GERMANS DEPEND UPON DIPLOMACY FOR ENDING WAR

ASSOCIATED PRESS MAN LEARNS GERMAN'S VIEW BY VISIT TO PRISON CAMP IN ENGLAND

PREPARED TO HOLD OUT

Germany Having Endured War This Far Can Now Go to the End Prisoners Believe

London, July 26 (By Mail)—Germany's dream of world conquest has been shattered and the belief among all classes there now is that the war must end through diplomacy rather than by a brilliant victory, according to the German prisoners in England. A representative of the Associated Press who has just returned here after a visit to the large internment camp at Rochester where approximately 1500 German prisoners are quartered is able to present many interesting sidelights on the German viewpoints as represented by men of all types who have fought with the German forces on land and sea and in the air. These may be summarized as follows: Germany having held out this far is prepared to hold out to the end. The economic situation in Germany is not as bad as it has been represented in the belligerent or neutral press. Contrary to reports there is no visible shortage of materials actually needed for the prosecution of the war. America's entry into the war will prolong rather than shorten it. The United States being essentially a peaceful nation, she can not make her great man power felt soon enough to change the course of events. The submarines are doing all that was expected of them. There is a surprising lack of concern manifested by prisoners because of the United States being arrayed against their country. The correspondent was allowed to mingle freely with them. A young German airman who was brought to the camp recently and who exhibited the iron cross which he said he won for many daring feats over the French line, seemed to express the view of the more intelligent prisoners when he said, "There had been so many declarations of war against Germany when the United States came in that any more did not matter." Asked whether it would surprise the German people if the United States would actually place 1,000,000 men in France within a year, the airman smiled and replied: "I would like to see them there first."

SCENE AT THE GREAT ARMY DRAFT DRAWING WHEN MR. BAKER DREW THE FIRST CAPSULE

SECRETARY BAKER DRAWING FIRST NUMBER FOR THE DRAFT

During the earlier moments of the great draft lottery in Washington the clerks recorded from seven to eight minutes a capsule. As the drawing progressed their speed ranged from 10 to 15 a minute. Occasionally a number was misread, but the triple check system detected all errors. John J. Phillips, a student of Princeton university, was the first regular "teller" who took his place at the glass jar and began to draw out the capsules—black looking affairs, because the paper upon which the numbers were written was coated with black on the upper surface. It was impossible for any one to examine the exterior of a capsule and ascertain the number within. The drawing continued until the capsules were exhausted. The drawing was a scene of bustling activity. Copassaki Fought U-Boat and Yielded Only to Blaze

Commended by Germans

ANDREW COPASSAKI, Chief Boatman of the Mabe

A detailed and graphic account of the fight put up by the armed guard on the American tank steamer Mabe on June 12, which was so gallant that it won the praise of a German submarine commander, was received by the navy department and was made public by Secretary Daniels. The tanker had a two hour running fight with the submarine and was abandoned after the shell fire from the submarine had set her ablaze from stem to stern and the last gun was out of commission. The report, which went to Admiral W. S. Benson, chief of naval operations, was made by Andrew Copassaki, chief boatman's mate, who was in charge of the naval armed guard on the Mabe. His picture is reproduced herewith.

BUSY SCENES AT AMERICAN CAMP NOW PRESENTED

With the American Forces in France, Wednesday, July 26. The first field casualty among the American forces occurred today. A soldier became ill, and a French bomb exploded, the supplies brought to camp. He extracted the safety pin in some manner and very soon thereafter a loud explosion occurred. Fortunately for the soldier the bomb did not contain a charge of full battle strength or he would have been blown to pieces. As it was he escaped with the loss of one hand. At every vantage point of the camp men in khaki and men in blue could be seen drilling, digging and marching side by side. Field maneuvers were in progress at several places, while from a charge of full battle strength the rattle of machine guns, musketry practice was being held and on every hand was activity which was most impressive. The French and American soldiers seem to enjoy their association thoroughly. The French frankly admire the attitude of their enthusiastic pupils. Visits to the French front will undoubtedly be quite frequent in the future in order that American officers may acquaint themselves with conditions of life on the front line in various phases including routine as well as the actual working out of offensive and defensive plans.

