First Step Taken Toward School Building Program

School Tax Assessments to Be Re-Evaluated By Board

Members of Hico School Board took the first big step toward construction of a new, modern High School plant Monday night. Meeting in special session, the members authorized Supt. O. C. Cook to notify county tax collectors to break the Hico District away from regular tax rolls this year, which means that the local district will collect and assess their own taxes in the future. 1959 taxes, or those which will be payable this fall, will be collected by a local source, yet to be named.

The new construction plans call for an expenditure of approximately $80,000 for a new auditorium, and renovating of the present structure.

In the new structure, plans call for an addition to the north side of the present building 94x42 feet, which will be an auditorium with a seating capacity in the neighborhood of 500, a stage, two dressing rooms, two offices, and a reception room.

Under the renovation program on the old building plans call for removal of the old roof and top floor, installation of a new roof and overhang, with a tie beam around top of building, installation of all new steel windows throughout, rework front entrance, replace old plumbing fixtures, new wiring and light fixtures, complete new heating system throughout, new acoustical ceilings, and paint and repair exterior of building.

Engineers working with the firm of Wiedemann and Salmond, architects, recommended the remodeling. The consultants stated that the old high school building was in excellent condition, and materials and construction were superior to present-day construction.

Approximate Tax Increase. The approximate tax increase will be in the neighborhood of 20 per cent overall. At present time the Hico district has $1,563,200.00 total evaluation. To build the needed facilities, this amount must be raised to approximately $2,189,000, which amounts to approximately 40 per cent overall increase.

However, the board anticipates assessing only approximately $1.15 per $100 evaluation, which will bring the actual cost to the taxpayer to around 20 per cent increase. The district is presently collecting taxes in the amount of $1.40 per $100 evaluation.

One question which has arisen about the program is thus explained. Some people may want to know why the increase in valuation is necessary. The state allows a district to vote bonds up to and including not more than 7 per cent of the actual district evaluation. At the present time Hico is paying approximately five and a half per cent on bonded indebtedness.

Without any increase in tax rate or property evaluation, the local district could vote bonds in an amount not to exceed $40,000, which is not adequate to do the needed work.

Under the present set-up (tax rate and evaluation) approximately fifteen years would be required to retire enough present indebtedness to make an $80,000 improvement, and board members are of the opinion that the district cannot wait that long for needed facilities.

An example of the actual cost to taxpayers under the proposed evaluation program is: If a person is presently paying a total of $20.00 in school taxes, then under the new program his tax bill would be in the neighborhood of $24.00, or an increase of approximately 20 per cent.

Bond schedules were prepared for the local board by Scanland Hilger, vice president of Dallas Rupe & Son, Inc., of Dallas. Architectural work was done by Wiedemann and Salmond of Waco. Both firms were given contracts by the board, contingent on the actual voting of bonds for building purposes.

Much work must be done before the board can call an election for bond money. They must first show enough property evaluation, which means that the equalization board must first re-work the entire district tax roll. After the equalization board has completed its work, then an election must be called to actually vote the bonds.

A copy of the proposed plans for the program are available at the News Review office for persons interested in the new building.

Guatemala Residents Visiting in States

Mr. and Mrs. Travis King and children of Guatemala City, Guatemala, have been here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. King for the past ten days.

The King family flew back to the States for Mr. King to attend Cornell University in New York for three weeks of special training in 4-H work. At the end of the three-week course, the Kings will go to Washington, D. C. where he will attend a special 5-day course.

Mr. King has been on assignment in Guatemala for several years under the International Cooperation Administration. He and his family will visit relatives in the United States until September when they will return to Guatemala.

Miss Reunion Interest Lagging

First entry in the 2nd Annual Miss Reunion Contest is Miss Judy Ogle, who is being sponsored by Hico Florist. Miss Ogle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Ogle.

Interest in the contest is not as brisk this year as it was last, but is expected to pick up as the deadline nears.

This area is noted for the lovely young ladies, and many of those eligible are eager to participate in the beauty contest, but must be sponsored by either an organization or business. Contest deadline for entering is July 13.

