GOVERNOR CALLS LEGISLATURE TO MEET

DROUGHT IN ARMY TOWNS IS TO BE URGED

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Feb. 19.—Governor Hobby today issued his official proclamation convening the thirty-fifth legislature in special session at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, February 26. Eight subjects are submitted by the governor for the consideration of the law makers, the first five of which deal with his liquor regulation program which provides for a dry zone within ten miles of a military camp of instruction, and the regulation of commercialized vice.

In correct colors this would draw the eye of the observer—the lurking Hun submarine commander—to the stern of the vessel, thus making it likely that the torpedo would miss fire.

Slavs Reported To Be Ready To Sign Treaty Of Peace With Enemy

By Associated Press.
London, Feb. 19.—Russia is now forced to sign peace upon the conditions proposed by Germany, says an official Russian statement received here today.

GERMANS STRIKE BLOW UPON BOLSHEVIKI

The war situation of today is summarized by The Associated Press as follows:
While German armies have crossed the Dvina and entered Dvinsk to deliver a blow at Soviet Russia in consequence of the Bolshevik refusal to meet Germany's terms of peace, the Bolsheviks themselves are reported from an uncertain source to have been driven from power in Petrograd.

Should Lay Bare Wrongs.

If any individual with highest motives wishes to lay bare wrongs which he is charged with lending aid and comfort to the enemy, I will not subscribe to any doctrine which either in peace or in war, legitimate, honest and conscientious suggestion or criticism may not be indulged. This government yet belongs to all its people and they are entitled to know not only how diplomatically the government deals with the nations of the earth but to know as well that which concerns the international policies which yet control the republic situated within the boundaries of the United States and beyond this, they are entitled to know what interests concern their property and their lives.

NEGOTIATIONS WITH HIS PARTY ONLY TO GAIN ENDS SHE DESIRED

By Associated Press.
London, Feb. 19.—Renewal of the German attack on Great Russia fills the expectation widely held here since Germany consented to negotiate. It is felt the Ukrainian idea that Germany had peace less in mind than to secure possession of what was valuable in Russia and that the superior attitude toward the Bolsheviks would be maintained only until the moment she awaited had arrived.

Light Kites Treason.

"Disloyalty and treason cannot thrive in the light. Neither can incompetence, the strong ally of failure. Official suppression and concealment are as vicious as the secret diplomacy and private bargaining which President Wilson so justly condemns. The pretense that the people cannot be told the truth is the artifice of incompetent men who are afraid to face the test of public scrutiny.

Roads Broke Down.

In support of his declaration for government ownership, Senator Johnson said that the railroads had broken down under the stress of the last few months; that if the country is to have efficient national transportation the roads must be nationalized and operated by one directing head; that the American people have "paid the price of private ownership" and that "des-

British Army Headquarters in France, Feb. 19.—The great German offensive on the western front may be expected to begin at any moment now. As far as the British front is concerned, the main thrust will be made on the sector between Arras and St. Quentin.

GERMAN ATTACK ON BOLSHEVIKI IS NO SURPRISE

OLD METHODS OF ATTACK

Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General von Ludendorff appear to have realized that the old methods of attack in which a long bombardment is employed are too well known to produce the results desired. Accordingly, the German troops are being told that surprise attacks, such as were used in Galicia last summer at Iliga and again on the Isonzo are to be tried against the allies on the western front.

Word Has Been Passed

Word has been passed by the German high command that few of the allied troops will survive the effects of the tanks, the gas and the bombardment and that fresh German infantry will overtake and capture any resistance offered in captured positions.

Cannot Delay Attack

The German attack cannot be delayed much longer. All information points to the fact that both German civilians and soldiers are keyed up to such a pitch of nervous expectancy that the strain cannot endure for long. They are waiting for the attack with feverish hope that the high command can this time make good its promise. The German troops are expected to fight well.

