Widening of S. F. Bridge Now Underway In Flood Control Job

Beginning the second phase of the flood control program for Friona, Santa Fe bridge crew from Amarillo, headed by J. H. Kemp, began unloading materials Wednesday morning for the purpose of widening the railroad bridge located 1 mile west of town.

According to W. O. Stark, local agent, the estimated time necessary to complete the project will require a crew of 30 men six weeks. Traffic will be slowed down but will continue despite the fact that construction is under way. The usual nature of the work: the driving of piling through the track over which traffic must continue to pass—will necessitate the crew going to the bridge, working and returning to sidings between trains. The extremely heavy traffic over the rails through Friona at present will greatly lengthen the time required for completing the work.

In addition to the present workmen on the project, a pile driving crew will arrive next week. The bridge when completed will double the capacity of water flow of the present structure; which it is estimated, will eliminate flood damage to Friona.

Funeral Rites Held Here For John O. Henson

Funeral rites were held for John Ollie Henson at the Friona Baptist Church, Monday, Feb. 2. Mr. Henson's home was in Friona, but because of ill health, he had been sent to Corpus Christi, where he died Friday night. Mrs. A. D. Henson, his mother, who had recently gone to be with him in Corpus Christi, returned to Friona with the body. Rev. Joe Wilson, assisted by Rev. L. L. Hill, conducted the funeral services.

OBITUARY
John Ollie Henson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Henson, was born at Mt. Pleasant, Texas, in 1901 and passed away at Corpus Christi, Jan. 30, 1942.

The family moved to Southwest Oklahoma where Ollie grew up. Then, in the fall of 1931 the family moved to Friona where Ollie has since lived.

Ollie has been sick most of his life since he was seventeen years of age. During the years he has lived at Friona he has numbered his friends by his acquaintances.

He made a profession of faith in early life but had never united with any church. His life has been lived peacefully, seeking always to make others happy. He leaves to mourn his passing his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Henson, a brother, Travis A. Henson, of the U. S. Air Corps, stationed at Corpus Christi, and a sister, Mrs. Mamie Henson, of Reno, Nevada.

Five Generations Hold Family Fest In Friona Reunion of Two Groups

For the past week there has been quite a celebration in the Griffith and Rector homes in Friona. It all started when Mrs. Elmer Oldham and baby, Leona Carroll, of Shamrock, Tex., came to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Foster Rector, her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Griffith, parents of Mrs. Foster Rector also live in Friona and they are the grandparents of Mrs. Oldham.

But that wasn't all. Mrs. Griffith wired her father, Mrs. Rector's grandfather, Mrs. Oldham's great-grandfather and little baby, Leona Carroll's great-grandfather, the 90-year-old J. T. Wright of Ashmore, Ill., to come see them.

Great-grandpop Wright just got up and came right on over to visit with the four younger generations and he is as spry as a "cricket."

The five generations came to Friona to have their pictures made and in an interview, Mr. Wright said that he was going to

Paxton Smith New Cong. Pastor

To fill the vacancy left by Rev. Carl C. Dollar, Rev. Paxton Smith, former pastor of Ft. Worth was called by the members of the Congregational Church the latter part of this week.

Rev. Smith visited Friona Tuesday and Wednesday of last week as a guest of the Congregational church. Following a Fellowship supper Wednesday night, Rev. Smith led a short worship service. A business meeting was held later in the evening and it was decided to ask Rev. Smith to accept the pastorate of Friona Congregational Church.

Rev. Smith returned to Ft. Worth Thursday. It was not known at press time whether he plans to accept the charge or not.

AN APOLOGY

We, of the Star, wish to apologize to Buck Fallwell, due to the fact that it was stated in the Jan. 23, Star, that he was a private in the army. In a letter to his parents, they were told to inform us that he was a Sergeant and proud of it.

New Bakery Nears Completion Here

The new Bakery Shop located on the Amarillo Highway, three blocks east of Main Street is fast nearing completion, according to H. H. Weis who is in charge of the building.