Any young unmarried girl from the age 14 to 21 is eligible if sponsored. As the deadline draws nearer, more interest is expected.

Any business who has not contacted a representative, is urged to do so, as this phase of entertainment proved to be most enjoyed by spectators attending opening night activities during the Reunion last year.

Local Man Listed On Honor Roll at Univ. of Oklahoma

Norman, Okla., June 30.—A total of 2,315 students made the honor roll for the spring semester at the University of Oklahoma. Dr. George L. Cross, University president, announced this week.

A straight A grade average was earned by 125 students. To be eligible for the honor roll, a student must have an overall B grade average in a minimum of 12 college hours and must not have a failing or incomplete mark in any course. Included among those making the honor roll was Commander S. J. Abel, son of Mrs. S. A. Abel of Hico.

Don't Gamble on July 4th—The Cars May Be Stacked

Austin, July 2.—"Don't gamble on your holiday weekend—the cars may be stacked against you."

This play on words were made today by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, in an effort to focus the motoring public's attention on increased dangers of highway travel during the Fourth of July weekend.

Musick pointed out that since the Fourth falls on a Saturday this year, many Texans will receive a holiday on Friday or Monday. This will give families a chance to take short vacation trips.

"Weekend travel is normally dangerous enough," he said, "but when you couple it with a holiday it literally becomes murderous."

For those who do plan to make a trip, Musick had these words of safety advice: "There is a common saying which states that 'Accident is just another word until one happens to YOU!' Any motorist will do well to remember this slogan before he gets behind the steering wheel. He should remember, too, that the most tragic accident is not necessarily the one in which HE might be killed. If there is any doubt about this, ask the person who has been in an accident in which others were killed or one in which he lost his eyesight or was perhaps, permanently crippled.

"There are many people who live an accident every day of their life, through mental anguish and physical suffering."

The safety expert emphasized that travelers should not undertake journeys of a greater distance than can be driven at a leisurely pace, with allowance for heavy traffic and other delays.

"Courtesy and common sense are still the best traffic accident preventatives," he said.

LOCAL FIRMS WILL CLOSE SATURDAY

Most every business establishment will close their doors Saturday to observe the traditional Fourth of July holiday.

No special entertainment or other activities have been planned in Hico, but many people will be taking trips, or having out of town visitors.

The News Review would like to publish an account of your activities, so if you make a trip or have visitors, please call by Tuesday morning.

Congregational Church To Hold Revival July 6 Through 12

Revival services will get under way at the Hico Congregational Methodist Church July 6th and continue through July 12.

"This will be a real old fashioned Methodist revival with spiritual singing and with some good old-time, straight from the shoulder preaching by the Rev. Marion Dennis of Gorman," stated Rev. W. R. Forson, pastor of the Hico church.

"Services will begin each evening at 7:45 o'clock, and a most cordial invitation is extended to all the people of this area to come out and enjoy these services at a church where salvation is a present reality," concluded Rev. Forson.

Hico Primitive Baptist Church To Observe 100th Year

The Hico Primitive Baptist Church will observe its 100th anniversary July 10, 11 and 12 according to Elder Mitchell Lykins, pastor of the church.

The church, formerly called Bosque Primitive Baptist, was constituted on Saturday before the third Sunday in July 1859, on the head waters of the Bosque between Hico and Clairette.

According to the history of the Primitive Baptist Churches of Texas, Oklahoma and Indian Territory compiled by J. S. Newman of Glen Rose in 1906 verifies the founding of the old Bosque Primitive Baptist Church. Newman said that the original church was constituted in a house that had been vacated on account of the hostility of the Indians.

Elders Henry Hurley, C. D. Skidmore and Deacon J. M. McCarty organized the church with the following members:

Chesley Turnbow, Solary Turnbow, Grace Turnbow, H. B. Gotcher, Thomas Havens, John S. Boucher, William Martin, William Gilbreath, William Mefford, C. A. Roberts, M. J. Roberts, M. A. Hollis, C. Mannery, Rachel Cain, Emily Gotcher, Elizabeth Boucher, Amada M. Martin, Elizabeth Burnett, A. F. Burnett, Nancy Gilbreath, Lucy Mefford, Nancy McCarty and Deby Hurley.

