The Overland Sales Company, wholesale dealer in cars, trucks, and other retail, and the Consumers Cash Company, led for first place, each house selling nine cars.

HEAL OF MEN AT CAMP TRAVIS AS WELL GUARDED

EACH OF THE THIRTY THOUSAND MEN GIVEN CAREFUL ATTENTION.

VIGILANCE IS ETERNAL

From Sunday's Daily. Division of Public Affairs, Ninetieth Division, Camp Travis, Nov. 23.—No one knows better than General Allen, commanding the 90th division, national army, at Camp Travis, that an efficient army is a ninth composed of soldiers who are in good health.

In no line of endeavor is that axiom "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty" applied with greater energy than at Camp Travis. The 90th division is like one great big family. Its efficiency as a fighting unit is impaired by each member that becomes ill.

In a family of 30,000 people there is a constant danger and an ever-present opportunity for the breaking out and spreading of contagious diseases. Measles and mumps, concomitants of childhood days, make a never-ending fight to find lodgment in camps.

The medical department of the army believes firmly and practices religiously that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. To the end that infectious diseases do not spread, the most rigid precautions are required.

On arriving at camp each soldier is subjected to a physical examination. Those with minor ailments, or suffering from defects that can be corrected through known agencies, are placed in a hospital.

The soldiers at this camp and attention is that soldier at Camp Travis are better looked after than 99 out of every 100 men at large. The least of physical ailments is given the most careful attention.

COL. HARVEY WILL INSPECT HIGHWAY NEXT FEBRUARY

THIS IS ONE DEFINITE ACCOMPLISHMENT OF LAWTON CONVENTION

OPPOSITION IS BITTER

Air Line Route Anxious to Have Trail Routed Through Plain and Hills

From Sunday's Daily. The only tangible result of the Ozark Trail convention at Lawton last week, as far as Wichita Falls and the Wichita Valley Highway are concerned, is that Col. Harvey, president of the Ozark Trail association, has promised to be here in February next to make a personal inspection of the highway because its strategic location as the logical connecting route between Fort Sill, Fort Bliss, Camp Travis and Camp Bowie strongly appealed to him.

There was a most bitter opposition from the Air Line association, which was very strongly represented, and which used as its main argument the shorter route, and the greater scenic value of the route via Quanah and the Plains. R. F. Johnson reported that those delegates dealt in a good deal of "muddling" at the expense of the Air Line association.

British troops have captured the high ground in Bourlon woods and now dominate the region about Cambrai. This success came after two days of the most vicious fighting and its importance is indicated in part by the fact that German traffic southeast from Cambrai has been heavy, the probability being that the civil population of the region in the same region of the German line in France, there has been fighting in which the French have been victorious.

BRITISH COMMERCE HAS SUFFERED BY GREAT WORLD WAR

PRIOR TO CONFLICT FOOD STUFFS BROUGHT IN AMOUNT-ED TO LITTLE

IMPORTS ARE CURTAILED

Animals in London Zoo Are Placed on War Rations—Passing the Time "Wig-Waggings"

London.—British trade and commerce as a result of three years of war, has made a steadily increasing sacrifice in order that Great Britain's contribution to the effective and economic strength of the Allies in the war may be up to the full measure of possibilities.

Before the war Britain was importing at the rate of about 68 million tons a year. In 1916 the imports fell to about 43 million tons, and in the present year they will be considerably lower.

Of the 58 million tons which they imported before the war, foodstuffs were rather less than a quarter. The rest was practically all employed or consumed in promoting the industries and commerce of the country.

The great rise in prices accounts for a large part of the phenomenon of an increase in value with a decline in bulk, but on the best estimate that can be made it would appear that if in 1916 Britain had imported the 43 million tons of goods which she obtained from the same countries and in the same proportions as she imported before the war they would have cost rather than $80 million pounds.

It is some way with a signal lantern," he said. "It reads: 'Question—Daddy, what did you do in the Great War?'"

"I wonder," observed a Sub-Lieutenant, "what new answer the lower deck has found to that question. Before the war the reply was: 'I was kept doubling round the decks, sonny.'"

The animals in the Zoological Gardens of London and of Edinburgh have been put on war rations, that is to say, meat and cereals, and the assumption is no longer fed to the animals. It is one of the measures taken in Great Britain to conserve the good stocks of the country in view of the long campaign against foodstuffs sailing for England.

The economies at the British Zoological Gardens do not however, amount to very much seeing that the carnivore are always fed on horseflesh, which in Great Britain is never used for human food. But in view of the real shortage of wheat bread has had to be discontinued, and potatoes have not been used, for many months, thought formerly a number of the animals depended upon them for part of their staple diet.

FEW COMPLETIONS FOR WEEK NOTED IN OIL FIELDS

Save for the fact that a total of thirty-one wells have been forced to shut down for lack of water in the Electra field alone, few developments of importance have occurred in any of the oil fields of this immediate section during the last week. Completions were few, far between and of minor importance.

The Adams Oil Company's Ramming 6, in the Burk Burnett section, a hundred-barrel well, was completed at 1,694 feet.

Other completions in the Burk Burnett field were:

Texas Oil Company's Morris 6, 25 barrels, at 1,856 feet; Texas Company's George 9, 30 barrels, at depth of 1,643 feet; Harvey (X) Company's Huxley 12, 50 barrels, at depth of 1,652 feet.

Seven small completions are reported in the shallow pools with three dry holes for the week.

In the Electra field the Producers' Oil Company's Waggoner 144 was brought in at a depth of 2,007 feet. It is a 25-barrel well.

Edwards (Granger) 2 completed at 1,976 feet, is producing 10 barrels.

In the Culbertson field the Langford, Staley & Chenault Burnett No. 1 was abandoned at 1,966 feet.

