Riding Club Round-up

By MRS. BUCK SHEPHERD
We've had a lot of activity at the Riding Club Arena this past week and looks like there is more to come. Last Tuesday night Orville Ogle's horse put on a good show byucking the whole length of the arena. Incidentally, Orville wasn't on him.
Another sight to behold was little Stevan Williamson's black eye. Sure was a shiner for such a tiny cowboy.
Thursday was the last night for cutting. There will be only two nights a week for arena activities. On Tuesday there will be cutting and if there is enough time left there will be roping. Saturday night will be as it has in the past, with barrel racing, pole bending and roping. In the future starting time, both nights, will be 7:30.
Friday night was the last kid's night of the season. There were not quite as many kids there as usual due to ball games and various activities, but the ones who were there really enjoyed it.
Winners in each event are as follows: Barrel racing, 12 and under: David Gray first; Sharee Williamson, second; and Robert Gray third. Over 12 Years: Janis Shepherd first; Lee Anne Shepherd, second; Peggy Henderson, third.
Pole Bending, 12 and under: David Gray first; Sharee Williamson second; Robert Gray third. Over 12 years: Janis Shepherd first.

Gray was second. In the over 12 group, Jerry Chew took first with a score of 185. He drew a small calf but he really had to ride it and did an excellent job. Edwin Black took second with a score of 182 and Howard Strader was third with 180.
The last Kid's Night was thoroughly enjoyed by all the contestants and spectators. We'll be looking forward to kid's night next year.
The Riding Club is going to build a brick entrance to the arena, which will improve the appearance of the grounds and which we will all be very proud of. Anyone who has any excess bricks of any color and would like to donate them to the club are asked to place them by the arena gate. They will be greatly appreciated.
Thursday night, Sept. 19 will be work night at the arena. All members are urged to come and bring a paint brush, hammers, etc.
Lynn Hanshaw has been doing a fine job of announcing. His sense of humor and infectious laugh is enjoyed by all.
The club decided at its last meeting to have a member of the board of directors to keep the time for all of the events.

WASHINGTON—

As It Looks From Here

By OMAR BURLESON, M.C. 17th District, Texas

The "good old days," of which people often talk, might be remembered along with hand-chanked ice cream, vegetables fresh out of the garden, and tabernacle camp meetings.

The "good old days" also meant typhoid fever, diphtheria and outdoor plumbing.

The patron of the Democratic Party, Thomas Jefferson, expressed in the "good old days" the political philosophy of the Party thusly:

"I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt the greatest of the dangers to be feared. To preserve our independence we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. We must make our choice between economy and liberty or profusion and servitude. If we run into debts, we must be taxed in our meat and drink, in our necessities and our comfort, in our labors and amusements. If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy."

Jefferson also thought that "Government should restrain men from injuring one another, but leave them otherwise to follow their own pursuits in industry and employment — and our General Government may be reduced to a very simple organization and a very inexpensive one; a few plain duties to be performed by a few servants."

The true theory of our Constitution is surely the wisest and best, that the States are independent as to everything within themselves, and united as to everything respecting foreign nations.

"I am for preserving to the states the powers not yielded by them to the Union—I am not for transferring all the powers of the States to the General Government and all of those of that government to the executive branch. I am for a government rigorously frugal and simple—and not for the multiplication of the officers and salaries merely to make partisans, and for increasing by every device the public debt on the principle of its being a public blessing."

It is doubtful that anyone can successfully contend that change is not necessary to meet present-day conditions. It can not be ignored that our society and our economy are not enormously more complicated than was true in the old days when Thomas Jefferson spoke. On the other hand, the "means and expedients to meet man-made crises and experimentation, bring on exactly the conditions which it is then contended must be met."

No one advocates the return to the days when smallpox was feared, to coal oil and muddy roads. The status quo is not a part of progress. Two world wars and intervening economic ups and downs have required statesmanship and the exercises of visionary judgment on the part of our leaders. The strength of our system has been evidenced by meeting these circumstances.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends for the flowers, cards and each thought and prayer during our time of sorrow.

You've been planning to buy tulips this fall, don't delay longer. It will soon be too late to get them into the ground and winter freezes begin.

Flowering bulbs should be planted not later than the end of August in the north and late August in the South, say horticulturists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

If you haven't bought your bulbs yet, here are a few tips. First of all, remember that you get about what you pay for in quality. Large bulbs are generally better than small ones.

Be sure the bulbs are not diseased. Don't buy any that are discolored, or soft. Choose the specific colors you want. It's probably best to buy individually rather than in packs. Mixtures sometimes contain many of one color. Choose either domestic or imported bulbs. They are equally good for planting.

