School Trustee Election Draws Three Candidates

Three names were filed this week for school trustee posts, to be voted on in the April 6th election. Names of E. V. Meador, Ralph Turner and E. A. Black were authorized placed on the ballot. Turner and Meador are local businessmen, and Black is a local dairyman. Meador is the only candidate seeking re-election.

V. H. Jenkins, veteran of 12 years service on the board, declining to seek re-election this year.

At mid-week, County Superintendent W. B. McPherson Jr., said that no other names had been filed with his office for a place on a local ballot. Two positions are to be filled.

Mr. McPherson made the following statement concerning placement of names on the ticket: "Any person desiring to have his name placed on said official ballot as a candidate for the office of trustee of a common or independent school district as herein provided shall, at least thirty (30) days before said election, file a written request with the County Judge of the County in which said district is located, requesting that his name be placed on the official ballot, and no candidate shall have his name printed on the ballot unless he has complied with the provisions of this act; provided that five (5) or more resident qualified voters in the district may request that certain names be printed."

Terms of trustees in this area that expire are:

HICO: E. V. Meador and V. H. Jenkins.

FAIRY: Vernon Knapp and Justin Bullard.

CARLTON: Claudean Carroll and Tull Thompson.

Final filing date is Wednesday, March 6.

A. A. Brown has been named as judge for the local school election, with Mrs. Henry Mayfield of Clairette and Mrs. Stanley Roach of Duffau as clerks. Miss Louise Blair of Hico was named as alternate clerk.

Museum Committees Named at First Meeting Monday Night

Main item of business at the organizational meeting for the purpose of establishing a museum in Hico was the appointment of committees to work on projects for support of the program.

Committee heading up the project is composed of Dr. B. C. Dayton, James Cryer and Louise Blair.

A committee to work on details of an amateur snow, main fund-raising project of the newly formed organization, is composed of Conda Salmon, Robert Jackson, J. C. Cook, and Jack Barnett.

The group attending the Monday meeting also investigated the feasibility of selling life memberships in the organization, and a committee to work on details will be headed by Dr. Dayton, working with Miss Annie Coleman and E. V. Meador.

Other meetings will be forthcoming as details are worked out.

FROM HEALTH DEPT.—

Second Typhoid Case Brings Stern Warning

Positive diagnosis of the second case of typhoid fever in Hico within the past four weeks has spurred State Health Department officials and local health officer Dr. W. F. Hafer to issue a stern warning—and plea—to Hico area people to receive the series of immunizations.

Confirmation of the latest case was received Monday morning, and brought about the warning from state officials that a common carrier in this area may be spreading the disease.

The first known case of typhoid in this area in several years was diagnosed in January, and brought a plea from the City Health Officer for people to take the inoculations. Although the response has been gratifying, the three Hico physicians are encouraging every person in this area to be immunized against the disease, fearing that an epidemic might be the final result if enough of the people are not inoculated.

Typhoid is contacted by humans from several sources, foremost of these being water, food, flies, poultry, or sewage systems.

Symptoms of typhoid were outlined by Dr. B. C. Dayton this week, and include headaches, fever, general run-down feeling, loss of appetite, slight cough and body aches. Patients will usually run between 104 and 105 degree temperature.

Dr. Dayton said that "three percent of all persons contacting the disease become carriers, and there is about a five percent mortality rate among typhus patients."

Persons who might be in doubt or have questions about the inoculations are urged to consult their physicians.

City Offices Go Begging, No Candidates

With the deadline for filing for city offices only one day away, no candidates had filed their names with City Secretary Mrs. S. W. Everett Wednesday of this week.

Two places are to be filled in the April 2nd election, terms of Wayne Rutledge and Alvin Casey expiring. Deadline for candidate filing is Saturday, March 2.

Prospective candidates may file with the City Secretary.

HERE IN HICO

By E. V. M.

As we were saying . . .

Remember the story of the old man who called his seven young sons to gather round his bedside to explain the strength of unity? He gave them seven sticks tied in a bundle which none of them could break. But when he loosened the bundle, and gave one twig to each son, they broke it easily.

A hundred years ago, Abraham Lincoln summed up the wisdom of this parable when he said, "United we stand, divided we fall."

In a sense, the Hico Civic Club is the function of the string which held the bundle of sticks together.