ENDEARING TERMS USED IN LETTERS TO DIVORCED MAN

SEVERAL EPISTLES ARE INTRODUCED INTO EVIDENCE TO SHOW RELATIONS.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Young Chilean Woman Admitted That Many Things She Said to Husband Came from Her Heart.

By Associated Press. Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 27.—A letter in which the defendant told her husband that she was "the greatest regret of her life" that she had not been able to make him a good wife, was read in the record today during cross examination of Blanca De Saules.

There were indications that this letter will be used by attorneys for the prosecution in their attempt to break down the story of "independent thought" on the part of her husband told in direct examination by the young Chilean woman yesterday.

The letter was written while Mrs. De Saules was on a steamship bound for Chile to visit relatives in the spring of 1916, prior to the granting of her divorce decree.

At that time, the witness said, she felt that her married life was ended "morally."

Mrs. De Saules contended the admission that she wrote the letter, saying "she was to blame for everything" by stating "De Saules always made me believe that was at fault."

In his questioning, District Attorney Chas. R. Weeks delved apologetically into intimate subjects relating to Mrs. De Saules' married life.

It is not until after the birth of her son you refused to live with John De Saules as man and wife?" was one of his interrogations.

Witness said this was not true. A number of letters written by the defendant to her husband throughout their married life which contained many endearing terms, were read by attorney Weeks.

A letter written by De Saules in which he admonished his wife to "turn over a new leaf" and saying she had refused to live with him for "the past four years" was among those read.

Mrs. De Saules on Stand. Contrary to predictions yesterday Mrs. De Saules was returned to the witness stand this morning for cross examination.

Other questions brought a statement from Mrs. De Saules that she had suffered from the loss of her hair during her three months imprisonment. The defendant said she had not suffered any pains of memory while in jail but that her hair had fallen out to an appreciable degree.

The defense maintains these symptoms indicate the disease of the thyroid glands, hypothyroidism, from which it is claimed she was suffering at the time of the tragedy.

LITTLE JACK DE SAULES and HIS AUNT MISS AMALIE ERRASURIZ

Little Jack de Saules brought relief to his mother, Mrs. Blanca de Saules, who is now on trial in Mineola, L. I., for the murder of her divorced husband. When the bright lad was brought to her cell the scene was an affecting one. Little Jack is shown in the picture in the arms of his aunt.

stand that you were not sincere in those statements?" "Did you mean that?" asked Weeks.

Another letter was read in which Mrs. De Saules begged her husband's forgiveness for "slandering so absurdly our friends."

But you said nothing of that in this letter, did you?" asked Mr. Weeks.

He had just read another letter written to her husband in which words of affection were repeated.

"My heart was broken when I wrote that letter but I would not tell him so," replied the witness.

"You had a good time at that dance?" asked Weeks.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

TWO MORE FORDS ARE STOLEN HERE; NEITHER LOCATED

Two more Ford cars were stolen here Thursday night. The cars were owned by J. M. McKinney and E. W. Reeves. They were left parked in the business section and were gone when the owners went to get them. Both cars were stolen early in the evening. No trace had been found of either Friday morning.

The car stolen from Oliver Leath of Petrolia here last week has been located at Marlow. Sheriff Hawkins went to Marlow last night, returning today with the man charged with the theft.

SPECIAL FLIGHTS ARE TO BE MADE EVERY SATURDAY

Special exhibition flights are to be staged at Call Field, probably on Saturday afternoon as a means of attracting visitors to the city, by virtue of a special arrangement made this morning with the authorities at the camp by B. F. Johnson. The officers stated that they would try to have sufficient guards on the ground that the public could be safely admitted, and space will be set off for the parking of cars.

Under the present ruling, no Sunday flights are allowed, but it is possible that this rule may be suspended, in which case the flights will probably be on Sunday afternoons. It is believed that these flights will attract a large crowd of visitors and spectators to the city.

RED PATH HORNER CHATAUQUA NOW BOOKED FOR CITY

The contract for a chatauqua on a large scale which will include William Jennings Bryan and other noted speakers, besides excellent musical talent was signed today between Wilkie Talbert, for the Rotary and Motor Clubs, and B. F. Johnson for the Chamber of Commerce, and the Redpath-Horner Lyceum and Chatauqua Bureau.

The contract is the usual seven-day arrangement, and some of the most noted speakers and artists of the country will be heard. Two lecturers will be obtained direct from the battlegrounds of Europe, though their names have not been announced.

The promoters of the scheme feel that it is high time to take some active part in the entertainment and educational features of town building, and it is believed that this movement will be the forerunner of a long line of such good things.

The dates have not been fixed as yet, but the chatauqua will be here some time next June.

Vickers Granted Bond Of $25,000 Following Habeas Corpus Hearing

At a habeas corpus hearing before Judge Scurry of the 75th district court Friday morning W. M. Vickers, former superintendent at the county farm, charged with statutory rape, was allowed bond. His bond was fixed at $25,000, which Vickers attorney said his client would furnish.

At a preliminary hearing before Justice Howard Tuesday Vickers was remanded to jail to await the action of the grand jury and bond was refused.

BREAD RECIPES.

(Prepared by Division of Home Economics, University of Texas, under direction of Miss Mary E. Gearing.)

Bread, "the staff of life," has become so important that not one single crumb must be allowed to go to waste.

Bread crumbs may be prepared by drying all pieces of bread crusts and bread bits in an open receptacle set in a warm dry place.

When bread is cut for table use, the crumbs that unavoidably fall should be put away in the crumby jar and saved for future use.

Cake crumbs may be used in place of bread crumbs in puddings calling for sweetening, thereby lessening the amount of sugar or sugar substitutes.

One cup bread crumbs, 1/4 cups milk, 1/4 cup grated cheese, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Two eggs well beaten, 1/2 cup bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon baking powder, 1 cup chopped nuts, 1/2 cup chopped dates.

1 1/2 cups bread crumbs, 3/4 cups water, 3/4 cup molasses, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 1/2 cups corn meal, 3 cups graham flour.

