Carlton Boys and Girls Win First Basketball Games of Year

Carlton's girl basketball team won their first basketball game of the season last Friday by defeating Huckabay 39-32 at Huckabay.

Carlton scored first and was never behind but there were several times in the third and fourth quarters when the lead was cut to four points. At the half Carlton enjoyed a 26-19 lead. The last half was played on even terms.

Game high scorer was Stewart of Huckabay with 20 points. Carlton's high scorer was Nita Sharp with 18. Mickey Roberson scored 14 before fouling out. Carlton's forwards made three of eighteen free shots, while Huckabay made eight of ten.

The controlling factor in the game was Carlton's guards, Rita Chapman, Susie White, Clara Sue Reich, and Mary Wilson. Once the guards secured control of the ball, they never lost it until it was across the center line. Last year Huckabay scored 69 points against Carlton. The guards deserve the major share of praise for this victory.

Clara Sue Reich was the outstanding player for Carlton.

CARLTON BOYS WIN
The Carlton boys' basketball team breezed by Huckabay 70-30 in their first game of the season.

Carlton made the first goal was never in danger. Both substituted frequently, giving the players experience for games.

High scorers were Jimmy Lino with 26 points, Jimmy The son with 20, and Elston of Huckabay scored 14 points.

Carlton's fast break and handling was too much for Huckabay.

Carlton has the following schedule: Huckabay at Carlton October 23, Huckabay at Carlton October 27, Desdemona, Desdemona, Conference and games will be announced. Anyone interested in matching game with Carlton are urged to get in touch with the Carlton School.

Programs on Consumer Credit Stated Oct. 23 At Tarleton State

The regular order will be reversed and the student will ask the questions when two programs on consumer credit will be presented at Tarleton State College, Friday, October 23.

On hand to answer the questions from the floor will be W. J. Custance of Kansas City, Missouri, a former Texan, who is regional public relations director of Beneficial Management Corporation. Beneficial operates 1,050 offices in the United States and Canada.

Dr. Z. C. Edgar, head of Tarleton's business administration department, announces that the sessions will be held at 10 a.m. and at 2 p.m. in the auditorium on the first floor of the Agriculture Building. The public is invited.

Consumer credit in the United States totals approximately $34,000,000,000 and, to a great extent, makes possible the mass market for such products as automobiles, TV sets and electric washers.

The programs were arranged through the cooperation of the Texas Consumer Finance Association, with headquarters in Dallas. The 26 member companies, which are supervised by the State Banking Department, serve 235,000 Texas families annually through 200 offices throughout the State.

Shooting Preserve and Doe Permits Will be Issued Nov. 3-4

Well most of the high water has left and I think most everything is getting back to normal. Fishing I think should begin to improve just as soon as the water can clear. I notice a few bass and crappie being caught Sunday with minnows and jig fishing with the old black worm.
 Dove season closed October 20, and I believe we have more dove in the area now than we did at the opening of the season.
 The next season to open will be the goose season, which opens Oct. 26 and will run through January 8, both days inclusive. Shooting hours shall be from sunrise to sunset. The daily bag limit on geese and brant is five, provided such limit shall not contain more than two Canadian geese or its subspecies, or one Canadian goose and one white-fronted goose. Possession limit is one day's kill.

 Duck season and Coots will start November 13 and continue through January 1. Shooting hours shall be from sunrise to sunset, except on opening day when shooting will begin at 12 noon. No open season on black-bellied tree ducks. Duck bag limit is four in the aggregate of all kinds provided that in such limit there will be no more than one wood duck, one hooded merganser, and one more than one canvasback, or one redhead, or one ruddy duck. Any person who possesses not more than eight ducks in the aggregate of all kinds, including not more than one wood duck, not more than one hooded merganser and not more than one canvasback or one redhead or one ruddy duck.
 On Tuesday and Wednesday, November 3 and 4, will be the day that antlerless permits and shooting preserve licenses will be issued, so I will be looking forward to seeing all the landowners who will lease their land for the purpose of hunting, and for the owners who will want antlerless permits for their places.
 So if it is at all possible try to be at the Meridian Courthouse on either of the above dates because it will not be possible to issue these permits and license after the above mentioned dates.

