8 O'CLOCK GAME TIME SET—

Tigers Tackle Tolar in Opener

Hico will kick off the 1960 football campaign tonight, Friday, when the Tigers travel to Tolar for an 8 o'clock clash with the Rattlers. The locals will hit the road four weeks in succession before playing before the home folks, going to Dublin, Blanket and Early on successive weekends. Coaches Jack Barnett and Eddie Henry have been pacing their charges through one-a-day workouts since August 15, and report most of the squadmen in good physical condition. Workouts thus far have been injury-free, and all boys on the 22-man squad will be ready for the opener. Barnett will start eight lettermen Friday night, the team boasting numeral winners at every position except at one tackle, one guard and the center slot. Freshman Gary Brewster, and squadsman Larry Erick and Mike Lowe are the non-numeral winners. The line-up is composed of three one-year numeral winners, three two-year men, and two who have three numerals. Included in the starting line-up are five seniors, two juniors, three sophomores and one freshman.

The starting line-up as named by the coaches:

Voters Turn Down Proposal to Combine Sheriff, Tax Office

County voters—823 strong—Tuesday endorsed keeping the office of tax assessor-collector and that of Sheriff a separate forms of county government. A total of 93 votes were cast to consolidate the two offices, but county officials were of the opinion that the confusing ballot led to a greater part of these dissenting votes. In Hico 87 people endorsed the program as is, while eight thought the offices should be combined. The election was called after the Bureau of Census showed that Hamilton County had dropped below the 10,000 population count in 1960, and under state law the two offices must be combined unless authorized otherwise by a vote of the people. Mrs. Pearl B. Williams, who had won the nomination for assessor-collector in the May Primary, will now be a certified candidate in the general election in November. Had voters turned down the proposition, her name would have been left off the ticket.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Simpson Jr., Becky and Bob of Levelland have returned home following a vacation spent here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson. Also visiting in the Simpson home were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Simpson of Glen Rose and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Simpson of Fort Worth.

