DUNNING SYSTEM IS EXPLAINED BY NOTED MUSICIAN

The small audience which attended Mrs. Harriet Bacon MacDonald's lecture on the "Dunning System" for beginners in music, heard, in addition to a clear and concise exposition of the system, some very pertinent facts which pertain to the music teaching profession in general and which the public, or at least that part of it which might be interested in the musical instruction of children, are not as well acquainted with as they might be with profit to themselves.

Apparatus Explained.

The ingenious apparatus for the teaching of the fundamental principles of music were clearly explained, and it was demonstrated beyond question that all these appliances will produce the results for which they have been devised. It is one of the guiding principles of the system that touch, ear and eye should be at all times correlated. Another is that nothing should be done that is not fully understood by the pupil, and that the reason of every thing is thoroughly pointed into the pupil's mind before any application of the thing taught is required.

The teaching of music history is achieved without boring the student by means of pictures of the various musicians, and little verses setting forth in simple language, the principal facts and works in connection with their lives. Teaching in Best Sense. Mrs. MacDonald laid great stress upon the pedagogical fact that nothing can be put into the child, but that true teaching must be a drawing out of what is already there.

Speaking generally, Mrs. MacDonald mentioned the enormous number of teachers who are teaching merely as a means of livelihood, having neither the personality nor the training for the work, and the enormous damage they do to those of the profession who really know their work, and also to the pupils, who are unfortunate enough to study with them. "So many people seem to think," said Mrs. MacDonald, "that any teacher, or any piano, is good enough to start with, and working upon that principle, they utterly waste what money they do spend, and lay up for themselves a source of endless trouble in the future. Spend your money for the first three years and economize after that if you have to. For the work done during the impressionable years can never be undone, whether it be good or bad."

Coppers Claim Pot But One of Players Really Wasn't Sorry

In a raid upon a room in a lodging house last night, Policemen Burns, Walker, Fitchford and Gilman arrested four men on charges of gambling. "This is our pot," exclaimed Burns as he walked in. "Aw, I had it won!" replied one of the players as he laid down four queens and an ace. "Yep, that would have beat my full," said another player after gazing at the four. "You cope saved me more than the fine will be, so I won't kick." Judge Whitelaw imposed fines of $10 each this morning.

HEAVY FREIGHTS ARE HANDLED BY ROADS IN JULY

The following statement is authorized by railroad war board publication:

"Freight statistics for July the last month for which official figures are available, show that the railroads successfully handled 20.2 per cent more freight that month than for the same period last year. The figures that tell the story of this accomplishment have just been compiled from railroads having 220,954 miles of track, or approximately 85 per cent of the entire trackage of the United States.

In July last year these railroads gave service equivalent to carrying 27,809,439,998 tons of freight one mile this year they carried 33,434,368,526 tons one mile, an increase of exactly 20.2 per cent. This great increase in service was rendered with an almost negligible increase in the amount of equipment used. The number of freight locomotives in service in July last year for instance, was 29,888, while this year the number was 30,277 an increase of only 1.3 per cent. Last year in July there were 2,204,302 freight cars in service, while this year the number 2,256,621, an increase of 2.3 per cent.

One of the most encouraging marks of progress and one for which the railroad employees are entitled credit is the great reduction in the number of freight cars and locomotives in the shop or awaiting repairs.

Last year in July there were 144,474 freight cars under or awaiting repairs while this year only 135,831 were in that condition, a decrease of six per cent. Freight locomotives in repairs or awaiting repairs in July last year amounted to 4,460 in July this year, only 4,122 needed shop attention, a reduction of 7.6 per cent.

Last year in July statistics show that railroads locomotives ran an average of 64.4 miles per day. In July this year they made 68.8 miles. Freight cars made an average of 26.4 miles in July last year, this year they made 28.3 miles. An increase of 7.5 per cent.

St. Louis Attorney Believes Conditions Will Stay Prosperous

Although the shortage in the food and forage crops will handicap the stockmen and farmers of this section of the state to a great extent, according to Judge A. W. Judge Hope owns nearly 1,500 acres of land in Wichita county and cultivates it extensively. He has more than 150 head of cattle is grown there. Judge Hope said he has a three months supply of feed and can likely get through the winter. He takes an optimistic view of the war and business outlook.

PROGRESS earned by VALUE

Present indications show that the Sonora sales for 1917 will be over 100 times as great as the sales for 1916.

This marvelous growth in so short a period could not have been reached with a phonograph that was only "as good" or even "slightly better."

Sonora had to be overwhelmingly superior to achieve so quickly such remarkable results in the face of the vigorous competition and the extensive publicity of older established machines.

