

FEE RECEIVED BY FULLER FIGURES IN TESTIMONY

SPEAKER TESTIFIES HE ACCEPTED MONEY TO 'CATCH GRAFTER'

A COURTHOUSE CONTRACT

Fuller Took Money to Secure Contract For Fort Worth Building Contractor.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Aug. 14.—A deal by which Speaker F. O. Fuller obtained an order for some time $2500 from E. E. Churchill, a Fort Worth contractor who was seeking in 1915 to build the new San Jacinto county courthouse at Cold Springs, figures in testimony today of Fuller's charges against James E. Ferguson. The money, Fuller said, was given to him ostensibly as an attorney's fee and was to be returned to Churchill if he did not land the contract. So far as he was concerned, he said, he took the money in order that he and County Judge William McMurray could "catch grafters" and it was later returned in whole when the county built the courthouse itself.

Questioned closely by W. A. Hanger, counsel for the governor, the speaker said he had not, in connection with his search for grafters, brought any one before the grand jury. The testimony concerning the San Jacinto courthouse building came up when Hanger asked Fuller during cross examination if it was not a fact that he was had pressed for money on July 6 of this year and the speaker replied that it was not.

"Isn't it a fact that E. E. Churchill of Fort Worth was trying to collect money from you on that date," queried the governor's counsel. "It is not a fact," the witness rejoined. Hanger then brought up an alleged contract between Churchill and Fuller whereby Fuller was to receive $3,000 for assisting Churchill in getting the courthouse contract. He, Fuller, said he did not recall that there was a contract but admitted that he was to receive the money. He was given $2500, he said, but he never paid any of the $2500 to anyone else and eventually gave $2500 to a bill, covering the remainder with a note.

FULLER LOOKS GOVERNOR IN EYE AS TESTIFIES

Austin, Texas, August 14.—Speaker F. O. Fuller, testified yesterday after he said he would testify with the West Texas and M. College locating board returning to Austin on June 27th at the conclusion of the tour.

Hobby came June 28, he said. He conferred with the governor, who sent for him by a Texas ranger, he said. The governor, he said, favored Abilene as the site for the school. "I advised the governor," said the witness, "that I favored either Haskell or Snyder. He objected to Haskell because of the water supply and to Snyder because the people there had not been friends to him."

Fuller said the water at Abilene was muddy. The witness said the governor told him: "Fuller, I want you to come along and help me to locate this school at Abilene. I'll help you to get to congress." That the governor asked him if he was interested in the East Texas normal and he replied he had no special interest in the matter, but he mentioned towns that would be likely candidates for the school. Fuller went on: "The governor said 'You help me and I'll help you in any matter. I'll name a majority of the locating committee in the East Texas normal that you will want.' I said I couldn't trade any mind made up on the West Texas agricultural and mechanical matter."

The witness said he also talked with Hobby, Doughty and Davis in conference held on the evening of June 29 to get the governor to hold a meeting of the local board.

At this point Fuller told of a telephone conversation with Chester Terry in San Antonio in which he refused an invitation to come to San Antonio because the governor was trying to locate the Agricultural and Mechanical college at Abilene, and he wanted to stay and "fight him."

Fuller said the next morning he met Captain Ransome, a ranger, who told him the governor wanted to see him. He went to the capitol where he met Jim Cunningham, who also said the governor wanted to see him. Another gave him the same message. He saw the governor, he said, and the previous conversation was repeated, including the offer of help to congress. Fuller said he replied there was nothing doing and it was then he made up his mind on trying to impeach the governor. He consulted Attorney General Looney, who said he could call a special session of the House. He said he told S. B. Reeves and others of his intentions. Late that day the locating meeting (Continued on page 4.)

MARTIAL LAW IN SPAIN AS RESULT RAILROAD STRIKE

50 MORE CARS NEEDED TO CARRY SOLDIERS TO CAMP

Exactly a hundred signatures have now been obtained for those willing to furnish cars for the transportation of the National Guard boys to Fort Worth. Twelve names were added today to the list, which brought up the total to an even hundred.