Valley Mills Picked to Retain District 23-B Football Crown

HOLLIS BIDDLE
The News-Tribune

Texas' foremost Class B team, the Valley Mills well-armed once again in a merry runaway in District 23-B and defend its title as Class B unit in the area. Amos Elder's Eagles have been returning, including players, to fight off the effort of Meridian, Hico, Evant and Gap for the district honor. Eagles have the second winning streak in Central Texas, eight straight victories. EIDER MILLS—Elder lost two football players in Central Texas last fall in Keith Sock, David Schmidt and their teammates will be hard to find. Robert Hillon, a 168-pound letterman, has taken the Eagle quarterback stand-out fashion. Tommy Hillon, 175, and Johnny Sanderson, 160 are in fine form at halfback and Harlon Lane, 180, has shifted from end to fullback without losing stride. Lane is a three-year letterman, Kimbrough and Sanderson have one letter. Gary Kimbrough, a 150-pound senior, fills the other vacant spot for the Eagles at center. Ricky Lundberg takes Lane's spot at one end with two-year letterman Craig Burch at the other. Gary Neilson, 160, and Virgil Smith, 196, fill one tackle position with starter Harry Denton, with two letters, at the other. Steve Pickens, 155, and Charles Bun, 160, complete the forward wall at guard. Backfield reserves will be Lonnie Bland, 150 and Jerry Hinton, 150, a promising sophomore. Bob Barnett, 165, Bob Johnson, 160 and Kent Gilbreath will see service in the line. Jack Hinton, 185-pound stand-out fullback, is still recovering from a summer accident and is a doubtful player for the Eagles this fall. Forecast—First MERIDIAN—Coach Victor Richardson is still waiting for the Eagles to slip so his Yellow Jackets might take the title. Richardson gets eight lettermen back, including four starters, from his second place team of last year. Rex Coffelt, 181-pound senior quarterback, and Kent Bass, two-year letterman junior, will spearhead the Jacket attack against the Eagle offense. Coffelt is a three-year regular seeking his fourth letter. Boots Harris, 148, will be an always threat at halfback with Don Roberts, 140, running from the other side. Harris is a fine one with shifty style and speed. Darrell Sontag, 150, Gary Hennessie, Jackie Markman and Gary McDowell are second team backfield candidates. In the line Richardson finds a weakness at tackles and ends with young, inexperienced warriors battling for berths. Jimmy Smith, 131-pound freshman, Al Anures, 139, Mickey Caudle, 141, and Johnny Lewis, 128 are the end candidates, with David White, 150, Johnny Harris, 165, Jerry Kuhn 191, Johnny Cousin 161, and Joe Worley 152, fighting for tackle spots. Don Cosper 150, and Bobby Wilson 150, head the Jacket trenches at guard, and Billy Remington, 164, takes command at center. Line help will come from Tommy Mallot 140, Charley Williams, John Allen and Mike Parks. Forecast—Second. HICO—Jack Barnett starts his fourth campaign as the Tiger commander and has six starters returning for the 1960 wars. Barnett expects a swift running attack but has worries over lack of depth. The Tigers have two exper-perienced backs in Bobby Boone, 190, pound hard-running fullback, and Neil Ellis, flashy 170-pound halfback. Harold Hathecock joins Ellis at halfback, and Don Jernigan runs the show at quarterback. Bill Rutledge, 130, Ronny Giesecke 145, Danny Reeves 130, Frankie Phillips 130, and Jerry Casey 120, supply Barnett with a lightweight reserve corps. Larry Erick, 145, commands one end spot with either Mitchell Mayfield or Mark McElroy at the other. Lee Blue, 250, and Gary Brewster, 175, are at tackles, Fieldon Haley, 170, and Mike Flowers, 150 at guards, and Mike Lowe at center. Harry Brown, Morris Samford and Butch Knudson are the reserve supply to the line. Forecast—Third EVANT—New coach R. W. Varichak greeted a squad of 22 men to workouts last week including 11 lettermen and five starters. Varichak is blessed with an experienced backfield to lead the Eik stampede through the 1960 campaign. David Loveless, a regular in 1959, has been working in Alaska this summer and is expected to resume his quarterback duties. Three-year letterman Irvin Koerth, 180, will be at one halfback, Jimmy Gholson or Gary Marwitz at the other, and Noble Craft at fullback. Good backfield depth will come from Bryan Parrish, John Giggs, and Glenn Price. Parrish and Ross Conner, two 160-pounders, will man the end positions, with Billy Adcock and Paul Comer at tackles, Tommy Manuel and Harry Hodo at guards and Eddie Hudgins at center. Hudgins is a 193-pound converted tackle. Manuel is a fast-improving 160-pounder. Line help will come from E. J. Elvin, Paul Putnam, Jimmy Young, blood, Kenneth Doyle, Stephen Mitchell, Doyle Mitchell, and John Sellers. Forecast—Fourth CRANFILLS GAP — Marvin Goldsmith takes the reins of the Lions with hopes of cracking the longest losing streak in Central Texas. The Lions have gone 17 straight games without victory. Goldsmith has 11 lettermen but only two starters returning on his 22-man squad. The Lions were 0.9-1 last fall. A promising pair of quarterback candidates in Tommy Russell and Connie Hutton lead the Lion backfield, along with fullback Taylor Payne and halves Lee Murphy and Thomas Hickox. Carroll Stanford, 170-pound center, sparks the line that includes Marvin Payne and Jerry Jackson at guards, Charles Hickox and Milton Payne at tackles and Charles Huse and Jerry Stanford at ends. Forecast—Fifth.

Plans are to use the two classrooms in the gymnasium, the youth center, and the homemaking cottage. However, workmen assured school officials Wednesday of this week that the upper portion of the new building would be ready by Tuesday. Final completion of the building is then expected by September 15. Lunchroom personnel and bus drivers are employed, and a full slate of classes will be held opening day. ONSENSE

By BARBARA RANDALS

You see, his mother is my aunt's sister, or something like that. Anyway he's nearly my cousin.

"Idaho, here I come" was Judy Griffiths' slogan when she and her family left for Idaho last week. They plan to be back sometime this week end. I'll bet they'll be glad to get home, in fact, I'm sure Judy will be. There are some faces around town which she hasn't seen for a long time, especially one.

Everyone was certainly glad to see Steve Ogle and Wayne Warren home from the Army. They hadn't really been gone too long but it seemed like a long time.