Without a unifying organization working for the good of the community, we would seldom see the completion of Hico's most cherished business, civic, and cultural projects.

The Civic Club is the only full-time organization in Hico which devotes its entire time and energy to working for each of us all the time.

Its primary goal is the advancement of Hico on every level and in every area. The Club is motivated by enthusiasm and hope for better things all about us, better lives for a better life, a better future for our children, and our children's children.

Without our help—your mine—the Civic Club would cease to exist.

Isn't enough to pay your membership fee. We must work together as a collective force to achieve our goals for the betterment of Hico.

A united community cannot be achieved.

Local physicians are not alarmed and they don't try to convince us into doing something they don't want to do. But the typhoid is currently running its course and still get worse, and with that thought in mind, they have urged State Health Officers from Hico in urging everyone in this area to take preventative measures against the dread disease.

Diagnosis of the second case of typhoid here within the past five weeks has brought about the warning. If you haven't started immunization series, please do so today.

Local school patrons are being urged to "go back to school, if for a day" during Texas Public School Week March 3-7. The week is an ideal time to visit classrooms and see for yourself just what teachers and students are accomplishing.

At the schools next week, and how many methods have been used since YOU were in school,

Patrons Urged to Go Back To School Next Week

Hico Public Schools will participate in the Annual Texas Public Schools Week, March 4 thru March 7. Local students and teachers are inviting parents and friends to visit the school some time during that week.

Purpose of this school emphasis week is to give parents an opportunity to see what their children are doing in school. Many activities may be observed throughout the school.

Special features for the week will be:

Monday, March 4: 7:30 p.m., Regular P-TA Meeting. Dr. A. J. Guinn of Howard Payne College will be guest speaker, and the first grade will present the program. All buildings will be open for inspection after the meeting and refreshments will be served by the Masonic Lodge in the cafeteria.

Wednesday, March 6: 12:10. The Hico Civic Club and Clairette and Hico Masons will have lunch at the school.

Thursday, March 7: Special Visitation Day. Parents who wish to visit their children during the lunch hour are urged to do so on some day other than Wednesday. Parents are welcome to visit the school anytime during the week, but if possible, officials would like to have them on Monday night, Tuesday, or Thursday.

Regular P-TA Meeting Set Monday Night

The Hico Parent-Teacher Association will meet Monday, March 4 in the high school auditorium at 7:30.

Theme for the evening will be "Consideration Through Respect for the Dignity and Worth of the Individual," presented by a guest speaker of the Masonic Lodge.

Members of the first grade class will be in charge of the program, under the direction of Mrs. R. B. Jackson.

The executive committee will meet at 7 p.m. preceding the regular meeting, and refreshments will be served following the meeting by the hospitality committee.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD AT STRAWN FOR MRS. COLE

Funeral services were held last Wednesday afternoon at Strawn for Mrs. Willie Cole, mother of Raymond Cole of Hico, and former resident here.

Mrs. Cole passed away last Monday at Plainview where she was residing with a daughter, Mrs. J. A. Bureson.

Burial was in Gordon Cemetery.

THEY'RE OFF!—First Hico "Hikers" are shown here as they started the long trek one day last week in the wee morning hours. The youngsters ended their walk at Dublin, 22 miles away. From left they are Cathy Cryer, Denna Meador and Cherry Ramage.

AT THE END—The hikers, with a fourth member who joined the group at Clairette, are shown here resting following the long trip. They have officially been proclaimed walking champs until someone comes along and out-walks them. Even though they didn't make the full 50 miles, the girls can be consoled by the fact that they actually beat some of the recently-made records, since they are only about one-third the age of the instigator of the newest fad.

From the left, the girls here are Cathy Cryer, Claudia Walters (who joined the group at Clairette), Denna Meador, and Cherry Ramage. They are seventh and eighth grade students in Hico Elementary School.

FAIRY

By MRS. EUNICE DANIEL

Seems all indications of rain fall and pass us by. We are really in need of a good rain.

There has been quite a bit of illness in the community due to colds, which seem to be mostly the sore throat and head type. At this writing those who are ill are J. J. Jones Jr., Jimmie Don Sellers and this scribe, and probably others we do not know of.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Arrant spent last Sunday week in the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Arrant and family at Fort Worth. Mrs. Arrant had prepared a birthday dinner in honor of her mother-in-law's birthday which was Feb. 20. Another son, Garland and family joined them there. All enjoyed the day together.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Parks and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Abel were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blakley last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Proffitt visited Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Cox. Mr. and Mrs. Max Lam of Flat spent Friday night and Saturday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blakley and grandmother, Mrs. J. L. McCoy.