There is still need of about 50 more cars, and while it is believed that there will be no difficulty in obtaining them, the committee would be glad to hear of any offers of cars. Those who wish to appear or to be represented in this parade should notify J. B. Marlow, or any of the officers of the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee stated today that there was no danger of having too many cars—indeed, that there was no such thing as too many cars. There will be, so Mr. Marlow said, a place in the procession for everyone who wishes to be in it. It will merely be necessary, according to the notice at the top of the list, to sign the name of the car owner, and to place in the hands of the committee a list of the names of the boys in the parade, which will be laid down by the commanding officers of the troops for the safety and comfort of the men. Matters of place, rate of speed, and so forth, will be determined solely by the commanding officers, and these will be no notice from their decision, so this notice says.

It has been suggested that all who furnish cars for this occasion decorate the cars with the national colors, patriotic emblems, and so forth. So far as is known at present there will be no objection to making the decorations as elaborate as desired, although it is understood that no advertising device of any kind will be allowed.

As was stated in a previous mention of this matter, it is planned to make several stops on the route, and the Young Men's Business League of Bowie has signified its willingness to entertain the boys in whatever way may be most suitable. The following names have been added to the list today: J. S. Nichols, M. M. Walker, S. J. Ashmore, J. A. Poshner, W. H. Allen, M. H. Stuard, J. L. Downing, J. P. Jackson, H. H. Hayes, John Davenport, W. A. Gressett and N. O. Monroe.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO RAISE MONEY FOR AVIATION CAMP

BODY WILL STAND RESPONSIBLE FOR FUNDS UNTIL CONTRIBUTIONS MADE BY PUBLIC

ABOUT $15,000 NEEDED

Directors Plan For Campaign to Get Out Big Vote For Irrigation Amendment

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning adopted a motion that the body be responsible for whatever money is necessary for the preparation of the site of the aviation camp. This motion was passed after considerable discussion, and a considerable amount that would be required. This amount is not likely to exceed $15,000, it was stated, provided that the directors be authorized to raise the amount by whatever means they may see fit. The directors also adopted a motion that the Chamber be responsible for the raising of the amount, and in doing so the Chamber has endorsed the entire amount, and is responsible for it.

During the discussion of the matter, J. A. Kemp said again that the camp would cost the town, and emphasized his conviction that the camp would be a permanent one. Mr. Kemp said that he was forced to this conclusion from talking with those who were familiar with the plans of the government for the building of permanent aviation camps, and that Wichita Falls possessed exactly the requirements which these gentlemen seemed to feel would be demanded by the government in the location of their permanent camps.

The question of the constitutional amendment for the reclamation and irrigation of lands came up, and a motion was adopted that every member present undertake to use his best efforts to see that the vote was well attended on Tuesday next, August 21, the day set for the vote on this question.

A committee was appointed to visit the other towns in the county, in order to put the question of the amendment to such towns as could be reached, with a view to finding out how they stood on the matter, and to explain the great benefits of the scheme to those who were not familiar with it. A letter from the Young Men's Business League of Bowie was read, wherein the League undertook to entertain the National Guard boys on their trip to Fort Worth. The letter also stated that the League would be very glad of any suggestions as to what form the entertainment should take, and such suggestions could be reached by making the stay of the boys as pleasant as possible.

CAPT. PERKINS GETS UNIFORMS FOR 2 COMPANIES

Complete uniforms and also shoes for the two companies of the National Guard in camp here are now en route from San Antonio. News of this effect was received today in a telegram from such a source as Captain D. M. Perkins of Company F who went to San Antonio Sunday night to see what he could do to hurry up the equipment as directed by the commanding officer.

"The Wichita Times" also shows for Wichita uniforms shipped from here today. PERKINS.

The promotion of Captain Perkins to the captaincy of the supply company of the National Guard was announced last week. His success in getting equipment so readily for the two companies here is an indication that he is the right man for the place. Many of the Guardsmen in the two companies here have been without uniforms or other equipment since the outbreak of the war. Some of them here, but others have without funds to do so and are wearing civilian clothing. Some are without a change of clothing.

