RUSSIAN RETREAT STILL CONTINUES ON WIDE FRONT

CONFIDENCE FELT IN PETROGRAD THAT FIRM FRONT WILL SOON BE PRESENTED ENEMY

FRENCH REGAIN GROUND

Hold Recovered Territory in Craonne Region Against German Counter Attacks Today

The Associated Press war summary today says: Russia's shaken armies in Galicia are still in retreat, which bids fair not to end until they reach the line occupied by them last year before General Brusiloff began his big offensive.

Despite this retrograde movement covering practically all the front between the North Galician border and the Carpathian foothills, the tone of both official and unofficial dispatches from Petrograd is not pessimistic.

There is apparent confidence that the disorganization in the ranks induced by the machinations of the extremists and believed to have been largely promoted by German intrigues will be adequately dealt with and a firm front again presented to the enemy.

The Germans, by their own admission, have not the men to spare to prosecute a sustained offensive on the eastern front. They are too apprehensive of some extra forceful stroke in the west from the British or French to transfer any great number of troops from the Franco-Belgian war area.

The inherent strength of the entente position has just reached a fresh illustration on the Alpine front. Here the French have just won a long struggle with the Germans for possession of the important high ground in the Craonne region.

Yesterday's brilliant attack gave General Petain's troops renewed possession in almost complete measure of the slight area regained by the crown prince in his costly series of attacks. The French pressed beyond their old line at some points.

This morning came the attacks of the German reaction. It was directed at the line recaptured by the French on the California plateau. Although delivered after a violent bombardment it was entirely futile.

A British offensive on the Belgian front is in progress as unprecedentedly heavy artillery fire indicates but it evidently has not been launched. The day's official statement reports successful raids in this area but no wide movement by the British. Exceptionally violent big gun fire is mentioned.

RETREAT AT POINTS BECOMES A ROUT

Copenhagen, July 25.—A semi-official German report described as a striking panorama the retreat of the Russians in Galicia. Retiring columns stretching the horizon can plainly be observed from numerous vantage points. The retreat occasionally degenerates into a full rout, particularly under the influence of retrograde German field guns which are abreast the infantry vanguards and dash forward to a hilltop from where they pour a muzzling fire into the masses crowded into the road. Additional supplies of munitions, provisions and six heavy guns were captured.

GERMAN ADVANCE IN GALICIA CONTINUES

Berlin, July 25.—The advance of the Austro-German forces in eastern Galicia continues unimpeded, the war office announces. Taropol has been captured and the German army nears Buczacz. Emperor William watches the Germans repel a Russian attack on the plain of the Sereth. It is officially announced. The statement also reports the capture of Stanislaw and Nadorna. Heavy artillery fighting is in progress in Roumania. Russian troops taking the offensive south of the Carpathians penetrated the Austro-German line. They were brought to a standstill, the war office reports at the German protective position west of the point of attack. Continuation of exceptionally violent artillery fire in Flanders is reported on the western front.

SCARRY SIDE SUBMARINE WARFARE FRANKLY DISCUSSED BY GERMAN WRITER IN NATIONAL TIDENZE

Copenhagen, July 25.—A remarkably frank article by the Berlin correspondent of the National Tidende, passed by the foreign office, discusses the scarry side of the submarine campaign and the effect it has upon neutrals. It is generally recognized, he said, that the longer the campaign continues the fewer friends Germany will have after the war. This consideration together with the thought of the many billions which another six months of

CANADA WANTS TO BORROW HUNDRED MILLION IN U. S.

Washington, July 25.—Secretary McAdoo has notified Sir Thomas White Canadian minister of finance, that the United States government has no objection to Canada's obtaining a short-time credit of $100,000,000 from private sources in the American money market. Mr. McAdoo declined to state whether arrangements for the loan had been made. It was understood, however, that negotiations have been proceeding for some time between Sir Thomas White and had reached the point where further negotiations must await the consent of the American government.

FIVE KILLED IN EXPLOSION ON SUBMARINE

Washington, July 25.—An explosion yesterday on the submarine at Cavite, Philippine islands, killed five men and injured 20 of the officers and crew. The dead are reported today in official dispatches are: Lieut. Arnold, Marcus, Machinist's Mate First Class H. H. Lane, Gunner's Mate Second Class O. Hopewell, Chief Electrician J. E. Curry, Machinist's Mate K. A. Kunz.

The explosion, from a preliminary examination, seemed to be due to ignition of gas within the ship. The cause of this ignition has not been reported.

CARLOAD OF 700 SACKS FLOUR FOR BUCKNER'S HOME

TOTAL AMOUNT RAISED $1802.40 OF WHICH $1,089.40 WAS GIVEN IN WICHITA FALLS

Wichita Falls and other towns in this section have raised $1802.40 for the purchase of a carload of flour for the Buckner Orphan's home at Dallas. The Wichita Mill & Elevator Company is preparing to deliver to the home a carload of 700 sacks of flour at a cost of $1802.40. The railroads will transport the car to Dallas free of cost. The difference between the amount collected and the cost of the flour is to be used to defray some incidental expenses and the money remaining will be forwarded to the home.

The car will contain 700 sacks. The Mill gave a donation of $50 in cash and sold the flour at wholesale cost. Since agreeing to let the Home have a ton at this cost, the wholesale price of flour on a shipment of that quantity has advanced $385 so that the deal has been a most fortunate one for the home.

Of the total amount $1802.40 was raised in Wichita Falls. Charlie contributed $50, Burk Burnett $150.25, Petrolia $123, Thornberry $20, Rivers $68.25, Electra $150.10, Henrietta $131.50, Iowa Park $42.90.

RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL UNDER KENYON'S FIRE

Washington, July 25.—Senator Kenyon resumed his attack on the $27,000,000 river and harbor bill today, characterizing it as "wasteful extravagance" and ridiculing many of its provisions.

"While congress is engaged in finding ways to meet the stupendous total of this year's war expenditures estimated at $17,000,000,000, he should have this bill carrying wasteful appropriations for water and harbor projects. The Senator quoted reports from water engineers showing that after improvements had been made in one river, a stream 2 inches deep and 60 feet wide was created.

What about the action of Speaker Fuller in calling the House to convene on August 1? The Governor was asked. "I do not care to discuss or make any statement as to whether this call is entitled like the Siamese twins," he replied. "The Governor wanted to know if Fuller had made the direct charge against him of fraud in connection with the location of the West Texas A. & M. College in the affidavit. He would not say whether or not he favored now reopening the West Texas A. & M. matter until he had seen the Fuller affidavit.

"LADIES FROM HELL" THE GERMANS CALL THE HIGHLANDERS; RECRUITING IN UNITED STATES

SOME OF THE HIGHLANDERS AND THEIR COMMANDER, COLONEL GUTHRIE

"The ladies from hell" was what the Germans came to call the soldiers of the highland regiments in the first few weeks of the war—"ladies" on account of their kilts and "from hell" because of their terrible fighting qualities. That was a respectful tribute from the Kaiser's picked army of 1914. But more of the same are needed on the battle line, the kilts feel, and they are out to scour the United States for them. They are not recruiting alone for highland regiments, however, but for every branch of the Canadian or British army and incidentally are glad to contribute toward stimulating recruiting by Uncle Sam.

Not since all New York turned out in one great wave of enthusiasm and affection to welcome Marshal Joffre as the guest of the nation has the city seen a popular demonstration approaching that which greeted the Canadian highlanders, 300 strong, who arrived to spend a British "rest week" in New York and to give all New Yorkers a chance to see some of the British empire's most picturesque and famous fighting men.

From 7 in the morning, when Colonel Percy A. Guthrie and his band of eighteen months' furlough recovering from wounds received at the Battle of Festubert in 1915, has been allowed to pick his own officers from the best in the service, and every one of the battalions of the first Canadian expeditionary force is represented in his command.

The pictures show the inspection of the highlanders in New York, their color guard and Colonel Guthrie.

These men belong, are a new unit and are being entirely enlisted by Colonel Guthrie in person. They wear the tartans of the clan Macdonald of Duart, which have not been worn by a military unit since 1745, when practically the entire clan was wiped out, by Prince Charlie at the battle of Culloden.

Colonel Guthrie, who has been on an eighteen months' furlough recovering from wounds received at the Battle of Festubert in 1915, has been allowed to pick his own officers from the best in the service, and every one of the battalions of the first Canadian expeditionary force is represented in his command.

HOW DESTROYER ACTS WHEN ATTACKED BY SUBMARINE

A British boat on Southwest Coast, Wednesday, June 27.—By mail.—Just how a British destroyer acts when attacked by a submarine was unexpectedly demonstrated to an Associated Press correspondent today while traveling on one of the Martin boat burner torpedo boat destroyers from England to France. Two periscopes were sighted and immediately disappeared. Immediately guns were swung into position and trained on the spot where the periscopes were seen, waiting for them to appear. Simultaneously a torpedo was seen plunging on the water toward the destroyer. The exswamp quickly turned a lever stopping the destruction and the torpedo passed 8 feet ahead of it. The submarine did not reappear.

DISTRICT HAS BEEN GIVEN CREDIT FOR NATIONAL GUARD AND ARMY ENLISTMENTS

QUOTAS OTHER COUNTIES

Archer County to Furnish 50 Men, Clay 128, And Wilbarger County 46 Men

Wichita county's quota for the new army has been reduced to 140 through enlistments in the Regular Army and the Texas National Guard by persons living in the county. An Associated Press telegram bearing this news was received early this afternoon. Quotas for all the districts in the state were announced by the Adjutant General this afternoon at Austin.

In some of the registration districts there have been so many credits for National Guard and Regular Army enlistments that said districts will not only be exempt altogether from the first draft but will have credits against the second draft, if there is such a draft.

Other counties in this section have had their quotas reduced largely through National Guard enlistments. Wilbarger county will have to furnish only 46 men through the draft. Archer county's quota is 50. Clay county 128. Montague county 211. Baylor county 64. Tarrant county 347. Dallas county 462.

SENATE PASSES FOOD CONTROL BILL, 81 TO 6 VOTE

MEASURE NOW GOES TO CONFERENCE AND MAY REACH PRESIDENT IN 10 DAYS

$2 MINIMUM FOR WHEAT

Senate Bill Would Fix This As Lowest Price For The Next Two Years

By Associated Press. Washington, July 26.—The administration food control bill virtually rewritten after five weeks' further work was passed today by the Senate 81 to 6. Conferees from House and Senate will begin work early next week and leaders are hopeful the measure may be in the president's hands in ten days.

