

CONTROL OF PRICES CHARGED TO FIVE OF LARGE PACKERS

HENEY PURCHASES OF LIVESTOCK WERE ON BASIS OF PERCENTAGE

By Associated Press Washington, Jan. 28.—Control of prices and division of livestock purchases throughout the United States, so as to eliminate competition, were charged to the five big meat packing firms today by Francis J. Henev on the basis of confidential letters and telegrams taken from the packers files and read in the Federal trade commission's hearing on the packing industry.

Introduces Records Mr. Henev introduced records to show that the total purchases of livestock by the five packing firms from 1913 to 1917 were apportioned by percentages. While the extent of individual purchases varied in separate markets, according to facilities of plants at that point, Mr. Henev said the total purchases always made to conform to an agreed percentage.

ANSWERS CHARGE WAR DEPARTMENT SYSTEM FAILED

By Associated Press Washington, Jan. 28.—Five hundred thousand troops in France early this year—and a million and a half more ready to go—fully equipped and with artillery to support them, this was the answer Secretary Baker today gave the senate military committee to the charge of inefficiency and breakdown in the military establishment.

This great fighting force, probably little expected by the German general staff itself, will be composed of the men now with General Pershing, the 32 divisions of troops now in cantonments and camps in the United States and ready to move.

Without prepared manuscript and in a frank conversational manner, the secretary of war told the senators he came to defend no mistakes or shortcomings, but to insist most emphatically that deficiencies, where disclosed, be modified; that they were the exception rather than the rule and that the very magnitude of America's undertaking made errors of judgment and mistakes likely.

Incidentally, in defending the war machinery against the charge of inefficiency and lack of initiative to prepare for war, when war was assured, the secretary of war disclosed some facts hitherto held confidential.

Supply Artillery France and Great Britain, he said, are supplying artillery to the American forces because they themselves wished to do so, as they had an excess of hand and wished to save ships for more vital necessities.

Thirty-two divisions of national guard and national army troops in camp in the United States—more than a million men in all—are considered ready to go overseas for service whenever it is decided that they shall move.

Every American soldier who can use a rifle, Secretary Baker told the senators, already has been provided with one and the rate of manufacture assures a steady supply as troops become ready to use them.

Lewis machine guns, he said, although they have been ordered are not being used for the troops on land because General Pershing and his staff desire them only for airplane work.

SINGLE STANDARD OF MORALS URGED FOR U. S. SOLDIERS

GIRLS AND WOMEN OF WICHITA FALLS TOLD OF THEIR RESPONSIBILITY.

REV. P. G. CROSS TALKS

Make Plain Statements in His Sunday Sermon On "War Facts For Wichita Falls."

Warning the girls and women of Wichita Falls that upon them devolves the responsibility of seeing that the men going abroad from here go with a single standard of morals, Rev. P. G. Cross stated some very plain, unvarnished truths in his sermon "War Facts for Wichita Falls" at the First Christian Church, yesterday morning. The text of the sermon follows: "War Facts for Wichita Falls."

Facts talk. Facts count! Facts can either be ignored or accepted for progress. There are two kinds of facts—good and bad. It is folly to accept the good and reject the bad. Wisdom dictates that we accept the facts, good and bad, and govern ourselves accordingly. So let us profit to the glory of God.

For this church, for this city and for our nation, the last year was the best year. Given an organization be it a church or a business, out of debt, with all obligations met, and no internal troubles, a hidden danger immediately arises—that of letting down and resting upon the victories of the past. The hoary past has always held a strange fascination for man. Mazzini, the great Italian patriot, saw this danger and warned his countrymen against it in undying words. "The morrow of victory is more perilous than the day of battle. The sacred past ordains that we make the future even greater by sacrifice and service that history may show us to be soldiers of the common good and not lackers of selfish greed. Individuals, institutions, cities, states are at the testing and none shall escape."