FALL THAT RESTORED SIGHT COULD BRING RELIEF FROM STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. C. H. Neal, a blinded Korean veteran, after learning to read Braille, had a fall and his head struck the side of a fishing boat. He said it didn't hurt much but it caused a miracle. He restored sight to his blind eye according to a news-photo story in the Austin newspaper. Previously Army doctors had given him no hope and had turned him over to the Veterans Administration for blind training when he had his lucky fall and regained his sight.

We know that all falls will not restore sight, but this one did. Why and how? Dr. Robt. H. Walker
 Our clinic results in similar cases indicate that in all probability a previous fall or other injury had misaligned a vertebra in the area which pinched some vital nerves and his latest fall accidentally restored the misaligned segment that was pinching those nerves. What happened to his sight could happen to his stomach or his heart or any other vital organ, depending upon which group of nerves was involved.
 Our spinal nerve analysis locates areas of nerve involvement and gentle, corrective adjustments release these pent-up nerve forces and restore health where other methods may not have been successful.

RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING: $500,000,000 LOSS TO THE NATION—INCLUDING YOU—EVERY YEAR

Featherbedding on the railroads — pay for work not done or not needed — is costing the American people the shocking total of more than $500,000,000 a year.
 You pay for it every time you shop, because featherbedding costs are hidden in the price of everything you buy.
 Obsolete union work rules, involving the railroad operating employees, are responsible for this gigantic burden. Right now, for instance, these rules require every diesel locomotive to carry a fireman — even though diesels have no fires to stoke, no boilers to tend.
 The forthcoming negotiations between the railroads and the unions are urgently important to the whole nation.
 In asking the unions to drop these featherbedding rules, all the railroads ask for is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

By MRS. EUNICE DANIEL

Our hearts were made sad in the passing of Mr. J. A. (Uncle Jack) Miller, who passed away at the Hurley Rest Home in Hamilton about 8:30 a.m. last Thursday morning, following a stroke suffered only a few hours earlier.

The Miller family had resided in the Agee community for the past forty or more years, until his health became impaired and he was placed in the rest home, and Mrs. Miller went to live with her children at Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Mr. Miller was born in Alabama in 1876. In early manhood he was married to Miss Julia Bright. To this union five children were born. One small son preceded him in death in 1919. Those surviving are Milford Miller of Fort Worth, Ray Miller of Carlsbad, New Mexico, Mrs. Loreta Hargis and Mrs. Flora Strickland, both of Carlsbad, also several grandchildren and many other relatives.

Mr. Miller fell some time back and broke his hip at the rest home and spent some time at the Hamilton Hospital and had been back at the home less than a week when he suffered the stroke.

Since we were unable to attend the funeral services, we do not have a complete report regarding the services, which were held in Hamilton at 3 o'clock Saturday. Burial was in the Fairy Cemetery, Rev. Harris officiated.

Uncle Jack, as he was familiarly known, was a good neighbor and the memory of him will long remain with his many friends. Our deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved wife, children and their families and other relatives at this time of sorrow.

We were very sorry to learn of the passing of Mrs. Willie Giese, who passed away at the Hico Hospital last Friday following a lengthy illness. We have no report of the funeral service since we never learned of her death until early this week. The Giese family resided between Cranfills Gap and Lanham. She is survived by her husband and daughter and other relatives. Sorry we do not have more information. Deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved family and other relatives.

The writer was in Hamilton Wednesday of last week to attend funeral services for Mr. Jim Young of Hamilton, formerly of Carlton, who died suddenly of a heart attack Tuesday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Betty Hampton of Hamilton. Mr. Young was born in 1898, and is survived by the above named daughter and one son, James Young, and grandchildren. Burial was in the Carlton Cemetery. Mr. Young was a fine bass singer and his wonderful voice will long be a memory by his many friends. Our deepest sympathy is extended to the children and other relatives.

