make and will need a minimum of supervision. It's good, too. (It's been child-tested).

GRAHAM DREAMS

20 graham crackers
1 can condensed milk
1 package of chocolate chips.
Roll the graham crackers between layers of wax paper until fine. Place in bowl with the condensed milk and chocolate chips. Mix well. Pour in well-greased square pan and bake for about 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Cut in squares.
(This is soooo goooood with cold apple sauce—and maybe a dot of whipped cream if you are not counting calories).

Summer Traffic Safety Program Being Promoted Again in Texas

Austin, May 28.—For the seventh year, Texas is promoting the summertime traffic safety campaign under the Slow Down and Live Slogan. The Texas Safety Association will coordinate the program throughout the Lone Star State.

The theme for 1959 is "Can YOU Stop in Time?"

As in previous years, the campaign starts with Memorial Day and will end with Labor Day. This period has been selected for the campaign, because it is during these months that vacation travel reaches its peak.

J. O. Musick, TSA's general manager, points out, the theme emphasizes four basic causes of every accident.

"A mechanically unsafe vehicle, a roadway hazardous in design or size, a driver inadequately equipped for his task or a driver whose mental and emotional attitude (often caused by traffic jams, drinking, fatigue, etc.) is such that it causes him to forget his normal safe driving habits."

In Texas last year, there were 2,342 persons killed and 126,842 injured in 72,362 traffic accidents. Most of these occurred because "Someone Could NOT Stop in Time."

Any erroneous reflection on the character, reputation or standing of any person or firm appearing in these columns will be gladly and promptly corrected upon calling attention of the management.

We've been demoted!

Readers have perhaps already noticed that a new feature is appearing in the regular space of these paragraphs, and we feel that most readers will welcome the change.

For several years the News Review has ran regular columns for practically everyone except our most important citizens—the young men and women of our town.

So this week Bette decided that it was high time that the old sheet took into consideration the teenagers, and after a recommendation or two she convinced Judy Griffiths that she should write a column each week during the summer months. Judy was more than cooperative, and on page one of this issue we are proud to introduce to readers what we think will be a most interesting and enlightening column, "Judy's Jabber."

Judy starts off this week with a general introduction. If all the kids in town will help her gather and compile the information into column form, we feel that everyone concerned will have a lot of fun this summer.

She has a free hand, and may write about "what and who" she cares to, and we'll bet that a lot of information heretofore overlooked finds print in the weeks to come.

If you have a lead on a story which you think Judy will be interested, drop her a card or call her. If you have a party, hayride, swimming session, or other types of activity, be sure to let her know the details. She will probably know about most of the activities taking place throughout the summer but should she miss something, be sure to let her in on the story.

If the young folks enjoy the column as much as we know that we will, then a lot of fun is in store for everyone.

We always like this time of year 'cause we eat better than we usually do. One day recently Mrs. Woodrow Wolfe sent us a large sack of new potatoes and green beans by the daughter, who was out at their home visiting Nellye.

And last Thursday we caught Tyrus King sneaking out of house, and after close examination, found a sack of potatoes, beans, and a quart of "Mr. King's milk." Mr. King's milk has a special meaning at our house, seems that when the little one was even littler, the only way could get her to drink the milk was to tell her it was "Mr. King's milk." A little fib here and there, doesn't hurt too much if it helps to accomplish the purpose.

We've got a sneakin' feeling the mystery of where several tasty morsels came from in past has been solved.

We're not inferring that the following story happened to the newest preacher, but it hit us being pretty funny.

"The new minister in a town had a bright red car. He drove downtown for the Club one day and couldn't find a place to park except in front a beer hall. A member of his family, a widow, spotted the car there, and she started talking the time the afternoon was over she had the minister dogged and wallowing on the floor of a tavern.