This building marks another milestone in the progress of Friona, and the Star wishes the proprietor, Mr. J. W. Davidson, the best of luck in his enterprise.

Schools Adjust To Daylight Saving

According to W. L. Edelman, the Friona School will be affected by the change to Daylight Saving Time according to the following plan:

The clocks will be changed with the clocks of the nation but school will begin at ten o'clock and end at five o'clock following the time change.

High School Group Edits Star

Editor John W. White was ill this week and readers of The Star can thank Mr. W. L. Edelman and 18 members of his high school journalism class for getting the paper out on one-day's notice.

Mr. Edelman was going to class Wednesday morning when he learned of the job his class was being asked to do, and the young people turned in and did what we consider a "bang-up" job on very short notice. They have enjoyed the work in getting the news, and their teacher feels that they now have a much more practical idea of newspaper work.

So we are expressing our thanks to Mr. Edelman and to June Maurer, Bobby Blackwell, Truitt Johnson, Mary Jo Anderson, Gertrude Short, Melba Welch, Wilton Lillard, John Lee Weis, Nancy Shackelford, Ray Hurst, Clara Rector, La Muriel Rury, Dale Trieder, Lester Lee Hill, Bud Coffman, Webster Johnson, Dorothy Fanman and Glen Stevick for getting in some good news coverage.

We appreciate the help and hope that the experience you have gained will be valuable in your journalism work.

THE FRIONA STAR

During H. S. Days Brookfield Was "Just Another Player"

During the years that Smiling Price Brookfield played for Friona High School, did he or anyone else ever dream that some day millions of people would be reading about All-American Brookie? Did he ever dream that someday he would reach the goal that every basketball player tries for but seldom reaches: to be crowned an All-American.

Eleven years ago Brookfield nailed a barrel hoop to a barn door at his farm home. During seven years of basketball at Friona he wore a hole around his makeshift basket three feet deep.

And from that endless practice came Price Brookfield, All-American.

He's one of the giants of West Texas State's mighty Buffaloes the "Talles Team in the World."

In two and one-half seasons at West Texas State the mighty Brookfield has pitched in 1,152 points. As a sophomore he flipped in 394 as a Junior he rolled in 492. March 2 he winds up his college career with prospects of again coming close to 500.

Brookfield started playing basketball at Friona in the fifth grade. In four high school seasons he was in only one tournament in which he failed to make the all-star team.

Last week Brookie took his basketball wizzards to the big town where they played Long Island University in New York. This climactic point in the Buffaloes basketball season resulted in a heart breaking two-point defeat at the hands of Long (Continued on Back Page)

Fat Stock Show Set For Mar. 5-6

Sponsored by the Lions Club, the annual Parmer county livestock show will be held at Friona in the Bull Barn Friday and Saturday, March 5-6.

Separate entries can be made on calves, Fat Litter, Sow and Litter, Fat Pigs, Bred Sows, Bred Gilts and Open Gilts. Prizes will be awarded to winners in each division of the show.

Plans are not complete as yet, but anyone wishing to know further details, see J. T. Gee, Pete Buske, or Charlie McLean.

Superintendents Meet At Plainview Saturday

To complete the organization of the Texas School League, an organization authorized to be formed by unanimous vote of the Texas Association of School Administrators at its meeting in Houston last November, the superintendents of school that participated in the band contest of Region I last year will meet at Plainview Feb. 7.

This meeting will be held in the Senior High School building.

"We have undertaken a big task and took a step, as interpreted by some, towards a unified administration of all interschool contests," writes O. J. Loas, Chairman of the Executive Committee. He is asking all schools to help so Mr. W. E. Edelman of Friona will go Saturday to do his part.

D. K. Roberts Is Candidate For Clerk's Office

D. K. Roberts of Farwell this week authorized the Star to announce his candidacy for reelection to the office of county and district clerk.