An error was made in the news item in last week's newsletter regarding the visit here of Buck Bridges of Beaumont instead of Vidor, as the article read. Also Roy Blakley was a brother of Buck's mother, Mrs. Bill Bridges of McGregor instead of Mrs. Blakley.

Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Janice and the writer visited last Friday in the home of their sister and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison of Stephenville. We also visited in the Wayne Pittman home near Stephenville. While in Stephenville the writer and Mrs. Allison visited a short while in the home of an aunt and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Jacobs. Mrs. Jacobs is very poorly at this writing. She received a fall at her home about midnight Saturday receiving severe bruises. She remained in the Stephenville Hospital until Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Parks spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Parks and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Streater.

Mrs. Mildred Sumpter, Geary, Charles and Rhonda of Fort Worth visited last Sunday weekend in the home of her mother, Mrs. P. L. Cox. While here they visited in Jonesboro with their brother and son and family, Mr.

and Mrs. Troy McDonald and family, and with Otis McDonald at Gatesville.

Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Mrs. J. A. Edwards and Mrs. J. R. Latham were joint hostesses for an open house held Saturday evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blakley in their new home recently completed. Some 75 or more guests attended. They received a number of nice and useful gifts. Cake squares and delicious orange sherbet fruit punch was served as refreshments. Relatives of Mrs. Blakley who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie McCoy and Rodney of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCoy, Mrs. Lura Licett and Mr. and Mrs. Lois McCoy of Fort Worth, and the Blakley's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Max Lam of Flat.

Mrs. Carl King and Mrs. W. E. Cunningham were joint hostesses last Friday evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cunningham in their new home. A large crowd attended and they received an assortment of nice and useful gifts. Coffee, fruit punch and cookies was served as refreshments.

The grain crop is showing signs of life again and would soon be fully recovered if we could get a good rain.

We expect to do some work at the cemetery as soon as possible. The fence is in bad need of re-stapling, and all lots will be gone over and worked before the busy season of mowing begins.

Recent donations were $1.00 by Mrs. Julia Brunson of Hico and $1.75 for rocks sold.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Gardner, Sandy and Randy and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Turner spent the past weekend in Arlington in the home of their sons, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gardner and family and Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Turner and Susan. All attended the Globe Trotter basketball game in Dallas Saturday evening.

We learned through Mrs. Herman Sills that William (Dad) Brunson, who is buried in the Fairy Cemetery, was a Civil War veteran, thus making two. Captain Battle Fort, also a Civil War veteran, buried here.

We would appreciate information concerning the following: Thomas E. Pittman, born 1830; T. F. Tyler, 1825; J. H. Wilson, 1835; John Guinn, 1831; E. T. Allison, 1831; William H. Climmer, 1830; C. M. Slater, 1832; W. M. Barbee, 1827; C. W. Young, 1827; and J. M. Burney, 1838.

The historical society plans to place special markers on all these graves and we need any and all information available.

The writer attended funeral services for Mrs. Ettie Hampton in Hico last Thursday.

THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN—

Highlights and Sidelights

By VERN SANFORD
— Texas Press Association —

A heavy majority in the House favors ousting county school superintendents in 86 counties. They voted to cut off state aid to them. Aim is to force the voters to say "yes" or "no" on whether they want to keep them at county tax expense, after their present terms run out in 1966.

If this proposal gets through as it now stands in the House, the state saving will be more than $1,000,000.

Counties affected are those with no more than two rural school districts under the county official's supervision.

Game-Parks Merger
Senate spent most of the week spinning its wheels. But over in the House of Representatives one of Gov. Connally's major reorganizations—merging the Game and Fish Commission and the State Parks Board into a single three-member "Parks and Wildlife Commission"—was pushed thru by a two to one majority.

Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford, long a foe of the Game and Fish Commission, carried the measure through the house, and committed himself to vote to provide general tax revenues to support the parks system once they are merged.

County Building Hike Okayed
A bill by Rep. Vernon Beckham of Denison, designed to solve a local problem, may prove helpful for rural counties.