NEW SAND FOUND ON BEAVER CREEK AT 1900 FEET

PRINCIPLES SET FORTH BY WILSON ARE INCLUDED IN PEACE PROPOSAL NOT OFFICIALLY RECEIVED HERE

POPE GIVES UNQUALIFIED APPROVAL TO PLAN ENDORSED BY THE PRESIDENT

AN UNOFFICIAL OUTLINE DON'T MEET ALLIED AIMS

Believed Proposal Inspired by Germany For Purpose of Causing Disension Among Allies

Washington, August 14.—The State Department acknowledges that it has received unofficial knowledge of Pope Benedict's peace proposals before today's news dispatches were received here. No official cognizance can be taken of it until the proposal is conveyed officially. Whatever consideration is given to it will be after consultation with the allies.

Announcement that the Spanish ambassador at Rome had transmitted Pope Benedict's proposal to the Italian government and the opinion expressed at the apostolic legation here that they might be delivered to the United States by a neutral, led to the possibility that the Spanish ambassador here, Juan Riano, might convey them to the State Department. The Spanish embassy's only intimation today, it was said there, had been received from the Associated Press dispatches.

At the apostolic legation all knowledge of the Pope's proposal was disclaimed. It was said the papal delegate had not transmitted it to the United States government and did not expect to do so.

Within the entente diplomatic circles the opinion was freely and promptly expressed that the peace proposal was inspired by Germany and was an attempt to draw the allies into a conflicting discussion of their war aims.

The extent of the State Department's information does not indicate through what channel the proposal will be conveyed and gives no information from which an inference might be drawn as to whether it would come through one of the allied governments or through a dignitary of the church.

Officials were unusually explicit in saying that it could not be discussed until it came officially before the government and were emphatic in declaring that no statement whatever should be represented as reflecting the official view.

If an inference might be drawn from the under-current excited in official circles by the report, a trained observer would venture the opinion that the proposal is one which would be discussed in good faith by the allies but is one which does not meet their war aims.

It was indicated that a peace proposal coming from the Pope (Continued on page 4.)

Among proposals is one for restoration of territory and no indemnities. The proposal declares that the injustices to all belligerents have been so great there should be no thought of reparation except for the return of territory.

The Pope's proposal already delivered to the resident ambassadors and legations of the warring powers in Rome, is quite long, making in principle more than a column of newspaper type. Although preparations are being made to facilitate its transmission to the United States this may not be effected for more than a day or two.

Meanwhile an outline of the principles points in the Pope's communication, and he declares he is headed for restoration unless the belligerents are willing to listen to the appeal of disinterested friends to cease a suicidal war. Such conditions, the Pope says, must be met in taking the present opportunity to suggest what may be the basis of a foundation upon which peace negotiations may be initiated.

On the important question of disposition of occupied territory and the territorial ambitions of the belligerents, the Pope, by way of preface, admits that special conditions might justify certain consideration and yet be ad-

The story, based on the theme of mental telepathy, from the great stage success, is produced in seven reels, and is entirely different from anything yet shown on the screen. We have every reason to believe it is above the average picture in beauty, story interest and general atmosphere. We give below a clipping from our New York reviewer, who saw the production, and gave the following as his opinion of same:

Adapted from one of our greatest stage successes and produced as intelligently as this has been, I believe that you can count on "The Witching Hour" as a film which will not only pull a lot of money at the box office, but a production which will give general satisfaction and cause an unusual amount of discussion.

While this story is in a way a bit theoretical, I would bank upon the fact that any audience will consider it most entertaining. It is different and provides an opportunity for deep discussion. Certainly the production makes it interesting, and you can safely rely on this as a feature which will not only please, but will cause favorable comment to the extent of having many people send their friends back to see it. A few of the biggest situations were very effective because of the technique employed and the manner in which the close-ups were cut in. The photography was remarkably fine, some of the scenes being truly exceptional.