SCOTS IN U. S. JOIN COLORS OF BRITAIN AS PIPERS PLAY

The Campbells are going from the U. S. A. to fill the gaps in Canadian and English ranks, so also are the Cameron men, the McDougalls, the MacIntoshes, the Stewarts and the other clansmen. No wonder the bagpipers skirt at recruiting drives. The Scots are swarming to the colors. In Chicago headquarters of the western division of the British-Canadian Recruiting Mission, which leads all divisions in number of recruits, nearly every member of the Robert Burns club has enlisted. Credit is given to the Kiltie band of Scotch bagpipers for a large number of the recruits, for all hearts are thrilled by the Highland heartsteps they have played in parades and at reunions.

no matter what the obstacles or the price. What have you done? Passed? Complained? Kicked? Because of the calls that demand money, time and thought? If the spirit that impels Aubrey McLeod to sacrifice and serve is not your spirit then count yourself as a slacker unworthy of country and citizenship. Making Americans. The war is making Americans Americans! Thousands of drafted men cannot speak a dozen words of English. More than one regiment contains at least 60 per cent of men who are dumb when it comes to our speech. Yet in the words of the fire of liberty and democracy has imbued them to gladly get in line and fight to the death for freedom and fraternity. Realize that these men do not have your knowledge of American institutions and ideals, nor your relationships with the sacred past of this land of the free. And these men in the making are going in with a smile and a vim that is eloquent for the future of this great nation. (Get this fact: these—st me say—American foreigners will come out of the melting pot of this war with all their foreign bias burned away and they will come home Americans to the core and you had better believe it they will come back demanding of church and society that they never dreamed of. It means putting operation in cooperation. The test now for you who stay at home will not be a circumstance to the test that will be yours when the morrow of victory arrives.

Still Another Fact. Here is another fact that will make you think yet more: "The war has caused a strange madness to possess the girls and younger women. It was first seen in England, and now wise, expert workers are amazed at its subtle sweep in this country. It is the madness of prostitution. Already hundreds of illegitimate children have been born, and the end is not yet. Let this be clearly understood that no star is cast upon our soldiers nor any kind of a sweeping condemnation made of our young women. But facts are facts and we need to face open-eyed the facts or hell will break loose! Let us quote the facts from cold type: "Women workers have found that any social event to which men are invited must be hedged about

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after-effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "foggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

"AFTER THE WAR, WHAT?" DISCUSSED BY REV. GRAFTON

SAFETY OF WORLD HEREAFTER TO BE GUARDED BY LEAGUE OF NATIONS WILL BE ONE STANDARD

Pastor of First Presbyterian Church Speculates at Length on Outcome of Conflict

"After the War, What?" is the title of the sermon preached yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church by Rev. N. F. Grafton. A new world, whose safety would be guaranteed by a league of nations, and whose new life would be marked by the destruction of the double standard of ethics is to be born through the trial of this war, in Mr. Grafton's opinion. The text of the sermon follows:

Lesson: John 12:23-28. Text: John 12:24—"Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die it abideth alone; but if it die it bringeth forth much fruit." In my text we have the great doctrine of dying in order to live. It seems strange that we must have death in order to have life, and yet that is the order of the universe. The corn of wheat must fall into the ground that the golden harvest wave in the sunshine of other months. In looking at this great war, with its questions to be answered and its mighty problems to be solved, one thing stands out in all our thinking: What are the redemptive influences? What the compensations?

1. There must be a new world. It is a new order commensurate with the terrible price. The price is human life. Fifteen or twenty millions of human lives have already gone into the hopper of war. We are told that 5,000,000 have been killed. Who staggers under its price? Who can calculate the worth of a single life in that great number? The price is incalculable sorrow. There are the sorrows of mothers, the sorrows of widows, the sorrows of orphaned children, the sorrows of the starving innocent multitudes. The price of sorrow which is full of overflowing. The price is wanton destruction. Lands once fertile and rich from which came cornucopias of food, now are desolate and desolate. Cities, once the pride of the citizens thereof and of the world, lie smoldering in the ashes of ruin. Works of art, the delight of the world, have felt the hand of the vandal. Homes where dwelt the inhabitants in peace and plenty have gone forever to be rebuilt.

