CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank all my loved ones, neighbors and friends for the many, many beautiful cards, flowers, gifts and visits while I was in the hospital and since I came home. I do wish I could write each one a thank you note but since I cannot please consider this a personal thank you. Most of all I thank you for the many prayers offered for my recovery. For I know that "prayer changes things." I pray God's richest blessings upon each of you and yours. Sincerely, 48-ltp. Mrs. Quince Fouts.

Tornado Season Prompts Pointers From Safety Dept.

Tornadoes can occur any place in the United States at any time of the year. However, they occur more frequently in Texas from March through September.

The U.S. Weather Bureau, State Defense and Disaster Relief and the Texas Department of Public Safety have prepared a list of rules to follow in case of a tornado disaster. To know these rules may mean the difference between life and death.

The Weather Bureau issues forecasts when conditions over a general area are such that a tornado can develop in some parts of the area. These forecasts are usually issued several hours in advance.

Purpose of such forecasts is to alert community network observers, police, safety officials, and others to watch the sky if conditions become threatening. Immediate local warnings can then be issued and safety precautions taken if a tornado is sighted.

Tornado forecast is issued for a relatively large area in which weather conditions will be favorable for one or more tornadoes to develop.

Tornado alert occurs when one or more weather stations locate an area of turbulence or cloud formation which indicate the probability of a tornado.

Radar Echo is the term used to describe a suspicious formation appearing on the weather radar scope that is not identifiable as a tornado.

Tornado warnings are announcements that a tornado has been sighted and reported. Warnings tell where and when the tornado has been reported and list the names of communities toward which the tornado is moving.

These warnings cover a short period of time, usually less than an hour, and are for the purpose of advising persons in the path of the storm to take immediate safety precautions.

1. The safest place to be during a tornado is in a cave or a storm cellar. When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave, or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. Any of these should be kept fit for use, meaning free from water, gas or debris and preferably equipped with pick and shovel.

2. If you are in an open country move at right angles to the tornado's path. Remember that tornadoes move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour as a general rule. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine to avoid injury from objects being hurled through the air.

3. If you are in a city or town, seek inside shelter, preferably along the inside walls on the lower floors of a steel reinforced building. Stay away from windows.

If you are at home in a frame-type house, the southwest corner of the lowest floor—preferably a basement—offers greater safety. People living in brick or stone houses should find other shelter, such as a storm cellar or the southwest basement corner of a frame house. If time permits before a storm strikes, turn off the gas and electricity. Windows and doors on the north and east sides of the house may be opened to help reduce damage to buildings from outdoor pressure differences.

4. If you are in a school and the building is of reinforced steel structure, stay inside, keep the children away from windows, and remain near inside walls on a lower floor when possible. Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums under all circumstances. In any rural schools that do not have reinforced construction, children should seek shelter in a ravine or a ditch when storm cellars are not available and a tornado has been reported or seen.

5. Above all, keep calm. Persons have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, the chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are slight. As a rule, tornadoes cover such a small area that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should be familiar with the safety precautions however, in case a tornado does approach.

6. Keep tuned to our radio station for the latest information when tornado warnings have been issued. Do not call the weather bureau, except to report a tornado, as your request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports, or to relay messages to radio stations for broadcast to thousands in the critical area.

ACCORDING TO SCS WRITER—

Americans Living 'High on The Hog' at Small Cost

By A. I. MILES

American farmers, food processors, transporters, and merchandisers are providing an abundance of food, for less of the consumer's take home pay than at any time in history. Americans take for granted the bountiful supply of all kinds of food available, in season and out. While American consumers enjoy this position, a vast majority of the world's population exists on the bare necessities of life.

There is a reason for this plentiful supply of food. The credit goes first to the farmers and ranchers who produce all the food we eat. Credit should also be given the processors, transporters, and marketing people who so efficiently handle foods from producer to consumer. The high degree of efficiency of all these working together account for the comparatively low cost of food on the table ready to eat.