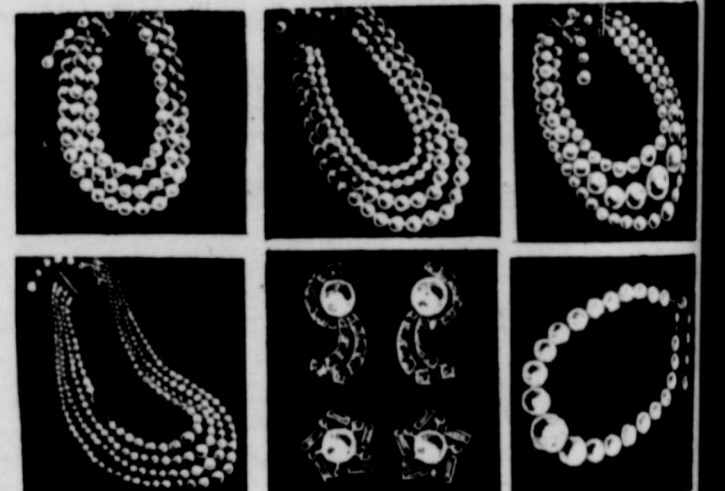

"The deacons called on a preacher and asked whether intended to answer from the pit the slanderous charge.

"The preacher had a different idea; he asked the church to drive the red car to the side house on Saturday evening and it there and leave it all night.

See, we said that we were inferring that such a thing happened to anyone locally. We have either a beer hall or a tary Club, and besides, his car black!

THE TEXAS LAND BOOM— HOW LONG WILL IT LAST?

Texas farm land prices have been booming for 10 years, and the six per cent dollar-value in- crease shown from 1957 to 1958 indicates that the peak has not yet been reached.

What are the factors forcing a continued inflation of Texas land prices? A 25-county study to de- termine some of these factors was made last year, and the result was an interesting picture of what generally is happening in the Tex- as agricultural land market to- day.

The first and most obvious strengthening factor in the mar- ket both in Texas and elsewhere is the increasing population as opposed to the fixed amount of land available. This is a simple supply-demand situation which is intensified in our state because of its above-normal population in- crease.

Another major price-determi- ng factor for land has to do with land characteristics, such as its fertility, soil texture, water sup- ply, cover, wildlife and sub-surface minerals—such as oil. Most of these are agricultural character- istics, however, and the present market price of farm land gener- ally is higher than can be justified by its value for crop or livestock production. For the answer as to why farm land prices are out of reason for farming purposes, most people concerned have named mineral activity. Mineral value in land for sale, however, is mostly specu- lative, because once minerals are found on a parcel of land, production begins and the land involved is practically frozen in ownership and is removed from the land mar- ket.

Next to being mineral-rich, per- haps the most fetching quality of land on today's market has to do with its location. During the past two decades, improved urban working conditions and reduced working hours have made it pos- sible for city and townfolks to enter the farm land business. More than a few town dwellers have gone to the country in search of acreage and a profitable sideline in farming. And, the closer in the land is and the better the roads getting to it are, the more the new- comer is willing to pay for it.

Also on the location value side of the picture is the tremendous conversion of agricultural land into a real estate gold mine. This has been especially true in Texas where every city of any size has sprawled its housing developments and industries over pastures or cotton patches.

All these market improvement factors combine to make one other total factor: More and more land is becoming tightly held and taken off the market altogether, ever lessening the amount of land avail- able to a greater number of peo- ple. So long as our economy is sound, it seems inevitable that the value of useful or potentially use- ful land has only one way to go —up.

History of Elementary Class of 1922 Given On 37th Anniversary

It was one of those cool, clear nights when a "million stars were in the sky, a million in the sea." While trying slowly to pick my way to some friendly cabin or cottage, for I was lost for the first time since my trip north, I suddenly came upon a lake nestling in the heart of the pines, its waters sparkling as though studded with diamonds. At the far side of the lake, and with a mountainous background, stood a cottage with lighted windows and lost, wan starlight though I was, I could not but stop to admire the marvelous scene.