The bill gives the president wide authority over food, fuel and fuel, including kerosene, gas, gasoline, provided for administration by a board of three members instead of an individual, authorizes federal fixing of coal prices, requisition and operation of mines and authorizes a minimum guarantee price of not less than $2 per bushel for wheat at primary markets.

The Senate prohibition section prohibiting manufacture of distilled beverages during the war and directing the president to buy all distilled spirits in bond was substituted for the House House provision and will be one subject of difficulty in conference. Senators voting against the bill were: France, Maryland, Hardwick, Georgia, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Reed, Missouri, Sherman, Illinois and Sutherland, West Virginia.

Scores of amendments were disposed of today but the principal features are the incorporation of the amendments authorizing the minimum wheat price and another by Senator PeNrose greatly broadening the government power to handle the coal situation.

The government guarantee for wheat would be payable as all principal interior primary markets until July 1, 1918.

The Senate rejected 45 to 33 an amendment by Senator Norris to have the food board instead of Congress fix the minimum price.

The Commerce amendment incorporated in the measure will be reported to 12 directs the president, through the federal trade commission or other agency, to fix coal prices, wholesale and retail, regulate the miners industry and to take any action to operate coal mines and fix prices of labor.

START CAMPAIGN TO SECURE NEW INSANE ASYLUM

The Chamber of Commerce has started a very vigorous campaign to build the new insane asylum at Wichita Falls. The locating board will be ready to consider the matter within the next two weeks, and plans are being made to place before it a proposition so attractive that they will have no alternative but to accept it.

The Chamber is asking the hearty, intelligent and energetic co-operation of all the friends of the city of Wichita Falls, both within and without the city. Letters have been sent to all the local merchants, business men and influential individuals in town asking them to write and tell their friends all over the state that Wichita Falls wants the asylum, and if this would be in their opinion, be a good location, that they write their cordial endorsement. It is hoped and believed that in this way it will be possible to convince the locating board that Wichita Falls is the place most desirable, and most desired, not only by the city itself, but by many other towns in the state.

The site chosen to offer to the board is most attractively situated on the shores of Lake Wichita. Five hundred acres of land, which at small cost could be irrigated from the waters of the lake, is available. It would be difficult to find a more suitable spot for the institution. The management will be able to avail themselves of the many advantages of a good location, which are certainly as great as those that could be offered by any other city in North Texas. An abundance of good water piped to the group, street car communication direct to the city, and ample electric light power are only a few of the many advantages Wichita Falls has to offer. For attractiveness of situation, the site on the banks of the lake cannot be surpassed in the district. The M. & K. and T. Railway lines run right on the site, as do those of the street car company. Looking at it from every standpoint, it is difficult to imagine a more ideal situation for the institution than the site offered.

The Chamber of Commerce, however, feeling that the proposition attractive as it is in itself, must be put in its most attractive light, is asking the assistance of every person who is interested in the way of sending to them their written endorsement, so that they may have them to show to the locating board when they arrive.

JUDGE CARRIGAN'S VISIT

Boys at Camp Mightily Heartened by His Optimism—Camp Life Full of Interest

By JOHN GOULD. Camp Funston, Texas, July 26.—This is written in the hope that it will appear before Judge Carrigan has been home long enough to tell about his visit here; for, with all due deference to the judge's veracity, it is feared that he will tell some things that should be viewed in some light other than that of Judge Carrigan's optimism. So, if the judge tells anybody that all of the Wichitans still here are sure to get commissions, it will be best for you to wait until you get a close-up view of each and every gold bar cord. The Wichitans in camp here enjoyed Judge Carrigan's visit immensely, though at irregular intervals between fall and fall. He had some things to say to the Wichitans to hearten and encourage them, and he was very kind. The truth is, the boys were in need of some cheering up. Events of recent days here had been of a nature calculated to produce a sort of gloom and depression in the ranks, and optimism, while not exactly an antidote, was at least a balm. The events referred to were the resignation of two of our boys, but shall miss him at his camp; they consisted mainly of intense activity on the part of the locating board that brought about a marked disposition in the ranks to get out of camp. As an appropriate sign, someone has suggested a lizard argument, upon a field of red bugs, rampant.

The several companies, batteries and troops have been reduced to point where there is opportunity for nearly everyone to show what he can do, and there is no telling when the captain will call him up to command a platoon, company or skeleton battalion. The story is told of one youth who was called up for this or that, and it is an ordeal. He faced the company bravely.

"Company, ten-shun," he hawled, "who wants to buy my locker?"

Not only captains and lieutenants, but privates and sergeants are often in command, but one of the students serves as first sergeant every day. A regular "top" sergeant is hard enough to get along with sometimes, and being in command practice on your own is as unpleasant for you as for him. A top sergeant, however, is an ordeal. It is the boy's job to understand, is the top sergeant of the company.

They are just about through with the series of prophylaxis that has been an interesting part of camp life. First there were three typhoid doses, then a smallpox vaccination, one felt good when he failed to "take" until he learned that it was planned to keep right on vaccinating until one did take. Four or five army surgeons can vaccinate a company of 140 in about 20 minutes and come out of it looking fresh. No being vaccinated is not so bad in itself, but folks who are accustomed to being sympathetically and tenderly handled by the family physician would not appreciate having a surgeon scrape energetically on their arms, gazing out of the window quite nonchalantly as he scrapes.

It returns at noon a big cantament is finally finished and the next day is occupied by one of the numerous army organizations here. Within an encouragingly short time the railroad has been extended to all parts of the reservation. Barracks and camps now dot nearly all of the numerous hills, and rookies of all kinds are learning to be soldiers. From such things, from the news of American troops in France, from lectures telling of modern service conditions and from the near approach of August 11, the students come more and more to a realization of why they are here and of what the future may have in store. But whatever the future, these past two months—six weeks ago an order was promulgated permitting the students to sing as they marched. At first such selections as "Tipperary," "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" and others, were the rule, but it was not long before the companies had songs of their own, ranging from the seditiously sentimental to the patriotic. The infantry, cavalry and artillery units have their songs, and they are not all framed with extant the tenderest regard for the feelings of the other branches of the service. But whatever the sentiment, or spirit of the song, it helps to sing. To see a company swinging along, all hidden in a cloud of dust, heavy packs upon their backs, their eyes looking so much like work when out of the dust comes the strain:

"The infantry, the infantry, with dirt behind the ears, The infantry, the infantry, they don't get any beer. The cavalry, artillery and blooming engineers— They couldn't whip the infantry in a hundred thousand years."

The idea of singing in ranks comes from Europe, where there is a tendency to encourage it in every way possible. It helps tremendously, not only in lighting the morale of drill, but in keeping one's spirits up. Moving pictures have recently been made of many Camp Funston scenes, and will probably be shown at home. The writer was filmed while indulging in his favorite indoor sport, eating dinner. He had better that day.

days, Saturday morning exams, the benzine board, and all the rest, there were still 19 Wichitans on the payroll on July 14. The list is not guaranteed complete, but includes Messrs. Albin Bonipet, R. W. Whitaker, Paul Haddix, E. L. Fulton, Otis Nelson, Markham Ferguson, Jno. W. Naylor, John Gould, Grover Bullington, H. Nicholson, E. H. Eddleman, James Manahan, E. H. Morter, J. At present there are all doing well, but one of them has had his back bent at first, four failed to pass the physical examination, and others have resigned; in nearly all cases the resignation was due to the others' resignation. It is known that the representatives of almost any other Texas city.

San Juan, Porto Rico.—Twelve hundred new members for the Red Cross is the record made by the membership committee in San Juan, Porto Rico, during Red Cross Week. Though reports from committees working in other parts of the island have not yet come in, it is known that the work was almost as successful on a smaller scale elsewhere. There are now four thousand members of the Porto Rico chapter in San Juan alone, and several hundred more in the other towns, with the number increasing every day.

The Porto Rico Chapter of the American Red Cross to be organized outside of continental United States. The charter was not granted until May, two months after a similar honor had been conferred on the Porto Ricans by an act of Congress, and the recognition of Porto Rico as a territory of the United States was the deciding factor in granting the charter.

On account of the oneness of the organization the campaign for membership in Porto Rico is being conducted on the same basis as in the United States, but will continue until the maximum number is secured. It is expected that 25,000 members will be obtained here, not only by the campaign committees are at work in all of the large towns and are being organized in the small ones. The campaign is being carried out solely for membership, the funds collected coming from the initiation fees, but as soon as the existing movement is well organized throughout the island, a campaign for funds will be begun.

The Porto Ricans are displaying a remarkable spirit of patriotism, and are doing their utmost to help the Red Cross is heightened because of the fact that Porto Rican troops already are in the United States service, and because others soon will be called to the colors.

HOW SAMMIES GET DELICACIES FOR THEIR TABLES

Uncle Sam allows a certain sum per man per day for food for the army. This sum may vary as prices vary, but it is fixed by regulation at the War Department, and is invariably forthcoming. It is always sufficient to give the soldier good plain food, and plenty of it, but it does not allow for luxuries. This does mean, however, that the U. S. private has no luxuries on his table. Or the contrary, he has many more than the average working man. The army regulations require that the soldier's table be maintained in various ways.

To begin with, the quartermaster in charge of the buying for the company and artillery units have their contracts for the food allowance for the government as the daily allowance for food. This surplus goes into the company funds, and of course the regulations are for the company funds, which are subscribed and maintained in various ways.

The cavalry, artillery and blooming engineers—They couldn't whip the infantry in a hundred thousand years. The idea of singing in ranks comes from Europe, where there is a tendency to encourage it in every way possible. It helps tremendously, not only in lighting the morale of drill, but in keeping one's spirits up.

Moving pictures have recently been made of many Camp Funston scenes, and will probably be shown at home. The writer was filmed while indulging in his favorite indoor sport, eating dinner. He had better that day.

The students have adopted an official ring to be worn in reminder of the days here. As an appropriate sign, someone has suggested a lizard, argent, upon a field of red bugs, rampant.

The several companies, batteries and troops have been reduced to point where there is opportunity for nearly everyone to show what he can do, and there is no telling when the captain will call him up to command a platoon, company or skeleton battalion. The story is told of one youth who was called up for this or that, and it is an ordeal. He faced the company bravely.

"Company, ten-shun," he hawled, "who wants to buy my locker?"