I saw a face around town the other day I hadn't seen for ages. Kenneth Smith is back from the Navy. I imagine he's been nearly everywhere and seen nearly everything but he still looks like the same old Smitty, full of fun and mischief.

A couple of people changed their name Sunday. Iva Lou Whiteside and Sue Spinks liked the name "Burgan" so they changed theirs. Along with the names went a husband, namely Bill and Don Burgan. It was a surprise but a nice one. Good luck to you!

I just can't believe we have a ball game this Friday. I think they had it then just to celebrate my birthday. Yes, on September 2 I will be sixteen. I surely don't feel sixteen but I guess I'd better learn to because I'll be sixteen a whole year. I got a new record player as a birthday gift, and everyone is invited to hear it. Just come on up. We may just hear the needle grind on the turn table, but come on anyway.

I guess this will be my last column for the summer because the Mirror will be back pretty soon. I want to thank everyone who has helped me and said all those nice things about this little newsbit. I hope you have enjoyed reading it and finding out a little bit of the news or just letting me ramble on. I hope to see you all next year. Be good!

It's almost here, and it's the last chance for a long weekend trip, especially for the school children. School bells will ring next Tuesday, so best get the luggage packed, prepare a picnic lunch, and enjoy the holiday.

Golfing and fishing are usually top sports enjoyed by people around here, but dove season is open and there will be many who will be enjoying their first feast.

Speaking of sports, Bro. Barnes is among the more ardent fishermen and usually takes his share of ribbing from the other sportsmen. I can report that he was the only one of a party of three that fished at Lake Whitney last Tuesday that had any fish to show. Think he had a lot of trouble catching the grasshoppers, but it paid off with the fish.

Mattie Ramage enjoyed having her grandchildren for a visit last week, but has learned to be sure and count heads before taking them out for a treat. Seems as though she ordered thirteen snow cones, and found one child missing.

ng. Said she couldn't enjoy the past week for wondering where she could have lost the child.

Bill Howard all set to renew his ability at the golf game, only to be taken back by a couple of wasp nests. What's the matter Bill, afraid you'll get stung. Shouldn't neglect those clubs like that.

Lost! Two nice people who must be thoroughly enjoying the country life, since giving up their business in town. Never see you, Lois and Leonard, so report.

Don Jernigan indulging in a thick chocolate milk, to build up plenty of energy for football practice.

Vera Bulloch has been busy this past week with the needle and thread trying to get all those dresses hemmed and clothes ready for Connie to start to school.

Mamie Graves wanting to start back to school so that she might get to try out some of the new and modern supplies that are offered to the students now. I'm with you on that Mamie, as I think it would be fun.

I think Mildred Petsick and Kay Cheek sampled every item in the school supply department, as you could hardly see them when they left the store. Be sure you use all those things girls.

Daisie Dankers was busy calculating window measurements and selecting drapery materials this week. That's a big chore, Daisie, but bet they will be pretty.

Mattie Stineff is a new resident of Hico, and is living in the Russell apartment. She must enjoy working in the yard, as she has hardly gotten settled. Yessie Salmon is her neighbor, and says she has enjoyed her yard so much this year, and just hope it will be even prettier next year.

FOR A PROFESSIONAL LOOK PRESS AS YOU SEW

A good dressmaker knows that pressing is just as important as the way in which a dart or seam is stitched. In fact, the most meticulously handled dart or seam can look "homemade" if not properly pressed.

To get a real professional look, press as you go. Begin by pressing the creases out of your fabric before cutting, and carefully press after each step. The time and effort will be well worthwhile.

Pressing technique is important too. In general, work on the wrong side of the fabric. Occasionally this is impossible and you will have to press such things as pocket welts on the right side. For this, use a press cloth. Always smooth material carefully under the iron and press on the straight grain of the fabric whenever possible.

In sewing cotton or linen, press when well dampened or use a steam iron with high heat woolens with a damp cloth iron and dry woolens with steam iron. Use high heat but do not press too dry. Let out ease, pat with hand and steam in the wool fibers.

Press silk or rayon with iron or use a pressing cloth. Press silk or rayon with iron heat and press with touch. Open seams with iron lightly before ironing cloth. Be careful not to scorch the fabric.