DOUBT AS TO ABILITY OF INFANTRY TO MAKE GOOD ITS RETREAT

TWO OKLAHOMANS HELD TO FEDERAL GRAND JURY HERE

A. N. BONE AND BROAD SNOODGRASS CHARGED WITH VIOLATION OF MANN ACT

A. N. Bone and Broad Snodgrass of near Olustee, Oklahoma, were brought over to the federal grand jury by U. S. Commissioner Laantz here this morning on complaints charging violation of the Mann act.

They are charged with having transported Nola Allen, the daughter of a farmer living near Olustee to Burkburnett, Texas, for alleged immoral purposes.

The two men with the girl were brought here this morning by Deputy U. S. Marshal Goodfellow and Constable Cass J. Jarrell of Quanah.

Nola Allen, the girl in the case, testified in effect as follows: That she is 17 years of age. That she lives with her parents on their farm near Olustee. John Craft has been keeping company with her something more than a year. Sunday night she accompanied him, in his buggy, to church about six miles away from her father's house. On the return Craft offered her a drink of whiskey. She did not want to take it, but he insisted and forced her to take some. They drove on in the direction of her father's house, and he made improper advances to her which she resisted.

When about two miles from home Bone appeared in the road, and Craft stopped the horse and he and Bone talked. She stated that Craft asked Bone, "are you ready to do as you agreed to do?" and that Bone answered "yes". After talking a while Craft got down from the buggy and Bone climbed in. She did not know how late it was, and was by now feeling very dazed. Bone drove in another direction to a house where Broad Snodgrass lived. Bone went to the house and called Snodgrass out and told him that he wanted to make a drive to Wichita Falls. After some talk Snodgrass got his car ready and they got in. Waited a while for Craft who had said that he would go along, but he did not come. The car then drove to Olustee, through that town by back streets, and in the direction of Elmer. On the way to Elmer Bone and Snodgrass stopped the car, took her out and forced her to yield to their assaults. They then drove on through Tipton, to Frederick where they got something to eat. They then drove to Burkburnett where they were arrested.

Cross-examination by defendant's lawyer, she said that she had taken whiskey at home on several occasions, more than she drank when Craft pressed the bottle to her lips, and it never affected her. She had seen Bone and Snodgrass told her, she said, that they were taking her to Wichita Falls, and were then going back and quiet the people in their community so nothing would be done, and would then come and get her and take her back.

J. T. Allen, father of the girl said that his daughter had gone to church Sunday night with John Craft who had been going with her about a year. Late that night Craft came to his house and awakened him, stating that two men had held up his team and forced him to get out, took Nola and said they were going to Lawton or Oklahoma City. They had an auto. He never knew Craft to drink, and did not think that he had been drinking. Said Bone was a drinking man, but not know Snodgrass. When Craft told him that his daughter had been taken from him, Craft started off, but he, Allen, made him stop. They then went to the nearest telephone and called up everyone who had phones and told them what had happened and to be on the watch for them, and he and the country and started the people searching.

Snodgrass testified that he never had seen the girl until Sunday night. That she said she wanted to make a drive to Wichita Falls and would give him $5 to take her in his auto. Never asked her if she had the money, as most people paid him when the money was done. He asked Bone to go along and Bone agreed to go and pay half the cost of the gasoline. The girl did not appear to be under the influence of liquor. Denied that he had been intimate with the girl on the trip. Bone's service car at times, and had intended to go to Burkburnett or Elmer Monday or Tuesday to see if he could get such work.

On cross-examination he said that Bone had asked him to make the drive and said he would pay one-half the gasoline bill to go along. Was arrested in Burkburnett. Did not know the Allen girl by sight. Bone did not testify.

