preparation job in the kitchen, and the putting of meat on the family table as you would like. Immediate and proper bleeding of the game animals is most important in improving meat flavor, points out Cooper.

The same is true for ducks and geese and most other game species. This practice will do much to remove the strong, gamey flavor which some people dislike. The ing immediately after the kill especially if the weather is relatively warm. The sooner the animal is dressed the better, for immediate dressing means fewer changes for meat spoilage or undesirabe flavor or odor. Keep the game clean, avoid letting hair, feathers, dirt or other trash come into contact with the meat, Before the blood dries, wipe the body clean with either a dry or slightly moistened cloth rather than by washing with water.

If the weather is warm, game should be put into cold storage as soon as possible. It is held just above freezing for a few days, the meat will become more tender and have less of the undesirable gam- ADDING MACHINE paper for sale