The writer received a call Friday night from a cousin, Clarence May of Moody, informing us of the death of an uncle, Mr. Lee May of Loraine, who died very suddenly of a heart attack early Friday. Mr. May was born in Bell County near Moody to the late Mr. and Mrs. J. D. May in 1874. He moved to the Loraine area in early manhood and had resided at his present home for the past 68 years. He had been a Mason for 80 years. Survivors are his wife, four sons and five daughters, being the father of Mrs. Gladys Myers, who formerly resided at the present Ed Blum home near Hico. He was a brother of our mother, Mrs. A. L. Newman of near Hico. Our mother is the last surviving child of the May family. She was unable to attend the services, held Saturday at 2 o'clock at Loraine. He was always jolly and seemed to get so much out of life and appeared much younger than his years. Our last meeting with him was several years back when we met at the funeral of his brother and our uncle, Tom May of Gorman. Our mother also attended the funeral and this, too, was her last meeting with him. Our deepest sympathy is extended to all bereaved in his passing.

We were sorry to learn of the passing of Mrs. E. N. Bell of Dublin, who died at the Scott & White Hospital in Temple October 12 after a lengthy illness. A native of Brady, she was born April 21, 1905 to James A. and Mary Margaret Morgan. She was married to E. N. Bell in January of 1947. Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. George Gross of Austin and Mrs. Bill Riddick of Stephenville, two sons, James Balch of Korea and Oswald Bach of Dublin, also her mother, Mrs. Margaret Morgan of Brady; three sisters, Mrs. Bertha Oswald of Dallas, Mrs. Ruby Floyd of San Antonio and four grandchildren. Funeral services were held at Dublin Tuesday of last week at 2 p.m. Dr. James Bardford, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in the old Dublin Cemetery. Mr. Bell formerly resided at Olin where he operated a store. Our sympathy is extended to him and the children who mourn her passing.

The writer was in Hamilton early Saturday to attend funeral services at 10 o'clock for Mrs. Baker, mother of Mrs. Hammick, who formerly resided near Fairy. Mrs. Baker, who lived alone in Hamilton, was found dead in her home late Friday of last week. Death was thought to be due to a heart attack. Neighbors reported seeing her working in her yard late Thursday. When relatives could not contact her by telephone, an investigation was made. Indications were that she had prepared for bed and had fell near the bedside some time Thursday night. She was 67 years old. Our sympathy is extended Mrs. Hammick and other relatives.

Again our hearts have been made sad in the passing of another of our teen-age friends, Mrs. Eula Baker Basham of Turnersville, who passed away about two weeks ago. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hamp Baker of Fairy, and the wife of Cleburne Basham, also formerly of Fairy, and a sister of Mrs. Will Leeth of Hico. We learned of her passing through Mrs. V. R. Leeth of Hico Monday. Again we extend sympathy to those bereaved in her passing.

A new phone line is being erected from Hamilton to Lanham and on up this way as far as the Agee community which will be a wonderful help to citizens in that section who have been unable to get telephone service. A box has been erected at the intersection of Highway 22 and farm road 1602 for the convenience of the community until the line can be completed.

All are rejoicing over the fine weather we have had the past several days. The gathering of the cotton crop has been in full swing. Some are pulling and others are now able to have some stripped. However the ground is still pretty wet in places.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Pitts of Stephenville were Fairy visitors Monday and while here left $2.00 with her cousin, Mrs. Ed Allison for the Fairy cemetery. Also we received a donation of $5.00 from Mrs. H. E. (Stella) Wilson of Bovina for the cemetery. Thanks to all.

We now have the cemetery in pretty good shape. Mr. Brunson and Claude Lunsford took their cotton sacks and went over the cemetery Saturday and pulled the Johnson grass. We had been unable to hoe due to so much rain and wet ground.

The writer attended singing at Warrens Creek Baptist Church Sunday and visited after singing hours at the Willeford home. Mr. J. T. Dempster was returned to the home Sunday from the hospital due to virus, but still is very poorly.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Parks and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Miller and Ronald, all of Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Paek of Stephenville spent the week end in the home of Mrs. M. E. Parks and Audie, and attended the funeral services for Mr. Miller. Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blakley spent Saturday in Fort Worth and attended Parent's Day at TCU, and also saw the ball game between TCU and A & M.

Lois and J. D. McCoy and their families and J. D. Patterson and family of Fort Worth were here Saturday to attend the Miller funeral services.