When they get long hours of sunshine and plenty of water. They prefer well-drained soil. Plant on high or sloping ground where excess water will drain away.

Here's a tip for early planting. Plant species type bulbs in a southern exposure—near a wall or wall. You'll be the first in the neighborhood with tulips next spring. For late spring planting, plant bulbs in a northern exposure late in the fall.

FAIRY

By MRS. EUNICE DANIEL

All have been enjoying the cooler temperatures for the past week. Monday and Tuesday was cloudy with occasional mist. With the approaching hurricane, Cindy on the coast it is hoped we will receive some rain.

Two bus loads of pupils and a few parents were in Fort Worth Tuesday to attend the Health Fair. They also planned to visit the zoo while there.

We were very sorry to learn of the passing of Mr. Edgar Smith of Carlton, who died in California while visiting relatives. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Carlton according to reports. Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Smith and other relatives at this time of sorrow. Rev. Cole of Arlington conducted services at the Baptist Church Sunday morning in the absence of Rev. Val Nance. Rev. Nance was here for the night service. Rev. and Mrs. Cole were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Parks.

We learn that Rev. Robert Raeburn and family have moved to Bay City where he will serve as pastor of a Baptist Church there. They have arrived in the coastal city at a bad time since the hurricane winds reached there Tuesday morning. They formerly resided at Mosheim.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Turner had the following children and families visiting with them during the weekend: Mr. and Mrs. Billy Turner, Kurtis and Rhonda, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Botkin and children,

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Turner, all of Killen, and Bernice of the home. Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Parks of Fort Worth spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Parks and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Streater.

Mrs. Selma Manning and son, Paul visited last Friday in the home of the writer and while here visited at the Fairy Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Gardner, Sandra and Randy spent the weekend in Arlington visiting in the home of their son and brother. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gardner and two children. They were met there by Miss Cleon Gardner. Saturday was Little Vickie Gardner's fourth birthday. She was honored with a birthday party in the home of her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Turner and Susan at Arlington, who had Mr. Peppermint make a visit to the home during the party. Following the party they visited Six Flags.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Arrant spent the weekend in Fort Worth visiting in the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Arrant and family. They were met there by another son, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Arrant and family of Dallas. The ladies were hosts for a birthday dinner Sunday honoring their father-in-law, whose birthday was Sept. 16. All had an enjoyable visit together.

Mrs. D. E. Allison of Stephenville and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers were shopping in Waco last Friday.

The writer attended singing Sunday afternoon at Lamkin and after singing hours visited with Mrs. Fannie Adams.

Three of our young men of last year's graduating class started school at Tarleton State College Monday. They are Jerry Richardson, Max Haile and J. T. Canada. Congratulations to them in this endeavor and our best wishes.

Miss Claudine Holley, also a graduate of Fairy High School last May, is attending TWC in Fort Worth. Our best wishes to her also.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Petty and family visited last Sunday afternoon in Morgan with his father.

We are glad to learn that Mrs. H. R. Brummett, who has been a patient at Hico Hospital the past week is now much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McAdams of Littleville were out Sunday afternoon emptying their mail box at their home here. Seems they are having trouble getting a daily paper changed to their new address on Route 3 Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy D. Blakley and two daughters of San Antonio spent the weekend with his father, J. E. Blakley.

Some 60 or more lots at the cemetery were worked last week and two perpetual care markers were placed at the J. A. Anderson and Bud Bonner lots.

Our thanks to Mrs. W. O. Lackey of Dallas for $5 received Tuesday for a year's care of their lot. She stated that her son was by the cemetery recently and had told her the cemetery looked very nice and stated that she wished she was physically able to come and visit the cemetery. We too wish she could, and thank her very much for making it possible to keep the lot under care.

Our thanks also to Wallace Pittman of Temple for $10 to be applied on an endowment for the R. K. Pittman lot, His sister, Mrs. Nadine Chambers of Lubbock recently sent in $19 to apply on the plan.

Thanks also to Mrs. O. H. Brummett for $10 which completed their plan on the J. A. Anderson lot and paid for the perpetual care marker.

If there are others who would like to start this plan we will be glad to help you by allowing you to pay it out as you can.

Weekend visitors with the O. J. Clarks were Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Clark Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Clark and children of Fort Worth.

position to federal civil rights legislation.

Connally charged that "self-seeking politicians" are out to turn the poll tax repeal campaign into "a sideshow for their own purposes." Their aim, in the Governor's view: bloc voting.

He blasted Pena as a "would-be political boss" who builds his power by erecting a wall between Mexican-Texans and Anglo-Texans using Teamster Union organizers as bricklayers.