One and one-half cups scalded milk, 2 tablespoons shortening, 1 1/2 cups bread crumbs.

MEANS TRIAL PROMISES AMAZING DISCLOSURES AND REVELATIONS

Concord, N. C. Nov. 30.—Dr. W. H. Burmeister, coroner's physician of Cook County, Ill., testifying for state, on cross examination in the trial of Gaston B. Means, charged with the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, today said that the pistol that inflicted the wound causing Mrs. King's death was not in contact with the head when fired.

Dr. Otto Schulze of New York testified that in his opinion it would have been impossible for Mrs. King to have inflicted the wound that caused her death. He also stated that the fracture of Mrs. King's ankle had occurred before death.

Crumb Muffins. One cup ground bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon shortening, 1 tablespoon sugar, 6 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup boiling water.

Crumb Bread. One cup bread crumbs, 1/4 cups milk, 1/4 cup grated cheese, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Crumb Cake. One cup bread crumbs, 1/4 cups milk, 1/4 cup grated cheese, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Crumb Tarts. One cup bread crumbs, 1/4 cups milk, 1/4 cup grated cheese, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Crumb Cookies. One cup bread crumbs, 1/4 cups milk, 1/4 cup grated cheese, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

WICHITA FALLS HIGH DEFEATS VISITING TEAM

CHILLICOTHE, QUANAH AND PADUCAH PICKED ELEVEN TROUCED 34 TO 0

Wichita Falls high school yesterday defeated a crack team composed of players from Chillicothe, Quanah and Paducah, with a score of 34 to 0.

This was the final game of the season in the present schedule, and pleasurable work by both sides.

The defense work by Wade and Stevenson, for the visitors, was excellent; and, though it was not proof against the dash and vim and the perfect team work of the local boys, it was the outstanding feature of the game.

Wilson was the local hero, playing with consistent balance throughout the game, scoring two touchdowns, and making in one instance an entire run of sixty two yards, in which he eluded everything that came in his way.

Though the score was one-sided, the game was not, and the local boys had to make a game fight for everything they gained.

TEXAS MOTHERS DECIDE TO MEET IN WICHITA FALLS

INVITATION OF THE CITY IS ACCEPTED BY STATE CONGRESS

Wichita Falls has secured the next convention of the Texas Congress of Mothers, against the applications of San Antonio and Kinesville, both of which cities were anxious to have the honor, according to the report of Mrs. J. W. Lee, who has just returned from the Congress at Houston.

Mrs. Lee reports a most enthusiastic, enjoyable and profitable meeting, and the presence of many noted speakers, among whom were Miss Elizabeth Kelly, chairman of the food administration at Washington; J. M. Johnson, chairman of the Red Cross Christmas fund; Dr. R. E. Vincent, president of the State University; and on "What the World is Demanding of the Boy of Today," and Superintendent Moore of Fort Worth, on "What the World is Demanding of the Girl of Today."

Other speakers who were greatly enjoyed were Supt. Dougherty, Supt. Brawley, of the C. I. A. at Denton; O. M. Caward, chairman of the United Engineering Corps, who spoke on Women in the War; and Mrs. Nannie Webb Curtis, president of the W. C. T. U., who talked on "The Mothers' War on Tobacco and Intoxicants."

Sinn Feiners Given Credit For Severing Sympathy of America

Associated Press Mail Correspondent. Dublin.—John Dillon, Nationalist member of the House of Commons, addressing the Ancient Order of Hibernians in Dublin recently condemned the Sinn Feiners for "alienating the sympathy of the United States from the Irish cause."

The friendship and support of the Americans in Ireland's struggle for liberty was their greatest asset, he said. But what was happening in America today filled him with horror.

Friends and supporters of the Sinn Feiners in Ireland, he said, were now charged with treason to the flag, and with entering into a combination with Germany to defeat America. He was deeply convinced that the Irish race in America would take steps immediately to disassociate the name of Ireland from such conduct.

Nobody, said Mr. Dillon, could exaggerate the fatal character of the policy of undertaking to make Ireland a republic, and, as a first step in that career, quarrelling with the United States and turning on the flag which was the dearest to the Irish race, of any flag in the world.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young — to do this you must watch your liver and bowels — there's no need of having a sallow complexion — dark rings under your eyes — pimples — a bilious look in your face — dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

HOPE FOR RUSSIA.

The United States is now shaping for adoption a tolerant policy toward the Bolshevik faction of Russia.

This is in full accord with the principles upon which the American government is founded.

No rash act of this country will be taken which might, in its ultimate effect, saddle the responsibility upon all of the Russian people for those acts which have been committed by an apparently irresponsible faction.

Every chance is going to be given the people of Russia to compose their differences, adopt a sound democratic government, and then enter the lists prepared to defend those rights and privileges which the Slavic people are now demanding.

There is hope for Russia, but little hope that Russia will be instrumental in the winning of the war.

A MODERN REST HOUSE.

A movement has been set on foot by the Civic League to establish a modern rest room for the use of visitors from the trade territory of Wichita Falls while they are stopping in the city.

The plan is to supply an attendant for children and a janitress, if one is needed; and to operate in connection with the rest room a restaurant at which good, wholesome food will be served at moderate prices.

On first blush, this plan would seem to be one of interest only to merchants of the city, who will directly benefit by an increase in their trade from the surrounding country. There can be no doubt that trade will increase when arrangements have been made to comfortably take care of the women and children in the parties coming here for the day, thus relieving them of the hardship attendant upon shopping when they have an definite place which to make their headquarters unless they expend considerable money for hotel accommodations.

But this is not a proposition which only affects the merchants.

Every man, woman and child in Wichita Falls is interested in the growth and development of the city. Every one of us is interested in the reputation for hospitality which is being built up for Wichita Falls. It is our business to make the stay of every visitor in this city as pleasant as conditions will permit, and in no way can this end be better attained than by establishment of a rest room and nursery in the heart of town for the accommodation, without charge, of visitors.