The price is wealth. The monetary cost of this war is beyond human comprehension. It is placing a burden of debt upon unborn centuries and humanity will be staggering under its weight when the authors of this thing that set the world on fire have been in the nether world a thousand years. The price is hatred. It will take centuries to wipe out the enmities, bitterness and hatred engendered during this strife. The song of hatred will continue to be sung and the arms are laid down and the men go back to their regular pursuits. There are Two Outstanding Demands:

2. Things must come to the world or men have fought in vain, and in vain. The war will never be settled right until these two things are assured. No peace terms will be worth the paper they are written upon unless those terms include these two things: 1. A League of Nations. Lord Bryce, Sir Edward Grey, Lord Asquith, Messrs. Taft, Lowell, Straus, Marburg and other prominent men have gone on record as never being contented with the issues of this war until a League of Nations has been formed that will insure peace for all time. Our own president, in his great message, said: "I pray God that if this contest have no other result, it will be the result of creating some sort of joint guarantee of peace on the part of the nations." 2. The Destruction of a Double Standard of Ethics. The standard of ethics when the war began, was Christian for the people and pagan for the nations. If men, as individuals, have no right to settle their quarrels with fists and guns and knives then nations have no right to fly at one another's throats. If might does not make right for you and for me it does not make right for Germany and Austria and Turkey. "Am I my brothers keeper" is just as applicable to nations as to individuals. The benevolent spirit of the stronger to the weaker nations must maintain. Our attitude toward Mexico must be the attitude of the nations toward the peoples of smaller nations. This war will never be settled right until that spirit permeates the lives of all the individuals of the world. Other Redemptive influences of this war:

Buck-wheat Cakes and pure cane syrup are hard to beat. This is a combination that everybody likes. Buck-wheat cakes are especially good when the syrup is good, but be sure your syrup is "right."

Dunbar's King Komus Syrup is the best for cakes and other table uses. It has the flavor of the cane. It comes to you pure and uncontaminated by human hands in any way. It is put up in a modern model factory. The cans are sanitary. Keep Dunbar's King Komus Syrup on the table and you will have one of the finest and most delicious foods that you can get. 1. America Has Recovered Her National Self-Respect. We have wiped out a black spot in our history. We have shown that we are not base ingrates. We can lift our heads among the nations. We are not longer a hiss and a by-word. When the war of 1775-1781 came Washington raised an army of 16,000 men which fought the invaders. That army was soon without shoes, clothes, powder and shot. We made a frantic appeal to France. History tells us that the souls now lie in the dust of that appeal brought 38 transports, 2 battleships, 7,500 soldiers, clothes, medicine, ammunition, guns and fifty million dollars. The tide of war was turned and when Cornwallis surrendered his sword to Washington there was a man of France deserving to stand at his side that man was Lafayette. What a colossal debt of gratitude! We stood for two years and saw the Huns over-run fair, beautiful France. We saw her country laid waste. We saw her homes destroyed. I looked on as that heroic army fought to hold back the hordes from Paris. We heard the cry for help but we did not heed it. No, we wanted no entangling alliances. We forgot Dunbar's King Komus Syrup in America squared. The priest and the Levite we passed on the other side while France lay wounded on the road to Paris. Our stars and stripes were trailing in the dust of ingratitude. We were a stench in the nostrils of humanity. When on that memorable morning we read the news of war declared every right thinking man in America squared his shoulders and looked the world in the face again. Our armies are going to wipe out the stain from our honor and flag. Already France is awakening to a realization that we have honor and gratitude.

2. This War is Sending the World to School: It is teaching the world that military gains are fictitious. Imperialism took the Roman Empire as its inspiration. The doctrine of Rome does not fit now. The men who precipitated this war failed to see that Rome believed she would profit as Carthage wanted. Her cry was, Carthage must be destroyed. To build an imperial city on the ruins of the cities on the Nile must be Rome awakened to her misdeeds. When she had goods to take she were none to buy. Her military gains were fictitious. The sword and commerce have nothing in common. There is an irrevocable enmity between the two. One of the results of this war must be an awakening to this great fact. This war has taught the world that autocracy must be destroyed. Nature never made a man big enough to rule over another man. Imperialism sits upon the peasant as well as upon the king and prince and lord. When shall this war cease? Throne of freedom. The world must learn that true manhood is imperial. That it does not need the right of coronation, for it is crowded already. Its majesty is supreme in all lands, all ages and all worlds.