The church moved to Hico in 1946. It was the first Primitive Baptist Church organized in Erath County and is the Mother and Grandmother of many churches.

Elder Lykins has asked all visitors to bring a lunch for an all day meeting on July 12.—Stephenville Daily Empire.

Minister Jack Hardcastle of the Sunset Church of Christ in Dallas will preach during the meeting which will be held each evening at 8 p.m.

Singing will be led by local members of the church.

Mrs. May S. Russell, Prominent Resident, Buried Here Tuesday

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning, June 30, at 10 o'clock for Mrs. May S. Russell, 80, who passed away Sunday in a Dublin rest home where she had resided for the past three months. Rev. George Harris officiated at the services that were held at Barrow-Rutledge Funeral Chapel. Interment was made in Hico Cemetery.

Mrs. Russell had been a prominent resident of Hico for 59 years. She moved to Hico in 1900. Born July 19, 1878 at Iredell, she was the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Sellers, pioneer Iredell residents.

Surviving are one brother, Hamilton E. Sellers of Detroit, Mich.; and several nieces and nephews. Pallbearers were Richmond Herington, Hershel Sherrard, Harry Hudson, W. R. Hampton, Lewis Chaney and Jack Mayfield.

Bosque Water Group Asks Special Law for Dam Project

Directors of the North Bosque Water Control and Improvement District voted at a meeting last Tuesday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce office at Stephenville to ask Governor Price Daniel to submit a local bill to the special session of the legislature which will enable the district to set up necessary procedures to obtain a priority from the Soil Conservation Service to construct some 40 flood detention structures within the district.

C. C. Winters, vice-chairman of the board, presided at the meeting.

Marion Porter of the local Soil Conservation Service office said the special measure is needed now since the legislature will not meet again for another two years, thus delaying the flood prevention project that much longer if the local bill is not enacted.

Henry Clark made the motion to ask the governor to submit the bill. L. B. Howard seconded the motion.

Irvin Poff of Stephenville, area soil conservationist, pointed out that under present law only 100 new starts on such projects are permitted during the fiscal year. He said that in view of this the state board might lean toward larger projects such as the Bosque project.

Efforts to get a priority from the State Soil Conservation Board to start work on the Bosque project are stalled until the district can get the local bill through the legislature which would enable

WATER BILL INTRODUCED BY SENATOR MARTIN

A bill which would give the North Bosque Water Control and Improvement District power to levy a tax to maintain flood detention dams was introduced in the State Senate Monday by Senator Crawford Martin of Hillsboro.

The bill was submitted to the special session of the legislature by Governor Price Daniel and introduced in the Senate by Senator Martin at the request of directors of the water control district.

Under terms of the measure introduced in the Senate Monday any tax levied would be limited to 50 cents per acre on those benefited by the flood detention structures. Any tax levied would have to be approved by a majority of those voting in a special election in the district.

If the local tax bill goes through the Senate and is passed by the House and signed by the Governor, it will provide directors of the district with a far greater chance of obtaining a priority to get the flood detention structures built which will hold back flood water flow into the Bosque until the river's channel can carry off the water without flooding adjacent land and other property.

You Can't Wish Yourself Well

Many of us are half sick and half well all the time. Much of this we bring on ourselves by improper eating habits and insufficient rest. We are living too fast trying to "Keep up with the Jones", or trying to get everything done today.

Our Creator intended that we live in a leisurely fashion, loving each other, and with complete peace of mind and faith that He has not abdicated, but loves us just the same as He did our forefathers.

During our hustle-and-bustle way of doing things, we are constantly subjected to falls and accidents which cause minor displacements of spinal segments and spinal nerves become pinched. These spinal nerves carry God-given life energy to all parts of our bodies. Due to this pressure on nerves, some organ or gland cannot perform its normal function and we are sick.

Our spinal nerve analysis and spinal xrays locate the area of nerve impingement, and gentle corrective adjustments release the nerve fibers so that health can return to diseased organs.