Press velveteen, corduroy with a turkish towel ironing board or stand and end, cover it with a damp cloth and draw the wrong fabric back and forth over steaming cloth. Brush high steaming to remove marks.

DON'T FEED THE GARBAGE CAN

Is your garbage can eating? How much does it feed it for a year?

The four common causes of waste in the home are: poor planning and buying, result in overbuying, poor selection and serving of food, and improper preservation and use of leftovers, and improper preservation and use of leftovers.

What to do about them: your buying and preserving that food can be used promptly before it loses flavor or spoils. See when it reaches the stage. It loses texture, flavor value if overcooked, stands too long before it is used. Use leftovers promptly in salads, stews, or sandwiches all food clean, cool and until you use it. Check for and keep it moving.

Suggestions for planning buying, preparing, serving, preserving foods are given in the Extension Bulletin, "Eat Well, Less." You can get a copy your county home demonstration agent's office.

There were quite a few visitors and such while I was gone to Fort Worth. I really had fun but I got the wits scared out of me when I saw "Psycho." I recommend this show to everyone but don't see it alone.

Shirley Greathouse saw "Ben Hur" when she was in Dallas a couple of weeks ago. She said it was a great show. It was still having a full house all the time.

Kathy Higginbotham and Faye McFadden both came home last week. Faye still calls Hico home even though Clifton is where she now lives. Kathy had a ball in Houston. She came home with clothes! clothes! clothes!

Mildred Petsick was back from Ruidoso, N. Mex. looking very tired, but smiling. It seems she rode horses every day in Ruidoso. That's a beautiful place and I know she had fun.

Have you seen a strange Valiant or Impala around? These belong to a couple of visitors in town.

The Valiant belongs to Lynn Freeman. She's from Amarillo, visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Owen, fifteen, and good-looking. She is surely a lot of fun to be around.

The Impala belongs to Robin Moffit from Torrance, Calif. He's nearly my cousin but not quite.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS

By E. R. LAWRENCE

The condition of seed cotton at the time it reaches the gin largely determines the final grade of the lint in the bale. Therefore cotton should be produced, harvested and handled so that it reaches the gin as dry, loose and clean as possible.

Most cotton in the county is harvested with strippers. The best time for strippers to operate, and the best time to harvest cotton for dryness is from 9 in the morning to 6 in the afternoon. Cotton gins best at a lint moisture content of seven and one-half per cent. Numerous tests show that the high-moisture content of seed cotton during the early morning is due to the high relative humidity of the atmosphere. These tests show that the sun rapidly dries the excess moisture out of field cotton and that harvesting should be delayed until eight or nine o'clock.

These tests also show that the moisture content of seed cotton begins to increase late in the afternoon. In ginning laboratory tests the grades for the afternoon harvested cotton averaged almost a full grade higher than the morning harvested lots. Loss of color associated with delay in ginning of the high-moisture seed cotton accounted for a large part of grade differences between these morning and afternoon harvested treatments.

To get smooth preparation, harvest cotton as dry as possible and keep it dry. Cotton quality can be maintained by eliminating the heavy tramping and crushing seed cotton into small transport vehicles.

Friday and Saturday, September 9-10, are to be two pretty big days for those interested in horses.

Friday there is to be a non-registered horse show followed by the Registered Quarter Horse Show.

Then Saturday afternoon there is to be a Cutting Horse Contest and Saturday night a Kid Horse Show. Perhaps this should be called a Junior Show. Anything it is open to children only. Classes are broken down to where most any age child can compete. Too, some classes are according to the size of the horse.

Grains can't be stored and forgotten. Insects may infest the grain in the field, and infested grain may be brought into storage. Fumigation is the best protection against insect damage to stored grain.

Several fumigants are effective for killing stored grain insects. They are formulated as various combinations, and are sold by companies under different trade names. When applying liquid fumigants, the storer should be careful to spray the entire surface of the grain. Fumigant application done with hand pump sprayer for small quantities or with some form of power operated sprayer for large amounts. The bin should be closed after the fumigant is applied, and it should not be opened for at least 24 hours—best 4 or 5 days. As a safety precaution, at least two men should be present when the fumigants are being applied. For grain sorghums a moisture content of 12 per cent is best for storing. With the weather like it has been for some time, grain sorghums are apt to go into storage with a moisture content that might cause some trouble a little later on.