In announcing for reelection, Mr. Roberts stated that the records of the county and district clerk are open at all times to public inspection and that he welcomes the interest of the people of the county in conduct of his office.

"I believe that when the public takes an interest in the work of public employees, it stimulates the efficiency of the employee and at the same time improves democracy in local government," Mr. Roberts said.

In asking support of the voters, Mr. Roberts pledged himself to continue to do the best job in his power to serve the people of Parmer County.

FRIONA GIRLS TO PLAY BORGER TUE FEB. 10

For their most anticipated game of the year, the Friona Squaws will class for their second time this season with the Borger Redbirds at Borger, Tuesday, Feb. 10.

In their previous encounter, the Squaws won over the hitherto undefeated Redbirds, 37 to 25.

Unusual interest is being shown portrayed in this game, as a result, a large number of Friona fans are expected to follow the Squaws to Borger.

The Squaws have lost only two games this season and the Redbirds complete record is not known but they are said to have one of the best teams in that section of the country, so the game should be one of the most exciting of the year for both teams.

Friona Chieftain Staff Attends Canyon Meet

Plans are being completed for the Friona Chieftain Staff and journalism class to attend the annual Panhandle High School Press Association in Canyon tomorrow, February 7.

The convention will take note of the national crisis and will hear some talks on what high school students can do to assist. A high official of the Associated Press will speak unless called from the state by some new emergency.

The convention will open at 9 a. m. and close with a reception-dance given after adjournment by Type High, the college press club. Luncheons will be served at the college cafeteria and the Methodist Church.

Officers of the association are Mickey Rafferty of Pampa, president; Jacquelyn Simmons of White Deer, vice-president; and Sam Johnson of Canyon, secretary-treasurer. Olin E. Hinkle, director of journalism at West Texas State College, is general sponsor.

Friona Continues Cage Win Streak

On the Friona High School hard-wood last Friday night, local fans saw the home-team take three close games from Dimmitt. Tonight, they journey to Dimmitt to return these games, all of which are expected to be good ones.

Starting the triple-tilt last Friday night, The Chiefs' Little Brothers, led by W. C. Reed and David Johnson, took the Dimmitt Juniors in a see-saw battle by a score of 17-14.

In the Squaws' game, Betty May Massey "hit the bucket" for twelve points to lead the Friona High School Lassies to a 22-17 victory. This marked their 20th win of the season in 22 starts.

In the final game of the evening, the Chiefs out-scored the Dimmitt Bobcats 13-3 in the last three minutes to win by a score of 44-34. Leading the offensive which resulted in the Chiefs' 19th victory of the season as against 3 losses, were John Weis and Dale Treider who rang up 16 and 12 points respectively, while Coffman and Hurst played sparking ball on defense. Leading the visitors attack were Darsey and Bothe.

CHIEFS TO RETURN DIMMITT GAME TONIGHT

Playing their last game before the district tournament, the Friona Chiefs will meet the Dimmitt Bobcats tonight at the Dimmitt gym.

The Chiefs and Bobcats have met but once before this year with the Chiefs winning over the Bobcats by 11 points. This will probably be the last games for both teams until the district tournament where they will probably meet, each being strong teams.

The Chiefs probable starters will be Bud Coffman, John Weis, Dale Trieder, Vilo Weis and Wayne Stark.

In order to increase the sales of defense bonds and stamps a defense rally will be sponsored by the Lions Club, when they present a freak basketball game in the Friona gym Monday night. The members of the club will participate in the game, divided into two teams with Lion Frank Spring and Lion H. T. Magness as captains. Mayor Reeve will serve as referee and Mr. John White as score keeper. Lion Charles McLean and Lion Sloan Osborn will be gate keeper selling bonds and stamps for admission. The bonds and stamps purchased can be of any size to gain an entrance.

Any person in the audience who can guess the closest to the amount of stamps and bonds purchased will be awarded an $18.75 bond.