Willeford had an attack of last week and was hospitalized at the Hico Hospital. Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers family were of virus during week before. There has been quiet a bit illness in the community. Gladys Cox was returned last Friday from Hico Hospital and is doing nicely at this

Mrs. M. E. Parks has returned home from the Stephenville Hospital where she underwent minor surgery last Friday week. Mrs. Parks has reared seven children and two children of her deceased sister, and this was her first time in a lifetime to be hospitalized. We feel she has been very fortunate indeed, and wish for her many more years of good health.

The writer attended singing Sunday afternoon at Lamkin and visited at the Hamilton rest home after singing hours. We were very sorry to learn upon arriving that Mrs. Britt Little had fallen Friday evening, receiving a fractured pelvis. She has been suffering a great deal, especially when she moves. It was thought she would probably be put in a cast soon. We surely hope so, as this would probably relieve a lot of the pain.

Mrs. Bill Lackey of San Antonio spent the week end here with her husband and son, Harold, who had spent the past month here at their farm home. They all returned to San Antonio Monday.

Alva Poteet and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Arlon Poteet of Fort Worth visited here last Thursday morning in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Richardson and the writer, and informed us of the death of his brother, Arlon, who was buried at Hico that afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Jones and Ruth, and their nieces and cousins, Joyce Fay Jones and Carolyn Sellers attended a program and supper at Meridian Lake Monday evening, sponsored by members of the Methodist Churches of this and surrounding towns. Miss Karen Banell of Purnell also accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Jimmie and Janice, went to Meridian Lake Monday night to join the Wesley Jones and others attending the fellowship.

Wendell Wolfe and son visited here Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wolfe, and attended church at the Church of Christ.

The Church of Christ services for Sunday night were dismissed in order that members could attend services at Hico, where Minister H. W. McClick of Midvale, Idaho delivered his last sermon in a series of services held during the

Five Year Old Drowned In Car-Ferry Accident

A pall of sadness fell over this community when the sad message was received at the Springer store and station Saturday that Jane, one of the five year old twin granddaughters of Walter Porterfield, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hurt of Houston, had drowned when Mrs. Hurt and her sister-in-law and the children were attempting to cross the Red River near Texarkana by ferry.

It was reported that the car brakes failed and the car plunged into the river. Nearby fishermen rescued the mother, sister-in-law and the other twin daughter. By this time the body of the other little twin girl had disappeared.

The body was recovered about 11 o'clock Monday night.

Funeral services were to be held Tuesday morning.

Marvin Porterfield of Fairy, brother of Mrs. Hurt, gave this account of the tragedy. He said where they were crossing the Red River was just over one line in Arkansas. He also stated that two of Lawrence Porterfield's little boys were in the car, making a total of six in all. There was a steep incline before reaching the river, and Mrs. Hurt noticed the brakes not working properly and the car seemed to go faster as it gained speed down hill. The ferry wasn't on her side of the river, but they got it there and anchored, but she ran off the other end of it in 15 or 20 foot water.

She called to her mother-in-law to open the car windows. The impact of the rushing water pushed out both the windshield and the rear glass.

The Hurts own a lake camp there and go there occasionally on vacations since his folks live there. They were met by Mrs. Hurts' brother, Lawrence Porterfield and family of Wichita, Kansas, and she had carried the children to cross in the ferry as they had expressed a desire to do so.

Mrs. Hurt is the former Helen Porterfield. A brother, Marvin Porterfield, also resides here, and he and his family and Mr. Porterfield left soon after receiving the message to be with the grief-stricken family. Mrs. Hurt and the little girls were here about a month ago when she brought her father home following a visit in the Hurt home.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the grief-stricken parents and other relatives in this dark time of great sorrow.

past week. One hundred and ninety-five were reported to have attended Sunday night.

We note with interest from the Dublin Progress that our neighboring city of Dublin that some $152,000 in home building is underway there. Among the number of new homes being built includes the new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ogle formerly of Hico, which will be located just off of farm road 219 as it leaves Dublin on the north. Two other homes under construction in the same section are the Dr. Carl A. Jordan and C. W. Manikell homes. A new drive-in is also under construction.