GERMAN READING PUBLIC FED UP UPON QUEER NEWS

By Associated Press.
New York, Feb. 19.—The German reading public is being fed upon such reports about the American troops in France as the following, which is circulated as a Geneva dispatch by a leading German news agency:
"In consequence of the increasing number of excesses by American soldiers in France and particularly in Flanders, the American government has stationed in France a large number of policemen in plain clothes who beat up with rubber club loaded with lead all disorderly American soldiers. Paris papers report that this measure has caused many incidents of the public taking the side of soldiers handled with such brutal brutality."

AMERICAN TELLS OF BEING GASED WITH CANADIANS

GIVES VIVID DESCRIPTION OF GOING OVER TOP TO ATTACK HUNS.

GUN BLOWN TO PIECES

Spence Says He Was Made Happy By Sight of First American Troops Ready For Actual Work.

"Remember you are Americans and are fighting for a Christian and God and fight clean."

This is the message that a young Pennsylvania boy, Richard Spence, who has been in an English hospital recovering from the wounds received in a battle with the Hun in No Man's Land some time ago, sends to the boys of the American army. Spence has a friend at Camp Travis and is through courtesy of this friend Sergeant McDonald at the Post Exchange, that the Times has letters telling of the fighting in the sector in which he was engaged. Spence at first had the gun he was manning blown to pieces the morning before his organization was ordered to go over the top. The machine gunners are spoken of as "The Suicide Club" in the English army. Spence enlisted with the Canadians before Americans entered the war and is now what might be considered a veteran.

Keep Home Fires Burning.

Letters from the boys, candy, tobacco and news that the country is supporting the men by the Liberty Loans, subscriptions to the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. war fund held by Gunner Spence to be most important. "Keep the home fires burning," he says, and "you boys in America's army, how I wish I were with you. Remember when you meet the Hun that you are Americans and 'Fight Clean.'"

Tells of Battle.

"We, Canadians were in Belgium, which I think is the best and the middle place on the earth. We had been slowly firing the Hun back for some days—everything slow on account of the wind and rain. We gained ground at every attack but the fighting was severe; thousands of cannons working day and night, shells bursting at the same time, machine guns, rifles and machine gun bullets. We were losing men, but the Hun were losing more. Many of the men, who fought there are lying in the shell holes, where they will never be found in this world. I had been on duty day and night for some time. My gun was going badly all the time until old Fritz got it into his square head it was time to cut it out so he did. He got his artillery ranged on our position and shelled us heavily. He blew my gun to pieces, but he hit fair on it. I was not hit but the others were not so lucky. Being without a gun, I was sent back for a rest. It made me feel like a man that my rest was only about a mile from the front line and we were under fire all the time. But that did not keep me from resting and getting a good short sleep. We were to go over the top the next morning at dawn, and were ordered to get another gun and go forward with the infantry. We were ready and were in position by two in the morning. The trenches were full of infantry when we were to make the attack. I cannot tell you when, either or mention the armies, because we were not allowed by censor. We were ready at 6.10 when the artillery barrage opened. We had at least three thousand cannons and many hundred (Emma Gees) machine guns firing over our heads into the Hun's trenches. They were to fire on the front line trenches for eight minutes, and then lift their fire further back over his lines and when the fire was lifted we were to cross No Man's Land and go into the Hun's trenches. When the fire lifted we got out of our trenches and started for the Hun lines. We only had a small loss in going over. The Hun, left after our barrage engaged us in hand to hand fighting, but we soon either made good lines of them or took them prisoners. I had to use all my revolver cartridges in going over. We forced our way over trench after trench until we had gained the ground, which we were to take and hold. The Hun had now all their artillery concentrated on us, but we dug in and got ready for Fritz when he would come back at us. He did time after time but we beat him back and held our ground. My gun was now in position, working top limit about 60 shots per minute. I had just put in a new belt, when the Hun put a shell under the barrel; the gun went up, and I down. I was not hurt; just a good shaking up and to bleed a little but you must expect to shed a little blood once in a while. It is a common occurrence to get slight wounds. Then the Hun put their gas over and I got mine. I was busy trying to get the gun in action and not paying much attention to Fritz; the gas was on me before I could get my mask on, and I did not know just what kind it was at first the smell of powder was so strong. I could not get the gun in action as the spare parts were back among the Hun. No Man's Land with the man who started over with them. I now commenced to gather the wounded into a trench and put bandages on them, but I was not able to do this long. I knew I was hard hit by gas so I picked up a gun and started out with it. I carried it back some distance, and then when sure the Hun could not get it, threw it into a shell hole.