Pena, who played a big hand in the city council election in Crystal City early this year denied he is "boss." He said the Governor's speech was a "sadistic, under-the-table, oblique way of telling the people he favored retaining the poll tax."

Connally's friends applauded his sizzling speech, one of the hottest he has ever made.

Pena's friends, including Don Yarborough of Houston who evidently will be running against Connally again this year, rushed to his defense and heaped new criticism on the Governor.

Republicans

First announced statewide candidate to emerge on the pre-1964 political scene is a Republican. He is George H. W. Bush, 39, of Houston, who seeks his party's nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Bush and other Republican hopefuls have been discussing their chances with the GOP State Executive Committee.

Present were Jack Cox of Houston and Dr. Milton V. Davis of Dallas, mentioned as Senate race starters; also Des Barry of Houston, who ran for congressman-at-large last year, and State Rep. Horace Houston of Dallas who has said he might run for Governor.

Travel Record

State Highway Engineer Dewitt C. Greer says Texans will set a new all-time record for miles traveled this year—49,500,000,000 vehicle miles, an increase of two billion miles over last year.

Half of the mileage will be logged in urban areas. In other words, seven percent of Texas highways will carry 50 percent of the traffic. Other 50 percent will be scattered over 93 percent of the road system.

A disturbing discrepancy, says Greer—"one we must certainly deal with as we plan for the fu-

Long-Awaited 'Hud' is Thurs., Friday Feature at Theatre

"Hud," playing Thursday and Friday nights, and Saturday matinee at Hico Theatre, stars Paul Newman in the title role and gives valuable insight into the people and traditions of the Southwest. In addition to being the story of Hud, a very unusual and brutal individual, it also shows rather powerfully the motivations behind the men who forged great cattle empires out of desolate prairie land.

The Southwest was settled by strong men who accepted hardship as a condition of life. Their rugged, forbidding land posed a challenge to them. They liked the feeling of space, freedom, and harmony with their land, crops, and animals. The cattlemen was, and still is, the most independent of Americans. He chafed at restrictions, laughed at hardship and built the mightiest cattle empire in the

Water Warning

Chief Engineer John Vandertulip of the Texas Water Commission warns that the five wet years since 1957, when the last drought broke, have lulled community leaders to sleep. As a consequence Texas cities and industries are in danger of running shy of water.

Vandertulip reports that existing reservoirs will not supply present cities and industries with sufficient water if another seven-year drought develops.

Short Snorts

A special election to fill vacancies in the House of Representatives created by resignations of Dallas Democratic Representatives Robert H. Hughes and Bob Johnson will be held on November 9.

Texas Municipal League President Robert Willis Jr. of Livingston called on all city officials to give "active attention" to revision of municipal revenue policies and broadening the local tax base.

Gas

Natural gas continues to be one of the major cash crops of Texas. Texas Railroad Commission reports that in June, 21,044 gas wells and 125,169 oil wells produced 573 trillion cubic feet of gas. The lions share, 406 trillion, went into transmission lines.

Of all the gas produced, 39.83 percent was exported to other states, and 20.99 percent was carried by pipelines for use in Texas.

world. He is today the only producer of a major agricultural commodity who has never asked for government help and has rejected it when offered.

Such a man is Homer Bannon, played brilliantly by Melvyn Douglas. Homer Bannon is in his 80's, failing in mind and body. In his youth he was known as Wild-Eyes Bannon, an epithet which indicates he was as lusty and virile as any cowboy. Now his greatest pleasure is riding among his cattle grazing at the great mountains and vast grazing lands of his ranch, and dreaming of the days when cattlemen were kings. He is an honest, noble man who reflects the finest traditions of the nation's cattle country.

His son, Hud, is not such a man. Hud, played with great force and virtuosity by Paul Newman, has the attitudes of a slick city dweller—not a cattleman. The heritage of the Texas Panhandle means absolutely nothing to him. He prefers a Cadillac to a horse, oil wells to cattle, and women to everything else. Laws mean nothing to Hud—all he is concerned with is his own self-gratification. Remorse, love, and respect are alien emotions to Hud; he believes that the world owes him something and he means to get what is due him.

In "Hud" the conflict between the proud old cattleman and his rebellious son gives an indication of what is really taking place in the cattle country today. It shows how civilization has made sons in men totally different from their fathers. The old virtues and old traditions mean nothing to this young breed who have been incultured with the attitudes of a consumption-oriented society. These men don't want to herd cattle under a hot summer sky—they want cars, girls, flashy clothes and the other accoutrements of culture. For better or worse, it appears that men like Homer Bannon are rapidly becoming extinct in the cattle country.

The picture was filmed in Claude, Texas, and has the young population of that city as its cast.