Due to intermittent showers during last week we did not get to start the mowing at the cemetery until Saturday. We got the entire north side mowed where the grass was highest. On Monday the last section was finished, also most of the center section. We expect to finish the mowing this afternoon. Then all lots will be gone over again and hoed. These were hoed just before the rain, but with so much moisture and dew at night, we can see by our own premises the weeds and grass is really growing.

Mr. Brunson has also had to make several grave fills since the rain and there is some clean up work to do. Some seem to think we should mow the cemetery every week. Since they seem to think it would only take about three hours. Well we've mowed it over ourself about three or four times and would like to challenge some one to mow it off in five times that three hours. For it takes a steady twenty hours to mow it. So you can see the mowing expense is as great as the hoeing expense. Just when we think our funds are going to be exhausted some of our faithful donors come by and turn in a donation.

Harold Lackey called at our home Monday afternoon and handed us $5.00 for his father, Bill Lackey, and also $5.00 from Mrs. W. O. (Will) Lackey of Dallas or Fort Worth, and while mowing at the cemetery Saturday, Ben Cunningham was a visitor and came over and handed us $5.00. We also received a check by mail last week from Mrs. Edna King of Hico for $5.00. We sincerely thank all. Your thoughtfulness makes us feel you are pleased with the effort we are putting forth to try to please you. We only wish others could feel the same and help out, as there are many things that needs to be done and could be accomplished if funds were provided, but seems it takes most all we can rake and scrape to keep down the weeds and grass.

Again we thank you from the depth of our heart.

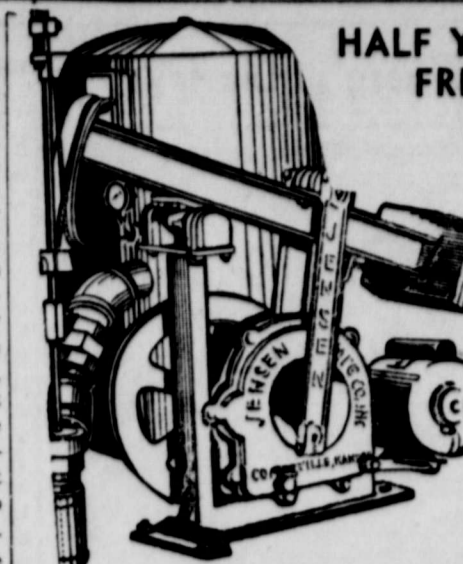

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prinz and children of Fort Worth visited last week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cunningham, while on vacation from his duties.

WHAT KIND OF SEWING MACHINE?

This time of year seems to be a time when a great many people are considering buying a new sewing machine. The purchase of a new machine is a long-time investment, and should not be a spur-of-the-moment thing. There are many new types of machines on the market today and if you're thinking of buying a new or a good used one you will want to consider these new types.

For plain sewing, patching or mending, a straight sewing machine is satisfactory. This type is also preferred for dressmaking and tailoring, if no fancy effects are required.

Newer "zig-zag" type machines are designed to handle specialty jobs like decorative stitching and embroidery. These machines cost more and also require some practice to manipulate successfully.

Whether you choose a cabinet or portable machine might depend on the amount of space in your home, and the use to which you put your machine. If you choose a cabinet, look for comfort, sturdiness and convenience. If space is limited or if you need to move the machine often, a portable may be the answer.

A word of caution about using second-hand or rebuilt machines—know your dealer! Many second-hand machines are of the foot-treadle type which have been authorized. The Better Business Bureau warns against the "bait" ads of fly-by-night concerns who seem to offer tremendous bargains. Often these machines do not stand up and repair service is not provided by the dealer.

MANAGE ENERGY WHILE ON HOT SUMMER DAYS

Fatigue comes easier during hot weather. A tired feeling often brings an irritable disposition and cuts down efficiency on the job. It can also increase susceptibility to disease or accidents.

If you are feeling more tired than usual, stop and analyze yourself and your working methods. Experts in the field say that boredom and frustration will cause that tired feeling as well as such physical factors as overwork and strain.