Mr. and Mrs. Dellis Seago of Waco visited last Sunday week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allison.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Harris have purchased the Otis Dansby place and are making some repairs to the home. They expect to move there soon. They have been residing at the A. J. Miller place.

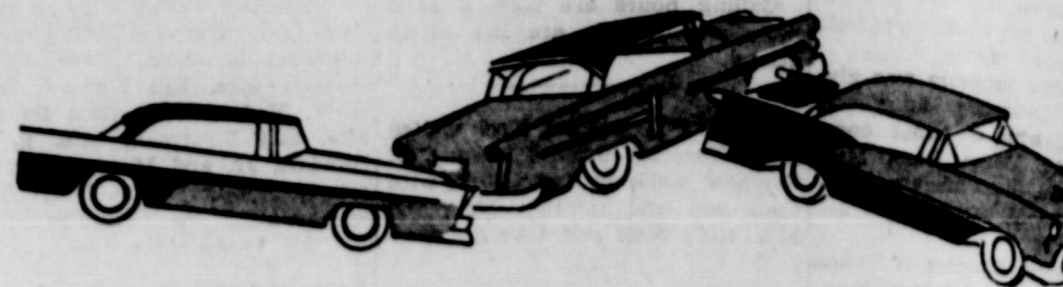

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goyne of DeSota spent the week end at their home in Fairy, working about the place and visiting friends and relatives. Their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dowdy spent part of Friday and Saturday with them.

U.S.-MEXICO AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE

October is always a good month to start planning for the next agricultural year, and the Texas Department of Agriculture sponsored a two-day conference of U. S. and Mexican Agricultural officials this month in San Antonio.

The conference was aimed mainly at bringing about closer cooperation between U. S. border states and north Mexican states through discussion of mutual problems by agricultural authorities and associations of the two countries, chiefly in the field of insect pest control.

There was a sizeable delegation from both Mexico City and the north Mexican states, headed by Ing. Jesus Patino Navarette, the Mexican sub-secretary of agriculture, and Ing. Esteban Uranga, the official mayor of the department. Besides our own officials from the Texas Department of Agriculture, there was a strong representation from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Among items on the agenda for discussion from both sides of the border were further and more effective control measures for the pink bollworm, screw-worm infestation, the citrus blackfly, the Mexican fruit fly, and the Khapra beetle, a grain pest which recently prompted immediate and effective eradication measures by the Texas Department of Agriculture in the El Paso area.

Our inspectors from the Texas department were able to report that for the fourth successive season they have found the State entirely free of citrus blackfly, and credit for this record was given in large part to cooperative efforts of the U. S. and Mexico. Two blackfly-free zones are being maintained in Mexico in the area near the Rio Grande Valley. This is being accomplished through the use of parasitic wasps to keep blackfly infestation at a low level south of established buffer zones, and by prompt insecticidal treatment of new, small infestations within the buffer zones.

As a result of this cooperation, combined with constant inspection by the Texas department, the only blackfly infestations found on this side of the Mexican border were in 1955-56 when they were discovered in seven localities in the Valley. Prompt application of insecticidal sprays by the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Texas citrus industry eradicated the infestation without further spread.

Those who attended the San Antonio conference came away convinced that the Mexican officials and associations represented could be depended upon to carry out control agreements which will be of material benefit to agriculture in both countries.

and unfilled applications and checks will be returned to the senders shortly after Dec. 1. The price of tickets for the 1960 game is $5.50 each, and a 25-cent mailing fee should be added to each ticket order. Checks or money orders must accompany all applications.

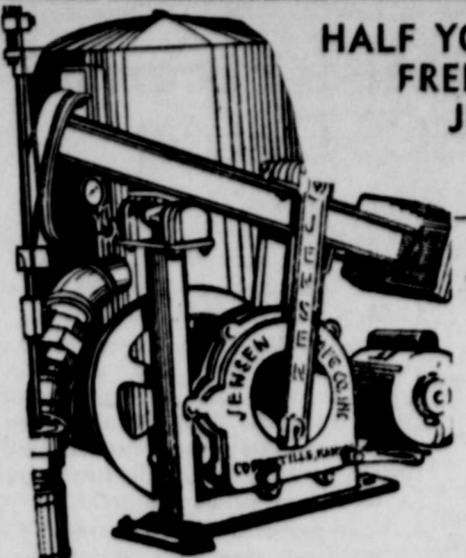

Applications should be mailed to arrive during the period specified, October 23-Nov. 2, to Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, P.O. Box 7185, Inwood Station, Dallas 9. Envelopes must be postmarked not later than midnight Nov. 2.