Sonora's popularity is based on its intrinsic worth. Its exquisite tone which won for it the highest score at the Panama-Pacific Exposition wins for it new admirers daily.

QUALITIES ESSENTIAL IN LEADERS DISCUSSED BY PROF. ELDER IN TALK TO BOYS; WILL RAISE Y. M. C. A. FUND

Probably a half dozen boys, some of them members of the High School Boys' club and other high students, will represent Wichita Falls at the meeting Monday in Dallas of boys from all over Texas, who will plan a campaign for assisting in raising $400,000 Texas share of the $35,000,000 Y. M. C. A. fund for European war work and relief.

This was announced at the meeting last night by the Boys' club, at which 25 or 30 boys were present. Addressed by Prof. Elder was decidedly the feature of the program, from which it was necessary to eliminate two numbers because of the absence of the boys assigned them. A brief business session took place immediately previous to the entertainment.

Mr. Elder's talk, "Qualities Found in Leaders," "All men who attain success require qualifications that will not be found in the laggard," said he. "Qualities that we would least expect are essential in salesmanship. The master salesman, for example, is a man among men, a real leader.

The use of persuasion is one of the chief qualities necessary in leadership. The salesman uses it to sell goods and make his arguments convincing. The lawyer uses persuasion to win the jury and to extract testimony from witnesses. The preacher uses it to win converts to his church and to save souls. The doctor uses it to win the confidence of his patients and his work of curing. The teacher, or pedagogue, as you study Greek know—that word meaning leader now but formerly it was a virtual definition for slavery, a servant who led the children of the wealthy Greeks to school—the teacher also needs the art persuasion to successful lead pupils and teach them as they should be taught. Our government has established officers training camps so that men can be taught the art of leadership, and I believe they will find persuasion an important assistance in their work of leading our armies in Europe.

Secret of Leadership. The whole object or secret of leadership is to get people to do something which you think is better than what they don't wish to do. Qualifications or

WICHITA FALLS HIGH SCHOOL WILL MEET ELECTRA TEAM SATURDAY; PRACTICE HERE SHOWING UP WELL

Wichita Falls High School will play their second game of the season with Electra Friday afternoon on the Electric field. The team was defeated in the first game on the local field that they would not consent to a return game with the first team, consequently the second team was hard hit. The first game of "not having lost a game," which has been made the slogan of the local squad by Coach Glass.

The practice yesterday afternoon was marked by a small attendance of players, but those that were present showed plenty of pep and speed. Coach Glass is working these hard practices, not that he is expecting such a hard game for the week-end, but in order to get his men hardened for the future games which are to be played a little later in the season.

Material Shows Up Well. The new material which was presented for try-outs at the beginning of the season has made a wonderful showing. Mr. Glass stated this morning, and the fact that many of the first team men as possible will go, it is probable that many of the students will also go to Electra to witness the game. The trip will be made in automobiles, the party leaving at the point where the men with experience will have to do some real earnest work to keep from losing their positions in some cases.

Patton Still At Home. Ray Patton, who was hurt in the Graham game here last Saturday, is still out of school, but latest reports indicate that he will be back in school some time this week and will probably be able to take his place in the return game to be played with Graham the 26th. His knee was badly sprained, but none of the ligaments were torn, and the wound is practical-

Ringling Circus Comes Tomorrow
 With Its Eighty-Nine Cars of Wonders

THREE GOOD WONDERS

faces but dress just like ordinary persons and have quite an appetite. So from the first train to reach here tomorrow morning will roll the mammoth range and steam boiler wagons and the big yards and the canvas dining rooms and all the hotel equipment. These will be hauled to the show grounds, the world's biggest kitchen will be erected, fires lighted and a piping hot meal will be ready when Messrs. Ringlings' troupe and more boarders arrive. Most of the latter will come to town on the fourth and last train which is this season made up of solid, vestibule Pullman and given over entirely to the performers and executive staff. Trains two and three carry but few people, for they are top heavily laden with theatrical costumes, golden tableware and the canvas "roofs" of the "St. tents of Ringlingville" to have room for passengers. For the information of the tentative small boy it should be noted that the "tigers and lions and things" travel on the same train with the commissary outfit. This is probably because the baby animals sometimes grow hungry in the night, as youngsters will, and the latter being near, can be sent off to sleep with a few pounds of choice meat.