Short rest periods from 10 to 20 minutes will work wonders if you are tired from heavy work. A change of environment or activities will often relieve fatigue caused by boredom or monotony. Efficient, happy homemakers have found that these simple rules help to fight fatigue and make your work more interesting.

First—check your kitchen and household storage. Is everything within easy reach? Keep cleaning tools in good repair and located close to the job. (Maybe Extension bulletin "Arrange Your Kitchen for Convenience and Comfort" would help you solve a problem here).

Wear comfortable work clothes and sit as much as possible while you work. (This means ironing, of course, but it also means washing dishes—preparing foods to cook or can or freeze, and any job that can be done sitting. You must surely have the correct height work surface while sitting or the job will not be easier.)

Study your jobs and organize the work in assembly line fashion. Use both hands whenever possible—dusting, washing windows—any number of chores can be done with both hands. At first it may seem a little awkward but with practice you will soon see that you will tire far less by using both hands.

Don't try to stay with a heavy or difficult job too long. Interperse big jobs with easier ones and rest at intervals. My grandmother used to say, "Now I'll shell these peas while I rest." At the time they sounded contradictory to me but they were wise words.

IT'S THE LAW —

INDEPENDENCE REFLECTS AMERICAN PRINCIPLE

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men?" Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 183 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following:

"He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses; For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

"That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed"

Some 5 years later, the first ten amendments to our Constitution were adopted at one time, specifically detailing various basic civil rights stemming from the underlying theory of the Declaration of Independence.

Our courts day by day guard these rights for us.

CHEMICAL WARFARE AGAINST 'SLINKWEED' ON RANGE

The lowly turpentine weed, also known as perennial broomweed and—by the Texas ranchers who despise it most—as "Slinkweed", faces possible conquest through the use of herbicides.

Tests during the past two years by West Texas rancher Robert K. Field of Bronco in which he aerially sprayed weed-infested land at various periods of growth have proved that turpentine weed can be successfully subdued.

Turpentine weed infestation means compound trouble for ranchers. During a drought or when grass cover has been reduced by heavy grazing, the weed moves in on the bare spots. Besides crowding out grass and stealing a lion's share of early-season moisture, it is a dietary hazard for cattle. Cows eating the weed in certain stages of its growth often lose their calves before or shortly after birth.

On Texas ranch land such as that of Fields' which suffered the effect of the crippling drought,

"slinkweed" moved in quickly on the barren land. Although under normal weather conditions and sound range management the grass would eventually crowd out the weeds, Field was not content to wait nature out.

After having tried other methods unsuccessfully, various mixtures of herbicides 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T were used at various stages of weed growth. It was discovered that aerial spraying in the spring just as plants reach the full leaf stage is apparently the time for maximum eradication. In Fields' tests it took about two months for the herbicides to take its full toll and completely kill an estimated 85-90 per cent of plants sprayed.

After the weed competition was reduced, the grass made rapid growth and produced a good seed crop, growing at twice the rate of grass in untreated areas.

In treated areas where the turf was in good condition with clumps of grass less than a foot apart, there was little regrowth of the weed the following season. However, where there were open spaces of three or four feet the weeds staged a comeback.

If possible, it is recommended that grazing on treated areas be deferred during the following growing season in order that the turf will have a chance to recover and crowd out the weeds that might otherwise grow back on bare spots.

The application most commonly planned for current use in springtime rangeland spraying is one-fourth pound of 2,4-D in a gallon of fuel per acre. Estimated cost of about $1 per acre. Most satisfactory results are expected when soil moisture is high and soil temperatures are cool (50-65 degrees) at the time of spraying.

Use of chemical herbicides, with all their effectiveness, are capable of doing heavy crop damage if sprayed in the vicinity of susceptible plants such as cotton. The user should be fully familiar with their destructive properties and should at all times use extreme caution in their handling. In some Texas counties, use of herbicides is regulated by the Texas Department of Agriculture. Anyone planning to use herbicidal chemicals for weed control should first contact the nearest TDA office or their County Agent for full information.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS

By E. R. LAWRENCE

Frank and Moody Courtney, on their ranch on the Leon River north of Jonesboro, started a demonstration with some steers last September.