"MUTT AND JEFF DIVORCED" AT WICHITA TOMORROW

Richard Freeman who plays the role of the elongated Mutt in the new Bud Fisher cartoon comedy, "Mutt and Jeff Divorced," will play at the Wichita Theatre tomorrow and Wednesday was standing in front of the box office of the Columbia Theatre, New York, where the production was playing recently. When a man approached the ticket window and asked for two seats, the man explained he was accompanied by his wife. "Only two I have together are divided by a post," said the ticket seller. "I'll take 'em," said the man. After the performance, the same man approached the box office and said to the ticket seller: "Reserve those two seats with the post between for me every Monday night for the rest of the season. My wife and I always go Monday night. That's the first show I've enjoyed this season." The box office man declared he doesn't know just what the man means.

"THE DOOR BETWEEN" AT THE GEM TUESDAY. Rupert Julian will be the star of Tuesday's program at the Gem theatre, appearing in "The Door Between." In one of the most perfectly appointed Gaiety houses this side of Nippon, an exact imitation of the famous Japanese substitute for our well-known cabaret, an English house confides to a gentle-mannered student of Oriental music the fact that he has come half-way across the world to murder his wife, and the man who took her from him. It was a cold-blooded threat, but made in an impressive manner amidst wistful, soft music and berles of Gaiety-girls. It so stimulated Anthony Eckert with a sense of impending doom that he dashed out into a street which any Japanese would have mistaken for Main Street, Tokyo, and back to his hotel—a perfectly appointed hostelry which would have done credit to the land of the Rising Sun.

In the room next to his, separated only by the conventional Japanese partition, Anthony heard a voice which encouraged him to believe that at last he had found one who could interpret the difficult Chinese scale, and without more ado he broke down the door, regardless of consequences, or of the feeling of the occupant of the room. What was his consternation to learn, shortly afterward, that the owner of the voice, to whom he had become deeply attached, was none other than the accused wife, and that circumstances had so shaped themselves that the infuriated Englishman could draw no other conclusion than that he was the man who had run away with her. Thus runs the thread of the story

The school home has been floating from the building since early last week.

NEW PROBLEM IN ACCOUNTING
 A Texas congressman has created a new problem in accounting for the treasury department. Hon. Eugene Black of the Clarksville district has returned to the department $150.16 left out of his appropriation for clerk hire. In the treasury department as in other departments precedent governs in nearly all things. The action of the congressman in returning any portion of his clerk hire was unprecedented and therefore the accounting of the Texas congressman's remittance has created a new problem.

PLANTING CASTOR BEANS
 The oil from the castor bean is a necessary lubricant for airplanes. The supply of this oil is far from adequate and the government is contracting with farmers to plant 100,000 acres in castor beans, and will pay $3.50 per bushel for the beans produced on this acreage. The government is making arrangements to furnish the seed to farmers with whom it contracts at cost. One bushel of seed will plant nineteen acres and the normal yield runs from 8 to 20 bushels per acre.

SAVING FOOD

PEACE POSSIBLE SAYS HARDEN TO GERMAN PEOPLE
 By Associated Press.
 London, Jan. 28.—Maximilian Harden devotes thirteen closely written pages in the latest issue of Die Zukunft to reproducing "the real texts" of the recent speeches of President Wilson and Premier Lloyd-George. He says that thoughtful and conscientious men should read the speeches quietly and without prejudice and criticisms in astonishingly outspoken fashion Germany's attitude toward Austria in the conduct of the Russian negotiations.
 Herr Harden virtually accuses Germany of forcing Austria-Hungary into the war and says that peace might have been obtained the first week at Brest-Litovsk if the Germans had not posed as conquerors and had not demanded territory.
 Referring to President Wilson's speech, Herr Harden says:
 "Belief is still firm that peace is possible and that the cleavage between the two fighting groups no longer is so wide that it can be filled only by new heaps of corpses. It will, however, widen into an unbridgeable gulf if the people again refuse to acknowledge a changed world."
 He pleads for the sanctity of treaties, a reduction of armaments, the right of self-determination of nations, and favors a reconsideration of the question of Alsace-Lorraine.