Not only captains and lieutenants, but privates and sergeants are often in command, but one of the students serves as first sergeant every day. A regular "top" sergeant is hard enough to get along with sometimes, and being in command practice on your own is as unpleasant for you as for him. A top sergeant, however, is an ordeal. It is the boy's job to understand, is the top sergeant of the company.

They are just about through with the series of prophylaxis that has been an interesting part of camp life. First there were three typhoid doses, then a smallpox vaccination, one felt good when he failed to "take" until he learned that it was planned to keep right on vaccinating until one did take. Four or five army surgeons can vaccinate a company of 140 in about 20 minutes and come out of it looking fresh. No being vaccinated is not so bad in itself, but folks who are accustomed to being sympathetically and tenderly handled by the family physician would not appreciate having a surgeon scrape energetically on their arms, gazing out of the window quite nonchalantly as he scrapes.

HONOR SIGN ON HOME OF MARINE

A new card that will soon appear on many houses throughout the United States has been prepared for distribution by the United States marines. It has been designed to replace cards, formerly distributed by that organization, that read: "A man from this house is serving in the United States marine corps." The new announcement, printed in white and blue letters on a facsimile of the French tricolor, bears the simple but very impressive legend: "A man from this house is fighting in France with United States marines."

BOOKLET TELLS ABOUT NAVAL AVIATION COURSE

The Bureau of Navigation at Washington has issued a circular of aviation, showing the prescribed courses of training, and the tests for certificates. There are eight courses, comprising the most rigorous and comprehensive training and tests for very severe, especially in the case of the aviator.

After his course has been completed the student is entitled to be known as a "Naval Seaplane Aviator." He is now eligible for training as "Navy Air Pilot," a high course, somewhat like the foregoing, only more so. Dirigibles and balloons have also their special courses and tests.

AVIATION BILL PASSES SENATE, GOES TO WILSON

MEASURE ADOPTED WITHOUT AMENDMENT OR WITHOUT A RECORD VOTE SATURDAY

AN IMMENSE AIR FLEET

Bill Provides 22,000 Airplanes And Nearly 100,000 Men—3,500 Machines First Year

By Associated Press. Washington, July 21.—The House bill appropriating $640,000,000 for the aviation service was passed late today by the Senate, without amendment or a record vote, and with less than an hour's discussion.

In the Senate the only dispute, with 90 members expressing a desire to pass the bill, was over an amendment by Senator Hardwick of Georgia, to strike out a clause authorizing drafting of men for the aerial service. The amendment was rejected, 68 to 12, after Senators LaFollette and Gronna made brief speeches opposing the draft.

Details of plans for expending the huge sum appropriated have been withheld, but it is known that it provides for about 22,000 airplanes and nearly 100,000 men.

The president is expected to sign the bill Monday and the work of building one of the greatest airfleets the world has seen will be pushed with vigor.

During the first year officials hope to produce at least 3,500 machines with a greater increase the next year. For the first few months virtually the entire attention will be centered on the construction of student planes and there has been talk of bringing British and French aviation student officers to the United States to use in training.

In rejecting the Hardwick clause, the dozen senators voting to strike out the draft clause were: Borah, Broussard, Curtis, Gore, Gronna, Hardwick, Kirby, LaFollette, McKeller, Norris, Owen and Vardeman.

In a vigorous speech opposing the draft clause, Senator La Follette said any war prosecuted by democracy should be without compulsory service.

"Democracy ought never to enter into a war that it cannot prosecute with volunteers," he added, particularly objection to compulsion for the extra hazardous air service. The Wisconsin senator declared that he will fight for the repeal of the draft as long as he is in the Senate and predicted that the draft will be the issue at the next election, and that 90 per cent of the voters will declare against it.

Senator Gronna said he opposed the draft provision for the same reason as Senator La Follette.

Senator Calder offered as an amendment the resolution of Senator Chamberlain; chairman of the military committee, proposing to amend the army draft law to make aliens subject to conscription except those subjects of Germany or those exempted by treaty. He said of the 10,000,000 men registered, over 1,000,000 are aliens, Arizona alone having 40 per cent of aliens.

Senators Wadsworth, Stone, Brandies, Lodge and others also urged legislative action to subject aliens to yesterday's draft, as well as future calls. Senator Stone said the foreign relations committee planned to take action regarding the treaty question and Senator Chamberlain said the state and war department are being consulted regarding his resolution, and if possible, the military committee would act upon it next week.

The amendment was finally withdrawn to expedite the bill.

PRESIDENT'S INFLUENCE FOR SINGLE FOOD ADMINISTRATION

By Associated Press. Washington, July 23.—President Wilson probably will bring his personal influence to bear on the Senate and House conferees on the food bill to accept the House provisions for a single food administrator instead of the board of three as voted by the Senate. The president may take a hand in some of the other conflicts.

President Wilson is understood to prefer the Senate prohibition section forbidding the manufacture of distilled liquors but allowing manufacture of beer and wine. The House vote in a bone dry section. The president here, before he has opposed a congressional committee to investigate the conduct of the war and there is no reason to believe he will favor such an amendment.

ASKS DENMAN'S RESIGNATION GOETHALS GOVERNOR IS ASKED

WILSON TAKES STEPS TO SETTLE CONTROVERSY

Appoints Hurley President of Board And Names Bainbridge Colby to Succeed Goethals

By Associated Press.
Washington, July 24.—President Wilson today asked Chairman Denman of the shipping board to resign, and accepted the resignation of General Goethals as general manager of the emergency fleet corporation. The president also accepted the resignation of Captain John D. White of the shipping board. Official announcement of the acceptance of the resignation of Goethals and White was made with publication of a letter from President Wilson to Chairman Denman, asking for his resignation and giving the president's opinion that the only way to settle the row that has delayed the shipbuilding program was to remove both Goethals and Denman.
Edward Hurley, a Chicago business man and former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, will become chairman of the shipping board. Washington L. Capps, chief constructor of the navy, will succeed Goethals as general manager of the emergency fleet corporation. Bainbridge Colby of New York, will become a member of the shipping board in place of Captain John B. White.

Chairman Denman received the president's request for his resignation at noon and tendered it immediately. "I want to help the president in every way possible," he said, "and never have questioned the wisdom of his decisions."
In asking Mr. Denman's resignation, President Wilson suggested that he would be glad to take the "same disinterestedness and self-forgetting course that General Goethals has taken. When you have done as he has done," the president wrote Mr. Denman, "I am sure that you may count with the utmost confidence upon the ultimate verdict of the people of the country with regard to your magnanimous and unselfish view of public duty and upon winning in the retrospect the same admiration and confidence that I have learned to feel for you."
President Wilson's action came as a surprise. Officials generally had thought he would make a further effort to patch differences and divide specifically between Chairman Denman and General Goethals powers conferred on him by the shipping act.

MENTIONS FOUR CHARGES

West Texas A. and M. Location, University Matters and Mansion Expenditures Named
By Associated Press.
Waco, Texas, July 24.—In a telephone conversation with the Associated Press correspondent here Governor Ferguson this morning declared to make a statement for publication today. The Governor said he would go to Austin tonight and remain there tomorrow morning. He would give out a statement concerning the call issued by Speaker Fuller for a meeting of the House of Representatives.

Houston, July 24.—F. O. Fuller, speaker of the house, announced yesterday in a call to the members of the house of representatives to assemble in extraordinary session at Austin on August 1 to consider whether articles of impeachment shall be presented against Governor James E. Ferguson. Speaker Fuller specifies four charges and states that others will be filed after the house gets in session.
At the same time Speaker Fuller and Lieutenant Governor Hobby made public affidavits in which they charge that Governor Ferguson deliberately misrepresented matters to them and secured their signatures to a statement that the guard of the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college would be taken out of the state. Both officials are very plain in their statements that to each of them Governor Ferguson misrepresented the other's attitude, and each of them bears responsibility to them and secured their signatures to a statement that the guard of the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college would be taken out of the state.

The University of Texas cannot be maintained and supported on the salary of one man and an deficiency can be based on such an item. The attorney general has advised that the state is not effectively but is a test of that question can be had to the courts. It is the term of the university will be passed and the government has declared that the University of Texas will not open its doors until every member of the faculty to whom he objects is expelled.
He has charged the faculty with an act of being gratifying bars and traits and in my judgment without reason. He has sought to substitute his own will for the judgment of the faculty and at the same time he has sought to have members of the faculty dismissed even without a hearing, thus seeking to override the law. He has removed members of the board of regents without cause and in some cases in order to appoint someone who will carry out his own wishes and has sought to substitute his own judgment for that of the faculty and has sought to suspend them and take them out of the state with his own desire.
The last legislature provided for a committee to locate a West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college. When the committee was appointed they were announced for Abilene when only two were cast for Abilene according to affidavits filed. When three members of the board of regents called for a recounting and a recount was ordered and Governor Ferguson stood alone against it. Finally a statement was given out by the members of the board that statement was based on a corrupt deal in the original meeting to locate the school, his acts in refusing to reconvene the committee are a fraud upon the people of Texas and upon the committee.
According to the investigation by the committee of the governor's act he testified that he would refund the money to the state which had taken responsibility for authority in case the court decided he has failed to do so and the courts have long ago decided against his contention.

COMMISSIONER DAVIS ISSUES A STATEMENT

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, July 23.—The call of Speaker Fuller for convening the house on August 1 to consider the impeachment of Governor Ferguson and the university matters and for other purposes caused much speculation here today in political circles. Officially declared there is no way in which a proposition can be made for a payment of the per diem of the lawmakers for services during the meeting. Attorney General Lovett, who will undoubtedly be called upon to pass on the question and also on the authority of the speaker to convene the house, rejected the proposition. Gov. Ferguson is not here being offered his expected tomorrow to attend the meeting of the state automatic tax board.
Commissioner of Agriculture Davis is a member of the West Texas A. and M. college and has made the following statement:
"I have nothing to say at this time. The matter is in the hands of the legislature and it is up to them to make a decision. I am ready to act in accordance with the committee's report and I am ready to act in accordance with the committee's report. I am ready to act in accordance with the committee's report and I am ready to act in accordance with the committee's report." REPORT THIS WEEK

RESISTANCE OF THE RUSSIAN A LITTLE STRONGER

Berlin Admits Resisting Power of Russian Forces in Vicinity of Brzezany
The Associated Press summary today says:
Signs of a halt in the Russian retreat in Eastern Galicia before the advancing Austro-German armies are largely wanting but indications of a stonger resistance in some sectors are cropping out. The Russian generals undoubtedly are doing their utmost to bring their men to a realization of the necessities of implicit obedience and the present flight of certain sections of the Muscovite armies because of sickness in discipline can hardly help serving as an object lesson.