On the 22 of June the demonstration was completed and it showed it is profitable to use stilbestrol implants when wintering steers and also when they are fed in the feed lot.

We have heard that if steers are implanted with stilbestrol and fed on pasture through the winter, that they will not get a boost from another and later implant when they are placed in the feed lot. In this demonstration it seems that they will get a boost. All steers were wintered for 176 days and then placed in the feed lot for 92 days.

Here are the figures on all the steers and the results.

Ten steers that did not receive implants of stilbestrol at the start, Sept. 24:

4,760 pounds total weight Sept. 24.

7,025 pounds weight March 20.

2,265 pounds total gain, pasture 176 days.

226 average gain per head total.

128 pounds average daily gain per head.

Five steers from the above 10 were implanted with 36 mgs. stilbestrol March 20 this year and placed in the feed lot and fed 92 days.

Here are the figures:

3,495 pounds weight five head March 20.

4,715 weight June 22.

1,220 pounds total gain.

244 pounds gain per head.

2.6 pounds gain per day per head.

Five of the steers from the above 10 head did not get an implant at the beginning in September, nor did not get implants March 20.

3,530 pounds weight March 20.

4,520 pounds weight June 22

990 pounds total gain
198 pounds gain per head
2.16 pounds average daily gain per head.

The other 10 head of steers were each given an implant of 24 mgs. stilbestrol September 24, 1954 and placed on pasture along with the above 10 head. They were worked and weighed March 20, some implanted again and some not. All these were fed in the feed lot for 92 days. One died and he is not figured in.

4,698 pounds weight Sept. 24

7,220 pounds weight March 20

2,522 pounds weight gain, 176 days

280 pounds gain per head

1.6 pounds average daily gain per head.

From these 9 head, five of the steers were re-implanted with 36 mgs. stilbestrol March 20.

4,920 pounds March 20

5,280 pounds weight June 22

1,260 pounds total gain

252 pounds average total gain per head

2.73 pounds average daily gain per head.

The other four head that were implanted in September but were not re-implanted in March, from the above 9 head:

3,234 pounds weight March 20

3,950 pounds weight June 22

760 pounds total gain

190 pounds total gain per head

2.06 pounds average daily gain per head.

Frank and Moody have purchased a grain drier that is hooked up to their grain bin and is operated with electricity. It has been working good so far this season on these hot dry days we had a few weeks ago. The cost of the drier is not too much and one can put grain in pretty damp and expect to dry it out pretty well. They used it on their oats and plan to do the same with their grain sorghum.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE—

By OMAR BURLESON, M.C.

Washington, D. C.—A measure which has been before the Congress off and on during the past five years was again passed by the House of Representatives this past week. It is known as H.R. 3.

The legislation is designed to redefine and clarify a basic rule of law regarding States' rights. In simple language, the effect of the bill provides that, in the absence of a Congressional declaration, State laws are not to be voided by the Supreme Court by reason of State laws and Federal laws covering the same subject. Legally, it is generally known as the doctrine of Preemption.

The measure passed in the House of Representatives last week is practically the same as passed by the House during the last session of the Congress, but which died in the Senate. Should the Senate approve the bill, it will go a long way toward limiting some of the decisions and power of the Supreme Court which have been so distasteful in more recent months and years.

It is with some pride and satisfaction that I worked with Judge Howard Smith of Virginia, the author of the bill, in drafting its provisions.

Our Federal-State Highway Program is definitely in trouble. Unless ways and means are found to finance road building, the program will come to a stop in several States in next year and in 1961.

The President has asked that the Congress impose an additional one and a half cent tax per gallon on gasoline, which the Congress is not at all likely to do. The law as now written prohibits financing directly from the Treasury, but that provision has been temporarily set aside in order that advances can be made. Unless money is raised otherwise, an attempt will be made to continue this temporary provision.