It would allow county commissioner's courts to spend up to $200,000 for county buildings outside the county seats. Present law limits this expenditure to $150,000.

Bill was passed by the House 143-0.
County seat of Grayson County is Sherman. But Denison—in the same county—is almost as big and as busy. Therefore an adjunct county courthouse building is under construction there. Building and property costs have risen so that Denison courthouse can't be finished until the increase is authorized.

Committees Busy
Senate and House committees have accomplished quite a bit—either by positive or negative action—to settle some legislative issues.

They have given a green light to a bill to raise the age ceiling from 14 to 16 on the state's program of aid to dependent children (an effort to keep needy children in school).

Given a friendly reception to the bill by Rep. W. H. Miller of Houston to require seat belt anchors in all new cars sold in Texas.

Given cool reception to a series of Senate-proposed constitutional amendments and bills designed to revise—and eventually eliminate—the state property tax, and leave it to local units of government.

Court Rules on Safety Law
Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the State Dept. of Public Safety, cautioned drivers of publicly-owned vehicles that they must comply with the provisions of the state's responsibility law.

Garrison said that a recent ruling by the Waco Court of Civil Appeals confirmed the fact that the law must be complied with by drivers of publicly owned vehicles. The safety responsibility law requires everyone involved in an accident to show his ability to pay for damages caused to others.

This can be done by purchasing a liability insurance policy; by obtaining written releases from damaged persons; or by depositing cash in the amount of damages with the Department of Public Safety.

House Committee on Insurance has approved a bill by Rep. Robert Fairchild of Center which would strengthen and stiffen the safety responsibility law. Under this bill, if anyone failed to prove financial responsibility, the DPS could take his driver's license, as well as his car license plates.