Camp Ford Held Yankees

In northeast Texas, near Tyler in Smith County, you can see the site of an old Confederate Prison, Camp Ford, where 2,000 to 6,000 Federal prisoners were held from 1862 to 1865.

Major General Richard Taylor and his Confederate troops attacked the invading Federal forces of General Banks and imprisoned thousands at Camp Ford. This battle ended all Federal attempts to invade Texas.

Buffalo Tracks at Colorado

"Seven Wells" was the last watering hole for the buffalo and their tracks still are imprinted in the sandstone rock. This old watering hole is known for its scenic beauty and its seven natural unfailing fresh water wells.

It used to be an old Indian camp but now is a popular picnic ground.

The "Seven Wells" are located 7 miles Southeast of Colorado in North West Texas' Mitchell County.

City Beneath the Sea

Under the calm waters of Medina Lake west of San Antonio is the site of the settlement of Mountain View. A Mormon leader, Lyman Wright, established 16 families on this site in 1854 only to be driven away four years later by the Indians.

Medina Lake makes a quiet resting place for this settlement with its violent history. The lake is also reputed to be the resting place of many of those big fish that "got away."

The Born Here

The birthplace of a great general and the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower, now stands in tribute to him as a state park at Denison, Texas.

Denison is in Grayson County in the North East portion of the state, near the Oklahoma border. You can see Eisenhower Park on your next fishing, camping or water-sport vacation on the Red River. Denison is well known for the dam that forms the immense and beautiful recreational area known as Lake Texoma.

Tex-Aeological

Texas is one of the most fertile fields in all of North America for archaeological research.

Remnants have been discovered here of the Maya-Aztec area, the Pueblo area, and the Mound-Building area.

The caves of the Big Bend region for instance have produced evidence of the Basket-Maker and the Pueblo cultures.

to the Editor

Hico News Review.

Dear Buck:

Since you have invited opinions on this matter of Saturday afternoon closing by some of the Hico merchants, here's mine.

I just don't like it worth a hoot by a hoot and a half. There was a cause for even the first cause, and far be it from me to insinuate that these merchants don't have both reasons and good intentions in adopting this rule of trade.

This does not overrule the fact, however, that a large portion of this trade will be lost to neighboring towns, and along with it goes that enthusiast interest of Hico as a trade center. This must not happen!

Merchants and customers alike must face the fact that we now face the "Ghost Town" epidemic, brought on by the fast transportation age. The best vaccination against this epidemic is your trade with your local merchants in Hico. More than one-half century has been spent by me trading in Hico and I hope later to write some of my experiences during those early days.

Yours truly,

By E. E. DAWSON

As one grows older some things are learned that he never knew before; things that one learns only by experience. In my younger years I just could not know these truths and only as one experiences them can he know them.

This will not be a record of all the older person learns, but perhaps these four are more generally learned than any others. I so judge by what my fellow-older-friends tell me.

One is the loss of keen vision. Eyes grow old and less seeing in spite of all their owner does. The fact of falling vision accounts for numerous things as one goes on down life's highway toward the sunset. One effect of this dimming of eyesight is that one often sees life-long friends and fails to recognize them. And such friends may be offended, thinking it is a failing regard for him. One day I stood at the checking counter of a certain store and someone came in the front door of the store. I could not see his features and failed to recognize him and so did not speak. He felt offended. In a few minutes he got back where the light struck him at different angle and I recognized him and hastened to tell him what had happened. When your older friends seem to be snubbing you just remember that failing vision accounts for that seeming defect.

Along with failing vision goes loss of hearing in a greater or lesser degree. So many things old folks do not hear and have to ask the speaker to repeat. Old ears just fail to hear certain tones; words just fail to register, confusion result. Many of the younger generation are impatient with hard-of-hearing oldsters. Often the older hard-of-hearing person just lets it pass and wonders for so long what was said, but did not want to be burdensome to his younger fellow beings.