This entertainment is the beginning of various rallies for the purchase of stamps and bonds to defeat the Axis.

Body To Be Moved From Lone Grave

Back in the spring of 1907 when the town of Friona was nothing but a small cattle shipping point, its building structure being composed of a box-car for a depot, a livery stable, a small general store and a few scattered shacks, a family by the name of Meyers moved here and built the first hotel.

Mr. Meyers had two sons 8 and 1 year old. After living here for about a year, the youngest boy died, slightly over two years old. They buried him out on the lone prairie, and not long afterward moved back to Iowa.

During his stay here, Mr. Meyers revealed facts about this country when he lived here. According to him, the plains which is now one of the best wheat farming regions in the country, was nothing but a vast stretch of grass land. He also stated that during the time he lived here, a little over a year, it rained once.

After inquiring around, Mr. Meyers found the grave of his brother in the midst of our town, just across the street from Mr. Elroy Wilson, who lives in the northeast part of town. Up until a few years ago, it was enclosed by a picket fence, but man years of West Texas weather have demolished it; but the small granite headstone still stands undaunted.

Jesse Stowers made a business trip to Farwell Wednesday.

Setting aside a tradition of long standing the member schools of District 1, Conference A, of the University Interscholastic League will hold the first tournament under the revised plan at Friona with six guest schools participating in the event on Feb. 13-14.

This is the first time this tournament has been held in one of the participating schools and Friona was chosen for this year. Plans are for the tournament to be held at one of the member schools with the gate receipts divided among the teams participating.

The six teams that will be here are the Tulla Horneis, Dalhart Wolves, Dumas Demons, Dimmitt Bobcats, Canyon Eagles and the Hereford Whitefaces. Plans are being made to keep the teams over-night in homes in Friona.

Hereford and Canyon will open the tournament Friday morning at 10 o'clock which will be 11 o'clock day-light saving time. This will be followed by a game between Dimmitt and Dumas at 12 o'clock. Tulla and Dumas will open the afternoon session at 2 o'clock with a game between the losers of the Canyon, Hereford and Dumas, Dimmitt games at 3 o'clock. Friday night session opens at 7 o'clock with a game between Friona and the winner of the Tulla, Dalhart game.

Saturday morning sessions open with quarter final games at 9 o'clock. The afternoon games will determine the teams to square off in the championship games Saturday night.

Mr. C. D. Holmes from Friona will referee the tournament, having been chosen from a group of several referees suggested.

Admission prices for the day sessions will be 10c, 15c and 25c and night sessions will be 10c, 15c and 35c, tax included in all admission.

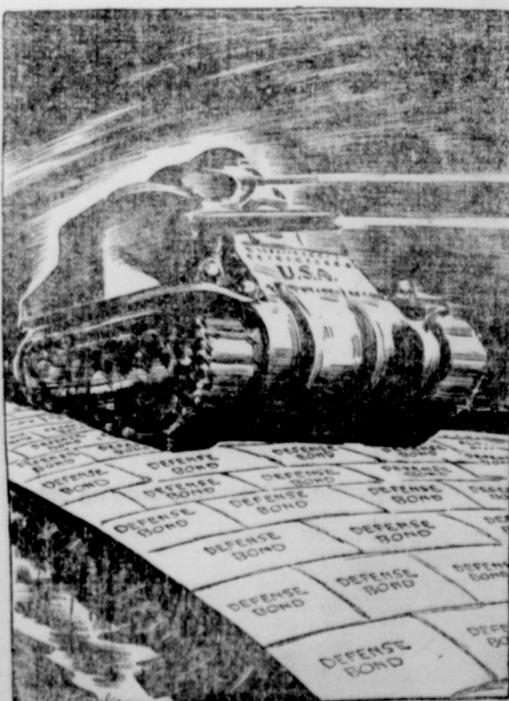

Drawings for the tournament were made in the office of superintendent Knox Kinard of Hereford last Tuesday, Jan. 27. Due to the fact that there are only seven teams in the tournament, one team, Friona, drew a bye.