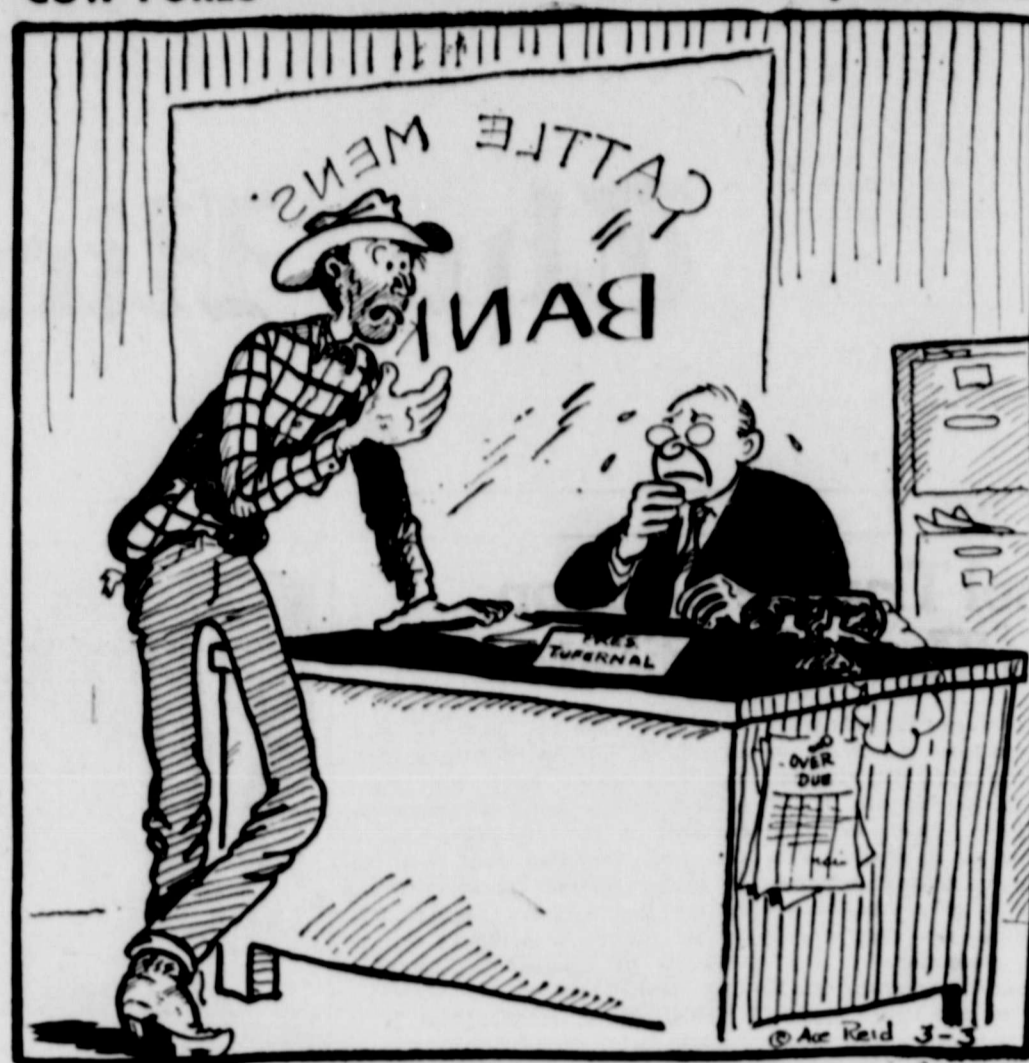

Vendors Win
The state cannot collect the two percent sales tax on sales through vending machines, where each sale is less than the minimum 24-cent taxable range.

Justice John C. Phillips of the Austin Court of Civil Appeals pointed out that the sales tax is a levy on the consumer, not the vendor.

MORE BOOKS FOR LIBRARY

One of the school library's most ardent supporters is Bro. E. E. Dawson, who has contributed books over the years.

His latest contribution is "Journey Into Summer," by Edwin Way Teale. This book is a naturalist's record of a 19,000 mile journey through the North American summer. Thanks, again Brother Dawson.

WHO'S WHO

The reason my subject is another Senior is for three reasons: the seniors are wonderful, are better looking, and won't be in HHS much longer. Again a girl is in the limelight. Now, we have come to two conclusions, my subject is a senior and a girl. Now, to business.

She is about 5'4" and weighs about 116 pounds. Her hair is reddish brown and is real short. Her many hobbies range from giggling all the time to being seen several nights a week with a certain boy with the initials of M.O. This girl has been able to handle five subjects this year up until mid-term and then she dropped Texas history. She has been on the annual staff for about two years and has done a real fine job. Also, she has been class favorite during high school. The part she will play in the senior play just fits her, but we won't tell why. One of her trademarks is the necklace she wears everyday. Wonder why she likes it so much?

Cupid was especially good to her on Valentine's Day because he made sure that she received some red primroses! By the expression on her face the day after the night she received them, I believe they made her pretty happy.

Cupid's friend was none other than Dixie Lackey.

JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

Since George Washington's birthday was last Friday, we decided to ask everyone if they had ever told a lie. However, we couldn't get around to asking everyone about their lies; so we're just putting what they would probably have said.

Nellye Wolfe: The biggest lie is when I say I never told one. Carolyn Wootton: Why are you asking me? I didn't cut down that cherry tree. Cathy Cox: We hurried as fast as we could. Teresa White: Who? Me? I never! Janson Aikman: I never told one. Linda Cronk: Yes, I did my homework.

Janis Shepherd: I once told a boy I couldn't go out with him because I had to stay with my sister's sick horse. Barbara Casey: I didn't know we had any homework. Linda Bruner: We forgot about the time, because we were having such a good time. Danny Jenkins: I once told a teacher that a cow ate my homework.

Denna Meador, Cathy Cryer, Cherry Ramage, Claudia Walters: We can walk 50 miles in 12 hours. Mike Reeves: Only to my advantage. Gary White: That I never cheat on my test.

James Barnett: That I came from Cuba. Suzanne Patterson: I don't like Alan. Alan Royal: I don't like Suzanne. John Fouts: When I was born I told my mother I was a girl. Jim Lackey and Ronnie Hefner: We didn't have a watch.

Melvin Kelly, Brenda Kenedy, Jody Littleton, Ann McClammy, Paula Lane: We never lie. Judy Lively: Daddy, I need some more money.

Ask yourself this question: "Did I ever tell a lie" and you will definitely get an answer of "naturally!"

FRESHMAN NEWS

The freshman girls have started sewing in Homemaking I. Dianne J. is having to make a bikini because she didn't get enough material.

Glenda O. has become a devout church-goer. Is there any certain reason for this sudden Biblical interest?