Applications received for more than ten tickets from any one person will be placed in the draw in groups of ten or less. In other words, any number of tickets can be ordered, but they will be drawn so that they will be in blocks of ten.

Range Improvement Programs Increasing in SCS District

By L. A. MILES

Farmers and ranchers throughout the Hamilton-Coryell Soil Conservation District are beginning to recognize the need for, and benefits of maintaining a good cover of desirable grasses on all their range lands.

District cooperators Ray Holingsworth and Paul Hinson are two of a great many who are doing excellent jobs of their range and at the same time increasing production. They have brought some of their land that was practically non-productive to a state of high production.

On the average all crop lands are idle more than half the time. During the idle period much time, effort and expense go into the preparation of the soil for another harvest. But what about the poor old grazing land? It is worked overtime and a new harvest is expected every day and every month of the year. Why not give this important segment of agriculture the same chance given crop lands? By and large pastures have not had a chance.

Almost every one goes overboard to construct field terraces and diversion terraces to protect crop lands that are idle more than half the time. This is all to the good and pays big dividends. Yet, little or nothing is being done to protect range lands. A great many pastures are worn out. Worn out crop lands produce low yields and so does a worn out pasture.

If a pasture is overgrazed, and many of them are, desirable grasses disappear first, which is comparable to losing the top soil of crop land. The reason is simple. Desirable grasses are more palatable and more nutritious and livestock concentrate on them as long as they last.

Most desirable grasses are perennials. So is a tree. Every one knows what happens if you cut down a tree and keep sprouts cut away from the stump. It dies. So will grasses. Constant grazing ultimately destroys the turf. When this occurs all manner of undesirable plants take over and thrive.

The pasture is worn out. It is just as unprofitable to try to grow livestock on a worn out pasture as it is to attempt to grow crops on a gullied worn out hillside.

Can anything be done about worn out pasture? The answer is yes. If grass lands were treated with half the respect and care given crop lands the livestock carrying capacity could be increased a minimum of 50 per cent.

Poor pastures can be restored to a state of excellence. Good pastures properly managed pay big dividends, whereas poor ranges are very likely to become a liability.

Talk over your range problem with Soil Conservation Service employees at either Hamilton or Gatesville. They are competent, willing and anxious to assist you. The service is offered through the Hamilton-Coryell Soil Conservation District as another means of improving economic conditions in this area. Take advantage of it.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS

By E. R. LAWRENCE

T. J. Thompson, on highway 281, just south and west of the Leon River bridge, has just completed the construction of a good set of pens he will use for steer feeding. The pens are well watered, have a large self-feeder, are strong, located on a good south slope and are of ample size for his feeding plans.

He has approximately 75 steers on hand that he is getting on feed.

Courtney Brothers, Frank and Moody, on the Leon a few miles north of Jonesboro, have for the

STATE FAIR'S FESTIVAL OF FASHION

Illustrating the variety of styles to be shown at the Sewing Fashion Festival during the 1959 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 9-25, are Simplicity Patterns' daytime ensemble of a reversible coat in wool and mohair, worn over a slim tweed dress (left), and Vogue Patterns' deeply collared evening wrap in silk brocade worn over a brocade ballgown on formal evenings. past few weeks been getting together their usual number of steers which they plan to feed this winter. This is around 100 to 150 head.

Frank and Moody along with many other stockmen, had a little hard luck during the flood. They had secured quite a number of steers, which had not been on their place long enough to get located, and of these some 34 were lost due to the flooding of their place.