BODY OF HORRY NOW AT REST IN LOCAL CEMETERY

Clad in the uniform of his country in whose service he died, the body of D. W. Horry was laid to rest in Riverside Cemetery. Soldiers from Gall Field, brothers in service, though strangers to the local boy, tenderly bore the casket to the grave. Young Horry, who was drowned on Feb. 12, in the St. Johns River at Jacksonville, Fla., where he was in the quartermaster's corps, was the second Wichita Falls boy to die in the service during the present war. He was killed in training camps. His body was buried in the Camp Travis hospital last November, was the first.

Many Friends.

Relatives, friends and neighbors and a number of representative business men of the town gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Horry, parents of the drowned boy, two miles south of town, this afternoon at 3 o'clock when the funeral was conducted by Rev. O. J. Powers of the First Baptist Church, under the auspices of the local tribe of Hen Hur, of which the young man was a member.

The Casket was a mass of flowers and other floral offerings practically filled the room.

Story of Accident.

The first death story of the accident which cost young Horry his life is contained in a letter received by the family from Preston Caskey, young Wichita who entered the quartermaster's corps at the same time with Horry and a number of other local young men. A number of men were engaged in unloading cord wood from a barge in the St. Johns River on the morning of Feb. 12, young Horry among them. Horry was on the edge of the barge and losing his balance, fell overboard. He was unable to swim, but it was supposed that in falling he struck his head on a post, as when he came up after falling on, he seemed unconscious. A number of soldiers plunged immediately into the river and attempted to save him, but he went down for the third time before he could be reached. Due according to Caskey's letter, to the strong undertow of the river, it was late in the night before the body was recovered. Two of the young men's bodies are now in the hospital, being almost drowned themselves in their efforts to save him.

D. W. Horry was 22 years of age, the oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Horry. He was born in Johnson county, Texas, and lived there with the family until about 3 years ago, when the family came to Wichita Falls, Texas, and the young man was inducted into the service by the local exemption board and sent to Jacksonville, where just one month after entering the service he met death.

Before entering the army he had been employed at the Wichita Falls Motor Factory. His friends and associates are at the home of his parents and brother and sisters.

In going back my clothes were pierced thru and thru with bullets but I now was in such a state I did not care. I walked thru mud three miles and there were long ones, all thru heavy shell fire. Many of our wounded and Hun prisoners were killed coming back. I was put in a motor ambulance and sent to Clearing Station and from there by Hospital Train to a French seaport, and then by boat and train here. I don't know much after that. I was put on the ambulance, and was in France in a hospital ten days before I was able to travel over here. Since coming here I have had a nice time, except the first ten days or so. I was not in much pain, but I could not sleep, my breathing hurt me terribly and I could not speak (you know it hurts anyone when they can't talk). I have had the best treatment here and the people of Gikenhead are fine, and the Red Cross nurses can't be beat. I say God bless the Red Cross.

No Talkfest

By N. A. Jennings in New York Times. Don't tell of what you're going to do. Just do it. Get busy, put the war work through. We've talked enough, now acts are due. There's a lot of work cut out for you; Go to it! Big talk will never win the fight. So drop it. Pitch in and strive with all your might. Take off your coat, work day and night. To do the job that "might is right." And stop it! Don't try to over-work your chin, Or strain it. This is no talkfest we are in. It's a bloody war that we must win. So toff and sweat and fight like sin. To gain it! Your jaw's right; the thing to do is set it. For alibion, mighty Samson slew His thousands with a jawbone, you Cannot expect to do it, too. Forget it!