Commissioner Laantz held Bone in $1500, and Snodgrass in $1000 bail. Another arrest is expected in the case, and the hearing then will be resumed. Defendants meanwhile will remain in jail, as their attorney says neither can make bail at the figures set.

LIKE CLOCKWORK AT AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP

A Port of France—Everything here is going like clockwork. Since the first transport landed its bronzed, virile, splendidly optimistic bunches of the flower of America's manhood there has not been a hitch. The appearance of the port and the quietness of the town has been completely transformed and this prosperous but humdrum corner of France now seethes with life and action.

The camp is now well established. Large brown canvas tents, each commodating from eight to ten men, have been pitched in row after row of lines. Most of the vessels are anchored in the harbor, and the French for winter quarters, are now occupied by American officers.

The work of unloading the transports, which are still arriving, continues day and night without cessation and life here is one long hustle. Most of the vessels are anchored in the canal, which provides an entrance to the harbor. Armed "pollux" guard all the approaches a block away from the transports, and others are posted in front of the warehouses alongside the place of anchorage. On the canal banks American regulars pace up and down throughout the night, keeping a close guard.

Every hotel in the place is packed. There are only about a score of acres in the town, and they are kept in constant use by the troops, bent on sightseeing, many of the men are hiring bicycles with which to explore the surrounding country. Speed dominates everything. The curbside of lorries and the "honk, honk" of automobiles rushing from the ships to camp are heard all the time. Like lunasites alternate with Ford runabouts and motorcycles, and the never ending stream of vehicles has churned into seas of dust of the roads. Many of the supply convoys have been loaned by the French government. They are driven by American chauffeurs and are piled high with lumber, carttrucks, boxes, equipment and food stores.

COATES FURNISHES MORE EVIDENCE AGAINST HIMSELF

TWO PERSONS HELD IN JAIL HERE WERE TAKEN TO FORT WORTH TUESDAY

Fort Worth, July 26.—Rufus Coates, confessed slayer of Zella Faulk, forged another and an important link in the chain of evidence against him Wednesday morning when he produced a bloody handkerchief, with which Clyde Tucker had washed the face of the girl victim, from under a rug at the home of Mrs. J. H. Haney, 1213 Lee avenue, where Tucker lived.

Coates had gone with Assistant County Attorney Parker, Detective Chief Connelley and Detectives Snow and James to revisit the scene of the crime. He led the officers over a devious route to a point fully half a mile from the road. He there pointed out the spot where the girl was sitting when he struck her with a club and crushed her skull. He then detailed every step of the crime.

When Parker demanded of him where he had placed the handkerchiefs with which Tucker had washed the girl's face before deciding that she was hopelessly injured and advising Coates to finish the job, Coates responded by saying that he had hidden one of them under a rug at Mrs. Haney's home where Tucker was stopping.

The car in which the officers and their prisoners were riding was driven to the Haney home. Coates explained to Mrs. Haney that he wanted to get something he had left and led them into Tucker's bed room. Lifting up a corner of the rug, he brought forth the blood stained handkerchief, which the officers immediately seized.

Coates had rehearsed in detail every move in the tragedy. He maintained his nonchalant attitude throughout the ordeal, apparently not realizing that in producing the handkerchief he was adding strong corroboration to the evidence which Tucker seems to brood over the charges which face him.

Coates and Tucker were returned from Wichita Falls late Tuesday by Deputy Sheriffs Barney Fitch and Carl Smith. When they were placed on the train they were taken to the front end of the train, the first car in the train, and given seats there. It was but a short time before some one discovered their identity and a few minutes later the word had been spread through the train. Within a few minutes the coach was crowded with women who were photographed and their Bertillon measurements taken. When the ordeal was over, Coates telephoned to the home of a woman who lives near his family and after learning that his mother was sick, asked to talk to his sister. His family had not been apprised of his coming to Fort Worth before the telephone call. He spoke briefly to his sister.