The sky as so crowded with stars that it seemed overburdened. Now and then one would shoot from its place, apparently jostled by its more fortunate companions. I recalled the lore of boyhood days—that any wish I was quick enough to make from the time I saw the star leave its place and disappear, would be granted. When the next star shot across the heavens I was ready with my wish, and unconsciously baring my head I repeated, "I want a kind fairy to tell me all there is to be told about the members of my graduating class of 1922." Then took place what I regarded as a good omen—a shower of stars shot like balls of light across the deep blue. Then it was that I became conscious of the fact that just twenty years ago that night, I graduated from the Hico Grammar School. While musing on this fact a kindly voice bade me sit down, on a grassy mound just at my feet, and while I made ready to obey, a still smaller voice said "listen while I tell you."

"In Harvard, where he has taken his place of supremacy among the educators of the nation, H. F. White has just been selected by the President of the United States as one of four statesmen who is to direct the racial and legal problems of the World's Conference, now setting at New York."

"In the Saturday Evening Post, of date May 1st, 1944 there appeared an interesting description of a glimpse into the beautiful salon of the mansion of the President of Panama, the gracious and charming hostess being your former teacher, Miss Emma Simonton." "Druggist Neil McCollum and wife Allyne Seago McCollum, are entertaining as their house guests Jesse Satterfield and wife, Stella Jackson Satterfield. Jesse is on his vacation, being in the employ of Olin McChristal, of Houston, as head salesman in the shoe department. Neil and Allyne like their summer home in Florida and their guests are entertained there each year."

"Hon. Perry Seago recently sailed for France in government employ. He is accompanied by his French bride."

"Curtis Fairey is now the courteous barber at his father's old stand in Hico, where he and his wife, salutatorian of our class, Dorothy Gleason, live happily on the banks of the beautiful Bosque."

"Garvin Bird, with Cedonia as his wife, and their six buxom boys, lives at Cleburne, where Garvin is known as the best real estate broker of his country."

"Fern, as Lady Bain Burks, is now one of the world famous movie directors, and Margurite Whitson, Margurite Fairy and Sybel Stewart are all beautiful and accomplished chorus girls under the wise direction of Lady Bain Burks."

"On the east banks of the Seine in Paris, there lives a charming lady of quiet and courteous manners. She is one of the first ladies of fashion of the land, and even yet you will recognize the queenly poise of the favorite of my younger brother, Dorothy Driskell."

"When you read of 'Little Pansy', of Sunnybrook, in my mind I have a mental picture of our Stella Meador. She is still the same lovable Stella of yore." "Harry Hudson, the world renowned Band Master, spends his summers at the seaside, where each summer he is joined by Geo. Smith, baseball fan, of San Francisco, Herman Gamole, proprietor of the Wayside Inn, Denver, Colo. Both Herman and George are accompanied by their wives, the former Iola Mae Williamson and Evelyn Anderson. Harry still wonders if he is going to be forced to lead a life of single blessedness, and sometimes fancies his freckles are altogether responsible for this state of affairs."

"Madame Currie, for her discovery of radium, was never more famous than is the Lady Katherine, once our little Kate, who is Mistress of the coziest of cozy beauty shops, and with her are Ollie Reddock, as charming as in the days of our childhood, Iva Belle Martin, she of the lovely curls, Lillie Belle Kirkland, of the rosy cheeks. On main street, in the beautiful and picturesque village of Blooming Grove is to be found this little shop, and many are the homely girls who visit there, and who come away madly over by our quartet of winsome maids."

"Ruth Newcomb, American Pianist, is now in Rome. She is accompanied by her husband, Claude McLarty. They will soon return to the land of their birth, and a royal welcome awaits them."