ACTIVITY IN THE WEST

By Associated Press.

NEW VERSION OF ASSASSINATION THAT STARTED WAR

Associated Press Mail Correspondence.
Copenhagen—What purported to be hitherto unpublished facts relating to the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand of Austria, showing that he had a strong premonition of approaching death, are contributed to the Associated Press by its correspondent at the Austro-Italian front.
The correspondent's informants, according to this dispatch are persons of high standing some of whom were eye witnesses to the Sarajevo tragedy which has been described as having supplied the match that set the world aflame.
Indications of the Archduke's premonition, it is asserted, were apparent while he was driving along the quay at the time the bomb exploded near Ferdinand. He repeatedly glanced up at houses fronting on the water, as if suspecting a bomb-plot. At a certain bridge in Sarajevo, however, the Archduke hurled a bomb which landed on the collapsed top of the Austro-Hungarian barracks, causing the death of three persons and wounding a number of others. The Archduke himself escaped the death-dealing missile aimed at him with his head falling to the ground, the bomb exploding near the third automobile in the line of the parade and wounding the adjutant, Lieutenant Colonel Count Merizzi.
After the injured officer had been removed to a hospital, the archducal pair proceeded to the city hall. At the conclusion of the ceremonies there a concert was given in the hall for the visibility of carrying out the program which had been announced for the royal visitors. Contrary to the accepted version of the incident, the correspondent's informants are insisting that the program be carried out despite the urgent advice of members of his party in opposition to the plan, the king of the throne is now quoted as having asked:
"General Petkovic," he said to have proposed that the concert should be pushed by the cancellation of the program or that the streets be cleared and the ceremonies carried out as planned. To this latter proposal the Archduke, after brief reflection, is said to have replied:
"To carry out the program after clearing the streets is not the way. We had better drop the program entirely. I only wish to visit Moritz."
In deference to the Archduke's wish the party was dissolved and the king proceeded on their way to the hospital to visit the wounded adjutant. In the prevailing confusion, according to the correspondent's informants, the chauffeur assigned to the Archduke's car disregarded his instructions, Count Barrach, the officer who was at the time of the incident, as another car on the opposite side of the street. When the archduke's hands were laid on the steering wheel, Count Barrach, it is said, would not permit the car to proceed, but he and his wife from a distance at a very few feet.
The correspondent's informants state that the archduke's car was struck in the rear by the automobile which was on the opposite side of the street. The archduke's hands were laid on the steering wheel, Count Barrach, it is said, would not permit the car to proceed, but he and his wife from a distance at a very few feet.

NEW ESTIMATES FOR PROSECUTION WAR ARE VASTLY LARGER THAN PREVIOUS ONES
By Associated Press.
Washington, July 24.—Secretary McAdoo today prepared new war estimates for Congress very much in excess of those already presented and which will have a far-reaching influence on the estimate when the Senate finance committee revised the war tax bill. The bill probably will be further extended by the House.
The government's changing the estimate on the needs of the army and navy, says the war tax bill, will authorize an additional $500,000,000 Secretary McAdoo will appear before the Finance committee late today to explain the treasury's need based on the reforms of the army and navy. Whether the true dollar figure would be raised by a bond issue had not been determined.
Secretary McAdoo asked Chairman McAdoo to call the Finance committee to the attention of the fact that the Senator as had been stated for today until he could confer with the Senator.
While no official information was given before Secretary McAdoo went before the Finance committee there were indications that it would be a large sum principally from excess profits taxes and from increases in miscellaneous taxes. Official figures are said to show that excess profits in the United States are now at the rate of $5,000,000,000 a year.

NECESSITY FOR BIRTH STATISTICS EMPHASIZED

From the Boston Transcript.
Washington, July 24.—The question, "How old are you?" asked at least 10 million times on registration day, is being emphasized by the passing of the bill which provides for the registration of every child born in the United States. "It is essential that the records be kept," said the bill, "that the nation may have an accurate knowledge of its population, and that the needs of the future may be met."
The need for complete birth registration is recognized by many who have heard the story of the American who was arrested by the German police as a spy because he had a record of his own birth. The man was saved finally only by the fortunate discovery of a letter, followed by a wife, which told his birth date. The man's record was not only a physical record, but a record of strong public opinion was established in the story, and gave added evidence of the importance of birth statistics. Not only are birth records needed for registration purposes, but they are needed to prove military and naval records for the children of soldiers, to establish the rights of inheritance, to determine how efficiently the children are protecting the health of the children.

The basis for serving the country at a high level should prove attractive to hundreds of ambitious young men. The Quartermaster General is preparing for the production of a steady flow of bakers for the new army units.

SHEPPARD'S RESOLUTION WILL COME UP TODAY

Washington, July 24.—Senator Sheppard will call up his resolution for the prohibition of the sale of munitions to the enemy today, and the indications are that a vote will be taken by Tuesday of next week.
The Senate on July 24th is expected to vote on the resolution, which would prohibit the sale of munitions to the enemy for war-time purposes, they are willing that national prohibition may be brought to a vote.
Each element in the Senate claims a victory on the basis of two-thirds vote, and there is genuine speculation on the probable attitude of the House.

DR. VINSON'S LEASE.

Denison Herald.
According to Regent John M. Mathis of Brenham, President Vinson's tenure of office will be limited to but a few months longer, whereupon it will be made to walk the plank as per the Governor's program. It is presumed the reason he was not decapitated
when the seven members of the faculty suffered their fate is the board need ed help in securing teachers for the forthcoming term; and realizing the difficulty to be encountered in securing a president of an established institution that is without teachers, they decided to use him to that end and then proceed to discharge him.

We cannot conceive of any other reason for President Vinson's retention,
if Regent Mathis's statement is correct,
and reflects the sentiment of his associates on the faculty. It is difficult to be dismissed, but it appears that certain medical professors who have long been connected with the medical branch of the University are not gratified because they are in bona non grato to Dr. Fly of Galveston, a member of the Board and whose fiery temperament appears to fit in nicely with the destructive disposition of the Governor.

With such a prospect in view it will probably not be worth while for Austin boarding house keepers to stock upon on groceries and supplies preparatory to taking care of the army of students that have hitherto made such business profitable at the capital. It is not to be expected that boys and girls of Texas desiring an education will take chances on finishing the term even if they start at the beginning of the session. What assurance have they, even if a corps of teachers should be secured for the opening that they would not be dismissed before the start of the term? No teacher, however competent he or she may be, can rest secure in the thought of hope to finish the seasons unless they made up their minds beforehand that the Governor will give instructions daily from his excellency the Governor. Failing in which they will be summarily removed.

Any teacher who by Dr. Vinson may induce to accept a position at this time will be entering the realm of speculation, for it is not to be expected that he will not be dismissed before the start of the term. And since his head has been chopped off, it is reasonable to suppose that all friendly to him will likewise be delivered pink slips.

Any educator who would accept the presidency of the University under present conditions will make a monumental failure of his affairs and no man of good sense will attempt to do so. A politician might assume the presidency for the honor of being the titular head of a supposed great educational institution in the State, but he has an interest in the educational advancement of the youths of Texas knows that under the present administration, the presidency will be a city in flames in name only. The strife resulting from the Governor's office prevent the progress of the power and authority of the president is deposed to climb with a
It was to be hoped that the dismissal of the seven faculty members would appease administrative wrath
and he would permit the work of rebuilding and reconstructing the institution to be immediately begun under the direction of the man whom all Texas honors with confidence and worthily bestowed. Dr. Vinson has proven himself to be well fitted for the place and his record though brief, appears to be of a high order. He has shown to everyone who have the good sense to observe the Governor and his hordes of appointees including others who hope to receive favor before his term expires in Texas. It is only when he happens to be one of the Governor's latest additions to the Board and who is authorized evidently, to speak with authority has disillusioned us and we now expect that the Board of Regents meet in October to witness the final act in the tragedy of the scenes of which are laid in political infamy.

WHY THE GUNNER?
It is noted that the governor of Texas had occasion to appear before the Travis county grand jury in Austin.
The dispatches tell us that attending him were five members of the grand jury.
Even when the legislature was in session it was observed from time to time that one or more armed men were always at the governor's side.

He was thus attended in passing from the mansion to his office, from his office to the mansion, and, indeed, whenever he went from one place to another.

Not long ago he was in Houston and sure enough this armed guard was near him at all times.
Of course, if the reason the governor's life is in danger he ought to be protected, but what is the occasion for the chief executive of Texas to surround himself with armed men?

What does he fear?
Why does he fear?
When does he fear?
Nothing of this kind has ever happened in Texas before. Our governors have always heretofore felt safe against assassination or attack.
The people of Texas have never in disgraced such hostilities in their governors. It was deemed necessary for them to submit the State to the expense of employing gunmen.

Of course, an appointed guard to be guard, because there are anarchists and cranks who are mischievous and presidents have been assassinated.
But the governor of Texas has never been assassinated nor has any attempt ever been made upon a Texas governor's life, and surely the shining mark that the disordered brain of an anarchist chooses as a victim is the governor in any situation we have in Texas.

It is not a spectacle to excite the pride of the law-abiding citizens of Texas to behold their governor going about with an armed guard.

1914 and 1916. Unfortunately this cannot be done. The only relief now

PART PLAYED BY NEWSPAPERS.
In a letter to Congressmen at large Garrett announced some proposed legislation affecting newspaper publishers,
Marcellus E. Foster of the Houston
Chronicle has this to say:
"The United States government could make little or no progress in its present fight for the world's freedom without the aid of the press of this country. We have seen this aid freely and without hope of reward or financial recompense. In the matter of the Liberty Loan we came to the rescue of the government, and that loan could not have been made popular, nor could it have been oversubscribed, had it not been for the fact that the newspapers gave their editorial endorsement and gave columns after columns and pages
page of space for impressing the necessity and value of the Liberty Bonds.

In the matter of registration we came to the aid of the government, and in the matter of recruits our columns have been thrown open for the use of the War Department in all its branches day after day and week after week.

HOW ONE TEXAS FARMER
BEAT THE DRY WEATHER
He lived on the black, waxy prairie land almost due north of Dallas in a county that bordered on Red river.
His corn crop failed completely, but he never gave up.