In 1947 the consumer's food cost was 27 percent of his spendable income. In 1963 the cost of food had gone down to 19 percent of spendable income. Food costs more now, but on a comparative basis income has gone up much more than the cost of food. By comparison, consumers in most European countries spend 30 to 40 percent of their spendable income on food.

In the United Kingdom it is 30 percent, in France 31 percent, Austria 36 percent, Ireland 40 percent, Countries spending over 40 percent include Italy 45 percent, Greece 46 percent, and Yugoslavia 47 percent. It is estimated Russian consumers spend more than 50 percent of their wages for food. This is not a true figure because the state provides some services consumers in other countries have to pay for.

It is interesting to know who shares in the food dollar we spend and just what each share is. A basket of groceries that cost $10 in 1947 was up to $11.83 in 1963. The farmers' share of the $10 basket was $5.13 in 1947. The farmers' share of the $11.83 basket in 1963 had gone down to $4.33. The cost to the consumer was up to 18 percent while the amount the farmer received was down 16 percent. In 1947 the farmers' share of the food dollar was a little more than 51 percent. His share of the food dollar had gone down to 46 percent in 1963. The difference went for processing, transportation and marketing.

A woman shopping for food does not want anything she has to peel, shuck, scrape, grind, chop, or wash through three waters. She wants wholly prepared or semi-prepared foods. This runs up the cost, but the farmer gets no part of it. It goes to the processor.

Too frequently we see in newspapers and magazines disparaging remarks about the taxpayer's role of farm programs. It is often implied that this is the reason for the high food costs. An analysis of the facts and figures show that if all the costs of the Department of Agriculture were charged to the cost of food the American consumer would be spending only 10 percent of his take home pay for groceries. This would still be substantially less of his take home pay than food is costing any other people in the world. Actually Americans are living "high on the hog" at a relatively low cost.

JUMPIN' JUNIORS
Everyone enjoyed the recent holiday while the teachers went to a meeting.
Kay Jackson, Mary Ann McClure and Margo Wolfe had a wonderful time in Dallas over the weekend. Kay seemed to have shopped all over Dallas before finding what she wanted.
Sharon Howard married? No, that's only in the one act play.
Dorothy Gray seems to do a good job of making a certain senior boy mad, or is it jealousy? Everyone is wondering if Alan Solsbery will come to the next hootenanny since the singer is supposed to be back. Look at it this way Alan—most boys do not get songs dedicated to them.
Scott Patterson is very good at asking questions and catching people off guard.
No news from the married woman this week. I think she's trying to keep her mouth shut.
Speaking of marriage, Carol Cronk will become a bride in May. Good luck to you.
Charles Erick had a slight accident last weekend in Hamilton. Did you say you were chasing a cute blond?
Linda Jaggars, where were you the other night when a certain car passed you going to Hico?
Elizabeth Bruner seems to have a very difficult problem, and she can't seem to find anyone to help her.
Who would you say is the happiest couple in the junior class? Why, Sandena Shipman and Larry Hicks. Oops, small error there.
James Randals has become an Irishman and has a temper to match.
You've heard that when spring comes that a boy's heart turns toward love. Well, we sure do wish that would happen because it's nearly time for the athletic and junior-senior banquets.

SEVENTH GRADE
The seventh grade play was a great success even though a few of the members were rather scared.
Louise Fall is stuck because she doesn't know whether to go with him or not.
Now Mike Davis has a secret weapon. Broken arms sometimes come in handy.
Wouldn't be surprised if Jim Wolfe's ducktail started swimming in all that oil he uses.
Mr. Bonner is afraid to come in the seventh grade room for fear of being drowned in blue ink.
K.G. finally got her call from the wild. She's been kissing the phone ever since.
Wonder where the strange noises in the seventh grade are coming from. Don't you Brad?
Can't believe James Goadin is still alive. Just the other night he was a ghost.
Jacky Shipman is having more fun than ever, since he moved to the back of the room.
Better quit flirting with M.S. Judy Paddock or she'll get mad.
Robbie Robison can't wait until Mike Sutton's next party. She hopes he invites John to come.