"Yes, Gladys Wall, our valedictorian, who you remember so well as gracious, loving and ever-ready to listen to all woes, is still thus besieged, as she is now Director of Kindergarten in the State of Pennsylvania. Bess would not listen to the timely advice of Gladys' wisdom, but straightway she got married to a man of fortune, and now she spends her time deciding which to wear, a pink frock or a gown of blue."

"My brother, Errol Aycock, as President of First National Bank of St. Louis, maintains his record of reigning where he stays. He is still wondering if he had been successful in establishing his long distance telephone, if he wouldn't now have a better half. But as it is, there is still just the half, waiting for the better." "She leads the choir, and when she leads they all follow. Thus it is said of our Louise Young, she of the sunny smile. She is now with the Southern Baptist Seminary, and does so in an unmeasurable all the day long. With her, and as members of her class are Louvina Faulk and Evelyne Williams, both girls of force and each wielding an influence for good in the world of music."

"Mabel Anderson has her name on each can of peaches, plums, and pears, and it means more to the average housewife than did the brand Del Monte, when she was one of the sweet girl graduates."

"Mattie Murry is a model housewife, and with Cap Patrick, as the man of her choice lives in a modest little cottage on the banks of the roaring Brazos."

"Trixy Dixon is the wonder girl in the movie world, and when brains and womanhood count, she is numbered among the first."

"Era Miller won the oil king of Mexico and now she presides in the capitol of that old country of the kings."

"Fay Morgan, as manager, directs the Chautauqua, and in her chosen profession she ranks among the best."

Another shower of stars, and my still small voice was gone. I then recalled the fact that I was no longer in Hico, the place of my boyhood days, but among the northern mountains of Alaska, where I had gone to take possession of the gold fields which were mine by hard earned fees. I am now a man of fortune, but the fortune consists and is made up not of money, but of the most wonderful of all Hico's maidens—guess who?

Cecil Aycock.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service function of the State Bar of Texas

BUILDING YOUR HOME
When you are ready to build, you will find that the law helps in many ways to make your home enjoyable and secure.

Have you decided on the type house you want and the amount you want to spend? If so, then let's go into details:

1. Your lot: Junior's school or your church may be nearby, but find out—

(a) Whether they are planning to run a highway through the area or nearby, or make any improvements for which you can be assessed.

(b) What "covenants" or restrictions run with the land? To protect residents, the plats or basic deeds of some neighborhoods call on you to build a certain size or type of house. Do you want to and can you afford to?

(c) Easements. Either you or your neighbors may need to run pipes, or string wires over each other's land or to share a driveway. Have the abstract checked carefully to disclose any easements.

2. Zoning Ordinances: For your protection the local government frequently zone areas, for example, for single houses only, for multiple dwellings; for retail stores, for manufacturing, etc.

Unless the local governing body changes its zoning ordinance, no filling station, for instance, can go up next to you in a residential area. Neither could you turn your home into a store. In any case, you should find out what your neighborhood zoning rules are.

3. Building Codes: Be certain that the plans and construction will meet the requirements of the local building code as to size, location and structure. Municipal ordinances usually impose strict standards for the building, the plumbing and the electrical wiring. In many cases only licensed building tradesmen are permitted to make the installations.

4. Financing: Financing contracts protect both you and the lender. Unless you pay cash, you will use credit to pay for your house, most likely a deed of trust or a land contract. Your installments often include principal, interest, insurance and taxes. Under a land contract the lender holds title to your house until you pay for it. If you fall behind, the holder can take the house back. With a deed of trust, the lender has a lien which he can foreclose if you default. You may get some

Notary Reappointments Slated June 1 thru 10 With County Clerk

Secretary of State Zollie Steakley has announced that he will reappoint persons now holding notary public commissions but that such persons must re-qualify by the filing of a new oath and bond with the County Clerk of his residence between June 1 and June 10. Steakley emphasized that notaries public should not send requests for reappointment or for commissions directly to the Secretary of State. The law specifically requires the County Clerks to approve notary bonds.