Several of The Times subscribers are spending the heated season in the various mountain and seaside resorts have been kind enough to send us picture post cards showing to some extent what they are enjoying, and some few suggesting that we follow their example and do likewise. But we can't—for more reasons than can be enumerated. In the first place, we feel absolutely sure that it is not safe for you to stay on the job and keep the wheels of commerce buzzing and humming during the absence of our city builders, and even after they return we generally find that our finances are so low that they will not permit an outing of more than twenty four hours duration. Yes, the scenery is great, but it is not for us.

THE NEW ENGLAND SENATORS
General Gorras is not only the surgeon-general of the army, he is an authority of worldwide reputation on camp hygiene. By his mastery of the medical phases of the labor question in a tropical jungle, he made possible the building of the Panama canal.
The New England senators who have it more than once. We may see it this year.

June corn, milo maize, Spanish pen-nuts and soy beans will make a crop in about 100 days. Other crops mature about as follows: Sudan grass, 45 days; feterita, 45 days; New Era,
or hay pea (blue speckled), 65 days;
black-eyed and whippoorwill peas, 75
days; butter beans, small variety, 75 days. These crops can be grown practically anywhere in Texas if they are sown up by the end of the first week in August—only a little rain or more is needed. Some have been grown when up even later.

A trip to the country surrounding Wichita Falls leaves the impression on all who have made it that the acreage planted to cotton this year is by far greater than ever before, and that the condition of the crop is just about as good as ever has been heretofore.
Many who are in position to judge
such matters are free to predict that Wichita county will produce this year between 18,000 and 20,000 bales of cotton. The crop of last year was out-produced 8,000 bales, and the largest crop ever produced was 16,000 bales. If the price holds up, and our calculations are right, it will mean that about $2,000,000 dollars will be realized from the sale of cotton by Wichita county cotton producers this year. In addition to the money for the cotton,
the seed is almost sure to sell around $60 per ton.

WHEN IT WILL END.
At the beginning of the great war
The Times made a prediction that it would be ended in six months. Well, it has not been ended in six months,
but our guess. The Times at that time was not quite so well posted on the war situation as it now has reason to believe it is, and is therefore going to risk its reputation as a prophet once more by saying that in less than sixty days Germany is going to make a proposition for peace that the allies are going to deem worthy of consideration, and after a sufficient length of time passed in which to hold conferences, during which time an armistice will be declared, the war will end.
This result, in the judgment of the Times, cannot be delayed longer than January 1, 1918. Germany is getting her eyes opened. The day the American Congress gave President Wilson its backing by adopting the conscription or draft law Germany's cause began to lose, and has continued to lose every day since that time. That very act seems to have taken all the enthusiasm out of the Germans.

Dr. Vinson, president of the State University, was not dismissed by the board of regents at its recent meeting, and friends of the University
therefore jumped to the conclusion that he would be retained. But according to an interview given the San Antonio Express by Regent John Mathis, that is not to be the case. Mr. Mathis says, or is quoted as saying, that President Vinson would be retained only until the October meeting of the situation. At this work it now appears this country has succeeded wonderfully in that there is every evidence that something is taking place in Germany that is causing the war lords and the landed aristocracy of that country to lose their grip.

board of regents. From that, we take it, the Governor is not going to quit the fight until he cleans the slate and has a faculty that will conduct the State University along lines laid down by himself. The people who made him governor must take the responsibility for his acts.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo says another Liberty loan of from five to seven billion dollars is to be floated. Over sixty per cent of the two billion loan has already been paid in.
But this need not worry those who have about all they can do to make ends meet. It seems to be the idea of this administration to require at the hands of those who have made the profits bear their full share of the burden, and if this is done there should be but little difficulty of the government placing almost any amount of bonds that might be necessary to carry on this war to a successful conclusion.

The war dispatches are authority for the statement that a goodly number of the French and British wounded will be sent to hospitals in the United States to be nursed back to health. That is all right. Uncle Sam is willing and amply able to care for all the French and British wounded soldiers that might be sent over here.
But the thing that hurts us most is why in thunder don't England and France retaliate on Germany by requiring German prisoners of war to work. That's what Germany is doing with the British and French prisoners of war. If Germany and France can't handle them that way, they might as well send a few over here to be used in the construction of good roads. If there is no law that will permit this. Congress should lose no time in making a law that will cover the case.

German spying and plotting is said to be the prime cause for treason in the Russian army. Immediately following the declaration of war on Germany the first effective work accomplished by the government at Washington was to direct attention to the spys and plotters of Germany in this country. Things occurring now in Russia show beyond any question of doubt what would have happened in the United States had not President Wilson seen the danger and proceeded in the right and proper way to nip it in the bud.

Now, that the Legislature has been called to meet in extraordinary session on August 1, by the speaker of the House, F. O. Fuller, of Colo Springs, San Jacinto county, it has been asserted that such power does not rest with the speaker, and further, that in the event the legislators do obey the summons the state is without power to compensate them for their services. On that matter the State Constitution, Article 15, says:

Section 1. The power of impeachment shall be vested in the House of Representatives. Section 2. Impeachment of the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, treasurer, commissioner of the general land office, comptroller and the judges of the supreme court, court of appeals and district courts shall be tried by the Senate. Section 3. When the Senate is sitting as a court of impeachment the senators shall be on oath, or affirmation, impartially to try the party impeached, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the senators present. Section 4. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall extend only to removal from office and disqualification from holding any office of honor, trust or profit under this state, but a person convicted on impeachment shall also be subject to indictment, trial and punishment, according to law. Section 5. All officers against whom articles of impeachment may be preferred shall be suspended from the exercise of the duties of their office during the pendency of such impeachment. Section 6. The president shall be appointed to fill the vacancy occasioned by the suspension of an officer until the decision of the impeachment.

TEUTON VS. ANGLI-SAXON.

We in the United States have read so much of German efficiency and of the achievements of the German arm that we have gotten the idea that Germany is invincible; that her soldiers are superior to those of any other nation. The only fault with the theory thus derived is that it is untrue. Facts do not bear out the view that the German soldier is the superior of any other soldier, individual or mass. Facts show conclusively that when confronted by equal numbers and similar artillery support, the Germans invariably lose.

We shall proceed to demonstrate the point. The only victories won by Germany in the early days of the war, when by sheer weight of numbers they overwhelmed the opposition and got so far as the Marne on the road to Paris. Since then they have been able to do nothing on the western front. They failed to take Verdun from an inferior French force. They have lost many miles of territory taken in their initial drive. They were practically all along the North Sea-Switzerland line.

But let us compare the Teuton with the Angli-Saxon. As just the British retreat from Mons in 1914, when General Fremont and his 50,000 men against some 600,000 Germans, the Germans took some 15,000 British prisoners. They have since in different engagements on the western front taken an equal number of Germans, and 34,000 British prisoners. During the war less than seventy guns of all calibres have been taken from the British by the Germans.

On the other hand, England holds now about 80,000 German prisoners, taken on the western front. The British have captured more than 100,000 men, with ammunition, and innumerable machine guns, and have driven the Germans many miles toward their own borders. British losses have been smaller than those of the Germans. All of these things have been accomplished by the manly and pitiful and contemptible.

In a few months more other Angli-Saxons in this time Americans will be pitted against Teutons, and the superiority holds. We think it will be exceeded, once our soldiers get into the game.

Separate bills have been introduced in the House. He has not even begun to learn how to fight when opposed by an equal number of men of American France or England. His prowess has always depended upon his weight of numbers and superior equipment, and nothing else. When we have overcome this condition the war will be over.—Beaumont Enterprise.

SPEAKER FULLER CALLS THE HOUSE

(Houston Post.) The Hon. F. O. Fuller, speaker of the House of Representatives of Texas, has called that body to assemble in Austin on August 1, to consider a situation of fundamental consequence, involving as it does the continuance of the University of Texas as an institution of the first class, as the constitution and the law directs, and likewise certain acts of the governor of Texas which involve his personal and official integrity in such a way as to render a thorough investigation by the House of Representatives imperative. The plight of the university is quite well known to the Legislature and the people, as well as the events which have brought about its embarrassment and requires no exhaustive discussion at this time. Separate bills have been introduced from the university question is a charge against the good faith and integrity of the governor in the matter of locating the new West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college provided for by the present legislature in its regular session.

The known facts are that when the second ballot of the locating board was taken, it was announced that Ablene had secured the necessary three votes. Subsequently three members of the board, majority decided that they did not vote for Ablene on the second ballot. To this declaration they have made affidavit, and the governor has refused their demand to reconvene the board.

It is likewise charged that, in spite of the action of the highest court upon the motion for a rehearing in the matter of expenditures by the governor which the courts have decided were without the warrant of law, he has failed to return the sums thus illegally expended to the treasury.

The speaker declares there are other charges which will be made at the proper time. The assembling of the House of Representatives in an extraordinary session in their sovereign capacity to inquire into the conduct of the governor, and his fitness to serve the State further in the capacity of chief executive officer is a duty which in consequence to the people of the state and to the governor.

If the governor has exceeded his authority and committed acts which are unlawful and inconsistent with honorable public service, the people have a right to know it and they have a right to seek remedies as may be necessary in a matter of this kind.

If the governor is innocent of wrong doing, a full, free and fair investigation is essential to the indication of his good name and to his further usefulness as a public servant.

It is assumed that he will court inquiry into his acts and if he assumed the House of Representatives will discharge the grave duties for which they have been called together, thoroughly, fearlessly and fairly.

The speaker stresses the duty of their love of justice to suspend judgment and to disregard the multitude of rumors which they have heard and await the action of the House which may be either the dismissal of the charges or their presentation to the Senate sitting as a high court of impeachment.

All will agree that the truth ought to be ascertained in a matter of this kind if its sacred interests have been violated; in justice to the governor if his conduct has been above reproach.

FRENCH MAKING BIG GAINS FOR THE AMERICAN ARMY

The following is taken from the Official Bulletin, of the United States government: American armies in Europe are to be supplied with large field guns from French gun factories, according to the following announcement, which was prepared at the War Department:

It can be imagined that the supply of fighting material—arms, ammunition, and the like—needed by the American armies in Europe, and as it is desirable and practicable to have uniformity of ammunition supply, the guns now on hand for firing French ammunition, and the training of our troops, and the ammunition for them will be expended in the necessary target practice. As these demonstrations are to be held in the near future, it will be necessary to have on hand a sufficient quantity of ammunition for the necessary target practice. The growth of the automobile industry has done to the harness dealer and the carriage and buggy maker in Wichita Falls, as well as in other cities where gentlemen were in clover long ago they are wearing crepe on their heels. A few years ago, before this city had paved streets and before the county roads were in good condition, there were several dealers in harness and carriage material in Wichita Falls. The harness dealer and the carriage and buggy maker were the mainstay of the industry. The harness dealer and the carriage and buggy maker were the mainstay of the industry.