Since the teams have not met in early season competition, no favorite has been predicted.

'41 SALUTATORIAN MAKES "A" RECORD
Miss Betty Ann Taylor salutatorian of the class of '41 of Friona High, has again stepped into the public eye scholastically by making a straight "A" card for the past semester at West Texas State Teachers' College, according to reports received here recently.

She has been employed at Bob's Cafe at Canyon, earning her college expenses.

COGITATIONS and APHORISMS of Jodok

I still occasionally hear someone remark, or probably see the remark in print somewhere, to the effect that there is bound to be some good come out of this great war, for God, in His wisdom and mercy, will not allow it all to be evil.

I cannot remember of ever having read in the pages of history where good has come out of any war; although, in the natural course of events good has followed wars, but at that it usually follows "afar off." And it occurs to me, that evidently there will be much good follow this war, especially if the allies win, and the same thought probably fills the minds of the Axis nations—that good will follow the war if their side wins—but in either case, $ cannot visualize any great amount of good coming directly and soon, regardless of which side may win.

If good does not follow this deplorable condition, wherein nearly all the nations of the world are, with fang and tooth, at the throat of some other nation or nations, then this old world is going to be in the worst melt-of-a-hess, that the pages of history have ever been called upon to record.

Some still seem to be comforting themselves with the hope that Japan, and probably China, may emerge from the war as Christian nations. Well, I am not so much concerned about that, and I may be termed a pagan for giving such a matter so little concern; but I do hope to see our own dear country, as well as all the other countries of the Western Hemisphere, as also all the European countries, come out of the war, as really Christian nations, at heart, if not in name.

As I have just said, I am little concerned as to whether or not Japan and China become Christian nations; but I can see possibly two methods, whereby, Japan, at least, may be brought under the Banner of the Cross.

Several years ago I read a book, which I think was written by Jack London and was entitled "The Brother Of Jerry," that is, if my memory serves me right. But, be that as it may, "Jerry" was a dog, and, of course, the "Brother of Jerry" was a dog. Both were highly trained dogs, the most intelligent and had been taught to perform tricks that no other dog could be taught to perform, and his brother was taught to become his equal if not his superior; and Mr. London, in giving the story of that dog's life, went into some of the methods that were used by an animal trainer to secure the results desired. He told of some of the most heartlessly cruel and viciously wicked practices that were used. The poor dumb beasts were beaten, starved, and otherwise tortured until they were barely alive, and until every bit of fight or resentment was taken out of them, then they were made to do whatever their heartless trainer willed that they should do, even to come up, apparently happy to kiss the hand that had so cruelly tortured them.

Now, I may be wholly wrong in the name of the author of this book, and it may not have been Mr. London at all, but that is as my memory presents it to me. But they say that when a man gets into his "eighties" his memory is not so keen as it was in his earlier years, and if I am in error in this matter, I will stand for correction. But the animal has become the willing slave of a man. And the audience roars with glee and says, "See what love and kindness will do even to a brute."

I am told that the people of Japan, are courageous, high spirited, ambitious and proud; and, if that be true, before this war is over, the allies may be forced to inflict upon them every punishment incident to warfare, before this haughty spirit has been broken and they will sue for peace. Their great ships may be sent to the bottom of the ocean; their airplanes may be hurled from the air to certain destruction, their heavy guns turned on themselves, their armies reduced to a vestige, their cities burned, and their factories destroyed, and their people reduced to the very dregs of poverty and degradation before they will submit. Then we can tell her to eat from our hand and levy taxes for funds with which to pay our enormous war debt, and acknowledge themselves a Christian nation, and all will be well so long as she pays tribute to our government. There being no other alternative, Japan becomes a Christian nation.