SENIORS
Another award goes to a senior. Frank Phillips seems to enjoy the drags as sport and profit.
Renee, we've told you about talking about people. Do you know that shy boy on a Wednesday night has never responded to your comments.
Joni, what's this we hear about the show Saturday night? A little bird behind you keeps telling secrets.
It's Ringo Starr II. With the Beatle wig and the drums, Mike F. might become a famous overnight celebrity.
Butch K., you'd better start coming to play practice a little earlier. After all you never can tell about how your best friend will act toward your girl friend.
Jerry, how goes your bowling score? There seems to be a girl who might like to take lessons sometime.
It seems the lunch line is quite an amusing situation. Morris S. seems to always be right close to a real cute sophomore girl. Wonder what's going on?
Joy, Ronnie doesn't seem to appreciate your serenading, does he? Why not try your songs on somebody else?
Butch Harbin's witty cliches are appropriate sometimes. Bookkeeping class just wouldn't be the same without those sayings.
Hey Eilene, does the 5-minutes

SOPHOMORE SCHEMES
The sophomore class is certainly glad to have Pat Bruner back in school.
Several weekends ago an old classmate returned home for a visit. She promised to write all her old girlfriends but the only letters coming from Lubbock are addressed to Lynn Malone.
WANTED: A bicycle built for seven, namely Dianne Jaggars, Claudia Hafer, Lynn Redden, Linda Duncan, Glenda Ogle, Lee Shepherd and Frances Lepard. Also it must include a first aid kit for accidents. With seven girls on one bicycle a couple of spills is unavoidable.
Could it be that our own Beatle has found the friendship of a Roach?
Lynn Redden is pullin' taffy again, but this time it's Iredell yellow.
Frances Lepard, is there a reason behind Mr. B's new name for you? Explain it to us, Cheetah.
It's still a little early for spring fever and day dreams, but that doesn't keep Leslie Royal from dreaming about Jeannie.
Dwain Fall, why should you care if Lee Shepherd has her geometry? Private joke eh?
A few song dedications for this week are:
Glenda Ogle, She's Got You;
Dwain Fall, I'm Just a Worried Guy;
Linda Duncan, Let's Go Steady Again—except at parties;
Dianne Jaggars, I'll Make You Mine;
Lynn Redden, Glad All Over;
Claudia Hafer, Sweeter Than You;
Edmund Horton, A Boy Without a Girl;
Donna Morgan, Sealed With a Kiss;
Lynn Malone, Hey, Mr. Postman;
Verna Busby, Do You Want to Know a Secret;
Leslie Royal, I'm Sorry;
Judy Jameson, My Heart Belongs to Only You;
Lee Shepherd, 'Till There Was You.

EIGHTH GRADE
Who was it that was calling and making mysterious sounds Thursday night? It just couldn't have been any of the eighth graders!
Cherry Ramage's house certainly was busy Sunday afternoon. You'd better watch it, because you will make one of them mad.
Paula Lane, how on earth did you get so scratched up? It could be blamed on your cat, but you don't have a cat.
Wayne Ross reports that he didn't do nothing, just sat around and didn't do nothing. Boy, you sure can't tell you've had English.