Many New Buildings Are Being Erected At Fort Worth Camp

By Associated Press. San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 19.—More than 150 buildings not included in the original contract, have been erected at Camp Travis during the past two months, a number are now under construction and others are contemplated. The buildings are principally additions to the base hospital unit system, barracks, shops and infirmaries. The new structures were found necessary for the proper training and housing of troops training here, although when the original contracts were awarded it was with the belief that every building required to house and train the quota, wounded for this camp had been provided.

LOYAL CITIZEN WILL VOTE FOR LAW ENFORCER

REV. S. A. BARNES MAKES THIS POINTED STATEMENT IN SUNDAY SERMON.

"No man can call himself a loyal citizen of Texas or the United States who would vote for a man whom he knew would allow the laws of the land to be disregarded, and would give immunity to men or institutions to break the law. A man who would walk up to the ballot box and vote for an institution that he could be discharged from the land, that it might exist to damn men's health, homes and efficiency, and corrupt and debauch the politics of the country is not a citizen. The blood of starving millions will be on those who stand for the saloon. A man is responsible for the sin and lawlessness of a community if he could help prevent it, and knowingly refused to do so.

Defines Citizenship.

In such terse sentences, Dr. S. A. Barnes, pastor of the First Methodist church, Sunday defined good citizenship in his sermon Sunday at 11:00 a. m. Dr. Barnes held that it is very opportune at this time that we think of what comprises good citizenship. "When millions of the young men of the land are offering their lives upon the altar of our nation, it is time to see if we men who stay at home are doing all we can to promote the best interest of our democracy. America has grown and progressed as she has, because her institutions have been built on the principle of Christianity. The solution of the economical, intellectual and religious problems of our land will depend on what the future American conception of law and order, truth and right. With the influx of a large foreign population, there have grown up institutions which are Un-American. The commercial Sabbath is foreign. It is European. It is Un-American.

Foreign Element.

"This foreign element has controlled politics. They hold the balance of power. We would have had prohibition in Texas 16 years ago had it not been for the foreign element. It has been protected and kept by their influence and Americans who wish to profit by the destruction of human beings. This foreign element would remove religious influences and place the dollar above all that is right, would seize by the throat, and blight and down the things America holds sacred.

Will Be Feet in Election.

"That same crowd in our nation will be felt in our elections this year. I fear that some in our midst that occupy high places in church will walk up and vote for the man who represents these un-American institutions. Some candidates will make great pretensions just before election. Unless a man has stood four square for law and order before he is nominated for office, he will get when elected, and should not be voted for on such promises. The church has always stood for good government, the thrift saving stamps, or Liberty bonds? What then would you think of the man who says that although the laws of the land are made to protect the best interest of the people of the state, yet that law should not be enforced? It is not my prerogative to interpret the law but to keep it. The courts of the land interpret the law. A good citizen will uphold the courts of the land." Dr. Barnes in conclusion urged his audience to vote for the right, and support only those men who stand for true Americanism.

Against Red Cross.

"What would you think of a man who would talk against the American Red Cross, the thrift saving stamps, or Liberty bonds? What then would you think of the man who says that although the laws of the land are made to protect the best interest of the people of the state, yet that law should not be enforced? It is not my prerogative to interpret the law but to keep it. The courts of the land interpret the law. A good citizen will uphold the courts of the land." Dr. Barnes in conclusion urged his audience to vote for the right, and support only those men who stand for true Americanism.

BRITISH PREMIER IS MERELY VICTIM OF KIND FEELING

LORD NORTHCLIFFE'S FRIENDSHIP PROVES EXPENSIVE TO LLOYD GEORGE

By K. WALTER. London, Feb. 19.—Will the Lloyd George government fall? Will it be succeeded by a pacifist or defeatist government? These questions have probably been suggested by reports of the outbreak of party hostilities in Parliament and malicious accusations of the party press on both sides.

Premier and Press. Lloyd George's position in the country, if not in Parliament, is stronger as ever. Probably he and his advisers do not realize how strong it is. The country would be glad to give him complete authority as you are giving to the President in American politics.