WOMAN IS HELD WHILE INQUIRY IS BEING MADE
 A woman, giving her name as Mrs. O. E. Keith, is in the custody of county officials, while four checks said to have been given Saturday night to local merchants are being investigated. Her companion, giving her name as Ray Williams, was given a hearing by U. S. Commissioner J. A. Lantz on charges of failure to register and was held to the federal grand jury under $500 bond, which he has been unable to make. Williams claims to be 32 years old, and when asked by federal officers when she was born stated on "June 14, 1886." He insisted that both statements were correct, both he to his age and his birth year. The woman who said she had met him first at Tulsa, Okla., said he was about 25 years old. Williams claimed to have married the woman in Seattle, Washington.
 The woman's statements contradict this, she declares that she married another man in Tulsa and that they came here from Fort Worth.

ALL EMBARGOES ARE RAISED ON DENVER SYSTEM
 WATER AND FUEL CONTINUE TO BE HARDEST OF ALL PROBLEMS.
 CONDITIONS ARE BETTER
 Katy Says No Trouble Would Have Been Experienced Except For Shortage of Water
 All embargoes on the Denver lines have been lifted, according to the statement of officials here this morning and the general conditions of freight movement are considered much improved. A good deal of difficulty still remains in the case of water and fuel, and normal conditions were not restored, but a good deal of the congestion has been removed, and food, feed, fuel and government freight, feed, fuel and government with a greater degree of regularity than for some time.
 On Katy Lines
 On the Katy lines, the water situation continues unchanged, though the improved weather conditions have been responsible for a great deal of relief. Officials of this road stated this morning, that as far as local conditions were concerned, no tie-up would ever have occurred, had it not been for the lack of water. Business, they said, was sub-normal in the aggregate; for while inbound merchandise were as heavy as usual, and possibly a little heavier, cotton and grain shipments had been far lighter than usual.
 Severe Weather
 The severity of the weather and the shortage of water, which, at times, they said, had been almost entirely responsible for the local congestion. If the weather gets no worse than at present, however, a general improvement might have been obtained in freight schedules. Already it is reported that the local yards are a good deal clearer than a week ago, due to the mild weather; for while inbound merchandise present conditions will restore normal freight movement.

BAKER SAYS ARMY IN FRANCE SOON TO BE 500,000 MEN

was prepared to furnish machine guns for the land forces until the American supplies arrived, and in fact, we had to do so.

Mr. Chamberlain said that a large number of men before equipment for them was ready. Secretary Baker assumed to himself the duty of the best military advisers including Major General Wood, pressed it.

Charges of mistreatment of troops in hospitals, Mr. Baker said, were not on an "accusatory" basis, but on the basis of the war department only last week refused to permit mere dismissal of two army doctors who mistreated soldiers but insisted they should have prison sentences in addition.

Senator Chamberlain's speech, Mr. Baker thought, has given the country the impression that the deficiencies complained of were characteristic rather than occasional. He emphatically declared he came before the committee not to defend individuals.

Mr. Baker told of investigations which resulted in the discharge of Lieutenant Charles W. Cole and Lieutenant John G. Dye, for neglect of patients as published in the newspapers Saturday afternoon. The judge advocate general advised adding prison sentences to the dismissal and that is being considered.

While camp commanders are held responsible for health conditions, Secretary Baker said, the surgeon general's office has daily inspections and he has appointed Dr. John A. Hornaby, a hospital expert, as his personal inspector. A telegram from Dr. Hornaby regarding camp conditions, Secretary Chamberlain assailed, disclosed that "greatly improved" with mortality reduced and "ample accommodations for all sick."