EXPECT BERNSTORFF TO PLAY LEADING ROLE IN GERMANY

COUNT JOHANN VON BERNSTORFF

According to reports reaching America from neutral cities in Europe, Count Johann von Bernstorff will play a very important part in the reorganization of the German government. All American newspaper readers remember von Bernstorff as the German ambassador to the United States until relations were broken off with the Imperial government who knows America thoroughly, opposed the break between the two countries until the very last. It is believed, Count von Bernstorff is American born and was Miss Jane Luckemeyer of New York. He served his country as a diplomat in many countries before becoming ambassador to the United States in 1908. The picture was made shortly before he left the United States.

able for other than her own necessities. The ordnance department has taken advantage of the automobile and has placed with the French government orders for the manufacture of an initial supply of field pieces of the most necessary types, and of the most thoroughly demonstrated efficiency, namely, the 75 mm. gun and the 155 mm. howitzer (about 2 inches and 8 inches, respectively, in caliber).

REGULATIONS GOVERNING PHYSICAL EXAMINATION OF THOSE DRAFTED

The Times will publish in installments from day to day the regulations governing the physical examination of those called by the army draft. The first installment follows:

1. It is important to begin with, that the examining physician should realize that there will be a certain proportion of men among those presenting themselves for examination who will endeavor to obtain exemption by dissimulation, varying from exaggeration of an existing condition not disqualifying to downright malingering. He should be prepared to protect the government and himself against such attempts at deception.

2. The physical examination should take place in a large, well lighted room. The person examined is to be stripped. The examining physician should proceed in substantially the following order, viz:

Observe the general condition of the skin, scalp, cranium, ears, eyes, nose, mouth, face, neck and chest. Take weight, height and chest measurement. Take all the measurements as follows, all chest measurements to be taken on a level just above the nipple:

Table with columns: Height (Feet, Inches), Weight (Lbs.), Chest measurement (Inches), Mobility (Inches), Variations Permissible.

The following variations below the standard given in the table are permissible, when the applicant is active, has firm muscles and is evidently vigorous and healthy.

Height-Inches. Chest at expiration-Inches. Pounds. 64 and under 64 ----- 1 8 65 and under 65 ----- 2 8 66 and under 66 ----- 3 8 67 and under 67 ----- 4 8 68 and under 68 ----- 5 8 69 and under 69 ----- 6 8 70 and under 70 ----- 7 8 71 and upward ----- 8 8

WILL HOGG SUGGESTS SOME QUESTIONS TO BE ASKED GOV. FERGUSON

Austin, Texas, July 16.—When asked today by a student in a class in response to Governor Ferguson's attack on the University at Valley Mills last Friday, the Hon. Will C. Hogg, secretary of the Ex-Students Association of the University of Texas, suggested the following questions to be asked Governor Ferguson:

- (1) Why do you compare the University expense per capita and the University per teacher with institutions of the same class in Texas or in other states rather than receive by false comparisons of such items of expense in primary schools or in intermediate colleges?
(2) Why do you define in fairly intelligible terms your notion of a University of the first-class—your recent action would indicate that your conception is confined to a school of arts, one on one professor $300 per year, and the 23 school of mines?
(3) Why do you continue to say that the University is a rich man's school when you now, or ought to know, that over 40 per cent of the students are from the poorest of our people?

HUMAN INTEREST IN THE STORIES OF U. OF T. STUDENTS

Austin, Texas, July 16.—Nearly every one of the many stories of young men and women who have worked their way through college in Wichita, Texas, are filled with phases of extraordinary human interest. The one given below is not an exception to this rule, and it is a story that is being completed by penniless youth who is backed by determined will and pursues the proper course in whatever line of work he may decide to do. It is a story that is being read and read as follows:
'Do not say that you can't do it until you learn something of what you are talking about. Your idea that it is impossible for you to get a college education is all bosh, and it is because that reason that I am going to make this letter rather lengthy, it is not a matter of dollars and cents, but it is a matter of ambition and determination. The dollars and cents can be taken away from you, but if you have the ambition and are determined, then you may win. I am a student of the University of Texas next fall. Just to show that what I have said is a cold fact, and not merely my idea of the thing, I will give you a little of my history before I begin my coming to the University of Texas.

'Free Germany, but with a Germany dominated by autocracy, declares the premier, there never could be peace.

THE CONDITIONS IN GERMANY FAR FROM OPTIMISTIC

Washington, July 21.—Quite different in tone from the optimistic view expressed by the new German chancellor in his speech to the Reichstag are reports reaching the state department from persons coming out of Germany regarding food conditions and the outlook of the Central empire.
These reports say Germany lacks 600,000 tons of wheat to carry the population to the middle of August when the new harvest can be gathered in. Even potatoes promise only a minimum production. Many persons are starving in Poland.

SPEAKER FULLER MAKES AFFIDAVIT AS TO HIS VOTE

Houston, Texas, July 25.—The affidavit of Speaker Fuller as to the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college is as follows:

The State of Texas, County of Harris, F. O. Fuller of Cold Springs, San Jacinto county, Texas, having first been duly sworn on his oath, does depose and say:

"When the locating board of the West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college met in Austin on the 29th day of June to select a site, it was first argued that all proceedings should be in executive session and that nothing should be given out by the members of the board except the result of the ballot.

"Each member then entered into a discussion of the various sites. Governor Ferguson expressed a decided preference for the city of Abilene. Superintendent Doughty indicated that there were several good sites, but that his preference was Abilene. Lieutenant Governor Hobby expressed a preference in favor of either San Angelo or Amarillo. Commissioner Davis stated that he was undecided as to whether the college should be located on or off the plains. He did not express a preference for any city; he stated that he would not vote for Lubbock because someone at that place had made him some offer for his vote and influence.

Objection Made to Abilene.

"One of the greatest objections urged to the location of the college at Abilene was on account of the insufficient water supply. Commissioner Davis presented to the committee a report from some authority stating that it was practically to bring the water from a certain dam site some distance from Abilene, and Davis indicated that he was advised that it was practical to supply Abilene with water from the proposed dam site but he did not indicate that he would vote for Abilene.

"I expressly advised the committee that I was for Haskell first and Snyder second, and went into details as to my reason for supporting either one of these locations.

"The vote was taken by ballot, each member writing the name of a town on a slip of paper; the ballots were received in a hat.

"The first ballot resulted in two votes for Abilene, one vote for Haskell, one vote for Snyder and one vote for San Angelo; the second ballot stood three for Abilene, one for Snyder and one for Haskell, my first choice. I cast my first vote for that city, but as Haskell received only one vote on the first ballot and no member of the committee had at any time expressed a preference for Haskell, I cast my vote on the second ballot for Snyder for the reason that Snyder was my second choice and this place had received one vote on the first ballot. I thought that by voting for Snyder on the second ballot my second choice would be selected.

Abilene Receives Three Votes.

"When Abilene received three votes on the second ballot, I naturally thought that either Davis or Governor Hobby voted for Abilene.

"Later a motion prevailed to make the vote unanimous for Abilene, and by a viva voce vote the motion prevailed.

"A motion then prevailed requiring Abilene to execute a $50,000 bond, conditioned that the city of Abilene should carry out certain agreements to bring water to be furnished the college. The board then adjourned, subject to the call of the chairman.

"Shortly after the adjournment of the board I was informed that Lieutenant Governor Hobby and Commissioner Davis had made statements as to how they had voted, and I requested by certain newspaper men to make a similar statement. I first declined to make any statement whatever, because of the agreement for an executive session. However, when I learned that it was true that Commissioner Davis and Governor Hobby had made statements with reference to their votes, I stated to the press that I did not vote for Abilene and on the same day advised several of my friends living at Snyder and other places that I voted for Haskell on the first ballot and Snyder on the second ballot.

"I returned home on the 30th of June, and on the first day of July I wired a delegation of citizens from San Angelo and Lubbock—then in Austin—that I favored a reconvening of the board.

"On July 2 I wired Governor Ferguson that I would be in Austin the following Friday for a conference with him, and on the same day wired Governor Hobby and Commissioner Davis urging upon them the necessity of having the board reconvened.

"On July 3 I wired Governor Hobby that I would be in Austin on the following Friday morning, and requested him to meet me there.

Hobby Misses Meeting.

"On July 4 Governor Hobby advised me by wire that if I wanted to have a meeting of the board in Austin on Friday he would go, but suggested that I meet him in Houston Thursday and discuss the matter and determine, if necessary, to go to Austin; and on the same day I answered him by wire and requested that he meet me at the Brazos hotel in Houston at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, and stated that I had wired Governor Ferguson that I preferred the location of Abilene as fairly made, the committee advised that Governor Hobby would make any reservation

I arrived in Houston and was at the Brazos hotel at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, but failed to meet Governor Hobby. I have been advised since that time that Governor Hobby did not arrive at the hotel on time and for some reason we failed to meet. The proof is evident, however, that our failure to meet was an accident.

"I went on to Austin Thursday morning, Friday morning I called on the governor and tried to prevail on him to reconvene the board. After several conferences with the governor with reference to reconvening the board, the governor finally stated that he had a conference with Governor Hobby the day before at the Rice hotel in Houston, Texas, in which conference Governor Hobby had indicated that he thought that the location was fair, honest, etc., and that Governor Hobby did not favor a reconvening of the board, and the governor suggested that he thought it was for the best interest of the college that the matter be not reopened, but that the board issue a statement which the governor, Governor Hobby would be anxious to sign the statement, and that he would call Governor Hobby over the phone and get permission to affix his signature to same. With this assurance the statement was signed. At no time was the location of Abilene as fairly made, the committee advised that Governor Hobby would make any reservation procedure would meet with absolute approval of Governor Hobby, and that Hobby would give a dollar to be able to sign the statement personally.

Appeared Regular on Face.

"So far as the election appeared to me—while I did not see the ballots—yet upon its face, everything appeared to be regular, honest and fair, and as Governor Hobby, as I thought, desired to close the matter by the issuance of the statement, I advised the governor to call in Commissioner Davis and Superintendent Doughty and Commissioner Davis thought that it was the proper thing to do to issue such a statement provided Governor Hobby would sign same. Superintendent Doughty assented to the statement unless Governor Hobby, who was then in Houston, would join in the statement.