Dennis Solsbery, did we see you at the show Saturday night with an Iredell girl?
Scott Patterson offering Dorothy Gray some ice after his calf, Katy Sue, had licked the ice.
Kay Jackson, Mary Ann McClure and Margo Wolfe driving toward Dallas.
Sharon Howard laughing at stupid jokes and writing letters.
Charles Erick slowing down to catch his breath.
Cheryl Bailey riding bicycles.
Dorothy Gray walking the streets.
Ronnie Partain just being himself.
Mrs. Brummett trying to get the junior class to do something.
Connie Bulloch taking test.
James Crews thinking about Houston.
Mike Gravitt thinking about Kay.
James Johnson thinking about girls in general.
Scott Patterson getting rich from junior money.
Leona Hanshaw trying not to say anything that would get into the paper.
Elizabeth Bruner solving her problem.
Sandena and Larry thinking about each other. (Isn't love grand?)

before Texas History class serve as a very good study time? It might be easier to just forget about it.
Spring is busting out all over. You can tell it's here because everybody is energetic. The plays are in full swing. Julia got her hair cut so short it is just too short. You can tell that it's getting warmer because the grass is green, the birds are singing, and several girls are thinking about wedding bells. Pat, Bonnie, and who else?

Signs of tent caterpillars appear for the first time early this week. These can be very damaging to the liveoaks that are such a natural asset to our county's landscape. Let's not let them get the upper hand and spray our trees to control these leaf eating pests. According to the County Agent now would be the best time to spray them. See his article to find out what to use, how much, etc.
We had a nice workshop on small appliances last Tuesday. Isabel Herndon, Home Economist for Community Public Service, pointed out the versatility of several small electrical appliances. The popularity of small appliances for cooking at the table or keeping food warm on the buffet continues to grow. Warming trays, oven-broilers, party-size coffee makers—all are styled to be seen in public. New for the buffet is a cold server. Non-electric, it has cold cells—cans of frozen liquid—which snap beneath the stainless steel serving surface to keep foods chilled.
Have you ever thought about the points to consider when selecting your small cooking equipment? Should you choose glass, cast iron, enamels, pyroceram, aluminum or stainless steel? Each has good features. Some, however, have advantages over the others and are well worth looking into. A lot is being said about Duranel, a trademark of the Aluminum Co. of America. Duranel is a stainless steel clad aluminum. Because aluminum heats and cooks so evenly, it goes on the outside—bottom and sides—of a pan. Stainless steel's ease of care makes it the logical inside choice. The stainless aluminum combination contributes a lot to cooking, and reduces mightily the problem of pan care. If you're in the market for a utensil or two, Duranel's dual advantages are well worth looking into. They would make a lovely wedding gift.

Are you getting the most out of your financial resources? Almost every family does some type of financial planning. Sometimes the planning is simple indeed. It goes like this: "If we ever get this car paid off, I'd sure like to get a new vacuum cleaner."
Many families find themselves constantly running short of money although they think they're earning enough to provide a good living. They decide they would like to do a better job of planning, and they intend to start—next week, next month, next year. Why are they stalling? Because they're frightened by terms like "Budgeting" and "keeping books." Because they think that planning means putting themselves into a financial strait jacket.
Getting the most out of your financial resources does call for some planning, some discipline, some looking ahead. But it doesn't have to be a gigantic undertaking with stacks of forms to be filled out. The more complicated your method of handling your money, the more likely you are to chuck the whole business.

A NEWSPAPER WAS A RARITY IN MANY AMERICAN COMMUNITIES!

Then—a newspaper was a thing to be marveled at—for memories of the Press' fight for freedom were fresh in mind. Although newspapers are common in our country today, their existence should not be taken for granted. It is a wonderful fact that almost all of our modern communities have their own hometown newspapers, freely edited by members of their own communities—spreading the news, stimulating the business of the community, and keeping their readers informed of important events elsewhere. It is well to keep in mind that a free press and a free people are an unbeatable team.

FAIRY

By MRS. EUNICE DANIEL

We have had some real cool nights recently with 24 to 28 degrees. We hope the low temperature won't kill the fruit crop. Since it was on light nights, it is hoped it didn't.

We received one and seven-tenths inches of rain again last week which has set back farming operations. Some corn was planted before the last rain however.