On the other hand, our ships may ply the ocean carrying great cargoes of food and clothing to feed and clothe these conquered people, cargoes of materials with which to rebuild their cities and machinery with which to re-equip their factories, rebuild their schools and colleges and hospitals, and provide them with ships by which they themselves may again engage in commerce, and of all this in a manner and with an assurance that we are their friends and benefactors. But we will not say anything about their becoming a Christian nation. Just occurs to me that that will not be necessary.

I have frequently noticed (and I suppose other folk have too) that some people can speak a kind or complimentary or encouraging word in such a manner that one is thrilled through and through by its kindness or the manner in which it is said, and the same may be said of little insignificant acts, while others, just as sincere and as anxious to be kind and helpful as the other, but yet seems more like a rebuke than a kindness.

I read a story once upon a time, which told about a young man and his sister, who had become lost somewhere on the peninsula of Lower California, and in their wanderings they came upon a bed of oysters along the shore of the gulf and as they were gathering them for food, they found some sort of jet black object in many of the shells, and were at a loss to know what they were, until they remembered having read about "black pearls," and how valuable they were, so they began gathering them to get a supply to take with them when they found their way back to civilization.

They had with them a colored girl, who was a sort of a servant, and she helped, so they strung these black pearls and made necklaces of them and hung them about their necks and next to their bodies so that in the event they fell among robbers they would not be robbed. After a few days the young man noticed that pearls the colored girl was wearing had taken on a more beautiful luster than the ones he and his sister had been wearing, and wondered why this was, until he remembered that he had read that some people have a peculiar power within their bodies that causes these pearls to take on this wonderful luster, so they arranged for the colored girl to wear all the pearls until they had been polished.

Maybe that is the way with people, and these kind words and acts are our pearls, but some of us do not have the power of giving them this added luster. I happen to be one of those who have not that wonderful power, I presume, and that is evidently why my friends often seem almost offended when I try to do or say something kindly for them.

But I believe that rigamarole about the "black pearls" is all hokus-pokus, and nothing to it, for I could not find anything about "Black pearls" either in the Bible, the cyclopedia or the dictionary, but it will do to illustrate the point. They say that anyone can master the art of polishing pearls of thought, words or acts, if he wants to bad enough, but I suppose I have not wanted to bad enough, since I have not accomplished the feat.

Well! School election draws nearer and nearer, but I have heard nothing more about having some lady candidates on the school ballot. Maybe the idea has been dropped, and maybe it was never seriously considered; but I am well aware, that there are many ladies in the Friona district who would make the very best of school trustees, and it could be nothing more than fair that the ladies should be represented on the board of trustees, since they are just as deeply interested in the welfare and progress of the schools as their husbands.

As I have been writing this stuff, I have been suffering from a roaring headache, and have a dark brown taste in my mouth, but I want to emphatically state here and now, that these are not caused from this being "The Morning After the Night Before." It's just no-such-a-thing.

I have also been running a little temperature, and that some times causes a little kink to come in to my mind, so, if any of this

A PRAYER

It is my joy in life to find, At every turning of the road, The strong arm of a comrade kind, To help me onward with my load.

And since I have no gold to give, And love alone must make amends, My only prayer is, while I live— God, make me worthy of my friends.

Farmer John SEES THINGS

Two philosophies for the functioning of economics seem to be struggling for supremacy in America today. On one hand, we have the competitive system by which Mr. Public Judgment set the demand for volume and determines the distribution by price. Until the last several years few people believed any other system could be saddled on the United States.

People were satisfied with their manner of conducting their business. It was thought that under these conditions the distribution of reward for services rendered was more justly accomplished than in any other country on earth. An all sides the free competitive system by which the initiative of the most lowly as well as the most powerful citizen, was encouraged to struggle, was given credit for having produced the finest living conditions in all history. America was justly proud of her accomplishment.