Many ranch and farm operators over the county plant winter and summer legumes for grazing or soil improvement. As a rule, the legumes are inoculated with nitrogen-fixing bacteria cultures in order to obtain high-protein livestock feeds and provide high-quality organic material to build up soil nutrients for future crops. A new method of applying innoculant to legume seed, a method that gives particularly good results in dry soils, consists of mixing the seed and innoculant with corn syrup or molasses instead of water, so says the USDA.

When water is used, inoculation often is not effective in dry soils because the bacteria soon die from lack of moisture. The use of syrup or molasses aids in overcoming this difficulty by helping to keep the bacteria alive in the soils for as long as two to three weeks. If rain is not received in this period of time after planting, the soil should be inoculated again.

Several have reported very light frost Saturday and Sunday nights, but no noticeable damage done. We might have an early hard frost this fall.

Jess Reeves and J. T. Butler of Carlton tell me that the American Legion there is keeping on hand a supply of rat bait for sale to those in need of it. They say it is mixed according to the government recommendations, is fresh, can be purchased at Carlton, and that the cost is about like that charged during the rat campaigns put on in the county. If you need any of the bait material, see Jess or J. T.

They also tell me that a few farmers around Carlton are keeping this bait out on their places all the time and that those doing this very seldom see a rat.

This is a good time to check farm machinery, combines, balers, etc. and get them under cover for the winter.

Memory Revived When Passing Cemeteries

By E. E. DAWSON

George Dolan gets off some pretty good stuff quite often. Take for example this story about old-time graveyards and funerals, clipped from the Star-Telegram. No doubt it will bring back some memories for every reader just as it does for me.

Here is a memory that is revived every time I pass a cemetery at Grandview on the road from Cleburne to that town with its grand name. It was in 1886 that father and mother hitched up the farm wagon and took us kids with them to Doc Grizzle's funeral at Grandview cemetery. While the service was being held I saw a boy with a red bird in his hands and walked over to interview him, inquiring how he got hold of it. It was crippled and he just picked it up. Now every time we pass that cemetery I tell the story to my companions. And have a suspicion that they wish I would forget it.

When I pass the cemetery at Italy, which lies across the creek from the town, I remember—and often tell about it—how Sam Wimberly, the farmer neighbor who had driven his wagon with the corpse in it, told me to get down in the grave and guide the coffin into the vault. I was just a kid and it nearly scared me to death. The corpse was that of a neighbor girl with whom I was very much in love shortly before her death.

Well, here's Dolan's story: A stroll through a country cemetery, someone who used to call the community home, brings back more memories than leaving through a photo album.

Take the cemetery at Cottonwood in Callahan County . . . When Mrs. T. G. Easley visits there, it brings fuzzy recollections of her childhood in the community back into sharp focus.

She thinks of things, as well as people: The hard winter of 1885-1886, when dead cattle littered the pastures . . . of fence-cutting days . . . of watching bull fights from the safety of an old adobe hut roof.

A stroll through Cottonwood Cemetery rarely fails to remind Baird Banker Bob Norrell of the role of a rural cemetery used to play in community life.

People used cemeteries as parks. They spent Sunday afternoons strolling through graveyards, reading tombstone inscriptions, musing over earlier experiences, late friends and, perhaps, a few tears at the markers' lives.

In those days, when died, simple graveside would be held that day or the coffin, usually long, would be placed on two the head on one, the foot on the other.

Then men would go to the screws in the lid with bladed knives and lift off so folks could view the body.

Then, on Sunday, the church would hold its services at the cemetery—and the minister would "preach his funeral." In midweek, you'd hear one ask, in the community, "Going to church Sunday?" And the reply: "I sure am. Sarie—they're going to preach Hawkins' funeral."

Sometimes, the funeral was pre-arranged. The church would hold its services at the cemetery—and the minister would "preach his funeral." In midweek, you'd hear one ask, in the community, "Going to church Sunday?" And the reply: "I sure am. Sarie—they're going to preach Hawkins' funeral."

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lackey of San Antonio spent last week here on vacation visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jones, and other relatives and friends.

LATE FAIRY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Vance and children of Grand Prairie spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jackson.

Mrs. Charles Price of Austin visited from Thursday until Monday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Cox, and at the hospital with Mrs. Cox, who is a patient there.