Let us hope that definite steps will be taken by the members of the Civic League within a short time to have the rest room established upon a permanent basis.

We believe they will be loyally supported in this movement by the people of the entire city.

For it is a worthy movement, well deserving of the hearty co-operation of us all.

RAINBOW DIVISION IS NOW IN FRANCE

former guardsmen in training have heard guns firing in the distance. They are all being given the same course of instruction as the first contingent of regulars have undergone. The guardsmen are all in good health. The reason why it is not permitted to mention units by name is that if one is mentioned the way is open to mention all others which means the revealing of identification numbers and other information which is of importance to the enemy. But for the information of the relatives and families of the men every one who sailed from the United States has arrived safely in France.

MOVEMENT SUCCEEDS DESPITE SUBMARINES. By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 30.—Announcement of the arrival in France of the first national guard units give the first official notice that an extensive troop movement has been accomplished despite hostile submarines, shortage of troop and supply ships, but without the loss of a man. Thousands of men have been landed on transports and safely landed in France without any general knowledge of the facts having been disclosed to the country at large.

War department officials were gratified at General Pershing's decision to announce the arrival of the national guard forces but permission to publish the designations of the guard units now at the training centers in France still is withheld, unless General Pershing sees fit to release the information. It can be stated, however, that the brief dispatch of today covers a large movement that has been in progress for several weeks. The next stage will be actual occupation of front line trenches.

Guard units to be sent later will be more sectional in character, the grouping of the old divisional organizations having been adhered to as closely as possible. The entire country, however, shares in the honor of having its representatives units now at the front in the world war.

Secretary Baker has announced that as fast as men and ships are ready they will be sent to join General Pershing. It appears possible that the regrouping of national army divisions made necessary by the use of drafted men to fill up depleted national guard divisions, will determine the order of the first national army units to be sent over.

In that regrouping two national army divisions were formed, one representing the whole eastern section of the country and one equally representative of all middle states. All of the former is already in the national army division at Camp Lewis, American Lake, Washington. If the same policy is followed with relation to the national army that has been followed in connection with the guard it seems likely that these three divisions, other things such as training and equipment being equal, would be the first of the national army to go over.

ORGANIZATION IS EFFECTED TO GET HELP FOR WEST

By Associated Press. Austin, Nov. 30.—An organization was effected today by the committee of 23 representatives of the various interests of Texas, appointed by Governor Hobby to submit the proposition of Texas for obtaining an emergency appropriation of $50,000,000 for the relief of the drought stricken section of Texas. Dr. E. P. Wilmont of Austin, president of the National Bank was elected chairman at today's conference. F. C. Weinert, commissioner of markets and warehouses, secretary.

A subcommittee was named to prepare in concrete form facts and statistics to be presented to President Wilson, and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo at Washington. The subcommittee consisting of J. S. Cullina, Houston chairman; R. J. Klebrer, Kingsville; A. B. Davidson, Cuero; D. E. Liday, Fort Worth; F. C. Weinert, Austin; E. W. Cole, director of markets in the state department of agriculture; Charles Shultz, Llano; James Callan, Menardville; J. B. Wells, Brownsville and D. C. Giddings, Brenham; to date for collecting Washington has as yet been decided upon by the committee. Governor Hobby attended the conference.

COUNCIL OF WAR WELL UNDER WAY AT PARIS, FRANCE

By Associated Press. Paris, Nov. 30.—The delegates to the inter-allied conference were engaged today with the committee meeting at the various French ministries, there being no general session. The impression is that the important work of the conference will be conducted by these committees, the proceedings of which are entirely secret.

The American members are expected to exercise great influence in bringing about closer unity. They are pleased with the cordial and receptive manner in which their suggestions thus far have been received.

The committee meetings probably will be continued for three days more. It was announced officially today that the supreme war council will begin its sittings at Versailles at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. It will be attended by Premier Lloyd George and General Wilson for Great Britain; Premier Clemenceau and General Poch for France; Premier Orlando and General Cadorna for Italy, and Colonel Blyss and General Blyss for the United States. While this council is an advisory body for the formulation of strategic plans for operations on the western front including Italy, it is expected its suggestions will be a great weight with the commanders of the allied armies and will result in that unity of control which is so much desired.

U. S. ENGINEERS HAVE BIG PART IN BYNG DRIVE SITE BOUNDARIES FOR ASYLUM WILL BE LAID OUT SOON

MEMBERS OF LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE IS EXPECTED TO ARRIVE SHORTLY

Senator W. A. Johnson, president of the Senate, told members of the Wichita Falls committee, after it had been announced Wichita Falls had been chosen as the site for the new insane hospital, that a member of the legislative committee which will have charge of the expenditure of the appropriation, would come to Wichita Falls at a very early date to lay out the boundaries of the 500 acre tract donated by the people of Wichita Falls. The state will be permitted to select the ground, within certain bounds that it will take for the site. The Wichita Falls committee was given to understand that the state was anxious to have work started on the buildings at an early date.

At one time, the Germans cut loose with their guns on a section of the tracks and tore up three miles of rails which had been laid with much labor but they scarcely had finished this bombardment when the twin lines of steel began to creep forward once more. After the engineers had reached a point where they were exposed on the sky line it was necessary to work at night or on foggy days in order to avoid enemy observation.

Three Forces Employed. There have been three forces of Americans employed in this region since about August 1. Two of them have been occupied with the operation and maintenance of light railways and the other has been constructing narrow gauge lines. The importance of this work hardly needs emphasis for it is well known that over these railways food, ammunition and material of all sorts are poured up to lend support to the fighting forces.