Then comes in order loss of memory. Names just won't stay put. Events fade. Even faces appear different and unrecognizable. It is a painful thing for the older, but is about as general as grey hair. I often remark that I guess I'll forget my name one of these days.

I saw a woman looking for her car the other day. When I asked her a question as to her search she said she so often forgot where she left her car. It happens almost daily with me that I go to a car and only when I open the door discover that I am trying to get in the wrong car. Maybe we older folks need some younger person to accompany us always so as to see that we don't get lost on the streets.

Then there is a very painful thing that so many older persons have discovered: the jealousy many younger people have of the older one. This has been the most astounding thing to me of all the discoveries of advancing age.

A Methodist preacher relates this experience to me some years ago. He retired at the retiring age of his denomination and he and his wife moved to a certain West Texas community where they owned some property. The minister wrote me how happy he was to be there and how he and his wife felt so happy to be in the church at that place. In about six months I had a letter from him again in which he stated that he and his wife had moved to another community quite a distance from where he had formerly written me. And he gave the reason for his move. He said the local pastor had shown such jealousy of him that he had moved to keep from making the man unhappy.

Three times wife and I have moved our membership in the fifteen years of our retirement because of the very evident jealousy of the pastor. Of course we would not stay where the pastor looked on with such malevolence. At quite a bit of inconvenience we have moved our membership to keep a jealous pastor from being unhappy when he saw us in the congregation. I am grateful that I was never so afflicted in my younger years, but gave every attention possible to my elder brethren of the ministry.

ISLANDS WITHIN ISLANDS — It didn't take photographers long to discover this Bermuda lily pond in which the Colony has been mapped in concrete by the Hon. E. G. Gibbons, who owns the pond as well as the gardens surrounding it. Both are open to the public. The island occupied by the girl is Sandys, the western-most parish in the mid-Atlantic chain, whose pastoral charm deserves no less than the fair miss adorning it. No wonder photographers like the place. FMS

IT'S THE LAW—

Division of Estate Explained By State Bar Association

The death of an intestate person (one who has made no will) may give rise to many problems regarding distribution of his separate estate. In the preceding column we investigated the manner of dividing the community estate upon the death of a husband or wife. Now we shall see that, where separate property is involved, a completely different set of rules applies in determining heirship and apportioning the estate among the rightful claimants.

It may be well to recall that the separate estate of a husband or wife includes property owned by either before marriage, and that which is acquired after marriage by gift or inheritance. Any other property acquired after marriage is presumed by law to be community property until the contrary is clearly proved.

Now, here is a general idea as to how your separate property will be divided if you do not make a will with contrary provisions prior to your death.

Governor Renews Plea to Drivers for Safe Weekend

Governor Price Daniel said this week that the official prediction of 29 deaths in Texas traffic during the 72-hour Labor Day holiday is a "clear warning that death or serious injury may be awaiting the traffic law violator and the careless driver, but even worse, this type of driver may inflict undeserved trouble or tragedy on the vast majority of Texas drivers who otherwise would have little trouble on our streets and highways."

Daniel renewed his plea to Texas drivers to drive carefully and legally during the holiday period, from 12:01 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 2, to 11:59 p.m. Monday, Sept. 5.

The Governor also repeated his request to Texas sheriffs and chiefs of police to "crack down hard" on violations involving excessive speed and driving while drinking. He said Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., and the Department of Public Safety had assured him that every available man would be on duty during the holiday period to handle the situation on highways outside the cities.

Meantime, the Governor's office was receiving assurances from numerous sources that drivers violating traffic laws would be doing so in spite of all kinds of official and voluntary reminders about the hazards of heavy holiday traffic.

Texas newspapers have been filled with news stories, feature articles and editorials about the upcoming holiday and its traffic problems. Radio and TV stations have carried thousands of safety announcements, special interviews and programs, and again are sponsoring their "Drive Lighted and Live!" campaign, asking drivers to burn their headlights in daylight hours to signal their cooperation with safe and legal driving practices and laws.

Governor Daniel concluded: "The exceptional cooperation of Texas drivers, news media, law enforcement officials and thousands of traffic safety volunteers resulted in a reduction of 18 per cent in actual traffic deaths over predictions for last Christmas and the Fourth of July. With this same type of cooperation, I believe we can save still more lives this Labor Day."