The charge can be best answered by explaining how it arises. There can be no exact parallel in American politics. The president's position is constitutionally unassailable, but supposing that it were not and that the yellow press successfully assumed to itself the chief credit for his election and support, backing it up with occasional scoops of semi-official nature and daring escapades apparently behind the censor's back.

The Real Situation. The situation is aggravated in this way: The Daily Mail starts a malicious and unmerited campaign against Mr. Asquith who, whatever he may be, is not a pacifist nor yet a defeatist. Unfortunately, the day before Lloyd George, suffering from a touch of grippe, had answered Mr. Asquith in debate not in the best for his opponent.

DR. WADE H. WALKER SAYS RIVER WELLS MAY MEAN EPIDEMIC

That the lives of the people of Wichita Falls are going to be endangered, with the first rise of a few feet in the river, if they use water from the new wells connected this week with the city mains and situated in the river bed at the foot of Lamar street, is the opinion of Dr. Wade H. Walker, member of the health board, following an inspection of the new plant yesterday.

Will Be Contaminated? "The location of the wells is just below the point at which sewage from two sewer lines enters the river and the cemetery is not far beyond. Of course, if the people boiled all of the water, the germs would be killed and the danger obviated, but it is not likely that all the people will do this.

Physicians Visit Well. A number of physicians of the city and private citizens made a visit to the wells yesterday and today and declared that they believed the lives of the people of the city will be endangered if the supply there secured is turned into the mains.

FOOD PRODUCTION CANNOT POSSIBLY EXCEED DEMANDS

FORTY MILLION PEOPLE TAKEN FROG CONSTRUCTIVE TASKS TO BATTLE

OUSLEY ISSUES WARNING

Failure of South to Properly Respond Will Mean Privation Among People of this Section

I am seeing through the eyes of 48 agricultural colleges and of county agents in nearly every agricultural county. I have recently crossed the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific. I have studied the reports gathered by the department's 15,000 representatives and as many more employees of the agricultural colleges. I have considered the conclusions of the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome which has reports from all the world.

Can't Exceed Demand "The plain, hard truth is that with 40 million people withdrawn from productive industries and engaged in the business of destruction, it is not but mainly possible for production on the whole to exceed normal demand. The question is whether production can equal normal demand.

"England, France, and Italy must be sustained or their populations cannot stand the strain. They have been on scanty rations for more than three years. The chief cause of Russia's collapse was hunger. Soldiers cannot fight when their wives and children are starving.

"Secretary McAdoo has given warning that transportation may be lacking in 1918. To haul food and feed to states and communities that do not provide for themselves, many railroads have been sacrificed in the drought regions of the Northwest and the Southwest during the last few months because railroad cars could not be obtained as needed.

Military movements must be first consideration, and military movements will be greater in 1918 than in 1917. The prime question for the farmer is not what product will bring the highest price, but what products will insure food for his family and feed for his livestock; and the answer is: a vegetable garden; a milk cow; a brood sow; a poultry flock; ample corn, oats, peanuts, etc., and then as much cotton or tobacco as he can cultivate well.

Demand of Patriotism "It is the highest demand of patriotism. It is the first requirement of living—that in 1918 every State, every county, every neighborhood, every farmer, be as nearly self-sustaining as possible.

"For the South to plunge on cotton or tobacco or any other speculative crop and to depend upon the corn belt for bread and meat will be for the South to engage in a gamble which may cause starvation to its people and disaster to the Nation. For any man now to determine his business operations from the standpoint of profit alone, without regard to the Nation's needs is for him to profit in the blood of his fellows who are fighting in France for the preservation of the Republic. No man can be excused for not taking his share of the responsibility.

"My whole life has been spent in the South. I know the Southern farmer. He will do his duty as he sees it. I am appealing to every man in the South to make known these facts—to consider it his business to make them known and I shall have no doubt of the results. If they are not made known in a way to impress the crisis that confronts us, there may be hunger in this bounteous land or hunger over yonder in Europe where it will mean ruin for all that is worth while in America."