Some of the engineers had an unusual experience, much of their labor on the first day of the offensive. The British called for volunteer stretcher bearers to go forward to the battlefield and bring in wounded British and Germans, a large number of the engineers offered their services which were accepted. They just had finished a hard day's work on the railway, but they gladly undertook the new, arduous and dangerous task and labored through the night getting injured soldiers back to the dressing stations. They were highly complimented by the British for their efficiency in this line of service which was rather a far reach from building railroads.

MORE CADETS ARE HERE TO CONCLUDE AVIATION COURSE

They will be kept under observation until the time for the development of the contagion is past.

TODAY'S MARKETS

COTTON ADVANCES UPON RENEWAL OF TALK ABOUT PEACE

New York, Nov. 30.—A renewal of peace talk seemed to stimulate buying in cotton market early today. The opening was firm at an advance of 27 to 39 points in response to the firmness of Liverpool over the local holiday and buying by houses with Liverpool connections. There was heavy trading at the higher prices and the market soon eased off several points with January reacting from 29.62 to 29.47 and March from 33.17 to 32.97. There were reports that eastern belt cotton was being sold for delivery in December here which contributed to the setback but Liverpool continued an active buyer while there was also a good demand from Wall Street and western sources.

Cotton futures opened firm; Dec. 30.40; Jan. 29.50; Mar. 29.15; July 28.90; July 28.75. Southern buying orders appeared later in the morning and the market turned very firm on covering by carry sellers while there was a continued demand from trade sources. Before midday January had sold up to 29.81 and March 29.45, or 50 to 60 points net higher and into new high ground for the season. Demand slackened at this level and there was enough realizing to cause slight reactions early in the noon hour. Cotton closed steady.

New Orleans Cotton. New Orleans, Nov. 30.—The peace talk contained in the day's political news caused a buying wave on the opening of the cotton market here today, which put prices 23 to 26 points up in the first half hour of business. The market was held within bounds by a crop estimate of 11,134,000 bales not including linters. Cotton opened steady. Opening bid: Dec. 28.70; asked: Jan. 28.42; March 28.06; May 27.90; July 27.81. The market gained strength as the session progressed, it being generally attributed to trade buying and prices rose in the trading up to noon to a net advance of 37 to 39 points. The market was quiet but steady in the afternoon and its highest in the trading up to 1 o'clock stood 37 to 40 points up. Cotton closed steady at an advance of 10 to 22 points.

CORN MARKET IS MADE STRONGER BY BAD WEATHER

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Unfavorable weather conditions gave a little strength today to the corn market. The fact, however, that empty cars in liberal numbers were being supplied to western railroads led afterward to a reaction. Trade was almost entirely of a local character. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/4c off to 3/4c advance with January $1.21 to $1.21 1/2 and May $1.18 1/2 to $1.19 were followed by slight general gains and then a moderate downturn. Large receipts weakened the oats market after some firmness at the outset. Betterment of the car situation attracted much notice. Provisions gave way owing to declines in the value of hogs. Depreciation was chiefly in lard. Subsequently slowness of shipping demand together with the fact that stocks have begun to accumulate brought about a further sag in values. The close was weak, half to 3/4c net lower, with Jan. 62.20c, and May $1.18 1/2 to $1.18 3/4c.

Table with columns: CORN, Open, High, Low, Close. Rows for Dec, Jan, May, and various grades of corn.

New York Stocks. New York, Nov. 30.—Utah coppers a point decline and Baltimore and Ohio's top of 1 1/2 points to the new minimum of 48 featured the initial opening on the stock exchange today. Pennsylvania also fell a fraction to the new low record of 45 1/2. Other rails and industrials were depressed, presumably in consequence of foreign developments. United States steel selling minus regular and extra dividends of 4 1/2 points, reacted 2 points, other equipments yielding from fractions to 3 points. Liberty bonds were inactive and slightly lower.

An advance in call money to six percent imposed additional restraint on trading later. United States steel and a few other leaders made slight improvement but rails were held back by adverse earnings. Liquidating sales on lard disclosed that the market was without support and there were consequent rapid drops in prices. Extreme recoveries of large fractions to 2 points attended the hardening process of the final hour. The close was irregular. Liberty 4's sold at 97.94 to 97.96 and the 3 1/2's at 98.88 to 99.

EXTENSION WORK OF UNIVERSITY DEVELOPS FAST

Special to The Times. Austin, Tex., Nov. 28.—No single phase of modern educational development is more noteworthy and interesting than the development of University Extension work, and particularly of Extension departments within state universities.

The Extension department of the University of Texas was established in 1909 with Dr. H. Y. Benedict, now Dean of the College of Arts, as its first director.

Visual instruction in the form of lantern slides was soon introduced, and the second year after the establishment of the department Professor E. D. Shurter, its present director, began the organization of what is now known as the University Interscholastic League.

This organization has grown by leaps and bounds, beginning the first year with a membership of 23 schools, and enrolling last year a total of 2,268 schools.

Along with the development of the Interscholastic League organization, a loan library service was established whereby the Extension department lends for a period of two weeks "package libraries" on a large number of subjects to the people in the state seeking such service.

If the school people of a community need some help in finding out the best way to build up their schools, the Extension department sends out specialists to confer with such community. In many cases specialists in rural education make the rounds of all the schools of a given county and try to help the teachers and the community solve their particular problems.

If a rural school wants to install some work in home economics, a specialist is sent by the Extension department to suggest ways and means. If a given community or town wants some general instruction in the same field, a "Home Economics Week" is conducted by representatives of the School of Domestic Economy.

The growth of this department and the increased demands for its services on the part of the people of the state amply justify its establishment. As the editor of The Texas School Journal says: "no state university is filling its whole place in the life of a state that is not organized and manned with men and money to serve the people directly."

A few figures compiled from the last report of the director of the Extension department will give some idea of this department, which is the chief medium for carrying the University to the people. The motto of the Extension Department is: "The University Extension campus is the State of Texas."