OIL FIELD NEWS

Developers No. 2 in Archer county, got the sand at 1635 feet. This well is on the same tract as Developer No. 1, is 1-4 mile east of same, and is shut down on account of lack of water.

It is reported from Electra that the Producers have a well on the McBurney tract. The sand was struck at 1980 feet, the drill went into it two feet, and the well made one flow.

In Other Districts.

Concerning other operations in this territory the Oil and Gas Journal says: South of Graham, in Young county, C. F. Colcord's Stuart No. 1 has had casing trouble at about 850 feet, but drilling has now been resumed. S. H. Field & Beckworth's Borson No. 1 is shut down waiting for casing at 850 feet. The Producers Oil Co. has spudded up on its Graham No. 1, west of Graham, and is now drilling, and the rig has been built for Arnold No. 2 Southeast of Graham, DeFries et al., California papers, have turned over 2,100 acres to the Empire Gas & Fuel Co. for the drilling of a well and a location has been made about six or seven miles east of the Colcord tract on the W. R. Oxford lease, Abstract No. 216, in the center of the tract.

Stephens County.

Some time ago the spoon test of the Texas & Pacific Coal Co. near Crystal Falls, in Stephens County, was reported as abandoned at 3,450 feet. Then it was stated that it had been decided to put in a rotary rig and drill to 5,000 feet, but it was learned that it has been definitely determined to abandon the hole as dry. Near Cad do, the T. & P. Coal Co.'s Hughes No. 1 is drilling at 1,310 feet. Winston No. 1 at 214 feet and Lee No. 1 is being spudded up. Barron No. 1 is a rig. Near Wayland, Lauderdale No. 1 is shut down at 1,350 feet, waiting for fishing tools, and near Gunsight, Beecher No. 1 is drilling at 1,285 feet and Maxwell No. 1 is shut down at 600 feet waiting for a pump. Southeast of Brookridge, Rinney No. 2 is fishing at 600 feet and No. 3 is drilling at 700 feet. The Producers Oil Co.'s Smith No. 1 is drilling at 2,200 feet, having passed the depth at 1800 feet was expected. Keithley No. 1 is drilling at 1785 feet, and the material is being hauled on the ground for Lauderdale No. 1. The Gulf Production Co.'s Chicher No. 1 is under casing at 1950 feet. At 1875 feet gas sand was drilled into, with a volume of about 1,000,000 feet of gas. Drilling deeper, another sand was found at 1900 feet, said to produce about 7,000,000 cubic feet, but some salt water accompanied the flow, so the drill was sent deeper and a casing seat is being run in order to shut off the gas and water. In McCaskey No. 1 a gas sand was found at 1795 feet and the well is shut down at 1800 feet, while the hole is being moved. There is half a million feet of gas showing, with the sand barely scratched. Other tests are the same as last week.

The Empire Gas & Fuel Co. appears to be having lots of trouble with its test on the Reynolds ranch, north of Abilene, in Shackelford county, as it is the only prospect 30 feet in the last week and 80 feet in over a month. The present depth being 1590 feet. Reports from Eastland county show that the T. & P. Coal Co.'s Walker No. 1 is setting 5-inch casing at 2590 feet. McCloskey No. 1 is drilling, but depth not reported, while other tests are shut down. Northeast of Jacksonville, in Jackson county, M. A. Low & Son's Hamilton No. 1 has been shut-down temporarily on account of casing trouble. A steel nipple has been sent for. The present depth is 3,050 feet and the well will be drilled to at least 3,500 feet, unless pay is found sooner. In search of the oil stratum found in the Parks wells at Brookridge, in Stephens county, which is expected at about 2,500 feet in the Hamilton test. In Parker county, the Parker county Oil & Gas Co.'s Mortens No. 1, north of Milap, is drilling at 1900 feet. South of Mineral Wells, in Palo Pinto county, Terry No. 1 of the Empire Gas & Fuel Co. is drilling at 2000 feet, but the exact depth is not reported. Palmer, Owen & Wilson's Oakes No. 1 is shut down. North of Strawn, T. and P. Coal Co.'s Robinson No. 1 has recovered the tools that were lost in the hole and is drilling at 1260 feet.