Until the coming of the New Deal, the idea of government regimented farming or a price controlled economy in any line was almost unthinkable. The street term applied to the wild-eyed orator, who would agitate a change from America's own system, was "Bolshevik," or "red." Under the Hoover administration the meddling of the Farm Board and the pegged price for certain agricultural commodities sent the once popular president to overwhelming defeat. But under the Roosevelt reign, one wonders if there is anyone sober enough to know just how we got where we are.

Under war conditions there is a lot of controlled business priority distribution, and regimentation that is taken for granted to be justifiable. Almost anything that somebody might suggest as being helpful to get the nation out of the tight is welcomed. Action—any kind of action—is better than talk. Plans that were made in peace time sobriety, have been hastily cast aside and the reign of militarism supplanted. Everyone is for fighting the ravages of war. The unanimous idea is, let the war cost in dollars what it must, but waste the minimum of lives. It is not the dictatorial powers given the Commander in Chief, that is, by some people looked upon as a threat. Military science decrees that to have an efficient fighting machine, authority must be concentrated. People, generally, are resigned to endure anything that can be expected to aid the war effort.

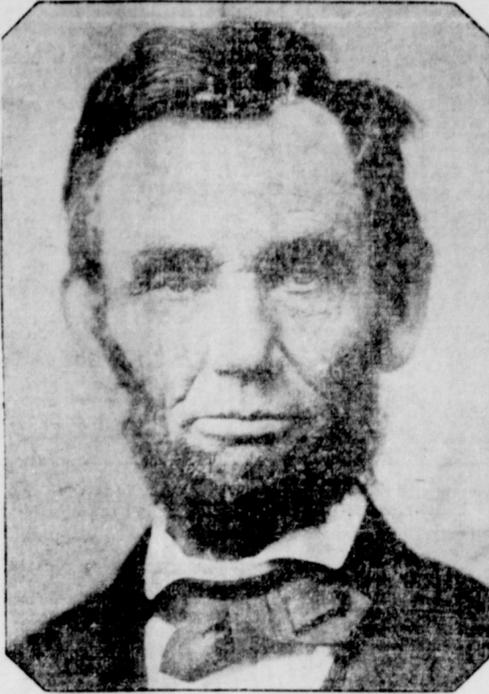

But people are concerned about the seeming tendency to supplant the free competitive system with socialistic regulations in civil life. Even the national political leaders seem not to know just where in their thinking. Administration leaders are divided among themselves and administration critics don't seem to know whom to oppose. But a competitive and government controlled line of reasoning will not go down the same road in harmony. Each system gets in the way of the other. I have reference to the legislative fight over the price-control bill, last week, especially as the measure affects the farmers.

Nobody considers agriculture to be a military measure and nobody except AAA advocates believe that what farmers will produce more food and fiber under a free competitive economy than under government - controlled and price-fixed arrangements. Even a Hitler, in Washington, could not produce the amount of the rank and file of American farmers can, and will produce if turned loose. The average producer has much more confidence in Mr. Public's judgment than in any politician's oratory. With a prospect for a prize, the farmer will work early and late, even his dreams will suggest new styles of efficiency. There would be no "sit-down" strikes on the farm.

Looking at the question from a socialist standpoint, the President surely was right in his contention that the price-control bill, "Does not go far enough in its purpose, to hold down agricultural prices." If it is wise to control the price of industrial production, transportation cost, and regulate business in general, then it seems only logical that farm commodities be placed in the same list. Following the same line of reasoning, the price of labor, would naturally come next. But wait, when that time comes, when agricultural prices and labor, prices along with other American prices are actually controlled, then, who is keen-sighted enough to distinguish between a Hitler State Socialism and a Roosevelt controlled economic democracy. The effect on business, production and living condition, would be identical.

The political difference would

Lincoln's Words Furnish Inspiration for Freedom

This photograph, copyrighted by Bachrach, is one of the most famous pictures of Lincoln, the kind and gentle President who has achieved immortality in American history.

BY RALPH HERBERT

A TROUBLED nation in a troubled world is inspired by words spoken long ago by Abraham Lincoln.