During the past year the Extension force has received on an average each month a total of 3,000 letters from the citizens of the state and mailed 5,000 bulletins, each month and 3,000 circular letters. Members of the Extension force during the period from September 1, 1916 to March 1, 1917, delivered a total of 955 addresses to audiences in various parts of the state, and reached in this manner 181,000 people. Nearly 2,000 people out in the state registered last year for correspondence courses. Upwards of 60 clubs received instruction from the University by correspondence. Sixty-three county teachers institutes were visited and about 18,000 teachers reached in this manner. The University interscholastic League had complete county organizations in 165 counties. Representatives of the 2,268 schools belonging to this organization engaged in local, county, district, and state contests in debate, declamation, spelling, essay writing, an athletics; and a conservative estimate shows that at the public speaking contests there gathered audiences aggregating a grand total of 184,700 people. The Extension Loan Library force sent out "package libraries" to the number of 1,600.

Thus it will be seen that University extension work may properly take many forms and act through many channels. The service that it can render to the people of the state is limited only by the funds appropriated for that purpose. Strong extension departments such as the State University of California, carry annual budgets of $100,000, while Cornell and Wisconsin have appropriations of about $75,000 each. The Extension department of the University of Texas has in recent years received an appropriation of about $60,000 annually. The printing and distribution of bulletins on various subjects, the large correspondence involved together with the salaries and traveling expenses of field workers, necessitate just as large an appropriation for this department as the state feels it can afford. The money value of the appropriation is given back to the people in the form of such lines of service as have been briefly indicated. The value of the department as a state educational agency and the popular approval which its work has merited are too apparent and valuable to allow any backward step at this time, say those who are familiar with its work.

Confessions of a Denatured Pacifist.

By Edwin R. Sparks, President of Pennsylvania State College.

I am nearing 60 years of that thing we call life. For more than 30 years I have been a school teacher and have given good (and no doubt, bad) advice to thousands of young people. I have my likes and dislikes; my hobbies and my hopes. My lifelong dislike has been war and my lifelong hope has been for perpetual peace.

By both temperament and physical endowment I am a pacifist. As a boy I did not play baseball because the condition of my eyes prevented my seeing the ball before it hit me. The same weakness barred me from tennis. I could have played football, but I never felt any desire to kick the other fellow in the head, and I felt a real unwillingness to have him kick me. I never fired a gun in my life. Perhaps I should have played croquet; but games never appealed to me.

Put 'Em to Sleep. Under a license granted by the University of Chicago, in the old university extension days, I put to sleep as many audiences in the Middle West as any man on the lecture platform with my "War and Peace in American History." In this discourse I indicated war as a thief in the night, who unexpectedly invaded our homes, stole our sons, our property, our sense of justice, our personal liberty, and our civilization. I proved, at least to my own mind, that in this advanced age of the world and with "The Hague program before us, we should never have another world war. I now face the greatest lesson which experience has many times tried to drill into my skull, that I can not make a thing true by thinking it is so.

When the present war broke out I was sorely disappointed. Then I suddenly recalled that had long been thinking the present head of Germany intended to have a try at the old game before he quit the job, and since His Highness came into this world, about the time My Lowness did, he is no longer young and consequently had not much time left in which to find an excuse to start something. Somehow we "feel" these prophecies.

Sorry For Sufferers. I was sorry for the poor people who had to bear the brunt of the war. Like many American tourists (I pardon the parenthesis; I have no other way of telling you that I have "been abroad" twice), I have made merry with the light-hearted French, who admitted the thoroughness of the Germans, been amused by the airs of the Italians, and exasperated by the cocksureness of the British. Now, all these people were to be led to the slaughter again in the old game of kinglycraft. And to most of them it did not matter a rap who was king, or what became of an archduke! If it were not so awful it would be funny.

As the awful thing grew and my theories blew up one after another, I began to see that many things, which at the time seemed only technical, were probably planned as part of a Prussian propaganda. Four years ago when I associated with our exchange professor from Germany I thought of him as getting as much benefit from us as we got from him. Now I began to put little things together and saw that he regarded himself as a missionary, bringing light into American darkness.

That attitude I could dismiss with a laugh, but how did he get it? Perhaps because for years we teachers had been going to Germany to complete our education and had been sending our graduate students there. We were all good fellows, and frankly, we were successful. Those of us who were scientists, insisted that students should elect German in their college courses because German was the great storehouse of scientific information. At various educational meetings we read papers in praise of the German system of instruction. We gave ponderous lectures to our freshmen in true German use verbiage.

Laughter Deserved. No doubt all this laughter was deserved, but summing up its probable effect on a nation, I began to see some reason for the attitude of the German rulers, if not the people. They were suffering from a disease, which, in my boyhood days we called the "big head." It is superinduced by a rush of success in my life. Its symptoms are a cocksureness that you are right and all the rest of the world is wrong; that you can not be overlooked in the general scheme of world development; and that you have received a lot given commission to impose your plan and views on all the rest of mankind. When a boy gets "big head," the rest of the crowd gave him a good thumping. That usually reduced the swelling.

Perhaps no nation can endure too much adulation without getting unduly inflated. If we had seen for the last 10 years "Made in the United States" on the bottom of the world's best manufactures, had connected it with the world's best music, and had literature we might have grown unduly conceited. But this case of hallucination is away around the globe. I and my family and my interests are on this side. Prussia is only a province; all Germany is not a vast nation. One can stand against all the others. Then I remembered seeing two comparative maps showing what changes three years of war had wrought in Central Europe, and how the menace had grown. Here is a copy of the maps.

Began to Weaken. When I looked at that exhibit a few minutes I began to weaken on my proposition that this was a foreign war and that we were fighting solely for our European allies. I began to see that if this thing kept on, as seemed probable unless Uncle Sam took a hand, we were likely soon to be fighting a home war with our backs up against our own doors. Prussianism began to loom up as a menace right here instead of "out there." It looked now as if it were my war, for my home and my family, for my right to be free from a military system, for my life, my health, and my peace of mind. It is a choice between American liberty and Prussian cruelty—I want liberty.