C. Aubrey Smith, as the hero, who dominated several of the characters by the power of his brain, was surely a distinctive figure. His face is one which will never be forgotten by any who see him in this and he gives a suggestion of mental powers which make some of the biggest scenes convincing, where a weaker man would have allowed them to slump badly.

ARCHER CITY PAPER'S TRIBUTE TO S. M. COWAN

The Archer Dispatch contains the following account of the death of S. M. Cowan, mention of which was made in The Times last week:

"Like a clap of thunder out of a clear sky, the unexpected death of S. M. Cowan was announced to the people of Archer City and county this (Wednesday) morning, August 8. His death came without warning, and was so very sudden that even his best physicians, who had been summoned from this city and Olney, could reach his home. The cause of death seems to have been heart failure, brought about by acute indigestion.

"The death of Mr. Cowan is the loss to Archer county of one of her biggest and best men. No man ever lived in the county who was more universally liked or more highly respected. Unlike some rich men, whose minds become warped and dwarfed through their miserly fight for gold, Sam Cowan had a broader vision of life and his purse was always open to charity. While he was rated as wealthy, no one was ever heard to accuse him of wrongfully securing a single penny, and no man in the county could honestly-acquired possessions. It is said of him that his motto in life was, 'I want to do what is right,' and his friends and neighbors say 'he always did what was right.'

"Mr. Cowan came to Archer county in the early eighties and worked for the Ickards on what is known as the Scott lands, later forming a partnership with J. Ickard and Ed Heath. This partnership was finally dissolved and Mr. Cowan, with his brother, Charley, went to Oklahoma, and there engaged in the cattle business. About the year 1909, when he was in Oklahoma, returned to Archer county and purchased the south part of the Jefferson county school land, where his family now resides.

"The funeral services, conducted by Rev. I. S. Ashburn, at the Methodist church, were more largely attended than any such services ever held in Archer City, a striking evidence of the esteem in which the deceased was held by his fellow citizens. It is estimated that between 500 and 600 friends and relatives followed the remains to the cemetery, where they were tenderly laid to rest. His brother, Charley, and his wife, from Miami, and his sister, Mrs. Lane of Millsap, and several other relatives were present.

"Mr. Cowan leaves a wife and four children, three boys and a girl, to mourn his loss. To these we extend the sympathy of the community in this hour of their great sorrow."

MEN WHOSE NAMES POSTED CANNOT ENLIST IN NAVY

Men whose names have been drawn on the army draft may not claim exemption on the grounds of wishing to enlist in the Navy, as was reported some time ago. It was never officially announced that those who wish to enlist in the Navy could claim exemption from the Army draft on those grounds, though there was a more or less accepted rumor to that effect. The following letter from the War department prohibits such claim being accepted:

"Bureau is informed by Provost Marshal General that local exemption boards have no legal right to exempt men from enlisting in the navy. Inform main and sub-stations without delay that men exempted by local boards for purpose of enlisting in the navy shall not be accepted for enlistment. War department considers that men are legally notified to appear for physical examination when their names are posted by local boards. It is not considered necessary that men should receive formal notification through the mails to appear for physical examination. The fact of posting the names by local boards is sufficient notification and men whose names are so posted shall not be accepted for enlistment in the navy. Between two and three million names have been posted, leaving a reserve of seven or eight million names from which to secure enlistments for the navy. All officers and men on recruiting duty should refrain from all activity tending to persuade men selected as above to apply to their own local exemption board for exemption for purpose of enlistment in the navy."

in conveying the points of the plot. A generous portion of the credit for this result should be given to C. Aubrey Smith, the force of whose personality and the earnestness and skill of whose acting go far in achieving this result. On the other hand, much of the beauty and delicate charm surrounding the romance in the life of Justice Prentice, which Russ Whittle indicated with such consummate art when a member of the original cast, is lost in the present production is dignified and attentive, but the soul of the man that the author drew and the fragrance of the spray of the mignonette that has sweetened his days, are lacking. Marie Shotwell is sympathetic and capable as Helen Whipple, and Robert Conness is a wise selection for the role of Frank Hardmuth. Freeman Barnes, William Melville, Robert Ayerton, Helen Arnold and Etta De Groot all aid materially in the play's success. Jack Sherrill is not equal to the part of Clay Whipple. Liberality and good taste mark the mounting of the production.