"It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced," said Lincoln in his Gettysburg Address. "It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Lincoln's immortal words are as appropriate in reference to Pearl Harbor as they were on the day he delivered his address. They serve as a guiding light now to those who fight anew for freedom.

When men gather to write the peace that must come, surely no better example can be offered than that of Lincoln, when he said:

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

Lincoln was truly great. On Feb. 12, just 133 years since his birth, America pauses to pay tribute to a loyal son who inspired a great nation.

cooperative, can ever be made to function satisfactorily along side the other described as socialism, communism or government regimentation. The effort to bind the two principles has and attempt of the nation to exist half slave and half free. One plan of the other is the right plan and must finally prevail.

Let's Cook Something

If you prefer your recipes to come from below the Mason-Dixon line, here is one you will enjoy using. Place it right at the top of your favorite food list. If you have an experimental turn of mind there are endless ways of adding to its delicious flavor by the food you serve with it. Try making "Cheese Souffle" according to Mrs. F. H. Oberthier's recipe. The method is simple and it really isn't much more time consuming to prepare this dish than to peel a pot of new potatoes. The recipe was given to Mrs. Oberthier by a colored woman, an old-fashioned, excellent cook.

Cheese Souffle

- 4 tablespoons butter
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup scalded milk
- 1 cup grated cheese
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 4 eggs
- Dash of pepper

Melt butter over slow fire and blend in the flour. When well mixed add gradually the scalded milk, then the grated cheese and the salt and pepper. Stir slowly until creamy. Remove from fire and add the well beaten yolks of eggs. Let the mixture cool and fold in the stiffly beaten, but not dry, whites of the eggs. Pour into a buttered pyrex baking dish (about 6 x 12) and bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes. Serve at once in the baking dish in which it is cooked.

Note—If the mixture has not been allowed to cool and thicken properly before adding the whites of the eggs, it may cause the souffle to fall.

New Tech Program Speeds College Work

Designed to help the high school graduate to receive his college degree before being called for military service, a new summer school program has been worked out at Texas Technological College. Due to the war emergency, it is expected that many more high school graduates than normally will start their college work this summer. Under the revised program a student may finish his four-year college course in three years and three summers.

The program embodies two series of terms, one comprising two six weeks terms and the other one six weeks term and a nine weeks term. The first series will open June 3 and end July 11 followed by another six weeks term starting July 14 and ending August 20. The second series will start with a six weeks term identical with the first program and will be followed by a nine weeks term starting July 14 and ending Sept. 10.

Plan one is set up to accommodate very largely juniors, seniors, and graduate students. Plan two is to accommodate particularly incoming freshmen, sophomores, and others who feel the need for a longer time in the second term of summer school.

Graduation will be held at the close of the second six-weeks term, namely, Friday, August 21.

"The plan calls for a comparatively full program for incoming freshmen, fuller than we have been able to offer heretofore in the summer school," according to Dean James H. Gordon. It is definitely planned to increase the enrollment in the freshman year, especially due to the war emergency. It will be observed that a program with the six-weeks term and nine-weeks term will make it possible for students graduating from high school in the spring of 1942 to enter Tech at the beginning of the summer school and normally be graduated within three years.

Save Burlap, May Be Shortage

Conserve burlap sacks as a safeguard against a probable shortage, J. A. Pitman, chairman, county USDA War Board, urged Deaf Smith County farmers this week.

Shipping between the United States and India, from which burlap is imported almost exclusively, has been reduced because of war in the Far East, the chairman pointed out.

"At the same time buying of burlap has been reduced, our uses have been increased," Mr. Pitman said. New uses include the packaging of foods for the army and navy, certain chemicals, and other articles, as well as items shipped abroad under the Lend-Lease act.

Approximately 80 percent of the total imports of burlap go into manufacture of bags and about three-fourths of all burlap bags are used to package commodities which farmers buy and sell. About 450 million yards of burlap were used in sales or