When the Highway Bill was originally passed, it was thought then by many of us that the method of financing was on unsound ground. In the first place, the estimates proved to be too low, in addition to inflation increasing the cost. Also, revenues from special excise taxes, levied for self-financing, proved to be ambitiously estimated.

As a matter of fact, the current budget estimates are proving to be incorrect in many respects.

In January of 1958 the Bureau of the Budget estimated that the income for this year would be approximately $74.4 billion. By January 1, 1959, with six months of actual figures to go on, this revenue figure was revised downward about $67 billion. This figure of lower income that was estimated, plus no increase in the gasoline tax and no increase in postage rates, and with an extra half billion dollar increased interest on the public debt, obviously unbalances the budget this year.

As far as appropriations are concerned, the Congress has thus far appropriated less money than the President's request in every appropriation bill except one, which was exactly the amount recommended.

IT HAPPENED HERE OR NEAR—

700 Left-Handed Men

By E. E. DAWSON

In the twentieth chapter of Judges and the 19th verse is the story of the mustering of Benjamin's army in one of the wars that raged in the early days of Israel's residence in the Promised Land. Into that army of many thousands, seven hundred men of the Tribe of Benjamin were mustered, all of whom were left-handed, and could sling a stone at a hair's breadth and not miss. It was a famous bunch of Southpaws, as left-handed people are nicknamed these days. In an earlier passage; in Judges is a statement about Ehud, a Benjamite leader of Israel, who was quite successful in his leadership of the war department of Israel. This Ehud was left-handed too. It would seem from the two passages that being left-handed may have been a racial characteristic of the Tribe of Benjamin.

All this has been related that I might relate what I heard not long ago over radio. A pastor was speaking, delivering a sermonette, and he quoted the passage from Judges about the seven hundred left-handed men who were mustered into the Army of Benjamin. The minister stated that these men were men who had formerly been soldiers and had been wounded in their right hands, or arms. But they were patriots of a high order and when handicapped by injury in battle in their right hands, learned to use their left hands and continued their service. Said he, "These men had formerly been regular soldiers and fought with sword or lance with their right hands. But their right hands were crippled through some injury in battle, while they held their shield with their left hands. Then, though handicapped, they learned to use their left hands and devoted themselves to the service of their country. It is an illustration of what the handicapped today can do for the Lord. They have powers that can be devoted to Christian service in a most useful manner."

Now all that he said about the use of handicapped people can make of their powers, even though handicapped, was true. The astounding thing about the fellow's discourse was his explanation of the cause of the left-handedness of these seven hundred men of Benjamin. The Bible fails to say anything about the men having been wounded in their right hands and then training themselves to be such experts in throwing rocks with their left hands. It looked to me like the young sprout (he impressed me as being very young and inexperienced) violated fundamental principle of Bible interpretation, namely, Not to add to nor take from the words of the Scriptures.

And he most assuredly failed to take into account that people don't learn to be left-handed, but are born so. It is a well-established fact that somewhere from ten to twenty per cent of all persons born in America are born left-handed, and no sort of training of such persons ever makes them right-handed, though a good many parents of left-handed children have tried to force the children to use the right hand. It just can't be done successfully. Investigators of that prehistoric man, judging his implements, was at least per cent, and maybe fifty per cent left-handed.

Now these patriots of Benjamin could hurl stones at a hair's breadth and not miss. No re-training of left-handed person could make him such a wonderful thrower of missiles. It just can't be done. It is always a rank injury to try to force a left-handed person to use his right hand instead of his left when he is born with the best athlete I ever knew was left-handed. He could play football, baseball, any other sort of game, and in any field of athletics excel. Many notable men and women of fame have been left-handed. So why not just leave them as they were born and encourage them to use their God-given powers in a normal and natural way.

Youth to Lead Evening Services at Methodist Church

Sunday evening services at the First Methodist Church will be in charge of the youth of the church during the remainder of the summer months, according to Dr. L. Barnes, pastor.

The choir during the summer evening services will also be under the direction of the young people. Rev. Barnes stated that this is an excellent means of developing leadership and at the same time giving the adult church members an opportunity to see what a wonderful group of young people have in the church.