Secretary Baker read a letter from Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, the writer, who has a son in the service commending hospital conditions she recently inspected.

Mrs. Rinehart said she was impressed by Senator Chamberlain's "tragic letters."

"But I feel the mothers of the country should know," wrote Mrs. Rinehart, "that the number of such cases is small. It is cruel to allow every mother to judge the medical corps because here and there men are unwilling or unable to give the care that is their duty. There are conditions to be remedied. The shortage of women nurses is serious. But of cruelty and indifference, I have found nothing. Ninety-nine out of a hundred boys are given better care than they could afford at home."

"And in wish to point out further," added Secretary Baker, "that the very heads of the medical profession, the masters of the profession, are in control of the situation with the surgeon general. No army could be raised in any country, the secretary contended without danger from the communicable diseases that could be done without providing every means of science to meet the danger. That, he insisted, was being done."

"Taking up Senator Chamberlain's attack on the ordnance bureau, Mr. Baker said that men's minds differed about the types of guns to be used and about the quantity. He then disclosed that the decision to adopt the so-called re-chambered Enfield rifle was reached late one night in his office at a conference attended by General Pershing, who was preparing to go to France; General Scott, chief of staff; General Bliss, assistant chief; General Crozier, chief of ordnance and General Kuhn, head of the ordnance college, and several other staff officers, "experts in rifles." It was late in May or early in June.

his power to assist "without fear or favor" and so effect any improvement.

Asked for details, the secretary said that when he heard of the two letters read by Senator Chamberlain concerning the treatment of sick soldiers, he immediately asked Mr. Chamberlain for all the details.

"I want to follow those through to the very end," said he, "and find out who is responsible, in order that it can punish the guilty."

Although more than one million are under arms in this country, Mr. Baker said, the number of complaints received have been relatively small, probably not more than eighteen. In each instance, he said, investigations have been made immediately.

Some reports, the secretary said, have not proved serious upon inquiry while others have, in which case correction followed.

In the case of the body of an officer who died at an aviation training school being shipped home in a sheet, Secretary Baker said inquiry developed that the camp was in charge of a British aviation officer, who followed the British method of sending bodies home unclothed, the man's clothes being shipped in a separate parcel. An American officer was then put in charge.

Another complaint of neglect of a patient at camp Wheeler, he said, developed that it was unjustified and resulting from the "distressed imagination of the widow."

There still are in the hands of the inspector general nine cases being investigated.

Mr. Baker told of investigations which resulted in the discharge of Lieutenant Charles W. Cole and Lieutenant John G. Dye, for neglect of patients as published in the newspapers Saturday afternoon.

them; that is before November 1," Mr. Baker said.

On the question of his gun, Secretary Baker recalled that General Crozier, chief of ordnance, had urged congress and the various secretaries of war to purchase the machine gun because of the time it took to make the guns. The record served, he thought, to show that General Crozier had refused the sale of the machine gun and sought to prepare in advance.

"To the report on progress of shell making," Secretary Freilinghuyzen of Shell made a statement.

"From my information I am inclined to challenge that statement," Secretary Baker said. It was surmised by General Wheeler, acting quartermaster general, but he believed it accurate.

"I want to make one further observation," Secretary Baker observed, "taking up army food. I think it is not unfair for me to say that in the provision of food for my army ever assembled and any other army in the world, as well as nutritious and as appetizing as this army. While there have been complaints about other things, I think it is not fair to say that the food has been of the highest quality with a suggestion of defect in its quantity or preparation, and that generally the food has been well prepared and carried out with the most extraordinary success."

Expert Sent Abroad. Army experts were sent abroad to study the quantity of food in France, it was intimated that France had so far accelerated her industrial program that "the wastage of industry would not justify the cost of shipping for American forces then going to France, without curtailing her own forces."

"On July 13 or 14," Mr. Baker continued, "an agreement was made by which the French government agreed to supply the principal portion of 500,000 rifle bullets and 155 millimetre rapid fire howitzers needed for the American forces being sent abroad."