The Empress. "It looks very much like it. It must be a fact. All the evidence points to Ramsdell being a dope fiend."

The father of Ramsdell's sweetheart, as the apparent conclusive evidence of Ramsdell's degradation came into his hands.

"You must give up Ramsdell at once. He must never see you again," cried the sister to her daughter. And when Ramsdell recovered from the stupor which had come over him when his rival in love gave him a dose of morphine, he was turned almost unrecognizably into the man who had been a welcome visitor and suitor. Soon Ramsdell dropped lower and lower in the scale of humanity. Heartbroken by the unwarranted accusations against him, broken in business and with his hope and ambition stifled, he frequented the lowest gin mills and sought to drown his sorrow in drink. But there was too much manhood in him to be content with such a life. "I'll brace up. I'll show them all that I'm still a man!" he cried, leaping to one day. And Fate led him back to his sweetheart and guided him in exposing the villainy of the false friend. "The False Friend," the newest World-Picture Brady-Made in which Robert Warwick and Gail Kane are the stars and which will be the attraction today at the Empress Theatre.

"THE GIRL FROM MILWAUKEE" AT THE PLAZA

The Douthett-Wilson Company presented "The Girl From Milwaukee" at the Plaza Airplane last evening to a packed house. The plot, though possible, was ever so improbable, and might be termed as a piece of imaginative ingenuity. Borrowing another man's house is an every day occurrence, but borrowing his wife and baby in order to keep on the good side of the rich uncle is rather a rare incident. On the whole it was a very amusing play, except for the husband in the case who for the greater part of the play was in hot water up to his neck.

The Plantation Quartet proved to be one of the most popular specialties of the program, and was worthy the many encores it received, for their harmony and variety of selections is not often found in vaudeville. The same company will appear to-night, given an entire change of program, even to music and costumes.

"THE FALSE FRIEND"

There seemed to be nothing in the way of William Ramsdell's happiness. A young attorney whose work in court had already led to his introduction into the law firm of Ex-Judge Farrell and to his winning the love of Virginia, his senior partner's daughter, Ramsdell might already have been called successful. Then a friend of his—a man he had known since boyhood, his companion at college, betrayed him. The means at this man's command were unusual, and the manner in which he wrecked the young lawyer's life was clever and complete. Yet the tools were used later to restore Ramsdell's good name. The picture is filled with action, with dramatic, tense situations, and the stars have parts excellently suited to their abilities.

NEW SOLDIERS BEGIN TO LOOK LIKE REAL THING

The new soldiers at Camp Marlow are rapidly being "licked into shape" under the vigorous drilling and exercising that is going forward daily. The squad begins to be recognizable as such, and they are beginning to understand that it is possible for a body of men all to do the same thing at the same time. Outside of a few stragglers, the squads already present a fairly solid appearance, and the officers say that in a little while longer, the two companies will begin to look like real fighting men. They are a particularly husky bunch, and there is as good raw material in these companies as can be found anywhere. When it is remembered that a good proportion of these boys are from farms and from the outlying county districts, and that many of them have hardly seen a soldier, let alone company drill, before, they are doing very well indeed.

CANADIAN RIVER BRIDGES WASHED OUT

Eight bridges in the Denver Road's bridge across the Canadian river were washed out late yesterday by the sudden rise of the river. The Rock Island bridge was also destroyed. Traffic over both lines has come to a halt, and there is little probability it will be resumed before tomorrow night, according to reports from the local Denver office this morning.