ON THE DOPE NEW YORK ALMOST CERTAIN TO WIN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE PENNANT

New York, July 21.—Based upon the records of the past five years, the lead of the New York National League Club, shortly after the halfway point of the season was reached, would appear to indicate that the team would win the senior league pennant. The race is so close in the American League, however, that no such conclusion can be entertained in advance.

PERKINS-TIMBERLAKE TO BUILD AT VERNON

Vernon Record. Perhaps the largest cash deal in business property in the history of Vernon was consummated this week when the Perkins-Timberlake Company purchased the Works and Dodson buildings and the L. K. Johnson, C. Long and G. C. Morris, the Cassell building, all located on the north side of the square, for a total cash consideration of $25,000. All three of the buildings are to be razed to give way to modern business houses. The Works and Dodson buildings will be replaced with a building to house the Perkins-Timberlake store, which is to have a sixty-foot front. This building will be constructed along the latest and most approved plans for modern stores, and in addition to the main floor will have a basement for storing goods. The Works building is occupied by the Samuel & Freeman barber shop. The Dodson building is vacant. The Cassell building, now occupied by the Works and Dodson company, will give way to a modern store building, though it is not yet known what the new Perkins-Timberlake store will follow the lines used in the other stores of this firm in Texas and Oklahoma, and will have a floor space of 80x110 feet. The building will be constructed one story in order that the best of light can be secured.

If the example of the battalion of Russian women who went into battle at the front Wednesday does not dispel the disloyalty and inaction of the Russian forces, and inspire them to glorious action, then the stern measures of execution which the government has been authorized to put into effect must be applied.

The quarrel that has been going on for about six weeks or two months between General Goethals, manager of the shipping board, and Mr. Denman, the chairman, was finally brought to an end by the resignation of General Goethals, and when President Wilson had accepted it, he immediately requested the resignation of Mr. Denman, which was promptly tendered.

325 HAVE ENLISTED FROM WILBARGER COUNTY Special to The Times

Vernon, Texas, July 25.—Since President Wilson issued his proclamation of war against Germany, Wilbarger county has furnished the armed service with 325 men.

This record, local Guard officers say, has not been duplicated by any other county in the state with double the population of this one.

Enlistments in the army, navy and Texas National Guard stand as follows:

Regular army, 18; Navy, 30; Company H, Texas National Guard, 73; Wilbarger volunteers, 257; Texas National Guard, 122; recruited for the Guard by other officers working in this county, 73.

Captain H. A. Baker, who is raising the Wilbarger Volunteers for the Guard, is pushing recruiting to the limit this week and it is believed that the company will be up to war strength by the time the wheels of the draft machine commence to revolve.

TEXT OF AMENDMENT FIXING $2 BUSHEL GUARANTEE FOR WHEAT

The food control bill as passed, in the Senate, contains an amendment giving the farmers a guarantee of $2 a bushel for their wheat for the next 18 months. The text of this amendment follows:

That whenever the President shall find that an emergency exists requiring stimulation of the production of wheat, and that it is essential that the producers of wheat within the United States shall have the benefits of the guaranty provided in this section, he is authorized from time to time, seasonably and as far in advance of seeing time as practicable, to require the board of food administration to determine and fix and to give public notice of what, under specified conditions, is a reasonable guaranteed price for wheat, in order to assure such producers a reasonable profit.

It shall from time to time establish and promulgate such regulations as it shall deem wise in connection with such guaranteed prices, and in particular governing conditions of delivery and payment, and differences in price for the several standard grades in the principal primary markets of the United States hereby guarantees every producer of wheat produced with the United States that, upon compliance by him with the regulations prescribed, he shall receive for any wheat produced in reliance upon this guarantee within the period, not exceeding the eighteen month prescribed in this section.

