You've heard of the "House that Jack Built." Well, this is the "Hole that Jim Dug!" Jim Wolfe, foreground, is examining the cave which he was entombed in for about five minutes last Friday afternoon. The cave, which was a novelty to Jim last week, is just an old hole in the ground now, and he avows that he is through with cave digging for the rest of his life. That's sisters Nellye and Margo at the top of the photo.

Mother's Intuition Probably Saved Life of Young Son

A mother's intuition and sense of danger for her son could be credited with saving the life of young Jim Wolfe late last Friday afternoon.

Jim and a friend, Edmund Horton, were digging in a cave a quarter of a mile from the house when Mrs. Woodrow Wolfe sensed a danger for her son. And the danger turned out to be a reality.

"I thought I heard Jim crying, and told Margo and Nellye to so see about the boys," Mrs. Wolfe said. The two girls went where the boys had been digging the underground tunnel, and the cave-in happened shortly afterwards. The cave-in occurred when Jim started to crawl through the tunnel, with the earth burying him up to his waist. When Margo saw what had happensummoned her mother. In the meantime Edmund had been digging frantically trying to free Jim.

scene and freed the trapped boy, and restored breathing to the near-lifeless Jim. He was trapped in the cave-in approximately five minutes.

Apparently the ordeal didn't frighten Jim too much. Margo said that when he came to, he reached for a water jug and poured the contents over his head and began laughing as if nothing had happened.

Jim suffered no ill effects from the ordeal, but he did say that he was through with cave-What did Mrs. Wolfe do when she found that Jim was alright? "Well, I just sat down and had a good old-fashioned cry," was the way she put it. The irony of the incident was the fact that Jim wasn't crying at all when Mrs. Wolfe thought she heard him. You can call it intuition or whatever you want to, but apparently Mrs. Wolfe's sub-conscious saved her son's life.

Farmers Must Claim Gasoline Refunds By September 30

The Hico News Review

"Your Some Newspaper"

HICO, TEXAS AUGUST 14, 1959.

Farm operators have until September 30 to claim a refund of the federal gasoline tax on all gasoline used on the farm, according to Tom E. Prater, Texas extension farm management spe-

The refund applies to the three cents per gallon federal tax on gasoline which was purchased from July 1, 1958 through June 30, 1959. Those who filed a claim for refund in 1958 will receive form 2240 through the mail. Others who wish to make a claim should ask the Internal Revenue Service to send them one.

The claim should be sent to the Office of the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Austin or Dallas, depending on whether you live in the southern or northern part of Texas. Claims made after September 30 will not be paid and no more than one claim can be filed for the 12-month period, states the economist.

Stomach Distress and Nervousness Gone After Adjustments

cluding crying spells and despondency indigestion, bloating, nausea, headaches, and painful menstrual periods, were about to get this 32-year-old wife down when an old patient of ours brought her into our Stephenville Clinic.

Our routine examination disclosed interference with spinal nerves at the base of the skull. When asked if she had ever had an accident or fall, she replied that she could not remember having any serjous accidents. However upon her second visit she told us that she did remember Dr. Robt. H. Walker falling off a horse one time when she was a little girl, but it didn't seem to hurt her much at that time.

This young mother has just completed six months of corrective adjustments under our care, and all of her previous symptoms have gradually disappeared, and she is enjoying living again. She reported today that she eats anything she wants, sleeps like a baby, and wakes every morning feeling completely rested and anxious to start the new day.

Chevy's the hottest one on the road

Or maybe you're looking for a tightfisted six. Well, Chevy's got just the ticket for you-the savingest six in its field.

And wait, wait till you hook up your favorite Chevy engine to one of Chevrolet's five transmissions. including those precision stickshift gearboxes and ultra-smooth Turboglide, among others. We'll leave it to you to choose your favorite from the five, and don't think you won't have fun doing that!

Chevrolet's exuberant Impala 4-Door Sedan

Oh, there's a long, long list of things to like about Chevy, and your Chevrolet dealer will be more than happy to tell you all about it. Why not make it a point to visit him