Long before the hour of parade the entire moving municipality will have been established at the show grounds and most of the local small boys will know all the elephants by their first names. As for the grown-ups, it is likely that the majority of them will be satisfied to have the parade give them their first touch of "circus lay fever." The street parade is scheduled for 3 p. m. It will be three miles long and include many novelty acts, a team of 14 teams of driven horses, a big mounted band in addition to those which will disburse melodeons from the tops of gaily decorated "floats"; and pelotas fitted with bit and bridle. The contents of several of our denizens promise to extract "Ohs" and "Ahs" along the line of march. Most of the elephants will be on hand, and a number of beautiful horses will draw a fine line of gold-leaf alleys, or serve as mounts for strangely garbed people. In place of the usual long swam piano there will be two calliope.

Out at the circus grounds the side shows will open immediately after the parade. The afternoon performance

MISS HELEN STONE TO BE COTTON PALACE DUCHESS

Miss Helen Stone, one of the most attractive and popular of the girls of Wichita Falls younger set, has recently been honored with a social way being invited to be the duchess of Wichita Falls at the Waco Cotton Palace, which opens November 3. Miss Stone will be the guest of Mrs. George Mateles, Mrs. A. E. Anderson and Mrs. J. H. Simmons. The Queen's Ball, November 8, Jovette Bonner of this city will be her knight.

Miss Stone has been visiting in several of the larger cities of the state.

will begin at 2 p. m. and the night program at 8 o'clock. In each instance the doors to the main tent and menagerie will open an hour earlier than all may inspect the zoo or enjoy the concert band. The season's opening opens with the "Cinderella" spectacle. The Ringling Brothers have taken the nursery tale and built it into a gigantic pantomime requiring a cast of more than 1,000 actors. On a stage which is said to be the largest ever constructed, and amid fairyland scenery, the entire story of the fairy, favored by the king, is told from the days when "Cinderella" must sit in the chimney corner until she reclines in the glass slipper and weds the handsome prince. A ballet of 300 girls who play the roles of sprites, dwarf hands, huge professional parents and gorgeous costumes are features of the production.

After the spectacle will come the circus proper, featuring 400 acrobats, artists, 50 clowns and scores of Europe's foremost circus stars who have been obliged to seek engagements in America because of the great war. Presented as a special entertainment for the juvenile patrons and made a part of the main tent program is a "circus within a circus" embracing a vast company of dumb animal actors, including all species of bears, non keys, dogs, cats and Shetland ponies. And of course there will be elephants—three herds of them in many acts. Tricks featuring bidirectional cabarets—thundering chariot races and all the other things that go to make up the biggest circus in the world.

For the convenience of patrons the downtown ticket office will be open all day tomorrow at Mack Taylor's drug store, 812 Ohio street, where the same prices will be charged as on the show grounds.

War Evidences Seen In Canadian Cities, Declares Robertson

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Robertson have just returned from an extended trip taking in New York, Boston, Washington, Montreal and Toronto.

Mr. Robertson says that in the Canadian cities especially Toronto, the evidences of the war are many and obvious. Returned soldiers, with every variety of wound, are to be seen everywhere, and the city is crowded with hospitals. In the officers and beneficiaries in front of the hospitals and convalescent homes—many of which are converted private residences, donated for the use of the soldiers—the wounded men sit and read or talk, and receive their friends.

Very pathetic are these figures, though they do not seem at all to think. And very close home they bring the war to those who are waiting to receive them, and even to those who see them casually as visitors. But the most tragic of all, Mr. Robertson says, are those who come home perfectly sound of body, but crazed from the shell shock and the infinity of horrors they have witnessed. These, in many cases, remain their reason in a few months, though some remain permanently demented.

Mr. Robertson observed that Canada was at war, and she knew it.

Transporting Liquor Case Is Expected To Be Continued Here

Because of the absence of government witnesses it is likely that when the case of the United States vs. E. J. Hubbard and his wife, Mrs. Hattie Hubbard, charged with transporting liquor into Oklahoma, is called before U. S. Commissioner J. A. Lantz late this afternoon, a continuance will be taken.

The Hubbards reside in Lawton, Okla. The government contends in complaints that they have been engaged in the illicit trafficking of intoxicants having reaped a rich harvest from the thirst Sooner.

Government agents stationed here made the arrests after a long and thorough investigation. The Hubbards are said to be wealthy and to have engaged excellent counsel.

HAVING LAST WORD PROVES COSTLY TO DEFENDANT IN POLICE COURT

Determining to have the last word, cost one defendant in police court $10 this morning and at that "hiszouner" had the final say. The defendant was fined Monday for intoxication, Monday night he was again arrested after he had "raised a rough house," and this morning appeared with a charge against him of disturbing the peace.

"Ten dollars," said Judge Whitlaw after hearing the testimony.