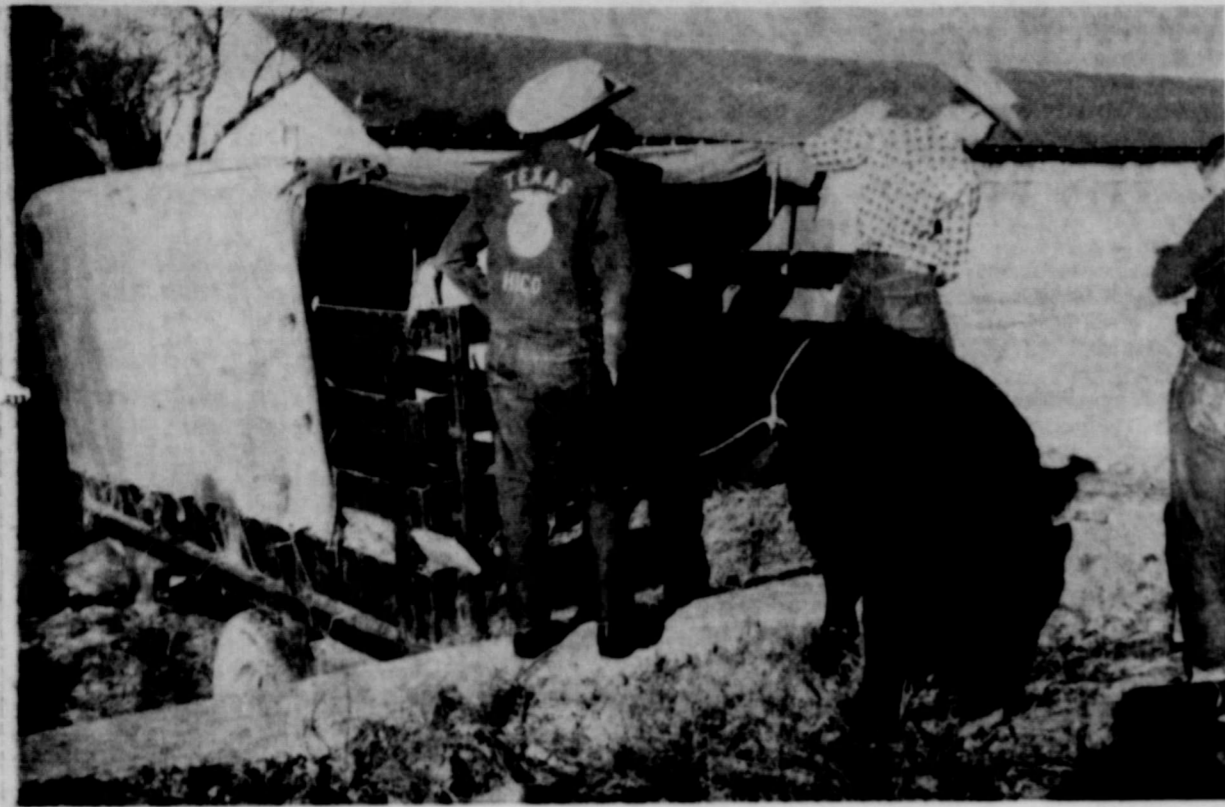

Leslie R. and Lynn M. have decided against building a rocket. (It's just as well because they probably would have blown up the lab!)

Linda D. and Kay T. really would like to see their heart beat! Pat B. got lost accidentally and instead of walking into a beauty salon she wandered into a barber shop. Now her head is nice and clean-shaven. (Just kidding Pat; it looks real cute.)

Claudia H. claims she knows a ground hog or at least she got rooted out Saturday night.

Speaking of ground hogs, Lee Anne S. has been rooted out by her pesky older sister. She runs around all over school saying five words, "That's what you get, Becky!"

Dwain F. is ready to murder the man who thought of popcorn, especially after Saturday night.

Hico FFA'ers Participating In Houston Show This Week

Hico Future Farmers are showing projects at the Houston Livestock Show this week.

Leslie Royal and Edmund Horton participated in the calf scramble Sunday night.

Dairy judging team will participate in those contests Saturday.

Scott Patterson, Edwin Black and Ronnie Partain make up the team. The livestock team, composed of Charles Erick, James Crews and James Randals, will also judge Saturday morning. The high ten individuals in each contest will be awarded heifers and the boys will also be trying to win the Hereford Judging Trophy. The rotating must be won three times to be claimed permanently, and Hico Future Farmers have won it twice previously.