NEW RECORD SET BY WORK OF U. S. WAR PREPARATION

ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL ASSERTS THAT IT HAS NO PARALLEL IN MILITARY HISTORY

New York, July 25.—That the achievements of the army and navy of the United States in the first three months of the war "have worked forward with a smoothness and an absence of scandal that have no parallel in our history of warfare," is the editorial statement made by The Army and Navy Journal in a review of the part this country is playing in the great struggle.

"Criticism and fault-finding," says the Journal, "have entered like rumor 'haunted with a thousand tongues,' but they have pretty well disappeared since, in common decency, these elements have to acknowledge the army and navy officers have carried out their allotted tasks efficiently and well."

The review covers practically all of the activities of the War and Navy Departments, which can properly be made the subject of a military summary. It begins with a reference to the lessons of the war, lessons which this country has mastered, and which it is following in preparation for the greater part its armies and navy are yet to play in the struggle.

"In material accomplishments we have set up," the Journal says, "a record before the world of which we may well be proud. The great outstanding fact of these three months of war is that our military and naval operations have been conducted solely by army and navy officers, with never a 'political general' showing his head above the horizon. Between the people and the work of the navy there has been drawn, of military necessity, a screen of secrecy more effective than anything we have ever known before, and which redounds to the highest credit of the press of the country. When that screen has been lifted now and again we have seen our fleets of destroyers operating in British and French waters; we have learned of another fleet being in the South Atlantic on patrol duty; we have learned of hundreds of merchantmen, armed and manned by navy guns and gunners, fighting U-boats and losing their lives in that arduous duty and, finally, we have learned of the navy's superb achievement in conveying to France the greatest body of troops we ever sent to foreign soil in one expedition without the loss of a man."

Great Growth of the Navy

"Our navy's personnel has almost doubled in that time, so that now we have over 129,000 men in the navy, while in the Marine Corps we have 29,361, as against the 11,265 on April 6, the day the state of war was declared. The auxiliary patrol fleet manned by the Fleet Naval Reserve is gradually assuming the form of a really effective body of young men who are learning navy traditions more rapidly than would have been thought possible six months ago. In the performance of this herculean task of training the great influx of recruits to the regular service, the officers of the navy have taken on their shoulders the added burden of training the crews of young men to be officers and crews of the great fleet of merchantmen that the government is building as a part of the Allies' strategical plan to conquer the U-boats."

"Even greater than this has been the army's achievement owing to the signal change that has come to the nation's policy regarding a large army since the entry of the United States into the war. For on the army has devolved the task of increasing the regulars up to the war strength set by the National Defense act and putting that arm on a war footing, while it has also had to face and carry through the many problems presented by training the National Guards for duty overseas, preparing the plans for the first selective draft registration and seeing they were carried out, the plans for the working of the draft itself and for housing, provisioning and equipping the 500,000 men that are to be in cantonments some time after the first of September."