FROM THE GOLDEN BOOKS

Her Horoscope.
This true, one-half of woman's life is hope, and one-half resignation. Between these lies
Anguish of broken dreams—doubt, dire surprise,
And then is born the strength with which to cope
Unconsciously sublime, life's shadowed slope.
She braves; the knowledge in her patient eyes
Of all that love bestows and love denies,
As writ in every woman's horoscope!
She lives, her heart-beats given to others needs,
Her hands, to life for others on the way
The burdens which their weariness forsake.
She dies an unrequited doer of great deeds.
Remembered? Yes, as is for one brief day
The rose one leaves in some forgotten book!

The members present Monday: Misses Ruth Morgan, Gladys Price, Rosabelle McGinnis, Ruth Barnard, Stella Smith, Elizabeth Cole, Marie Shields, Mae Bartlett, Willie Towery, Eula Mae Cook, Celestine McHam, Lucille Rountree, Lucy Smoot, Runa Brown and Mrs. C. ## BEMROD AUTO CO. TO OPEN SOON IN NEW BUILDING

The S. Bemrod Auto and Supply Co. expects to be installed in its new building at 712 Eighth street in about ten days. Mr. Bemrod will handle Harroun and Elgin cars, and will have one of the most modern accessory departments in North Texas. He has a fine store, with all the most modern appliances, and plenty of room, the building being 50 feet by 130 feet. The front part of the building, about 50 by 30 feet, will be devoted to display space; the east side for autos, and the west for accessories and supplies. There will be four six-foot display cases for the latter, which will contain the most up-to-date motor accessories obtainable. Practically the entire stock of supplies and accessories has been purchased by Mr. Bemrod from the Western Auto Supply Co. Behind the display room, there will be an electric lighted, cement floor garage, about 50x100, with a very modern repair shop in connection. Mr. Bemrod says that he will employ only thoroughly expert mechanics, and that he will install the latest machines. There will be every convenience in this shop that a motorist may require. Among the more novel of the fixtures will be the electric filling station spoken of in connection with the Western Auto Supply Co's new store in Sunday's issue of The Times, and an automatic air station, sold by the Curtis Co. The particular virtue of this air supply system is that it makes it impossible to over-inflate the tire. A disc shows the required amount for each size of tire, and a hand is turned to the required size. The construction of the device is such that the supply of air is automatically cut off when the desired amount has been obtained. Mr. Bemrod will also handle the Michelin Red Tube Tires, and the Racine Tires.

The new garage and supply house will be ready for inspection by the public next week, and Mr. Bemrod believes that he is in a position to give the public as good service as they can obtain in North Texas.

SUBSCRIBERS URGED TO PAY RED CROSS DONATIONS

The delay of some of the subscribers to the $25,000 Red Cross fund of Wichita county is causing some embarrassment to those having remittances from this county to the national headquarters in charge. C. E. McCutchen, the treasurer, asks that all who have received notice of payments due meet them promptly. The first subscriptions were due in July and some of these have not yet been paid while the assessments due August 1 are coming in very slowly. Wichita Falls was very liberal in pledging to the fund and the failure to pay on the part of some is due to oversight, the committee in charge is sure, and hopes this will soon be remedied by having the matter to the attention of all.

PEACE PROPOSAL

The first actual proposal of the kind to come from the Vatican would necessarily have to be considered carefully and deliberately and that an answer convincing the world would necessarily have to be made. How far the peace proposal reflects the close relation of the Vatican with Austria, whose earnest desire for peace, despite the German influence, is well known, or how far it reflects the Catholic attitude for peace in Germany, no one here would venture to say. It was recalled, however, that Catholics were prominent figures in the recent peace flurry in Germany.