"The American government wishes to adopt the quickest solution to get the largest supply in the shortest possible time. At that time, although we were sending troops to France, it was not to any large numbers—a matter somewhat for the remote future."

"You thought it was better to use the French factories instead of waiting to build our own," asked Senator Reed.

Ships Chief Problem. "Exactly," Secretary Baker replied. "Also it saved tonnage. And I'm telling no secrets when I say that ships are the crux of this problem and every thing we can use French industrial resources in respect of building and sending our own products we are doing it."

"Is that a disadvantage to France?" asked Senator Beckham.

"No," said Mr. Baker positively. "It has been a very great advantage to France."

PRIZES OFFERED TO CHILDREN WHO KILL MOST RATS

LOCAL FIRMS WOULD STIMULATE INTEREST IN THE RAT KILLING CAMPAIGN

TWENTY DOLLARS FIRST PRIZE

Minimum of Fifty Trophies of the Chase Necessary, However, to Attain "H's S.m."

With a view to stimulating interest in the rat extermination campaign now going on under the auspices of the Civic League a number of firms and individuals in the city have offered prizes to the children of the county for the largest number of rats killed by February 28th.

The contest is open to all boys and girls of the county, who when they have killed all the rats they can find, are required to take the carcasses to the city incinerator, where the superintendent will give checks certifying that he has received such and such a number of rats from such and such a party.

White Children: First prize, $20; second prize $15; third prize, $5. In addition to this, $10 will be paid to the negro bringing the largest number of checks, and $5 to the negro child on the same condition.

A condition attached to the first prize in every case is that a minimum of fifty rats are to be caught before the prize is awarded. If less than this number is brought, the prize will be withdrawn, and the second prize awarded. In other words, no one need figure on getting $20 in white or $10 if colored, unless he or she has at least fifty rats to his or her credit.

Those Giving Money

The prize money has been given by the following people: Wichita Mill and Elevator Co. $10, Chamber of Commerce, 10, W. D. Husung, $10, St. James Hotel, $10, Civic League, $5, Rotary Club, $5, Lions Club, $5, Total $55.

The Wichita Mill and Elevator Co., the City Meat Market, and the Favorite Bar are the latest firms to have signed contracts with W. D. Husung, for the extermination of rats, mice, and vermin from their premises.

OZARK TRAIL IS GIVEN SUPPORT BY THIS CITY

C. W. Reid, who has been appointed local chairman of the Ozark Trail Association, announced yesterday that the local organization already amounted to seventy-five members, and the result of half a day's canvassing, and that he believes that easily double that number will be rounded up for the city alone, in plenty of time to make a good showing at the Miami convention next June. In addition to this, Burkhardt, Iowa Park and Electra may be counted upon for strong support, Mr. Reid believes.

Bennett Visits City.

B. F. Bennett, secretary of the Wichita Valley Highway in place of B. F. Johnson, who resigned upon his appointment at Austin, came to Wichita Falls last Thursday to arouse the town to the necessity of making a desperate bid for the designation of the Wichita Valley Highway as part of the Ozark Trail. Mr. Bennett pointed out that this highway will be a national military road, maintained in large part by federal appropriations, and of immense value to the whole district through which it runs.

City Must Hustle.

Wichita Falls, he said, would have to hustle if she wanted to get it, and the whole of the route must rub its eyes at little, and get the dust out of its ears, in order to get the money which although asked for only 50 members, had already 120, and would probably go a good deal stronger.

Field Here Not Ready.

Unfortunately, Mr. Bennett found the local organizers a little unprepared for his visit, owing to the fact that the greatest of business which fell upon the shoulders of Mr. Johnson just prior to his departure had prevented his local headquarters from appointing local heads of departments, so to speak. Added to this—which means, of course, that no one had any idea of Mr. Bennett's coming, nor of the cause of it—the Chamber of Commerce had just recovered, or was at least recovering from a most strenuous membership drive and campaign, and many of the men who were most vitally interested in the road movement in general, and this city in particular, simply had to return to their homes for the conducting of their own businesses.