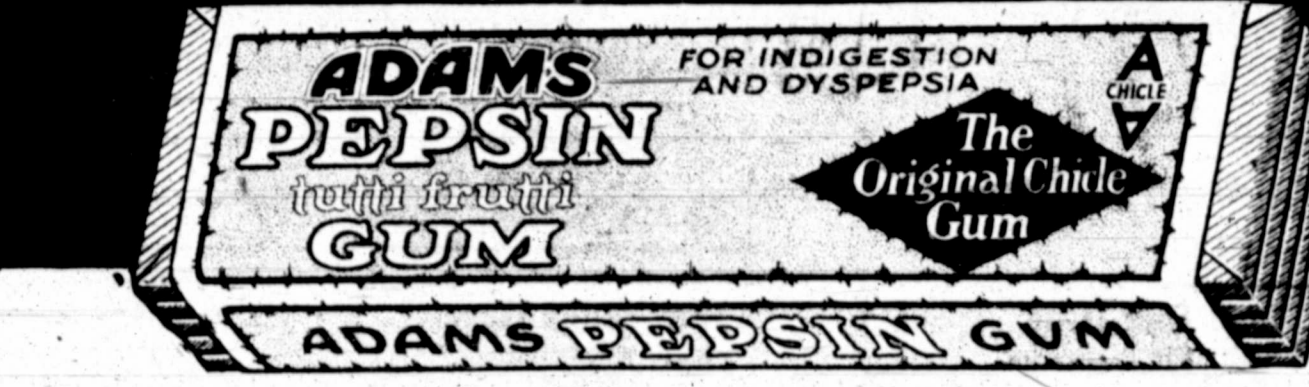

"Coincident with this the army has had to perform the hitherto unheard-of task of conducting courses and raising schools for the making of officers and of three camps for the training of officers of the Medical Reserve Corps. Under officered as ever, corps is in the service they have had to put up to struggle along with the routine of the service, but also to handle the problems of this enormous expansion of the regulars, the National Guards and the National Army that is in the making. And with all this the army has sent to France General Pershing and his staff, General Sibert and his expeditionary force, has taken over completely the conduct of six of the British bases hospitals; has sent army surgeons up to the firing line; has aided its first unit of women in England fully equipped with sawmills and other tools, and has at least one unit of aviators on British soil. And nowhere at home has the routine of its accustomed efficiency, although the army has had to handle the additional task since May 1 of creating two new departments and providing them with headquarters staffs."

Praise for Defense Council

"Criticism and fault-finding have entered like rumor, 'haunted with a thousand tongues,' but they have pretty well disappeared since, in common decency, these elements have had to acknowledge the army and navy officers have carried out their allotted tasks efficiently and well. Europe has rung with praise of our men abroad, and our enemy, by the tone of his abusive language, is acknowledging the fact that we are a foe to be reckoned with in the field instead of being merely a race of dollar hunters. On the civil side of what has been done in these three months there is another admirable tale of high achievement. Through the Council of National Defense and its Advisory Commission the matter of the purchase of supplies (fruitful source of scandals in the past) has been worked out in a manner hitherto unknown in the history of the wars of the United States. Through the board the railroads have been brought into a relation with the government more close and practical than most of us would ever have thought possible. War has brought about economies in railroad operation that were frankly declared impossible a year ago. Manufacturing plants have also been brought into really effective cooperation with the government, and it would appear that the problem of supplying a great air

DECLINE IN EXCHANGE VALUE OF MARK DEPLORED

Amsterdam.—The Rheinische Westfaelische Zeitung of Essen, Germany, in a leading article headed "New Offensive Against Our Rate of Exchange," deplores the decline in the exchange rate of the mark and says: "The enemy has every interest in keeping the rate as low as possible, not only in order to increase the cost of imports into Germany during the war, but to hinder reconstruction of Germany's economic life after the war." The campaign against the rate of exchange of the mark is attributed to a large New York banking house and to the recent increase in the number of Germany's enemies, which has

SUMMER REVUE OPENS AT WICHITA TONIGHT

Two special cars carrying the members and scenery of the "America First" and "At the Blue Goose Inn" Companies arrived in Wichita Falls today over The Denver road at 1:30 on No. 3, for their opening tonight of a three days engagement at the Wichita Theater. Special matinee will be given on Saturday for ladies and children. This entirely new departure and summer style of innocent entertainment should prove an innovation to Wichita Falls amusement seekers, and Manager Markowitz is highly elated over this particular booking. The company, which is a large one, numbering nearly a half hundred people has been selected with care, and contains some of the clearest musical comedy artists in America. Both "America First" which runs one hour and twenty minutes, and "At the Blue Goose Inn" which composes the second part of the program, and runs one hour and thirty minutes, contain very catchy, hitting, and whistable tunes, among the many being "America First" "See You Alone," "Good-bye Broadway," "Hello France," "When I See You I See Red, White and Blue," "Joan of Arc," "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall," "Good Old U. S. A.," "America," "When Uncle Sammie Nods His Head," "In Lilac Time," "The Story Book Ball," "Bring Your Kisses to Me," "There's Egypt in Your Dreamy Eyes," "You've Got a Great Big Baby Smile," "In Sweetheart Time," "Kiss Me," "Wonderful Girl." The evening performances will open promptly at 8:15.