RUSSELL DENOUNCES ACTION OF SOCIALISTS

Washington, August 14.—Aroused by the pacifist meeting Sunday in the Capitol, Charles Edward Russell, former Socialist and member of the commission to Russia, today denounced all persons proposing peace at this time or falling in unswerving support of the Administration. Mr. Russell was particularly severe in his criticism of Socialists and members of Congress aiding the peace propaganda. Incidentally he declared, as a result of peace activities in the United States, Socialists had absolutely ruined their party. Mr. Russell said the party now consisted of little more than an alien pro-German element. The men who were in it for such uplift as they could bring to the working people, he said, must seek elsewhere for political affiliation. "One peace resolution offered in the United States Congress today is a greater asset to the Kaiser than a thousand men on the firing line," Mr. Russell said. "Any Socialist that does not understand that this is the last final decisive struggle between autocracy and democracy is too blind or too dull to understand anything about socialism. Loyalty to the United States government in this crisis is loyalty to every ideal of improvement to which we have subscribed and a lack of support is treason to every article of every creed of reform. If the men who are talking this most pernicious peace stuff are ignorant of the effect of their work, they are too hopelessly ignorant to be allowed to take any part in public life, and should be retired from it instantly. If they are not ignorant of the effect of their work, they are conscious traitors and should have at once the prompt attention of the nearest United States attorney."

FIND CROPS VERY SPOTTED ALONG VALLEY AND DENVER

W. F. Sterley, general short, and passenger agent and Mr. Short, agricultural agent for the Denver and Pacific, have just returned from an inspection tour of their lines. About 1200 miles was covered in Mr. Short's car with out incident, they not even being troubled with a puncture. They report crops very spotted, finding them as good as could be wished for in places, while in other places they were absolutely no chance for anything but a good crop. The best cotton crop in this section of the state, according to Mr. Short, will be made around Spur. Farmers and stockmen all along the line are shipping their cattle and hogs on account of the scarcity of water, and in some places the drinking water question is becoming serious.

 Chicago, Aug. 14.—Although news of peace proposals by Pope Benedict made some impression on grain prices today the effect did not fully counteract an advance which had taken place before the peace news became generally known. Opening figures for corn were 1-4 to 3-4 cent higher with December at $1.14 5-8 to $1.15 and May at $1.12 3-4 to $1.13.
 The close was nervous at gains of 7-8 to 1-2 cents net with December at $1.15 3-4 and May at $1.12 1-4 to $1.13 5-8.
 Wheat trading was at a standstill as far as future delivery transactions were concerned. Subsequently a few transactions took place. The close was steady at $2.04 for September.

New York Cotton Futures.
 New York, Aug. 14.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 12 points to a decline of 26 with near months relatively firm on covering. Justed in conformity with the principles of equity and justice. But as a general proposition, he feels the proper basis for reconstruction would be the restoration at once of all territory in enemy occupation. That would involve immediate restoration of Belgium leaving not a trace of German control, political or military. The same principle of unencumbered freedom in its full sense, he says, must prevail in regard to every power and nation. Not only must such territory now occupied by Germany be restored to France, he says, but on the other hand all German colonies which have been occupied by England, Belgium, Bulgaria and Japan should be returned to Germany.

FEE RECEIVED BY
 IN TESTIMONY

An executive session was proposed by the governor and agreed on, he said. Each member expressed himself as to his choice of a site, Fuller said, but only the governor and Mr. Dougherty favored Abilene. Fuller said the big objection to Abilene was its water supply. He said this was muddy and inadequate but it was proposed to bring water from the mountains. The speaker's choice, he said, was Haskell first and Snyder second. Describing the balloting, Fuller said his best recollection was that the governor and Mr. Thomson, secretary of the board, prepared the ballots. Using a small table, Fuller gave his idea of how the five members of the board were seated. He was sitting he said, some twelve or fifteen feet from the governor. On the first ballot the voting was Abilene 2, San Angelo 1, Haskell 1, Snyder 1, he said. The first ballot was destroyed, the witness said, by the governor's order. "Did you get up and leave your chair on the second ballot, as has been testified?" asked Mr. Terrell. "Absolutely not," Fuller said. Fuller said when the second ballot was called out, Mr. Hobby, who tabulated the votes, said Abilene had two, but was corrected by the governor. He said he had never told the governor or anyone else that he would vote or had voted for Abilene.

Looks Ferguson Straight in the Eyes.
 Fuller looked Ferguson straight in the eye as he said this. In his Walnut Springs speech the governor challenged the speaker to look him in the eye and say he had not voted for Abilene. Fuller denied a reported statement from J. M. Wagstaff, an Abilene that Representative McFarland said the speaker had told him he had voted for Abilene. He said McFarland himself had denied making such a statement. He read a telegram from McFarland, Texas June 22, signed by M. M. McFarland, telling him to stay by governor if possible as it would insure his election.