FFA Chapter Advisor said, "It looks like a busy week, and we wish the boys luck in their showing."

HERRINGTON'S

Margaret seems to be getting her share of the housework these days. Planning for the future Margaret?

Judy and Lloyd seem to see pretty good movies down at Margaret's house. Ha! Ha! Fooled you, it was only Martha and Doc. Margaret and Eddie are too smart for that.

Christine surely did look lonesome walking down the hill by herself the other day. Where was Hermy, Christi?

The wedding bells are tolling—of course, we can't tell who for! That's for us to know and you to find out!

Janell's back in typing. So what?

Kathy Evans brought her baby up here and all of the girls went wild. They used to have a fit over another girl's doll, but now it's babies. What next?

Jane and Don have been frantically too much in homeroom. Don't feel bad. I don't know what frantically means either, but just ask Mr. Walker. That is if he makes it back.

Freddy's sure got an itchy trigger finger, for a ball point that is. Man, he sure goes wild in history class. We don't want you to get the idea that he's a mad murderer or anything, just drives people batty.

Lloyd really running from that flash, too. Seems people just wait in at any time of the day and take a picture, say thank you, and walk out the door. It really bugs him.

Everyone was really upset about Gary's car the other day because it was cooling down the road so slowly that we thought it was running away from him. Come to find out it was only Janell's wandering eyes.

Well, Sue how's Dublin? I'd sure go up there and check things if I were you.

Well, we flashes have to run. Be good kids. Zip!

Visitors with Mrs. W. H. Brown and Mrs. Edith Van Patton Thursday of last week were Mrs. Willie Wootton, her daughter and grandson of Fort Worth.

Proper Fertilization Pays Off With Increased Protein

By A. L. MILES, Hamilton-Coryell SCD

No living thing can exist without water. This is equally true of both plants and animals. The rate of growth and progress depends on an adequate amount of food. When ranges are over-grazed and forage is scarce most people do not hesitate to supply supplement feed for livestock in the form of hay and protein concentrates. When it comes to supplying supplemental food for plants in the form of fertilizer many people hesitate. This is probably due to the fact it is easy to see immediate physical results when feeding livestock. Even though we can not observe plants consuming plant food, it is essential for satisfactory growth and production as feed is for livestock.

If ranges are over-grazed they will recover original productive capacity within a reasonably short period of time through proper range management, deferred grazing, reseeding, etc. Not so with cropland. Productivity goes down because plant food has been exhausted and no fertility returned to the soil. The only feasible way to regain satisfactory production is to feed the plants through an application of plant food.

The best way to determine plant food deficiencies is to have your soil tested. This can be done by taking representative soil samples and sending them to a soil testing laboratory for analysis. Texas A&M College maintains a soil testing laboratory and will test your soil samples for a nominal fee. Some fertilizer companies maintain laboratories and will test soil samples free of cost or obligation.

Mr. M. S. Brooks Jr., a district cooperator who operates his ranch near Ireland followed the above mentioned procedure and obtained outstanding results. After having his soil tested he followed the laboratory recommendations and applied 50 pounds of nitrogen and 50 pounds of phosphoric acid per acre on 25 acres of oats. He kept accurate records to find out if his efforts paid off.

His cost for land preparation, seed oats (3 bushels per acre), sowing, and fertilizer was approximately $13.50 per acre. He clipped the growth in spots and had it dehydrated and analyzed for food value. The protein content was 25.1 percent and NFE (nitrogen free extract) 42 percent dry basis. Calculated from the weights of material and percentage of protein the cost was found to be one cent per pound. This is about 15 percent of the market value of protein.

The grazing value was confirmed by the fact that Mr. Brooks ran 500 goats, 200 ewes and eight bulls on the 25 acres for six weeks prior to the first hard freeze in January. Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service working with the Hamilton-Coryell Soil Conservation District inspected the oats right after the freeze and reported there was no evidence of overgrazing. The livestock had access to dry range in good condition and alternated grazing, free choice, between the grain field and pasture. The stock remained in good condition and were not given any other feed.

Mr. Brooks states that regardless of freeze damage, the fertilization has already returned more than the cost. His original plan was and still is to graze the oats until June and not harvest any part of the crop for grain. Apparently the grain has survived the series of unprecedented freezes. With anything like favorable weather in the future, results should confirm the value of feeding plants as well as feeding animals.