The Hollingsworth family has purchased the place known as the Joe Rodgers place from Joe Harris. The Hollingsworths have six children, two of which are attending Fairy school. We welcome them to the community.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover received a telephone call late Monday from their sister-in-law, Mrs. last Sunday in Killeen visiting in them that her husband was in Baylor Hospital due to a severe heart attack suffered at his home. Clyde has been ill for several years due to a heart ailment and this is his third bad attack. The Hoovers expected to go to Dallas Tuesday, but didn't know whether they would be able to see him since his wife is only allowed to visit him five minutes at a time. We hope he will soon be better and able to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Turner and Bernice and Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Gardner, Randy and Sandra spent last Sunday in Killeen visiting in the home of the Turner's children. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Turner, Kurtis and Rhonda and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Botkin, Tammy and Patsy.

Mrs. Euphie Anderson and granddaughter, Margaret Ann Taylor and Mrs. Nora Wallace, all of Grand Prairie and Mrs. Katie Tumlin of Morgan visited Sunday afternoon in the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ovie Brummett, Nancy and Grant. Mrs. Anderson had drove by Morgan for Mrs. Tumlin and all had attended services at the Church of Christ in Cranfills Gap Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanes were in Gatesville Saturday night to attend the wedding of Jerry Chambers of Gatesville and Miss Sandra Miles of Levita. The ceremony was performed at the Baptist Church.

Rev. Ware of Fort Worth filled the vacancy of Rev. Val Nance Sunday night at the Baptist Church. Rev. Nance delivered the morning sermon but had to return home afterwards.

Mike Hanes spent Saturday night with his grandmother, Mrs. Pedro Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Arrant visited Sunday in Stephenville in the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Moore. Mr. Moore is very poorly being up only long enough to go to the table for his meals. He was to report to Parkland Hospital in Dallas Tuesday morning for treatment and observation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover were in Fort Worth Monday. While there Mr. Hoover visited at All-Saints Hospital with his cousin and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Finkin, who are both patients there. Mrs. Finkin had surgery some months back and Mr. Finkin suffered a stroke. Glad to report both able to be up and walk to each other's room, two doors apart for visits. Mrs. Finkin has had no food in some time, surviving on glucose alone.

Mike Hanes was a luncheon guest of James Gleason Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cunningham spent the weekend at Venus visiting in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Frederick. Another daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Arrant and children of Fort Worth also visited in the Frederick home.

Our sincere thanks for a very lovely Easter card from Mr. and Mrs. Dellis Seago of Waco. The message it bore was appreciated very much.

We have been unable to contact by phone several who usually have news items.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Parks had relatives visiting them during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Porterfield and Billy were in Hamilton Sunday for a visit with his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Willeford visited in Waco Sunday and Delia returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Davis and daughter, Mrs. James Stringer and three children of Killeen and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Davis of Iredell visited Sunday in the home of their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Parks were in Gatesville Sunday to attend funeral services for her cousin, John T. Garren, 58. Burial was in Turnersville Cemetery. Mr. Garren was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Garren who resided at Fairy for a time and operated a store here. Mr. Garren, who was buried on his 58th birthday, was thought dead in his pickup and was thought he suffered a stroke. He had been in ill health. Our sympathy to those bereaved in his passing.

Birthdates for April which we have are Mrs. Lloyd Bolstad, April 1; this scribe and our so-called twin, Mrs. Jessie Connally, April 12; Mrs. Ernest Brummett of Alhambra, Calif. April 13; Cliff Tinkle, April 19; and Mrs. Wayne Pittman, Dublin, April 28.

While wrecking the residence on our lot at Fairy last week we found a Christmas card behind a baseboard addressed to the H. C. Becks dated Dec. 1946. It was signed Oleta Peavine and Dennis. We also found an electric card stub for October 1950 of the late Mrs. Emma Lackey. These parties had resided at the place at that time. If the Becks are still taking the Hico paper may we say hello. We have lost track of them the past several years. Our last account of them was when they were on a ranch at Henrietta.