After the second ballot the witness said the vote for Abilene was made unanimous. Following the meeting, Fuller and Lieutenant Governor Hobby went to the hotel. Each stated how he had voted and both agreed, he said, that "they might as well have stayed at home." He said he told Bruce Bryant and B. Matcalf he had not voted for Abilene.

Fuller, Hobby and Chester Terrell dined together. The speaker said he at first refused a public statement on his vote until he learned Mr. Hobby and Mr. Davis had given out statements that they had not voted for Abilene. Fuller declared he was so far from the table when the balloting was on that it was impossible to see anything written.

After his return to his Cold Springs home, Fuller said he wrote Hobby and Davis on July 2 and wired the governor on the same date regarding an other meeting to reconsider the location matter. "The next day," the witness went on, "I wired the governor I would come to Austin July 6 to see him. He replied he'd be glad to see me. Fuller said when he went to Austin the governor said he saw no reason why the board should meet again and absolutely refused to reconvene it. He added that the governor suggested a statement be made by the board.

"I consulted with Representative McFarland," said Fuller, "about making the statement. He said it was the thing to do. The secretary of state said the same thing. So I went to the governor and told him to call in Davis and Dougherty and discuss the matter."

Fuller said the governor told him Hobby was not coming to Austin, as he didn't regard another meeting as necessary. He denied "absolutely" having told the governor on this date that he had voted for Abilene. The speaker testified that someone suggested "What if Hobby shouldn't sign this statement?" The governor said Hobby would give a dollar to sign the statement. The paper referred to was one which declared the West Texas A. & M. selection was fair and honest.

Renews Congress Offer.
 After the meeting the governor told him to stay behind, Fuller testified. He did and he declared the governor again renewed his offer of assistance to congress. He said the governor declared:

"Those who thought last winter that I didn't have any money left. But I've got plenty." Fuller said the governor made him an offer of a loan and mentioned the report that he was going to call a special session of the House for impeachment. He said the governor offered him a check.

"I thought this a good chance," said Fuller, to catch him and I accepted."

Fuller said a note for $400 was arranged and the check was made out, dated July 6, 1917.

other meeting to reconsider the location matter. "The next day," the witness went on, "I wired the governor I would come to Austin July 6 to see him. He replied he'd be glad to see me. Fuller said when he went to Austin the governor said he saw no reason why the board should meet again and absolutely refused to reconvene it. He added that the governor suggested a statement be made by the board.

"I consulted with Representative McFarland," said Fuller, "about making the statement. He said it was the thing to do. The secretary of state said the same thing. So I went to the governor and told him to call in Davis and Dougherty and discuss the matter."

Fuller said the governor told him Hobby was not coming to Austin, as he didn't regard another meeting as necessary. He denied "absolutely" having told the governor on this date that he had voted for Abilene. The speaker testified that someone suggested "What if Hobby shouldn't sign this statement?" The governor said Hobby would give a dollar to sign the statement. The paper referred to was one which declared the West Texas A. & M. selection was fair and honest.

ing up his papers. He said the examiners had raised a lot of trouble with him regarding an $8 overdraft. Fuller said his bank obligations now total about $2,700 or $2,800 which was "giving him no trouble" and would give him "no trouble." He was interested in some joint stock operations, he said, on which there was indebtedness, but this was more than covered by his equity. His bank obligations, he said, were at least 60 per cent due to his having paid surety for others. His assets, he said, totaled $20,000.

These were the regulation vice admiral's flag consisting of three white stars on a field of blue. One was unfurled from the staff over the admiral's house and another flew from the dockyard. The third was kept in reserve. The three were made in as many hours in the tender's flagshop. Several Union Jacks have also been made. As the average American ought to know but possibly does not, the American Union Jack is 48 white stars placed close together on a field of blue.