FREDERICK WARDE AT THE MAJESTIC FRIDAY

Frederick Warde will be the stellar attraction at the Majestic Friday. The success of Frederick Warde, the noted Shakespearean actor, in his first modern role in "Hinton" made the Pathe Gold Rooster play recently seen here, has resulted in the preparation of another picture in which he plays a man of today. The title is "Fires of Youth." It was produced for Pathe at the Thanhouser studio in New Rochelle, N. Y., under the direction of Emile Chautard, who is the producer of many of Robert Warwick's most successful pictures, including "The Heart of a Hero," "Friday," "The Thirteenth," and "The Man Who Forgot." It was written by Agnes C. Johnston, author of "The Shine Girl," "Prudence the Pirate," "Her New York," and many of the most successful Pathe-Thanhouser Gold Rooster plays. The story tells of a steel king who has given his youth in exchange for his massive fortune. The way in which he finds final happiness with the aid of a wonderful little boy and beautiful girl, makes a delightful story. With Mr. Warde in this picture is Jeanne Eagels, the beautiful young Broadway star most recently seen as George Arliss' leading woman in "Disraeli." "The Professor's Love Story" and other plays. An important member of the cast also is Helen Badgley, the little eight-year-old Thanhouser actress who does splendid work in the role of "Billy."

The Plaza

Tonight's attraction at the Plaza is "The Land of Long Shadows" in which Jack Gardiner is starred. Up in the land where the sun hangs low and the hungry wolves' long shadows play ominously over the everlasting snow, Joe Mauchin first meets Jeanne Varette. He is a trapper, come down to the little post of Mead's Pocket—a mining town which would have shamed hell with its viciousness of supplies; she, the daughter of a saloonkeeper who compels her to "drum up trade" among his maudlin patrons, falls in love with Jeanne. A brute of a man seeks to interfere and in the resultant struggle falls dead. Joe and Jeanne flee that night to his camp miles away and a year's happiness follows. Then the trapper finds Constable McKenzie of the Mounted Police half dead in the snow. Joe revives the officer and carries him to his cabin. Straightaway McKenzie arrests the trapper for the death of a desperado. A fight ensues between the two and the constable, overpowered, flees for aid. He is last seen in the woods staggering from the effects of a wound and with a pack of wolves slowly drawing in on him. Joe, in the cabin, draws to his arms Jeanne, who is shyly clutching a newly made pair of baby clothes. It is that for which Joe had fought.

The Empress. Stuart Holmes appears in an entirely new type of role in his latest production for William Fox, "The Broadway Sport," showing at the Empress today. Those who have hissed and hated that cool, debonair villain of countless Fox plays, who have pitted him as the repentant pastor in "The Scarlet Letter," and who have sympathized with him as the outcast in "The Derelict" have novel sensations in store for them when they see Stuart Holmes as a spectacled, awkward small town gawk, the clerk in a small store owned by the local power in finance. Not even his boss's tyranny can crush the latest villainy in Holmes. It flares forth in all its glory when he robs a couple of crooks of the money they extracted from the mill safe. Victims of what he could do on Broadway with that roll prove too much for his honesty and thereby hangs the story. Suffice it to say that when Holmes plays his "No. 12" on the great "White Way" he sets a pace which leaves the veteran habitués gasping for breath. Supporting Mr. Holmes in "The Broadway Sport" is a cast picked with Carl Harbaugh's characteristic exactness and skill. Playing next to Mr. Holmes is Wanda Pettit, a wistful golden-haired "bride" of Director Harbaugh. Her first screen appearance in "The Derelict" has already won her a big place in the hearts of film