NEGRO ARMY MAN WRITES HOME PAPER

Camp Stotsenburg, P. I. January 1, 1918 Times Publishing Co.

I take great pleasure in writing you all once more. I want to thank you for the credit you gave me through your paper and I wish it was so that I could take your paper, but owing to the inconvenience and the delay that it would cause I cannot take it. I wish you all would inform my friends through your paper that I would like very much to hear from them. We have reviled at five forty-five in the morning and from 1 to 2 the gun fires at six until the gun fires at five fifteen in the evening we are very busy. We made a practice march from here to Capas and Tarlac, a distance of two hundred and fifty miles. The first night out I was on outpost number one, ten miles from town and while out there a rain storm came up and our outpost had to be abandoned. So we had to seek shelter and the people understand very little English. So I had to ask them in their language, asking for shelter. The march was resumed the next day. We broke camp at three forty-five and we were on the road at 5 a. m. The Post had a general review January 11th and as far as you could see there was not any thing to be seen but the boys in Khaki. Hoping this will find your paper in a thriving condition and also that you will inform my friends, that I would like to hear from them. Some of the boys get our guns off, but we never get to sleep with them on. Many a night I have slept with my saddle as my pillow. Thank you all very much for the article you gave me. I remain, YVT. HENRY B. LINDSEY Troop L, 9th Cavalry, Camp Stotsenburg, Pampanga, P. I.

RUSSIA'S DEBT SHOULD BE PAID URGE DIPLOMATS

HEAVY LOSSES HAVE ALREADY BEEN SUSTAINED BY FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS

By Associated Press Petrograd, Friday, Feb. 15.—The protest made by allied and neutral representatives against the repudiation of Russia's national debt by the Bolshevik government. Foreign Minister Troitzky intimated to the central executive committee of the all-Russian Workmen and Soldiers last night, indicated a silent understanding with German imperialists. He said: "The protest of all the ambassadors against the national debt is being surrounded by a ring of international imperialists."

The protest presented to Troitzky by the diplomats reads: "In order to avert all misunderstandings in the future all representatives in Petrograd of all foreign powers declare that they consider the decrees on the subject of the repudiation of the Russian national debt, the confiscation of property of all sorts and other analogous measures as without value inasmuch as they concern their nations and the latter representatives and reserve to themselves the right at any hour they desire from the Russian government, damages for all losses which the decrees and measures put upon their nationals."

In reference to the confiscation measure it is explained that losses aggregating many millions of rubles already have been sustained by foreign capital in connection with the seizure of factories.

Diplomatic Corps The diplomatic corps drafted the protest at a meeting in the American embassy. It was signed by the American ambassador from the United States, Japan, France, Spain, Great Britain and Italy and the ministers from Belgium, China, Portugal, Switzerland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Holland, Brazil, Argentina, Greece, Serbia and Persia. These are all the nations represented in Petrograd.

LITTLE BROWN HEN HAS OPPORTUNITY TO SIT WITH EAGLE

SUPPLY OF EGGS NEEDS TO BE INCREASED THROUGHOUT NATION

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 18.—"The little brown hen now has an opportunity to take her place by the side of the glorious American eagle in assuring victory for American soldiers," says E. W. Kirkpatrick, President of the Texas Industrial Congress. "The Federal Food Administration has imposed upon us wretched and needless days, but the law of supply and demand has created a condition that makes almost every day an 'eggless' day. Meatless days, however, permit the use of poultry, and an enormously increased export demand for eggs and poultry, the abnormal high prices for feed stuffs, and perhaps to some extent a manipulation of the market by a real or supposed storage combine, has seriously depleted the country's supply of all kinds of poultry. The farmer attracted by the high prices, offered for his hens, has sold his brood stock; he has impaired his working capital; and as a result the country is clamoring for eggs, and paying from seventy-five cents to one dollar per dozen for them.

Can Increase Supply "The supply of poultry can be increased more quickly than any other source of meat. It can be doubled this year, and now is the time to begin the effort. Every hen that will set and every incubator that will 'incubate' should be drafted for work to their fullest capacity.

