ACCEPTANCE THIS MAN IS MADE DIRECTOR OF RUSSIAN TERMSMADE; CONDITIONS

The war situation of today is summarized by the Associated Press as follows:

Virtual acceptance of the peace terms offered by Russia was made by the Central Powers in a statement issued to the peace conference Tuesday by Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister. The Teutonic allies, however, cannot bind themselves to the Russian terms unless Russia's allies also recognize them and carry them out honestly toward the central powers.

Peace without forcible annexations and indemnities is agreeable to the Central Powers and they will conclude a general peace immediately on con-ditions equally just to all the belligerents. The Central Powers share Rus-sian condemnation of a prolongation of the war for the purpose of conquest. Count Czernin agrees that people have the right of self-definition but says that subject nationalities might solve their problems under the laws of the countries under whose sway they live. GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP NEXT?

The Federal government has defioads could not be made to work even! more successfully. And, looking to the future, if the railroads of the country can be operated successfully under government control and government ownership, it is but reasonable to conclude that government control and government ownership of the telegraph and telephone lines can be operated successfully and give better service at more reasonable rates than under private ownership. The railroads, telegraph and telephone lines are accumulating wealth at a most rapid rate, and those who have been keeping in close touch with their earnings as shown by the enormous dividends declared monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or yearly, as the case may be, are of the opinon that had the government taken charge of them years ago, paying to the owners a profit that is reasonable for the property, freight and passenger rates, tele graph and telephone tolls would now be much more reasonable and the serwice rendered much better than at present. And all this could be done at a nice profit to the government. one that would more than justify such an investment. As managed at present, the first and principal object of these concerns is to declare large profits and build up large fortunes for individuals. It is frequently the case that stock in such properties pay regularly and apparently with little effort a profit annually of more than 100 per cent over and above the amout of actual money invested in them, and the people who are forced to patronize them have to pay these enormous and unreasonable profits. Should this move lead finally to government ownership it is not believed the government is going to pay more for the property than its actual physical value. In plain words, the government, it is believed, will see to it that no watered stock is to be worked off on it. During the time the government has control of the railroads the actual value of the properties can be determined, and if this is to be the course pursued by the government the people will get better service at a more reasonable price, and the em-ment will go into effect tomorrow. By many it is believed that this is the first move toward government owner-ship of the railroads. In the event government control proves a success there would seem no reason why government ownership of the rail-control proves a success there would not be made to work event government ownership of the rail-In the beginning the confusion and dental violations, through construc-apparent conflict between local and tive work in tending to improve federal laws and administration of methods of manufacture, it co-opera-

The great value of Boy Scout training-especially to young men culisting in the nation's fighting forces-is being emphasized at this time by almost daily reports from the cantonments throughout the country. Government officials have written repeatedly to the headquarters of the Boy Sciuts of America extolling the training of the organization and giving instances in which such training has proved valuable in camp activities.