But where are all my theories of the evils of war, my duty to my fellow man, my objection to forced military service, my scruples against taking human life? As strong as ever, I believe in them; as a fighting pacifist I still believe in them. Then why have I become denatured. Because my house is on fire. I want the fire put out and my home preserved. And I am not fool enough to stop to inquire what kind of a fire engine the company brings to aid me; what is the diameter of the hose or nozzle; whether it is right to use the water on a burning house when it might be needed on some garden; whether or not there are evils attending a paid or volunteer organization of firemen; whether some of the firemen may be hurt in performing their duty. No, I say, "Go ahead! Put out the fire! Save my property."

But the taxes. When we were children on the playground some joker was wont to throw a stone or stick into the air and give a harassing yell: "What goes up must come down." As a lesson in finance as well as a law of physics the saying is true. Congress can not throw the stick of war expenditures into the air without it coming down later in the form of taxes. We all know and our children shall know what heavy taxation really is.

But is it not better to spend all this money at once than to drip it along as the world has been doing in keeping up a vast naval and military system. It will be worth all it costs if we can only free the world from future wars and make self government safe and assured.

Now, you see why I find myself on the "other side" of the issue. I waste much time, in reading arguments as to which side started the thing, or whether our side or the other committed more of a fault, which side has injured me (or rather made me put on my horns), is that somebody has kindled a fire which threatens to burn up the world's best property, that my home and yours is endangered. I want to put out that fire, and I want to do it thoroughly.

Having become converted to necessity, and I less opposed to war? No, I am more than ever convinced of the folly, the horror, the utter uselessness of war; consequently I want to banish it from the list of possible things. This can be done only by thorough education. To save a man's life a surgeon will cut away an affected part; with thorough surgery and clean the adjacent portions in order to prevent a return of the disease. I want to make a good job of this cleaning out the cancer of war from the body politic. I want no half-way measures. My sympathy is dulled by the awfulness of the thing and the possibility that it may come again. The flower of my college boys is gone—and gone to no purpose whatever if we leave the thing unsettled. My sympathies are touched by letters from anxious mothers begging me to find some way of saving their sons; but unless future safety from impossible theories is assured, later mothers will continue to lose their sons.

I am convinced of one thing: That when the women have a voice in the conduct of public affairs they will show that they have always fought the two W's of world sin, viz. war and whiskey. But the women will never get the opportunity unless democracy prevails. The present Emperor of Germany years ago voiced the attitude of absolutism when he said that woman's sphere should be confined to children, cooking and cleaning.

Meanwhile, my fellow pacifists, we must kill the snake and not simply scotch it. Here may be the long desired opportunity for forming a family league to enforce peace even by force or arms, precisely as our cities are now policed to restrain the evil minded. Such a federation of the world is now made possible by improved means of transportation and communication, and that is a family bringing it ages nearer by nation contact. It is not strange that America, the youngest among the nations, should be called the "youngest" to lead in world-reconstruction, world-federation, and world-peace?

Let us take hope, my fellow opponents of unnecessary war; for out of evil shall come good. Let us not stop now to discuss what we shall do after peace comes; first we must get peace by victory, and that is some distance away. Contradictory as it may sound we shall continue to fight in order to secure peace.

NAN'S LETTER HOME

My Dear Sis— Well I'm just back from my week-end in the country. I had begun to think that close-clipped sloping lawns and trim laurel hedges were things of long ago and I can tell you it was a wonderful experience after the rush of war work and the suspense in which I had been living.

For a while I actually forgot for the first time since I arrived in England that there was war and famine not seventy miles away in Belgium and I began to talk of pleasant things. Then an airplane buzzed overhead far up in the blue and brought me back to realities, which were further driven home when we reached the beautiful old church of Speldhurst where the congregation was just coming out from services. The men were all in khaki or hospital blue; there were so many of them, sprinkled around among the women and in groups by themselves.

monotonous that after the first shock it gave me, I had to pay close attention to notice it. That was how we who have not lost anybody felt. But presently when the whole party assembled for tea I noticed that one of the women who has lost her only son quite recently, seemed to quiver at every distant boom. The talk was not a bit suppressed, all the women spoke quite frankly of the men they had lost and every woman there was right up to the minute in war news.

Country life in England has changed just as much if not more than town life. In lots of houses where servants used to be a necessity one daughter now does the work. Another is away nursing or working in the munitions. Another raises vegetables for the winter's provision.

When we went down to the village next morning to do the day's marketing there was not a shop which had not been completely reorganized since the war. The bakeries and the butchers shops usually shut up by noon, for there is no excess supply; and in the afternoon the woman who is in charge either gets in her stock for the next day or does some sort of voluntary work. I just dreaded speaking to all my old friends. About every woman down the picturesque little street was bereaved. I think perhaps the most heartbreaking among them was Mrs. Dykes, the apple-cheeked dame who kept the vegetable stall. Her man has not been heard of for seventeen weeks and while we were talking she kept peering down the road as if she expected somebody and whenever her little boy would stray out of sight she would dart after him and bring him back to her side. "He mustn't be round the corner when his dad comes back ma'am, she explained."