While here Sunday, Mrs. Euphie Anderson left $5 for the cemetery fund. May we say thanks so much.

Mrs. Massingill of Turnersville attended services at the Church of Christ Sunday, while here to visit her brothers, the Kay brothers.

Martin Schrank and several of the FFA boys, and Carl Ray Sellers were in Abilene Monday where they attended a stock judging contest.

Mrs. D. E. Allison of Stephenville was a visitor here Saturday in the home of the writer and her sister and family. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers. She report-

IT'S THE LAW—

Importance of Making Will Discussed By Bar Assn.

What will happen if you should die without executing a legal and proper will? Who will inherit our property? Your husband, wife, mother, father, children, your wife's relatives? The best way you can say who will have it is to provide a will which will protect your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your property in accordance with your wishes.

When a deceased has no will, or dies "intestate" as the law calls it, the property of that person is distributed according to a detailed formula fixed by law. In some cases this may be the way you would divide it—but in many cases it is not.

The provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the property of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated, and all of the possibilities cannot be covered by a general statement.

There are different rules for real estate and for personal property, for community property and for separate property, for homestead property, and for all of the many possible combinations of surviving relatives. Each situation must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

For example, here is a general idea of how the community property which you and your spouse have accumulated will be divided if you do not make a will prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all of the property.

If, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property while the surviving spouse would receive the other one-half.

Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parent who would inherit is deceased. And when descendants of previously deceased children do inherit, they receive only the portion that the child would have received, regardless of the number of such descendants.

An odd note, perhaps, is that the surviving spouse already owns one-half of the community estate prior to your death, and the law adds nothing to his share where there are children surviving.

When there are only children and their descendants surviving, they divide the entire community estate between them.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law).

THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN— Highlights and Sidelights

By VERN SANFORD
 Texas Press Association

U. S. Supreme Court says the present line-up of congressional districts is unconstitutional. But the day for redistricting still is far away, according to Gov. John Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

Texas' 22 Congressional districts have the greatest variance in size of any state, ranging from 214,000 to 980,000 population. This, the high court said, is not fair and it must be corrected.

Because the 1964 elections already are under way the supreme court allowed Texas 30 days in which to ask a three-judge Federal court in Houston to delay the effectiveness of the order.

Governor Connally is sure the court will recognize the fact that absentee voting will begin April 12 and that filing deadlines already have passed.

He insists that the major legislative surgery required cannot be done in a 30-day special session of the Legislature and should be left to the regular 140-day session which starts January 12. He felt the Court would agree that it now is too late to redistrict for 1964 elections.

Trains Going

Passenger trains continue to disappear from the Texas scene. Latest moves are by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Co. and the Fort Worth & Denver Railway. They want to do away with the Fort Worth to Houston run of the Twin Star Rocket. Texas Railroad Commission will hear this proposal on May 12 in the Dallas City Hall.

Court Speaks

Texas Supreme Court, in a decision with far-reaching consequence has ruled that holders of paid political office are ineligible to run for the Legislature during their present terms.

Specifically, the Court order the Taylor County Democratic Committee to remove the name of 104th Dist. Atty. Tom Todd from the ballot as a legislative candidate.

State Democratic Committee Secretary Frank Edwin Jr. said copies of the opinion will be sent to all county chairmen for their guidance. Edwin earlier had advised of the ineligibility of paid officials to run for the Legislature.

Super-Agency Backed

Governor Connally's Committee on Education Beyond the High School will recommend that the Legislature set up an 18-member state coordinating agency with jurisdiction over both junior and senior colleges and universities, says Chairman H. B. Zachry.

Committee has been under fire from state capitol newsmen for holding closed-door sessions. Zachry defended the policy but hinted that reporters will be allowed in on at least part of future meetings.