CLEANLINESS CHEAPER THAN SICKNESS SAYS COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

Cleanliness is cheaper than sickness, says the State Council of Defense, in a little leaflet recently issued in an appeal to all citizens to keep all their premises in a clean and sanitary condition. The leaflet is as follows: Help Win the War By Preventing Unnecessary Sickness. Spring will soon be here. It's time to clean up. Let's all help to make Our City more attractive and healthful. Keep your yard in front and rear neat and clean. Ask your neighbors to do likewise.

A soldier's first duty is cleanliness, his person, his equipment, and his surroundings. Be a good soldier yourself. Plant trees, shrubs, vines and flowers. Destroy weeds. Put garbage, trash and manure in covered, fly tight receptacles. Fight worms and insects, thus preserving the flowers and trees and helping to make the city beautiful. Cleanliness transformed Havana from a plague spot to a famous health resort. What are you doing to make your city a healthier and a better place to live in?

Sugar and Ships

In the interest of the public it serves, the American Sugar Refining Company is earnestly supporting the Government's policy to regulate the supply of sugar so that it shall be sufficient for the needs of all—our soldiers, our Allies and ourselves.

With the new crop of cane sugar coming in, the sugar situation is more favorable than it was a month ago. There will be sugar enough, according to present indications, if extravagant use and waste are avoided.

War has disturbed the whole world's sugar supply. It has not only wiped out any available surplus, but it has put all nations on a hand-to-mouth basis.

The European Allies were the first to feel the pinch. Before the war, enough sugar was produced on the Continent to supply all Europe. Today, two-thirds of this sugar-producing area is within the battle lines.

England, France and other nations have had to turn elsewhere for a supply of this indispensable food.

And they came to Cuba—the main source upon which the United States depends for its cane sugar. During 1917, Cuba sold and shipped to Europe nearly 1,000,000 tons of raw sugar—one-third of its crop.

In addition to the normal increase in the consumption of sugar as food in this country, the nation-wide movement to save the fruit crop last season greatly increased its use.

But this increased consumption of sugar has been a real factor in combating waste. It enabled the American housewife to add to the store of the food of the nation at a time when fruits and vegetables were plentiful and cheap.

The sugar is not only in the fruit jar, but it has carried into the pantries of the country a vast supply of fruit and vegetables which would otherwise have been lost. Sugar itself is not only a food, but it is also the great preserver of other foods.

As the demand for sugar grew, both here and abroad, Cuba's supply was exhausted last fall. Every available ton in Porto Rico and other cane sugar countries was acquired. But this was not enough, and the shortage came.

In war time and at all times it is our aim to safeguard the interests of the public we serve.

Chicago Boys Lead In Committing Crime Says Judge Scanlon
 By Associated Press
 Chicago, Jan. 28.—"More crimes are committed by Chicago boys between the ages of fifteen and twenty years in one year than have been committed in the whole of Illinois in 100 years," Judge Scanlon of the criminal court told an audience at a Y. M. C. A. Continuing Judge Scanlon said that his probation cases have been assigned to one juvenile court here and that each of them have seventy cases of juvenile delinquency to investigate. Judge Scanlon said that the tales of the youthful criminals were in many cases so sordid as to be the cause of horror to the judges hearing them. He attributed the frequency of crime among youths to lack of discipline and faulty moral standards.

SNOW DRIFTS USED AS BARRICADES BY BANDITS; LIVELY BATTLE ENSUES
 By Associated Press
 Chicago, Jan. 28.—Snow drifts were used as barricades last night by five bandits and police in a fifteen minute revolver battle before the police received reinforcements and were able to surround the quintette. The five men, all of whom are Italians, were challenged by police when they tried to enter the guarded home of a Chicago Italian, who has been threatened with death by Black Hand members after he refused to comply with their demands for $5,000. His home has been guarded by police since a bomb was thrown into it a month ago.

Mrs. W. S. Bruce has returned to her home after visiting her sister, Mrs. J. C. Engle, in Prenton, Mo.