"The governor advised Doughty that Governor Hobby would be anxious to sign the statement, and that he would call Governor Hobby over the phone and get permission to affix his signature to same. With this assurance the statement was signed. At no time was the location of Abilene as fairly made, the committee advised that Governor Hobby would make any reservation not file affidavits that they had voted for Abilene.

"When this matter was called to my attention I again stated to my friends as to how I had voted on the first and second ballots, and stated to the press that I was willing to make my affidavit, but I did not vote for Abilene on either the first or the second ballot, and immediately thereafter executed an affidavit to that effect.

"I have reconvened a conference with Governor Hobby, and he informs me that Governor Ferguson told him over the telephone on the day the statement was signed, that I had admitted to him having voted for Abilene, and Governor Ferguson thought it would be best for them all to issue a statement so that the matter would be dropped. I have no doubt that Governor Ferguson made the statement to Governor Hobby.

"The statement that I voted for Abilene on either the first or second ballot, is an unqualified falsehood and no one has any better reason to know it than Governor Ferguson. I have sought in every way to have this matter reopened and would have continued to insist upon it in Austin except for the facts above stated.

"To leave the matter in its present form, when three members of the board have signed affidavits showing that there was either a mistake in the original count, or a deliberate fraud, is a disgrace to the state. If there was a mistake in the count, it is a fraud now upon the people of this state, and on the committee, for the governor to fail to recall the committee for a fair and open vote as to the location.

REVOLUTIONARY ELEMENTS ARE AT WORK IN FRANCE

By Associated Press.
Paris, July 23.—Revolutionary elements have engaged in propaganda in France to discourage soldiers and develop a demand for a premature peace, according to Senator Clemenceau, who at a meeting of the upper house of Parliament today, vigorously attacked Mr. Marby, minister of the interior, accusing him of neglecting to take necessary measures against these persons.

Mr. Clemenceau averred that these revolutionists had preached the organization in France of a soldiers and workmen's committee similar to that in Russia. Premier Ribot closed the debate with an ardent defense of Marby. He said the organization of workmen should not be held responsible for the action of anarchists who crept in among them.

NATURE AND PURPOSES PROPOSED RECLAMATION AMENDMENT

The Times has received the following statement of the nature and purposes of the proposed reclamation Constitutional amendment from the Texas Conservation and Reclamation Association:

The Constitutional amendment to be voted on August 21 next, provides for the reclamation of overflow lands, irrigation of arid lands, drainage, etc., amounting to something like thirty-five million acres, all told, in the State of Texas. The average present value of such lands is $5.00 to $10.00 per acre; the average reclaimed value named in the Reclamation Department is $25 to $35 per acre—based on actual production of lands that have been reclaimed.

A representative body of progressive citizens, interested in the welfare of Texas, have gotten together solely for the patriotic purpose of furthering the passage of this amendment. They are all contributing their time and money voluntarily without a dollar of remuneration—because they consider this movement one of the greatest forward strides ever taken by the citizens of Texas in their great march of progress.

Under the present law (passed down to us in about 1876) the matter of securing bonds for reclamation purposes is very difficult. The Constitution permits only 25 per cent of the assessed value of the land to be issued in bonds—hence, if 25 per cent is needed, the assessed value must be $100, and the State, County, Road and other taxes paid on this rendition. Hence you will readily see how the land owner, who undertakes to levee or irrigate his land under the present law, is penalized. To say the least of it, it is very discouraging to the average farmer and land owner.

This amendment makes possible the removal of the present restrictions as to reclamation work. It also makes possible the bonding and, therefore, the building of protective levees along full river courses, extensive irrigation drainage systems, etc., at the expense of same to be distributed equitably among those who receive the benefit and then only after the measure has received the majority vote of the district proposing such improvements. It is further proposed that such districts shall be laid out by the state, at the coming session of the legislature—the majority vote on August 21 next being the mandate of the people to the State Legislature.

No intelligent voter will vote against this amendment when he understands it and sees the wonderful benefits to be derived thereunder, but he is not going to take the time to investigate at this busy season of the year. The general tendency is to vote against any constitutional amendment, therefore it is in this great work of educating the voters as to the tremendous benefits to be gained by voting for this amendment on August 21, that we most sincerely solicit your assistance and co-operation, which we feel sure we will have.

Its passage is of tremendous importance; it will add materially to the development of our community and

LEADING LAWYERS BELIEVE FULLER'S CALL IS LEGAL

Austin, Texas, July 27.—As a result of the conference which was held yesterday by a score or more of the leading lawyers of Texas an opinion was prepared to the effect that the call of Speaker F. O. Fuller, convening the House of Representatives to inquire into the matter of impeaching Governor Ferguson, is legal in every respect. Among those who participated in the conference were Judge A. Williams of Galveston, former associate justice of the supreme court; Judge W. A. Steadman of Austin; Judge H. B. Marsh of Tyler; Perry Lewis and Chester Terrell of San Antonio; C. K. Lee of Fort Worth; T. P. Bluffington of Anderson; Marion Levy of Galveston and others.

The opinion follows:
"We have been requested to state our opinion upon the question now exciting public interest, whether the House of Representatives of Texas has the power under the constitution to meet for the purpose of inquiring whether or not the governor ought to be impeached, and in case the inquiry should be resolved in the affirmative of preferring articles of impeachment, and we consider it a public duty to respond. Having given the question the best thought of which we are capable and examined such authorities as could be obtained, we answer that in our opinion, the power is clear.

"Under section 9 of article 3 of the Constitution the House of Representatives becomes an organized body when at the first meeting after an election it elects a speaker and other officers. It is from that time forth, at least, capable of receiving and executing any power conferred on it by the Constitution. By section 1 of article 3, it is provided: 'That power of impeachment shall be vested in the House of Representatives.'

"This vests the power in the collective body. The House must be assembled to exercise the power. Hence there is no escape from the conclusion that it may assemble whenever it may impeach, for it is an undisputed principle of law as well as of logic, that the grant of a power to do a thing carries with it as its incidents every other power essential to the doing of that thing. Here, then, is the power to impeach and hence the power to assemble in order to impeach.

"Relates to Legislature Only.
"But it is provided in section 5 of article III: 'The Legislature shall meet every two years, at such time as may be provided by law and at other times when convened by the Governor.' It may be conceded that this is an inhibition against meeting of the Legislature, as such, except at the biennial sessions and—at such other times as may be fixed by the Governor, but by its express terms, it relates alone to the Legislature. The Legislature is composed of a House and a Senate, in session at the same time and place. Without both, there can be no Legislature, but there can be a House of Representatives and a Senate at other times to execute any power elsewhere conferred on it. This power to impeach is elsewhere conferred upon the House and the power to try is elsewhere conferred on the Senate. These are not legislative powers, but are powers independent of those exercised by the two houses jointly when acting as a legislature.

"Governor Not Authorized.
"Under the article last referred to, the Governor may call the Legislature in special session, but there is nowhere a provision for him to call the House alone, or the Senate alone. This view is carried out by section 40 of article 3, which prohibits legislation at a called session upon subjects other than those designated by the Governor.

"It is to be observed that it is legislation that is here inhibited and not the exercise of the power of impeachment elsewhere in the same instrument conferred upon the House, nor of the power to try elsewhere, likewise conferred on the Senate.

"To Check Frequent Changes.
"The well-known purpose of the provision limiting the sessions of the Legislature and the subjects which may be dealt with at a special session, shown by its history, is to put a check upon too frequent changes in the laws by hasty and ill-considered legislation and the consequent disturbance of business interests. The provision, therefore, relates only to meetings of the Legislature for legislative purposes and not to any meeting of one of the houses elsewhere authorized by the constitution.

"House Accuses, Senate Judges.
"Under the article on impeachment, the House accuses and the Senate condemns or acquits. In neither function is there anything of a legislative character. The House, composed of representatives of the people, inquire whether or not their officers have been faithful in duty, and, if sufficient cause exists, prefer articles of impeachment. The Senate merely tries the accused, acting as a court of impeachment.

"Impeachment Power Complete.
"Not only is there no express inhibition against the exercise of these powers when the Legislature, as such, is not in session, but there is no just reason why there should be. The power of impeachment is intended to be complete and as broad as any necessity that may exist for its exercise. It is not made dependent upon other provisions of the constitution putting limitations upon the power of legislation for to have made it so would have been to defeat its purpose. A new governor comes into office with a new Legislature. No provision is made for any session of a Legislature without call of the Governor, except the regular session held just after the election. The Governor comes in to office at a time eighty later, and it would rarely be the case that any occasion would arise during the time of this one session for the Legislature to institute any inquiry into the conduct of the governor.

"All other sessions of the Legislature depend upon the will of the Governor, and to say that he cannot be impeached at any session except the regular session, or at one which he has called, is virtually to put the control of the matter in his hands. To commit a man, who ought to be impeached, the power to determine whether the body clothed with the authority to impeach shall meet for that purpose, would be to leave it to a guilty man to decide whether he shall be tried. Certainly no implication should be raised to support such a proposition, and there is no expressed limitation in the constitution upon the power of impeachment such as some contend for.

"Provisions Are Separate.
"It is obvious from a study of the Constitution that some of its provisions are directed at the Legislature and others at the houses separately; the article upon impeachment is one of the latter. Another is found in section 10 of article III, which provides: 'Two thirds of each House shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day and compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.' This expressly relates to each house and each house has the powers and capacities given to it therein. It will be observed that one of these powers is 'to do business,' but any business which the House is empowered to do and may be called upon to do, so that it is plainly a provision governing the House of Representatives or Senate whenever acting as such.

"(Signed) F. A. Williams, Galveston; Perry J. Lewis, San Antonio; Thoms B. Greenwood, Palestine; N. A. Steadman, Austin; H. B. Marsh, Tyler; V. L. Brooks, Austin."

FORT WORTH STIRRED BY STORY OF ASSAULT

Fort Worth, Texas, July 27.—Lured from her mother's side by the tempting thoughts of candy promised her, the eight-year-old daughter of Mrs. Nellie Owens, stopping over in Fort Worth, while en route to Waurika, Okla., Wednesday night was taken to a room in a local hotel and there made drunk by being forced to drink beer and then it is alleged she was brutally assaulted.

The proprietor of the hotel, attracted by her cries, sent endeavoring to repulse her assailant, ran out in search of the police to arrest a man who had registered at a hotel a few minutes before, accompanied by the little girl, saying she was his daughter. HOW MANY GERMAN U-BOATS?

