THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS... through the house, not a person was stirring even a mouse. But these two youngsters were anxiously waiting for the arrival of Santa Claus to come down the chimney. Like two children all over the free world will be waiting for the arrival of the jolly old

For the entire program, the participating merchants will have given away a total of $1,240.00, plus the bicycle, valued at $50.

Forty-six merchants have footed the bill for the program.

Winners last Saturday were C. C. Nachtigall, Melvin Henderson, and Gene Hicks, all receiving $10. Suzanne Patterson received $25, and R. T. Simpson was the big winner, drawing the $50.00 award.

BLAIR'S

LOUISE, JAKE & HUGH

FAIRY

By MRS. EUNICE DANIEL

Our hearts go out in deepest sympathy to Mrs. Main Stifflemire in the untimely death of her husband last week. Mrs. Stifflemire, the former Neatie Taylor was reared in the Falls Creek community north of Fairy. We had known her since before her marriage. May God bless her and others who mourn the passing of Mr. Stifflemire. May they look beyond this vale of sorrow when the future will seem brighter and they will more fully understand.

Another Christmas season is here and seems most everyone is going in a rush to do this or that and wind up that last minute shopping. But may we say now, slow down folks. This generation seem to have too much to carry, brainwise, not as some say, "Oh we're getting old" when we let this or that slip our mind, but just too much on that mind. In time it will get the best of us.

Bobbie Brummett of Killeen filled an appointment at the Church of Christ Sunday, and he and his wife were luncheon guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coyt Clark. Other guests were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ferrel Murray of Abilene, who spent the weekend here.

The Junior class play, entitled "A Ready Made Family" which was presented at the school Saturday night was said to have been one of the best plays presented here in some time. This scribe had fully intended to attend and let it slip our mind until too late. We hope they decide to present it again later when all won't be so brain-washed getting ready for the Christmas holidays. Seems others also forgot about it.

The writer attended singing at Lamkin Sunday and visited a short while in the Frank Driver home on our return home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison of Dublin came down Thursday of last week and carried his mother, Mrs. Ed Allison to Waco for a visit with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dellis Seago. She had learned Mrs. Seago was ill and thought she could help out in the home.

Mrs. E. M. Hoover visited Monday afternoon with her mother, brother and wife, Mrs. A. L. Newman and Mr. and Mrs. Prentis Newman of near Duffau.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Driver of Grand Prairie spent the weekend here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Driver and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wolfe at the Hico Nursing home.

We were very sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Fannie Anderson Michael of Hayward, Calif. who passed away at her home Dec. 11. Mrs. Michael was born near Fairy to the late Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson and resided here until her marriage. Her husband had preceded her in death several years ago. She is survived by one son, Earl Michael Jr.; one sister, Mrs. Bertha Slater of near Fairy; two brothers, Emmitt of Fairy and Sterling of South Hill Va. Mrs. Slater and Emmitt were unable to attend the funeral service, since Mrs. Slater had just returned from the hospital. She had visited her sister only recently prior to the paralytic stroke which she suffered prior to her death. Our sympathy is extended to those bereaved in her passing. Mrs. Michael was a regular donor to the Fairy Cemetery. We still had her last letter written to us when she sent $5. With the passing of Mrs. Michael, Mrs. Ogle and Mrs. Green and others who have contributed in the past to the support of the cemetery, it should make the public more fully understand why we need to get an endowment fund built up to help take care of the expenses of the cemetery.

We have just learned of the passing of Mr. H. H. (Hub) Wolfe who died at the Hico Hospital at 5 p.m. Monday afternoon. Funeral services were set for 10 a.m. Wednesday at Fairy Church of Christ. A more complete obituary will appear in next week's news letter. Mr. Wolfe had been ill for some time and his death was not unexpected. Our deepest sympathy is extended to the family and other relatives who mourn his passing. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Abel of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. James Abel and Clark of Sidney spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Abel. Their uncle, Bill Abel, who had spent the past week in Dallas and Fort Worth, returned home with the Thomas Abels.

Birthdates for December which we have are Darrel Allison, Dublin, Dec. 16; the late J. C. Richardson, Dec. 20.

Walter Porterfield is visiting in Houston at this time in the home of his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hurt and daughter. He plans to remain during the holidays. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Marvin Porterfield, carried him to Houston. She went down to carry her small son, Billy Marvin, for a visit with relatives while she was with her husband at Marlin where he underwent surgery. She and her husband returned home Monday afternoon. They expect to go to Houston this weekend to spend Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Smith and other relatives.

At the close of another year we would like to say thanks to all those who have helped in the support of the Fairy Cemetery. We wish it were possible to send each a personal greeting and thank you. May God bless each for your thoughtfulness and may you be blessed in many ways.

So many pass on, leaving their estate to relatives, but make no provision in life for their last resting place. In our almost six years of work with the public on the care of the cemetery we find many unsupported lots of those who made donations during their lifetime, but no one now to carry on this part of their custom in life.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Abel visited a while Monday night in the home of the writer and husband. While here they talked to their daughter, Mrs. Gonzales Rivers of Salisbury, N. C. by telephone. She had recently underwent surgery but was now on the way to recovery.

The writer spent Tuesday in Dublin visiting in the home of our daughter and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and Darrel and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pittman and daughters, Karen and Kaye.

Our sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Proffitt of near Fairy and Mrs. Loyd Bolstad of Laurel, Miss., for a donation of $5 each for the Fairy cemetery. Very nice of them to think of this at this at this time of year.