"The boys of the country are being called upon to organize hog clubs, and the girls should have poultry clubs in every community. In the organization of these clubs in the past it has been found impossible to keep the boys out of the poultry clubs, and the girls out of the hog clubs, nor is it desirable that they should be excluded from undertaking the work of increasing the supply of both pork and poultry. Chicken raising, however, is a work that appeals particularly to women and girls. It is easy, interesting and profitable, and can be conducted as successfully in the towns and cities, as in the country.

Egg Industry grows "As an illustration of how the egg industry is growing, it may be noted that in 1914, the year of the war's beginning, the United States exported 14,148,849 eggs. In 1916, 22,396,266 dozen, in 1917 the value of the country's production of poultry and eggs was $59,296,000. The value has since increased to much larger proportions.

"There is a waste of $50,000,000 annually, in our total egg production from needless breakage in transit and from improper and careless handling. It is apparent that Texas needs a large output of eggs in this country is a sacrifice to waste.

Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas and Missouri are the great egg producing states. Every year when prices are low Texas ships carloads after carloads of eggs to the leading egg markets, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston and New York, and then in the fall and winter, when prices are soaring, we ship them back, paying transportation charges both ways, the cost of storage and a big margin of profit. It is apparent that Texas needs a few egg storage plants of her own.

Important Source "Another important source of an immediate meat supply lies in increasing the State's production of turkeys. Texas is said to produce one-tenth of all the turkeys grown in the United States. Meatless days have greatly increased the demand for these and as they are very little to produce, especially where they have fringed, there seems to be every inducement to farmers to increase the production of turkeys this year."

APPEAL TO HUNS REPORTED MADE BY UKRAINIANS

By Associated Press. Amsterdam, Feb. 19.—The Ukrainian delegation to the Brest-Litovsk conference issued an appeal to the German people according to a Berlin dispatch protesting that Russian Bolsheviks and hired bands of Red Guards from the north have united with deserters from the Russian army under the command of former gendarmes and are invading the Ukraine, destroying, burning and looting towns. The appeal declares that the Petrograd government told an untruth when it described this movement as rising from the Ukrainian people and that the Central Rada is a bourgeois Rada. "The real intention of the Bolsheviks," the appeal says "is to subjugate the Ukraine and send its grain stocks to the north. In this hard struggle we look around for help, firmly convinced that the peaceful and order-loving people will not remain indifferent to our distress. The German army standing on the flank of our northern enemy possesses the power to help us and by its intervention to protect the northern frontier against further invasion by the enemy. In this dark hour we know our voice will be heard."

RULING ON SUGAR AND SUBSTITUTES FOR FLOUR GIVEN

Interpretations of the food administration's rulings on sugar and substitutes for flour as concerns boarding houses, bakeries and restaurants have been received from the office of the state food administrator by T. B. Smock, county food administrator. By this interpretation bakers must buy 1 pound of flour substitute for every four pounds of flour used after Feb. 24, when the bread must be 20 per cent substitute flour.

The communication follows in full: "Mr. T. B. Smock, County Food Administrator, Wichita Falls, Texas.

"Dear Sir: We are in receipt of your favor of the 13th inst. and in reply, beg to state that Cream of Wheat, Puffed Wheat, or Grape Nuts are NOT to be considered as flour substitutes. "Sugar may be sold—boarding houses, restaurants, etc. in not excess of fifteen day's supply, allowing 1 1/2 lbs. per person to be served for this period.

"A baker is required to purchase with his flour 10 per cent in flour substitutes between now and the 17th of Feb.; between that date and the 24th, he must purchase 15 per cent, and on and after the 24th, he must purchase 20 per cent in flour substitutes.

"Flour is not to be sold to combination bakeries and restaurants without substitutes, the ruling going into effect on the 24th, with reference to bakeries using 20 per cent of flour substitutes in manufacture of their bread, applies to the combination bakeries and restaurants.

Yours very truly, Federal Food Administrator for Tex., By A. L. Nelliss, Jr., Asst. Director Grocery Dep't.