Carl Snyder in Collier's Weekly.

At the outbreak of the war Germany had in commission or building between eight and ten submarines.

So, as a conservative estimate, it is probable that Germany has not many more than 150 submarines in service, and the number may be actually less.

Of the submarines counted as in service only about one-third that number can be kept on the fighting line.

On the same day that Governor Ferguson challenged the authority of Speaker Fuller to call a special session of the legislature to consider the question of bringing impeachment charges against him, a number of eminent attorneys were making public their joint opinion that such authority was vested in the speaker of the House.

In Thrall's "History of Texas," we thus read: "During the administration of President Lamar, in 1838, 2,000 acres of land were set aside for a university."

Senator Smoot finds that war expenditures already authorized total $9,000,000,000 and that the additional estimates and deficiencies amount to the total of $17,000,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year of 1918.

GOVERNMENT OF THE UNIVERSITY.

(From the Waco Times-Herald)

In Thrall's "History of Texas," we thus read: "During the administration of President Lamar, in 1838, 2,000 acres of land were set aside for a university. The whole government of the institution is committed to a board of eight regents to be named by the governor and confirmed by the senate, and to hold office for eight years, divided into classes, two going out of office every two years."

Editor of The Times: "Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed. That he is grown so great."

That he is grown so great. The sage of San Jacinto county, the Hon. F. C. Fuller, speaker of the House of Representatives of Texas, has called that body to convene in extraordinary session in Austin on August 1 to consider what he deems to be matters of vital importance to the State.

WHAT YOU MUST DO NEXT. As soon as quotas are assigned to each State and each board, each board will call upon persons whose cards are in its jurisdiction.

According to the controller, the state tax for this year will be thirty-five cents, which is the highest we have ever had, and even this won't pay all of Texas' debts.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN COLLAPSE.

Houston Post.

The Russian collapse of the Russian offensive in Galicia has surprised intelligent observers of the progress of the war.

Events show that the Russian army has neither the morale nor the strength for a sustained offensive.

The general prospect is again before us that the United States must come into the conflict with all of its available fighting strength and financial resources.

The speaker's fourth reason why the Legislature should be assembled and the Governor impeached is, that the Governor has vetoed the appropriations made by the Legislature for the University.

Mr. W. McClintock, Treasurer of the House of Representatives, has estimated the cost of the war to be $17,000,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year of 1918.

It is stated, too, that the raising of a second army of 300,000 men by the selective draft system is already being planned, indicating that in Washington there is little hope of an early peace.

Senator Smoot finds that war expenditures already authorized total $9,000,000,000 and that the additional estimates and deficiencies amount to the total of $17,000,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year of 1918.

All these symptoms point to a vast draft upon the potential resources of the country. Unless there is an early solution of the submarine problem, the low purchasing power of the dollar in the United States will pile an almost insupportable burden upon the country.

"DUTCHESS OF DOUBT"

"I took the chances they wouldn't," runs a line of Kipling's and how they are calling it luck. Clover Ames, country girl though she was, had it in her to take a chance—a big chance to win happiness. She escaped from the tyranny of her aunt's household when a small inheritance came to her conceiving at the same time the idea of posing as a lady of fashion. She had sense enough to find out thoroughly before she played her cards, just how the upper half of society departed itself. But in spite of all her plans, things which started so auspiciously, didn't quite come up to expectations. That is, for a while, for before Clover had finished her game enough incidents had happened to make a thoroughly entertaining and out-of-the-ordinary screen play.

"CLOVER'S REBELLION"

A light, refreshing play, picturing the "inside" of modern society as it really is—showing all is not gold that glitters, and that happiness and riches do not always go hand in hand.

plays Clover Ames, who is a drudge for her aunt. Clover has to be "chief cook and bottle-washer," and screen patrons are treated to a sight of the exquisite Emmy Wehlen cooking flapjacks in the kitchen. The flapjacks burn, too, and Clover gets a scolding. Clover dreams of future grandeur and the dreams come true. She inherits money, and goes to a fashionable winter resort to spend it in one grand good time. Palm Beach, St. Augustine and Jacksonville, Florida, have provided the beautiful locations for these scenes, and in them Miss Wehlen wears some of those handsome "creations" for which she is justly famous, introducing the styles by way of the screen. The masterly photographs by Joseph Sheldorfer of this luxurious Southern makes of "The Duchess of Doubt," a true Metro wonderplay.

"WOMANHOOD" AT THE EMPRESS NEXT WEEK

Departing for the front, Philip Ward, fine specimen of young American manhood, had torn himself from the affectionate embrace of his fiancée, Alice Rentrow, the latter a delicate, sweet-faced girl who fairly worshipped him. The cruel edict of war had demanded their separation, he to do his duty, she to wait and pray.

However, her meeting was brought out by the country's peril, and instead of idling at home as she went also to the front as a Red Cross nurse. There she is wounded and disfigured by a shell that wrecks the church-hospital. Recovering she finds her beauty forever marred and realizes that she can give her lover nothing but a wreck of her former self. An anguish she decides to free him.

In the meantime something has happened to Philip. Fighting valiantly in the trenches he is rendered sightless for life. He is brought home and demands to be taken at once to Alice—to tell her to choose a whole, sound man. They meet, neither knowing of the disaster that has befallen the other.

This happens in a tear-compelling scene in "Womanhood. The Glory of a Nation," the great dramatic spectacle produced for the Vitaphone by J. Stuart Blackton. The roles are played by James Morrison and Peggy Hyland respectively with all the art which these two sterling players bring at their command. The production is the attraction at the Empress theatre, August 1 and 2.

The Plaza
A notice says: If your family comes of old stock; if you are one who would like to establish aristocracy in America; if you are so proud of your lineage that you have crests and ensigns everywhere you could find a place to attach a design—would you marry an actress? And if you are just "one of us"—a good, wholesome, clean, respectable American citizen—would you marry an actress? In either event there will be great interest for you in "Saving the Family Name," the bird-photoplay to be exhibited at the Plaza theatre tonight, with Mary Mac Laren, the pretty and soulful heroine of "Shoes," in the principal role. This is another production by the Smalleys, with Phillip Smalley appearing as Miss Mac Laren's leading man, and Lois Weber, who created "Hypocrites," and other famous photoplays, the director of the production. "Saving the Family Name" presents a new treatment of the ever interesting subject—the stage an theatrical life. It demonstrates the influence, for good or evil that women in the public eye have upon young men of wealth and position in society. It presents the actress in an entirely new light, offers logical reasons for her peculiar conduct and presents with the forcefulness of firm conviction, a purposeful and moral photoplay as the acme of good entertainment. The Smalleys have in this feature advanced no such problem as "Shoes" presented—but there is a tremendously vital point to be registered nevertheless. "Can an actress make a good wife?" In illustrating the plot the Smalleys have gone into their usual minute detail—the matter of production has been adequately and carefully considered and an excellent company in support of Miss Mac Laren and Mr. Smalley, give to every twist in the engaging plot the fullest demonstration that screen-artistry may afford.

SITUATION REGARDED AS SERIOUS IN WASHINGTON

Washington, July 27.—No attempt is made here to minimize the seriousness of the situation in the war theatres in Europe. The United States is in the war and will go through with it, but any hope of a short struggle has gone glimmering with the apparent almost complete collapse of the Russian war machine.

The development was not unexpected by many army officers. When the offensive of July 1 was started by the Russian forces, the most frequent comment heard here was that it was probably the dying kick of the old Russian machine. Most observers were frankly skeptical that it could produce any decided results.

For the United States the Russian collapse may have an immediate and direct bearing. It will, if the German general staff presses its advantage, release additional German forces to bolster up the western front, where American troops are to be engaged. The German line in the west has not been seriously impaired at any point officers here believe. They do not claim to know specifically the situation all along the battle front, but they are unable to see that the British and French have wrested from the Germans any key position of such importance that it can be used next year to hurl the enemy back toward the Rhine.

Jess Earp and A. B. Earp, prominent residents of Cottle county, came from Paducah last night for a short visit.

WICHITA FALLS ADVERTISED, AS WELL AS TRUCKS

Wichita Falls that chatty newsy publication of the Wichita Falls Motor Factory for June and July, was mailed out today from the factory's advertising department to many hundreds of folks in the United States and more than two score of other places on the globe where the Wichita is helping make the name of Wichita Falls famous. This latest number of the official organ has for the cover illustration a picture of a Wichita in Uncle Sam's service, an army truck loaded with supplies and soldier boys. This truck is used in San Francisco. The factory has made a bid on the government's order for trucks. However, this was made for patriotic purposes rather than any other, for the company has sufficient commercial orders to keep it going all the time without recourse to war orders.

BISHOP OF YORK FORESEES FAR-REACHING INDUSTRIAL CHANGE

Leeds, England.—The Most Reverend Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of York, is one of the most democratic bishops in England, and during the course of a speech at the Leeds Chamber of Commerce said he could not imagine the old system of private property in industry surviving long. Industrial changes after the war, he thought, would be far-reaching and it was inconsistent with the development of that democratic spirit which the war had helped to foster that the old system should continue. Cooperation between capital management and labor would be necessary, capital must be prepared to receive less and labor must be assured of its just reward. The most helpful method of securing this co-operation was to establish boards representative of capital and labor and success depended primarily on a new spirit in which each side would really try to appreciate the position and to sympathize with the problems of the other. Eugene Thompson wingless angel for the Southwestern Paper Co. of Dallas, was here yesterday and today. He had been out over the Valley line and was working his way back home.

ALLEDALE Allendale, Texas, July 27.—A few more days and threshing in this community will be a thing of the past. The field has been tight, but the sample of grain is good. Another good shower fell Monday night. W. P. Billingsley who has been sick for several weeks and has been at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ervan Deaton, at Wichita Falls, was able to be moved home Sunday, but his condition became worse Wednesday and he was taken back to Wichita Falls where he will stay for several days. Mrs. J. B. Sisk and two boys, Paul and Ernest, drove to Iowa Park Monday and spent the day with friends. Albert Thorburn, Dana and Benton Teataylor, Frank and Robert Aberdeen and Misses Grace and Nettie Good all of Iowa Park, were visitors Sunday at the G. M. Miller home. The boys of this community have been having some fine sport chasing wives with their dogs. Last week they caught five wives and ran several more. Ed. W. Napier went to Fort Worth yesterday on business connected with the training camp being established there.