A hint for the week: Your discarded Christmas cards are useful in decorating your Christmas packages by cutting out the beautiful designs and gluing them to your package and using glitter around the edges.

HOME OF MRS. McCULLOUGH SCENE OF REVIEW CLUB CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mrs. H. E. McCullough, with the associate and courtesy members as co-hostesses, staged a beautiful Christmas party for Review Club members last Thursday afternoon.

The Christmas decorations made a perfect setting for the occasion. At the front gate and front door large white wreaths bade a lovely welcome to arriving guests, and Mrs. L. N. Lane greeted those arriving. A lovely arrangement of snowy white carnations, vines bearing delicate jacy blue flowers, were used in the entrance and on stairway. In the formal dining room Mrs. McCullough achieved a climax in her decorations in an inspiring scene—a Bible open to Luke Chapter 2—arranged at reading angle in a window, from above a beautiful gold star sheds rays of golden light on the open Book. Beneath on the window sill was assembled the familiar characters and animals connected with the account of the Holy Birth.

The refreshment table was lovely with net cloth over satin and gorgeously appointed with elaborate silver coffee service and massive silver punch bowl ensemble at either end, with a centerpiece of white carnations and other silver and crystal service pieces.

Mrs. Norman Purvis at the coffee service and Mrs. Tom Pratt presiding at the punch bowl, added great charm to the picture.

Guests were served canapes, fruit cake, toasted nuts, and other dainties with coffee and hot punch.

The ceiling-high white fir Christmas tree with myriads of small gold lights, dainty butterflies, birds, and a shining angel at the top, the base surrounded by gay gift packages for all, was a joy to see.

Miss Claudia Hafer graciously provided piano music for the occasional, playing a group of compositions arranged by Ferde Grofe, a famous modern composer and arranger. In this grouping was combined much of the familiar Christmas music, with other compositions. Miss Hafer delighted the club with her music, also as a gracious Santa handing out gifts from beneath the beautiful tree.

Mrs. O. C. Cook directed, Mrs. Wayne Rutledge accompanied, as the group lustily sang Christmas Carols.

After such a delightful meeting it will seem very prosaic getting back to routine study sessions. The club is sincerely grateful to Mrs. McCullough, the associate and courtesy members for this merry Christmas celebration.

...worthy and successful tour of homes, with the on Christmas decorated last Friday night.

... Neel home, one of the older-style homes remodeled but retaining its charm and dignity, was to the tourists. Arriving were greeted by a lovely front door, featuring and the Wise Men. In an arrangement of gold and featuring a Madonna and Mrs. Neel's paintings of gracious beauty to the dining room the buffet gold arrangement, arranged. The table was with a lovely net decorated with sequin and trees, and centered with and white Christmas art.

... spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Salmon was a perfect and for the cheery Christmas which they have ac- adding much to the pleas- the holiday season for entwined with the greenery and berries, was most decorative. The green fir Christmas tree sparkled with trimmings, and nearby was the "kissing ball" made of fluffy pink net puffs and tiny gold balls, strands of nylon that made a waterfall with a cluster of mistletoe topping the creation. The dining table was dressed with a rich plum-colored cloth, draped over a full floor-length skirt of a lighter shade. An epergne filled with handmade purple grapes graced the table. On the buffet heaped in a massive container was fruits and orange tones, blending with a painting above.

When visitors arrived at the home of Miss Thoma Rodgers they immediately felt a warm colonial welcome in the authentic Early American decor. A huge wreath of green trimmed with red berries and ribbon was hung on the tall white front door flanked by large candy cane candles glowing with Christmas lights. The color scheme throughout the house was red and green. On entering the hallway garlands of holly were seen entwined on the stairway banisters. Inside the living room was a tall Christmas tree colorful with cranberries, popcorn, popcorn balls and old fashioned trimmings. A small table in the living room held the family Bible which was opened and was marked by a pair of old fashioned reading glasses. Bedrooms up and down stairs were decorated with red carnations, poinsettias and glowing candles. The entire home was lovely and interesting.

... she chose white and blue for her decorative plans. Large white decorated wreaths hung on the front gate and front door. In the entrance hall a large arrangement of snow white carnations in a Madonna container added to the joy of the welcome. The stair railing was covered with vines and blue flowers. In the formal dining room, Mrs. McCullough created a scene to delight all with an open Bible marking Luke Chapter 2, mounted at a reading angle and placed in a window where a beautiful gold star shines on the open book with a golden glow of light. Beneath, on the window sill, were the characters connected with the story of the Nativity. The dining table was resplendent with white net cloth over satin with a centerpiece of lovely white carnations. The ceiling-high white fir Christmas tree was the point of interest in the living room. The entire home was lovely and reflected the gracious, homey atmosphere enjoyed by its occupants.

The Jack Malone home was the last on the tour, with its glow of handsome furniture, it was a perfect setting for decorations of white and gold. The arriving guests were greeted by a lovely front door decorated with gold pom-poms of gilded magnolia leaves on tall stems, set in pots of gold with magnolia leaves. In the living room was a glittering white and gold Christmas tree. A group of choir boys, with tiny butterflies over the base, topped the living room desk. The mantle decorations was a masterpiece of gold created in a lovely arrangement. The dining table, with the lovely net cloth decorated with red and green sequins over white taffeta, was centered with a gold epergne with white grapes and leaves topped by a gold bird. On a guest room dresser, with handsome mirror as a background, stood an unusual creation of a Christmas tree cut out of glass in one piece, topped by a sparkling star, a creation of Mrs. Grady Hooper.