Before I came over I heard rather depressing stories of the downfall of morals in rural England where the big training camps are, but questions I asked brought out nothing of the sort. There was plenty of "walking out" Sunday evening on the Common and a jolly lot of young people I have never seen. They laughed and sang and seemed particularly fond of going along in bunches and playing games like children at a party, and most of the girls had their smiting along. We were with the children from our house and in no time nursemaids and babies and Tommies were all engaged in a sort of drop the handkerchief game which seemed to be the greatest fun. Another thing I must tell you, sis to show you there isn't much "military swagger" round these parts. It arrived late from London. There are no motors or traps (as they are all depot hacks) and I had to tote my heavy

SENSIBLE MENUS ON HOOPER PLAN ARE SUGGESTED

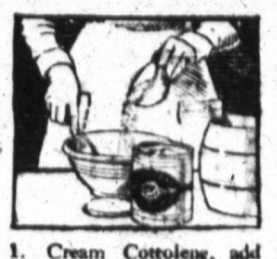

(Prepared by Division of Home Economics, University of Texas, under direction of Miss Mary E. Gearing.)

In order to bring the housewives of Texas to a better realization of the imperative importance of conserving the food supply as a means of aiding this country in the great war, a series of articles have been prepared suggesting combinations of some of the most important and practical facts which are obtainable today. This is the second and last of this special series. In the preparation of these articles such subjects as wise methods of marketing, seasonable foods and home production have been fully considered.

The following menus conclude the series presenting a week's daily fare. The first article appeared in a previous issue. The cost of the menus were calculated according to prices prevailing in Austin during the month of October.

Encore Cookies!

1. Cream Cottolene, add sugar gradually.

2. Beat eggs well.

3. Add to first mixture egg, soda dissolved in milk, salt, seeds and flour to make a soft dough.

We agree with a friend of ours, "A part of every child's education should be cookies—crisp, wholesome cookies."

Of course, if you have been using butter for cookies you may think that cookies, are somewhat of a luxury now-a-days.

But you can now make deliciously crisp cookies by using economical Cottolene instead of using expensive butter. And notice this, too—one-third less of wholesome Cottolene than you would use of butter.

Many careful housekeepers have found that Cottolene, because of its superior richness, goes much farther than other shortenings which they had been using.

Below is a recipe that shows how to make cookies that even expensive butter might be proud of. Try it and see if your children aren't tickled with these delicious Cottolene cookies. See if you aren't delighted with the money-saving.

- 1/2 cup Cottolene, 2 cups sugar, 2 eggs, 1 level teaspoon soda, 3 cup butter milk, 1 level teaspoon salt, Flour, 1 1/2 tablespoons Caraway Seeds, Raisins.

4. Place dough in ice box to chill.

5. Shape cookies, place raisin in center of each and bake.

6. The result! Crisp, wholesome cookies made without a speck of butter.

Cottolene "The Natural Shortening"

Yes! Economical Cottolene is also superior for all frying and for all shortening. At grocers in time of convenient sizes.

Foreign Departments In British Banks Are Outgrowth of Conflict

Associated Press Mail Correspondent. London, Nov. 30.—Sir Richard Vassar in a recent address before the Institute of Bankers, said one feature of recent banking developments had been the greater and more immediate control which leading banks had assumed over financial relations with other countries by the creation of foreign departments and the opening of branches in foreign countries. This development of international banking meant a demand for young Englishmen with a knowledge of foreign languages, foreign exchange and the commercial and financial conditions in other countries. Preliminary examinations of the Institute for the coming year had been opened to women. He saw no reason for dejection or discouragement with regard to the future. Reconstruction after the war would be long and arduous but it must be undertaken by removing all friction from the machinery of progress and by approaching the problem in a spirit of good will. He stated that the first and most serious question in his opinion was the relation of capital and labor, as it was only by a harmonious working between these two forces that the required result could be obtained. He urged strongly the necessity of better organization after the war. The day of small industries on individual lines was gone, he said, and manufacturers and traders must organize for united effort.

Seventh German Loan Shows Falling Off In Number of Subscribers. Associated Press. Copenhagen, Nov. 30.—Tabulation of subscriptions to the seventh German loan show that over a fourth of the total of twelve and a half millions was contributed in subscriptions of over a million marks, each, 1,932 subscribers averaging over three millions.

The sixth loan had only 750 subscribers in the super-million class. There was a marked decrease in the number of small subscribers as well as the total number of subscribers. The only feature, showing an increase in number of subscribers or total subscribed are those above half a million which are responsible for over a third of the loan. These figures are indicative of the extent to which the loan was subscribed by war supply interests.

SHIPBUILDERS NOW MAKING LIMBS FOR MAIMED MEN. Associated Press Mail Correspondent. Glasgow, Nov. 15.—Two shipbuilding firms have been turning their attention to the manufacture of artificial limbs and have produced in forty-eight hours a limb at a moderate cost which is said to be far superior to any other produced in the country. One thousand maimed soldiers have already been fitted and nine thousand are on the waiting list.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED MORE MEMBERS IS METHODISTS' AIM

LIVELY CAMPAIGN IS TO BE PUT ON BY CHURCHES OF DISTRICT

At least fifteen hundred additions is the goal set for the churches of the Wichita Falls district of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in revival meetings that are to start soon. This figure was set in resolutions adopted at the conclusion of a two days institute held here Tuesday and Wednesday in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The institute was attended by the pastor and a lay delegate from each church in the district. There was great interest in the program.

The Times has been furnished a copy of the resolutions by G. B. Carter, of Iowa Park, the secretary, who asks that they be printed by every paper in the district. The resolutions follow:

Resolved: First, That the spiritual state of the Church should be greatly increased.

Resolved: Second, That a working Sunday school be organized in every church, and that the baptism of the children be stressed.

Resolved: Third, That a Junior and Senior League be organized in every church.

Resolved: Fourth, That all benevolences be in cash or good subscription by the first of March.

Resolved: Fifth, That we strive to have a Gracious Revival meeting in every church and at least 1500 additions.

Resolved further, That we as the preachers and laymen of the Wichita Falls district lend every aid and assistance to the pastor of the First Church of Wichita Falls in making it a great central church for the district. The banishing the saloons from the city, and the better protection of the morals of the boys in our training camps, and the surrounding country.

And we further pledge our support and vote to the candidates in the coming elections who stand for the enforcement of the law and good government.