"Hell, you fellows just keep nagging at a fellow," was the reply, followed by a vindictive flow of language.

"Hush, or I'll fine you again for contempt," warned the court.

"I'll talk as much as I wish and I'll tell you what I think about you," came the hot retort.

"Ten more, and if you do not sit up till keep-fine you."

The prisoner hissed.

Five drunks received the regular penalty of $5 each.

"SECTIONALISM" AND FIDDLE-STICKS.

Southern men and women are again reminded of the ancient spirit of sectionalism which once divided the North from the South by the assurance of some public speaker that the old conditions are passing away and that the country is again becoming solidly welded together, the north with the South, and the East with the West.

Oscar M. Strauss, speaking to the members of the Southern Commercial Congress in session, in New York City, having remarked that the era of sectionalism has passed, told his audience that the interest, the duty and patriotism itself, demand a never before "that North, East, West and South be riveted together in co-operating bonds of national solidarity" in the country's crisis for the preservation of her institutions.

It is strange that only the public speakers remember the "spirit of sectionalism." The people themselves have long since forgotten that it ever existed. How much less do you, Man of the North, think of your friend in Wichita Falls because he had the good fortune to be born here? Or how much less do you, Mr. Local Man, think that your New York friend because he can't forget that "R" is a letter in the alphabet and can't help emphasizing his recollection? Not a whit! The North, the South, the East and the West have long been an indivisible ONE, in spirit and in fact, each standing forth sturdily for the flag which covers us all; each regarding all else to secondary, to insignificant positions by comparison.

The Civil War was fought just "short" enough ago to be a memory to some of the living. Those brave soldiers have placed their patriotism above their former differences; their high regard, each for the courage of the soldier on the other side, above the dispute which called forth the displays of this courage. The reminders that are constantly made to the "passing of the spirit of sectionalism" are nothing if not bids for a revival of that spirit. Let the public speakers forget the dead past; let them desist in their efforts to call forth the ghost of that which has long been dead.

Not that we would deny them Rome, Athens, Jerusalem or The Sphinx. We have no personal connection with B. C. residents of Rome, nor any dire grudge against the public speaker, who must exist. And the Sphinx is of stone, anyway, and will not worry. But we have some very live connections who played their part in the Civil War, and we would not revive in their breasts memories which they have been years in erasing. This applies equally to the man from the North and the man from the South.

For, after all, it is hardly worth while to call attention to nothingness. It is hardly practicable and the effort is wholly ridiculous. If Mr. Strauss says, "the spirit of sectionalism has passed," it is hardly worth while to draw attention to the fact in calling upon the sections for united support of their common country.

The nation is united, and if the support of it be not so great in the South as in the North, in the West as in the East, "sectionalism" may not be charged for the lack. Limited capacities, undeveloped areas, may not be expected to pay as heavily as the wealthy, thickly populated sections.

But when all is over, we have an idea that every section of the nation, the North, the South, the East and the West, will be found to have given, in men and money, as heavily in response to the call of country as their respective means would permit.

This war, if it has done nothing else, has proven an eye-opener for those who have held in theory that Americans are money mad and that patriotism is dead.

all right, and if we were drawing down that much or the half of it, we'd be more than willing to pay the tax, whatever it might be. But the thing that sticks in our craw is the nerve—or the gall—Congress displayed when it enacted this tax by exempting members of Congress. Why are Congress men better than other people when it comes to paying taxes to meet war expenses? Are they better than their constituents? As we understand it, a member of Congress draws a salary of $7,500 per year, and is allowed $1,200 or $1,500 per year for a secretary. He pays no office rent, and when he travels to and from Washington he draws so much per mile, which is more than sufficient to pay car fare, sleeping car berths and meals while en route. The war tax is oppressive enough on the plain people, and those who make the laws should not try to dodge their fair share. When they go before their constituents next year and ask their suffrage, it is going to be rather embarrassing to explain to them why they (the Congressmen) should be exempted from this excess profits tax when all others have it to pay.

KUPPENHEIMER CLOTHES
Are 100% Quality

There is urgent need of seeking quality in clothes this season for YOU, the wearer, because there will be plenty of subterfuge and substitute for quality.

You'll hear lots of talk about materials, but materials alone don't make clothes quality. Good materials can be bought. Good trimmings can likewise be bought. So can good findings and good thread, and good linings. And so can good tailoring. But these things in themselves don't make clothes quality.

It is the combination of these things: good materials, good findings, good trimmings, good linings, and good tailoring that make quality clothes; it is these things that combine to make Kuppenheimer Clothes one hundred per cent quality.

You cannot buy better ones anywhere for
